Mr. Robt. Harding enquired whether the letter which apeared in the Examiner was a reply to the resolution of the Council, and Mr. Turner assured him that it was simply a letter to explain the increase in rates, the subsequent communication of the Council to the Water Commissioners having so far been favored with no reply. In a conversation with the chairman of the Commission, however, Mr. Turner said the statement was made of the Commission's intention to proceed with the proposed increase, as all the bills were ready to be sent out. Mr. Turner remarked that the situation was a peculiar one. "These men have been elected by you, and you cannot expect them to oscillate from the standard they have taken. The only thing to do is to bring sufficient pressure to bear upon them to force them to withhold thier hands."

Need Audit First.

Mr. J. W. Worth maintained that the public could take no definite steps in bringing such pressure to bar until after an independent audit had been ordered, and declared that the meeting should re-affirm the stand taken by it on June 17th with regard to this matter.

Criticize Bread Prices.

Mr. George H. Giroux rose to register a protest against the price of bread in Peterboro. He wished to know why bread was selling in Peterboro for 24c per loaf and in most other cities and towns at 18c and 20c. "This is an important question in the city," declared Mr. Giroux, "we all have to use bread. There are between five and six thousand families in the city affected by the price of it. A family of five people will pay from $35 to $40 per year more than they should for bread, and that money could be used to better advantage than in enriching the baker, who could make a profit at 10c per loaf, or 20c at the least. The families of this city are paying over $200,000 yearly to the bakers of Peterboro more than they should, and I call that profiteering." (Hear, hear.) "Flour has been reduced by 50 per cent, and every other article in the baking line has been reduced from 50 to 125 per cent., and still we are paying war prices to the confectioners of the city. I think some of the women organizations of the city should take this matter up and bring the bakers to time."

Mr. Lytle related an experience with a local man who had retailed bread for 22c. The out-of-town man informed him recently that the bakers of Peterboro had caused the millers to refuse to supply him with flour unless he came up to the local price. An objection raised by Mr. Vincent Stewart of the Veterans Bread Co., that two cents extra was required for delivery, was answered by Mr. A. J. Raddon, who said it did not matter whether a customer carried his bread or had it sent—it cost just the same. "The trouble is," said Mr. Raddon, "We have the law against combines, but the city council and everyone else seems to be afraid or too indifferent to put that law into force. We don't get the benefit of it."

Ald. Turner took exception to this statement, saying that a charge of profiteering or of combines, would be heard by the city council and dealt with propertly, to which Mr. Lytle responded that it was impossible for a man to make a direct charge of this sort of thing, but everyone knew it was so, and he gave the evidence of his grocer. This man had been told that if he sold bread over the counter at 22c his baker would refuse to deliver any more of this commodity to him.

Prices of milk and meat also came in for some spirited discussion. Mr. J. W. Worth instancing the recent complaint of a farmer in the Globe, that whereas in 1914, he received $10.50 per hundred, now he receives only $8.25 per hundred, and the retail price of meat was an average of from 18 to 24c per lb., while today it is from 38c to 43c per lb.

To an argument that one must pay a good price for good cuts, Mr. Worth answered that the farmer receives no special prices for certain cuts, getting one price only for a cow.

Meat Prices.

Mr. Bradburn, from the platform, said that while meat was retailing at 28c and 30c per lb. in Toronto, it was 43c per lb. in Peterboro. He quoted Mr. H. P. Kenedy, the well-known cattle exporter, as declaring to him in a recent conversation that the people of Peterboro "were being robbed." "There will be a meat market opened in Peterboro in July," said Mr. Bradburn, "and the prices will be cut to Toronto prices."

(Cries of "Hear, hear," and "Bring it along."

Mr. B. Stacey rose here to volunteer the information that sheep brought the farmer in Toronto two cents a pound and sold in Peterboro for 40c a pound.

Mr. A. J. Raddon thought that such an enterprise should be exempt from the business tax, as "virtue should be encouraged, when one is able to find it," but Mr. R. E. Layfield voiced the general opinion in saying "Let them come in on a straight competitive basis, pay all the usual taxes and see if they can do it."

Women Could Help.

Mr. Giroux thought the women could do a great deal towards helping to remedy matters in the matter of high prices. In the question of bread alone, they might agree to use substitutes for bread in the form of potatoes, eggs and butter, and a boycott of the bakers for a week might do a great deal towards helping them to see the light.

Mr. W. Nelson asked for the support of every member of the Association in the reforms it wishes to carry through. "There is something going to happen in this city within the next few weeks, with our live president and Mr. Lytle to bring up the guns, there is bound to be something moving."

Mr. Dumble Doubtful

Mr. D. W. Dumble, who was on the platform, here demanded to know the object of the meeting, and shrugged his shoulders over the probability of any thing being done in the organization of the association of owners and tenants.

Mr. Lytle, Mr. Worth, Mr. H. R. Buckley and Mr. Harding spoke of the advisability of having an audit made as was the original intention, and Mr. J. Runnett remarked that conflicting statements made by members of the Commission with regard to overlooked items of $11,000 and $6,000 showed that such an audit was absolutely necessary.

Ask for Audit.

Moved by Mr. J. W. Worth and seconded by Mr. J. Runnett that, the meeting re-affirm its desire to conduct an independent audit of the books of the Water Commission, for a sufficient number of years to give all information required, and that the Commission be constrained to refrain from increasing its rates until such time as the audit is finished.

The Constitution

The clauses of the constitution of the Owners' and Tenants Association for the City of Peterboro are as follows:

W. H. BRADBURN, President.

Elections for officers in the new association resulted as follows:—President—Mr. W. H. Bradburn, Vice-President—Mr. Joseph Maher; Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. S. T. Medd; Executive Committee of five—Messrs. W. Nelson, Jos. Wearing, G. H. Giroux C. McClelland, and F. H. Dobbin.

The appointment of five ward committees is left to the executive committee and executive officers to bring in a recommendation at the next meeting.

MINISTERS TO LET GIRLS SMOKE--BUT IT'S IN A PLAY

KINGSTON, June 30 (Canadian Press).—Two or three ministers saw the director of "The Kermess," being staged at The Armouries, last night with a view to stopping the girls from smoking in the "Carmen" scene of the production.

It was pointed out that to produce this scene proprly, the girls must smoke as well as the others, and after a consultation, it was decided that no interference would take place.

When you require a roof, the measurement will be in squares (100 square feet). A basis for analysis of the costs of Brantford Asphalt Slates is given below:

1—INITIAL COSTS OF MATERIALS—Brantford Asphalt Slates are sometimes higher in initial cost for the material.

2—NAILS REQUIRED—Brantford Asphalt Slates require ONLY 684 nails to lay a square. Brantford Asphalt Slab Slates require ONLY 450 nails.

3—COST OF LAYING—Brantford Asphalt Slab Slates are four on one strip—require only one operation in handling, one operation in spacing—Individual slates are 8 x 12¾ inches—Cut easily, fit easily, fit on angles and bend over round surfaces. You save 30 to 50 per cent. in laying.

4—NO PAINT OR STAIN REQUIRED—The surface of Brantford Asphalt Slates is in nature's permanent colors, green and red, unfadeable, always attractive,—requiring no stain to produce artistic effects, no liquid coats to make them fire-resistant.

5—SAVING OF INSURANCE—Brantford Asphalt Slates are classed as non-combustible by fire insurance Companies—a direct saving of from 10 to 20 per cent. on premiums is effected. In certain localities fire regulations demand asbestos paper under some roof materials, but Brantford Asphalt Slates are fire-resistant and are immune from special regulations.

6—COST OF REPAIRS—From the day they are laid Brantford Asphalt Slate roofs show almost 100 per cent. of the original roof untouched. Brantford Asphalt Slates do not curl, split, crack or rot. Complete protection and permanent protection are built into Brantford Asphalt Slate Roofs.

Compare these roof costs with those of any other roofing material; it is your money you are spending and you want value for it—then buy

CHILD BURNED BY LIGHTNING; MOTHER FOUND HER SENSELESS

MADELINE WOODCOCK, NEW CHAMBERLEN STREET, STRUCK ON SHOULDERS AND ARM—MOTHER HURLED AGAINST WALL—KITCHEN FULL OF SMOKE.

Five year-old, curly brown-haired little Madeline Woodcock and her mother Mrs. William Woodcock New Chamberain street, miraculously escaped death at 4.30 p.m. yesterday when their frame dwelling was struck by lightning. Mrs. Woodcock was thrown down and was severely bruised when the house rocked under the crash and her five year old daughter had her left arm, shoulder and back burned where the flame passed along it and grounded in the earth.

There had been a sharp display of thunder and lightning preceding the rain, and the crash when the house was struck could be heard for miles around it was said to-day. The lightning split the brick chimney asunder. Bricks flew far and near. George Dwyer, also a resident of New Chamberlain street, said the chimney split squarely in two a shower of bricks falling to the east and west and one of the pieces he believed struck Mrs. George Robinson on the face. She lives immediately west and was sitting on the porch.

The ball of fire followed the chimney smashed the front of the range in the summer kitchen and ripped through the tin floor straight at the little girl who was pulling a wash tub out from under the low kitchen for her mother. The kitchen is on posts and the tub was kept under it. Little Madeline was just reaching for the tub evidently when the lightning came through the inch of plank ing struck her it is believed on the wrist for there is a very dark mark there, passed up her arm and grounded.

It was a miraculous escape. The mother was upstairs and in describing the crash, said it was like a loud explosion. She was in her bedroom and the chimney passed down the wall. The whole place quivered and she was thrown roughly against the bed and received painful bruises Rushing downstairs she said it was as if some one had fired a gun off. There was a strong smell like powder and smoke filled the downstairs The little girl was senseless on the ground, her whole body and clothes blackened as if with soot. While her clothes were not touched her arm, shoulder and back were severely burned.

Dr. M. Y. Yelland, who was in the vicinity, was called and treated the burns and it is expected they will heal quickly. There was no fire started by the lightning.

Three Cows Killed

Smith township was visited by an unusually severe electrical storm yesterday afternoon and around Bridgenorth the display was particularly accentuated, the Examiner was informed. W. Nichols ,a farmer living about a mile and one half from the village on the Selwyn road lost three valuable cows who were struck with lightning.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, June 30 (Canadian Press).—The weakness of Mexican Oils was the overshadowing feature at the opening of to-day's stock market. Mexican Petroleum registered an initial decline of 4 1-4 points, immdiately extending this loss with an additional point. Pan-American Petroleum lost 2 1-2 and the B stock fell 2 3-4. General Asphalt, Atlantic Gulf, United States Rubber, Harvester, Canadian Pacific, and Sears-Roebuck also were heavy. Domestic and European oils, notably Houston and Royal Dutch, were firm, and Crucible Steel was the strongest of the industrials, rising 1 1-2 points.

Shorts availed themselves of adverse provisions in the tariff bill and extended their operations in Oils. Mexican Petroleum fell 12 1-4 points to par. Pan-Americacn issues lost 5 to 6 1-2 points and General Asphalt lost almost almost 7 points. Atlantic Gulf, Baldwin Locomotive, Steels and Equipments and prominent shippings were lower by 1 to 3 points. Crucible, cancelling its early rise. Specialties, comprising Sugar, Rubber, Tobacco, Merchandising and Motion Picture issues forfeited 1 to 2 points. Rails were supported, however, especially Reading, Southern Pacific and New York Central. Call money was less plentiful at the opening rate of six per cent.

The reaction halted during midsession while buying of high grade rails became the chief feature. Coalers, grangers, trans-continentals and cotton carriers were in demand at gains of 1 to 3 points. Numerous speculative rails rose to the same extent.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, June 30. —(Canadian Press.) — Sterling Exchange steady, Demand 372 1-4; Cables 373 1-2; Canadian Dollars 12 1-4 per cent. discount.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, June 30.— (Canadian Press.)—Prospects of cooler weather in the northwest led to declines in the wheat market to-day. The refusal of Chicago Elevator employees to arbitrate wage troubles counted also as a bearish factor. Selling, however, was of only a scattered sort. Opening quotations which ranged from half to 1 1-2 lower with July 122 1-2 to 123 and September 121 3-4, were followed by moderate further setbacks and then something of a rally.

Corn was weaker with wheat. After opening 2 cents lower to 1-4 cents advance, including September at 62 1-4 to 63, the market sagged a little more and later recovered somewhat. Oats reflected the downward course of other cereals, starting unchanged to 3-8 cents lower with September 38 5-8, but then hardening to some extent.

Higher quotations on hogs made the provision market firm.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, June 30.—(Canadian Press.)— Pronounced weakness developed in the Paper group on the Toronto Stock Exchange this morning. Abitibi on light dealings dropped over two points, while Wayagamack in the unlisted department made a downward plunge of eleven and a quarter points with the last sale at 49 as compared with yesterday's high figure of 63 1-2. Brompton also in the unlisted sold off 2 1-2 points to 21. Brazilian, the most active stock on the list, held steady at 27 1-2 while Toronto, second in point of activity, after selling up to 72 1-4, dropped back 3-4 to 71 1-2. Canadian Pacific was the bright spot, closing strong at 124, an overnight gain of 3-4.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, June 30 (Canadian Press).—The local stock exchange was very quiet during the first half-hour this morning. Brazilian and Bromton both advanced a quarter point to 27 3-4 and 22 3-4 respectively, while Laurentide and Spanish River remained unchanged at 75 and 50 respectively.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

TORONTO, June 30 (Canadian Press).—Cattle receipts, 46; trade was light. Quotations: Heavy beef steers, $7.50 to $8.00; butcher steers, choice, $7.25 to $7.75; butcher cows, medium, $3.00 to $5.00; calves, $7.00 to $8.00; lambs, $12.00 to $13.00; hogs, selects, $12.00.

RING BATTLES OF DEMPSEY

Jack Dempsey knocked out Bill Brennan in the 12th round of their bout at Madison Square Garden on Dec. 14, 1920, in his most recent contest.

The champion's showing that night against Brennan, a good second-rate boxer, was far from reassuring. The champion appeared to have suffered from the long lack of action. He was much slower than in previous bouts. Brennan hit him and appeared to hurt him, and Dempsey left the ring after the fight bleeding from an injured ear.

The bout, however, was slow through most of the rounds. Motion pictures were made and many believe that therein lay the reason for to Brennan's unexpectedly good showing.

Dempsey throughout, failed to show his usual aggressiveness. Brennan apparently had no fear of the champion, and took the initiative in several of the rounds, often standing toe to toe with Dempsey slugging. However, Dempsey managed to wear down the challenger in the later rounds, and in the 12th, a left to the body and a right to the head sent Brennan to the canvas in a neutral corner. It was the only knockdown of the unsatisfactory bout.

The early months of 1914, the close of which was destined to see Carpentier a soldier in a real fight, brought the Frenchman his first defeat since he had lost to Billy Papke in 1912. Joe Jeannette, the American negro heavyweight and one of the game's hardest hitters, was the victor over the Frenchman in a slashing 15-round bout. Many spectators thought that Carpentier should have been awarded the decision.

In spite of that, Carpentier's hitting power shown in that battle convinced Americans that here was a real top-notch heavyweight. Twice, he sent Jeannette to the canvas with crashing blows to the head. Jeannette has since declared that the blow with which Carpentier floored him early in the bout was the hardest that ever connected with his anatomy.

The veteran negro, who has done little fighting for several years, is now a resident of Hoboken, N. J. He has done considerable work with Carpentier while the Frenchman has been training at Manhasset. One afternoon recently Carpentier, while sparring with the negro, unleashed his right with its full power, and once again Jeannette hit the canvas, stunned but not knocked out.

"Can that boy hit?" was Jeannette's question as he slowly rose to his feet, while Carpentier apologized. "Ah'll say he can hit. What that right lands on must go down, and that includes Mistah Dempsey."

"Will the Jack Dempsey who meets Carpentier be the boxer who overwhelmed Jess Willard or the boxer who had difficulty knocking out Bill Brennan?" is a question heard often as the coming battle between the champion and Georges Carpentier is discussed.

Dempsey's work in camp at Atlantic City for the past several weeks has failed definitely to make this clear. In training, the champion is buoyant and has been making short work of the numerous sparring partners imported into the camp by Manager Jack Kearns. None of these, however, has been of a class really capable of testing the champion.

A gash over the eye from a wound received when training at Toledo two years ago, has retarded Dempsey's work to some extent.

Dempsey will enter the ring at Jersey City weighing a little more than 190 pounds, which is slightly heavier than was his weight at Toledo two years ago. His trainers at Atlantic City have carefully guarded against staleness. His boxing has been curtailed several times. In the last two weeks, he will have a few pounds to take off by increasingly strenuous work which should bring him to the desirable "peak" immediately before the bout.

Before the outbreak of the war in August, 1914, Carpentier fought several other battles, beating George Mitchell by a knockout in one round; Hubert Roc in three rounds, and Phillippe Robinson in a like number. He won two other bouts on fouls, one from Gunboat Smith in six sessions and the other from Kid Jackson in four.

The bout with Gunboat Smith in London is the most unusual episode in the interesting career of this boxer, and marks possibly the only instance when the shrewdness of Manager Descamps overstepped the bounds of sportsmanship.

Carpentier looked like a certain winner in the first round when he dropped the American for the count of nine. Smith, however, showed his remarkable ability to "take it" by coming right back and turning the tide of battle in the third round. They fought it on equal terms until the sixth.

Then the "Gunner" drove home one of his sledge-hammer blows that landed behind the Frenchman's left ear. Carpentier went to the canvas near his corner. The wily Descamps whispered to him to feign rising. He did so. Coming up to a half-crouching positon, he suddenly fell back on one knee as Smith aimed a blow at him. The American was unable to "pull the punch." It struck Carpentier while he was technically down, and Referee Eugene Corri could do nothing except award the battle to Carpentier on a foul.

It was an unsatisfactory ending to a hard-fought battle.

INTERMEDIATE AND JUNIOR LACROSSE TEAMS PLAY OUT OF TOWN GAMES ON THE HOLIDAY

Peterborough's lacrosse teams are scheduled to play out of town games on the holiday. The intermediates are bound for Campbellford and the Juniors play their first game away from home in Hastings. The intermediate team will be chosen from the following players: Fred Goodfellow, H. Scriver, Ed. Dillon, G. Kennedy, P. Wallace, G. Webb, E. Brown, H. Tudhope, J. Thirnbeck, E. Donovan, C. Nattress, L. McCoy, B. Todd and Grover Halpin. These players are requested to meet at the Y.M.C.A. on Friday morning at 9.30 o'clock sharp. They will motor to Campbellford, and from all accounts are determined to give the Trent town team a warmer argument than in the game played here.

The Campbellford team is giving a garden party in the evening and have invited the Peterborough team to remain over for this event, offering to pay the additional expenses involved. This kindness has been highly appreciated by the Peterborough club and some of the team will probably remain unitl late in the evening.

The Junior Game.

The juniors are not going to Hastings alone. The showing they made in their game with Campbellford juniors here has aroused a surprising enthusiasm especially among the old followers of the game, who are delighted at the promise the youngsters inspired in their first performance. Reports have it that the Hastings juniors are a big team and fast, but Johnnie Sutherland is withholding promises and opinions for the present. A win for the juniors would give them a decided advantage in this round and would just about clinch the belef that they wll carry off the local dstrct honors.

CARPENTIER BOXING SINCE HE WAS 14, VICTOR IN 71 OF 85 BOUTS; IN 55 OF 64 DEMPSEY WAS THE WINNER

NEW YORK, June 30.—Veterans of numerous gory ring battles, will face each other in the ring when Jack Dempsey defends his heavyweight title against the challenge of Georges Carpentier in the Jersey City ring, July 2. Through several campaigns, both have won and lost contests in nearly every possible manner. Both have won by knockouts, on points and by fouls; both have lost on points and by fouls, although Dempsey never has lost a decision on a foul as did Carpentier to Frank Klaus, when Manager Descamps climbed into the ring to save the Frenchman from further punishment.

Carpentier, fighting since 1907, is the more grizzled veteran of the two. In winning his way up from the bantamweight ranks to the heavyweight class, Carpentier, who started boxing at 14, has engaged in 85 battles. In 71 of these he emerged from the ring the victor. Thirty-four times, he won by knockouts; 33 times on point decisions and four times on fouls by opponents.

The Frenchman has fought only five draws; has lost one on a foul and has been knocked out once. To a French youth named Gloria goes the credit for being the only opponent who has stood over the challenger and listened to the toll of the referee.

Carpentier's record, before the war, is one of the most active credited to a leading boxer. Service in the French army curtailed his boxing for four years, but since the armistice, with a heavyweight title bout his main consideration, Georges has engaged in fewer glove contests.

Jack Dempsey has fought 64 battles and 55 resulted in victories for him. The champion has knocked out 45 or almost three-fourths of his opponents in six years of boxing, a remarkable record. Nine times, he has won on point decisions and his only victory on a foul was over the ponderous Carl Morris.

The champion has fought four draw decisions; has lost on points twice and has hit the canvas only once to stay there for 10 seconds. "Fireman" Jim Flynn, in 1917, achieved that startling feat, but later the "Pueblo Fireman" was knocked out in less than a minute by Dempsey when the later was on his way to the championship. Dempsey also fought two no-decision bouts.

The complete records of the boxers follow:

BARRIE'S IN LEAD WHEN GAME CALLED AT END OF THIRD

HARD HITTING BY BARRIE'S AND W.LD PEGGING BY CLOCK-MAKERS MAKES 5 TO 3 SCORE

Football and baseball clashed at the Oval last evening with the usual result. An arrangement had been made with the football interests by which they held back the Veterans-Caleys game until 6.30. The Westclox-Barrie's game, scheduled to start at 5.30, was delayed by the late arrival of several Westclox players, and at 6.30 only three innings of baseball had been played, the score being 5 to 3 in favor of Barrie's.

With the Mercantile League at fault in making a belated start, the proper step to take was to call off the ball game, and this was done.

When the game was arranged, the clubs were instructed that they must be ready to start the game on time. It would have been only a matter of making the request to hold the football game back long enough to allow the ball teams to get in five innings, and five innings would have been possible had the ball game started on time.

Barrie's caught the clock-makers off their stride, and although Westclox sent over a brace of runs in the first the fur-trimmers opened an assault on Clare Wolff's pitching that made them favorites for the game. Some wild heaving did not help to improve the situation for Westclox, and it was not until Herb. Wolff went into the box that the team settled down. Then, when it looked like a battle, the contest was called off.

Harry Cobb, first baseman for Cressman's, took his first turn at umpiring in the league, and made a good job of it.

FILM DIRECTOR FIGHTS MAD LIONESS WITH A CAMERA TRIPOD

When a heat-maddened lioness attacked Director Harry J. Revier while he was producing "The Son of Tarzan" feature serial at the Hollywood, Cal., studios of the National Film Corporation of America, Revier hastily grabbed a motion picture camera and tripod, tore off the "shooting box," and for twenty-five minutes fought the wild beast.

Hundreds of spectators, standing outside the steel inclosure, witnessed the terrific fight, but were powerless to aid, as Revier had locked himself in the arena. In order to reduce the possibilities of accidents to the minimum, the director, who is also a cinematographer, acted as his own cameraman in this and many other scenes where the jungle animals, still unfamiliar with captivity, were used.

After the battle with the lioness, Revier again entered the arena, and the animal, but six months a captive, licked his hands.

"The Son of Tarzan" serial will be shown at the Allen Theatre in the city beginning Thursday (today).

"ROMANCE AND ARABELLA."

A delightful comedy which contains five separate love stories, though the heroine is the same in each case, will be seen at the Allen Theatre on to-day when Lewis J. Selznick presents Constance Talmadge in "Romance and Arabella."

Mrs. Arabella Cadenhouse is a young widow, who has decided that her second husband, if there is to be any, must supply her with thrills and romance. Bill, a prosaic young man who has known Arabella all her life, has determined that he will marry her some day, despite her demands for a romantic husband.

When Arabella shows signs of becoming too deeply interested in another man, Bill decides it is time for him to act. He furnishes one counter-irritant after another, including a faddist, an unsophisticated young boy, a Westerner and a eugenist, until Arabella has lost all the illusions she ever had about romantic men. It is then that Bill fulfils the promise he made to himself and makes Arabella Mrs. "Bill."

The presentaton of a new Tom Mix picture is always an important theatrical event. Tom Mix by this time has become so popular a favorite that each picture he makes arouses a great deal of interest in advance. His latest film, "Prairie Trails," a William Fox production, announced as the attraction at the Regent Theatre, for the week beginning to-day, is from the popular novel by James B. Hendryx, author of "The Texan," which also was filmed recently with Mix as the star.

Booksellers report that the novel of western life, always pleasing to large classes of readers, is gaining in popularity by leaps and bounds. It has long passed all other kinds of novels. President-elect Harding and Vice-President-elect Coolidge, it is well known, prefer western novels to any other brand, just as President Wilson prefers detective stories. And the western motion picture is keeping pace in popularity with the western novel.

"Prairie Trails" continues the adventures of Tex Benton, whose love story was told in "The Texan."

SPORT GOSSIP

There'll be thousands of Canadians boosting strongly for Georges Carpentier to separate Jack Dempsey, on 2nd July, as far from his title as he was from patriotic endeavour during the war. Not so much because Georges is French as because his early ring career is all bound up with that part of France which Canadians know best, and which saw them in their most hopeful moods and their highest achievements—the region of the Pas de Calais. Georges' first championship was the title of Bethune, a town which spelled to thousands of Canadians from the end of 1915 to the end of 1918, a slight repriece from the uncertainty indescribable of the line, a few miles away to the east. It seemed like Paris, Monte Carlo, and Blighty all rolled into one, to the mud-stained or dust-laden Canadian lads, who managed a journey there from nearby billets. "Omelettes and 'am," and if M'sieur was thirsty, some "ving blunk" for le bon Can-yan soldat." Even Collette, attired in the inevitable black, with a gaudy touch of colour here and there, and in her cheeks, with the bright eyes that learned to laugh to the accompaniment of "C'est le guerre," appeared as a vision of the last word in dainty femininity, and brought laugh lines to corners of eyes and mouths which were unconsciously drawn from seeing and hearing too much "up there." A "crump" from the direction of Plugstreet probably dropped on the square at intervals, but this was rest—Bethune and what was a crump now and then!

Georges, sitting in his little garden, could look across the winding Souchez from where he lived, into La Collotte, which was the centre of one of those huge "400-yard penetrations," as an aftermath of Hill 70, but which in intensity and lives per yard exacted a bigger tribute than many of the big advances the next year, measured as they were in kilometres instead of yards.

Georges, in the early part of his training, could and probably did don running togs, and for his jaunt take in the bit of territory which occupied the personal attention of the whole Canadian Army and a quarter of Fritz' for the last two years, from Vimy on. The Arras-Vimy road was but a stone's throw from the suburb of Lievin, in which Carpentier lived. Jogging down here, Georges passed over a spur of Notr Dame de Lorette, and along the whole base of Vimy Ridge, along which the Canadian trenches were dug before 9th April. Then down into peaceful, mediaeval Arras and out along the Arras-Cambrai road, past Vis-en-Artois, from which the Canadians flung their spearhead attack on the Drocourt-Queant switch of the concrete-buttressed Hindenburg line, smashing it and the fondest delusions of the German general staff. A distance of 30 kilometres perhaps! The French fighter could do it quite easily and ride back.

All this, Georges brings to the mind's eye of those Canucks who muddled through along with the rest of the muddling for four long years, and that's why he'll have their moral support, no matter what the dopesters say about the Frenchman's frailty, his unimpressive record, and his silken wardrobe.

G.W.V.A. DEFEAT CALEDONIANS 2-0 NOW LEAD THE FOOTBALL LEAGUE

CLEVER GAME AT THE OVAL LAST NIGHT—CALEYS TRIED HARD BUT VETS HAD THE EDGE AND HELD THEM SCORELESS—WOOLENS MUST WIN NEXT GAME TO KEEP IN RUNNING WITH THE VETERANS.

By defeating the Caledonians 2-0 at Nicholls Oval last night the G.W.V.A.' forged ahead in the City League and are now two points up on the Woollens. The tie between these two rivals will be re-established if the Woollens beat De Laval on Saturday. The race for league honors is now divided between the Vets and Woollens and a play-off may have to be staged. If so, this will be one of the big games of the season.

The Caleys worked hard last night, but the Vets had the edge on the play from the first whistle. Only the poor shooting of the Vets and Brunton's nice saves warded off a catastrophe. Jones had a fairly easy session—practically all the play was around the Blues' citadel.

Both teams worked at a good trot. The grass was slippery and the ball in a similar condition, and directing the ball was no easy task. There was an average crowd of spectators. The game was called for six o'clock, but it was about the half before the game was started. Westclox and Barrie's were playing ball in the Mercantile League series and were forced to evacuate the field for the footballers, which they did after a little grumbling.

The Caleys only had ten men to start. Morris went on towards the end of the first period, but a bad leg held him down.

Dwyer was the shining star on the Vets team and secured both counters. His first goal in the first half was on a long, low shot that Brunton failed to reach, and in the second period he slipped in a neat one when the Caleys' goalie missed the ball when he went to kick it out. Sharman and Monks put up a fine exhibition of soccer, and for the Caleys Hannah and the goalkeeper carried most of the play. The Vets forwards played nice combination that time and again got through the Caleys' defence to the goal. J. Clark was referee. The line-ups were:

GOTHAM SEETHING AS FIGHT NEARS

DEMPSEY STILL 3 TO 1 FAVORITE IN FINANCIAL DISTRICT

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

NEW YORK, June 30.—Gotham and its across-the-Hudson neighbour Jersey City, to-day seethed with excitement over the Dempsey-Carpentier fight.

With work over in the training camps of Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier, the scene of anxiety shifted to the battleground.

New York could gobble up a million out of towners without causing a ripple on the surface, but the hotels, the pulse of the city, represented a great waste of incoming fans. Hotels in the "roaring forties" were crowded and the outlying districts were getting plenty of the overflow. On the streets, in the hotel lobbies, even in the always-crowded subways, there was nothing but talk of the fight.

Increase in betting activity was reported in the financial district, where the champion was still a 3 to 1 favourite.

EIGHT OUNCE GLOVES IN SATURDAY'S BOUT

MORE FAVORABLE TO BOXING COMMISSION, SAYS RICKARD

NEW YORK, June 30. Canadian Press. Eight ounce gloves will be used by Dempsey and Carpentier in their match on Saturday. This was the announcement to-day by Tex Rickard, promoter, who said eight ounce mitts were more favorable to the New Jersey Boxing Commission than those of the six ounce variety. Dempsey rules the favorite for the bout in this city although several concede Carpentier has a chance.

ROME IS BACKING DEMPSEY 2-1

KEENE INTEREST IN BATTLE BEING SHOWN BY ROMANS

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

ROME, June 30 (Canadian Press). —Jack Dempsey was a 2 to 1 favourite here to-day to win from Georges Carpentier next Saturday.

The betting was unprecedented for a boxing event. Italians like the races and enjoy staking their money, but ordinarily are off the prize ring.

This match might be scheduled for one of the seven hills of Rome, so keen is the gossip, so insistent the backers of one or other of the fighters.

WANT MORE FACTS TO BLOCK FIGHT

UNLESS FORTHCOMING PROSECUTOR WON'T RECOMMEND INDICTMENT.

JERSEY CITY, June 30.—(Canadian Press.) — Prosecutor Pierre Garvan to-day stated that unless more facts were presented to him by the International Reform Bureau, he would not recommend to the Hudson County grand jury to-morrow that it return an indictment sought to block the Dempsey-Carpentier bout here Saturday.

KEENE WINS FIRST GAME

PLAYING IN NORWOOD THEY DEFEAT HOME TEAM IN THE SEVENTH BY 7 TO 4.

A rally by Keene in the seventh, a muff on a fly and some wild throwing by Norwood, paved the way for a win for President Pollard's club in the first game of East Peterborough League play-off for the honours of the first half. The game was played at Norwood last evening, with Alex. Kay and Kevin Murray handling the contest. A big crowd saw the game, Keene having many supporters with them.

Up to the end of the sixth, it had been a pitcher's battle between O'Dette for Keene and "Doc." Green for Norwood. In half of the seventh Keene got three men on, with none out. Green fanned the next two batters. Then followed a fly to middlefield, which was dropped. Bad throwing followed this play, and when it was all over, all three Keene base-runners were home. Green got the third out without further runs.

Norwood tried to get them back in their half, but a double play following a fly to right field held them back. It was the third double play put over by Keene during the game, all starting from right field.

The second game in the series will be played at Keene next week, and if the third game is found necessary, it may be played at Riverside Park.

Eels migrate only in the dark.

CARPENTIER SIZES UP AS WORTHY FOEMAN OF JACK DEMPSEY

French Boxing Champion Shows Superior Class as Well as Fine Physique in Fast Four-Round Bout for the Screen.

Can Georges Carpentier defeat Jack Dempsey?

James J. Corbett, conqueror of J. L. Sullivan, the greatest of his generation, Willie Lewis, for years the idol of the American ring, Jack McAuliffe, the world's undefeated lightweight champion, and Joe Jeanette all agree that the idol of France has more than a Chinaman's chance of capturing the world's heavyweight crown from Dempsey.

They arrived at that decision after giving Georges the critical once-over at his two first ring appearances after his arrival in this country, to star in "The Wonder Man".

Lewis, who ought to know something about it, having given Carpentier the most sensational fight of his career, does not stop at discussing the possibilities of the outcome of a Carpentier Dempsey meeting. He declares with positive assurance that Carpentier will knockout Dempsey and he is willing to bet money on his dope.

He points out that the French boxer was fighting Klaus, Papke, Dixie Kid and Jeanette when he was in his teens. With the wealth of ring experence he has gained in fourteen years of fighting, and his natural speed and ability, Carpentier should beat Dempsey, Lewis says. And listen to McAuliffe:

'Don't forget that when Dempsey faces Carpentier he is going to look the fastest fighter of the generation makes the fastest fighter look slow And with his speed he carries a wallop that is a haymaker. When he hits 'em he hits 'em hard. What's more Georges is a fast thinker. I think he's causing Dempsey worry right now."

(After watching Carpentier fight four fast rounds in the "movies" it is easy to understand why they call Georges the "Idol of France" after seeing him go through his paces both as a fighter and as an actor Georges is a perfect picture. As a writer said recently he has made boxing truly a manly art of self-defense. Indeed, Carpentier's boxing is about as artistic a treat as the writer has had in many a day, and the visitor from France apparently packs a wicked wallop.

But what impressed the writer most was Carpentier's physique. Although he seems slight in his street dress he looks altogether different when stripped. His massive legs and magnificent back and arm muscles dissipate the illusion af slightness and show the man as he really is, a compact, swift-moving, sure-hitting fighting machine. And after all he is not so much smalled than Dempsey. The measurements in the box accompanying this article show that.

See Georges Carpentier, Korld War Hero and Champion of Europe in 'The Wonder Man' 'a seven reel super speciol production at the Capital To-night, also a bg time Vaudevle act direct from Keith's Circuit, Taylor and Mack in singing, dancing and talking.

HOLIDAY GAMES WILL NO DOUBT ATTRACT BIG CROWDS

Two big holiday crowds are expected at Riverside Park to-morrow when Cobourg and Peterborough will play a Central Ontario League game in the morning, and the Hillcrests, of Toronto, will clash with the Petes in the afternoon fixture. The morning fixture is at 10 o'clock, while the after dinner engagement will get under way at 3 o'clock sharp.

The Petes are out to stop their slump by two victories to-morrow. They have to win the morning League fixture to stay in the running, while the afternoon game gives them a chance to get revenge for the beating the Toronto gang gave them early in the season.

In the morning game the Petes will be called upon to meet a reorganized Cobourg outfit who will undoubtedly prove dangerous all the way. The game should be a real fight.

In the afternoon the Hillcrests will undoubtedly be tough picking, as Manager Dwan always brings his best line-up for a game with the Peterborough crew.

RING BATTLES OF CARPENTIER

Carpentier's bout with Gunboat Smith was his last important engagement before he entered the military service. He was in England when when the call to arms was sounded, and is said to have hurried across the channel on the first available boat getting into uniform almost as as soon as his arrival on French soil.

Joining the aeronautic corps as a chauffeur, he became a pilot in the aviation corps in the spring of 1915. He flew at the front for 18 months before being assigned to reserve pilot duty behind the lines. Later he was declared physically unfit for flight service because of minor wounds received in action.

By his comrades Carpentier is said to have been a daring flier. For bravery in the air he was decorated with the Croix de Guerre and the Medaille Militaire. The latter award is the most prized that can be given to a French soldier. Carpentier's bravery in flying low over a German fortress during one of the major French offensives resulted in this decoration, according to the official war records recently investigated.

Carpentier's only boxing during this period was in exhibitions behind the lines for the pleasure of his poilu comrades. The only bout listed in his official record about this time is the exhibition with Jean Bicot in 1917. For some time it was planned to send Carpentier to America to box in exhibitions for the Red Cross benefit, but this was abandoned.

HARRISON BACK IN GAME TO-MORROW

Peterboro fans will be glad to learn that "Hap" Harrison has completely recovered and is ready to break into the game again. He will be on hand for to-morrow afternoon's game against the Hillcrests, and is sure to get a warm reception from the crowd for the big fellow's "pep" and hitting ability have been sadly missed.

TWO BALL GAMES FOR SATURDAY

JUVENILES WILL BE SEEN IN FIRST GAME—BANKERS AND GENERALS THIS EVENING.

The Juveniles have been given first place in the double baseball bill arranged for Saturday afternoon. Lakeviews and St. Peter's will play the first game at 2 o'clock, and the Y.M.C.A. and C.G.E. will put on a City League contest at 3:30. Both games should provide good baseball. It has become a habit with the juveniles to ring up close scores. Practically every game has been a battle from the first pitched ball to the last out.

This evening at six o'clock, Bankers and Generals will play in the Juvenile series.

HIGHLAND STOCKMEN FAVOR EMBARGO

Canadian Cattle Usless For Grazing Purposes in Northern Districts.

London, June 29.—The Marquis of Graham, President of the Highland Cattle Society of Scotland, has written to the Cattle Embargo Commission stating that the general opinion of members of that society is against the importation of live cattle. Members of the society consider it desirable to encourage breeding store cattle in the Highlands from native herds.

Canadian cattle are, he said, useless for grazing purposes in the Highlands, and any measure which discourages the raising of some store cattle would seriously prejudice the lives and agriculture of crofters and small farmers.

George Edwards, member of Parliament, supported the removal of the cattle embargo before the commission to-day. The grazing farmer was now seriously handicapped. If store cattle were cheaper it would mean more employment. The good old prime beef, once the pride of the nation, was no longer obtainable.

The first firearms were cannon.

TEST WELL WATER WITHOUT CHARGE

WATERWORKS DEPARTMENT HAS ALREADY DISCOVERED IMPURITIES IN WELLS.

The heavy chlorination of the water is proving effective, R. L. Dobbin, Waterworks Superintendent, told The Examiner to-day. Tests taken at the taps show the chlorination has succeeded in destroying the colon bacilli to a large extent, but citizens should not deduce from this that boiling the water is unnecessary. It is absolutely necessary to avoid an epidemic, that the water should be boiled as long as tests at the Waterworks show heavy pollution, states Mr. Dobbin, even if the pollution is nullified by the chlorination.

Tests of well water in various sections of the city have verified the suspicions of the Superintendent that the majority of the wells in this city contain impure water. If citizens who have been consuming well water in prodigious quantities, congratulating themselves on its fine quality and rejoicing in their acessibility to a good well, poking fun at their less fortunate neighbours forced to use the tap water, could see the results of some of the tests, they would not display such an affinity to well water.

However, one or two good wells have been discovered, and if owners of wells are doubtful of the quality of their water, the Waterworks Department will make tests of the water. A great many have availed themselves of the offer, and there were bottles of every size and shape, from a vinegar bottle to a decanter, filled with well water awaiting tests at the office to-day.

The staff are prepared, however, to handle only a limited quantity, and ask the anxious ones to have paitence, and in due course they will receive the result.

MINISTER'S WIFE DEFENDS SHORT SKIRT.

Anyway, It is for Women to Settle, Not Men, Says Mrs. McIntosh.

LONDON, Ont., June 30.—In an address delivered before the Chesley Avenue Mothers' Club, Mrs. McIntosh, wife of Rev. W. R. McIntosh, pastor of King Street Presbyterian Church, said that the short skirt problem should be settled by the women, and not by the men. Notwithstanding all that has been said against it, Mrs. McIntosh declared the short skirt to be more sanitary and an improvement on the old-fashioned garment, watch trailed in the dust and gathered with it all the microbes of the sidewalks and pavements.

LOCAL BRANCH 21ST BATTALION CLUB IS RE-ORGANIZED

RE-UNION IN PETERBOROUGH SEPTEMBER 15TH, WHEN THE KING'S COLORS MAY BE PRESENTED.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Peterboro members of the 21st Battalion was held in the G.W.V.A. rooms last night, when important steps in the re-organizing of the Peterborough Branch of the 21st Battalion Club were taken, and the following officers elected:

President—Captain — J. H. A. Cobb, M.C.
Vice Pres.—Mr. Wm. Harris.
Fin. Sec.—Mr. Olivie White.

Business in connection with the Battalions annual re-union, to be held this year in Peterborough was discussed and the date set for Sept. 15 in commemoration of the Battle of the Somme in which this unit played so prominent a part, when on the eventful morning in 1916 they advanced over the battle-scarred and devastated stretches of Picardy to the village of Courcellette, where they made for themselves a name that will forever rank among the highest in the annals of history.

It is anticipated that the King's Colours of the Battalion will be brough here from Kingston on that date and a public presentation, with the usual ceremony made to the Peterboro branch, after which the colours will be placed of one year, when they will be presented to another branch of the 21 Battalion Club, the various branches being located at Toronto, Ottawa, Belleville, Kingston and Peterboro.

A meeting for completing arrangements for proposed entertainment of the club is called far Friday July 1st at 8 p.m. Every member of the 21st Battalion is requested to attend.

CLOUDBURST HITS TORONTO; RESCUE WOMEN IN FLOOD

THREE TRAPPED IN KEELE STREET SUBWAY SAVED.

TORONTO, June 30.—Trapped under the Keele street subway north of Dundas street in their motor car by a furious flood of water from a torrent of rain yesterday afternoon, with thunder crashing overhead and vivid flashes of lightning darting from the black clouds, three women were hauled to safety by C. P. R. employees lowering ropes from the top of the subway and pulling them up to the tracks above.

Two men were caught in their motor cars under the subway at the same time, but they escaped the food by crouching on the top of their cars. A truck driver crawled up to the top of the 'covering over his seat and stayed there until the waters had gone down.

The rescue of the women was bravely carried out. Two husky rail waymen, ones of whom was fully dressed, swam into the stormy water and adjusted the ropes around the women. One of the men had to wade in water up to his shoulders and the other plunged into the water garbed in something like a swimming suit.

The flood followed a cloudburst.

WEDDING BELLS

CROSS—ATKEY.

A wedding which excited a great deal of interest in the locality took place on Wednesday afternoon, June 22, in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Port Dalhousie, when Miss Dorothy A. Atkey, second daughter of Mrs. Peter Mitchell, was married to Mr. Clarence E. Cross, of Regina, Sask. The church was very beautifully decorated with flowers and green arches. Before the ceremony Miss Margaret Flowers of Peterborough, a cousin of the bride, played appropriate music. Mr. Cross was supported by Mr. Norman R R. Tucker of Toronto as best man and Miss Olive M. Atkey made a pretty bridesmaid.

The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Dr. Geo. H. Smith of Knox Church, St. Catharines.

During the signing of the register, Miss Mona Jaffray sang with much feeling and effect "Until." During the service Miss Flowers played soft music.

Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Margaret Flowers and Mr. Dick Perry of Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Cross are proceeding by the Great Lakes to their home in Regina.

UDY—LIBBY.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at Knox Church Manse at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning, June 29th, when Miss Mary Maude Libby, 477 Parnell Street, became the bride of Mr. Harry Udy, of Peterborough, Rev. J. A. McKenzie performing the ceremony. The bride was prettily gowned in white satin, with tulle hat, and carried a bouquet of roses. Miss May Doherty, the bridesmaid, wore Jay blue organdie with sweet peas. Mr. Harold Freeman acted as groomsman.

After the ceremony, dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, at tables decorated with sweet peas, only the immediate relatives and friends being present. Mr. and Mrs. Udy then left on the G. T. R. noon train for Rochester, Toronto and Oshawa, and on their return, will reside in the city. Many beautiful and useful gifts testified to the popularity of the happy couple. The groom's gift to the bride was a platinum pendant with diamond setting, to the bridesmaid an onyx ring and to the groomsman, gold cuff links.

ROSS—EVANS.

The wedding took place yesterday at the home of the bride's parents, 56 George Street, of Jessie ("Doll") Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Evans, to Alex. S. Ross, of Oshawa. The ceremony, which took place at 2 o'clock, was performed by Rev. Jas. Rollins. The house was beautifully decorated with blue delphinium and daisies. The bride, wearing blue canton crepe, embroidered in grey, with French hat of navy and grey, and carrying Onbelia roses, was unattended. Mr. Walter Evans sang "O Promise Me" during the signing of the register, and Mr. Harry Evans, of Toronto, rendered "Come, Sing to Me," just before the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross left on the 3.30 train for Buffalo, the bride travelling in a suit of embroidered navy tricotine, with hat to match. They will reside in Oshawa.

METHERAL—CROWE.

The marriage took place this morning at 9 o'clock at St. John's Church of Florence Gladys, third daughter of Alderman and Mrs. Jos. Crowe, Brock Street, to Arthur W. Metheral, son of Mr. Jos. Metheral, Aylmer Street. Rev. Dr. Blagrave performed the ceremony, and Mr. R. I. Devey played the Wedding March. The church was beautifully decorated with daisies and ferns.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in navy and beige canton crepe, with navy hat and bouquet of sweet peas, and the bridesmaid, Miss Hazel Crowe, wore pink organdie with hat to match. Mr. Walter Metheral supported the groom. After the ceremony, a dainty wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, the tables charmingly decorated with white phlox, pale blue delphinium and roses. The young couple motored to their cottage at Stoney Lake, where the honeymoon will be spent. They will reside in Peterborough.

Many beautiful gifts testified to the popularity of the bride, among them an electric grill and ovenette from the City Hall staff, and a chair from the staff of the Bank of Montreal.

JOHNSTON—O'BRIEN.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. Joshua Eggleston, on Wednesday, June 15th, when Margaret O'Brien was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Earl Johnston. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. Scott of Omemee. The bride, who was given away by Mr. Eggleston, was cramming in a dainty dress of navy silk, and carried roses. Helen McLean, with a basket of roses, was the flower girl, who was presented with a ring. After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served, after which the young couple departed for a honeymoon in Toronto. On their return they will reside in Cavan.

CITIZENS ORGANIZE ASSOCIATION TO ADVISE CIVIC BUSINESS, INVESTIGATE CITY FINANCIAL PROJECTS AND ACT AS FACTOR FOR PROGRESS

OWNERS' AND TENANTS' ASSOCIATION INTENDS TO SUPERVISE BUSINESS OF CITY COUNCIL, BOARD OF EDUCATION AND UTILITIES COMMISSION—LARGE CIVIC EXPENDITURES UNDER FIRE—PROFITEERING ALLEGED IN MEAT AND BREAD AND ANNOUNCEMENT MADE THAT COMPETITIVE MEAT MARKET WILL BE ESTABLISHED—DEMAND FOR AUDIT OF UTILITIES BOOKS REAFFIRMED.

About 200 of the city's ratepayers gathered in the G.W.V.A. Hall last evening for the purpose of (1) Receiving reports and deciding future action regarding increased water rates; (2) Organising an Association of owners and tenants; (3) Considering any other business referring to the welfare and progress of the city.

With a constitution providing as its objective the supervision of the business of the City Council, Utilities Commission, and Board of Education, the creating of a deeper interest in civic affairs, the advancement of the welfare of the city, and to investigate and report on civic financial projects, the Association was launched amid enthusiasm. Large civic expenditures underwent heavy oratorical gunfire, as did also the alleged profiteering in meat and bread. In connection with meat prices, it was announced that a competitive meat market would be established here in July, and citizens were asked to patronise it. The demand of the recent citizens' meeting for an independent audit of the books of the Utilities Commission was reaffirmed.

Ald. J. J. Turner occupied the chair and opened the proceedings by reading a report of the negotiations between the Peterborough Utilities Commission and those interesting in discovering reasons for the proposed increase of 80 p.c. in water rates. After the meeting of citizens held in the G.W.V.A. Hall on June 17th, a meeting was held with the Water Commissioners, and increased expenditures for this year which might justify the proposed increase were reduced to four items which appear to be the main excessive amounts over ordianry expenditure that must be raised: 1st, operating expenses last year were $6,500 more than in 1919; 2nd, we voted to have a filtration plant at a cost of $350,000. The contract has been let, and interest charges for six months are approximately $11,375; 3rd, an item of $3,500 that the Commissioners passed in their estimate this year to take care of the operating expenses for three months of the filtration plant, which it is believed will be turned over to the Commission about the 1st of October; 4th, an item of $1,500 interest charges on some extension debentures amounting to about $30,000.

Report Showed Surplus.

Mr. Turner then proceeded to analyze these four items which were set forth by the Comission as necessary expenditures over and above their charges for 1920. "While there was a deficit last year of $6,500 in operating expenses, the annual report, which has been published, shows that while they had a deficit of $6,360 in operating expenses last year, they must have had sufficient money in thier contingent account, because their audited statement shows a surplus of $166.95. I assume, then, that $6,500 charge of extra expenses in operating last year was taken care of by contingent money that was on hand, which wiped out that deficit and left a credit balance of $166.95. We are up against a similar operating expense this year, providing it costs the same. I understood the Commissioner to say, but he claims I misunderstood him, that he found a reduction in operating expenses of about $2,000 up to about the 1st of June. He says, however, that it was a reduction of $2,000, which would amount to some little sum at the end of the year. We will have to take care, then, of this item of $6,500.

Rates to Cover Interest.

"The $11,375 interest charges on debentures for the filtration plant is taken care of by the increased revenue they are getting of $11,600 from the city for fire protection. This amount eliminates the item of $11,375 and gives them $225 as a surplus. Also, the whole of the $350,000 may not be spent. If the full amount be not expended by the end of the year, they will save on their interest charges. I am not prepared to say as to this.

"The third item for operating expenses of the filtration plant for the last three months of the year providing it be taken over on the 1st of October, is $3,500. The plant may be ready by this date, but it seems to me that with all the work that is to be done and the tests which must be made before it is accepted from the hands of the contractors, that $3,500 is in doubt.

"The $1,500 interest charges on debentures is the last item. We have $30,000 worth of debentures to issue, but as far as I know, there are only $10,000 worth in the hands of the City Council, which will be issued after the 1st of July, being taken up by the City Trust, who have the money to invest.

WILL LET PAVING STAND FOR A YEAR

(Special Despatch to the Examiner.)

TORONTO, June 30. — Mayor McIntyre and Ald. Phelan of Peterboro, attended Sir Adam Beck yesterday, and requested that he permit the George street paving to stand till next year. The Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission has already paved between the tracks of the Peterborough Radial Railway, and the Engineers of the Commission have been complaining about the delay in the city's paving. However, the deputation was successful in obtaining from Sir Adam Beck the assurance that he would consent to the matter resting till next year, till the cost of cement was lower, and the city would not be made to pay the high prices at the present time.

EXAMINE COWS' STOMACHS; THE HILLS REMANDED

PENDING PATHOLOGICAL EXAMINATION OF THE ANIMALS ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN POISONED, CASE ADJOURNED

FATHER AND SON ARE STILL AT LIBERTY

Robert Hill and his three sons, William, Davis and Russell Hill, of Dummer Township, were remanded until July 13th, when they appeared before Magistrate Dumble this morning for a preliminary hearing on the charge of poisoning eleven cattle belonging to one of their neighbors, who testified against them on a somewhat similar trial three years ago.

A crowd of pre-war proportions heard the arraignment, and many of the spectators recognized the Hill men who had become familiar figures through their previous court troubles. Only Wiliam and Davis Hill were led to the witness box this morning. They have been refused bail, but the father and the other son are at liberty. They were seated at one side of the court room. The four of them followed the brief proceedings casually and without any show of deep concern or anxiety.

G. N. Gordon, their solicitor, asked for an adjournment, to which Crown Attorney Hatton consented. The Crown is awaiting the results of a pathological examination of the cows' stomachs being made in Toronto, seeking a trace of strychnine.

On the agreement of prosecutor and counsel adjournment was made to July 13th. The recognisance of Robert and Russell Hill was extended and Wiliam and Davis return to the county jail.

WILL DELAY SATURDAY EDITION AND COMBINE IT WITH SPORTING EXTRA

Because of to-morrow (Friday) being a holiday, and Saturday only a half-day in The Examiner plant, it has been found necessary to delay the hour of publication of the regular edition on Saturday.

Instead of being published at one o'clock, as is the custom on Saturdays, it will be combined with the sporting extra which is to appear on the streets immediately after the end of the Dempsey-Carpentier heavyweight championship battle.

Although a delay, this will have the advantage to subscribers of giving them a detailed account of the championship bout in the regular edition, eliminating the necessity of purchasing an extra.

It is likely that the hour of publication will be shortly after three o'clock, depending, of course, on the closeness with which the fight adheres to its scheduled time.

PLAN UPRISING BY SOVIETS IN TURK CAPITAL

BRITISH FORCES RAID NUMEROUS PLACES IN SEARCH OF REDS AND ARREST SUSPECTED RING L ADERSJ

WOULD BE IN CONCERT WITH TURKS IN CITY

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 30.—(Canadian Press).—The Turks and Bolsheviki are reported to contemplate a vast uprising in this city, which would be accompanied by the destruction of public buildings. Early yesterday morning allied troops, acting under orders from General Harrington, commander of the British forces in Constantinople, marched through the principal streets of the city and raided hotels in search of Bolsheviki.

British soldiers, with fixed bayonets, entered buildings occupied by the Bolsheviki organization and seized large quantities of arms. Several men, alleged to be the principal ring leaders in the reported uprising, were arrested. More than sixty prisoners were placed in military lorries by the British.

Greek forces have withdrawn from Ismid, 56 miles south-east of this city.

ARREST FOR MURDER SEVEN YEARS AGO

Mounted Police Hope to Solve Slaying of Logger in 1914.

VANCOUVER B.C., June 29.—Tom Williams, an Alert Bay Indian has been arrested and committed for trial on a charge of having murdered Ernest Jack, a young fisherman and handlogger, at Nearter Bay, Dickson Island, September 2, 1914.

The finding of Jack's body by two loggers two years later, in a hollow log covered with an Indian mat, gave the first clue of the young fisherman's mysterious disappearance. He had been shot through the head. A forest fire swept the camp of the two loggers before the police could be communicated with, and all trace of the location of the body was lost.

Sergeant Angeman of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police took up the search early this year and found the blackened skull and bones. Suspicion rested on Williams and he was arrested.

HOLD UP SEVEN NEAR KINGSTON AND TAKE $70

MEMBERS OF ORCHESTRA STOPPED AT MIDNIGHT LAST NIGHT BY GANG OF ARMED MEN IN STOLEN CAR.

BLOCKED HIGHWAY AND FORCED THE DELIVERY

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

KINGSTON, June 30.—A sensation hold-up was staged about midnight near the village of Westbrook, when seven Kingston men, members of a local orchestra who had been playing at a dance in Westbrook, were held up by three masked men, each armed with a rifle and a revolver, who compelled the members of the o rchestra to hold up their hands while they relieved them of all their money which amounted to about seventy dollars.

The men held up were Edward Paradise, driver of the car, Howard Birch, Matthew Donnelly, James Foden, Frank Salsbury, Bert McAuley and Arthur Watson.

The three hold-up men ran ahead of the other car, and placing their car crosswise of the road, in this way compelled the second car to stop, and as it stopped the highwaymen fired off their weapons and ordered the men in the car to give up their valuables, which they did.

The hold-up men made their escape. The car which they were driving had been stolen from a resident of Kingston and later was found in Frontenac park, where they had driven it.

HON. J. D. REID HERE FOR BRIDGE OPENING

Hon. J. D. Reid, Minister of Railways and Canals, has accepted the invitation extended by G. N. Gordon, M.P., on behalf of the City Council, to be present at the opening of the Hunter street bridge on August 8.

CAR LEFT TRACK.

LINDSAY, June 30. — At 8.15 Tuesday evening a coal truck on the Whitby-Lindsay train was derailed when the couplings of the truck broke. No other car left the track, which was quickly cleared by the Lindsay auxiliary. The accident happened a mile west of Manchester.

WHAT IS PETERBORO'S GREATEST NEED?

Mrs...W...R...Morris: "I am glad to see the matter of technical preparation for industrial life being brought before the public. In our Collegiate Institute and Normal School, we are giving technical preparation for professional life. In an industrial city, is not the proportion of adolescents in industrial life even larger than those who expect and wish to enter the professions? Dr. Miller, of the Ontario Department of Education, who made a survey of the city's need of industrial education last fall, says that provision for such education is a real necessity if the following needs are to be met:

First—Technical education for boys and girls about to enter industrial, commercial, and home-making activities, those obliged to attend from one to four years, etc.

Second—The need of providing suitable part-time instruction and training for adolescents required to attend school under the Adolescent Act, etc.

Provision for educational needs means heavy financial outlay. It is for the people to say whether they are willing to spend money for such a purpose. The Provincial and Federal grants to industrial schools cut the cost to the community in half. A $400,000 building costs the community $200,000, the other $200,000 being covered by Government grants. The maintenance of the schools, salaries, etc., is cut practically in half also to the community through Government grants. How long will these Government means be available? Until a certain sum is exhausted. Shall we apply for our share of city grants in the near future, or shall we risk the chance of this money being exhausted before we have awakened to the possibilities of Governmental assistance? We realize the need now. What shall we do about it? The Board of Education is like other civic bodies. It can only go as far as the will of the people permits. Let us hear from some others.

LOCAL DEPUTATION PROTESTS RAISING HYDRO POWER RATES; IS TOLD INCREASE NECESSARY

UNKNOWN ASSAILANT SHOOTS MAN IN ARM

(Special Despatch to The Examiner.)

SUDBURY, June 30.— While putting his auto in the garage at 1.30 this morning Lester Burton, local barber, was shot in the right arm and left hand by an unknown assailant who crept up on him in the darkness. Only two shots were fired, both taking effect. The assailant escaped.

Burton was taken to the hospital, and it may be found necessary to amputate the hand. Revenge for some real or fancied wrong is believed to have been the motive for the deed. The police are working on the case.

LONDON PAPER SAYS JAP PACT TO BE RENEWED

PALL MALL GAZETTE CLAIMS BRITISH CABINET DECIDED UPON THIS TO-DAY BUT DISCUSSION PROCEEDING.

MODIFICATIONS AS TO ATTITUDE OF THE U.S.

LONDON, June 30. — (Canadian Press.)—The Pall Mall Gazette and Globe says the British Cabinet today decided upon a renewal of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty but that discussion is proceeding on certain modifications that have been suggested. These have special relation to the American attitude towards the treaty and the position of India, the newspaper adds.

AVERT STRIKE OF ENGINEERS

PROVISIONAL AGREEMENT TO BE BALLOTED ON—MINERS RETURNING.

LONDON, June 30. — (Canadian Press.)—The threatened strike in the engineering trades, due to diffedences in regard to wage reduction, was averted to-day at a conference of representatives of employers and engineers. The conferees accepted the provisional agreement which had been reached by committees representing the two sides of the controversy. The terms will be balloted upon by the men within a fortnight.

LONDON, June 30. — (Canadian Press.) — According to district reports the British miners are readily accepting the new agreement made between the coal owners and the executive of the Miners' Federation, and there is no reason to doubt that there will be a general resumption of work on Monday. Some pits have already resumed operations.

SIR ADAM BECK SAYS INCREASED COSTS AND HIGH RENTALS FORCE COMMISSION TO MAKE CHANGE.

$5 PER HORSE POWER MORE IS PROPOSITION

(Special Despatch to the Examiner.)

TORONTO, June 30. — The deputation from Peterboro which waited on Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the Hydro-Electric Commission, and L. E. Ireland, manager of the Central Ontario System of the Hydro, yesterday afternoon, to protest against the proposed increase in power rates here, were promised consideration of their protest, but told that the high rentals charged for the surplus water in the Trent system by the Dominion government and the increased cost of operation made a new rate absolutely necessary.

The deputation consisted of G. N. Gordon, M.P., chairman of the Power Committee of the City Council, Robert Hicks, chairman of the Utilities Commission,, Mayor McIntyre, Messrs. C. E. Sisson and E. F. Mason, members of the Utilities Commision, City Clerk S. R. Armstrong, and H. O. Fisk, Superintendent of the Utilities Commission.

The Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission required so Sir Adam Beck claimed, that power users should pay the cost of generating and delivering power so the Peterboro Utilities Commission should pay the increased rates. This would amount to $5 per horse power increase which would affect each householder, and was caused by the Department of Railways and Canals rental charges of $2 per horse power available at the generator of the Power Commission, and the increased cost of material and labor.

Mr. G. N. Gordon objected to the Ontario Power Commission fixing a 75 cent monthly minimum rate on each householder because, he claimed, this would put the great burden on small users, who were generally working men, whose monthly bills did not average 75c per month. Mr. Gordon insisted that each consumer should pay for what he used and no minimum monthly rate should be fixed.

Mr. Robert Hicks suggested that there be no increase at present, claiming that the rates could stand until the end of the year even if it was necessary to exhaust a reserve the Peterboro Utilities Commission now have in this department.

TO QUADRUPLE IRISH FORCES

REPORTED IRISH CONSTABULARY TO BE INCREASED FROM 12,000 TO 50,000.

LONDON, June 30 (Canadian Press).—The forces of the Royal Irish Constabulary are immediately to be quadrupled, says a despatch.

This would mean increasing the number of men in this service from 12,000 to 50,000.

Newspapers of this city to-day took diverse views regarding the probable effect of the refusal of Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, to meet Eamonn DeValera, the Irish Republican leader, and Mr. DeValera's letter to Sir James declaring that the Sinn Fein could not accept the invitation of Prime Minister Lloyd-George to a conference relative to Ireland.

Some editorial comment was inclined to be very gloomy, interpreting Mr. DeValera's assertion that the Prime Minister's proposal was not acceptable in its present form as an indication that such a meeting was unlikely to occur

DUMMER AND WARSAW NEWS

WARSAW, June 30.—Mrs. William Jackson returned on Wednesday from a two weeks' visit at Niagara.

Mrs. Strachan, Burleigh, is visiting with Mrs. Charles Tighe.

Mrs. Smith is visiting in Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sinclair and family, Tilsonburg, are visiting Mrs. Sinclair's relatives in Warsaw.

Mrs. Wallace Anderson spent a couple of days last week in Peterborough.

Miss Coleman, Toronto, is visiting her sister, Mrs. David Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Charlton, Lakefield, spent Sunday in the village.

Miss Edith Tucker, nurse-in-training, Nicholls Hospital, is home for her three weeks' holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tighe are visiting Mrs. Tighe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jackson.

Miss Thompson, who has been visiting her grandfather, Mr. G. W. Reid, left for home this morning.

Mrs. A. F. Choate spent to-day in Port Hope.

Miss Ella Dewart, Principal of S. S. No. 4, Stamford, Welland, is home for her holidays.

The five pupils from Warsaw school who are to write on the entrance examinations went to Lakefield this evening.

A good number of the Masons and their friends from Dummer attended the Masons' excursion Monday.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Cephas Payne last Wednesday was on of the largest that has ever been held in Dummer.

New Organization.

Of the series of trustees' and taxpayers' meetings held in this district recently, South Douro was the most successful. There was a large attendance and an organization for the advancement of education was formed. This is the only place of the six visited where an organization was formed.

Church News.

A very interesting service was held in the Baptist Church last Thursday evening. There was a discussion on "Church Discipline."

The Presbyterian Sabbath School met at church time Sunday for the children's patriotic service. The official program was followed, except that Rev. J. Graham took his text from Romans, 6:4. The evening subject was taken from 1st John, 5:2, 4 and 5.

There was service in the Anglican Church yesterday.

Cheese Shipped.

Cheese from Warsaw factory was shipped at Lakefield on Friday.

Not in the Regular Way.

Neither of the reports printed in The Examiner of the unveiling last Tuesday was sent in by the regular correspondent.

Trustees to Meet.

A meeting of Warsaw and Fourth Line Trustees is called for in Warsaw school-house on Saturday evening of this week, at 8 o'clock.

NEW U.S. TARIFF LAW LOWERS DUTY ON SEVERAL ARTICLES FROM EMERGENCY BILL LEVEL

DUTY ON WHEAT REDUCED FROM 35 CENTS TO 25 CENTS A BUSHEL—OTHER CUTS MADE BUT TAR'FF STILL HIGH.

EMERGENCY DUTY ON CORN TO BE RETAINED

WASHINGTON, June 30 (Canadian Press).—The new Republican wages. We want the farmer to have Protection to American industry and completely revising the Underwood-Simmons Tariff, for nearly eight years on the statute books, was introduced in the House yesterday by Representative Fordney, of Michigan, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

The Bill, over which the Committee had laboured for four months, and to enact which Congress was called in special session by President Harding, underwent a few eleventh-hour alterations.

Some features of the permanent Tariff Bill made public yesterday of particular interest to Canada follow:

The duty on wheat, which was 35 cents per bushel in the Emergency Taric Law, is reduced to 25 cents, which was the Bayne-Aldrich rate.

Canadian wheat came in free under the Underwood Act.

A duty of 15 cents per bushel on corn in the Emergency Act, which was the same as the Payne-Aldrich Law, is retained, corn having been on the free level in the Underwood Act.

There is a duty of 2 cents per pound on fresh beef and veal, which is the same as in the Emergency Law.

Butter is given a duty of 8 cents per pound, which is an increase from the rate of 6 cents in both the Emergency Law and the Payne-Aldrich Law, and from the rate of 2½ cents in the Underwood Act.

There is a duty of 6 cents per dozen on eggs, as compared with 5 cents in the Payne-Aldrich Law.

Onions are given a duty of 75 cents per hundred pounds, as against 20 cents per bushel of 57 pounds in the Underwood Act, and 40 cents per bushel of 57 pounds in both the Payne-Aldrich and Emergency Acts.

The duty on potatoes is made 42 cents per hundred pounds, instead of 25 cents per bushel of 60 pounds in the Payne-Aldrich Law and 25 cents per bushel in the Emergency Law.

Potatoes were on the free list in the Underwood Law.

Increased duties are provided for olives and almonds at the request of the California growers.

CAMPBELLFORD PERSONALS

CAMPBELLFORD, June 30. — Miss Lillian Vasper, who has spent the past few months in Belleville, has returned home.

Mr. Ronald MacPherson was in Peterborough yesterday.

Misses Helen Cairns, Verna Shore, Winnifred Carter and Nellie Dunn were in Peterborough on Monday, visiting their friend, Miss Alma Rickey.

Mr. D. F. Robertson and little daughter, of Montreal, were in town yesterday. They were the guests of Mr. Robertson's mother, Mrs. D. Robertson.

Rev. C. F. McIntosh was in Cobourg on Tuesday, attending a meeting of the Presbytery.

Friends will be pleased to learn that Mr. Pope, who was taken ill on Monday, is improving.

Mr. T. E. Moffatt, B.A., High School Principal, and Mr. R. Boyes, Public School Inspector, are presiding at the entrance examinations this week.

The Baptist Sunday School will hold their annual picnic to Percy Boom on Friday (Dominion Day). The picnickers will leave the church by motors about 8 a.m. Accommodation will be provided for all who wish to go.

The inspector of the Standard Bank is paying his official visit to the local branch this week.

Miss Jennie Nelson has accepted a position in Mr. A. L. Reindeau's butcher shop.

The funeral of the late Mrs. John L. Fox, which was held yesterday afternoon, was largely attended. The service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. C. F. McIntosh, and the remains were laid to rest in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Garden Party To-night.

St. Andrew's Church will, weather permitting, hold their annual garden party on the school grounds to-night. The 40th Regimental Band will render the music, and there will be tug-of-war and other attractions. The ladies of Burnbrae are known all over for their sumptuous repasts, and no doubt there will be a large attendance.

Rain is badly needed in this district, and although showers pass around us, we have had but scarcely enough to lay the dust. The farmers report the pasture drying up.

Quite a large number from town and vicinity attended the U. F. O. picnic in Cobourg on Tuesday, where they had the opportunity of hearing Premier Drury speak.

HASTINGS MAN DROWNED WHEN CANOE UPSET

BERT SHERWIN SANK BEFORE HELP COULD REACH HIM—NEIL SCRIVER RESCUED.

WERE FISHING

HASTINGS, June 29.—A deep gloom has been cast over the whole community by the news that Mr. Bert Sherwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sherwin, had been drowned in the Trent just in sight of his home. It appears that Mr. Sherwin and Mr. Neil Scriver had gone out fishing in a canoe about 4 o'clock this afternoon when by some means the boat upset and both men were thrown into the river in about 20 feet of water. Their cries for assistance soon brought a large number to the spot and every effort was put forth to save the men. Mr. Neil Scriver was rescued in time to save his life but Mr. Sherwin had sunk to rise no more. Many boats were soon on the spot, grappling irons were brought to the scene and after an hour or more of hard work, the body was recovered. Dr. De La Mat ter was on hand and used every means to resuscitate, but all to no avail, death had claimed him as his victim. Coroner Dr. Richards of Warkworth, was sent for, and the body was removed to Mr. Tate's undertaking rooms. Deceased who was only some thirty years of age, was an employee, of the Hastings Tanning Co., and was a general favorite and a good and faithful workman. He leaves to mourn his untimely death, his young wife and three children, the youngest being a babe of only a few months, also his father and mother, to whom sympathy is extended in their sad loss. The funeral has not yet been arranged for.

Public Meeting

A public meeting was held on the Town Hall on Tuesday evening, when the national Cooperage Company, by the use of lantern slides, demonstrated to the large audience present, their barrels in the course of manufacture. A number of prominent men addressed the audience and tried to show the advisability of giving the company every inducement to locate in Hastings. A number of people have signed their willingness to invest in shares, and the location is almost assured.

Twenty three pupils are writing on the entrance Exams here.

Issued Rain Checks.

A number of the citizens motored to Castleton this afternoon to witness the ball game between Hastings and Castleton. Only one innings was scored when the game was called off owing to a severe storm passing over.

Miss Marie Walsh of Toronto, is spending the midsummer vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Walsh.

Mr. E. C. Prentice is in Roseneath taking charge of the Entrance Exams there.

Presentation to Teacher

The pupils of S. S. No. 8 Percy Dutch Line, surprised their teacher Monday afternoon June 27th, by presenting her with an address and a substantial purse of money. The address is as follows and was read by Clifford Oliver while the purse was presented by Gordon McMillen on behalf of the pupils.

Dear Miss Hinton—As the end of the term is now at hand, and we are about to be severed, we, the pupils of S. S. No. 8, Dutch Line, wish in some measure to express our heartfelt appreciation of your kind services to us a teacher. Your pleasant manner, and your ever-willing way will never be forgotten by us and now, Miss Hinton, we beg of you to accept this little token as a reminder of the happy days we spent as we mingled here together, and we assure you, will ever be remembered by us.

Signed on behalf of the School.

Miss Hinton replied thanking the pupils for their kind thoughtfulness and said that she had spent a very pleasant and happy year among them. Miss Hinton purposes taking a Normal training when the term opens.

Mr. Lansberry, son of Rev. and Mrs. Lansberry of Wellington, was entertained at the parsonage this week by Rev. and Mrs. Hinton and family.

Launching of Church Tennis Club.

The Hastings' Methodist Church have their tennis club in full swing. There is a large membership. The double court is laid out on the lawn of Dr. Hess. The members must let no spare time go to waste.

Committee of managers are Dr. Hess, president, and it may here be stated that the members of the Church League and Sunday School, wish to thank him for the use of his fine grounds, Miss Eva Ellis, treasurer; Mrs. M. L. Hinton, secretary.

Mr. E. Prentice laid out the court and is an expert teacher of this sport.

The grounds are equipped with a fine tarred net, rackets, and balls.

AGAINST PACT WITH JAPS IN OLD, NEW FORM

MEIGHEN TELLS CONFERENCE ALLIANCES OUT OF TUNE WITH TIMES AND ARE FUTILE TO PREVENT WAR.

LONDON, June 30.—(By Grattan O'Leary, Canadian Press Correspondent).—The question of the advisability of renewing the Japanese Alliance resolved itself into a full dress debate in the Conference of Premiers yesterday. Right Hon. Arthur Meighen who had circulated his case in confidential document and who intended to speak but briefly, addressed the conference for an hour. Premiers Smutz of South Africa, Hughes of Australia, and Massey of New Zealand followed with speeches of equal length.

Premier Meighen, it is understood urged against the renewal of the treaty either in the present form or with modifications. He pointed out the Canadan objections to it which were largely in line with his arguments already indicated in these despatches but based the greater part of his case.

Upon the claim that the old policy of alliances is out of tune with the times, that alliances, as a means of maintaining peace, have proved futile in the past and the time has now come when new methods ought to be tried for the prevention of war.

IRELAND'S FUTURE EXPECTED TO BE DETERMINED IN SERIES OF SECRET CONFERENCES NOW

MEIGHEN SAYS WE MAY REFUSE SOON "TO CARRY ODIUM OF IRISH STATE"

CHICAGO, Ill., June 30 (Canadian Press).— Acable to The Chicago Tribune from London last night says:

"The Hon. Arthur Meighen, the Canadian Premier, is reported as having expressed himself very strongly to the Government on the Irish issue, saying 'the mess must be cleaned up at once, or the Dominions would refuse longer to carry the odium of sharing in the misgovernment of Ireland.'"

PROBE CHARGES OF CORRUPTION

ARREST U.S. PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT OFFICER AND MORE EXPECTED TO BE TAKEN ON SIMILAR CHARGES.

WASHINGTON, June 30 (Canadian Press).—The charges that Prohibition has proved a very good thing financially for a number of United States Prohibition agents are being investigated by a commission here.

One officer, formerly an assistant departmental chief of the Prohibition Bureau, has been arrested, and is held in heavy bail on the charge of accepting a bribe to put through special permits.

It is stated that other arrests on similar charges are expected within the next few days.

MONSIGNOR COUTORIER IS BISHOP OF ALEXANDRIA

LONDON, June 29.— (Canadian Press.)— Monsignor Felix Coutorier has been appointed Archbishop of Alexandria, Ontario, says a Central News despatch from Rome under the date of Tuesday received here to-day.

FOR THE TIME BEING THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT IS OUT OF THE ARGUMENT AND WHO WILL SPEAK FOR IRELAND NOW DEBATED.

WAR OFFICE GOES ON WITH ITS CAMPAIGN

(Special Despatch to the Examiner.)

LONDON, June 30. — Ireland's future is expected to be determined in a series of secret meetings which may show the way out of the present bloody impasse.

For the time being the British government is out of the argument. The two Irish factoins are concerned with the question of whether one man shall speak for all Ireland or whether the Sinn Fein will concede Ulster the right to its own spokesman, if the peace conversations with the government are undertaken.

De Valera roused a storm of criticism by writing the Ulster Premier, Sir James Craig, practically demanding a preliminary meeting in Dublin. Sir James' reply, declining such a meeting, was anticipated.

Ulster has acquired a national consciousness in the short time her parliament has been in operation. Sir James had universal backing in Ulster in his stand that Ulster will speak her own mind in the conference called by Premier Lloyd George.

There was some disquiet, many of of the officials believing that the serious question still was far from settled. Others knowing of the secret conferences which led up to Lloyd George's open invitation, believed the remaining difficulties would be swept away in private and the way cleared for a peace gathering with both Ulster and South Ireland representatives.

Meanwhile the British government has not slackened its preparations to crush the Sinn Fein by force—the war office is continuing its augmentation of military forces and outfitting them with munitions for carrying out the planned campaign.

A Car as Fine As Its Wonderful Motor

Everywhere you hear the Chalmers motor spoken of with real enthusiasm by its owners.

It is due the Chalmers motor that it should be praised. For it is truly a wonderful car.

Its Great Performance

It is wonderful in the efficiency it gets from to-day's poor gasoline. In the added miles it returns. In the way it performs and stands up.

These things are largely due to preheating the fuel by the hot-spot before it enters the cylinders.

As a direct result of this fine performance, upkeep and replacement costs on the Chalmers are surprisingly low.

Motor Not Only Feature

But Chalmers excellence is far from beginning and ending with its motor. It is a car that is finely built in every detail.

It affords consummate riding comfort, drives with a minimum of effort, and is beautiful in design and finish. We invite you to look into Chalmers records and Chalmers standing without delay.

THE HYDRO RADIAL PROBE.

Premier Drury, in the course of an address at the Northumberland County U.F.O. picnic at Cobourg the other day, defended the Hydro radial project, declaring that it would have been breaking faith with the people if the Government had not decided to probe the proposal before definitely committing the Province. The Drury Government was quite justified in ordering an inquiry in regard to Hydro radials and the majority of the people endorse the action of the Farmer-Labour administration in this respect. The chief objection is that the inquiry has been prolonged and dragged out to such an extent as to make the average citizen wonder when it was going to end. So-called experts from far and near have given estimates and conjectures and guesses as to the cost of building radial lines, the expense of operation and the probable profit on deficit. The figures that have been collected must fill many volumes. The delay has given the veteran Hydro enthusiasts an opportunity to say that the probe is a diplomatic way of blocking the whole scheme and to accuse the Government of being, at the best, luke warm towards the project.

OSHAWA'S STREET TROUBLE.

The Oshawa Council submitted a by-law to the ratepayers on Saturday to provide for the repairing of the town's two main business thoroughfares, King and Simcoe streets, and the measure was defeated, due, it is said, to the objection of citizens on other streets to pay for work for the benefit of the ratepayers whose premises are situated on the two streets in question. Civic pride evidently does not mean anything to the people of Oshawa. If there is any worse section of paving in any municipality in Canada than the portion it was proposed to re-surface, its notoriety has not reached Peterborough, and visitors who have seen the roadway or been bounced over it in a motor car are astonished that a majority of the citizens of this—in other respects—progressive town should have been so blind to their own interests or to the welfare of the community that they should refuse to authorize improvements that are entirely necessary. There are roadways in Peterborough of which the citizens are not proud, but compared to Oshawa's two principal business streets or to the main street in Bowmanville, the worst of Peterborough's thoroughfares should be regarded as perfection itself. King street in Oshawa is the connecting link in the Provincial Highway and its present condition is such as to make most motorists decide to detour around the town instead of risking the passage of this wretched road.

DOMINION DAY.

It is to be feared that Canadians enjoy the picnics and sports of their national holiday without much thought for the significance of the anniversary. It is to the majority merely a holiday that gives them a chance to make merry, and the national aspect of the occasion is ignored. We are not a flag-waving people and are rather inclined to be dumb so far as the voicing of our love for our Dominion is concerned. These are not serious faults, and yet there are times when, with all the good-natured amusement we take in the spread-eagle speeches of our neighbor's Fourth of July orators, we might, perhaps, be not amiss if the example of the United States were to be followed in the celebration of the birthday of our Dominion. Numbered in our population are hundreds of thousands of citizens to whom the history of Canada is a sealed book. They know nothing of the formation of the Dominion and July 1st to them simply means a day's release from work. Were it not for the newspapers these new citizens of ours would not even have an inkling of what Dominion Day stands for, and the task of enlightening them should not be left altogether to the papers. At public gatherings an Canada's birthdays a few minutes might profitably be devoted to an explanation of the significance of the occasion, for it is by such appeals to the patriotism of the people that the development of a national spirit is fostered.

CANADA'S BIRTHDAY.

Of all the holidays in the year Dominion Day should be held in the greatest regard by Canadians, for it observes the formation of the great Dominion of to-day and is Canada's one national holiday. Fifty-four years ago to-morrow the union of the Provinces of Canada into one federation was accomplished. There have been great changes since 1867. In population the Dominion has grown from 3,500,000 people to at least 9,000,000, its railway mileage has increased almost twenty times, and in territory it includes nine Provinces and two territories, instead of the original union of Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Its fifty-fifth birthday finds Canada prospering and progressive, suffering to some extent from industrial depression, it is true, but a paradise in this respect compared to many other countries. One of the greatest crops in the history of the Dominion is predicted, the unrest and disturbances that have been a port-war development in various parts of the world are unknown in Canada and the future is bright with promise. Canadians should not only be a happy, but a proud people on their national holiday, for they have every reason to rejoice that their lot has been cast in this fair fertile land, and join in the petition of Charles G. D. Roberts' fine verse:

"Father of unity, make this people one.
Weld, infuse them in the patriot's flame,
Whose forging on thine anvil was begun
In blood late shed to purge the common shame:
That so our hearts, the ferver of faction done,
Banish old feud in our young nation's name."

MUNICIPALITIES' DIFFICULTIES.

During the past year attention has been drawn almost every week to some municipality which was having difficulty in meeting its financial obligations. The question of finance, especially that of debt and of raising the revenue necessary to met the debt charges, was prominent at the convention of Saskatchewan municipalities held last week in Prince Albert and reported elsewhere in this issue. The subject was also covered in the report on municipal finance and administration presented at the bond dealers' convention in Toronto earlier this month. It is one of the outstanding questions in Canadian finance at the present time, and will be with us continually for some years to come. In fact, when a country reaches the extent to which Canada has now attained it is unavoidable that some municipalities will be unable to meet obligations undertaken during the period of earlier development, just as some businesses prove unsuccessful and go into the hands of the creditors.

The bond dealers and investors have now had sufficient experience with municipal defaults to arrive at a uniform method of dealing with them. They aim at protecting the bond holders, both as regards capital and interest, though in some cases it is found necessary to postpone part of the interest payments. The attitude of the municipalities, as the other party to the contract, has not always been so clear, and sometimes it has appeared that there was a desire to escape some of their liabilities. When a borrowing municipality maintains its position to be absolutely sound, and later urges upon the bond holders the absolute necessity for relief, the change of attitude is not consistent.

There is a third party which is indirectly concerned in these negotiations. This is the Province. The Province, however, is not responsible for the debts of municipalities within it, though the latter are organized and exist under Provincial laws. The utmost that the Province can safely do is maintain a moderate control over municipal finances, through the limitation of assessment in proportion to property values, debt in relation to assessment, and tax rates. Provincial debts are already burdensome, without the addition of municipal debts, and the admission of any such obligation would moreover encourage municipal defaults. Bond holders and bond dealers must recognize this, and must also recognize that in the field of municipal and perhaps even Government bond investments losses will take place, just as they are found in other investment fields in Canada.—Financial Post.

③

IF you were blind, and unable to read—imagine the prospect!

Only a few years ago the blind of Canada had to ask kind-hearted relatives and friends to read to them. At other times they sat in their darkness, brooding over their helplessness.

To-day the blind can read! There are books with raised letters to make this possible. From reading these books they obtain pleasure that is simply immeasurable.

Our Library and Publishing Department has collected a library of about 9,000 volumes, all printed in the Braille embossed type, which the blind people have been taught to read with their fingers. From this library blind Canadians from all parts of Canada and Newfoundland get books. They await the arrival of these volumes with an eagerness that would be an inspiration to you to behold.

To date this invaluable library has cost $8,000 per year. The books are expensive to purchase in the first place and there is no income from the subscribers. Help us buy new books for the blind. Contribute to this noble cause.

McClary's Protected Element

McClary's Protected Element is the final touch of perfection in the Electric Range.

Keeping the many wire coils in the Elements free from grease, dirt and damage is assured with McClary's Protected Element. Dirt impairs heat radiation.

Salt in grease or water may fuse the coils—burn them out, cause damage and repair bills.

McClary's Elements are encased in disks of tough, protecting porcelain made by a secret process.

The wire coils are embedded in the porcelain disk, snugly protected from damage of any kind.

McClary's Electric Range

The tough, smooth disk heats quickly, retains the heat, will stand any amount of wear with heavy pots and pans — cannot get out of order like the exposed Elements of ordinary ranges.

—In fact, it eliminates Electric Range worry.

McClary's Protected Element is only one of many advantages you get in a McClary's Electric Range.

Next to the Protected Element, McClary's seamless, jointless oven is the most valuable feature of McClary's Electric Range — sanitary, clean and efficient.

CROP CONDITIONS

The following is a summary of reports made by the Agricultural representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Hay is being cut much earlier than in ordinary seasons. The average yield for clover and timothy will be comparatively light, some representatives putting it at about half a crop.

Alfalfa and sweet clover have been giving more satisfactory results for the first cuttings.

Kent is of opinion that some fields of fall wheat will be ready for harvesting in about a week, and says that there is considerable Hessian fly in a number of the early sown fields. Rye is also coloring for ripening.

Oats, barley and other spring grains are likely to be short in straw this year unless timely showers come.

Early potatoes are doing well in Lincoln. The representative reports that he marketed some on June the 17th. They have been bringing $3 a bushel in Essex, where the crop has also been unusually early.

The hot weather has been just the thing for corn, but like the other field crops, it would be the better for more moisture.

Essex reports that outdoor tomatoes were ripening during the week, and have been selling at $3.75 a basket.

Lincoln reports that peach trees in cultivated orchards are recovering from leaf curl.

Blight and the hot, dry weather have been lessening both the yield and the length of the bearing season of strawberries in nearly every fruit district. Speaking of the former trouble the Lincoln representative observes: "Expert opinion is divided on the injury caused to strawberry patches. Some contend that it is due to blight, while others contend the injury has resulted from late spring frosts damaging the roots and so arresting flow of sap."

Raspberries are promising a good yield so far.

Prices of bacon hogs are holding well around $12 a cwt., although a respresentative in eastern Ontario speaks of a shipment purchased at $10. Young pigs are scarce and dear. The Port Arthur representative reports sales at the weaning age from $10 to $12 each. Brant, however, quotes them as selling at $12 a pair.

Cattle upon the grass are practically at a standstill, as the very warm and dry weather prevailing has been affecting the pasture. There has been a noticeable falling off in the milk flow, but not so seriously as some feared.

During the week cheese has been selling on local boards at fram 15 3-16 to 17c a lb.

The Lambton representatives says: "The following incident is typical of the cattle situation as it affects the farmer of this country. One farmer in relating his experience says that he purchased $4,005 worth of stockers last fall, fed them all winter the crop that grew on 170 acres of land ,and sold them about a month ago for $4023. This shows how the farmers have to take their losses."

The Simcoe representative reports: At a recent sale in this county of pure bred live stock, prices showed quite a slump from last year although as far as the bulls were concerned in most cases they brought full value, ranging from $71 to $120 for ordinary year olds. The cows being a little better bred, brought more; but they were really under value in most cases, the highest price being 202 and the lowest $65."

Lambton states that a number of married men with families have been placed at wages averaging about $400 a year, with cottage, etc.

600 MEN APPLY FOR WORK; MANY ARE DESPERATE

MONTREAL, June 29.— (Canadian Press.)—Over six hundred men applied for work to-day on the site of the new nine million dollar Mount Royal hotel. The number actually engaged on the work at present is ninety-one. Most of those applying to-day were literally desperate. One man even went so far as to threaten a contractor with physical violence if he did not take him on.

EAST EMILY HAPPENINGS

EAST EMILY, June 29. — The Epworth League of the Bethel Methodist Church held their annual garden party on the church lawn on Friday night, June the 24th, when a large number gathered to share in the strawberries, cakes and pies with which the tables were ladened. The programme was rendered in the church, and consisted in part of speeches by the Rev. Mr. Harrington of Bethel, and the Rev. Mr. Stillman, of Omemee. The Misses Lowe gave a duet. The Rev. Mr. Mellor, of Oakwood, contributed a very interesting address on his five months' work in a construction camp. The Misses Lowe then sang another duet, which please the audience immensely. The programme was closed by singing God Save the King and every person went home highly delighted with the evening's entertainment.

The electric storm which passed over this district last week caused considerable damage. Mr. and Mrs. John Lintick were both knocked unconscious in their home on the 3rd Line of Emily, and on recovering consciousness again, found that the wood shed was starting to burn. Fortunately they extinguished the blaze before any damage was done.

Ripe Raspberries.

The raspberries are getting ripe, and there are all prospects of a bountiful crop this season.

Franks-Boate Nuptials.

On Wednesday, June 22nd, in St. James Church, Emily, Miss Christina Boate, daughter of Mrs. George Boate, and Mr. Wilbert Franks, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Franks, Peterborough, were united in marriage, the Rev. Mr. James, of Omemee, officiating.

The bride was unattended, and looked charming in a taune suite and black hat. She carried a shower bouquet of roses. Mrs. Ross Boate played the Wedding March. The church was beautifully decorated with daisies and roses.

The young couple left amid showers of confetti on the 5 o'clock train for points west, and on their return will reside on Water Street, Peterborough.

Social Mention.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Clarke motored to Peterborough on Saturday.

TRENT RIVER HAPPENINGS

TRENT RIVER, June 29..—A few local showers passed over this locality yesterday, but not sufficient to be of any benefit to the crops.

Misses L. Taylor and Olive Haig of Toronto, are guests at the Sedgwick House.

Miss Dayman of Toronto, is a guest at the Sedgewick House.

Mr .and Mrs. Osborne of Toronto, are guests with Mr. and Mrs. Goodman at the McCleary cottage.

Mrs. Jewett and children of Toronto are holidaying at Pleasant Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradford and friends motored home to Toronto this week after spending a week at 'Sockwyn.'

Mr. Ed. Howse returned from Toronto yesterday, where he went to his home over Sunday.

Mr. Fred Gain, of Toronto, spent over Sunday with Mrs. Gain at the Christie cottage.

Spring grain look favorable, not withstanding the great need of rain, and the hay crop is light.

Eggs have gone up to 30c. and butter still sells at 35c. Porkers are selling at 12 1-2 cents live weight.

Guests at Cedar Isle this week are Mr. and Mrs. T. Bilton, and Mr. Beird of Toronto. A full house is expected over the holiday.

APSLEY FOOTBALL TEAM SCORES WIN IN OPENING GAME

APSLEY, June 29. — Apsley is waking up. It now has a football team—a real live team that is likely to make a name for itself if it can last. The formation of the team is viewed as a revolt against petticoat government to which the young men have been subject for some time, and already rumours of offers of compromise from the fair enemy are in the air.

On Thursday last the team journeyed to Glenalda to the Methodist picnic there and played a match against the Purdeyville team, which resulted in a victory for Apsley, the score being 1-0, the winning kick coming from Charlie Smith from a pass by Stanley Windsor in the last minute of the game. Apsley had most of the play throughout, and if the half-backs had supported the forward line better the score would have been greater. Purdeyville has promised to play a return game at Apsley on July 8th on the St. George's church picnic grounds and a good game is expected. Apsley's team was as follows: Goal, W. Garnshaw; full-backs, Stanley Windsor, William Garnshaw; half-backs, Roy Brown, Tom Lean, Elijah McKay; forwards, Vernal Windsor, Jim Lean, Will Johnson, Lloyd Young, Charlie Smith.

The Rev. C. A. G. Spence acted as referee.

Purdeyville has a good team, but lacking combination and dash. Apsley's former reputation as an invincible team also had its effect upon the opposite side, affecting the morals of the team considerably. However the tables may be turned on the return game.

On account of the postponement of the church picnic to July 8th, the last day for receiving entries for the bird houses competition has been fixed for July 5th. All entries must bear the name, age and school section attached, and be delivered at the parish room. Entries for the mile championship race must be made not later than July 6th. Admission to the picnic grounds by tickets only. Adults, one dollar, children 50 cents—or if purchased before the day 75 cents and two for 75 cents respectively.

The Rev. C. Spence acknowledges with thanks for the Marshall family $10 from Mr. and Mrs. T. Z. Webster, Lakefield, and clothing from Mr. Pattrick, Belleville.

Writing Examination.

The entrance examination started at the school here on Tuesday. About seventeen from the district are writing and the school accommodation is severly taxed. Desks and seats had to be improvised to accommodate the candidates.

Rain is badly needed. A slight shower fell on Monday night —not enough to lay the dust. Oats and hay on knolls and high ground are drying up. The raspberry crop will, after all, be a failure unless rain comes at once.

Mr. Philip Elmhirst's condition is much improved since last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman James and family made a motor trip to Apsley on Sunday returning to Dunsford the same evening.

Miss Grant returned on Saturday after visiting friends in Toronto.

FLEET FOOT

Sport Shoes

THE very name suggests the kind of shoes they are. FLEET FOOT—light, easy, flexible—springy and buoyant when walking the links—firm and sure when on the tennis court and bowling green.

FLEET FOOT shoes were designed originally for sport. Men liked them so well—found them so restful and comfortable—that they demanded FLEET FOOT styles for every-day wear.

Then wives and mothers and girls in dainty summer gowns insisted on having FLEET FOOT Pumps and Oxfords.

Now, there are styles for every member of the family—men, women, boys and girls—for morning, noon and night—work and play—in town and for holiday time.

Genuine FLEET FOOT shoes have the name stamped on them. It pays to get the genuine FLEET FOOT—pays in style, comfort, long wear and economy.

Ask your Shoe Dealer for Fleet Foot and make sure you get Fleet Foot.

RAINMAKER HATFIELD ON LAST LEGS; FARMERS PEEVED, CROPS BURNING

(Special Despatch to the Examiner.)

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., June 30. — Rainmaker Hatfield is on his last legs. With the crops in the Medicine Hat territory burning up in a temperature which for the past ten days has ranged from 85 to 96 in the shade, the maker of weather is non persona grata with the grain growers in the south eastern corner of Alberta.

One week more without rain, and Mr. Hatfield will be about as popular as the Meighen government proved to be on Monday in the Medicine Hat constituency.

Hatfield's precipitation record for May and June to date still stands at 2.23 inches and a copper sky is not promising any increase. However, Hatfield, if he is nothing else, is optimistic.

On Saturday afternoon a meeting with the rain maker was set by the executive of the Medicine Hat Agricultural Society which last winter employed him to make the clouds perform this summer. Some mighty plain speaking was indulged in by the representatives of the farmers, who pledged himself to pay Hatfield $8000 to produce four inches of rain during May, June and July; and he was told to produce it and do it without delay. Hatfield, however, was candid; he declared that conditions for bringing in moisture have been unusually poor, but stated that unless all signs failed there would be a good rain before the week is over.

The last rain fell two weeks ago to-morrow, and was a fairly good one, so that the crops in the summer fallows are worrying along, and if Hatfield's promises are true the farmers may have enough crop to be able to dig up the necessary eight thousand but should the man from California fail again this week, as he did in Alaska in 1906, there is a good deal of talk that he will purchase an extra pair of shoes, and make the trip over land into Montana via the Cyprus Hills route.

Hatfield started out this spring playing the strong end of a 31 to 6 shot. This week will tell whether he goes home a winner or on his uppers.

GOOD PROGRESS AT FILTRATION PLANT IS MADE

IS NOW THOUGHT WORK WILL BE FINISHED SOONER THAN FIRST ESTIMATED.

With about 150 men employed on the entire work the two contracting companies building the filtration plant and the 2,000,000-gallon filtered water reservoir report good progress, and it is confidently expected the plant will be opened much sooner than originally estimated.

The work on the plant itself is well advanced and the part known as the settling bed, which is really a huge concrete reservoir in which the water temporarily rests, is practically complete.

To speed up the laying of the concrete floor on the large reservoir a night gang has been working, and the floor is now finished and pouring the walls will be proceeded with. The reservoir measures 170 by 140 feet and will be 15 feet deep. The cement which is being used is waterproofed by mixing a special compound in it, the composition of which is carefully guarded by the company. This waterproofing adds considerably to the cost of laying, but ensures the absolute resistance of the cement to all action by the water, the contractors say.

Saving by Nearest of Pit.

As the gravel for the concrete is obtained within 100 yards of the work a great saving has been effected in time and cost, as was similarly experienced on the Hunter street bridge. A powerful crusher is operating across the road in the pit. Boulders and rocks of all sizes disappear in its gullet and reappear ground up in suitable sizes. The crusher has disturbed a whole colony of sand martins who lodged in the pit. The birds have transferred their headquarters to th bank of earth thrown up out of the reservoir, and over the heads of the workmen on the reserve the birds in hundreds are circling and setting up a din that almost drowns out the two cement mixers.

SAYS ACID STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION

Excess of hydrochloric acid sours the food and forms gases.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that Indigestion is caused by Hyper-acidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydro-chloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble wth excellent results.

SOUTH AMERICA A HAVEN FOR REDS

WHEN RUSSIA GETS TOO HOT LEADERS WILL GO THERE.

REVAL, Esthonl, June 30. — According to recently intercepted correspondence from Communist officials in Moscow to Communist agents abroad, advisi them of the "inside situation" in Russia, South America is looked upon as a final haven of refuge by many of the less hopeful Bolshevik leaders in event Russia becomes too hot for them.

One of these letters recently published in a Reval newspaper, the Posldnie Novosti, advises one of the official's friends, who now is apparently in Germany, to "convert your valuables into dollars as frequently as you can, or, better still, into South American currency."

"The Octobrists," the letter adds, meaning by them those Communists who participated in the October, 1917 revolution "are frequently sending their families abroad. Soon it may be I shall send my wife across to you, in which case try to put her up as best you can."

Referring to the political situation this Communist wrote: "Illitch — (meaning Lenine, that being his middle name by which he is popularly known in Russia) is weakening; Zinovieff has grown too fat. Trotzky alone remains as of old the unrecognized Napoleon, but he is 'evolutionizing' also."

In connection with the sending abroad of the families of the "Octrobrists," this letter goes on: "Will you kindly keep a detailed account of their arrivals and of their means? Further, by a decisoin of the military department of the party, I want you to withdraw from the banks all the deposits at your disposal and put them in safe hands. Bring to Switzerland one third of the 'iron fund' and hand it to B——. The rest can be left in Germany for any eventualities."

The writer constantly refers to the ruling councils of the Bolsheviki as "the Olympians,' and remarks that "our Olympus is going the pace too fast."

"From January," he says, "the situation in the council of the party and in the Central Committee, has come to a point to the last degree. The results of these conflicts was the expulsion of Comrades Krylenko Bontch-Bourovietch, Dubov, Blumenthal, and many others. This was the last gesture of the gay party gods. For a word said against Illitch, Krestinsky or Zinovieff, even not in public, ostracism is imminent."

Flower Girl—Can I offer you something for Madam, sir—?

Diner—No, thanks.

"Violets? A box of Bon Bons?"

"No."

"Oh, just a little rose!"

Diner — I said No, I meant No. Can't you see we're married?

SUMMER SEVERE TIME ON POULTRY.

Cleanliness Is Great Factor in Warm Weather.

At no time of the year does cleanliness count for more in the poultry business than when the warm weather commences. Fowls kept in closed, stifling sleeping quarters cannot be in a really healthy condition, or give very good returns. It would be much better to have the windows removed from the poultry house, to have them cleaned and stored away in some place where they could not be damaged until needed again, and pieces of wire netting put in place of the windows. This will keep out any vermin and at the same time allow more fresh air for the fowls. Many of the losses among adult fowls in the summer season are the result of unhealthy roosting quarters.

The poultry house should be thoroughly cleaned. Give the roosts a good coat of kerosene or some liquid lice killer, clean out the nests and burn the old nesting material, then give the nests a thorough whitewashing inside and out, leaving them to dry in the sun for a while. A thorough spraying with whitewash of the whole interior of the house will make the place more sanitary. If the floors are of earth, remove a few inches of the top soil and replace with some fresh sandy soil. If they are of wood or cement, scrape and sweep them clean, then wash with a fairly strong disinfecting solution. Sunshine, combined with fresh air, is one of the best germ destroyers we have, but it is possible to have too much sun for the fowls if some kind of shade is not provided in very warm weather, to be used when needed.

Colony houses scattered through an orchard make a very desirable place for fowls or growing chickens. Always provide plenty of pure drinking water in clean pans and keep it in a sheltered place, out of the sun. Be sure the adult birds are not too heavily fed, especially on corn or buckwheat or any of the fat-producing foods. Select the fowls that you do not intend to hold over for another breeding season and sell them early while the price is high and while they are in good condition, before they commence to moult.

The fowls which are to be kept over as breeders, and also growing chickens intended for stock birds, should be given liberal range.

Free range where there is an abundance of green food and animal food in the form of insects, worms, etc., to be had, is very essential to the best growth, health, vigor and vitality in stock intended for either breeding or laying purposes.

Prisoner—Your honor, I admit that I was exceeding the speed limit, but I was afraid of being late at court.

Judge—And what was your business at court?

Prisoner—I had to answer the charge of exceeding the speed limit.

RUSHING TRENTON FERTILIZER WORKS.

Extensive Premises Covering Two Hundred and Fifty-Five Acres.

TRENTON, June 30. — Good progress is being made at Trenton by the Chemical Products Ltd in building operations not only on the big steel structure for the Fertilizer plant, but activities are noticeable in every direction on the extensive premises which cover an area of 255 acres.

Phosphate rock is largely used in the manufacture of acid phisphate, used in fertilizers, thirty to thirty-five thousand tons will be required every year, as a hundred tons will be used daily. Until such times as the phosphate rock in this mineral section of Ontario is mined in paying quantities, the company will import phosphate rock of the small pebble variety from Florida and Trenton in barges, and with the construction of the wharves on the River Trent where the company is acquiring land now under lease from the government, it will be possible to unload the cargoes of rock at the plant.

This phosphate rock carries 70 per cent. of iron and this will be a by-product which will find a ready marget for the iron furnaces of Ontario.

MISCHIEVOUS LAD STARTED MOTOR AND MADE MUCH TROUBLE

HAMILTON, June 30.—A mischievous lad made a great deal of trouble and caused considerable damage on Ottawa street, outside the race track. Charlie Carver, 120 Gibson avenue, left his car parked on the street, giving instructions to a boy standing nearby to hold the key for the auto while he was away. Shortly afterward another lad is reported to have taken the key and started the car, with disastrous results. He ran into the rear of a car bearing license No. 47510, doing damage to the rear fenders, and then backed into the front of the Police Department Ford, damaging the radiator. The youngster made his getaway before he was noticed.

OSHAWA'S VETERAN TOWN CLERK DEAD

OSHAWA, June 30.—The funeral of Oshawa's veteran Town Clerk and Treasurer, Mr. Thomas Morris, aged 78, who passed away at ten o'clock in the morning of Tuesday last, took place this afternoon, Rev. George Yule of the Presbyterian Church officiating.

The late Mr. Morris had not been in the best of health for some time. His last visit to the Town Hall, where for over 40 years he had been a familiar figure, was on Christmas Day. He had worked steadily up until that time, laying down his pen that he had wielded so long in the public interest, only when through physical disability he could no longer use it.

A man who had been associated with Oshawa's municipal history for so many years and who devoted the greater part of his life in the town's service, his death is a community loss. He was appointed Town Clerk September 12th, 1898, holding the position for practically 37 years, the duties of Treasurer being added some years ago. He also served as Assessor and Collector and was for a number of years a member of the Town Council.

Voice of the People

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—What is the town side trying to do withe old village anyhow? Do you want to leave us without any business at all? We are surrounded by an open country. What's the matter with that? Anybody in Ashburnham can get to it in three minutes' walking. Parks are for places and people where the open country is far away. North Ashburnham is cut in two by a park now and the north part might as well be tacked on to Lakefield for all the good it does us. On the east the canal will stop our growth. On the south we have the septic tank and the railway. On the west vacancy and to bem ore vacancy, and the Bridge. If you want to buy anything buy the Swanston Hotel block and make a graveyard out of it. The village is like a funeral now, and instead of being humming with life and industry, it is getting worse and further away every day. Is the population increasing? It is not, and with all the parks shut up for eight months in the year, the villagers and the village might as well shut up. We have no leaders.

N. E. Ward.

WATERMAN'S Ideal Fountain Pen is the product of an organization that for the past thirty-six years has been making fountain pens exclusively. To-day the line of Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pens covers every proven advance in fountain pen construction.

It includes the regular and safety types of dropper filled and pump and lever filling devices of the self-filling types.

Being pioneers and recognized leaders of the industry, we are the natural market for inventors with ideas that in their judgment would improve our product.

No one is or has been keener to investigate these claims than we are, because it has been our intention from the first that if ever a better fountain pen than Waterman's Ideal was made we would make it.

It has happened and will happen again that fountain pens appear on the market with "talking point" devices that during our far greater experience we have already experimented with and found either impractical or inferior to devices of our own intended for the same purpose.

The man, woman, or child who buys Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen gets 100% fountain pen efficiency because every material, process or device included in it has been proven by the longest years of experience and experiment as unequaled for its purpose.

Back of every Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen is a world-wide service to assure its enduring satisfaction.

Letters To Father

The little boy who wrote these letters is now a man, and the father who kept them so safely all through the years has gone a long piece on the way from which no traveller returns. The letters, with many more like them, were found carefully tied together and are yellow with years. Just like the letters any little boy would write while on his vacation. A post card says: "I am thare all right and Ant Sooson wants me to sta longger and I wood lighk to sta longger to, good by." A letter dated Jan. 15, 1900, runs like this: 'Der Papa, I was sick on Monday and I did not go to sleep all last night, and I was at Gorden Armstrons on Friday, and I will be good when you come home, and will you bring me home some gold transfers. I got three exland marks for riting, and mamma ses shes very desapointed becos you are not coming home on Wednesday. Your little son, George, and thees are kises." (8 lines of X's.)

One written on Jan. 11, 1903, reads: "Dear father, I thought I would write you a few lines. Ever since you went away I have been sick with the grip. Sport was very frisky yesterday about 9 o'clock; lizy let him out, and just before he got out the side entrance he made for some kids going to school. O, but I mustn't foreget to tell you about Ensa. I had a little bird named Ensa. I opened the cage door and in flue Ensa. Mother had a very sore leg, but it is all right again. Tudy Lewis comes over ones and a while. We had great fun about 4 o'clock this morning; Sport came flying upstairs to my room, jumped on the bed and started licking my face, then I woke up, Sport gave me a slap with his paw and then jumped down. I am busy framing pictures for my room, but I always make such a mus I near ly get killed. The rink is all snow now so it look a box of baked beans. This old pen that I am writing with makes bout 100 blotes a minute. I must say good by as my hand is getting tired, so good by, from your loving son, George."

One to his aunt reads: "Deer Ant Mery and Fred, we have a nise garden and whee have letus, radishus, corn, patatos, qucombers, sweet pees. I want Fred to come down and go fishing and Ant Mery for do come down and stay for two mons and you will be as black as a niger, deer Ant Mery, and ask Osten to come down and fish to and we will have a good time. Give my love to Lil and grandma, Osten, Uncle Johen and all the frens, yor loving little nephew and cosen, George. Rite soon, let us no when Freds coming."

The Chinese usually open a conversation with "How old are you?" instead of "How do you do?"

Women Hard Where Logic Concerned

Dr. Robert Norwood, the eloquent speaker who charmed the Chautauqua audience on Tuesday evening last, remarked of women and the vote that it has been said that women will always vote for the man who wears their favorite brand of necktie, "but," he said, "men have discovered that this is not the case. Emotionally, a woman may be a seething volcano, but when it comes to a question of logic there is a hard core of ice in the centre of the flame."

HER TROUBLES OF THREE YEARS END

HAMILTON WOMAN IS DELIGHTED AT RESULTS SHE GOT FROM TANLAC—GAINED TEN POUNDS.

"It certainly beats anything how quickly the right medicine will get a person to feeling right," said Mrs. Susan Squires of 384 King William street east, Hamilton, Ont.

"For about three years I suffered so from stomach trouble I couldn't eat a meal without being in misery for hours afterwards. I had dreadful headaches, and at times a terrible pain caught me in the back of my neck and it hurt so bad I could hardly stand it. I was so nervous the least little noise would frighten me, and at nights I just lay awake for hours, and by morning felt so tired I could hardly get out of bed.

"But by the time I had finished my first bottle of Tanlac I hardly felt like the same woman, and now I am eating just fine and never have a touch of indigestion. I sleep like a log nights, wake up in the morning feeling good, without an ache or pain to trouble me. I've gained ten pounds in weight and am wonderfully strong and well in every way. My sister-in-law has taken Tanlac with good results, too, and we both feel thankful for our good health the medicine gave us."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by E. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowlers' Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

STRONG HOPES FOR SIR SAM'S RECOVERY.

Lindsay Post: Strong hopes are held for the recovery of General Sir Sam Hughes. He has successfully absorbed the last blood transfusion and is gaining every week. A consultation was held between Dr. McGibbon, of Bracebridge, and local physicians and reports show that the examination was entirely satisfactory.

When Men Wish To Appear As Impressive They Don Women's Attire, G.K. Chesterton Says

Mr. G. K. Chesterton says that when men wish to appear very dignified and impressive they don feminine attire, as lawyers, judges, priests, etc. Dr. Frederic Poole, the eminent traveller who lectured at the Dominion Chautauqua last week on 'China and the Chinese," appeared in the costume of a high official before the revolution; the straight shapeless skirt and heavily embroidered smock of the ancient Chinse pictures. Although the men of the old dispensation wore these womanish garments and cultivated long pigtails, they had little use for the gentler sex. A Chinaman, if asked as to the extent of his family, will answer that he has no children if they chance to be girls, and feminine babies are often strangled at birth, like so many useless kittens. Among the coolies the boys marry at the age of twelve, continuing with their education while the new girl-wife helps with the housework.

And the Chinese language, which is written in the picture form, is indicative of the male attitude of mind. The ancient sign for "man," which was exactly like a schoolboy's picture of the schoolmaster, with a four-pronged central figure surmounted by a round circle for a head, has been shortened in modern times to a vertical line with the legs only remaining. A horizontal bar thrust through this, as one might say, "I, number one," signifies "great," while two bars means "heaven." A square divided into four compartments is "rice field," and this sign, with the figure for "man" beside it, is "farmer." An open square means 'box," which, with a "man" inside, becomes "prisoner." The signs indicating "mouth," "man" and "rice field" spell "happiness," which has a significance plain enough to those who have been acquainted with famine for many centuries. A variation of the rectangle for "mouth" makes "woman," and if the character for "male child" be added, we have the word "good," another significant combination. The sign for "woman" being duplicated means "quarrel," while a triplication of it signifies "gossip." The characters for "roof" and 'pig" stand for the word "home," and if one adds "woman" to these two, one has the Chinese character for "marriage," a somewhat uncomplimentary reference to the men. But the "roof" and "woman" signs together signify "peace" or "tranquility," which someone has been unkind enough to point out is duesto the fact of there being only one "woman" beneath the "roof."

So the Chinese also can justly claim descent from Father Adam, he who started this dispute between the sexes so long ago.

Supervised Playgrounds Here Will Be Opened On Tuesday

Next Tuesday, July 5th, will see the official opening of the Supervised Playgrounds of Peterborough for the summer season of 1921. From nine to twelve and from two to five o'clock of any day many a weary mother in this warm season may leave the task of looking after and amusing her restless little brood to experienced hands and be perfectly content in the knowledge of their safety and well-being during this time. Supervision is the point emphasized on these grounds, and until the swimming schedule is completed, later on, two attendants will be on the grounds constantly. When the swimming season is arranged one supervisor goes with the swimmers and another stays on the grounds. As the yearly total usually reaches between 1,3000 and 1,400 on the four grounds equipped for this purpose, some idea may be arrived at of the amount of good rendered both mothers and children by the Supervised Playgrounds. Here the younger element may revel in the sand-boxes, the "giant stride," slides and hand-ball, while swings, teeters, basketball, volley and baseball contribute their quota to the enjoyment of the older children. The serious-minded may indulge in raffia work, basket weaving, knitting, sewing, cross-stitch on canvas—different branches of easy and interesting industrial work in open-air surroundings.

Supervisors for the different grounds are as follows:

Queen Mary—Mr. McMackon and Miss Nelson. Miss Nelson is commencing her third season in Peterborough playground work and Mr. McMackon his second. Both have given excellent service in the work. Mr. McMackon being very popular on Central grounds last year, where he proved himself a promising young-play director.

King Edward—Mr. Ingram and Miss Walsh, both new to Peterborough playgrounds work. Miss Walsh is a local young lady, a member of the teaching profession.

Queen Alexandra—Mrs. Staunton.

Central—Mr. Davis and Miss Stanton. Mr. Davis comes highly recommended from Toronto, where he has been connected with Y. M. C. A. work, and was a leader in the athletic and play life of the community in which he labored.

One Mother Dies To Every 135 Born In United States

In the United States in 1919 one mother died for every 135 babies born and every eleventh baby died before it was a year old. This is a record which reflects upon our boasted civilization, for six countries are shown to have a lower infant mortality and 16 out of a group of 17 a lower maternal mortality than the United States, which loses more mothers in proportion to births than practically any other civilized country and apparently loses more on an average each year than the year before. The death rate from childbirth rose from 6.1 per 1,000 births in 1915 to 6.2 in 1916, 6.6 in 1917 and to 7.4 in 1919.

Experience has proved that thousands of deaths of both mothers and children could be prevented every year by public measures for their protection. In New York City among 4,466 mothers who were supervised by the New York Maternity Centre Association before and after the birth of their babies, the maternal mortality rate of the United States and the rate for deaths in early infancy was less than half that for the whole of the city. In other cities of the United States and in foreign countries the institution of infant welfare measures has been followed by greatly decreased rates.

Measures which are instrumental in preventing this waste of life are as follows: Prompt and accurate birth registration, health centres, public health nurses, special clinics, trained attendance at childbirth, adequate hospital service, education of the mother in maternity and child hygiene and education of the general public in the significance of and necessity for maternal and infant health.—Extract.

Over his keys the musing organist,
Beginning doubtfully and far away,
First lets his fingers wander as they list,
Then builds a bridge from dreamland for his lay.

Not only around our infancy
Doth heaven with all its splendors lie;
Daily, with souls that cringe and plot,
We Sinais climb and know it not.

Knitting And World Events

Is there something psychological that connects knitting with great world upheavals? It would seem that this occupation would be an essentially peaceful one, for there is nothing more homey or comfortable-looking than one of the old pictures of the old-style grandmothers knitting before an open grate fire, with the cat dozing on the hearth rug. But the knitting women of the French Revolution who recorded in a scarlet design the dropping of aristocratic heads in the gory guillotine basket have been immortalized forever by Charles Dickens, and the great World War brought forth a perfect furore of knitting. Women knitted on street cars, in church, at the theatres, when they went visiting on Sunday they took the clicking needles along and worked away, and one who didn't knit was neither fashionable nor patriotic in those days. After the grey socks, which took some strange shapes and forms, had been discarded as no longer necessary, sweaters came in, and young ladies vied with one another to produce a record number of pink and yellow and blue fluffy hug-me-tights and similar warm comforts. But the knitting needles are silent now. They have disappeared from social gatherings, and no longer is the conversation monopolized by the proper shaping of a heel or the latst idea in pullover sleevs. Those who are in a position to know say the home knitting craze has waned in a startlingly rapid manner and knitting no longer appeals.

FREQUENT HEADACHES

A SURE SIGN THE BLOOD IS WATERY AND IMPURE.

People with thin blood are more subject to headaches than full-blooded persons and the form of anaemia that afflicts growing girls is almost always accompanied by headaches, together with disturbances of the digestive organs.

Whenever you have constant or recurring headaches and pallor of the face, they show that the blood is thin and your efforts should be directed toward building up your blood. A fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do this and the rich, red blood made by these Pills banishes the headache.

More disturbances to the health are caused by their blood than most people have any idea of. When your blood is impoverished, the nerves suffer from lack of nourishment, and you may be troubled with insomnia, neuritis, neuralgia or sciatica. Muscles subject to strain are undernourished and you may have muscular rheumatism or lumbago. If your blood is thin and you begin to show symptoms of any of these disorders, try building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as the blood is restored to its normal condition the trouble will disappear. There are many people who owe their present state of good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and most of them do not hesitate to say so.

If you are suffering from any condition due to poor, watery blood, or weak nerves, begin taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills now, and note how your strength and health will improve. You can get these Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Catholic Women Contributing To Affair's Success

The arrangements for the 1st of July excursion under the auspices of the Holy Name Society, which takes place to the T. A. S. Park to-morrow, have been looked after by a committee of energetic workers of both sexes, and the Catholic Women's League is going to have a great deal to do with making the affair an entire success. A slight departure from the custom of other years has been taken in the request to all comers to bring their own baskets, but all sorts of light refreshments will be supplied on the grounds. Mrs. Jas. V. Callivan and Mrs. Jas. O'Brien are looking after the supply of sandwiches, pies, doughnuts, cake and coffee, assisted by Messrs. J. Kelly and John Hanrahan; Mrs. Levendre is convenor of the booth dispensing soft drinks, fruit and ice creams, with Messrs. G. H. Giroux and W. Gallagher, and Miss M. O'Connell, assisted by Miss M. Heffernan and Mr. A. Doherty, will sell cigarettes, chocolate bars, candy and chewing gum.

A game of baseball has been arranged, with races for children under 5 years of age and from 10 to 12 years of age. An orchestra has been engaged for dancing—the Harmony Players—and Miss Margaret McCabe has been invited to assist with this part of the programme. A well-waxed floor is promised, the dance hall to be under the direction of Mr. T. Turcotte.

Mr. Dannie Simmons and Mr. Jack Primeau have consented to give performances for this occasion and should prove drawing cards. There will be swings for the children and rides in a pony cart, and the "little horses" will gallop their mad way around the small stationary track. Arrangements have been made for lighting the grounds and for the demonstration of an electric dish-washer. Special precautions will be taken for the safety of the arriving and departing crowds, with part of the wharf roped off. Altogether, this occasion promises to be one of the most enjoyable in the long list of successful T. A. S. picnics, and everyone, both young or old, will have a good time.

RAILWAYS TO HILL TOWNS

In Inaccessible Alps Planned.

ROME, June 30. — Hill towns of Italy which dot the landscape from north to south and have been the subject of writers and painters for centuries are threatened with an invasion of modern mechanical contrivances which will rob them of their aged romance and unspoiled picturesqueness.

The hill towns are relics of the old feudal system. The lord of the manor built his castle upon a hill and the whole of his vassals clustered their habitations about him. The position on almost inaccessible heights was sought for safety from invading neighbors. These towns dotting the hills stand to-day almost untouched by the centuries. The walls of the houses are thick and strong. Food has been hauled up to the hills by hand labor and horses since they were built. Women carried on their heads the water and other household necessities.

The plan now is to build Alpine railways from the plains to the hills as labor-saving devices. The perfect Alpine cable lines which the Italian army built over the Alps during the war are being sought for the work. Already a number of the towns have applied to the ministry for the discarded Alpine cables, so that they can be erected for the towns.

HINTS TO HOUSEWIVES.

Scallop shrimps just as you would oysters.

Lima beans are excellent served with tomato sauce.

Add coffee or tea instead of water to stove polish; it makes the stove shine better.

Used with warm water as a mouth wash, soda heals and hardens sore and inflamed gums.

Your omelet will not fall if, when beating it up you add a pinch of baking powder about the size of a pea.

For cleaning diamond-paned windows the sash brush is dipped in ammonia water and forced into the corners to get out the dirt, a dry brush of the same shape being used for polishing.

When loosening a cake from the centre tube of cake pan use a steel knitting needle of fair size. This will move around the tube easily and not crowd or cut centre of cake as a knife is liable to do.

When cooking the fish lay it on a greased baking sheet that will fit in the baking pan. tOherwise it will be hard to remove from the pan intact. Serve the fish whole, garnished with slices of lemon and parsley or cress.

Whichever you choose it will be the BEST you ever tasted.

SOMEBODY'S SISTER

(By BYRON STAUFFER)

In our old school reader was a poem entitled "Somebody's Mother." It told of an old woman helped across the busy slippery street by a bright laddie who returned to the merry group of his fellows to say:
"She's somebody's mother, boys, you know,
For all she is aged and poor and slow."

I wish a rhyme could be given us on "Somebody's Sister", to stir the noblest imaginations of our youths and elevate their demeanor toward every young woman they meet.

Somebody's sister waits on you in the restaurant, my boy. She comes from a home with parents in its memories. Hers may be a humbler circle than your sister knows, but to her brother she is just as precious as the maiden who will greet you at dinner to-night is to you.

Somebody's sister is the chamber-maid at the hotel that sheltered you last night. She has the meanest task in the house, and usually does it well Too often she is forgotten, except when rude gibes are passed. Women travelers can acquire no more Christ like habit than that of encouraging the girl who makes the beds.

Somebody's sister clicks the type writer in your office young man. The angel of your home does not need to call forth the heroism that the stenographer exercises every morning as she prepares for her daily bread-winning feat. I knew a young woman whose father's sudden death compelled her to leave her piano and painting lessons in order to qualify as a stenographer. Her swift fingers soon supported her frail mother and two little sisters.

By and by, the young fellow in the next office cutivated her acquaintance. One day, when he thought matters were ripe, he motored her out to see a lot his rich father had given him. After some effort, he succeeded in explaining that, if she'd have him, he put up a nice bungalow in the autumn. She took the proposition home with her, balanced it with her duty to her three charges and after a half day's crying, declined it and cheerily went back to her work. You can afford to tip your hat to the stenographer, my son. Treat her with respect.

Somebody's sister is behind the counter where you buy your box of candy. There are but one or two lives, or perhaps merely one or two reverses, between your sister and such a position. A funeral or a failure might put her there any day. And the candy counter girl is likely just as sensitive and of as fine a fibre as your sister is. Bestow the same courtesy upon her which you would want to be shown the girl you guard so jealously.

Somebody's sister is walking by the street corner where you and your chums are congregating to-night. You are feeling merry, with a bit of loose change in your pocket and the day's work over. But remember, the next young woman to happen along may be your sister or your sweetheart. Treat the one as you would have your chums treat your own.

WHAT IS WOMAN'S WORK

Decidedly "woman's sphere" has been struck by an earthquake and absolutely destroyed. Every day women find that women are competent for new duties. The fixed, forbidding rule of other days—"Thus far shalt thou go and no further,"—is brushed aside, and the whole, glorious world with all its delights and unbelievable beauties, beckons women on and on.

Women without domestic ties went first; then married women without children and widows, followed those who had hacked and hewed a narrow path. They all found they had a head for business. They all understood how to grasp details, because woman's work, for centuries, has been a thing of minutiae. Think of what every home woman has to have in mind daily—baking, washing, ironing, sewing, buying, nursing—trades, all of these yet every one must be well understood by the home woman. Then, beside, there are the little duties like scrubbing, dishwashing, scouring, dusting, stove-blacking, mending and a thousand oth-when our men were called to national service, they left behind them an army of skilled workwomen.

Women are skilled because they must always be ready to do the next thing. Any woman who has a thorough understanding of good housekeeping—who can do her home work well—is a success. Such women are ready to go into the world to do work. How longingly she looks back to the days when she was sheltered in her home, her employers will never know. How she keeps the home fires burning still, in spite of being away from them eight hours a day, is a surprise even to herself. Yes, "a woman's place is in the home"—but it is not her only place.

Every girl should be taught the trade of housekeeping so that she may know how to look after her own home; but what use is this trade, if she never has a home to keep? It is a melancholy fact that women have appetites; they get as hungry as men. And so the girl should be given a trade, as well as the boy. It is far more serious for girls to be left alone in the world without means for self-support, than for boys to be so stranded. Doctor Talmadge was one of the first public leaders to urge parents to teach their girls business habits. He said, "I would rather see my daughters safe in their caskets, than alone in the world without business training."

Schools now teach manual training and domestic arts to boys and girls as a matter of course. Boys take the cooking course, sometimes, and many girls are found in the classes of metal working and carpentry. The bars are down; the road is open to all. Women's life, once the dishes are washed and the house in order, is no longer a perpetual holiday. Housekeeping is easier, but life is broader, fuller and happier because we know that 100 cents make a dollar, and how to say "no" and mean it, and how to say "yes" and stick to it. We dress, now, for health and comfort, and fit our incomes to our needs, nad we are just as womanly and lovable as we ever were, even if our sphere is the same as man's.

WHAT CAUSES GAS ON THE STOMACH

It is caused by fermenting, sour, waste matter in the intestines. This old, foul matter should be thoroughly cleaned out with simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka. This acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing old accumulated matter you never thought was in your system. Adler-i-ka relieves ANY CASE gas on the stomach. EXCELLENT for sour stomach and chronic constipation. Guards against appendicitis. McDermid and Jury and E. L. Payne, druggists.

WAR MEDALS FOR EX-SERVICE MEN.

Those Who Are Entitled to Receive Them—Applications Must Be Filed With Department.

During the discussion on service medals at the recent convention in Hamilton of the G.A.U.V., none of the delegates could say for sure who was entitled to this medal. The British war medal is issued to all ranks who rendered approved service overseas: that is, who proceeded from their place on enlistment across water other than the waters dividing the islands of Great Britain and the Channel islands, between August, 1914, and midnight, Nov. 11, 1918. Conducting duty and tours of instruction duty do qualify for this medal. This means that any soldier of the C. E. F. who proceeded overseas from Canada between the foregoing dates will receive this medal. It is also awarded for service in Bermuda and St. Lucia and Siberia.

Victory Medal.

The victory medal is issued to all ranks who served on the establishment of an authorized unit in a theater of war between Aug. 4, 1914, and midnight Nov. 11, 1918. Conducting duty and tours of inspection do not qualify for this medal. A person who traveled on a hospital ship during the war, as a passenger, will not receive it, but a member of the staff of a hospital ship is qualified providing the ship traveled to and from a theater of war. There has been a good deal of argument over the definition "theater of war;" therefore, for the purpose of deciding who is and who is not eligible for the medals in question the term is defined to a detail in a long memorandum in the hands of the military officials. This memorandum is the final arbiter on all disputes over any particular theater of war.

All those who consider they are entitled to one or both of these medals should get an application card from the nearest Post Office, fill it in and mail it to the Director of Records, Militia Headquarters, Ottawa.

In connection with those who served with the forces in Canada, at Niagara Falls, Welland Canal, internment camps and other places, it has not yet been decided whether anyone who enlisted in the C. E. F. will be given a medal by the Government of Canada, but it has been definitely settled who are to be issued with the 1914-15 star, the British war medal and the victory medal. It has likewise been finally determined by regulations drafted by the same power to whom the memorial plaque and scroll and the King's certificate on discharge are to be awarded.

NOMINATES TAFT AS CHIEF JUSTICE

WASHINGTON, June 30 (Canadian Press).—President Harding today will send to the Senate the nomination of former President William Howard Taft to be Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

This was indicated last night by the Administration leader.

The President, it is understood, will appoint Mr. Taft, with the expectation of having the nomination confirmed by the Senate before that body takes its proposed recess.

BRUTAL ASSAULT ON OSHAWA CONSTABLE.

OSHAWA, June 30.—When Lake Constable W. Culling went to investigate a complaint by two Lakeview Park ladies that a number of young men in the park were using foul language and gambling, he was suddenly attacked from the rear with some instrument which the constable could not detect. The weapon struck his hand with such violence that the third finger of the left hand was badly smashed and the fourth and fifth fingers dislocated.

Constable Culling was forced to give up the chase and hasten for medical aid, but was eventually forced to go to the hospital, where he remained for the night.

His assailants have not been identified.

LEAGUE PROVING TO BE EXPENSIVE

USE OF ENGLISH AND FRENCH AND H. C. OF L BIG FACTORS.

GENEVA, Switzerland, June 30.—Obligatory use of two languages, French and English, in all its transactions, and the high cost of living at the headquarters in Geneva are given by the special committee investigating the workings of the League of Nations as an explanation of what has been considered in some quarters as the excessive cost af the organization fi. The expense for last year, as already reported, was about $4,150,000.

"There can be no doubt," says the committee's report, "that, rightly or wrongly, the League of Nations has the reputation of costing too much." The report then goes on to explain how the complexity, diversity and novelty of the work undertaken necessarily cost heavily, particularly since it is in the hands of a comparatively young institution that lacks experience.

The dual language of the League requiring translation and duplicate publication of all documents alone accounts for one- third of the entire expense, the report says, then points out that the location of the headquarters of the League in Geneva accounts for a good deal of the excessive outlay.

"Since the main purpose of the Commission of Inquiry is to suggest every form of economy", the report says, "it feels bound to point out that, at the moment, Geneva is—and so far as it is possible to foresee will re main —a city in which the cost of living is comparatively higher than in almost any city in Europe and where the rate of exchange is, at the moment of writing, the most disadvantageous for the great majoriy of states members of the League."

The report suggests that were the League headquarters located at Brussels, Fontainebleau Turin or Vienna, or almost anywhere else, an immediate economy would be effected that would be appreciated by all members of the League and particularly by those whose exchange is de preciated.

HOW IS YOUR HAY FEVER PROGRESSING?

Mixture of Red-top, Ragweed Pollen a Favorite Hypodermic Injection—Horses, Cats May Make Folk Ill.

That summer fiend, hay fever, has already claimed some victims, and ere long, many in this city will, in varying degrees of discomfort, be sneezing and choking, the while they view the world through red, tearful eyes. But hay fever is fast losing its terrors. The comparatively new treatment of inoculating the sufferer against it is making steady progress, and those who take a course of doses of a liquid manufactured from the pollen of the grasses or weeds or trees to which they are sensitive, frequently overcome their susceptibility. Red-top—that grass which to-day carries a reddish tassel of seeds—common field daisy ragwood — the plant with the bamboo-like central stem surrounded with shoots resembling asparagus tops—golden rod and scores of other weeds, plants and trees, contain in their pollen, some substance which causes hay fever in certain people. To some pollens the victims are quite immune, others affect them immediately.

Pollen Soaked in Water and Injected.

A German doctor with a Scotch name was first in the field with a pollen-made antidote for hay fever. He made his discovery some eight years ago. To-day in Toronto and all over this continent, the manufacture of hay fever dope from various pollens is proceeding apace. The process of manufacture is, roughly, to soak the pollen from any particular plant or tree in sterilized water. The resulting liquid impregnated with the injurious protein from that plant is the medicine to be administered. With a lengthy list of pollen thus treated, and ready for use, the next thing is to determine which plant or plants are causing the patient's malady. The doctor accordingly takes his scalpel, and on a carefully sterilized portion of the patient's arms, makes a series of faint scratches, so faint that they do not actually perforate the skin. He may make even twenty of these semi-abrasions. To each he then applies a separate pollen extract — thus testing the patient with twenty different pollens.

Some Wonderful Cures.

In two minutes' time a bright red spot will have appeared around the scratches inoculated with the species of weed to which the patient is susceptible, while no effect will have been made upon the other scratches. It may be one weed only that affects the sufferer, but it is frequently a combination of several. If the latter be the case, the doctor makes a mixture of the offending pollen extracts, and starting with an infinitely small dose, gives the patient a series of eight or twelve doses, increasing in intensity over a period of three or four weeks. In many cases this proves an absolute cure. Just why the proteins in these various plants should set up hay fever in different people the medical profession cannot yet determine, though some complicated theories have been advanced.

"Hay" Fever From Cats, Horses.

Strange still is the coryza, akin to hay fever, which some people suffer by being exposed to the presence of horses, or perhaps rabbits or cats. Victims to the presence of these animals are cured almost literally by that curiously prophetic old wizard formula of "taking a hair of the dog that bit them." This old superstition, uttered by a fakir long before the days of modern medicine, has in a way been verified in the light of present day science. For those so afflicted by these animals are cured by inoculation made by steeping the hair and dander from the skins of the offending animal is sterilized water and injecting hypodermically.

Cotton-wood Fluff Got the Professor.

Last summer visiting Edmonton on the tour of the Medical Association, a well-known professor at Toronto University was told by a professor friend in the college at that northern city a curious tale of hay fever. Several members of the staff had been suffering, but apparently they were not susceptible to any of the common weeds thereatbout from which solutions had been prepared. Noticing one evening the masses of cotton-wood fluff under a clump of little poplars on the campus, the professor gathered up a specimen intending to test it. Next morning he who had never been subject to hay fever, awoke with all the symptoms. A test of the cotton-wood fluff revealed it as the cause not only of the professor's illness, but that of all the other hay fever sufferers thereabout.

A Hay Fever Association.

Doctors administering hay fever anti-toxins endeavor to do so in advance of the ripening date of the particular weeds to which the patient is sensitive. And carefully noted tabulations of these ripening dates are kept. Over in the United States, where hay fever claims its victims by the tens of thousand, they have what is known as the American Hay Fever Association, a society which makes a careful collection of all data connected with the malady and which can supply information regarding localities in all the states and provinces where sufferers may go to escape the summer plague.

Hay fever inoculations frequently only render the patient immune for one year and have to be repeated next season.

BUSINESS IS BUSINESS.

BELLEVILLE, June 30.—Speaking to the three lodges of A.F. & A. M. here on St. John's day, Rev. Bro. D. C. Ramsay said:

"Business must be plain every day business in dollars and cents. The man who continually sells at or below cost is not a public benefactor, he is much more likely to become a public charge. A man must be good-headed as well as goodhearted."

A Store, Like a Ship, Must Ride on an Even Keel

If she lists badly to one side or the other, to fore or aft, she will not weather a gale very well.

Over twenty-one years ago this business was launched, and then, as now, great care was taken to have the cargo well balanced.

We realized early that a store with too much of this and too little of that would soon capsize on the business seas.

In this store there is plenty of suitable merchandise at all prices.

The Cressman Co. Ltd.

Women's $5.50 Porch and House Dresses, $3.50

The most important question to ask about a Cotton Dress is: "Will it wash?" We do not hesitate to say: "These will." POTATO SPRAYING

Spray before late blight appears. Once blight has appeared spraying is of no value. Sraying once is almost as useless as not spraying at all.

Spray five times, commencing the middle of July; repeat end of July, middle of August, end of August and middle of September.

Spray before rainy periods; once the spray mixture has thoroughly dried on the leaves it will not wash off.

Spray from the tops down and from below up. Use good pressure, cover the whole plant. Half spraying will not pay; don't waste your time and money proving it; the experimental farms have already proved it.

Spraying pays a dividend every year. It increases the yield. It prevents storage rot. Late blight reduced the crop on the average during a five year period by 130 1-2 bushels per acre. Late blight caused a loss of 21.3 per cent. of the crop from digging time to the following April. You may—the country cannot afford to do without spraying. Do your duty.

Don't try spraying your potatoes with lime sulphur; it is worse than useless.

Home made bordeaux beats factory made Bordeaux.

The standard bordeaux mixture is made by using four pounds to six pounds bluestone, four pounds lime, to 40 imperial gallons of water. (To control the potato beetle, add to each 40 gallons of bordeaux mixture eight ounces of Paris green and one and a half pounds arsenate of lead paste.) Ask for directions how to prepare bordeaux mixture.

Hand-spraying an acre (four applications) costs from $3 to $4 per acre; spraying with one-cylinder pump costs $3.50 per acre; while spraying with a two cylinder horse pump costs $6.50 per acre. The best sprayer to use is the one that gives rigid construction and lacks unnecessary complications.

RANEY ADVISES TO LIFT PRICES BY ORGANIZING

SAYS FARMERS MUST AND HAVE THE RIGHT TO ORGANIZE TO MAINTAIN PRICES, AND THUS WAGES.

SAYS FARM PRODUCE IS THIRD OF 1920 PRICE

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

MOUNT FOREST, June 30.—The Hon. W. E. Raney, Attorney-General, told the farmers assembled at the U.F.O. picnic here that the farmers had a right to organise to maintain prices. A year ago to-day the prices, he said, were very high, and to-day they are low. The price of things that the farmer has to sell is only one-third of what it was one year ago, and the price of the things that he had to buy was not much lower.

"It is organisation and organisation we want to keep up the wages. We want the farmers to have an organisation. We want to keep up the wages. We want the farmr to have an organisation, and along with the farmers we want their wives to make an organisation and educate the young farmers.

"We must keep the wages up to do this. We must have an organisation. The farmers are not specially organised. To-day you are called together—to-morrow you will be scattered about, and when you think of to-day, just remember, every one of you, to do some work, no matter what kind of work it is you are doing, to help organise a U. F. O.

CROP REPORT

Following is a brief synopsis of telegraphic reports of crop conditions in Canada, furnished by Bank of Montreal branch managers from every province in the Dominion.

Prairie Provinces

Edmonton District — Conditions very favorable, sufficient moisture and no damage of any kind reported Calgary District—Crop making excellent progress. Considerable danger from grass hoppers in some parts, but these are being combatted. Lethbridge District—Conditions excellent south and east "on Stirling "Weyburn Line". Elsewhere rain needed. Damage by cutworms at Lomond, Retlaw, Bow Island and Fore most. Unfavorable report from Retlaw and Sundial. Regina District—All grains making strong growth under ideal conditions. Grass-hoppers in south, but no damage and precautions taken. Saskatoon District—Wheat uniformly good. All grains growing rapidly with indication heavy wheat and oat crop. Winnipeg District—Conditions continue excellent. Generous rains and prospects good.

Province of Quebec.

Reports generally indicate that while recent rains have greatly improved growing crops, more moisture is badly needed. Hay prospects poor. Indications pointing to a fifty per cent. crop. Grass pasture sorely in need of rain. Fruit prospects only fair.

Province of Ontario

Weather conditions this month have been very favorable to growing crops, which, as a whole will have made excellent progress and the general outlook is most favorable. Recent rains have been very beneficial. Fall wheat is headed out in some districts, average crop expected. Other grains satisfactory. Roots of all kinds doing well. Small fruits plentiful. Other fruits promise good yield. Hay is light in places but fair yield is assured. Cutting now in operation. Tobacco growing conditions excellent.

Maritime Provinces

Lack of rain has retarded crops in all districts and rain is needed in practically all sections. Hay is expected to be light. Fruit prospects continue fairly favorable. In Prince Edward Island general conditions are good. A fair hay crop is expected. Grass pasture improving owing to recent rain.

Province of British Columbia

Weather continues favorable with heavy rains more or less general. Field crops very satisfactory. Hay particularly heavy in all districts. Roots progressing favorably. With acreage below average eighty per cent. yield predicted. Tomatoes and vegetables looking well. Tree fruits are passing through heavy June drop but reports from Okanagan estimate apples and pears will equal crop of 1919. Stone fruits not as heavy as early set indicated. Berries abundant. Cherries below average. Pasturage excellent.

HEAVY DAMAGE BY HAIL IN FEW DAYS IN SASKATCHEWAN

REGINA, June 30. — (Canadian Press.)—Local hail insurance officers have received claims during the past few days from nine districts, mostly in the south-western part of the province. The claims have been filed from Jasmin, Perdue, Swift Current, Griffin Young, Seamans, Yorkton, Asquib and Lemsford. Farmers in these districts claim their crops have been damaged anywhere from 50 to 75 per cent. by hail in the past few days.

EXCHANGE PAY IN ENGLISH MONEY AT PAR AS PREVIOUSLY

OTTAWA, Ont., June 30.—(Canadian Press.) — Militia Department will still continue to exchange at par, pay and allowances received by soldiers in English currency, although conditions surrounding the privilege have been made much more stringent. It was considered that it would have been unfair to soldiers who might still be paid in English money to cancel the privilege, Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, said.

BED BUG POISON

There are dozens of preparations recommended to destroy bed bugs. But the preparation that gives the will soon wipe out the pest. It is composed of Corrosive Sublimate, methyl-hydrate, and carbolic acid, and as it is very poisonous it should be kept out of the reach of children.

TERMS AMERICA THE HAPPY HUNTING GROUND FOR DIVORCE IN DEBATE.

LONDON, June 30.—America was described as "the happy hunting ground of divorce" and "the home of divorces," by the Rev. A. V. Magee, vicar of St. Mark's Church, London, during a discussion by the London Diocesan Conference just ended. A resolution was adopted pledging the conference "to adhere to the principle of the indissolubility of Christian marriage."

The Rev. Mr. Magee denounced Lord Buckmaster's bill in Parliament for divorce reform, saying it could adequately be described in two titles, "Divorce While You Wait" and "Marriage on Trial For Six Months."

An amendment to the resolution tha the conference should pledge itself to adhere "to the teaching of Jesus Christ concerning marriage" was lost.

A lot of misguided individuals are trying to close up the race tracks by winning all the bookmakers' money.

Trouble hates a man who is always smiling.

WHAT TO DO ON THE HOLIDAY

There is no dearth of attractions for Dominion Day in Peterborough, in spite of the fact that there is no attraction scheduled for the Exhibition Grounds as there has generally been in the past. It should not be hard for citizens to decide what to do to-morrow—undoubtedly most of them have already figured on how they will spend the Dominion's brthday.

There are many citizens who will want to get away from the city, and the trains to-day and to-morrow morning will carry hundreds to spend the holiday, and likely the week-end, with friends or relatives out of town.

Those fortunate ones who have summer cottages at the Lakes will, it is a safe bet, fill them on Dominion Day, if at all possible, and there will be many camping parties down the river, at Rice Lake, and up the Lakes, availing themselves of the brief respite from the humdrum of everyday life.

Excursion to Stoney Lake.

An excursion to Stoney Lake will leave George Street Wharf at eight o'clock, and it is expected that the Stoney Lake will be crowded to capacity. Meals will be served on board, there will be a refreshment booth, and music for dancing. This is a popular trip that never grows old, and there will be many families avail themselves of this pleasant way of spending the holiday.

Holy Name Society Picnic.

Probably St. Peter's Holy Name Society annual picnic at T.A.S. Park will attract more people than any other single event on 1st July. The picnic has always been largely attended, and it is not expected that it will fall down in the matter of attendance this year. Beginning at 10 a.m., boats will leave the Street Railway Wharf. A fine programme of sports, music, and dancing has been arranged, and everythng is set for a bumper crowd.

Motor Trips.

Those who want to get out in the open to-morrow, but do not want to go near the water, will motor far afield. Burners of "gas" will take their families or friends and go for a merry spin far away over country roads, stopping at some quiet nook for their basket luncheon, or as guests at one of the many country hostels where good cooking is the rule.

Peterborough should contribute a good many to the motorists who will roll up the dust on Hon. Biggs' roads to-morrow.

Big Baseball Bill.

Baseball fans can all tell you how they will spend Dominion Day. Two good ball games are scheduled for Riverside Park to-morrow. Cobourg will play Peterborough at 10 a.m., and Toronto Hillcrests, Peterborough's old contenders, will meet the locals again in the afternoon.

Crowded stands and packed grounds will contain that section of the city who will back a ball game against any counter-attraction.

The Moving Picture Houses.

Attractive bills are at each of the local movie houses to-morrow, and the cool interior of the theatres should attract a large number of people who want to spend an afternoon or evening, but do not want to go to a lot of bother to be amused or entertained.

MAJORITY SLUMPS FROM OVER 70 TO 18.

Further Reverses for Meighen will Mean Early Election.

OTTAWA, June 30. — The Union Government came into power in 1917 Tennessee. This will be brought to 71. To-day the standing of the parties in the House is as follows:

Government, 124; Liberals, 83; Progressives, 17; Independents, 6; Vacancies, 5. The Opposition totals 106. The Government's majority is therefore only 18, with five bye-elections to be held. A loss in any one with the very substantial majority of a reduction of two in the government's majority. It will be evident, therefore, in view especially of the very considerable number of sick men in the government ranks that a of these, but Maple Creek will mean sult in connection with any number of the contracts pending will conceivably force an early general election.

MEIGHEN GOING TO FRANCE ON SUNDAY

TO TAKE PART IN UNVEILING OF GREAT WAR CROSS.

LONDON, June 30. — Canadian Press. Premier Meighen has accepted the invitation of the Imperial War Graves Commission to go to France during the week end and take part on Sunday in ceremonies in connection with the unveiling of the great War Cross erected in one of the Vimy cemeteries, near Arras, in memory of many Canadians who fell in the fighting there during April, 1917.

LABOR BILL HIGH ON SOME FARMS.

Intensive Farming Calls For Plenty of Help — Farmer Must Be Alert to Hold Down Expenses.

In the great majority of agricultural undertakings, labor is the costly or money-consuming factor. The more intensive the work in production of food crops the greater the expenditure of labor expenditures, then all well and good; expend all labor within reason, or whatever the selling price of the product warrants. However, special conditions that justify heavy labor expenditures are usually confined to districts where there is an unlimited market for luxury food crops. But the ordinary food crops, that are most commonly grown in farm practice have not a selling value sufficiently high to permit of a labor expenditure equal to more than 50 per cent. of the selling price of the product. With selling prices for food products too frequently on the decline, with labor charges and general overhead charges comparatively steady, the prospect of profit is not always encouraging. Where selling prices vary as much as 600 per cent. in one year, for certain commodities, those who are forced to sell at the lower level are not likely to receive sufficient for their produce to pay the labor bill.

With little or no control on the price at which a food product must sell from the farm, the adjustment of the labor cost of operation is apparently the most likely way to obtain relief. The intelligent use of crop rotations in farm practice, more extensive use of properly developed meadows and pastures, more grazing by live stock, more extensive use of farm machinery, proper use of every field, fewer and larger fields and permanent crops where possible, are some of the ways that will lead to reduction in labor costs.

BYNG UNVEILS WAR MEMORIAL

HAS BEEN INVITED TO NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, WHERE CLOCK TOWER TO BE ERECTED.

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, Ont., June 30.—(Special Despatch to The Examiner). — Lord Byng, the new Governor-General of Canada, will unveil the memorial clock tower now being erected here opposite the historic town hall in memory of the Niagara men who fought and fell in the world war. Mayor Musson said last night an invitation had been sent to Lord Byng to come to Niagara during his visit to Toronto to open the Exposition.

The memorial clock will be finished long before that time, it is expected. It will stand 32 feet high and will be an exact replica of the celebrated Campanile of Venice, one of the world's art treasures.

The clock, which was made in England, is now on its way here. The dial will be four feet wide, and in striking the clock will connect with the bell in the Town Hall tower, which has rung for nearly a century. At night the clock will be illuminated.

The clock tower base is of Queenston stone, the brickwork of tapestry brick.

The names of Niagara soldiers who served in the war, as well as the heroes who fell, will be engraved on the clock tower.

It is the first clock tower to be erected in Canada, and is costing about $10,000.

MISGIVINGS AS TO U.S. TARIFF

SIR HENRY DRAYTON, THOUGH, SAYS "THERE IS A WAY OUT".

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

OTTAWA, Ont., June 30.—Official Ottawa views with considerable misgiving the new permanent United States tariff bill, an outline of which has been made public to-day. Until, however, the Minister of Finance and his experts have had an opportunity for a thorough analysis of the measure no official staement as to proposals for the overcoming of the disabilities to Canadian trade which will result will be forthcoming. While admitting that the effect on Canadian trade might be far-reaching, Sir Henry Drayton expresses the hope that "there is a way out.'

Canadian products most seriously affected, include wheat and wheat products, cattle of all kinds and foodstuffs generally. While it is admitted that the imposition of a 25 per cent. duty per bushel on wheat will have a serious effect on the marketing of Canadan grain the effect on the live stock industry will, it is believed, be the most serious. In years gone by Canada exported many cattle to Great Britain. Specially equipped vessels were provided for the purpose and special business arrangements made. But with the opening of the American market, Canadian cattle under the Underwood tariff, all the machinery was scrapped. The new tariff means that it must again be revived painstakingly under conditions of finance which at present render business with the United Kingdom very difficult indeed.

Some idea of the effect of the new tariff may be gained from export statistics for the past three years. During the year 1919 total grains, flour and kindred produces exported from Canada was as follows: To the United Kingdom 160,700,000 dollars; to the United States 9,000,000; to other countries, 63,000,000. For 1920 to the United Kingdom 212,000,000; to the United States 25,000,000; to other countries 88,000,000.

1921 (fiscal year) United Kingdom 125,000,000, United States 112,000,000, other countries 10,000,000. Total exports of living animals were as follows: 1919, to the United Kingdom, one million dollars, to United States 33 million dollars, to other countries $437,000.

1920 to United Kingdom, $107,000, to United States $47,000,000, to other countries two millions.

1921 to United Kingdom $34,000; to United States $25,000,000; to other countries $400,000.

It will be seen that since the war conditions ceased, the United States has become more and more Canada's chief field for export of these products. Difficulty of financing in Europe will add to the problem now presented through the United States' tariffs. As a matter of fact in the past the United States could afford to purchase heavily from Canada for export purposes. Now, however, that export markets have been restricted, it does not pay the United States to add to her own exportable surplus.

It is staed there that the duties imposed under the Young bill prejudically affected Canadian export to the United States approximating 160,000,000. The new duties will not only have an adverse effect on Canadian trade, but also upon the exchange situation, although one of the chief articles of Canadian export, namely lumber, is not affected. It is, however, to be noted that the value of imports from the United States is steadily decreasing. For the two months ending May 1920, Canadian imports from the United Staes totalled 133,000,000 dollars. For the same two months this year they only totalled $89,000,000.

Any suggested solution of the disabilities imposed by the new tariff will depend largely on the political tenets held by those who make the suggestions.

The Government holds that the moral of the whole thing is that it does not pay for any country to place the marketing of its produce on the hands of its chief industrial competitor.

Liberals and Progressives on the other hand may claim that the situation has to some extent been provoked by Canada's rejection of reciprocity. In this connection the bill provides that the President may at any time enter into reciprocity negotiations with any country.

ENGLISH REVIEW TO TOUR CANADA.

Theatrical Deal Closed By Trans-Canada Theatres, Ltd.

LONDON, June 30.—The biggest deal in the history of London's theatrical industry was completed yesterday, when George F. Driscoll vice-president and general manager of TransCanada Theatres, Ltd., Montreal, signed a contract with Albert De Courville, guaranteeing him minimum receipts of half a million dollars on a fifty-four week tal-Canadian tour with the pick of his cast.

Mr. De Courville has been a prominent producer here for the past tweve years, having concentrated upon revues and big successes, such as "Zig Zag", "Whirlygig" "Joy Bells" and the forty-six thousand pound production of "Razzle-Dazzle at Drury Lane.

Mr. De Courville proposes to create a new entertainment to be entitled "The First Revue", by grouping all the best features of his entire list of thirty productions.

He will arrive personally at Quebec on October 10th with his famous beauty chorus and probably Harry Tate, Shirley Kellog and other picked stars. He will open his season in Quebec City and then make his first appearance in Montreal.

Printers Wanted

We have vacancies for a few good Ad. men, stone men, and one experienced linotype operater.

Our business offers splendid advantages for promotion and development. Many former employees in our Mechanical Department are to-day occupying highly paid positions on our Editorial and Selling staffs. The General Manager himself was formerly a Compositor, which is evidence that the opportunity for advancement is practically unlimited..

Our plant is splendidly equipped with new model linotypes, non-distribution system, and a bright, airy Composing Room. We carry group insurance on our employees as, follows:

Foremen of Departments $2,000.00
Journeymen $1,000.00
Apprentices and Bindery $500.00

We also maintain a nurse in our establishment to take care of minor accidents and to call at the homes of any who are away through illness.

The "MacLean Club" gives many entertainments during the winter and picnics during the summer, and our people have every opportunity of becoming well acquainted with one another.

Our men struck on June 1st last, but we are gradually building up a new staff. Some departments are now sufficiently manned to take care of our present requirements. On the Composing Room Staff, there is steady employment for a few additional men.

Our sixteen publications enable us to give steady employment the year round to competent, efficient, workmen.

We have definitely adopted the open shop principle and neither now nor in the future will any discrimination be shown against non-union employees.

Men who have worked anywhere from two to five years at the trade, and who are now employed at some other work, may want to take this opportunity of getting back to the printing business.

If you want to work under these conditions, come to see us or write us fully, giving particulars of your experience.

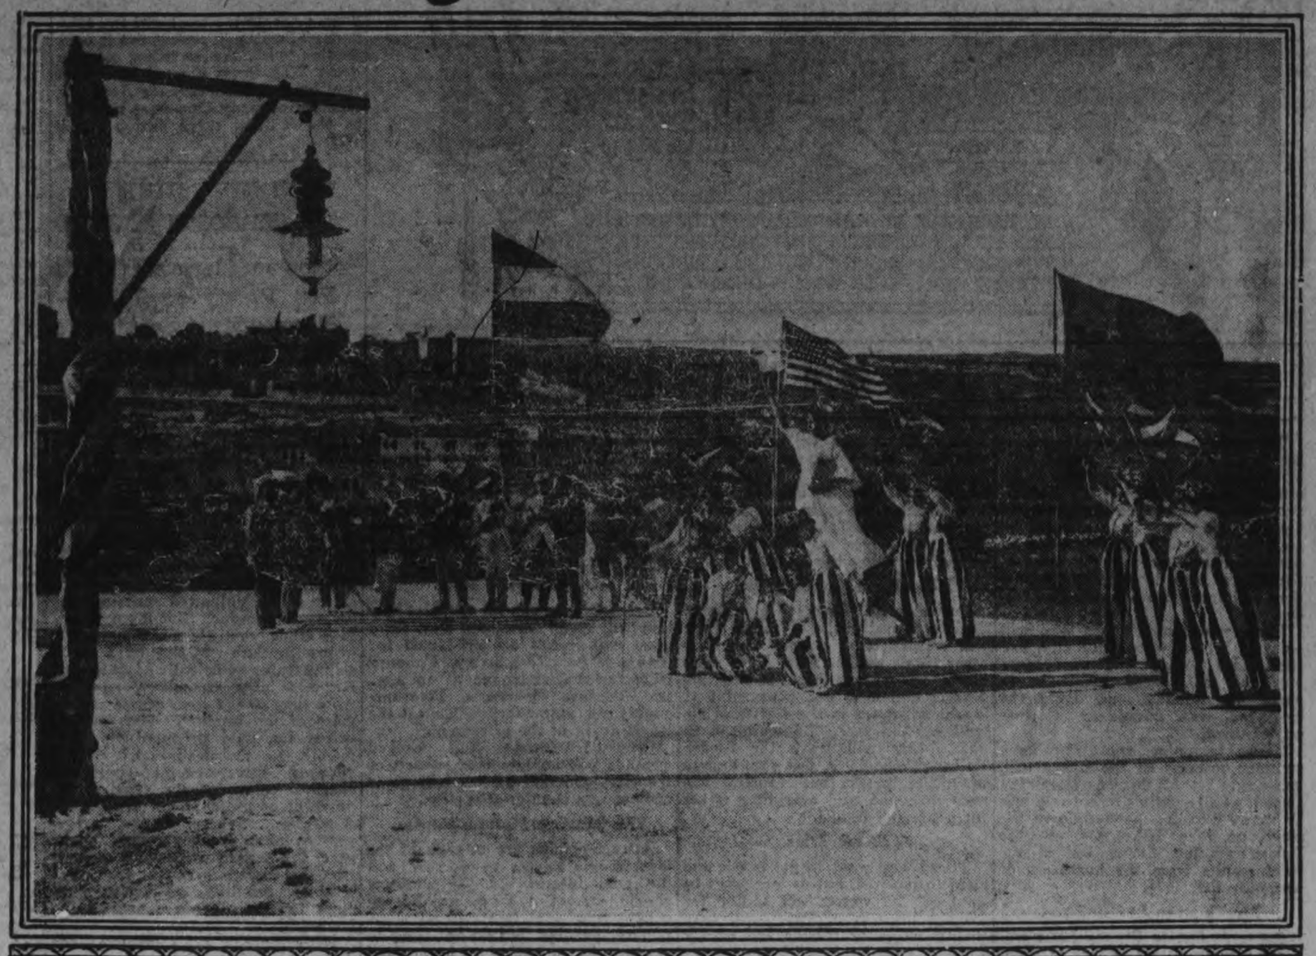
A Little America Close by Jerusalem's Wall

Where a Noble Band of American Men and Women Have Been Holding for Nearly 40 Years a Lonely Outpost of American Civilization in a Strange, Far-Off Land, Overcoming Persecutions, Poverty and the Hardships of the World War, by Following the Golden Rule and Living a Life of Christian Charity.

By JAMES MORGAN



Young Ladies of the American Colony in Patriotic Exercises with the Colony Band Playing for Them.

AFTER the fall of Jerusalem an airplane, flying across the desert to Egypt, brought to the outer world the first detailed news of the city in nearly two years. One of the first items in the report was that the American colony was safe and that it had been the means of aiding thousands in the last demoralized months of Turkish rule.

Many readers in this country must have wondered why there should be an American colony in Jerusalem, and what it could be doing there. It is a strange story, which opens with a shipwreck in the Atlantic, 40 years ago, when an American woman, on her way to France, was rescued from floating wreckage, but her three daughters—all her children—were lost. "Saved alone," the mother cabled to her husband, Horatio G. Spafford of Chicago, who wrote a revival song under the title, a song which Sankey made familiar to the multitudes who attended the big Moody meetings.

Young Americans Sleighing in the Streets of Jerusalem Where Snow Seldom Falls. The Main Building of the American Colony Is in the Background.

Burned Their Bridges Behind Them

"It Is Well with My Soul" is another hymn by Mr. Spafford, which is better known today. A great host of churchgoers will ask for no better introduction to this founder of the American Colony in Jerusalem than these well-remembered lines from his pen:

When peace like a river attendeth my way,
When sorrows like sea billows roll,
Whatever my lot, Thou hast taught me to say:
"It is well, it is well with my soul."

Mr. and Mrs. Spafford were stirred by the conviction that they were spared to each other for some higher purpose than they had been pursuing. He was a prosperous lawyer, and they had both been active workers in a big Presbyterian church in Chicago; but they resolved to give themselves thenceforth wholly to the service of God and of their fellow-men.

A few zealous spirits rallied about the standard of sacrifice, put everything they had into a pool, and sailed away to Jerusalem, in the hope that there they could more surely overcome temptation and sin than in the midst of the great city by the shore of Lake Michigan.

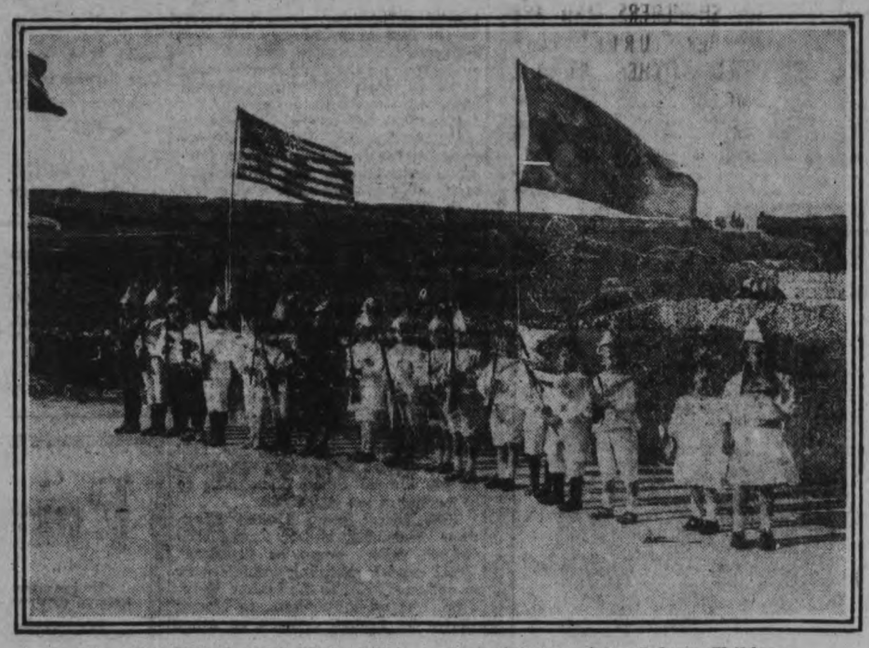
Here were 14 American men and women, with five children, pulling up roots that were deep in the soil of our new world and transplanting themselves in the alien soil of Asia. They left forever home and kindred and native land—everything—to live and work and die far off beyond the seas among strangers in race and religion, in speech and dress. They burned their bridges behind them; cut themselves off from their base of supplies, and, harder still, from the sympathy of their families and friends, to risk all on this plunge into Islam and the Orient. They had no church or missionary society back of them. They did not go to preach the Gospel, but only to live it as well as they could; to try to set an example of Christian living and Christian charity at the scene of the crucifixion.

The triumphs of this little band of pilgrims over persecutions, poverty, epidemics, the perils and hardships of the great war; their astonishing successes in overcoming obstacles, their eleventh hour deliverances from disaster would be a tale more easily told . . . if this were an age of miracles.

Although the colonists arrived in Jerusalem without a word of Arabic, they quickly learned enough of the language of the people to begin to teach their new neighbors the simple rudiments of modern, American education, and Mahometan and Jew flocked to them until they have had at times as many as 1000 pupils. The only thing they promised at the outset not to teach was theology. So well did they overcome the natural suspicion of the Moslem church and earn its trust that these American Christians have had the unique experience of holding school within the sacred walls that rise above the ruined halls of King Solomon, in the holy inclosure of the Harem esh Sherif, or Place of the Temple, now the chief sanctuary of Mohametanism in the Holy Land.

Arabic is now almost a mother tongue with the teachers in the colony. The most prominent among them, Brother Jacob, is a man of wide and deep culture and of a noble humanity as well.

It is enough to say for these Christians and Americans that the Grand Mufti of Egypt, who holds a place second to none in the Moslem world of Syria and Palestine, entrusted his son to the colony, the youth living with the colonists as well as going to school to them. One of the oldest and closest friends of the colony is the last mayor of Jerusalem under the Sultan. To him fell the hard duty of lowering the crescent, which had waved 500 years above the gates of the Holy City, and of bearing the white flag of surrender to the British forces.



How the Fourth of July Is Celebrated by the American Colony Children.

Practising the Golden Rule

This Faidy Effendi, who has in the past held the delicate post of Turkish Governor of Bethlehem, where he guarded the manger in the Church of the Nativity, who has been also a judge and a member of the Parliament at Constantinople, sent both his daughter and his son to the American school. The son received from his American teachers much of the early instruction that prepared him to enter the great English University of Cambridge.

"I have always proclaimed," this high Moslem official has declared, "as the Grand Mufti himself has proclaimed in a speech in Paris, that if I ever should accept the Christian religion, I would unhesitatingly try to enter the American colony as an active member."

Moslem and Jew and Christian have been brought together by the colony in a common fraternity. "Those Americans," said one of their graduates, the son of a Jewish banker, "lives the real life of love to the neighbor as taught in the Bible. I always pray that the rest of the world may learn to live such a life as they."

The colony feeds hungering mouths as well as hungering minds. Its first rule is never to turn anyone from the door. Many years ago it was nearly eaten out of house and home by 300 uninvited, but not unwelcome guests, who threw themselves on its mercy. These were a strange people, who believed themselves to be of the Tribe of Gad, and, in accordance with their peculiar reading of an Old Testament prophecy, they suddenly appeared in Jerusalem after 25 centuries of wandering.

The purse and the larder of the colony were then almost empty and the colonists hardly knew where the next meal would come from. Nevertheless, they mortgaged everything to keep the supposed Gadites from starving and to help them to become self-supporting.

When the money that the colonists had brought from America was gone they found themselves facing want in a land where it would seem impossible for an American to make a living. But the bread they had been casting on the waters began to come back to them in wondrous ways and with strange timeliness.

For example, the colony had taken in a blind man, and this apparently helpless charge on its charity brought in the first dollar that it earned. He had been a pedler, and he was sure the American pastries, which the women cooked, would sell "like hot cakes" among the European residents. they did, and from sending the blind man out with a basketful of "goodies," a wagon was soon required to deliver them.

A second example of how the colony was helped in helping the helpless is another interesting story. A globe-trotting Englishman, who wandered in from the desert, had nothing to give in return for months of hospitality except a battered and apparently useless photographic camera. But a man, apparently equally useless, a crippled member, who had been a cabinetmaker when he was a young man in Vermont, made a new box for it. By and by the German Kaiser came along on his combination pilgrimage and drumming tour to the Holy Land, and the colony, with the only commercial camera in Jerusalem, did a rushing business with the pictorial press of the world. Today it has the largest and busiest photographic establishment in all the near East.

Caught in the World War

Readers of the National Geographic Magazine have enjoyed many series of photographs of Palestine and Syria, which were the products of the colony. The interesting descriptive articles accompanying the pictures came from the pen of one of the colonists, John D. Whiting. Mr. Whiting is the first American born in Jerusalem, his New England parents having been one of the little group of pioneers who followed Mr. and Mrs. Spafford, and he is now the highly respected American vice-consul in his native city.

Under the spur of necessity the colonists first learned how to make things for themselves and next they gradually went into making or collecting things for sale—religious articles fashioned out of mother of pearl, ancient glass, antique rugs and other treasures of the storied East. They also gather and press for Sunday schools and other church organizations the wild flowers that are mentioned in the Scriptures, a New England botanist, who graduated from Bowdoin College being most active in this department.

When the colony had weathered the storms of more than 30 years and seemed to have emerged into the sunlight, it was caught in the hurricane of the world war, which brought years of cruel hardships but which also brought the colonists an opportunity for greater usefulness than ever before. The story would fill a book, and some day a book should tell of this lonely little outpost of American men and women in the enemy's country, following the armies of their foe to minister to the sick and wounded in the desert, battling with a plague of locusts, braving the cholera and typhus and fighting hand to hand with hunger at their door.

Enemy aliens and Christians though they were, these Americans were entrusted by the Turk with the management of the government soup kitchen, where they fed 3500 people daily for two years, and they were also placed in control of four military hospitals. With few doctors to aid them and with a woful lack of disinfectants, of cotton for bandages, of soap and even of water, the devoted men and women of the colony dared the deadly germs that infested the Turkish army while they nursed thousands of sick and wounded, whose cause they hated but whose sufferings they pitied.

The Germans could not share the simplest trust of their Turkish allies in this example of Christian charity, and when Gen. von Falkenhayn came he sternly commanded that the entire colony, regardless of age or sex, should be driven from home and deported. The Turkish officers loyally stood by the colonists and finally succeeded in having the deportation limited to the six American men who were of military age.

While those six were waiting to be sent away from their wives and children—to meet, perhaps, an Armenian fate—Falkenhayn and his Germans themselves found it prudent to leave in haste, for the British were rapidly advancing. And the Turks let the Americans stay. When the Turks also abandoned the city, Ali Fouad Pasha, the Sultan's commander, announced to the colonists: "Tonight we leave Jerusalem. We have decided not to take the six Americans away with us, and we leave you all to care for our sick and wounded. You have not been serving us; you will not serve the enemy: you are serving God."

When Gen. Allenby and his British troops came, they were greeted by these soldiers of the cross from America, who had advanced upon Jerusalem so many years before and taken the city, though they marched without arms or banners. On the next Fourth of July a band of little warriors, with toy guns and paper helmets, paraded along the road that runs from the Damascus Gate bearing the colors of England and the Stars and Stripes. They were the children of the colony, celebrating both the independence of the United States and the delivery of the Holy City.

Naturally its experience and high standing in the community make the colony peculiarly useful to the new government, with its strange tasks, and various colonists have received important parts in city planning and in the fight against tuberculosis.

Among the newspaper and magazine illustrations of the capture of Jerusalem, which were published in this country, was a picture of the reception which the colonists gave to the captor, with Gen. Allenby standing by the side of a woman of gentle and handsome presence. This was Mrs. Spafford, widow of the founder, who still is spared to grace the colony.

Most of the original members sleep now in the American cemetery on a slope of Mt. Scopus, but their children and grandchildren keep alive the spirit of the pioneers. Within very recent years there have been 10 weddings among the colonists and 23 births. With the recruits that have come from the United States, Sweden and other countries, there are, in all, more than 100 persons in this Little America close by the hoary walls of Jerusalem, where an American welcome to an American home—with an American kitchen!—gladdens the heart of an American visitor.

Suspend Discount.

"The discount rate to consumers is 3⅓ 1-3 p.c. There are some straight contracts with factories and others not subject to discount, but domestic users receive a rebate of $22,200 in discount. In addition to this there is $800 that applies on other contracts, making a total reduction to the public of $23,000 for paying their rates in proper time. If it is granted that $11,500 is the total outside money they require, and I have my doubts about this sum being necessary, then six months at $23,000 would be sufficient to take care of everything they ask for. I understand there is a net revenue of $66,000 from the water, and it is difficult to see why they require some $50,000 more to carryon for 1921. We have cancelled one item and believe the other three could be filed down. If these three stand, then I maintain that the difference in the discount for 6 months of this year will give them sufficient revenue for this year to furnish a surplus.

Other Days, Other Discounts.

"There are other things hard to understand. In 1902 we took over the water system. At that time, domestic consumers had a discount of 10 p.c., which was, through the capable management of the commission, increased to 33 p.c. We then paid $50 per hydrant for fire protection. From 1902 to 1919 costs decreased from $50 under the commission to $27.50 and in 1920 increased to $35 to take care of extra operating expenses. Then this year, when the rate is increased from $35 to $80 per hydrant, we cannot understand why it is.

"If I were performing a contract with you,' Ald. Turner continued, "you would expect it to be completed before payment was demanded, and I see no reason why we should be asked to pay for filtered water before it is delivered to us.

130 Per Cent. Increase.

"The commission took as a basis a seven-roomed house, on which the old rate would be $10 per annum and the new rate $18.14. You must remember that the rate which the city is paying for fire protecteion is added in proportion to your taxes. In a seven-roomed house worth $6,500, besides your $18.14 for water rates, you would pay $4.88 additional for fire protection in your tax bill, making a total of $23.02, an increase in water rates of 130 p.c. For a house assessed at $3,000, the total bill for water and increase in fire portection would $20.39 an increase of 100 p.c."

Mr. Lytle Enquires.

Mr. Wm. Lytle enquired of Mr. Turner: "Mr. Chairman, you were an alderman at the time the Water Commissioners raised the rate on hydrants from $35 to $80. Was this previous to the election in December?"

Mr. Turner— "No, it was during February, when the various departments submitted their estimates to the Council to be included in the budget."

Mr. Lytle—"Did they intimate to you at that time that the domestic rate was to be increased?"

Mr. Turner — "I was away from home at the time, but I am under the impression that the Commission said there would be a re-adjustment of domestic systems by putting same on hydrants to check up and eliminate waste."

Mr. Lytle—"In that case, they had to come to you, but now they don't. They know that a great many people think the Commission has to go to the Council, but they are the same as the Board of Education and can force anything through."

Why Council Acceded.

An enquiry from Mr. Worth elicited the information that the Council felt that it was safeguarding the people against an increase in rates by acceding to the demands of the Commission of $45 more per hydrant for fire protection.

Mr. Worth—"You have been fooled, that's all."

Mr. Robt. Harding enquired whether the letter which apeared in the Examiner was a reply to the resolution of the Council, and Mr. Turner assured him that it was simply a letter to explain the increase in rates, the subsequent communication of the Council to the Water Commissioners having so far been favored with no reply. In a conversation with the chairman of the Commission, however, Mr. Turner said the statement was made of the Commission's intention to proceed with the proposed increase, as all the bills were ready to be sent out. Mr. Turner remarked that the situation was a peculiar one. "These men have been elected by you, and you cannot expect them to oscillate from the standard they have taken. The only thing to do is to bring sufficient pressure to bear upon them to force them to withhold thier hands."

Need Audit First.

Mr. J. W. Worth maintained that the public could take no definite steps in bringing such pressure to bar until after an independent audit had been ordered, and declared that the meeting should re-affirm the stand taken by it on June 17th with regard to this matter.

Criticize Bread Prices.

Mr. George H. Giroux rose to register a protest against the price of bread in Peterboro. He wished to know why bread was selling in Peterboro for 24c per loaf and in most other cities and towns at 18c and 20c. "This is an important question in the city," declared Mr. Giroux, "we all have to use bread. There are between five and six thousand families in the city affected by the price of it. A family of five people will pay from $35 to $40 per year more than they should for bread, and that money could be used to better advantage than in enriching the baker, who could make a profit at 10c per loaf, or 20c at the least. The families of this city are paying over $200,000 yearly to the bakers of Peterboro more than they should, and I call that profiteering." (Hear, hear.) "Flour has been reduced by 50 per cent, and every other article in the baking line has been reduced from 50 to 125 per cent., and still we are paying war prices to the confectioners of the city. I think some of the women organizations of the city should take this matter up and bring the bakers to time."

Mr. Lytle related an experience with a local man who had retailed bread for 22c. The out-of-town man informed him recently that the bakers of Peterboro had caused the millers to refuse to supply him with flour unless he came up to the local price. An objection raised by Mr. Vincent Stewart of the Veterans Bread Co., that two cents extra was required for delivery, was answered by Mr. A. J. Raddon, who said it did not matter whether a customer carried his bread or had it sent—it cost just the same. "The trouble is," said Mr. Raddon, "We have the law against combines, but the city council and everyone else seems to be afraid or too indifferent to put that law into force. We don't get the benefit of it."

Ald. Turner took exception to this statement, saying that a charge of profiteering or of combines, would be heard by the city council and dealt with propertly, to which Mr. Lytle responded that it was impossible for a man to make a direct charge of this sort of thing, but everyone knew it was so, and he gave the evidence of his grocer. This man had been told that if he sold bread over the counter at 22c his baker would refuse to deliver any more of this commodity to him.

Prices of milk and meat also came in for some spirited discussion. Mr. J. W. Worth instancing the recent complaint of a farmer in the Globe, that whereas in 1914, he received $10.50 per hundred, now he receives only $8.25 per hundred, and the retail price of meat was an average of from 18 to 24c per lb., while today it is from 38c to 43c per lb.

To an argument that one must pay a good price for good cuts, Mr. Worth answered that the farmer receives no special prices for certain cuts, getting one price only for a cow.

Meat Prices.

Mr. Bradburn, from the platform, said that while meat was retailing at 28c and 30c per lb. in Toronto, it was 43c per lb. in Peterboro. He quoted Mr. H. P. Kenedy, the well-known cattle exporter, as declaring to him in a recent conversation that the people of Peterboro "were being robbed." "There will be a meat market opened in Peterboro in July," said Mr. Bradburn, "and the prices will be cut to Toronto prices."

(Cries of "Hear, hear," and "Bring it along."

Mr. B. Stacey rose here to volunteer the information that sheep brought the farmer in Toronto two cents a pound and sold in Peterboro for 40c a pound.

Mr. A. J. Raddon thought that such an enterprise should be exempt from the business tax, as "virtue should be encouraged, when one is able to find it," but Mr. R. E. Layfield voiced the general opinion in saying "Let them come in on a straight competitive basis, pay all the usual taxes and see if they can do it."

Women Could Help.

Mr. Giroux thought the women could do a great deal towards helping to remedy matters in the matter of high prices. In the question of bread alone, they might agree to use substitutes for bread in the form of potatoes, eggs and butter, and a boycott of the bakers for a week might do a great deal towards helping them to see the light.

Mr. W. Nelson asked for the support of every member of the Association in the reforms it wishes to carry through. "There is something going to happen in this city within the next few weeks, with our live president and Mr. Lytle to bring up the guns, there is bound to be something moving."

Mr. Dumble Doubtful

Mr. D. W. Dumble, who was on the platform, here demanded to know the object of the meeting, and shrugged his shoulders over the probability of any thing being done in the organization of the association of owners and tenants.

Mr. Lytle, Mr. Worth, Mr. H. R. Buckley and Mr. Harding spoke of the advisability of having an audit made as was the original intention, and Mr. J. Runnett remarked that conflicting statements made by members of the Commission with regard to overlooked items of $11,000 and $6,000 showed that such an audit was absolutely necessary.

Ask for Audit.

Moved by Mr. J. W. Worth and seconded by Mr. J. Runnett that, the meeting re-affirm its desire to conduct an independent audit of the books of the Water Commission, for a sufficient number of years to give all information required, and that the Commission be constrained to refran from increasing its rates until such time as the audit is finished.

JUNE WEDDINGS Perfect DIAMONDS Quite Within Your Means

Goldsmith's Hall 170 Charlotte

When you require a roof, the measurement will be in squares (100 square feet). A basis for analysis of the costs of Brantford Asphalt Slates is given below:

1—INITIAL COSTS OF MATERIALS—Brantford Asphalt Slates are sometimes higher in initial cost for the material.

2—NAILS REQUIRED—Brantford Asphalt Slates require ONLY 684 nails to lay a square. Brantford Asphalt Slab Slates require ONLY 450 nails.

3—COST OF LAYING—Brantford Asphalt Slab Slates are four on one strip—require only one operation in handling, one operation in spacing—Individual slates are 8 x 12¾ inches—Cut easily, fit easily, fit on angles and bend over round surfaces. You save 30 to 50 per cent. in laying.

4—NO PAINT OR STAIN REQUIRED—The surface of Brantford Asphalt Slates is in nature's permanent colors, green and red, unfadeable, always attractive,—requiring no stain to produce artistic effects, no liquid coats to make them fire-resistant.

5—SAVING OF INSURANCE—Brantford Asphalt Slates are classed as non-combustible by fire insurance Companies—a direct saving of from 10 to 20 per cent. on premiums is effected. In certain localities fire regulations demand asbestos paper under some roof materials, but Brantford Asphalt Slates are fire-resistant and are immune from special regulations.

6—COST OF REPAIRS—From the day they are laid Brantford Asphalt Slate roofs show almost 100 per cent. of the original roof untouched. Brantford Asphalt Slates do not curl, split, crack or rot. Complete protection and permanent protection are built into Brantford Asphalt Slate Roofs.

Compare these roof costs with those of any other roofing material; it is your money you are spending and you want value for it—then buy

CHILD BURNED BY LIGHTNING; MOTHER FOUND HER SENSELESS

MADELINE WOODCOCK, NEW CHAMBERLEN STREET, STRUCK ON SHOULDERS AND ARM—MOTHER HURLED AGAINST WALL—KITCHEN FULL OF SMOKE.

Five year-old, curly brown-haired little Madeline Woodcock and her mother Mrs. William Woodcock New Chamberain street, miraculously escaped death at 4.30 p.m. yesterday when their frame dwelling was struck by lightning. Mrs. Woodcock was thrown down and was severely bruised when the house rocked under the crash and her five year old daughter had her left arm, shoulder and back burned where the flame passed along it and grounded in the earth.

There had been a sharp display of thunder and lightning preceding the rain, and the crash when the house was struck could be heard for miles around it was said to-day. The lightning split the brick chimney asunder. Bricks flew far and near. George Dwyer, also a resident of New Chamberlain street, said the chimney split squarely in two a shower of bricks falling to the east and west and one of the pieces he believed struck Mrs. George Robinson on the face. She lives immediately west and was sitting on the porch.

The ball of fire followed the chimney smashed the front of the range in the summer kitchen and ripped through the tin floor straight at the little girl who was pulling a wash tub out from under the low kitchen for her mother. The kitchen is on posts and the tub was kept under it. Little Madeline was just reaching for the tub evidently when the lightning came through the inch of plank ing struck her it is believed on the wrist for there is a very dark mark there, passed up her arm and grounded.

It was a miraculous escape. The mother was upstairs and in describing the crash, said it was like a loud explosion. She was in her bedroom and the chimney passed down the wall. The whole place quivered and she was thrown roughly against the bed and received painful bruises. Rushing downstairs she said it was as if some one had fired a gun off. There was a strong smell like powder and smoke filled the downstairs The little girl was senseless on the ground, her whole body and clothes blackened as if with soot. While her clothes were not touched her arm, shoulder and back were severely burned.

Dr. M. Y. Yelland, who was in the vicinity, was called and treated the burns and it is expected they will heal quickly. There was no fire started by the lightning.

Three Cows Killed

Smith township was visited by an unusually severe electrical storm yesterday afternoon and around Bridgenorth the display was particularly accentuated, the Examiner was informed. W. Nichols a farmer living about a mile and one half from the village on the Selwyn road lost three valuable cows who were struck with lightning.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, June 30 (Canadian Press).—The weakness of Mexican Oils was the overshadowing feature at the opening of to-day's stock market. Mexican Petroleum registered an initial decline of 4 1-4 points, immdiately extending this loss with an additional point. Pan-American Petroleum lost 2 1-2 and the B stock fell 2 3-4. General Asphalt, Atlantic Gulf, United States Rubber, Harvester, Canadian Pacific, and Sears-Roebuck also were heavy. Domestic and European oils, notably Houston and Royal Dutch, were firm, and Crucible Steel was the strongest of the industrials, rising 1 1-2 points.

Shorts availed themselves of adverse provisions in the tariff bill and extended their operations in Oils. Mexican Petroleum fell 12 1-4 points to par. Pan-Americn issues lost 5 to 6 1-2 points and General Asphalt lost almost almost 7 points. Atlantic Gulf, Baldwin Locomotive, Steels and Equipments and prominent shippings were lower by 1 to 3 points. Crucible, cancelling its early rise. Specialties, comprising Sugar, Rubber, Tobacco, Merchandising and Motion Picture isssues forfeited 1 to 2 points. Rails were supported, however, especially Reading, Southern Pacific and New York Central. Call money was less plentiful at the opening rate of six per cent.

The reaction halted during midsession while buying of high grade rails became the chief feature. Coalers, grangers, trans-continentals and cotton carriers were in demand at gains of 1 to 3 points. Numerous speculative rails rose to the same extent.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, June 30. —(Canadian Press.) — Sterling Exchange steady, Demand 372 1-4; Cables 373 1-2; Canadian Dollars 12 1-4 per cent. discount.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, June 30.— (Canadian Press.)—Prospects of cooler weather in the northwest led to declines in the wheat market to-day. The refusal of Chicago Elevator employees to arbitrate wage troubles counted also as a bearish factor. Selling, however, was of only a scattered sort. Opening quotations which ranged from half to 1 1-2 lower with July 122 1-2 to 123 and September 121 3-4, were followed by moderate further setbacks and then something of a rally.

Corn was weaker with wheat. After opening 2 cents lower to 1-4 cents advance, including September at 62 1-4 to 63, the market sagged a little more and later recovered somewhat. Oats reflected the downward course of other cereals, starting unchanged to 3-8 cents lower with September 38 5-8, but then hardening to some extent.

Higher quotations on hogs made the provision market firm.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, June 30.—(Canadian Press.)— Pronounced weakness developed in the Paper group on the Toronto Stock Exchange this morning. Abitibi on light dealings dropped over two points, while Wayagamack in the unlisted department made a downward plunge of eleven and a quarter points with the last sale at 49 as compared with yesterday's high figure of 63 1-2. Brompton also in the unlisted sold off 2 1-2 points to 21. Brazilian, the most active stock on the list, held steady at 27 1-2 while Toronto, second in point of activity, after selling up to 72 1-4, dropped back 3-4 to 71 1-2. Canadian Pacific was the bright spot, closing strong at 124, an overnight gain of 3-4.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, June 30 (Canadian Press).—The local stock exchange was very quiet during the first half-hour this morning. Brazilian and Brompton both advanced a quarter point to 27 3-4 and 22 3-4 respectively, while Laurentide and Spanish River remained unchanged at 75 and 50 respectively.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

TORONTO, June 30 (Canadian Press).—Cattle receipts, 46; trade was light. Quotations: Heavy beef steers, $7.50 to $8.00; butcher steers, choice, $7.25 to $7.75; butcher cows, medium, $3.00 to $5.00; calves, $7.00 to $8.00; lambs, $12.00 to $13.00; hogs, selects, $12.00.

RING BATTLES OF DEMPSEY

Jack Dempsey knocked out Bill Brennan in the 12th round of their bout at Madison Square Garden on Dec. 14, 1920, in his most recent contest.

The champion's showing that night against Brennan, a good second-rate boxer, was far from reassuring. The champion appeared to have suffered from the long lack of action. He was much slower than in previous bouts. Brennan hit him and appeared to hurt him, and Dempsey left the ring after the fight bleeding from an injured ear.

The bout, however, was slow through most of the rounds. Motion pictures were made and many believe that therein lay the reason for to Brennan's unexpectedly good showing.

Dempsey throughout, failed to show his usual aggressiveness. Brennan apparently had no fear of the champion, and took the initiative in several of the rounds, often standing toe to toe with Dempsey slugging. However, Dempsey managed to wear down the challenger in the later rounds, and in the 12th, a left to the body and a right to the head sent Brennan to the canvas in a neutral corner. It was the only knockdown of the unsatisfactory bout.

The early months of 1914, the close of which was destined to see Carpentier a soldier in a real fight, brought the Frenchman his first defeat since he had lost to Billy Papke in 1912. Joe Jeannette, the American negro heavyweight and one of the game's hardest hitters, was the victor over the Frenchman in a slashing 15-round bout. Many spectators thought that Carpentier should have been awarded the decision.

In spite of that, Carnentier's hitting power shown in that battle convinced Americans that here was a real top-notch heavyweight. Twice, he sent Jeannette to the canvas with crashing blows to the head. Jeannette has since declared that the blow with which Carpentier floored him early in the bout was the hardest that ever connected with his anatomy.

The veteran negro, who has done little fighting for several years, is now a resident of Hoboken, N. J. He has done considerable work with Carpentier while the Frenchman has been training at Manhasset. One afternoon recently Carpentier, while sparring with the negro, unleashed his right with its full power, and once again Jeannette hit the canvas, stunned but not knocked out.

"Can that boy hit?" was Jeannette's question as he slowly rose to his feet, while Carpentier apologized. "Ah'll say he can hit. What that right lands on must go down, and that includes Mistah Dempsey."

"Will the Jack Dempsey who meets Carpentier be the boxer who overwhelmed Jess Willard or the boxer who had difficulty knocking out Bill Brennan?" is a question heard often as the coming battle between the champion and Georges Carpentier is discussed.

Dempsey's work in camp at Atlantic City for the past several weeks has failed definitely to make this clear. In training, the champion is buoyant and has been making short work of the numerous sparring partners imported into the camp by Manager Jack Kearns. None of these, however, has been of a class really capable of testing the champion.

A gash over the eye from a wound received when training at Toledo two years ago, has retarded Dempsey's work to some extent.

Dempsey will enter the ring at Jersey City weighing a little more than 190 pounds, which is slightly heavier than was his weight at Toledo two years ago. His trainers at Atlantic City have carefully guarded against staleness. His boxing has been curtailed several times. In the last two weeks, he will have a few pounds to take off by increasingly strenuous work which should bring him to the desirable "peak" immediately before the bout.

Before the outbreak of the war in August, 1914, Carpentier fought several other battles, beating George Mitchell by a knockout in one round; Hubert Roc in three rounds, and Phillippe Robinson in a like number. He won two other bouts on fouls, one from Gunboat Smith in six sessions and the other from Kid Jackson, in four.

The bout with Gunboat Smith in London is the most unusual episode in the interesting career of this boxer, and marks possibly the only instance when the shrewdness of Manager Descamps overstepped the bounds of sportsmanship.

Carpentier looked like a certain winner in the first round when he dropped the American for the count of nine. Smith, however, showed his remarkable ability to "take it" by coming right back and turning the tide of battle in the third round. They fought it on equal terms until the sixth.

Then the "Gunner" drove home one of his sledge-hammer blows that landed behind the Frenchman's left ear. Carpentier went to the canvas near his corner. The wily Descamps whispered to him to feign rising. He did so. Coming up to a half-crouching positon, he suddenly fell back on one knee as Smith aimed a blow at him. The American was unable to "pull the punch." It struck Carpentier while he was technically down, and Referee Eugene Corri could do nothing except award the battle to Carpentier on a foul.

It was an unsatisfactory ending to a hard-fought battle.

INTERMEDIATE AND JUNIOR LACROSSE TEAMS PLAY OUT OF TOWN GAMES ON THE HOLIDAY

Peterborough's lacrosse teams are scheduled to play out of town games on the holiday. The intermediates are bound for Campbellford and the Juniors play their first game away from home in Hastings. The intermediate team will be chosen from the following players: Fred Goodfellow, H. Scriver, Ed. Dillon, G. Kennedy, P. Wallace, G. Webb, E. Brown, H. Tudhope, J. Thirnbeck, E. Donovan, C. Nattress, L. McCoy, B. Todd and Grover Halpin. These players are requested to meet at the Y.M.C.A. on Friday morning at 9.30 o'clock sharp. They will motor to Campbellford, and from all accounts are determined to give the Trent town team a warmer argument than in the game played here.

The Campbellford team is giving a garden party in the evening and have invited the Peterborough team to remain over for this event, offering to pay the additional expenses involved. This kindness has been highly appreciated by the Peterborough club and some of the team will probably remain unitl late in the evening.

The Junior Game.

The juniors are not going to Hastings alone. The showing they made in their game with Campbellford juniors here has aroused a surprising enthusiasm especially among the old followers of the game, who are delighted at the promise the youngsters inspired in their first performance. Reports have it that the Hastings juniors are a big team and fast, but Johnnie Sutherland is withholding promises and opinions for the present. A win for the juniors would give them a decided advantage in this round and would just about clinch the belef that they wll carry off the local dstrct honors.

CARPENTIER BOXING SINCE HE WAS 14, VICTOR IN 71 OF 85 BOUTS; IN 55 OF 64 DEMPSEY WAS THE WINNER

NEW YORK, June 30.—Veterans of numerous gory ring battles, will face each other in the ring when Jack Dempsey defends his heavyweight title against the challenge of Georges Carpentier in the Jersey City ring, July 2. Through several campaigns, both have won and lost contests in nearly every possible manner. Both have won by knockouts, on points and by fouls; both have lost on points and by fouls, although Dempsey never has lost a decision on a foul as did Carpentier to Frank Klaus, when Manager Descamps climbed into the ring to save the Frenchman from further punishment.

Carpentier, fighting since 1907, is the more grizzled veteran of the two. In winning his way up from the bantamweight ranks to the heavyweight class, Carpentier, who started boxing at 14, has engaged in 85 battles. In 71 of these he emerged from the ring the victor. Thirty-four times, he won by knockouts; 33 times on point decisions and four times on fouls by opponents.

The Frenchman has fought only five draws; has lost one on a foul and has been knocked out once. To a French youth named Gloria goes the credit for being the only opponent who has stood over the challenger and listened to the toll of the referee.

Carpentier's record, before the war, is one of the most active credited to a leading boxer. Service in the French army curtailed his boxing for four years, but since the armistice, with a heavyweight title bout his main consideration, Georges has engaged in fewer glove contests.

Jack Dempsey has fought 64 battles and 55 resulted in victories for him. The champion has knocked out 45 or almost three-fourths of his opponents in six years of boxing, a remarkable record. Nine times, he has won on point decisions and his only victory on a foul was over the ponderous Carl Morris.

The champion has fought four draw decisions; has lost on points twice and has hit the canvas only once to stay there for 10 seconds. "Fireman" Jim Flynn, in 1917, achieved that startling feat, but later the "Pueblo Fireman" was knocked out in less than a minute by Dempsey when the later was on his way to the championship. Dempsey also fought two no-decision bouts.

The complete records of the boxers follow:

BARRIE'S IN LEAD WHEN GAME CALLED AT END OF THIRD

HARD HITTING BY BARRIE'S AND WILD PEGGING BY CLOCK-MAKERS MAKES 5 TO 3 SCORE

Football and baseball clashed at the Oval last evening with the usual result. An arrangement had been made with the football interests by which they held back the Veterans-Caleys' game until 6.30. The Westclox-Barrie's game, scheduled to start at 5.30, was delayed by the late arrival of several Westclox players, and at 6.30 only three innings of baseball had been played, the score being 5 to 3 in favor of Barrie's.

With the Mercantile League at fault in making a belated start, the proper step to take was to call off the ball game, and this was done.

When the game was arranged, the clubs were instructed that they must be ready to start the game on time. It would have been only a matter of making the request to hold the football game back long enough to allow the ball teams to get in five innings, and five innings would have been possible had the ball game started on time.

Barrie's caught the clock-makers off their stride, and although Westclox sent over a brace of runs in the first the fur-trimmers opened an assault on Clare Wolff's pitching that made them favorites for the game. Some wild heaving did not help to improve the situation for Westclox, and it was not until Herb. Wolff went into the box that the team settled down. Then, when it looked like a battle, the contest was called off.

Harry Cobb, first baseman for Cressman's, took his first turn at umpiring in the league, and made a good job of it.

FILM DIRECTOR FIGHTS MAD LIONESS WITH A CAMERA TRIPOD

When a heat-maddened lioness attacked Director Harry J. Revier while he was producing "The Son of Tarzan" feature serial at the Hollywood, Cal., studios of the National Film Corporation of America, Revier hastily grabbed a motion picture camera and tripod, tore off the "shooting box," and for twenty-five minutes fought the wild beast.

Hundreds of spectators, standing outside the steel inclosure, witnessed the terrific fight, but were powerless to aid, as Revier had locked himself in the arena. In order to reduce the possibilities of accidents to the minimum, the director, who is also a cinematographer, acted as his own cameraman in this and many other scenes where the jungle animals, still unfamiliar with captivity, were used.

After the battle with the lioness, Revier again entered the arena, and the animal, but six months a captive, licked his hands.

"The Son of Tarzan" serial will be shown at the Allen Theatre in the city beginning Thursday (today).

"ROMANCE AND ARABELLA."

A delightful comedy which contains five separate love stories, though the heroine is the same in each case, will be seen at the Allen Theatre on to-day when Lewis J. Selznick presents Constance Talmadge in "Romance and Arabella."

Mrs. Arabella Cadenhouse is a young widow, who has decided that her second husband, if there is to be any, must supply her with thrills and romance. Bill, a prosaic young man who has known Arabella all her life, has determined that he will marry her some day, despite her demands for a romantic husband.

When Arabella shows signs of becoming too deeply interested in another man, Bill decides it is time for him to act. He furnishes one counter-irritant after another, including a faddist, an unsophisticated young boy, a Westerner and a eugenist, until Arabella has lost all the illusions she ever had about romantic men. It is then that Bill fulfils the promise he made to himself and makes Arabella Mrs. "Bill."

The presentaton of a new Tom Mix picture is always an important theatrical event. Tom Mix by this time has become so popular a favorite that each picture he makes arouses a great deal of interest in advance. His latest film, "Prairie Trails," a William Fox production, announced as the attraction at the Regent Theatre, for the week beginning to-day, is from the popular novel by James B. Hendryx, author of "The Texan," which also was filmed recently with Mix as the star.

Booksellers report that the novel of western life, always pleasing to large classes of readers, is gaining in popularity by leaps and bounds. It has long passed all other kinds of novels. President-elect Harding and Vice-President-elect Coolidge, it is well known, prefer western novels to any other brand, just as President Wilson prefers detective stories. And the western motion picture is keeping pace in popularity with the western novel.

"Prairie Trails" continues the adventures of Tex Benton, whose love story was told in "The Texan."

SPORT GOSSIP

There'll be thousands of Canadians boosting strongly for Georges Carpentier to separate Jack Dempsey, on 2nd July, as far from his title as he was from patriotic endeavour during the war. Not so much because Georges is French as because his early ring career is all bound up with that part of France which Canadians know best, and which saw them in their most hopeful moods and their highest achievements—the region of the Pas de Calais. Georges' first championship was the title of Bethune, a town which spelled to thousands of Canadians from the end of 1915 to the end of 1918, a slight repriece from the uncertainty indescribable of the line, a few miles away to the east. It seemed like Paris, Monte Carlo, and Blighty all rolled into one, to the mud-stained or dust-laden Canadian lads, who managed a journey there from nearby billets. "Omelettes and 'am," and if M'sieur was thirsty, some "ving blunk" for le bon Can-yan soldat." Even Collette, attired in the inevitable black, with a gaudy touch of colour here and there, and in her cheeks, with the bright eyes that learned to laugh to the accompaniment of "C'est le guerre," appeared as a vision of the last word in dainty femininity, and brought laugh lines to corners of eyes and mouths which were unconsciously drawn from seeing and hearing too much "up there." A "crump" from the direction of Plugstreet probably dropped on the square at intervals, but this was rest—Bethune and what was a crump now and then!

Georges, sitting in his little garden, could look across the winding Souchez from where he lived, into La Collotte, which was the centre of one of those huge "400-yard penetrations," as an aftermath of Hill 70, but which in intensity and lives per yard exacted a bigger tribute than many of the big advances the next year, measured as they were in kilometres instead of yards.

Georges, in the early part of his training, could and probably did don running togs, and for his jaunt take in the bit of territory which occupied the personal attention of the whole Canadian Army and a quarter of Fritz' for the last two years, from Vimy on. The Arras-Vimy road was but a stone's throw from the suburb of Lievin, in which Carpentier lived. Jogging down here, Georges passed over a spur of Notr Dame de Lorette, and along the whole base of Vimy Ridge, along which the Canadian trenches were dug before 9th April. Then down into peaceful, mediaeval Arras and out along the Arras-Cambrai road, past Vis-en-Artois, from which the Canadians flung their spearhead attack on the Drocourt-Queant switch of the concrete-buttressed Hindenburg line, smashing it and the fondest delusions of the German general staff. A distance of 30 kilometres perhaps! The French fighter could do it quite easily and ride back.

All this, Georges brings to the mind's eye of those Canucks who muddled through along with the rest of the muddling for four long years, and that's why he'll have their moral support, no matter what the dopesters say about the Frenchman's frailty, his unimpressive record, and his silken wardrobe.

G.W.V.A. DEFEAT CALEDONIANS 2-0 NOW LEAD THE FOOTBALL LEAGUE

CLEVER GAME AT THE OVAL LAST NIGHT—CALEYS TRIED HARD BUT VETS HAD THE EDGE AND HELD THEM SCORELESS—WOOLENS MUST WIN NEXT GAME TO KEEP IN RUNNING WITH THE VETERANS.

By defeating the Caledonians 2-0 at Nicholls Oval last night the G.W.V.A. forged ahead in the City League and are now two points up on the Woollens. The tie between these two rivals will be re-established if the Woollens beat De Laval on Saturday. The race for league honors is now divided between the Vets and Woollens and a play-off may have to be staged. If so, this will be one of the big games of the season.

The Caleys worked hard last night, but the Vets had the edge on the play from the first whistle. Only the poor shooting of the Vets and Brunton's nice saves warded off a catastrophe. Jones had a fairly easy session—practically all the play was round the Blues' citadel.

Both teams worked at a good trot. The grass was slippery and the ball in a similar condition, and directing the ball was no easy task. There was an average crowd of spectators. The game was called for six o'clock, but it was about the half before the game was started. Westclox and Barrie's were playing ball in the Mercantile League series and were forced to evacuate the field for the footballers, which they did after a little grumbling.

The Caleys only had ten men to start. Morris went on towards the end of the first period, but a bad leg held him down.

Dwyer was the shining star on the Vets team and secured both counters. His first goal in the first half was on a long, low shot that Brunton failed to reach, and in the second period he slipped in a neat one when the Caleys' goalie missed the ball when he went to kick it out. Sharman and Monks put up a fine exhibition of soccer, and for the Caleys Hannah and the goalkeeper carried most of the play. The Vets forwards played nice combination that time and again got through the Caleys' defence to the goal. J. Clark was referee. The line-ups were:

GOTHAM SEETHING AS FIGHT NEARS

DEMPSEY STILL 3 TO 1 FAVORITE IN FINANCIAL DISTRICT

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

NEW YORK, June 30.—Gotham and its across-the-Hudson neighbour Jersey City, to-day seethed with excitement over the Dempsey-Carpentier fight.

With work over in the training camps of Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier, the scene of anxiety shifted to the battleground.

New York could gobble up a million out of towners without causing a ripple on the surface, but the hotels, the pulse of the city, represented a great waste of incoming fans. Hotels in the "roaring forties" were crowded and the outlying districts were getting plenty of the overflow. On the streets, in the hotel lobbies, even in the always-crowded subways, there was nothing but talk of the fight.

Increase in betting activity was reported in the financial district, where the champion was still a 3 to 1 favourite.

EIGHT OUNCE GLOVES IN SATURDAY'S BOUT

MORE FAVORABLE TO BOXING COMMISSION, SAYS RICKARD

NEW YORK, June 30. Canadian Press. Eight ounce gloves will be used by Dempsey and Carpentier in their match on Saturday. This was the announcement to-day by Tex Rickard, promoter, who said eight ounce mitts were more favorable to the New Jersey Boxing Commission than those of the six ounce variety. Dempsey rules the favorite for the bout in this city although several concede Carpentier has a chance.

ROME IS BACKING DEMPSEY 2-1

KEENE INTEREST IN BATTLE BEING SHOWN BY ROMANS

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

ROME, June 30 (Canadian Press).—Jack Dempsey was a 2 to 1 favourite here to-day to win from Georges Carpentier next Saturday.

The betting was unprecedented for a boxing event. Italians like the races and enjoy staking their money, but ordinarily are off the prize ring.

This match might be scheduled for one of the seven hills of Rome, so keen is the gossip, so insistent the backers of one or other of the fighters.

WANT MORE FACTS TO BLOCK FIGHT

UNLESS FORTHCOMING PROSECUTOR WON'T RECOMMEND INDICTMENT.

JERSEY CITY, June 30.—(Canadian Press.) — Prosecutor Pierre Garven to-day stated that unless more facts were presented to him by the International Reform Bureau, he would not recommend to the Hudson County grand jury to-morrow that it return an indictment sought to block the Dempsey-Carpentier bout here Saturday.

KEENE WINS FIRST GAME

PLAYING IN NORWOOD THEY DEFEAT HOME TEAM IN THE SEVENTH BY 7 TO 4.

A rally by Keene in the seventh, a muff on a fly and some wild throwing by Norwood, paved the way for a win for President Pollard's club in the first game of East Peterborough League play-off for the honours of the first half. The game was played at Norwood last evening, with Alex. Kay and Kevin Murray handling the contest. A big crowd saw the game, Keene having many supporters with them.

Up to the end of the sixth, it had been a pitcher's battle between O'Dette for Keene and "Doc." Green for Norwood. In half of the seventh Keene got three men on, with none out. Green fanned the next two batters. Then followed a fly to middlefield, which was dropped. Bad throwing followed this play, and when it was all over, all three Keene base-runners were home. Green got the third out without further runs.

Norwood tried to get them back in their half, but a double play following a fly to right field held them back. It was the third double play put over by Keene during the game, all starting from right field.

The second game in the series will be played at Keene next week, and if the third game is found necessary, it may be played at Riverside Park.

Eels migrate only in the dark.

CARPENTIER SIZES UP AS WORTHY FOEMAN OF JACK DEMPSEY

French Boxing Champion Shows Superior Class as Well as Fine Physique in Fast Four-Round Bout for the Screen.

Can Georges Carpentier defeat Jack Dempsey?

James J. Corbett, conqueror of J. L. Sullivan, the greatest of his generation, Willie Lewis, for years the idol of the American ring, Jack McAuliffe, the world's undefeated lightweight champion, and Joe Jeanette all agree that the idol of France has more than a Chinaman's chance of capturing the world's heavyweight crown from Dempsey.

They arrived at that decision after giving Georges the critical once-over at his two first ring appearances after his arrival in this country, to star in "The Wonder Man".

Lewis, who ought to know something about it, having given Carpentier the most sensational fight of hs career, does not stop at discussing the possibilities of the outcome of a Carpentier Dempsey meeting. He declares with positive assurance that Carpentier will knockout Dempsey and he is willing to bet money on his dope.

He points out that the French boxer was fighting Klaus, Papke, Dixie Kid and Jeanette when he was in his teens. With the wealth of ring experence he has gained in fourteen years of fighting, and his natural speed and ability, Carpentier should beat Dempsey, Lewis says. And listen to McAuliffe:

'Don't forget that when Dempsey faces Carpentier he is going to look the fastest fighter of the generation makes the fastest fighter look slow And with his speed he carries a wallop that is a haymaker. When he hits 'em he hits 'em hard. What's more Georges is a fast thinker. I think he's causing Dempsey worry right now."

(After watching Carpentier fight four fast rounds in the "movies" it is easy to understand why they call Georges the "Idol of France" after seeing him go through his paces both as a fighter and as an actor Georges is a perfect picture. As a writer said recently he has made boxing truly a manly art of self-defense. Indeed, Carpentier's boxing is about as artistic a treat as the writer has had in many a day, and the visitor from France apparently packs a wicked wallop.

But what impressed the writer most was Carpentier's physique. Although he seems slight in his street dress he looks altogether different when stripped. His massive legs and magnificent back and arm muscles dissipate the illusion af slightness and show the man as he really is, a compact, swift-moving, sure-hitting fighting machine. And after all he is not so much smalled than Dempsey. The measurements in the box accompanying this artice show that.

HOLIDAY GAMES WILL NO DOUBT ATTRACT BIG CROWDS

Two big holiday crowds are expected at Riverside Park to-morrow when Cobourg and Peterborough will play a Central Ontario League game in the morning, and the Hillcrests of Toronto, will clash with the Petes in the afternoon fixture. The morning fixture is at 10 o'clock, while the after dinner engagement will get under way at 3 o'clock sharp.

The Petes are out to stop their slump by two victories to-morrow. They have to win the morning League fixture to stay in the running, while the afternoon game gives them a chance to get revenge for the beating the Toronto gang gave them early in the season.

In the morning game the Petes will be called upon to meet a reorganized Cobourg outfit who will undoubtedly prove dangerous all the way. The game should be a real fight.

In the afternoon the Hillcrests will undoubtedly be tough picking, as Manager Dwan always brings his best line-up for a game with the Peterborough crew.

RING BATTLES OF CARPENTIER

Carpentier's bout with Gunboat Smith was his last important engagement before he entered the military service. He was in England when when the call to arms was sounded, and is said to have hurried across the channel on the first available boat getting into uniform almost as as soon as his arrival on French soil.

Joining the aeronautic corps as a chauffeur, he became a pilot in the aviation corps in the spring of 1915. He flew at the front for 18 months before being assigned to reserve pilot duty behind the lines. Later he was declared physically unfit for flight service because of minor wounds received in action.

By his comrades Carpentier is said to have been a daring flier. For bravery in the air he was decorated with the Croix de Guerre and the Medaille Militaire. The latter award is the most prized that can be given to a French soldier. Carpentier's bravery in flying low over a German fortress during one of the major French offensives resulted in this decoration, according to the official war records recently investigated.

Carpentier's only boxing during this period was in exhibitions behind the lines for the pleasure of his poilu comrades. The only bout listed in his official record about this time is the exhibition with Jean Bicof in 1917. For some time it was planned to send Carpentier to America to box in exhibitions for the Red Cross benefit, but this was abandoned.

HARRISON BACK IN GAME TO-MORROW

Peterboro fans will be glad to learn that "Hap" Harrison has completely recovered and is ready to break into the game again. He will be on hand for to-morrow afternoon's game against the Hillcrests, and is sure to get a warm reception from the crowd for the big fellow's "pep" and hitting ability have been sadly missed.

TWO BALL GAMES FOR SATURDAY

JUVENILES WILL BE SEEN IN FIRST GAME—BANKERS AND GENERALS THIS EVENING.

The Juveniles have been given first place in the double baseball bill arranged for Saturday afternoon. Lakeviews and St. Peter's will play the first game at 2 o'clock, and the Y.M.C.A. and C.G.E. will put on a City League contest at 3:30. Both games should provide good baseball. It has become a habit with the juveniles to ring up close scores. Practically every game has been a battle from the first pitched ball to the last out.

This evening at six o'clock, Bankers and Generals will play in the Juvenile series.

HIGHLAND STOCKMEN FAVOR EMBARGO

Canadian Cattle Usless For Grazing Purposes in Northern Districts.

London, June 29.—The Marquis of Graham, President of the Highland Cattle Society of Scotland, has written to the Cattle Embargo Commission stating that the general opinion of members of that society is against the importation of live cattle. Members of the society consider it desirable to encourage breeding store cattle in the Highlands from native herds.

Canadian cattle are, he said, useless for grazing purposes in the Highlands, and any measure which discourages the raising of some store cattle would seriously prejudice the lives and agriculture of crofters and small farmers.

George Edwards, member of Parliament, supported the removal of the cattle embargo before the commission to-day. The grazing farmer was now seriously handicapped. If store cattle were cheaper it would mean more employment. The good old prime beef, once the pride of the nation, was no longer obtainable.

The first firearms were cannon.

TEST WELL WATER WITHOUT CHARGE

WATERWORKS DEPARTMENT HAS ALREADY DISCOVERED IMPURITIES IN WELLS.

The heavy chlorination of the water is proving effective, R. L. Dobbin, Waterworks Superintendent, told The Examiner to-day. Tests taken at the taps show the chlorination has succeeded in destroying the colon bacilli to a large extent, but citizens should not deduce from this that boiling the water is unnecessary. It is absolutely necessary to avoid an epidemic, that the water should be boiled as long as tests at the Waterworks show heavy pollution, states Mr. Dobbin, even if the pollution is nullified by the chlorination.

Tests of well water in various sectoins of the city have verified the suspicions of the Superintendent that the majority of the wells in this city contain impure water. If citizens who have been consuming well water in prodigious quantities, congratulating themselves on its fine quality and rejoicing in their acessibility to a good well, pokng fun at their less fortunate neighbours forced to use the tap water, could see the results of some of the tests, they would not display such an affinity to well water.

However, one or two good wells have been discovered, and if owners of wells are doubtful of the quality of their water, the Waterworks Department will make tests of the water. A great many have availed themselves of the offer, and there were bottles of every size and shape, from a vinegar bottle to a decanter, filled with well water awaiting tests at the office to-day.

The staff are prepared, however, to handle only a limited quantity, and ask the anxious ones to have paitence, and in due course they will receive the result.

MINISTER'S WIFE DEFENDS SHORT SKIRT.

Anyway, It is for Women to Settle, Not Men, Says Mrs. McIntosh.

LONDON, Ont., June 30.—In an address delivered before the Chesley Avenue Mothers' Club, Mrs. McIntosh, wife of Rev. W. R. McIntosh, pastor of King Street Presbyterian Church, said that the short skirt problem should be settled by the women, and not by the men. Notwithstanding all that has been said against it, Mrs. McIntosh declared the short skirt to be more sanitary and an improvement on the old-fashioned garment, which trailed in the dust and gathered with it all the microbes of the sidewalks and pavements.

LOCAL BRANCH 21ST BATTALION CLUB IS RE-ORGANIZED

RE-UNION IN PETERBOROUGH SEPTEMBER 15TH, WHEN THE KING'S COLORS MAY BE PRESENTED.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Peterboro members of the 21st Battalion was held in the G.W.V.A. rooms last night, when important steps in the re-organizing of the Peterborough Branch of the 21st Battalion Club were taken, and the following officers elected:

President—Captain — J. H. A. Cobb, M.C.
Vice Pres.—Mr. Wm. Harris.
Fin. Sec.—Mr. Olivie White.

Business in connection with the Battalions annual re-union, to be held this year in Peterborough was discussed and the date set for Sept. 15 in commemoration of the Battle of the Somme in which this unit played so prominent a part, when on the eventful morning in 1916 they advanced over the battle-scarred and devastated stretches of Picardy to the village of Courcellette, where they made for themselves a name that will forever rank among the highest in the annals of history.

It is anticipated that the King's Colours of the Battalion will be brough here from Kingston on that date and a public presentation, with the usual ceremony made to the Peterboro branch, after which the colours will be placed of one year, when they will be presented to another branch of the 21 Battalion Club, the various branches being located at Toronto, Ottawa, Belleville, Kingston and Peterboro.

A meeting for completing arrangements for proposed entertainment of the club is called far Friday July 1st at 8 p.m. Every member of the 21st Battalion is requested to attend.

CLOUDBURST HITS TORONTO; RESCUE WOMEN IN FLOOD

THREE TRAPPED IN KEELE STREET SUBWAY SAVED.

TORONTO, June 30.—Trapped under the Keele street subway north of Dundas street in their motor car by a furious flood of water from a torrent of rain yesterday afternoon, with thunder crashing overhead and vivid flashes of lightning darting from the black clouds, three women were hauled to safety by C. P. R. employees lowering ropes from the top of the subway and pulling them up to the tracks above.

Two men were caught in their motor cars under the subway at the same time, but they escaped the flood by crouching on the top of their cars. A truck driver crawled up to the top of the covering over his seat and stayed there until the waters had gone down.

The rescue of the women was bravely carried out. Two husky railwaymen, ones of whom was fully dressed, swam into the stormy water and adjusted the ropes around the women. One of the men had to wade in water up to his shoulders and the other plunged into the water garbed in something like a swimming suit.

The flood followed a cloudburst.

WEDDING BELLS

CROSS—ATKEY.

A wedding which excited a great deal of interest in the locality took place on Wednesday afternoon, June 22, in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Port Dalhousie, when Miss Dorothy A. Atkey, second daughter of Mrs. Peter Mitchell, was married to Mr. Clarence E. Cross, of Regina, Sask. The church was very beautifully decorated with flowers and green arches. Before the ceremony Miss Margaret Flowers of Peterborough, a cousin of the bride, played appropriate music. Mr. Cross was supported by Mr. Norman R. R. Tucker of Toronto as best man and Miss Olive M. Atkey made a pretty bridesmaid.

The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Dr. Geo. H. Smith of Knox Church, St. Catharines.

During the signing of the register, Miss Mona Jaffray sang with much feeling and effect "Until." During the service Miss Flowers played soft music.

Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Margaret Flowers and Mr. Dick Perry of Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Cross are proceeding by the Great Lakes to their home in Regina.

UDY—LIBBY.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at Knox Church Manse at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning, June 24th, when Miss Mary Maude Libby, 477 Parnell Street, became the bride of Mr. Harry Udy, of Peterborough, Rev. J. A. McKenzie performing the ceremony. The bride was prettily gowned in white satin, with tulle hat, and carried a bouquet of roses. Miss May Doherty, the bridesmaid, wore Jay blue organdie with sweet peas. Mr. Harold Freeman acted as groomsman.

After the ceremony, dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, at tables decorated with sweet peas, only the immediate relatives and friends being present. Mr. and Mrs. Udy then left on the G. T. R. noon train for Rochester, Toronto and Oshawa, and on their return, will reside in the city. Many beautiful and useful gifts testified to the popularity of the happy couple. The groom's gift to the bride was a platinum pendant with diamond setting, to the bridesmaid an onyx ring and to the groomsman, gold cuff links.

ROSS—EVANS.

The wedding took place yesterday at the home of the bride's parents, 56 George Street, of Jessie ("Doll") Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Evans, to Alex. S. Ross, of Oshawa. The ceremony, which took place at 2 o'clock, was performed by Rev. Jas. Rollins. The house was beautifully decorated with blue delphinium and daisies. The bride, wearing blue canton crepe, embroidered in grey, with French hat of navy and grey, and carrying Onhelia roses, was unattended. Mr. Walter Evans sang "O Promise Me" during the signing of the register, and Mr. Harry Evans, of Toronto, rendered "Come, Sing to Me," just before the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross left on the 3.30 train for Buffalo, the bride travelling in a suit of embroidered navy tricotine, with hat to match. They will reside in Oshawa.

METHERAL—CROWE.

The marriage took place this morning at 9 o'clock at St. John's Church of Florence Gladys, third daughter of Alderman and Mrs. Jos. Crowe, Brock Street, to Arthur W. Metheral, son of Mr. Jos. Metheral, Aylmer Street. Rev. Dr. Blagrave performed the ceremony, and Mr. R. J. Devey played the Wedding March. The church was beautifully decorated with daisies and ferns.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in navy and beige canton crepe, with navy hat and bouquet of sweet peas, and the bridesmaid, Miss Hazel Crowe, wore pink organdie with hat to match. Mr. Walter Metheral supported the groom. After the ceremony, a dainty wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, the tables charmingly decorated with white phlox, pale blue delphinium and roses. The young couple motored to their cottage at Stoney Lake, where the honeymoon will be spent. They will reside in Peterborough.

Many beautiful gifts testified to the popularity of the bride, among them an electric grill and ovenette from the City Hall staff, and a chair from the staff of the Bank of Montreal.

JOHNSTON—O'BRIEN.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. Joshua Eggleston, on Wednesday, June 15th, when Margaret O'Brien was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Earl Johnston. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. Scott of Omemee. The bride, who was given away by Mr. Eggleston, was cramming in a dainty dress of navy silk, and carried roses. Helen McLean, with a basket of roses, was the flower girl, who was presented with a ring. After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served, after which the young couple departed for a honeymoon in Toronto. On their return they will reside in Cavan.

Alberta Farmers Enter Political Arena

FARMERS READY IN ALBERTA TO ENTER BATTLE

MEDICINE HAT RESULT HAS QUICKENED THEM TO POLITICAL ACTION AND PROVINCIAL ELECTION RESULT IS DOUBTFUL.

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., July 2.—"The Heather is on Fire" was one of the comments made by Col. Nelson Spencer, of Medicine Hat, on the evening of 27th June, when he recovered his breath from the Farmer landslide which had engulfed him in the Federal by-election.

Mr. Spencer was wrong. Had he said "the whole blooming Prairie is on fire," he would have been about right.

But it has taken the week following the Hat by-election, a week of Provincial general election activities, to reveal the truth. The organised farmers of Alberta, quickened in an unmistakable manner by the results in Medicine Hat, have taken the bit between their teeth, have disregarded hints thrown out by President H. W. Wood, and others of their leaders, and are now dashing madly into the storm of politics, so that he is a foolish man who will predict to-day what the evening of 18th July will bring forth. That it may bring forth a Farmer Government in Alberta is a tall prediction to one who is not familiar with the sentiments in rural sections of Alberta, but it is a prediction worth laying away until the 18th July.

A week ago it was pretty generally understood that the United Farmers of Alberta were not particularly anxious to defeat the Stewart Government. It was a sort of tacit understanding that the Farmers would pick out a strategical point or two in each of the Federal ridings, nominate an outstanding man, and endeavour to elect him so that the basis of an organisation round which they could rally when the call goes out for a Federal general election might be built up.

To-day, the virus of the Medicine Hat landslide is working. The Farmers, instead of wishing merely to test their power by a preliminary canter in Provincial politics at this general election, are now evidently determined to exert the power which the Hat result showed them their organisation could boast, and instead of running fifteen or twenty picked candidates, it appears likely that there will be a Farmer candidate in practically every one of the forty-eight rural ridings, together with a combination with Labour, in the Medicine Hat seats.

Some Eastern papers had been telling their readers about the compact between the Farmers and Liberals in the West. Let them revise their opinions. There isn't any compact between the Liberals and aDrmers in Alberta. All there is is a fight, and it promises to be an excitingly warm affair. The Farmers admit they have no grievances against the Stewart Government worth mentioning. They admit that the Farmers have never asked the Stewart Government to do anything which would be for the general good of the Farmers and the whole Province, which has not been done. The Farmers admit they have no platform, and no political leader in sight who would be called upon to form a Government should they win on 18th July. They admit the present administration has been faithful, economical, and honest; but all these admissions do not weigh against the fact that the Farmers have a power they are determined to exert.

Down in Cardston riding on Thursday, a riding which has returned a Liberal ever since the first election in 1915, the Farmers nom-

ALL SET FOR TO-DAY'S "BATTLE OF CENTURY"

(Associated Pres.)

NEW YORK, July 1. — Jack Dempsey, of Salt Lake City, the world's heavyweight champion boxer, and his challenger, Georges Carpentier, of Lens, France, European heavyweight champion, are ready for their "Battle of the Century" in Rickard's Arena, at Jersey City, tomororw afternoon. Only light work has been indulged in by both boxers for the past two or three days during which they have been gradually getting away from the more drastic training exercises.

The largest crowd of spectators that ever witnesed a heavy-weight bout for the world's championship, has invaded Jersey City. For the past week special trains, motor cars, ocean liners and all other modes of travel have been bringing to the metropolis from all parts of the world, the thousands who will surround the ring in Rickard's mammoth wooden bowl. Hundreds of the visitors from the west and distant points are using Pullman cars parked in the railroad yards, near the arena, as temporary hotels. Hundreds more have crowded leading New York Hotels until reservations to-night were virtually unobtainable. Manhattan citizens, too, will furnish a large part of crowd, which will pay to Rickard more than $1,000,000 in gate receipts.

Theatres and other amusement places as well as the hotels, are sharing in the bounty. To-night is "fight night" along Broadway, resembling in a measure the "football night" with which inhabitants of a hundred college towns of the country are familiar.

But a large number of those who will witness the bout to-morrow are far from Broadway to-night. They are the general admission ticket seekers who will pay only a modest $5.50 for the privilege of watching from some distant point Dempsey and Carpentier pummel each other. The general admision pasteboards will go on sale early in the morning. The "early birds" sleep on their feet to-night.

A large percentage of feminine enthusiasts will be in the crowd to-morrow, more than has ever been the case heretofore. The women, who will be mainly in the higher priced seats, wil consist as members of parties, which promise to make to-morrow's crowd the most colorful in ring history. City and state officials will be present in boxes. Men of note in the arts, sciences, professional and business callings are here for the bout.

And all the while United States Revenue ofifcials smile. To-morrow's bout, when amusement taxes, surtaxes and half a dozen other varieties of taxes are deducted, will net the government about $80,000, which is aproximately what the boxers will receive for 12 rounds less of action with eight ounce gloves.

The bout will be a decision affair as required under the laws of New Jersey. This fact has been mainly responsible for the lightest wagering on a heavyweight bout in years. The title can change hands only on a knock out or foul. Odds which made Dempsey a 10 to 1 favorite several weeks ago, have not shifted appreciably, according to Wall Street brokers, with plenty of Dempsey money to cover the small influx of French back which has come from the other side.

Trainers of both boxers in statements to-night declared that the men are ready. Questioned about the cut over the eye which Dempsey received in training four weeks ago, Teddy Hayes, the champion's chief handler, declared that it had healed satisfactorily and that no trouble from it was expected. The camps of both men have been quiet places for the past two or three days. With the increasing vigilance of Manager Francois Descamps of Manhassett, Carpentier might as well have been on a desert isle so far as the desired privacy was concerned.

The nature of the Frenchman's training routine at Manhasset, calling for his appearance in public only twice a week, has surrounded the bout with more uncertainty than ever has been the case before. A sort of mystery surrounds the Frenchman which even experienced newspaper men have been unable to fathom. It has been generally believed that Carpentier has done most of his serious work in private or less camouflaging, only a few days' his real condition. The whole campaign of secrecy, probably inspired by the wily Descamps, has succeeded in making Carpentier the "Man of Mystery."

Dempsey, apparently, almost as fit physically as the day which he met Jess Willard, although it is recognized that a boxer reaches a supreme fighting point but once in his life. Many believe that this point in Dempsey's career was reached on that blistering afternoon in Toledo two years ago. However, he will enter the ring to-morrow at almost eactly the same weight as against Willard and appears just as strong. His footwork and defensive tactics have been sharpened up in the past three weeks by sparring rounds with the featherweights and lightweights on is sparring staff. Overconfidence and "staleness" have been the two main hazards the champion's handlers have sought to avoid. Dempsey, two days ago, ot the eye, was anything but stale. Whether he is over-confident, only to-morrows' action will tell.

Indications point to the fact that it will be a short bout. Carpentier himself expressed that belief several weeks ago. Dempsey enters the ring heralded as the hardest hitter the game has seen. But in Carpentier's righ hand is reposed a 'kick" which, according to Joe Jeannette and other "authorities" who have felt its force, is sufficient to drop the man on whom it lands with full force.

If the bout goes past the fourth round, Carpentier is considered likely to last out the bout and not unlikely to gain the unofficial newspaper verdict. Dempsey undoubtedly has increased his ring cleverness in the past two years but it is improbable that he can cope in shiftiness with the Frenchman over the 12 round distance. Dempsey will weight about 20 pounds more than Carpentier. Ring tradition gives the champion an advantage on that account and many veteran observers of fistic battles here to-night are wisely nodding their heads and declaring that "Jack wil wear down the Frenchman in two or three rounds than slip over the punch."

Carpentier throughout his training, has laughed at the suggestion of the champion's weight advantage. Many men who have watched both boxers tsain are of the opinion that the weight advantage possessed by Dempsey will be much slighter than against some other opponent. For Carpentier's powers of physical coordination his quickness of thought much of which came with his experience as an active aviator in the war and his mental poise, unusual in a boxer, make him an uncommon athlete.

Dempsey will climb through the ropes a larger man in nearly every respect. He is an inch and a half taller than Carpentier. His reach is one inch greater. But Carpentier's neck, usually declared by casual observers to be thin, is well-developed and measures 16 3-4 inches, one-quarter inch larger than that of Dempsey. In all other respects, except in calf measurements, the tape shows Dempsey the larger Carpentier's remarkable lower legs measure 16 3-4 inches as against the 15 1-4 inches of Dempsey.

The ring courage of either man scarcely can be doubted. Carpentier's has been proved in a long series of bouts in which he fought his way to success from bantam weight to the topmost heavyweight ranks in Europe. The bouts in which this young Frenchman met Frank Klaus, Billy Papke, Joe Jeannette and Bombardier Wels, taking as well as giving much punishment tell of his lion heart, as do the war experiences through which he went.

Dempsey's courage in a bout of any length never has been thoroughly tested, mainly because his great punching power has made the average length of his bouts two or three rounds. In the match with Brennan, there never was any doubt as to his superiority, although it went along in slow fashion until the 12th round. However, Dempsey went against tremendous physical odds when he met the massive Jess Willard and the way in which he tore ito the Kansas Giant indicated an entire absence of fear.

It is notable that neither of tomorrows' contestants, in his last bout, gave any real evidence of his true prowess. Carpentier's most recent bout, with Levinsky, was fought immediately after the French man had finished a long circus tour and was in no condition for a top-notch exhibition although he did knock out his opponent in four rounds. Dempsey's performance against Brennan, was below the standard of his previous bouts.

With the exception of the principals and the third man in the ring, little Francois Descamps, the astute manager of Carpentier, will be watched with more interest than any other person in the arena. The whole soul of the excitable Frenchman is wrapped up in his boxer. Several times when Carpentier was younger Descamps leaped into the ring to prevent the further punishment of his charge. Although emotional, Descamps is wise in ring affairs and Carpentier will not lack for acceptable counsel between the rounds.

So New York and its surrounding cities await the battle. Early tomorrow morning, the tide will start to surge toward "Jersey" and the first of the preliminaries will be under way in the great wooden bowl shortly after the noon hour. The throng, with the exception of the general admission ticket holders, probably will be slow in arriving for Promoter Rickard has promised there will be no difficulty in securing all seats that have been reserved. By two o'cock, the crowd will be practically all seated; news writers and experts from every part of the United States will be at the ringside and the "Battle of the Century" is promised by Rickard for shortly after 3 o'clock.

LAKEFIELD PERSONALS

LAKEFIELD, July 1.—Mr. R. C. Strickland of Eel's Creek Ranch, was in the village this week.

Mr. W. L. Ianson of Viamede, was in the village on Monday on business.

Mr. Robert Harrison of Peterboro was in the village on Monday.

Miss Oive Dunford left on Monday for Viamede, where she will spend the summer.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will hold their regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Sherin. The meeting will take the form of a social afternoon and all members are requested to be present.

Mrs. W. W. Leonard was the hostess of a charming afternoon tea on Wednesday. About twenty ladies were present and had a delightful time.

A number of Oddfellows of the village were in Peterboro on Sunday attending the Decoration Day of the Peterboro Lodges.

The entrance Examination are now on and a number of local pupils and others from neighboring schools are writing.

Clementi Lodge A. F. and A. M. were hosts of a delightful excursion on Monday to Stoney Lake. The members of the lodge, their families and friends were invited and spent a pleasant day.

CARNEGIE HAS GIVEN NEARLY $350,000,000

ESTATE TOTALS BUT $22,151,011, SMALL IN COMPARISON WITH HIS STANDING IN INDUSTRIAL WORLD.

NEW YORK, July 2 (Canadian Press).—A highly interesting disclosure was made yesterday in connection with the appraisal of the estate of Andrew Carnegie, when State Tax Appraiser George Brokaw Compton filed his report of the estate.

The disclosure, which depends for its interest entirely upon the new statements of facts concerning Mr. Carnegie's estate and his generosity during the last years of his life, are contained in an affidavit by Elihu Root, Jr., of the firm of Root, Clark, Beckner, & Howland, attorneys for the estate.

The net estate left by Mr. Carnegie according to Mr. Compton, is $22,151,011—not an imposing figure as estates go.

Mr. Root states, however, that during the latter part of Mr. Carnegie's life he gave away three hundred and fifty million dollars, and had the estate remained intact, it would have been the largest yet administered.

IRISH LEADERS CONFER MONDAY

UNDERSTOOD TO BE IN ACCORD AND WILL STATE VIEWS.

DUBLIN, July 2. Canadian Press. Shortly after the release from Mount Joy Prison of Arthur Griffith, the founder of the Sinn Fein organization, on Thursday, Eamonn DeValera, the Irish Republican leader, went to Mr. Griffith's home in Clontarf and conferred with him.

Mr. DeValera also conferred with Professor John MacNeill, President of the Gaelic League, who was released with Mr. Grifith.

The Irish Republican leaders are in general accord and will state their common case at a conference in Mansion House here on Monday.

One hot, muggy day may entirely spoil a crop of beans.

EXPECT ANOTHER AND BIGGER FIGHT

LONDON, July 2. Canadian Press. The Evening News thinks there may be even a greater fight to-day than that provided by Carpentier and Dempsey. It notes reports that as a result of forgeries there are at least five ticket holders for all the best seats, and remarks, "If each of the disputes is fought out on the spot it will be the greatest fight on record."

MINERS RETURN, COMMONS VOTED GRANT TO THEM

OVERWHELMING BALLOT BY DIGGERS TO ACCEPT OWNERS' TERMS—HOUSE VOTES TEN MILLION POUNDS.

LONDON, July 2. — (Canadian Press).—Frank Hodges, secretary of the Miners' Union, issued an official statement in behalf of the Miners' Federation last evening to the effect that there had been an overwhelming vote in the various districts in favor of the striking coal miners accepting the terms of the owners. The men will return to work without delay, the statement said.

The House of Commons yesterday afternoon approved the plan submitted by Mr. Lloyd George, Prime Minister, for a grant of £10,000,000 to the coal miners in pursuance of the strike settlement programme, the money to be applied in helping tide the men over the next few months during the process of wage reduction.

EMBARGO PROBE ENDS SITTINGS NEXT TUESDAY

SEVERAL TESTIFY SMALL FARMERS FAVOR REMOVAL OF EMBARGO TO REDUCE PRICE OF STOCK CATTLE.

LONDON, July 2 (Canadian Press).—Several witnesses before the Cattle Embargo Commission yesterday stated that small farmers favoured the removal of the embargo with a view to the reduction of the present price of store cattle.

Another witness declared that Scottish beef still beat the world and imported meat could never be better.

The Commission adjourned until Monday, when Viscount Chaplin, former Minister of Agriculture, will be the final witness to be heard.

It is anticipated that the Commission will conclude its sittings on Tuesday.

Twenty-one sittings have been held to date, and over eighty witnesses have been heard.

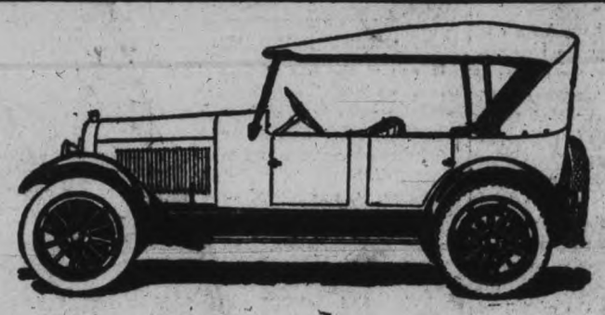
DOUBLE DROWNING SECOND OF SEASON

LITTLE KNOWN OF HOW TWO GIRLS LOST LIVES.

TORONTO, July 2. Canadian Press.—The second double drowning fatality of the season occurred yesterday afternoon when two young women, Josephine Newberry, aged 18, and Maria Foster, aged 18, lost their lives in the lake off Fisherman's Island. So far as the police were able to ascertain, two boys in canoes were the only witnesses. Consequently little is known as to how the tragedy actually occurred.

REID COMPANY CONTINUES NEWFOUNDLAND RAILWAY OPERATION

ST. JOHN, Nfld., July 2. Canadian Press. An agrement for the continuance of the operation of the Newfoundland Railway Lines by the Reid Newfoundland Company, until a new scheme of operation can be worked out is understood to have been reached at a conference held yesterday between representatives of the comapny and the government.



Finely Built to the Least Detail

There is so much enthusiastic comment on the fine Chalmers motor, that other excellent Chalmers features seem to be taken for granted.

But they are worthy the careful consideration of all motor car buyers. For here is a car that is finely built to the least detail. Engineering and car building experience have applied themselves in masterly fashion.

Design and Finish Beautiful

Every element of beauty and style is incorporated in the Chalmers.

The wonderful motor is satin-smooth in its pickup, starts easily, and warms up at once. The car rides with remarkable ease and comfort.

Thus the Chalmers has earned a name enviable among really fine cars.

The Fuel is Pre-Heated

The Chalmers motor has played its important part in winning this reputation. Fuel is pre-heated by the hot-spot. This means greater mileage on gasoline; and very much better motor performance for longer periods without overhauling.

We invite you to investigate the Chalmers and permit us to demonstrate superiority.

THE PAVING QUESTION.

[illegible] accept responsibility as a member of the City Council is at the [illegible]e time to load oneself with some decidedly unpleasant duties. For instance, the deputation which waited upon the Hydro Commission this week and pleaded with that body not to press for the paving of George street south this year must have felt a little conscience-stricken over the request they were making. Last year, it will be remembered, the commission was given to understand that the paving in question was to be done at that time, and they proceeded to pave between their rails, only to find the city's part of the work dropped until this year. And now the Council proposes to again postpone the paving of George street south until 1922, when it is hoped the cost will be greatly lessened. The postponement is undoubtedly in the interests of the city, but the Hydro Commission must wonder a little about the transaction.

THE POWER RATES.

The protest made by the Peterborough deputation which waited on the Ontario Hydro Commission on Wednesday against the increase in the local power rates apparently has been unsuccessful, and the public will have to pay as cheerfully as possible. It is claimed by Sir Adam Beck that owing to the rental charges enacted by the Dominion Government and to the increase in the cost of operation the higher rates are inevitable. Like the increase in the local water rates, the new power charges are particularly unpleasant to the majority of citizens, because they come at a time when the cost of other necessities is dropping, [illegible] wages in many lines have been [illegible]d and when the public is looking [illegible] a return to normal conditions. [illegible] shock to find that a heavy in[illegible]se in the cost of power and wat[illegible] must come now, and the effect will be more severely felt than if the charges for these necessities had been gradually raised during the period when the cost of everything else was mounting.

TEACHING THE BLIND TO TRADE.

Bright new vistas have been opened to blind men by the inauguration o workships in various parts of of Canada. But there are those blind whose inexperience prevented them taking up work at once in the workshops.

A shop was therefore established in Toronto a short time ago where blind men are apprenticed to a trade —such as basketry, netting, etc. When sufficiently expert at their work they are promoted to the broom shop or given the option of either following in their homes the trade they have learned or remaining permanently in the workshops.

The quality of the work is truly remarkable for its excellence; the blind men are independent and earning their own living, and they are happy and contented in their new usefulness.

This work must be extended, and we turn to you, in good faith, for your help. Subscribe to this noble cause and help lift the blind of Canada from their darkness into light and happiness. The Examiner will be glad to receive and acknowledge your donations.

THE NEW ORGANISATION.

With the formation of an Owners' and Tenants' Association in Peterborough, and with the aims and objects of such an Association as outlined at Wednesday's meeting, there is no fault to be found. The organisation can do much for Peterborough, create a deeper interest in civic affairs, keep the Council and Board of Education alive to the fullest extent to their responsibilities, and ensure a better field of candidates at the municipal elections. But care must be taken to see that the [illegible]ciation is not allowed to de[illegible] to a mere amalgamation [illegible]nd fault-finders.

[illegible]any real ser[illegible] and the [illegible] too made with that fact in mind, or the difficulty of getting properly qualified candidates to offer themselves for civic service will be intensified instead of lessened.

The Association has chosen a representative body of officers, a number of whom have had experience in municipal affairs, and appreciate the fact that there is more abuse than kudos attached to positions in the public service. They should be able to make the organisation a live, efficient body that will make its influence felt in this community.

WASTING TIME AND MONEY.

Three months of idleness for the miners, three months of loss of profits for the mine owners and three months of conference and compromise by the Government, draw to a close with the end of the coal strike now fortunately in sight.

If this was the sum total of the effects of the industrial upheaval which has rocked Britain there would be little to regret. But the three months have meant the loss of millions of pounds and the whole trade of the country has received so serious a blow that it will take years to regain the lost ground.

The one lesson of the strike, which has been the most disastrous in the history of the country, is the futile waste of it all. The public has been bewildered by torrents of words and waterspouts of statistics until the real issue was hidden. The miners struck suddenly when the Government announced that the period of control was ended and it was five weeks before the question of wages became a definite issue. Until that time there was a lot of futile verbiage about National or District Boards and subsidies. Then after the wages question had been made the issue it was three weeks before a definite proposal was made by the owners. Then there was a further spell of sparring, of backing and filling with the terms, until the Government issued an ultimatum that the subsidy of £10,000,000 would be withdrawn unless the strike was settled.

There was nothing very surprising about the strike. It arose out of the fact that the nation had been pretending that it was possible to pay wages higher than economic conditions would allow. The laws of economics may be set at defiance temporarily, men may be paid more wages tan a particular industry can afford to pay, but the result is the same in the end, and the difference between what the industry can pay and what employers through pressure do pay, must be made up by the State in the form of subsidy, which is in effect by the body of taxpayers as a whole. It has taken three months for the miners and the owners to find this out and to learn the old lesson that the only funds which the State has are the savings of its people.

The strike was ended practically on Derby Day, when, in spite of the fact that owing to the coal shortage no special trains were run to the course, the crowd was by far the largest that has ever assembled on Epsom Downs, and indeed the largest crowd that has ever assembled to see any form of sport in the world. The public's answer to the coal strike was to "carry on," and the strikers have understood.—Montreal Star.

NEVER SAY DIE.

If you at the age of fifty should become an invalid, flat on your back, unable to move hand or foot or turn your head, would you give up?

All these happened to Jesse Tyler Dingee, of Brooklyn. Despite his handicaps, Dingee carried on a business of a size seldom attained by great men in good health. From his couch, with a telephone strapped to his head, he dictates letters and keeps office forces on the jump in the three business concerns in which he is interested. Successful? After five years of invalidism, he has just bought a $50,000 house. "That's because I still have my head," says Dingee. "I have full use of my mind—which has always been the only really important part of the human body."

Why be discouraged?

Hal Ebring, of Chicago, has been confined to bed for seven years. His left arm is the only part of his body he can move. An automobile accident afflicted him with paralytic nerve shock. Most men would have become bitter—given up the fight. But Ebrig laughed at his handicap. Right-handed, he trained his left hand to handle a brush. His paintings sell for $150.00 and upward each. He also has produced several successful songs and orchestra numbers which he picked out on the piano with one finger. "I'm successful," says Ebrig, "because I didn't lose interest, will power, and ambition."

Why be discouraged?

Harry K. Ronne, sightless and partly paralysed, is known as 'the wonder man" in Lushton, Neb. Ronne went blind in 1902. Then came paralysis. Handicapped, he trained himself to be a telephone operator. He makes conections rapidly. Says no two rings or buzzes sound exactly alike, hence he knows instantly what number is calling. Ronne is successful. "That," says he, "is because there is no handicap so great that it cannot be overcome."

Why be discouraged?

Sometimes the battle for a living makes you discouraged. Sometimes it seems that no matter how hard you try, everything goes against you. Sometimes it seems that you will never get ahead. But Dingee, Ebrig, and Ronne have proven that if you keep the right state of mind and grit your teeth, you can overcome handicaps compared with which your present ones are mere shadows. Pick up your load, brother. To-morrow's a new day.

LARAMIE HOLDS THE RANGE

By Frank H. SPEARMAN.

Laramie knew Lefever to be quite equal to the highly particular job he had assigned to him and that John would give his best to it. Hardly thirty minutes later the raiders rode out of the timber along the creek. Van Horn stopped his pack for a word of warning.

"Look to your guns," he said harshly. "You can guess most o' you what you'll be up against, if there's trouble at this joint."

Leaving the creek, the party rode out on a rarely used trail which Stone told them led to Laramie's cabin. They followed this for some distance, keeping two men ahead as they had done in the early morning. These two men reaching the bench, which at that point had been cut sharply away by some flood, halted. The main party riding up the hill debouched on level ground at the crest and joined their scouts. Half a mile to their right, under a high wall of rock, stood Laramie's cabin. The bench land lying in front of it was as smooth as a table and covered with mountain blue stem. Out of the level ground, a hundred yards from the edge of the bench where Doubleday's party had halted, rose a huge and solitary fragment of rock.

Beside this rock stood a large man facing the intruders; slung over his left forearm he carried a rifle, and his right hand he held well out toward them with its open palm raised in the air. The raiders understood the signal; it warned them to advance no farther.

"What's that fat buck doing up in this country" asked Van Horn.

"Who is it?" demanded Doubleday.

"John Lefever," returned Van Horn, nettled. "What are you doing here?" he bellowed at the unwelcome sentinel.

John pointed a stubby forefinger at Van Horn and returned a perfectly intelligible retort.

"That's not the first question, Harry; that's the second question," he yelled. "What are you doing here?"

This was not in all respects a question easy to answer. But Van Horn was resourceful.

"We're on our way down the creek, John. Rode up from the bottom to see Jim Laramie a minute."

"Just a friendly call," assented John. "Well, how about side arms," he shouted, "and how many of you are there?"

Van Horn looked around him. "Why, maybe a dozen, I reckon, John. You know 'most everybody here."

"How many of you are there 'want to see Jim a minute,' Harry?" asked Lefever, calm but conveniently close to the rock and quite conscious of the delicacy of his position should shooting begin.

There was some exchange of talk before the question was answered.

"Look here, Lefever," roared Doubleday huskily, "what the hell's all this fuss about?"

"Why, it's like this, Barb," returned Lefever, nothing abashed. "When I seen you crossing down there at the forks I thought maybe you'd lost your bibles or something in the creek. That's the way you acted. But when I seen you and Harry Van Horn and Tom Stone loading your rifles in the timber I reckoned you must be comin' up to ask Jim to run for sheriff on the cattle ticket."

Sarcasm could hardly convey more defiance and contempt. The riders realized they had been watched and that deception was useless.

After much parley and protestations of peaceful intent, provided they were treated fair, Doubleday and Van Horn were allowed to ride up to the rock, but not to dismount. "Now," suggested Lefever to the two, "just talk plain business."

"Right you have it, John," returned Van Horn briskly. "The rustlers have got to go. We're looking for Abe Hawk, Gorman and Dutch Henry are lifting cattle now in the Happy Hunting Grounds. We're going to clean out the rest of 'em. We've tracked Abe here. Without any hard words, we want him."

"Then, boys, you want to ride right on; keep on riding—for he's not here. I don't know anything, but that much I do know," asserted the big fellow positively.

"How do you know?" demanded Doubleday grimly.

"I just walked down here from the cabin there's no one there. I rode in here this morning from the Reservation, Barb. A buck looking for horses over on the North Fork yesterday saw the fight at Gorman's—everybody knows about it."

Van Horn showed his teeth. "You're a pretty good artist, John, with your buck looking for horses."

Lefever deprecated the compliment. "You must remember, Harry, I worked seven year for you. Seven year—and then didn't get all was coming to me."

"If you had," returned Van Horn candidly, "your headstone would be covered with moss by this time, John. Where's Laramie?"

Lefever stood with his left hand eagerly extended and appeared as if sensitive at Van Horn's incredulity. "All the same, Harry," he exclaimed, "I can take you to that buck inside two hours' ride and get his story. I've got five twenty dollar gold pieces in my pocket that says so. I'll put 'em up in Barb Doubleday's hands right now against your five."

"A man couldn't pry you loose from five twenty dollar gold pieces if you had five thousand in your pocket, John. What are you stalling around for?" demanded Van Horn suspiciously. 'Where's Laramie?"

Lefever was frankness itself; almost overfrank in his genuine simplicity. Had it not been for his big, blunt eyes and round, smooth face he might have been suspected of duplicity—but not by the two men now talking to him; they knew beyond a doubt that John was "stringing" them. Unfortunately they could not prevent it. He answered Van Horn's sharp questions as innocently as a child.

"That's more than I can say this minute, Harry, where Jim Laramie is; but he's not far, I can tell you that, for the coffee pot was on the stove when I got to the shack a while ago."

"Then what are you holding us up here for?" barked Doubleday with rough words.

"I'm a peace officer, Barb, a deputy marshal." The bursting expression of disgust on his questioners' faces did not ruffle John's candor. "I knowed what you fellows are up to. I won't have any bloodshed here this morning—that's flat. Laramie gets hot sometimes and this is one of the times for folks to go slow. If you want to talk to Laramie come along up to the shack. But send them long horns over there down to the creek."

"Long hell!" spluttered Doubleday.

"Long Horns," persisted Lefever.

Barb growled at the proposal to send the boys down to the creek, and Van Horn objected profanely, but there was no escape from Lefever's stubbornness, except a fight, and this was not wanted. Lefever passed his word that Hawk was not in the cabin, but he was adamant on sending the men to the bottoms and his demand was grudgingly acceded to. In point of fact, John reckoned himself on foot with a rifle equal to two men on horseback, even if Van Horn were one. But not being able to take care of a dozen horsemen he was resolved to have no volleying applause from other guns, if the unexpected should happen on the open bench land.

After Doubleday and Van Horn's following had at length filed down to the creek bottom, Lefever walked beside the two horsemen toward the cabin, and since he could not walk fast and the two refused to ride ahead of him, the pace was deliberate all the way. Nor could Lefever be persuaded even to walked between the two horsemen; he kept them both religiously on the left, his rifle lying carelessly across his forearm as he entertained them with a moderately timed and unfailing flow of Reservation small talk.

But he could not control Van Horn's quick, flashing eyes, and these were busy every moment and every foot of the way with reconnaissance and inference. It did not escape either him or Doubleday that a bunch of horses had been but lately driven over the ground they were crossing, and every trail leading to and from the cabin obliterated this, however, only assured both that their man was close at hand and strengthened their determination to get him in their own way when they were ready. So intent were they on reading the ground as well as on keeping a sharp eye on the cabin itself that they had almost reached it before Van Horn, halting, fixed his eyes on the hills to the left—that is, down the creek, and exclaimed sharply: "Who's that?"

Riding in a leisurely fashion down and out of the rough country to the south, a mile away, a man merging from a rift between two hills could be seen following one of the cattle trails toward the creek.

Lefever after a minute's study answered the question blandly: "I'm thinkin' that's Jim Laramie, right now."

EIGHTH INSTALLMENT.

Hawk's Hiding Place.

Lefever waved his hat at the distant horseman, who also rode with a rifle slung across the pommel and carried his lines high in his left hand. The horseman continued for some moments toward the creek, then looking, seemingly by accident, toward the house he saw the signaling, stopped his pony, paused and, reining him around, headed at an easy pace for the group before the cabin. It was, as Lefever had said, Laramie.

A few minutes later he trotted his horse across the field and slowed him up in front of Van Horn and Doubleday. His greeting to his visitors was dry; their own was somewhat strained, but Lefever took the initiative. "Jim," he said bluntly, "we're looking for Abe Hawk."

Laramie's response was merely to the point. "He's not here."

"Has he been here?" demanded Van Horn.

"Yes," answered Laramie. Lefever at intervals looked virtuously from questioner to questioned.

"How long ago, Jim?" continued Van Horn.

Laramie regarded him steadily. Several times in the last two or three days."

"Was he here yesterday?" asked Van Horn suddenly.

"I was on the Reservation yesterday."

"Has he been here this morning?"

"Yes."

"Jim, we're cleaning up the rustlers," said Van Horn. "Things have got so bad it had to be done. We want Hawk. We've got Gorman and Henry. Now, if it's a fair question, is Abe here?"

"He's not."

"Not in your shack?"

"No."

"Are you willing we should search it?"

"Search hell! What do you mean?" asked Laramie curtly. "Isn't my word good as to who's in my shack?"

"Jim!" Lefever held up a peacemaker's hand. "We thought maybe he might have come in since you rode away."

"Well——" Laramie cooled somewhat, "if it'll do you any good I'll look inside myself."

Van Horn sarcastically demurred: "Don't take the trouble, don't take the trouble, Jim."

"Still he might be there," urged Lefever, "in the way I say; he might 've walked in since you went into the hills—what? No objection to me looking in there, is there, Jim?"

"No man can search my cabin," snapped Laramie. "Have you got a warrant for Dave Hawk?" He threw the question sharply at Lefever.

With Lefever's disclaimer Doubleday interposed a savage rejoinder: "A rope'll fit Abe's neck better than a warrant."

Laramie eyed the old cattleman unmoved: "And you're here to get me to help you slip the noose, are you?"

"We're here to clean out these cattle thieves," stormed Doubleday, profanely.

"There are no cattle thieves here," retorted Laramie undisturbed. "You're wasting the time you'll need on your job. Move on!"

Even Van Horn was taken aback at the blunt rudeness; he pulled his horse around: "Look here, Jim; let me talk to you a minute alone."

Laramie, guiding his horse with his heels, followed Van Horn twenty feet and listened: "Jim, I'm heading this bunch, and whatever troubles you've had with Barb and his friends, now's the time to fix 'em up. They'll give you the best of it. If you've got any line on where Hawk is say so and it puts you with us; say nothing, and you're against us."

Laramie eyed him without a quiver: "I'm against you, Harry."

Van Horn did not give up. He talked again and talked hard. It was useless. Doubleday rode over to where Van Horn held Laramie in deadly earnest confab. Van Horn, ready to quit, gladly let the older man take over the case. But Doubleday made no better success. Laramie could not be moved. If coaxed, he was obstinate; if threatened, impatient—contemptuous. Doubleday, when Laramie coldly refused even to answer his questions concerning Hawk, boiled over.

He backed his horse a step and opened his vials of wrath: "Laramie, you've turned down the last chance decent folks on the range'll ever try to hand you—the last chance you'll ever see to pull away from these Falling Wall thieves. Now," he exclaimed, raising his right hand and arm with a bitter imprecation, "we'll show you who's going to run the Sleepy Cat range. I'll drive you out of this country if it takes every cowboy I can hire and every dollar I've got. The country won't hold you and me after today. D've hear?" he shouted, almost bending with his huge frame over Laramie and beside himself with rage. Then, spurring his horse, he wheeled it around to join Van Horn.

At that Laramie was too quick for him. Almost in the very instant he jumped his own pony after the angry man and, gaining the head of Doubleday's horse, caught the bridle and jerked the beast almost to its haunches.

It was a ticklish instant. Van Horn, with his hand on his revolver, attempted to spur to Doubleday's assistance. Lefever interposed with a sharp move that put him plumply in front of Van Horn: 'Not till them two are through, Harry. We stay right here till them two's done."

The very impudence of Lefever's move had taken Doubleday by surprise and Laramie was hurling angry words at him before Lefever had intervened: "Hold on, Doubleday." Laramie said bluntly, "you can't put your abuse all over me first and then run away with it. You'll hear what I've got to say. I rode this range before you ever saw it; I'll ride this range when you're gone. I was born here, Doubleday; my father lived here before me. The air I breathe, this sky over my head, the ground under my feet are mine, and I stick here in spite of you and your cattle crooks. If men run off your cattle it's your sheriff's business—you own him. And it's your business to run 'em down—not mine. You come here without a warrant, without a definite complaint, and ask me to turn an old man over to a bunch of lynchers! Not on your life. Not today or any other day."

Doubleday interrupted and cursed, but he was forced to listen: "You talk about thieves," Laramie spoke fast and remorselessly, "and you belong to the bunch that's tried to steal every foot of land I own in the Falling Wall. After you and your lawyers and land office tools have stole thousands of acres from the government, you talk as if you were an angel out of heaven about the men that brand your damned mavericks. Hell! I'd rather stand by a thief that calls himself a thief than a thief that steals under a lawyer. Send your hired men after me; give 'em plenty of ammunition. They'll find me right here, Barb—right here where I live."

When Sawdy rode into Sleepy Cat next morning it was known that he had come from the Reservation and he was besieged for news from the Falling Wall. At Kitchen's, where he put up his horse; on his way up street to his room over McAlpin's pool hall, he was assailed with questions. Pretty accurate reports of the two exciting days in the North country had already trickled into Sleepy Cat. To these Sawdy listened with stolid attention, but he managed to add to them very little. He possessed to a degree the faculty of talking freely, sententiously even, without contributing anything strictly pertinent to a subject.

Not until he had bathed, slept, shaved, and set himself down near nightfall at Belle Shockley's did he tell any considerable part of his story. But all that prudence could permit he told, or, rather, Belle demanded and received at his hands. When the heart is involved the strongest men are at times helpless.

"I ran into the bunch on my way down, right at Laramie's cabin," Sawdy said to Belle. "Laramie and Doubleday were having the hottest kind of a row when I rode up. I made sure we'd be shooting the next couple of minutes. But John Lefever was watching them pretty close and holding down Van Horn. Barb cooled down when he saw three of us on deck. I told him on the side the Governor had telephoned Pearson and the Colonel was going to send a troop of cavalry down after them and they'd better scatter. It was a bluff, but for a few minutes I had him and Van Horn guessing. They said they'd go home when they got Hawk. Lefever is staying up there for a day or two."

"Will they ever find Hawk?"

"Did you ever find a needle in a haystack?"

"I never looked for one."

"Them fellows are looking for the stack. They've got to find the needle after they locate the hay. Slip me that Worcestershire sauce, Belle. Yours truly. No more potatoes. This is a good piece of ham, Belle."

"It ought to be; it cost enough," returned Belle Shockley, tersely.

"I wish to God you'd serve a glass of beer with a man's supper."

"You can get all the supper and all the beer you want at the hotel," flared Belle. "This is no blind pig——"

"Then it's the only place in Main Street that ain't."

"And it never will be," averred Belle, indignantly.

"Come up to the hotel with me right now," returned Sawdy coldly, "and I'll buy you a bottle of beer. Bet you ten dollars you da'ssent do it—who the devil—" Sawdy almost choked as the two heard a knock at the door—"who the devil is that?" he repeated. The door opened and Jim Laramie walked in.

He sent his hat sailing toward a side table, stepped forward and, catching at a chair on the way, greeted Belle and her guest and sat down before a plate cover opposite Sawdy. He pointed to what remained of Sawdy's supper and with knife and fork started in: "There's enough for me right here, Belle," he said.

Millions of People Are Suffering

Indigestion, Headaches, Constipation, Sallow Complexions, Kidney Pains, Rheumatism are all caused from a poisoned system, due to the Liver. Doctors recommend that you take one Tanated Calomel tablet before each meal, or two at bedtime, and in a few days your pains will disappears, your complexion will become clear and you will feel keen, bright, vigorous and life once more will be worth living. The wonderful success of this new drug (Tanated Calomel) is due to the fact that it is the only drug known that acts upon the Liver. No Salts or Seidlitz are necessary to remove it from the system, as it is self-illiminating. You, no doubt, have taken all sorts of medicine for your particular ailment, but you never get permanent relief, because the medicines you have been taking do not act upon the Liver. Doctors now say that 90 per cent. of all ailments are due to the inactivity of the Liver. A poisoned system soon decays, and that is why I would recommend that you go to F. C. Webber's, Charlotte street, and get a box.

Health Association Camp At Jackson Park Opens July 5

The Summer Camp which is held every year at Jackson Park, under the auspices of the Peterborough Health Association, opens this season on Tuesday next, July 5th. The undertaking, which is made possible each year by the co-operation of the citizens and of the Red Cross Society in the successful carrying-out of the Motor Show, is under the direct supervision of the ladies most interested in the Health Association. A cook and nurse are engaged, the latter this year being Miss Boyd, to look after the comfort and protection of the children during the two months of the Camp's duration at the Park, and different ladies take turns, week about, in buying supplies. For the month of July, the following will have charge: Mrs. Jas. Kendry, assisted by Miss Marion Harvey, for the first week, and Mrs. A. W. Turner, Mrs. Jas. V. Gallivan, and Mrs. B. Gardiner for the balance of the month. In August, Miss Archer, Mrs. J. A. Aylmer, Mrs. R. R. Hall and Mrs. J. S. Cameron will have charge of this work.

The Camp, which was organized primarily for the delicate and ailing children of the city, makes all sorts of arrangements for the convenience and happiness of its small charges. They are brought to and from the Park in motor 'buses, given a breakfast, a good dinner and a lunch before their departure about 4.30; and spend the day in playing games or in paddling about the creek, always under the supervision of the nurse. A number of the ladies interested in this work are going out to the Park on Monday to complete all arrangements for their little guests, the first batch of whom will arrive on Tuesday.

Vocational Day School As It Might Be Applied Here

Mrs. W. R. Morris has contributed the following information regarding a Day Vocational School under the Industrial Education Act. These are extracts from the report regarding the necessity for such a school in the City of Peterborough. The needs are regarded as being the need of giving to the boys and girls who are to enter industrial, commercial, and home-making activities, and who are able to attend a secondary school full time from one to four years, as satisfactory a preparation for citizenship and for their future vocations as is now provided for those looking forward to professional service.

The variety of industrial and commercial activity in Peterborough and the number employed therein give a substantial basis of local employment for the majority of the graduates of a vocational school. Because of the nature and variety of the work involved, this preparation, while favoring local needs, will not limit the opportunities of the graduates to Peterborough alone.

The economic significance of the adolescent group in a community is a considerable factor. In Peterborough, the 1,000 or more employed adolescents earning on an average of about $500 per year represent an annual pay roll of $500,000.

Courses for boys and girls would include the following: Mathematics as applied to the trades and industries; elementary blue-print reading; mechanical drawing, machine design and advanced draughting; accounting, book-keeping, stenography, salesmanship and secretarial work; machine shop practice and tool-making; electrical work, as wiring, power-stations, power transmission, electrical equipment; industrial studies; raw materials, processes and products in textile, electrical, metal and wood working, cereal products and meat products industries, wood-working, including carpentry, cabinet-making and canoe building; power sewing machine operation, garment cutting and making; dressmaking and millinery; automobile mechanics and welding; applied mechanics, physics and chemistry; patternmaking and at least the principles of moulding; show-card writing and sign painting; theory of textiles, including design; stationary steam engineering; dietetics, chemistry of foods, invalid cookery for nurses in training; home-making, home nursing, cooking.

In the case of the girls, the school's most valuable service will be rendered in providing training, not only for their more or less temporary wage-earning jobs, but also for their future activities as home-makers as well.

Women Auctioneers

Could a woman be an auctioneer? Of course, we all know that a woman can do anything she sets her mind to, in this day and generation, but would a woman make a good auctioneer? Could she stand in the broiling sun for the length of a summer afternoon, and, with perspiration bedewing her unpowdered countenance, expatiate on the remarkable qualities of pepper casters and bureaus in a loud, unceasing tone of voice, finishing up the session in the same good-humored state of tolefant patience and effervescent conversation as the gentleman who orated beneath the orange umbrella the other day? Could she kep this up for any length of time:

"Here you are now everybody look this way, but don't all bid at once. This this beautiful article, a paper holder, cigar holder ,umbrella holder, anything you like to put in it Now, hurry up, ladies and gentlemen, what do you say Fifty cents? Trank you! Fifty, who said fifty-five sixty, you said sixty-five, sixty-five I have, who'll say seventy? Seventy seventy, seventy-five I have, now someone say eighty. Eighty? Yes, ma'am, thank you, and the other lady said eighty too. Now, ladies, it just breaks my heart to have too ladies bidding against each other that way. Eighty-five? And what do you say? Ninety, ninety-five. yes ma'am, thank you Ninety-five I have, who'll make it a dollar. A dollar, a dolar-five, a dolar-ten, a dollar ten and I have who'l say a dollar-fifteen? A dollar-ten I have, oh Ladies, it's a shame, this beautiful article, look at it now look at the other side here. Yes ma'am, thank you a dollar-fifteen. Going, going, gone to that lady there for a dollar-fifteen!"

"Now, ladies and gentlemen, do you see this. There's something to delight your hearts. There's a platter for you! Oh, it's a nice thing to take home to the husband or the wife, is a platter. Look at that now. Suppose the Member of Parliament came to call on you, suppose G. N. Gordon came to visit you and you wanted to roast a goose for him, would you turn him down for forty cents?"

Holding up a nut-cracker; "here you are now, here's something that will pull al the teeth in the city of Peterboro," or a bread-knife 'if you want to cut your throat this will make a good job of it. What am I offered for these two lovely articles, and this tea-pot. There' s a tea pot for you! I'll take fifty cents or seventy-five. but I'd rather have a dollar. Fifteen cents, yes ma'am. thank you. Twenty-five? Thats more like it! Twenty-five I have twenty-five who'll say thirty? Thirty? Now wholl make it thirty-five? Thirty-five, forty, that's right' sir now give me the wink for forty-five. Did you say forty-five? No. Who'll say forty five? Ladies and gentlemen, I'm in a hurry, don't keep me waiting. Yes ma'am, thank you," etc., etc.

A Few Smiles.

"Have you seen the lovely Japanese prints Ethel brought home?"

"Heavens!' Why couldn't she marry a White Man?"

BABY BYRNE.

Has Never Caused One Disturbed Night.

27, York Street,
Sacriston, Durham.

Dear Sir,

I am sending a photograph of my baby Alice, aged 12 months, who has had Virol since birth. Though very tiny at birth, and artificially fed since two weeks old, she has never required medical advice, nor given me one disturbed night. Her weight is now 22½ lbs., and she has nine teeth, which she has cut without trouble. She is a most lovable and happy baby, and I am very grateful for the great benefit she has derived from Virol.

Yours faithfully,
(Sgd.) (Mrs.) M. BYRNE.

Virol is used in large quantities in more than 2,500 Hospitals and Infant Clinics. It is invaluable for the expectant and nursing mother herself, whilst for children it supplies those vital principles that are destroyed in the sterilising of milk: it is also a bone and tissue-building food of immense value. Virol babies have firm flesh, strong bones and good colour.

Women Join In Preparing For U.F.O. Picnic

At the East Peterborough County Convention held in Norwood on June 2nd, the East Peterborough U. F.O. agreed to unite with West Peterborough U.F.O. to hold a joint picnic on condition that "The Big Three," Messrs. Drury, Crerar and Morrison, would deliver addresses.

East Peterborough U. F. O. appointed a committee of three ladies and three gentlemen, who, with a similar committee from West Peterborough, were to make arrangements for this joint picnic.

The first meeting of the East-West Peterborough U.F.O. picnic committee was held in the U.F.O. rooms, Simcoe street, on Thursday, June 23rd at 3 p.m. with Messrs. Shields, Galvin, Smithson and Thompson, and Mesdames Simpson, Redmond, McMillan, Thompson and Miss Pearl H. Petrie present. Mr. Shields was elected president of this committee, and Miss Pearl H. Petrie secretary.

The committee agreed to accept whatever date "The Big Three" speakers can give, probably some time late in July. The picnic will be held on the Fair Grounds at Lakefield, the admission fee for adults to be 25 cents, children free. Cars and buggies will be admitted to the grounds on payment of 25 cents.

A committee consisting of Mr. Shields, Mr. Galvin and Mrs. Simpson was appointed to arrange for convenors of the following committees: Speakers, grounds, refreshments, finanace, transportation, advertising, sports and dance.

Rinso

Soak the clothes—the dirt rinses away

RINSO is not a cake soap, not a chip soap, not a washing powder, but fine granules of wonderful cleansing power that soak the dirt out of your clothes. Dirt is so thoroughly dissolved that it floats away in either warm or cold rinsing water. This does away with the boiler and wash board—it makes wash-day work truly easy and simple.

If You Have a Washing Machine—

Soak the clothes overnight in the usual Rinso way. The cleansing suds loosen every bit of dirt. In the morning operate the machine for a few minutes and the clothes are perfectly clean—even the most soiled spots.

Great Majority Of Women Not Exercising Franchise

There was a popular song which came out some time ago to the effect that "when you get what you want, you don't want what you wanted at all." In some things, this attitude of mind seems to be the case. Take the question of the vote for women. Mrs. Pankhurst and her coterie raged up and down the length and breadth of England for many years, set fire to buildings, smashed pillar boxes, and did all sorts of daring, masculine things in their desire to deliver poor, defenceless women from the stigma of existing without the right to vote. So now we have it. And lots of us don't use it at all. In a recent political campaign in our own town, perhaps 20 p.c. of the women voted according to opinions which they regarded as right, and this is probably a large estimate. Fifty per cent. voted with their husbands, because they didn't think it proper to go against the head of the house, and perhaps ten per cent. voted against him, just "because." The other 20 p.c. voted for their candidate, because he is "such a nice man."

But, to come right down to our own town, where are the women who voted according to their fixed ideas, when an affair of municipal interest comes up. The initial meeting of citizens called for the purpose of discussing the proposed increase in water rates numbered about 10 women in the audience. The meeting on Wednesday night of this week included about 5. And yet women must be interested in these things. The discussion regarding the prices of bread and meat, those household commodities which are primarily the woman's province, heard no feminine voice. One man got up and asserted that it wasn't uecessary to buy bread from the bakers at an exorbitant price, when it can be made for 16 cents a loaf. "I can make bread for 16 cents the loaf," said this gentleman, and whether he was one of the enterprising gentlemen who "keep bach" and was speaking from experience, or whether he regarded himself and spouse as one only, in the Biblical fashion, could not be discovered. The fact remained, however, that the men did the talking about those things in which women are interested.

A COSTLY DINNER.

COBOURG, June 30.—A business man here who wined and dined two stranger girls was found guilty of an offence under the O. T. A. and assessed a couple of hundred dollars and costs. The girls were charged in the Police Court with vagrancy, and discharged on promising to return to their homes.

It was $2.50, and on June 1st, $2.20.

ALBERTA FARMERS IN PROVINCIAL FIGHT

In Some Cases They Will Unite With Liberals on Candidates

CALGARY, June 29.—(Canadian Press Despatch).—The success of Robert Gardiner, Progressive candidate in Medicine Hat Federal by-election, has stimulated Alberta farmers to greater action in the Provincial election, which will be held on July 18, and the United Farmers of Alberta will have candidates in most of the rural ridings. It is quite probable that the U.F.A. and Government forces will unite on a candidate in certain constituencies. For the next week the Farmers will be holding two conventions a day.

One of the strongest ridings for the U.F.A. is at Redcliffe, the seat of Speaker Pringle. P. A. Weederburn, Secretary of Gardiner's contest, will be the U.F.A. candidate.

ULSTER'S POPULATION.

"Those who suggest," says the London Spectator, "that North-East Ulster is an absurdly small Province to have self-government are ill-informed. North-east Ulster—the Six-County Area—had in 1911 a population of 1,250,531. She had almost as many white people—within 26,000, to be exact—as the Union of South Africa. She had more people than the Dominion of New Zealand. She had as many people as Queensland, South Australia, and Tasmania taken together. She had five times as many people as the Dominion of Newfoundland. She had as many people as British Columbia. Alberta and Saskatchewan combined. No one dreams of suggesting that these Dominions and Provinces are not populous enough to have Parliaments and Ministries. Protestant Ulster, with her Northern Parliament is not a subject for statistical ridicule."

HOW LAKEFIELD CELEBRATED DOMINION DAY YESTERDAY

WEATHER CONDITIONS IDEAL—THE PRIZEWINNERS.

LAKEFIELD, July 2.—Lakefield celebrated Dominion Day in first-class style and with non-union honors as the football match, which opened the day's events, was billed for 8.45 a.m., and the town clock struck 11 p.m. when the National Anthem was being sung at the concert. Hundreds of people were in the village, and it would be difficult to estimate the exact number present.

Weather conditions ideal, though very warm for a summer holiday vacation. The street decorations, which were most attractive, were carried out by Mr. H. E. Peacock and a committee of assistants, who deserve great credit. Queen Street was festooned with flags and pennants from the bridge to the Lakefield House. Most of the stores and a number of houses were decorated also. At two o'clock the procession left the Town Hall for the dock in the following order:

The Reeve, the Regatta Committee and Members of the Brotherhood, the Salvation Army Band, the X-Ray Girls, the Trail Rangers, the Navy League Girls, the Firemen.

St. John's Scouts joined in at the intersection of Regent and Queen Streets.

At the dock, motor cars were lined up, wheel to wheel, from the upper end of the Government dock to Brown's boat-house. Crowds of spectators were on the river in all sorts of boats, with canoes (Canada's national craft) predominating. The Regatta Committee spared nothing to make the affair go off well, and the competition was very keen. Reeve J. C. Strickland was chairman of the committee, and filled the post admirably. Messrs. W. Sherin, H. G. Fitzgerald, W. G. Morrison, and J. W. Ridpath were judges, while Messrs. T. Braden and C. S. Tanner handled the megaphone.

The course ran from the Dygnan Co.'s Mill to Brown's boat-house.

The following are the events:

Boys' tandem canoe—1, Jack Ridpath and Sam. Sherin; 2, Kennin Hamilton and Eric Fawcett.

Men's single canoe—1, B. Blewett; 2, H. Blewett.

Mixed tandem skiff (boys and girls)—1, S. Sherin and Jean Ridpath; 2, Jack Ridpath and H. Burgess.

Crab race—1, D. FitzGerald; 2, Eric Fawcett.

Boys' tandem skiff—1. S. Sherin and J. Ridpath; 2, Eric Fawcett and J. Langley.

Men's tandem canoe—1. B. and H Blewett; 2, Andrew Miller and T. Nicholls.

Ladies' single canoe—1, Miss Blossom Mackenzie; 2, Miss Mary Mackenzie.

Men's single skiff — 1, A. M. FitzGerald; 2, J. Langley.

Girls' single skiff—1. Miss Mary Mackenzie; 2, Miss Helen Burgess.

Boys' single canoe—1, J. Ridpath; 2, Sam. Sherin.

Mixed tandem canoe—1, Mrs. Osborne and H. W. Blewett; 2, Miss F. Adams and A. M. FitzGerald.

Men's tandem skiff—1, A. Miller and Dr. Smith; 2, J. Simpson and A. M. FitzGerald.

Upset race—1, B. Blewett; 2, H. Blewett.

Swimming race, ladies—1, Yvonne Stuart; 2, Miss H. Burgess.

Swimming, men—1, A. M. FitzGerald; 2, C. Ridpath.

The Prizes.

The prizes for the Regatta were presented at the concert which was given in the evening in the Memorial Hall. They were presented by Mr. R. A. Hirsch, president of the Brotherhood, and chairman of the Dominion Day celebration. Some of the special prizes were won as follows:

Mr. E. N. Bailey's silver cup was won by Smith in the tug-of-war. The silver cup donated by the Reeve, Mr. J. C. Strickland, was won by Mr. Braden Blewett, and Mr. H. G. FitzGerald's cup, which was given for the most points in the single canoe, mixed canoe, tandem canoe, single, tandem and mixed skiff and swimming was won by Mr. A. M. FitzGerald. The case of silver given by the Robt. Simpson Co. was won by A. M. FitzGerald, who also carried off the safety razor donated by N. W. Leonard. Miss B. Mackenzie won the T. Eaton Co.'s case of silver spoons. The purses donated by Rev. S. F. Dixon were won by Messrs. Blewett.

The prizes were well worth the effort put forth in winning them.

The Mutt, Jeff and Jiggs Musical Comedy Company gave the entertainment, and kept the crowd in roars of laughter for more than two hours.

Special features were the Scotch dancer, little Miss Vera Mitchell, of Toronto, gold medallist in Scotch dancing, and the clever cartoon work of Mr. K. S. Madill. Mrs. MacMillan and Mr. Ralph Payne. Misses E. McIlmoyle and F. Batten contributed solos, and the chorus, consisting of Misses Jean Erskine, Lilian Dixon, Marjorie Hamilton, Etta Bolton, Janet Quinn and Muriel Boyce, did their part splendidly.

"Mutt" and his jazz band were among the funniest things in the programme.

The Concert.

The following is the cast of characters:

A. Mutt—R. L. Mason.
Jeff—K. Junkin.
Jiggs—W. Eckel.
Bud—K. S. Madill.
Maggie Jiggs—Miss M. Quinn.
Mary (Jiggs' Daughter)—Mrs. D. H. McMillan.
Cedric—R. A. Payne.
Prof. Backwoodski—A. M. FitzGerald.
The Cook—Miss E. Hill.
Duchess of Selwyn — Miss J. Erskine.
Lady Magpie—Miss F. Batten.
Sir Sydney—S. R. Sherin.
Butler—J. Ridpath.

The day was one of the best celebrations the village ever held. As it is eleven years since the last regatta, it is the biggest and best day many of the citizens remember. Two of our young men, Messrs. R. A. Hirsch and R. L. Mason, have worked untiringly for weeks arranging plans and carrying out the hundred and one details necessary for such a varied day's programme, and to them belongs no small measure of credit for the day's success. The business men were (as usual) at their backs, as the generous donations of prizes and money proved. Business firms outside the village assisted generously also. From the Reeve down to the tiniest Scout or Trail Ranger, everyone did their best to make the day successful, and the hope of everyone was expressed in Mr. Hirsch's last words at the concert, "Let us make it an annual event."

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE ALLEN.

With more than ordinary pleasure we announce the presentation of "Man-Woman-Marriage", the biggest motion picture of the year, at the Allen next week. A special First National attraction directed by Allen Holubar and starring Dorothy Phillips, this production has been aptly termed a mighty mile-stone in motion pictures. There could be no better name for a picture that is at once a wonderful romance and drama of mother-right, told from a woman's heart, and combined with vast spectacular moments wherein thousands of actors, pagan dancers and barbaric beauties, participate. Untrammelled orgies in the courts of Caesar are contrasted with society life of to-day; the fights of the Amazons of old, who went plunging bare-legged, bare-armed, bare-chester into battle with the men, are contrasted with the fight of our women against the shackles of man-made marriage and man-made divorces. The story is told in nine unforgetable acts, and there is not a moment of them which does not carry heart-appeal, breath-taking thrill, tensest drama, delightful humor, or inspiring vastness.

AT THE CAPITOL.

The Capitol offers a remarkable show for Monday night—a big double feature program Bebe Daniels in "Ducks and Drakes" and Buster Keaton in his new comedy "The Haunted House". A big time vaudeville act Boutte and Carter. From below the Mason Dixon Line, singing, dancing, and talking.

"Ducks and Drakes," the newest Bebe Daniels' comedy-drama which opens at the Capitol theatre for 3 days beginning Monday, is the product of a craftsman long skilled in the art of extracting bountiful laughs from a tired public. Elmer Harris, author of "Ducks and Drakes," was, with Oliver Morosco, author of "So Long Letty" "Pretty Mrs. Smith" and "Canary Cottage"—three of the most popular comedies of recent years. Mrs. Harris has also conceived the successes "Trial Marriage," "The Offenders", "Wild Olive" and "Sham."

"Ducks and Drakes" is distinctive among the Harris plays because it is the first of his offerings which will be first seen on the screen before being given a stage production.

"The very good reason why I released the play for screen use first," explained Mr. Harris recently, "is that on meeting Bebe Daniels I found her such an ideal choice for the central character of 'Teddy Simpson.' I have yet to find an actress better qualified to interpret the 'good little bad girl' role of Taddy, whose recklessness causes all the comedy situations of the play."

The story as evolved by Mr. Harris concerns a young girl who is having her last fling before marriage; who is so active and restless that despite the fact she has a perfectly good fiance, she flirts most outrageously. Her pet habit is calling strange numbers on the telephone, flirting with whatever interesting masculine voice may reply.

When her fiance learns that she has been flirting, over the wire, with several of his club friends, he enlists their aid in a conspiracy calculated to cure the reckless young miss once and for all of promiscuous telephoning. The plot thickens to the point of melodrama, and needless to say, Miss Teddy is properly subdued and marches demuredly to the altar.

HARD ON HER HOISERY

Bebe Daniels, Realart star, says she doesn't mind playing "good little bad girl" 'roles, but they are pretty hard on silk hosiery, inasmuch as she is being constantly required to climb in and out of moving taxicabs, up and down trellises, in and out of windows, and to do other Tom-boy stunts in keeping with her reckless roles. In 'Ducks and Drakes" the poor girl was just in and out of windows, up and down trellises, up on cupboard shelves and down off steep roofs from beginning to end of the picture, and she says the stockings she ruined during the filming of this sprightly comedy almost totalled an amount equal to her salary.

The largest diamond ever found weighed one pound eight ounces.

STILL VALUED AT $25,000 IS FOUND, CHICAGO

SO LARGE HOUSE IN WHICH IT IS LOCATED MAY HAVE TO BE DYNAMITED IN ORDER TO DESTROY IT.

CHICAGO, July 2 (Canadian Press).—The giant still, which the police, said cost at least $25,000 to build, and so large that it may be necessary to dynamite the house in which it is located to destroy it, was being guarded here yesterday by the police and Federal authorities.

The still has vats in the basement of the house that measure 14 by 18 feet, and are 6 feet deep, while the coils ran through the entire house.

Wines, alcohol, mash, and moonshine worth many thousands of dollars, were found in the house, and destroyed.

The still was discovered when a passer-by saw smoke and turned in a fire alarm.

One of the great vats, it was found, was overheated and was smoking.

No one was found at the house, and the proprietors have not been located.

GREEK DEPOT AT SMYRNA EXPLODES

U.S. MARINES LAND TO PROTECT THEIR CITIZENS.

SMYRNA, JJuly 2. — (Canadian Press.)—Several soldiers and civilians were killed and a large number were wounded when a Greek benzine supply depot and a large amount of ammunition blew up and burned here yesterday. Several houses were destroyed by fire which followed the explosion.

U.S. MARINES LAND.

PARIS, July 2. — (Canadian Press.) — A detachment of United States' marines have been landed at Ismid for the purpose of protecting United States' citizens there upon the retirement of the Greek troops, says a despatch to the French Foreign Office.

Rub Backache Away

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or maybe from a strain, and you'll get blessed relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on and out comes the pain. It is perfectly harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.

SMALL FRUITS PLENTIFUL ON LOCAL MARKET

HUCKLEBERRIES WERE DEAR AT 40 CENTS—NEW VEGETABLES FAIRLY CHEAP.

To-day's market was an indication that the summer produce season is approaching its height. Most of the vegetables that are grown in this district were on to-day and the summer fruits are coming in rapidly. There are plenty of variety on the outside market.

In the fruit line there were strawberries, huckleberries, cherries, gooseberries, black, white and red currants. Strawberries were scarce and sold at 25 cents a box. Huckleberries from the north, where they are reported to be very plentiful made their first appearance to-day, selling at 40 cents a quart. Everyone who bought grumbled at the price but there was a fairly good sale of quart lots. Gooseberries were easy to get at, two quarts for 45 cents and red and white currants went at 25 and 30 cents. Black currants were at a premium. There were some nice quart boxes upstairs at 30 cents a quart. Two waggons had cherries to-day, the first on the market this year. Both got 20 cents a quart. One said this was the last week, not a very promising report for those who want to do some canning.

No New Potatoes.

The heat was oppressive on the open market. Any of the potato sellers could have told how hot it was and how hard to sell old potatoes. Fifty and 60 cents was the general price but it was doubtless possible to buy them a little cheaper, than this for the farmers are anxious to get rid of the old tubers before the new ones come in.

Onions, lettuce and radishes went at five cents. Cabbage and cauliflower were 15 and 20 cents. Beets and carrots 10 cents. Green peas two and three quarts for 25 cents. All of this garden stuff was plentiful

Miscellaneous articles on the open air market were young pigs that looked more like "roast pork", than the live animal and for which the farmer asked $14 a pair, young chicks that sold at 20 cents and a patent medicine doctor, who was exhorting with the crowd from the back seat of a Ford.

The basket market was just fair sized. Butter sold at 32 to 35 cents and eggs were 35 cents. Old hens sold at 30 and 35 cents. At 10.30 o'clock no spring chickens were observable, evidently any there were having been picked up early by sharp buyers.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets relieve these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely harmless even to the newborn babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE H.N.S. PICNIC DOMINION DAY

One of the most important local events of Dominion Day was the Holy Name Society picnic at the T. A. S. Park, the first picnic the society has held. Several years having elapsed since July 1 picnics were held, there was some apprehension that the affair might not be successful, but when the crowds of people began arriving in the afternoon all doubts were set at rest, and this first affair held by the society must be recorded as an unqualified success. Boats, commencing at 10 a.m., left the Street Railway Wharf half-hourly for the grounds, and by noon there was a large number of people on the grounds, and preparations were complete for amusing and feeding the hundreds of people. The real influx started about two o'clock, and there was at least one thousand people on the grounds during the afternoon.

If the weather was unpleasantly warm it did not mar the spirits of the crowds in any way, and the sports were entered into lustily. The sultry atmosphere was a business-getter for the booth, and here the Catholic Women's League had their forces principally concentrated. Many women and girls were required to man the large booth, and business hardly slackened all afternoon. Fine home-made sandwiches and pies were sold at the booth, but the supply, unfortunately, could not stand the onslaught the quality induced.

During the afternoon and in the early evening dancing, in charge of the Catholic Women's League, was held in the pavilion. The Melody Three furnished excellent dance music, the floor was in good condition, and the dance was an enjoyable part of the programme to the young people.

T. Cronin was in charge of the sports, assisted by T. DeForge, William McArthur and Peter Milloy, and practically all the events were closely contested. The winners of the different events, with the prizes and their donors, are as follows:

Putting the shot—1, T. DeForge, 525 Patterson Street, 23 ft. 10 in., tie, donated by H. Hickey; 2, J. Leahy, Douro, 23 ft., tie, donated by Harry Thornton.

Men's race, 50 years and over—1, Robert Glover, Brownton, box of cigars, donated by A. W. Clysdale; 2, Patrick Coursey, 565 Romaine Street, $2 in goods, donated by Mr. Wiggins, 195 Charlotte Street.

Married men's race, 100 yards—1, Lavery, 285 George Street, box of cigars, donated by McAuley and Lonergan; 2, C. Thorne, 180 Brock Street, pipe, donated by Louis Yeates.

Young men's race, 200 yards—1, V. Scully, 37 Jackson Avenue, box of cigars, donated by McAulev and Lonergan; 2, C. Harris, 149 George Stret, pair of cuff links, donated by Warne Bros.

Boys' race, under 18 years—1, G. Wolff, 452 Donegal Street, echo harp, donated by Royal Music Co.; 2, P. Scollard, 559 Reid Street, belt, donated by LeBrun Co.

Boys' race, 15 years and under—1, T. Wolff, 452 Donegal Street, flashlight, donated by Grant and Thorpe; 2, F. Sheehy, 751 George Street, running shoes, donated by R. Neill Co.

Boys' race, 12 years and under—1, A. Downer, 149 George Street sweater coat, donated by Dixon's Store; 2, E. Wolff, 452 Donegal Street, bathing suit, donated by Merrill and Meredith.

Boys' race, five years and under—1, George Downer, 149 George Street, kiddie kar, donated by Lane and Eano; 2, Jack Thompson, 454 Parnell Street, baseball, donated by Louis Lebarr.

Married women's race, 75 yards—1, Mrs. P. Russell, 617 Downie Street, clothes' horse, donated by R. Begley, Water Street; 2, Mrs. A. Lazure, 485 McDonnel Street, box of King Polishine, donated by J. J. Duffus.

Young women's race, 100 yards—1, Mary Lynch, 548 Elm Street, box of chocolates, donated by James Lynch; 2, Mildred Butler, 163 Dufferin Street, five gallons of gasoline, donated by Auto Repair Co.

Girls' race, 12 years and under—1, Agnes Lapointe, 222 Wolfe Street, bottle of perfume, donated by James Lynch; 2, Winifred Cadd, 55 Westcott Street, box talcum, donated by Bond Drug Co.

Girls' race, five and under—1, Irene Mills, 523 Chamberlain Street, pair of shoes, donated by J. Kylie; 2, Helen Kelly, 264 King Street, picture, donated by M. McFadden.

Honors for the best all-round baby on the grounds went to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grady. Miss L. Simons and Miss Fallon, nurses, who were judges, awarded the prize to the proud parents for their six-month-old baby, Clare. The first prize was $5, donated by G. N. Gordon, M.P. J. V. Hollingsworth's nine-month-old youngster came second, winning $3 cash, and Violet Goldsmith, two years old, came third, securing the $2 donated by J. F. McCarthy. The baby show attracted a great deal of attention, and the ever-popular award of a fine prize to the largest family on the grounds was an interesting part of the programme. Thomas Lapointe, 222 Wolfe Street, won from all-comers. He mustered eight of a family, and wins a 100-pound bag of flour, donated by the Quaker Oats Co. Although it failed to attract many entrants, a step-dancing contest proved entertaining to the crowd. William Welsh, Rogers Street, despite his youth, defeated James Brady, winning $2 cash, to Brady's single greenback. Peter Milloy and Denis O'Brien were judges of the step dancing.

The prizes will be in the hands of the Caretaker of the Holy Name Society Rooms for distribution.

WEDDING BELLS

McCOLL—DOODY

On Tuesday morning at St. Michael's church, the marriage was solemnized by the groom's brother, Right Rev. Monsignor McColl of Peterboro, assisted by the Right Rev. Monsignor Murray, pastor of St. Michael's, of Mr. John B. McColl, ex-M.P. the well-known and esteemed Cobourg barrister to Miss Cecelia Maud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Doody. Present also were His Lordship, Bishop O'Brien of Peterboro and Rev. Father Corkery.—Cobourg World.

PIDGEON—HAMILTON

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Paul's manse, when Miss Mildred, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Hamilton, was united in marriage to Mr. Alex. Pidgeon son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Pidgeon. The bride wore a suit of navy tricotine with hat to match and Ermine scarf, gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of Sweetheart roses. Miss Doris Hamilton sister of the bride, carrying a bouquet of Ophelia roses, acted as bridesmaid while Mr. H'lliard Pidgeon supported the groom.

They were the recipients of many beautiful and costly gifts, some of which were two beautiful chairs from the members of the staff of Canadian General, a silver plate from St. Andrew's Choir, and a mantel clock from Mr. E. V. Warne The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a pearl ring and to the groomsman a gold watch chain.

After their honeymoon they will reside in Peterborough.

MANLEY—DRUMMOND

A quiet wedding took place at Knox Manse on Wednesday, June 29th., at 1 p.m. when Miss Evelyn May Drummond of Otonabee, became the bride of Harry Irwin Manley of Otonabee, Rev. J. A. Mackenzie officiating. The young couple left on the 3:50 C. P.R. train for Toronto. They will reside in Otonabee.

YOUNG—WHIBBS

A very pretty wedding was solemnized by Reverend Father McGuire, parish priest of St. Joseph's church, Douro, on Tuesday morning when Miss Margaret, youngest daughter of Thomas E. Whibbs, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Frank Young of Ennismore.

The bride looked charming in a gown of white silk tricolette with Georgette hat to match. She was assisted by Miss Monica, sister of the groom, who was becomingly attired in a gown of pink Georgette. The groom was ably supported by Mr. Leo Whibbs brother of the bride.

After the ceremony the happy couple accompanied by several of their friends motored to the home of the bride's parents, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served to about eighty guests.

A very pleasant afternoon and evening was spent in amusements and the following day the happy couple left for a trip to Windsor and Detroit and on their return will reside in Ennismore.

O'TOOLE—MOLONEY

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Paul's church, Lakefield, on Tuesday morning at nine o'clock, when Stephen O'Toole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. O'Toole, of Peterboro, was united in marriage to Bridget Anne Moloney, daughter of Mrs. Daniel Moloney, Lakefield. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Roger Moloney, was assisted by her sister Miss Carrie Moloney, while Mr. Vincent O'Toole, brother of the groom, was the best man.

Rev. Father Meagher performed the ceremony and sang nuptial mass. During the mass Mrs. Elmer Johnson and Miss Lottie Kearney sang appropriate hymns. Miss Agnes Young presided at the organ and played the wedding march.

After the marriage ceremony, the bridal party motored to the home of the bride's mother, where a sumptuous repast was served to 75 guests. In a neat speech Rev. Father Meagher proposed the health of the bride and groom. At three o'clock the bridal party left for Peterboro amid showers of confetti to catch the C. P. R. train for Toornto and Buffalo. On their return Mr. and Mrs. O'Toole will reside in Ashburnham, Peterboro.

The bride was handsomely attired in ivory satin, with tunic of georgette and silver trimming. She also wore the customary bridal veil with a wreath of forget-me-nots. She carried a large bouquet of pink and white carnations.

The bridesmaid, Miss Carrie Moloney, sister of the bride looked very pretty, daintily attired in peach satin, with trimmings of seed pearls, and wore a becoming hat of black mohair. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. The groom was supported by his brother Vincent.

The groom's present to the bride was a diamond pendant; to the bridesmaid a sunburst of pearls and to the groomsman a pearl stickpin.

FIGHT IN FACE ETC.

gathered. It was stationed in the $25 section and kept things lively until the boxing commenced. A small army of newspaper men gathered around the ring. Twenty-five feet away from the ring was a tower for the movie operators, but they were so placed in a tower that they did not interfere with any person behind, not even the $25 boys at the extreme top and back of the enclosure. The arena was well polished by men in uniform and the system of entrances eliminated any confusion. There were separate entrances for every class of men and directions were plainly given to the holder so that there could be no mistake. The arena was much larger than the one at Toledo and the seating better arranged. There was no barbed wire between the different enclosures, but they were fenced off and guarded by policemen so that no person could get anywhere but the place his ticket called for.

The $25 section, tickets for which went on sale this morning, was the first section to fill up, and by noon the ticket sale for this part of the enclosure was completed. Nearly everybody in this section carried field glasses and they were needed, as it was exactly a hundred yards from the ringside to that section. The $10 and $15 sections just below the $5 enclosure, was just as badly off, and glasses were a necessity to distinguish faces in the ring. The hawkers and peddlers had a big day and they sold everything from peanuts to "souvenir cushions." Outside the enclosure one had to run the gauntlet to get away from this gentry, who were as numerous as fight-goers. The $50 seats were behind the Press reservations and extended as far back as in an ordinary baseball stand, so that the "outsiders" were quite a distance from the scene of the fight.

In this section there were many ladies with their scores, and those who arrived early ate sandwiches and drank "pop" for their lunches.

The contestants for the first bout entered the ring at 12.15, which was somewhat ahead of the scheduled time, but Matchmaker Leo P. Flynn stated that he wanted to give the waiting crowd some action, and did not want to take a chance of the preliminaries entering into the preparations for the main encounter.

"All be seated," was the slogan as the first bout commenced. It was an 8-round bout between Irish Johnny Curtain of Jersey City and Mickey Delmont of Newark at 122 pounds.

At the end of each round a boy, holding aloft a placard bearing the number of rounds, walked around the ring so as to keep the crowd informed.

The gong could be distinctly heard at the end of the round, so there should be no trouble on that score this time in the big bout.

There were several hundred Torontonians scattered through the enclosure, though the most of them were in the expensive section. These also delayed buying their seats until their arrival in New York, and got the best of it, as they were able to purchase genuine $50.00 seats for $45.00 and $40.00 from speculators who had loaded up with them and had them left on their hands when the alarm was sprung about the counterfeit tickets.

There were all sorts of celebrities in the vast throng, and it was a difficult matter to identify them because of the size of the arena.

Entering a limousine, Carpentier started for the arena immediately after leaving the yacht. He was escorted by mounted police.

Dempsey sneaked into the arena without being observed by the fans. There was not a sound when he entered and walked to his dressing-room.

There was little or nothing in the Tunny-Jones fight. Jones made a few wild swings, but failed to connect. Tunny landed a couple of left jabs in the second round, and Jones missed several times.

The referee stopped the fifth preliminary to save Jones from further punishment in the seventh round. Tunny hit him with everything he had.

Last minute opinions at the ringside made Dempsey a 3 to 1 favourite. Opinions are from one to five rounds for the length of the fight.

French sporting writers sitting beside me predict a great upset in Dempsey's calculations.

At 2.50 the fans became restless, stood up in their seats, and refused to accept the orders to sit down.

Tommy Gibson, the St. Paul contender for the heavyweight championship, came to the ringside, and announced that he would formally challenge the winner of the main bout.

Georges Carpentier arived here shortly after noon for his "battle of the century" with Jack Dempsey. The contender was hurried from the yacht which carried him from his Manhasset, L.I., training camp.

CARPENTIER BETS $10,000.

Carpentier and his manager have bet $20,000 on their chances against Dempsey. Georges put $10,000 in Dan McKettrick's hands to be placed on himself at the best obtainable odds. "I might as well have some of the money the sportsmen are offering against my chances," he said.

Descamps put up a similar sum, according to Paris cables.

Old timers called it a packed house of 90,000 the largest in American boxing history.

Metranga fell across the ring in the fifth round of the fight with Herman, and the referee gave Herman the decision.

Burns won the popular decision over O'Gatty in the eighth round, third bout.

At 1:30 the rain had ceased, and the clouds were passing over. It was very sultry and the crowd began to pull off raincoats.

The fight killed off the International league game between Newark and Jersey City. The players refused to report. The game was officially postponed.

At 2:15 the crowd was almost all in the arena. It was exceptionally well handled.

The fourth preliminary between Duck Griffin and Beny Castor, bantamweight, was stoped by the referee in the sixth round after Castor had gone down twice.

Griffin was given the decision.

Gene Tunney, lightweight champion of the United States army then met Soldier Jones, Toronto, C.E.F. Danny Sulivan was the referee. The soldier boxers did not get much of a hand from the crowd.

At 2:39 Dempsey arrived in the arena.

DEMPSEY KNOCKS CARPENTIER OUT

the break Carpentier danced away and then landed a hard right to head. Carpentier resumed retreat, but came in with left and right leads, missing both, clinch. Carpentier hooked left to head, and in a clinch Dempsey uppercutted with the left. Carpentier landed left and right to head, staggering Dempsey, repeatedly, and as Dempsey came in he uppercut three times with right, but Dempsey came back and split Carpentier's left cheek with a short right. Carpentier retreated with Dempsey in pursuit and fought continuously for a clinch. Carpentier tried two left jabs and a right swing. Dempsey shifted and missed with right. Carpentier tried right for the body and left for the head, but missed clinch. Carpentier's round.

Dempsey was almost out in the middle of this round. Carpentier rocked him and he hung up against the ropes with his guard down, taking rights and lefts to the jaw. He recovered quickly and the Frenchman seemed to lose a little heart.

Third Round.

Dempsey bored in, Carpentier dancing away. Carpentier landed a right to the head, but it was too high. Carpentier returned the compliment. Carpentier missed the first right. Carpentier then uppercut twice to the face and missed on the third time. In a clinch Demsey pounded head and body with both hands. Carpentier missed another right and almost fell to the floor. Dempsey missed a left hook to the head and landed with the same blows, clinch. Both beat body. Dempsey pounded head with left and right, staggering Carpentier. Dempsey jabbed Carpentier's face, clinch. Carpentier missed left and right to head, clinch. On the break, Carpentier danced away and missed with both hands. In close they pummelled without damage. Ten seconds before the bell Dempsey landed two lefts and two rights to the head that jarred the Frenchman. Dempsey's round.

Fourth Round.

Carpentier retreated. Dempsey caught him and pounded head and body with right and left, but could not find the mark. Dempsey uppercut with right to the face, but on the break Carpentier leaped in with a right to the head. Dempsey floored Carpentier with a right to the jaw. Carpentier seemed to be losing steam, his blows lacked force and he was visibly tiring. He missed frequently. Two of his vicious rights bounded off Dempsey's head. The knockout came one minute and sixteen seconds after the gong started the fourth round.

Mr. Joe Sanderson, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Toster, Schumacher, has returned to his home in Toronto.

Women's 35c Summer Undervests, 3 for 59c

They are Swiss ribbed and have a lisle finish. Sleeveless style with snug-fit shoulders and a draw tape at the neck. Obtainable in regular and O.S. sizes. A decided reduction for Saturday night buyers.

Yard-Wide, $1 White Habutai Wash Silk, 69c Yd.

This is by far the lowest price of the year for this good quality Habutai Silk. It has splendid wearing qualities—this we know from the experience of those who purchased some early in the season. Its color is ivory white.

200 YARDS

Natural Shantung Raw Silk, 45c Yard

There is nothing different about this Silk, except that it is lower in price. The quality is the same, that we have sold so much of all season. The width is between 32 and 33 inches.

Heavy Quality White Flannelette, 15c Yd.

It is a Canadian Flannelette with a soft combed finish. The width is 27 inches. Because we have only about 400 yards of it we will only be able to allow fifteen yards to one customer.

BLACK, WHITE OR BROWN

Boys' and Girls' Ribbed Hose, 3 Pairs 49c

They must be good value for we have sold hundreds and hundreds of pairs. There are all sizes from 6 to 9½. At this price you buy them at about 16c a pair.

VETERANS ATTEND HASTINGS FUNERAL

PAID LAST RESPECT TO ALBERT SHERWIN, DROWNED AT HASTINGS.

HASTINGS, July 1.—The funeral of the late Albert Sherwin, who was drowned in the Trent on Wednesday evening, was held this morning from his late residence on Front street and was under the direction of the Orangemen and returned soldiers. The cortege was a very large one, the Orangemen, G. W. V. A. and fellow employees of the Hastings tannery marching with slow and solemn tread as they followed the remains of a brother and comrade to his last resting place in the Trent Valley Cemetery. Arriving at the grave the last post was played, the Orange Lodge performed the last sad rites and all that was mortal was laid to rest in the silent tomb.

The floral tributes consisted of a very beautiful crescent set in a basket of flowers from the Hastings Tanning Co., a wreath from the local Orange Lodge, a wreath from the G.W.V.A. and several bouquets from friends, showing in some degree the high esteem in which deceased was held by all with whom he associated. Sympathy is expressed from every side for the young wife and three small children who to-day are mourning the loss of a very devoted husband and father.

Cleaned up in Sports

Dominion Day was duly observed by the citizens by some very interesting games, which were enjoyed by a large crowd of spectators. The lacrosse game between Peterboro and Hastings was very interesting and resulted in a score of 18-1 in favor of the locals.

The home boys also were the winners in the baseball game between Campbellford and the locals, the score standing 18-8 at the close of the game.

Naturally the home boys are feeling quite elated over their victories over such good competitors. The day was excessively warm but their spirits were in keeping with the weather.

Mr. Earl Hinton of Wooler, is spending his mid-summer vacation under the parental roof.

Mr. and Mrs. Green of Trenton, are guests of their daughter, Mrs. Albert Sherwin.

Mrs. Geo. Hormel of Campbellford, spent the holiday, with friends here.

Miss Handore of Toronto, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. German.

Miss Mae Hinton of Dutch Line, Percy, is holidaying with her parents Rev. L. M. and Mrs. Hinton, parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. John Armour of South Monaghan spent the holiday renewing acquaintances in Hastings

Mrs. Victor German has returned from Michigan where she visited friends and was the guest at a large family re-union.

Mr. Tom Hill of Toronto, is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hill, Albert street.

Miss Ivy Shorter of Toronto, is the guest of her friend, Miss Jessie Wilcox.

Mr. Jas. Stevenson senior, is visiting friends in Peterboro.

Miss Kelly of the Separate School staff, is spending her vacation at her home in Markdale.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Thomson have gone for a two weeks motor trip to Western Ontario.

Mrs. Thos. Richardson is on a visit to friends in Guelph.

Mrs. F. Blake is with friends in Roseneath.

Miss McCleary of Greenwich, Conn. a one time resident of Hastings has been renewing acquaintances in town.

inated a candidate to contest the seat against Martin Woolf, Deputy Speaker, and the burden of the chairman's address to the convention was that the Farmers now have a strong organisation, and they want "direct representation."

The Farmers have named candidates or will do so in practically every riding south of Calgary. General Stewart, of the Opposition, will not be opposed in Lethbridge, but tacit Farmer support will be given to Labour if the Labour men name a candidate.

Hon. A. C. McLean, Minister of Public Works, who sits for the Taber riding, an old-timer who punched cows in Southern Alberta thirty years before the United Farmers were heard of, and who farms on a most extensive scale in several parts of the Province, is to be opposed, a convention having been called at Taber for Tuesday in Warner.

Frank Leffingwell, chairman of the Agricultural Committee of the Legislature, who also farms on a large scale, will be opposed, and it is the same right through to the top of things away up in the Peace River seat where D. M. Kennedy, of Waterhole, was nominated a couple of days ago.

Here in Southern Alberta, the cry of the farmers for the past two years had been for irrigation extension. At the last session of the Legislature the Government of Alberta went to the extent of the full guarantee of the bonds of farmers' irrigation districts, so that irrigation projects could be financed. This policy is far in advance of anything ever done for circulation by the State in any of the Western States of the Union, but at the Cardston Farmer convention, the statement was repeatedly made that the U. F. A. had "forced" the Government to adopt the policy of the guarantee of irrigation bonds, and there was, therefore, nothing to be thankful to the Government for. All of which goes to show that the Alberta general election will be a campaign of surprises.

The Conservative opposition, except in the cities, has vanished as if by magic, and it will be a straight Government-Larmer fight in practically every rural seat. It will be a hot contest.

The Farmers are not all against the Government. There are many who believe that the entry of the organisation into the realm of Provincial politics where there is no great economic issue at stake, as is the case with the tariff in Federal politics, will result in the wrecknig of the U. F. A. within five years.

This is just another of the predictions which are being freely made since the campaign started.

The District of Columbia had a far greater excess of females than any state. Its ratio being only 87 males to 100 females, and Nevada had 148.4 males to every 100 females, the highest ratio of any state.

ASKS COUNCIL TO RECONSIDER SCHOOL MATTER

Mrs. (Dr.) Wood, of Syracse, N.Y., is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Atkinson.

Miss Helen Haig is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr and Mrs. Thos. Haig.

Lieut. Davidson is taking a ring party to-day to Hastings to attend the funeral of Mr. Bert Shewin, who was accidentally drowned while out canoeing. The funeral will be under military auspices.

Mrs. Martinson, of Port Cosorne, is visiting her parents, Mr. an Mrs. Jas. Sloggett.

A large number from town and vicinity are celebrating the holiday in Port Hope.

Re-open School Questio.

At a special meeting of the Board of Education, held on Wednesday evening, it was decided to wait upon the Council at the next meeting and ask a reconsideration of the High School question. The schedule of salaries for public school teachers was raised, making the sole from $800 to $1,000.

Dominion Day Visitors.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis and little daughter, Lorna, leave today for a month's visit with Mrs. Davis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rusbrook, at Markham.

Mr. Gordon Cochrane, of Toronto, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cochrane.

Mr. J. W. Newson, of Carleton Place, is renewing old acquaintances in town.

Mr. E. Diamond, of Toronto, is visiting his brother, Mr. W. A. Diamond, and other friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Church and baby, Betty, of Orillia, also Mr. Ray Hoover, are visiting at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hoover.

Mr. Joseph White, of Peterborough, spent the holiday in town.

Mr. Harry Turner, of South America, who has been visiting at his home here, spent Friday in Belleville.

Dominion Day was rather quiet in town, picnics being the order of the day. The Baptist Sunday School had a most enjoyable outing at Percy Boom, and several picnic parties spent the day at Trent River.

Miss Beatrice Borland left to-day for Toronto to complete her course in domestic science at the summer school.

Miss Edith Abar, who has been teaching at Westwood, is home for the vacation.

Miss Gladys Costley, who has been teaching near Bath, is home for the vacation.

Miss Elsie Smith, who was attending Peterborough Normal School, is home for the vacation.

Jewison—Lawrence.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at ten o'clock Friday, July 1st, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lawrence, Campbellford, when their eldest daughter, Miss Hazel Kathleen, was united in marriage to Mr. Jeffrey William Jewison, eldest son of Mr and Mrs. J. Jewison, Bailieboro. The young couple were unattended the bride being given away by her father, Capt. Rev. H. B. Kenny officiating.

After the wedding lunch was served to the immediate relatives present. Mr. and Mrs. Jewison left amid showers of rice and confetti, on the 1.40 train for Toronto. They will reside in Bailieboro.

CAMPBELLFORD WON EASILY FROM PETERBORO 14-1

CAMPBELLFORD, July 1.. — Good goal-keeping was a feature of this afternoon's intermediate O.A.L. A game in which Campbellford won from Peterborough by the score of 13 goals to 1. Fred Goodfellow for the visitors and Pat Kelly in the local nets gave exceptionally good exhibitions, with Goodfellow getting the bulk of the work. The final score was wide, but Peterborough had a larger share of the game than the count shows. Play was fast in spite of the mid-summer heat, and Campbellford's combination was effective at all stages. Goodfellow made some wonderful stops, three of them coming in quick succession in the last period. Kelly had stopped some hot shots from Todd and McCoy and delighted the crowd by his work. Jim Kerr and Abe Jacobs broke even in the scoring, each getting four goals, and Harte had two. Todd got Peterborough's only goal shortly after the second quarter started. The teams were as follows:

Campbellford.		Peterborough.
Kelly	Goal	Goodfellow
Thomas	Point	Dillon
Montgomery	Cover	Wallace
Gannon	1st Defence	Webb
Mitchell	2nd Defence	Thirnbeck
Farrel	Centre	Natress
Jacobs	2nd Home	Tudhope
Harte	1st Home	Halpin
Kerr	Outside Home	Todd
Johnson	Inside	McCoy
Weston	Subs.	Donovan
Sanders		Brown
Blute.

Refree—J. Creighton of Peterborough.

The game was clean nad the best of feeling prevailed between the two teams. The penalties handed out were to Harte, Thirnbeck, Todd and Halpin.

CRITICISM AND REMINISCENCE

(By PATERFAMILIAS)

CANADA UNITED TO HAVE AND TO HOLD.

How many of us who observed the holiday yesterday, in town, out of town, or in the seclusion of our home surroundings, paused to think for one moment exactly what 'twas all about? Year by year we Canadians look forward to the first of July as a time for licensed national merry-making and jollity, but how often do we give a passing thought to those grand old statesmen who 54 years ago on July first laid the foundation stone for a greater Canada and a Canadian nation arising out of the cementing together of a divided race of colonists, and the establishment of a Federal Parliament for the governing of four confederated Provinces? Of all Canada's holidays—and there are enough of them—this annually recurring Dominion Day of ours has the greatest significance in that it is the birthday of an adult Canada which has now discarded the swaddling clothes of colonial dependence that she might develop and expand on broader national lines, although at the same time holding loyal allegiance to the Motherland which gave her being.

The Lion's Cubs.

We celebrated yesterday that birthday which united the peoples of Upper and Lower Canada (Ontario and Quebec), Nova Scotia and New Brunswick into one Dominion, from which there went forth overseas the old British lion's cubs to fight the descendants of Huns as members of citizen armies of a great Canada and a glorious nation which will not be denied, militarily, commercially, industrially or agriculturally. (Prince Edward Island, British Columbia, Rupert's Land and the Northwest Territories came along later like good little boys and joined the family pact).

Far-Seeing Wisdom.

We rejoiced yesterday and were exceedingly glad that the Fathers of Confederation had in their far-seeing wisdom constituted a Parliament at Ottawa, composed of representatives of a Canada united to have and to hold the heritage of their forefathers, to legislate on questions which offect this great British Dominion as a whole, while at the same time to permit of Provincial Legislatures controlling all matters of local interest.

Prone To Forget.

Now there is very little in this reminiscence that we have not all been taught in school; but, you know, in this day and generation, at school, college or university, students are so jolly well crammed with subjects they'll never resort to in after-life, that on launching forth into the world on their own hook they immediately proceed to forget a full measure of the oceans of advanced education absorbed, in many instances against their well. And in the seeping out process, sometimes there escapes the memory of an over-ladened brain—with dead languages, perhaps—a little of such knowledge as every one should retain. And so, lest we forget what Dominion Day really signifies, it will, perhaps, not be accounted untimely just now to recall a little of that Canadian history which in truth proved so momentous for this Canada of ours:

B. N. A. Act.

The British North American Act, by which the then Canadian Provinces were united, was passed on March 29th, 1867, by the Imperial Parliament, and was consummated in Canada when the new Federal Parliament was opened at Ottawa by Governor-General Lord Monck on July 1st, of the same year, which day has been since and always will be observed as a national holiday. Under this B. N. A. Act the House of Commons was to be elected by the people for a term of five years.

Rupert's Land came into the confederation during the first session of the Dominion Parliament, and so did the Northwest Territories. The Province of Manitoba was formed in 1870, and subsequently admitted into confederation, British Columbia followed in 1871, and Prince Edward Island in 1873. Newfoundland still remains in befogged isolation.

The First Premier.

Sir John A. Macdonald, first Premier of the Dominion, was knighted for his services in connection with the confederation movement.

In 1905 Alberta and Saskatchewan were formed into Provinces from the Northwest Territories, with representatives at Ottawa. The Yukon found its being in 1896, and later was granted representation in the House of Commons.

Fathers of Confederation.

And now let us for a moment take a glance, retrospectively, at those men who constituted the Fathers of Canadian confederation, a dream long in the minds of leading men in Upper Canada, and its realization urged early in the 18th century by Sir John Beverley Robinson, and later by John A. Macdonald, George Brown (of The Globe), Oliver Mowat, William McDougall, together with Alexander T. Galt and Sir Alexander Campbell. But responsible for the actual consummation of the idea of union of Provinces in conformity with the advocacy of these statesmen, the Fathers of Confederation were 34 in number, as follows:

Hewitt Barnard, Secretary; W. A. Henry, Nova Scotia; E. Palmer, Prince Edward Island; W. H. Steeves, New Brunswick; Charles Fisher, New Brunswick; Edward Whalen, Prince Edward Island; Col. John Hamilton Gray, Prince Edward Island; George Coles, Prince Edward Island; Ambrose Shea, Newfoundland; F. B. T. Carter, Newfoundland; Samuel Leonard Tilley, New Brunswick; J. C. Chapais, Canada; E. B. Chandler, New Brunswick; Alexander Campbell, Canada; Adams G. Archibald, Nova Scotia; Hector Langevin, Canada; John A. Macdonald, Canada; George Etienne Cartier, Canada; Etienne Paschal Tache, Canada; George Brown, Canada; Thomas H. Haviland, Prince Edward Island; Alexander T. Galt, Canada; Peter Mitchell, New Brunswick; Oliver Mowat, Canada; J. Cockburn, Canada; R. B. Dickie, Nova Scotia; Charles Tupper, Nova Scotia; J. H. Gray, New Brunswick; W. H. Pope, Prince Edward Island; William McDougall, Canada; Thomas O'Arcy McGee, Canada; A. A. Macdonald, Prince Edward Island; J. McCully, Nova Scotia; J. M. Johnson, New Brunswick.

("Canada" in the above means what is now known as Ontario and Quebec).

These men met in conference in the Parliament Buildings of Quebec, the historic capital of New France.

While Newfoundland is still outside of Canada, you will note its representatives are recorded as members of the confederation group.

Keep Memory Green.

It is the memory of the foregoing truly great Canadians and their far-reaching Canadian act in consolidating a divided British territory that has resultingly given birth to a coming race among "world-leading" nations, which we endeavour to keep forever green by such holidays as that of yesterday.

Suffered a Shock.

But, in looking up data regarding Dominion Day, I suffered somewhat of a shock at finding that a History of the Nineteenth Century, for which I paid quite a respectable figure in cash, all but passes by the confederation of Canadian Provinces. (The work is an American one, of course—perhaps you'd sense that fact without my telling you). Apparently the author had not thought the event worth indexing; however, I did eventually discover ten miserable lines side-headed "Home Rule in Canada," followed by rather a lengthy paragraph on Fenian activities in Ireland and England, while one could not miss his records of the rebellions in Canada, which he seemed to fairly gloat over.

In contradistinction, there was not the slightest trouble in unearthing in this "history" a record o the confederation of the German States. It is all there, as large as life—strikingly indexed—together with an explanation of the German constitution. Poor, misguided author, it is not to be expected that he could foresee the time would come when this 'British" confederation of Canada which he buried so carefully would be daily accorded in his own nation's leading papers' front page display stories of Canadian doings with an emphasis on the "Canadian," if you please. And how should he know that the sons of that confederated Canada he evidently did not think worth while, would in 1914, '15 and '16 show the sons of his confederated States of America the way overseas to fight a "common" menace arising out of the confederated States of Germany. But, perhaps, this historian was, or is, in that class of "so-called" Americans who eventually suffered a rude awakening at the hands of loyal-hearted Americans to the fact that after all the United States is not dominated by twisters of the lion's tail or that of her cubs' either.

Not a Serious Thought?

Since confederation in 1867 Canada has grown in national and international importance, increased her wealth, industries, capital invested and agricultural production, to say nothing of winning the respect and admiration of the whole civilized world by her successfully armed defence of that individual and collective freedom which all English-speaking races will fight for. But for all that, how many of us who made merry or rested yesterday, Canada's national birthday, like the author of the History of the Nineteenth Century referred to, failed to recognize the real significance of this great Dominion's confederation, and gave the day no serious thought?

DEVONSHIRE AND BYNG WILL MEET IN MID-ATLANTIC

WARM WELCOME TO BE EXTENDED TO NEW GOVEANOR-GENERAL.

OTTAWA, July 2.—(Canadian Press).—Once every five years the people of Canada bid an affectionate farewell to a Governor-General, and with a great warm heartedness immediately welcome the incoming representative of His Majesty, the King. In that welcome there is much of form and ceremony, curiosity and red tape, but under it all there lies a tremendous desire to assure the new Governor-General that he is right welcome. Perhaps history will never record a more determined attempt to make a Governor-General feel "at home" than the welcome that will be extended to Baron Byng of Vimy, soldier and statesman and the popular and honored leader of the Canadian Corps in France and Flanders.

The ships bearing His Excellency, the Duke of Devonshire, to England and Lord Byng to Canada will, as is usual, pass in mid-ocean. With the arrival of Lord Byng at the port of debarkation—either Halifax or Quebec—the serious business of installing the new Governor-General will commence. The docks will be lined with troops, flags will fly, guns from the harbor forts will thunder forth their salute. It is not a simple ceremony. It is governed by the rules of procedure and the table of precedence.

BOOTLEGGERS CAPTURED AND CARGO SEIZED

They Run into Blind street and Upset; Two Children in the Auto

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 30. A three-mile race between bootleggers and Provincial Police officers late last nght ended in the wrecking of the former's car and the seizure of 50 gallons of pure alcohol and the car. Two children, a boy and a girl, were found in the car and were taken to the Children's Shelter here.

The auto was sighted at Chippawa and ordered by the Provincial officers to stop. Instead of complying the bootleggers put on speed and tried to get away. The officers got into a car and stiff chase resulted.

The police car was not speedy enough, and had it not been that the other car ran into a blind street and overturned at the end, over a bank, the seizure would not have been made. The two men in the car were able to escape. Both men are said to be from St. Catharines.

ADOLESCENT SCHOOL ATTENDANCE ACT

On Steptember 1st next the new Adolescent School Attendance Act comes into force. This new measure provides for the attendance at school of pupils between 14 and 16 years of age. The Minister of Education announces that pupils are expected to remain in full time attendance at school until they are sixteen years of age, unless employed on the authority of a home permit or an employment certificate as provided for by the Act, but that it is not his intention to instruct attendance officers to make the Act retroactive by endeavoring to compel young persons between 14 and 16 years of age who have been engaged in regular employment to return to school. School authorities, accordingly, will in the beginning be charged with providing only for the continued instruction of those who are at present at school, and not for the members who might be forced to return to school by the strictest interpretation of the Act.

That section of this Act which provides for the establishment and maintenance of part-time courses of instruction for young persons at work comes into operation on September 1st, 1922. The Minister expects that boards will be prepared to make this section effective on that date.

STRAWBERRY CROP ALL HARVESTED THIS WEEK

HAMILTON, June 30.—T. J. Mahony, General Manager of the Niagara Peninsula Growers, Ltd., in a bulletin issued, stated that the strawberry crop would be entirely harvested by the end of the week. According to Mr. Mahony, the majority of the growers are through picking, a few of them having patches which stoood up well enough to warrant picking for a few days longer. To these, of course, the recent rain will prove a great boon. During the past two and a half weeks the Niagara Growers, Ltd., marketed 51,000 crates of berries, and both growers and officials are well satisfied with the manner in which the crop was handled.

Noted Traveller on C. P. R. Liner

With a little doll in her arms which she has christened Mary Ann, a pretty little fair haired girl only three years of age named Peggy Featherstone, left Liverpool for Canada all on her own on the Canadian Pacific liner Metagama. The little girl was all smiles and brought three dolls with her for the voyage, two of them being in her gladstone bag.

Capt. A. Freer, R.N.R., the Commander of the Metagama, made great friends with the little passenger and stated he was extremely fond of little girls.

Peggy was in full charge of the C. P. R. officials and was left in the arms of a kind stewardess who looked after the tiny tot during the voyage. Peggy was not a bit shy, and liked her cabin immensely and was made a big fuss of by passengers travelling by the liner.

Little Peggy who has come to live with her grand-aunt, Mrs. Michael Toner, wife of the superintendent of the Art Gallery, Montreal, seemed very happy in her new surroundings and was anxious to tell about her father and her brother and sisters, whom she has left behind in England.

It was a great experience for this infant girl to have a home on a big ship, for she was cared for just as if she were at home. She says she will always have kind memories of the Metagama. This ship is the last word in ocean vessels from the standpoint of comfort and convenience for the passengers, and strength and stability for navigation and capacity and appliances for cargo. The ship is 520 feet long, 64 feet broad and 41 feet deep. It has a gross tonnage of 13,000 tons, a displacement of 18,000 tons and a cargo capacity of 400,000 cubic feet. Below the level of the main deck the space is devoted to general cargo, three of the lower 'tween decks being fitted for the carriage of refrigerated merchandise. From the main deck upwards through no less than six separate decks the entire space is devoted to passengers. There is room for 520 cabin passengers berthed in large, airy rooms, and for 1,200 third class passengers, all in large rooms. Counting in the crew of three hundred, the vessel can carry 2,020 people, or as much as the population of a small town.

The dining-room, smoke room, card room, drawing-room, lounge, cafe, gymnasium and other features of the most modern vessels are furnished and decorated in accordance with plans of the best British architects and furnishers.

The decks provide one of the chief features of the vessel, the promenade, recreation, and other decks being so designed so as to provide shelter, amusement, exercise or rest, according to the caprice of the passenger.

The electric lighting system provides for 1,300 lights and the power is supplied for the fans, elevators, submarine signalling and galley outfit. All water-tight bulkheads doors are electrically operated and can be closed simultaneously from the bridge. The vessel is fitted with the well-known cruiser stern which builders claim gives increased capacity, speed and deck area. She is so divided by water-tight decks and bulkheads that she is capable of floating in a seaway with any three compartments open to the sea. There are twin sets of quadruple expansion engines, and steam is supplied by eight single-ended boilers at a working pressure of 215 lbs. which give a sea speed of sixteen knots an hour en service.

THE FIRST WHITE WOMAN IN NORTH

Mrs. Moodie, Wife of Famous R.N.W.M.P. Officer, Has Had Romantic Life.

STUDIED ESKIMO TALK

Born in Toronto, She Belongs to Family of Exceptional Historic Interest.

By ISABEL M. LAMBERT.

CROWDED with romance and adventure is the life of Mrs. Moodie, wife of the noted Major Moodie, late of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police. She was born and educated in Toronto, and comes of a family of very exceptional interest on both sides of the house.

Her father, Mr. James Fitzgibbon, son of Col. Fitzgibbon, was surrogate clerk at Osgoode Hall. Col. Fitzgibbon is remembered as the hero of Beaver Dam, being the officer to whom Laura Secord carried her memorable warning. In later years he was one of the leaders of the crown forces in the troubled times of 1837. His life has been written in "A Veteran of 1812" by Mrs. Moody's sister, the late Miss Mary Agnes Fitzgibbon of Toronto, who died in 1915 and who was one of the founders of the Toronto branch of the Women's Canadian Historical Society. The crown grant given to Col. Fitzgibbon for his services, was practically the whole west end of Toronto. This land was later sold for the princely sum of £30.

Mrs. Moodie's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Susanna Strickland Moodie, who wrote "Roughing It in the Bush," was one of the famous Strickland sisters, whose quaint and picturesque accounts of bush life in Ontario are so well known. Mrs. Traill, another of the Strickland sisters, wrote valuable studies on Canadian wild flowers. Their brother, Major Strickland, was one of the original setuers in 1825, of the Newcastle district, of which Peterborough is the centre. His words in that year, when he first saw Lake Huron from the spot where the town of Goderich now stands, are typical of the ruling motive of the whole family who are essentially true Canadians, in the best sense. He said: "I thought Canada—and I have never changed my opinion—the most beautiful country in the world."

Mrs. Moodie's earliest recollections of Toronto are interesting. Her home was at Dovercourt, in the old Dennison estate. To go down town one boarded the one-horse street car — the pioneer of the city's present system. Mrs. Moody remembers the change to a two-horse line and the material improvement that was felt to be. At the time of the Fenian raid, Mr. Fitzgibbon having died, Mrs. Moodie's mother was about to be married again to Col. Brown Chamberlain, C.M.G., Queen's printer, of Ottawa. All preparations for the wedding had been made when, suddenly, Col. Chamberlain was recalled to his regiment, the 60th Rifles, by the advance of the Fenians. The next week Col. Chamberlain was free to return to Toronto where the delayed wedding took place. After her mother's second marriage Mrs. Moodie went to England to live with her aunts, the Strickland sisters.

Went West in 1879

IT was there she met, and later, in London, married Major Moodie. They emigrated to Canada, going to a farm in Manitoba in 1872. The railway at that time had not been completed to Winnipeg, so the journey was made by boat to Duluth and thence by train to Winnipeg.

In 1885 Major Moodie was granted a commission in the Mounted Police from which splendid force he only retired two years ago. Major Moodie's achievements are too well known to need any recital here, and his name is a household word in Western Canada. Beginning with Calgary there is no police post of any importance where Major and Mrs. Moody have not lived, except Prince Albert.

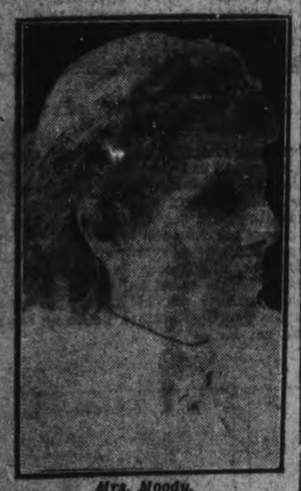
In 1904, when her husband was sent in command of the government's Arctic expedition, Mrs. Moodie went with the expedition. The "Arctic," formerly the "Gausse," in which a German expedition had been made, had been brought, refitted, rechristened by the Canadian government and in it the party sailed for the north. The winter was spent in the "Arctic" enclosed in the ice fields. Instead of finding this time tedious, as many women would, Mrs. Moodie always found new and interesting things to learn, and began to study the Eskimo language. In the following July the "Arctic" broke a way through the ice and cruised for three months in Hudson Bay and the Hudson straits.

At Fullerton Harbor where Major Moodie established the first police post, Mrs. Moodie was a great source of amazement to the natives who had never seen a white woman before. After a trip to Ottawa, where Major Moodie went to consult the government, Mrs. Moodie again made the hazardous trip to the north when Fort Churchill was established, living there two years. At the latter place there was one other white woman, but at Fullerton Harbor Mrs. Moodie saw no white woman for a year.

Mrs. Moodie is an unusually clever and talented woman, painting in water colors, doing exquisite embroidery, and wood carving, which latter art she has taught her sons. While stationed at Battleford she began the study of photography, by experimenting with pictures of Indians, and has attained a proficiency in this art far above the usual plane of amateur work, and her collection of photographs of the Eskimos is unequaled.

One Eskimo woman, taught English by Mrs. Moodie, is now the interpreter for the police. A copy of Mrs. Moodie's photographic studies of the Eskimos is in the possession of the Canadian government. In 1912, when the major was sent to Dawson City Mrs. Moodie made yet another trip to the north, coming out in 1914, Major Moodie following the next year.

Since retiring from the force, Major and Mrs. Moodie have been living on their ranch on the Swift Current Creek, Sask., where they have a beautiful home in the fertile valley of the Swift Current creek. Encircled by high hills and trees, their garden has a fine collection of fruits and flowers.



Mrs. Moody.

DUNSANY'S PUTTEES

LORD DUNSANY, whose fantastic play "If" is to be seen at the Ambassadors' Theatre, London, is the author of many plays and stories. Lord Dunsany fought in the Boer War and also in the European War. He was wounded in Dublin during the Sinn Fein Easter rebellion. It is said that when the Sinn Feiners discovered who he was, their respect for his literary work was so great that the man who shot him apologized!

Lord Dunsany is a thorough Bohemian so far as clothes are concerned, and during the war gained the reputation of being unable to wear his puttees correctly.

One day, after an inspection by the brigadier, his brother officers chaffed him about his untidiness, and one of them said: "I hear the brigadier strafed you about your puttees!"

"Oh, no, he didn't," Lord Dunsany replied; "he apologized to me for tripping over them!"

BARRIE KIDS HIMSELF

MR. HIND tells many amusing stories about contemporary writers in his new book "Authors and I." Here is one about Sir James Barrie, the creator of Peter Pan.

Sir James is a very retiring man. He took the chair at a literary dinner in London, and an article appeared in the National Observer which chaffed Barrie as chairman and made him look rather silly. The readers of the paper resented this descent to personalities, and protested that the article displayed bad taste. The editor received so many angry letters that he was obliged to publish a note admitting that the article was written by Sir James himself.

Sir Donald MacMaster, First Canadian To Win Fame in England, an Insurgent

Once a Leader in Revolt for Free Political Speech at McGill—Defended Students Who Were Arrested.

SIR DONALD MacMASTER, Bart., the well-known Canadian who has won distinction in Great Britain second only to Lord Beaverbrook and Sir Hamar Greenwood, has been in ill-health for some time and has offered to resign his seat in the House of Commons as member for the Chertsey division of Surrey, which he has held since 1910. He has, however, been prevailed on to sit until the general election, but intends to visit Canada.

Donald MacMaster, who is an old Ontario boy, having been born in Williamstown in 1846, had an interesting career in Canada before he began to seek old country laurels. He became known first in Montreal, his home from the beginning of his career as a lawyer, as the leader of a group of young men of singular force and ability who made the University Literary Society of McGill the centre of widespread public interest more than half a century ago. He came to the front as a speaker of interest and power.

Like Hamar Greenwood in Toronto University, MacMaster was an insurgent at McGill. The society at that time held its meetings in the college buildings, but political subjects were excluded from debate by regulations, and this led to a cession from the university precincts, when a public debate was announced on the famous question: "Should Ireland Have Home Rule?". The debate was held, but in the Natural History Society's rooms, and young MacMaster made a speech on that occasion which attracted favorable attention by its studied moderation of tone and comprehensive grasp of political principles.

He graduated in law at the head of his class, with the Elizabeth Torrance Gold Medal, and soon forged to the front as an advocate. He always had a faculty for attracting attention to his work. Much amusement was caused by his defense of a dozen of the students of McGill, belonging to the families of the best-known people of the city, who were arrested for hilarious conduct one evening. One of the students had been arrested, the others had accompanied him to police court to give bail, when the whole lot were taken into custody by an enterprising policeman.

All the incidents of the trial attracted much attention and damages were ultimately obtained from the city of Montreal for false arrest.

About that time young MacMaster crossed swords with Hon. Thomas White, Sir John Macdonald's minister of the interior, who attempted to suppress a new organization of the younger men interested in politics, and on that occasion vindicated the attitude of the new group to the tune of great applause from the young men and the citizens.

While still residing in Quebec Mr. MacMaster was elected a member of the Ontario legislature for his native county of Glengarry, serving from 1879 to 1882. After serving a couple of terms in Toronto, he married a daughter of Ronald Sandfield Macdonald, and a niece of the former prime minister of Ontario and of the postmaster-general in Mr. Mackenzie's government, who had also been lieutenant-governor of Ontario. At the next general election for the House of Commons of Canada Mr. MacMaster astonished the neighborhood by coming forward as Conservative candidate in opposition to his wife's uncle and to the whole interest of the Sandfield Macdonald family. But he was successful with the aid of an army of young men who backed him and served in the house from 1882 to 1886.

He was defeated in the general election and retired for a time from public life.

He made in a way a bigger mark before he left Canada than he has done since. He was crown prosecutor in several big Canadian cases and was arbitrator between the Newfoundland government and the Reid-Newfoundland Railway. He was counsel for the U. S. government in the famous Gaynor and Greene extradition enquiry and on the subsequent appeals to the judicial committee of the privy council. He was president of the Montreal bar in 1904. In 1906 he made his first essay in British politics, being unsuccessful as Unionist candidate in the Leigh division of Lancashire.

Sir Donald's baronetcy only dates from the beginning of this year when his name figured in the King's honor list. Sad to relate he has no direct heir to succeed in the title, as his only son was killed in France in 1915 while serving with the Cameron Highlanders.

EXCLUSIVE CLUB

THE Athenaeum Club, in London, is noted for its "brainy" members more than its social intercourse. Sir J. M. Barrie tells a story about reaching out for a paper one day in the reading room when he accidentally collided with an old professor.

Sir James, with his usual courtesy, humbly apologized. To his surprise, the old gentleman gripped him warmly by the hand, and said, with much feeling:

"Sir, thank you for those few kind words. I have been a member of this club for thirty years, and you are the first member who has ever spoken to me."

WHAT HE FEARED

AS might be expected, Miss Cecil Leitch, British lady golf champion, has a choice collection of golf stories.

One of them concerns a once famous cricketer who scorned the "ancient game." One day, however, being present on the links with a friend, he was induced to try "just one shot."

Strolling languidly to the tee, he adjusted his monocle and let drive. By some miracle the ball fell on the edge of the green and trickled down into the hole.

"You're down in one, sir," shouted the amazed caddie.

"I'm glad of that," said the novice; "I was afraid I might have missed it."

Her Obedience

MISTRESS: "Why, Bridget, what on earth are you doing with all the broken dishes on the shelf?"

Bridget: "Sure, mum, ye told me Oi wur to replace every one Oi broke."

Countess of Warwick, Titled Laborite, Has Lovely Old Home

The Original Easton Lodge Was Used by Queen Elizabeth and Her Hunting Parties—The Countess Has 32 Monkey Pets and Innumerable Dogs—The Gardens are Wonderful.

By G. OSBORNE.

IF Socialism were a leveling up of all classes instead of a leveling down of the rich it might quickly become fashionable. Very progressive aristocrats are rare in England, but there are a few. The Countess of Warwick was one of the first to declare herself in sympathy with the Labor party, and recently was invited to stand as Labor candidate for East Walthamstow at the next general election. The fact that she did not feel equal to the strain of constantly living in London and attending to exacting parliamentary business, and her attachment to a country life and home duties made her decide to forego the candidature.

It is not to be wondered at that she should wish to spend most of her time at Easton Lodge surrounded by beautiful country in preference to London. The original Easton Lodge was used by Queen Elizabeth and her hunting parties. Hunting the deer in those days was not confined to a few hours, the chase was prolonged from one day to the next. It being impossible to return to the starting point within the same day, lodges were built all over the hunting districts of England, and many of them still remain, or have been rebuilt. That is why the word "lodge" occurs as part of the name of many country mansions. The mind conjures up all kinds of gay scenes at the lodge on nights when the royal hunt and retinue dismounted for refreshment and rest. There is nothing left now of the original Easton Lodge. Early in Queen Victoria's reign fire destroyed the easterly half of the place, which was reconstructed. In 1918 the old Tudor part, which was used by the Countess and her family, was burnt. Twenty-six rooms were lost in one night. It is thought that the fire originated in Lady Warwick's bedroom. These twenty-six rooms were all large, quite unlike any modern idea of a room. It was a great loss, not only to the owner of the mansion, but to the whole countryside, for with the high cost of materials and labor it has been impossible to rebuild on anything like the same scale, besides which the cost of maintaining a mansion in these days is almost out of the question. It is in these subtle ways that the English revolution is making itself seen, if not heard.

There is something invigorating about a socialistic countess. Of course one never forgets that she is a countess and entitled to the deference due to a peeress of the realm. With a gracious smile and her hand extended in welcome she walks across the huge lounge with a bevy of pedigree Pekingese dogs barking their loudest. They are very jealous of their mistress giving any attention to anyone except them. It seems to take a long time to walk the length of that room, but eventually the distance is covered and the words of salutation which have been drowned in the noise of the canine chorus are repeated. One of the noted beauties of English society when she made her debut, the Countess of Warwick still retains her charm, and it is always pleasant to hear English correctly spoken.

Lady Mercy Shoots Rats

THAT the countess is fond of animals is very evident from the number that enjoy the freedom of the place. It is doubtful if anyone knows how many dogs there are of various sizes and breeds. Then there is a valuable blue Persian cat who periodically presents a family of kittens to the lodge, and it is rumored that the kittens are never killed, but all are allowed to grow up.

The monkeys are the pets that really receive the lion's share of attention. The monkey house now holds thirty-two specimens, and they have a glorious time disporting themselves on the swings and trapezes erected for their exercises. Lady Warwick personally supervises their menu, and they have the choicest food. Usually the greater part of the morning is spent in attending to their wants. The entire frontage of the monkey house is of wired glass. Close behind this house are the stables where some splendid horses are kept. Lady Warwick is unerring in her judgment of a horse, and it's one of the few excitements that arouses the sleepy little town of Dunmow (about three and a half miles from Easton Lodge), when she comes driving along the road with a high-stepping chestnut attached to a light buggy. She handles the reins with great precision, and people stand to gaze after her smart turn-out with admiration.

The proximity of the stables to the monkey house is rather a drawback, because the food given to the monkeys, some of which they scatter about the floor, is an added attraction to the rats who always go after the horses' fodder. Consequently, the number of rats is something with which to be reckoned. Lady Warwick explained that rat poison could not be put down because of the dogs and other pets which would be likely to eat it and suffer. Lady Mercy Greville, the countess' youngest daughter, before she went to Oxford this year, used to lie stretched out on the ground and pot at the rats with an air gun, as a pastime.

The gardens at Easton Lodge are very extensive and picturesque. There are fascinating little by-paths which lead to shady nooks and garden seats. Ideal spots for spending an hour or two with a book. A huge old mulberry tree with a seat all round it; a pergola covered with varieties of rose creepers; a wonderful crow's nest built up among the branches of a gigantic oak. This is reached by means of a flight of wooden steps. It is not a nest for feathered crows, but is the name given to a pretty, neat summer house of oak panelling perched up in the tree. There are velvety tennis courts of grass enclosed with prim square-cut box hedges, and there are winter tennis courts as well. The rose garden is a perpetual joy during the summer months. A peep through a gateway in a forbidding looking high brick wall reveals the most wonderful blaze of colors in the flower garden, where the quaint little round-shaped gardener's cottage stands.

Countess Very Generous

A MASS of blue flowers of countless varieties has been planted under one wall, and the sea of living blue is a sight one could never forget. As a matter of fact, the first glimpse of the flower garden when it is in its prime rather takes one's breath away. The colors are magnificent. The garden is full of surprises. There are broad grassy walks, and in the autumn the pheasants strut about leisurely pecking at the ground. The Omar Khayyam benches which used to stand in the Omar Khayyam garden have been moved recently and now stand in the loggia. Carved on the back of the benches is the verse from the Persian poem:

Here with a loaf of bread beneath the bough,
A flask of wine, a book of verse—and thou
Beside me singing in the wilderness—
And wilderness is paradise enow.

The Countess of Warwick has been the instigator of many philanthropic movements. Indeed, she is always lending a helping hand to some one or another. She rarely refuses a reasonable request if it is within her means and strength to grant it. She opened a home for crippled children at one of the houses on her estate, where the little unfortunates might benefit by the fresh air, sunshine and pretty surroundings of the home, garden and country. The agricultural school which was started at Bigods, was one of the earliest efforts in England to train sons and daughters of the farmers to carry on their work scientifically.

The estate belonging to Easton Lodge at one time comprised fifteen square miles. The present Countess of Warwick is the last descendant of the ancient Maynard family who owned and built the lodge and countless farm houses and cottages on the estate. William, Lord Maynard of Essex, had the trees in the park planted three deep along gravel drives but gales of wind have blown down many and others, because of age or disease, have had to be removed, so that it is only here and there the trees stand as originally arranged.

Little Easton Church, where many generations of Maynards have been christened, married and buried, stands in excellent preservation just outside the eastern gate of the park. In the Maynard chapel there are exceedingly costly Venetian glass windows, said to have been brought from the library at Venice. Between these two windows stands an alabaster tomb with recumbent figures of Sir Henry Maynard and his wife Susan. Sir Henry died in 1610.

"People do not in the least understand how grim life is for our class," remarked the Countess of Warwick. It is perhaps hard for the masses to grasp what it means to those who have inherited vast estates and family traditions to be forced to give them up through taxation.

THE CONFESSIONAL :

Uncensored Talks With Big Men About Themselves

No. 41—SIR JOHN WILLISON

By Emil Longue-Beau.

"AT the time I jumped the country for journalism by way of the London Advertiser, I thought the editorship of the Globe was the height of human grandeur. I had the Globe, and left it only with regret that I had had it so long. I was called the dean of Canadian journalism; and perhaps I was. But the experience mainly taught me the vanity of human wishes. Now I am in the ecclesiastical class; don't spoil this word, Joe, for vanity, vanity, all is vanity. Life is one disillusion after another. Disillusions are great things to build character on, if you don't become so cynical that you can't endure yourself. Not many people may desire the character; but it should be useful in the next incarnation."

"You believe in reincarnation?" I asked Sir John, and he answered:

"How can any intelligent man know exactly what he believes? Journalism seems to have been invented to make a man believe everything by turns, and nothing long. But I certainly believe in the British Empire, though I often find myself in lugubrious company. Sometimes I am told my Empire is too Timesy, and that Lord Northcliffe is not a good political apostle. But what do you want me to say? Or do you really WANT me to say anything?" he asked, with a touch of acid in his tone.

By which it may be observed that Sir John is not effervescent with happiness. How could he be? Disillusion may be a great teacher, but it can never be a wellspring of gaiety. Even if knighthood is in flower, its petals become poverty-stricken of perfume; and, if it has been accepted partly as a recognition of the most self-sacrificing profession in the world, it becomes almost as commonplace to a man as his nose—or as unglamorous as an editorship, in which remorseless work and worry attend upon a political world that will scarcely ever do as it's bid.

Sir John Willison is a patriotic Canadian, blessed with knowledge, grasp of affairs, capacity for advocacy, ability to win the admiration of those who work under him; and a writing style th t has many of the attributes of enduring distinction, without being of immortal force. He was a distinguished editor of the Globe, and all the distinction did not come from the paper. I didn't like to ask him bluntly whether he regards his conduct of the Liberal paper as his best achievement for he was in a mood; and, as he talks freely enough when he gets going, it was better to try him less directly. So I said:

"The public is always interested in the methods of an eminent publicist. Would you say that a prime qualification for high journalism is facility in writing?"

"It isn't, if I am anything better than a journeyman," he replied quickly. "I never wrote easily. Like most others, I suppose, my best work is done with my own hand. I can dictate fairly well, but dictation tends to diffusiveness, which is not an admirable quality. One of the avowed objects of the News was 'the diffusion of useful information.' You can diffuse information, but you cannot wisely diffuse your style. I have never claimed originality for my writing, and I never wanted a whole staff to conform to my pattern."

"Is that being done now?" I queried; but he would not be drawn. He did say, though:

"If a newspaper man is repressed from developing his special gift, his chief harms him and the paper. As a rule, it is enough for an editor of a party paper, whose owners are inferior to himself in political perspicacity, to have to try to get them to permit him to take a big course without trying to reduce able colleagues to his own manner of saying what they have to say. One of the hardest things I ever had to do was to defend the way Kootenay coal was exploited by friends of the institution through which I was trying to serve public opinion. You remember that poor old Roblin, here in Toronto in 1908, made a charge against the Globe, which caused its then Boanerges to announce that if I corroborated what Roblin said he would resign. I couldn't corroborate Roblin—very few people ever could—Boanerges stayed. Resignations should never be threatened.

"In running a party paper the question continually arises how far you can go with the party on details of which you do not approve. Every ill-informed and ill-natured critic can pretend that the press, meaning its editors, will say anything it is paid to say. That has always been a libel on the Canadian press, with possibly a few exceptions. An editor is very like a member of a government. He has sometimes to accept things that he doesn't like. He knows that life cannot be one continuous, glorious, irresponsibility of having your own way. The other fellow may be righter than you are. On the News I did have my own way, for a good many years, and now——"

"The News is defunct," I interrupted, perhaps unkindly.

"It is," said Sir John; "but it changed its name after I left it, and it died a party paper. When Flavelle bought it he gave me an absolutely free writing hand in the public interest. I learnt more from those years of freedom than I did in the other places."

"Disillusion?" I suggested.

"Oh! yes, disillusion. I tried at first to make a Canadian Times out of a paper that had been the favorite of a certain class of Orangemen. Looking back I wonder we did so well. Canada is not big and compact enough for a New World Times. Those were the amazing days of cheap paper and the dollar subscription. We found that a Toronto evening paper, with the latest sporting news, had more waste in it for the political reader in Moose Jaw, for instance, than was good for him or for the newspaper. John Lewis, one of my best colleagues in both the dailies I edited, used to say that if Flavelle really wanted to do what we hoped to do, he should have endowed a weekly that would have been welcomed by people interested in public affairs, and should have relied on influencing those who influence others, rather than on getting the multitude, which you must do with a city evening, with several editions. Canada has not got a weekly that's devoted to public affairs. Some day we ought to have such a journal; but I don't expect to make it. Though I'm wearing pretty well, sixty-five is sixty-five; and the London Times and the Reconstruction Association keep me busy. The Times has a big appetite."

"Is the Reconstruction Association Meighenite? I said.

"In design, no; in logic of events, yes. I am the president, and we have done a great deal of useful work—I think valuable work. It isnt exactly my metier; but a man can't always choose his path. I have always tried to keep clear of duties that might seem to turn mainly on somebody's financial advantage. That is why I have never owned a dollar of stock in any industrial or big financial venture. The general public doesn't know it, but the Industrial and Reconstruction Association was born in Quebec; and, partially, at least, of a fear of a war-consequence that is scarcely ever mentioned.

"Down in Quebec, as the war drew towards its end, there was much talk of a drift in sentiment towards fusion with the United States. One judge, who had been a member of parliament, declared that whereas when he went to the bench in his county the sentiment against republicanization was as ten to one, there was a return to the former notion that this change from federation would be advisable. A Quebec minister had expressed the same view.

"In the west, it was stated strongly among the cabinet at Ottawa, a similar tendency was more than observable. Added to that was an apprehension that the war would demonstrate our economic dependence on the United States, and a fear that a fusion would be proposed as the only way out of our economic burdens.

"Instead of letting things drift away from economic independence by making our industrial calling and independence sure the campaign of education was decided on, and I took charge of it. We must preserve the industrial position the national policy has brought about. It cannot be done on the lines of Crerar and Clark. The Liberal party's lines—well, who knows what they are? We are driven to support the Meighen government. So I find myself a cordial member of the National Liberal-Conservative party, hyphen and all. When an election comes I shall be where I was in 1911."

"A long way from 1896, and the life of Laurier, Sir John?" I suggested.

"Oh," said the pen-knight, "can't I ever get away from that literary monument to my youthful guilelessness? The truth is that, as I was bred a Conservative, I am back to where I belong, though, of course, the old fashion of Conservatism—family compact, colonial subservience, and all that can no more be held now than the science of phlebotomy can be maintained by a twentieth century surgeon."

"And what is thinking imperially just now?"

"What we shall arrive at imperially it is impossible to guess. But the tendency which governs me more and more is the same which impelled me to tell Laurier that if he did not send Canadian troops to South Africa he would ruin the party, as well as put Canada in a wrong light before the world."

"Was that the tendency?" I enquired of Sir John, "that made you back up Milner in his opposition to the self-government of the old Transvaal and Orange Free State when it was proposed by Campbell-Bannerman, on Laurier's strong recommendation?"

Sir John looked hard at me before replying: "Perhaps it was. That the event has proved Botha and Smuts to be great imperial statesmen is one of those things I am mighty glad of, though I don't thank you for reminding me of the position I took fourteen years ago. Still, I do think I know something of public opinion in Canada."

"Which is now—"

"It is on the move; but for the life of me I can't tell you where it is going to land. But I believe it will be in a good place."

"If it can be sufficiently disillusioned?"

A laugh, and "Good-day," was all Lord Northcliffe's Canadian mentor and the president of the Reconstruction Association would vouchsafe.

"Life is one disillusionment after another," said Sir John.

The reader will not take too literally the observations of leading men about themselves recorded by Mr. Longue Beau, but will understand that they are what the speakers would be likely to say confessionally.

New Side Revealed By the Sky Pilot

Ralph Connor Surprised Some Wise Old Ministers by His Power as a Moderator.

By AUSTIN L. BUDGE

THE author of "The Sky Pilot" has had a turn in the moderator's chair. Wise ones said, "Militant churchmen are swords rather than pens." Indeed, when the tall, refined figure of the well-known novelist, Ralph Connor, was robed in the gown and bands of office, he scarcely looked the part.

He has undergone no greater test in his varied career than in presiding over the general assembly where the controversy over church union was revived. He knew that battles do not lose in fury when renewed after a truce. But this sky pilot-moderator proved that he had a unique type of both dignity and authority.

Much depends upon the voice. His is so calm, clear and earnest—just the manner required to send men into an argument with the least possible jangle! It was needed too, when appeals to the chair came like volleys from the guns. Quietly he would rise, with the house on tiptoe of interest for his decision. Then in clear, calm tones, he probably would say, "I see your point, let us discuss it for light." More frequently he had anticipated the question and without the least haste would reply, "the point we are discussing is this—keep to the line." Only once did he have any difficulty in guiding the debate, but he was the first out of the fog and kept to the lawful road.

It was not his skill in church law; nor the authority of place or power which made him supreme in that great democratic assembly. It was character. This was felt in the daily devotions, for he seemed to take more interest in the prayers of the "fathers and brethren" than in their speeches. One incident will suffice of its influence upon all the business. The debate on church union had covered parts of three days and ended in an exciting division, the votes standing about four to one. A caucus of the minority was announced just as the session was closing, when a remarkable proposition was made by the chair:

"Might I be permitted to meet with you?"

The moderator had voted with the majority. Hence it was a boldness which only the pure in heart possess. His request was granted and appreciated.

A Vocalist Provoked

"I KNEW there was goin' to be trouble as soon as the mule heard the honk of our new flivver," remarked Farmer Corntossel, ruefully.

"How did it affect the mule?"

"Threw him into a fit of professional jealousy so violent that he backed up and kicked the rear transmission clear through the radiator."—Washington Star.

THE SATURDAY COLUMN

(By QUINTUS)

The picnics held by the public schools at the Nicholls Oval are just about the finest feature of school and community life. For once they are not required to recite according to rule, but are allowed to show the nature which God has given them. Once upon a time at a meeting of grown-ups a resolution was put that the management of the world could be safely trusted to God. But it was defeated. "Where would business be?" asked the business man. "Where would religion be?" cried some others. "But where would the children be?" screamed the mothers. "Such is faith in a faithless world. Surely these people are crazy in their head," said another. And so it goes. Either God is intelligent and observing, having a purpose which He carries out or else it is all a fiction, and "we are here because we're here," and that is all there is about it. "But did God create evil?" remonstrates one angry woman. "Who will protect me from the wicked?" inquired another. And so creeps in this faithless foolishness called our religion from day to day. That is why it is such an inspiration to be with the children at the Oval. There is not perfect happiness anywhere except possibly in the minds and natures of happy children. They are at their picnics as in their schools, broadly speaking, a model family. Restrained by rule and rulers at school, but by their natures only at the picnics, they give back to the world in joy and happiness, in sweetness and the gaiety of "the little hills" what God has implanted in them. How different the world would be to us if we acted as if we really did believe what we pictured to believe, viz.: that God does rule the world. And if He does He does, there's an end of it. Would it not be well for us to decide to come to some conclusion in this matter? Whence comes the supremely noble and beautiful in life? Manifesting itself in self-sacrificing men and women? Is there anything that we can conceive of more likely to come from the divine source? And where else could it come from? There are things which, to us, are perfectly beautiful, and the play of unrestrained and happy children is one of them. All that is savage, cunning, mean, cruel, selfish, is for the time being absent. What a lesson that comes not with stern words but like "the gentle dew from Heaven," or like a sunset that gleams for a moment and then, like our joys and the children's joys, fades slowly away. —But there is no cause for weeping. There will be another day. And so it ought to be with us, but many of those in command of our churches are worshipping themselves, not God—and "thereby hangs a tale." But let us learn from the children, for this one day at least. No membership fee, no exclusion of the poor (ye gods, what a religion that must be that excludes the poor as some of our so-called heavenly institutions do). By-the-way, why isn't the Salvation Army included in the scheme of church union? Perhaps they are at one with all the world as it is. The others can't be unless they sign a paper to that effect. What a wonderful people we all are! But how much better, and happier, and saner we would be if we could be children of God, as these little children, doing our best without attempting to show the Creator how necessary we are to the well-being of the world, and no doubt the next step will be to branch out into other parts of the Universe.

To the western hemisphere belongs the credit of established canned talk. For a long time we have had canned vegetables and canned meats, but we have now gone farther ahead than that. Entertaining talks or lectures furnish the minds of the busy and the lazy with what other people dig out for themselves. Knowledge cometh not by observation but by going after it. Unless we discover it ourselves and make it our own and learn to use it for the purpose for which it exists it will shrink up and furnish no sustenance. It is, however, one remove higher than moving pictures. It has been said that there is only one really grown-up man and woman, they who know themselves and can control themselves. This may be going too far, but after all, when we come to sit down and talk it over, who is there that is capable amongst us but those of original ideas and action?

As a young person I thought ideas were everything, but I soon found out that for every thousand who could tell one how to do it, there were 999 who had to leave it to George. Applied knowledge that is the application of theory is both theory and practice, and each is useless without the other. Canned knowledge lasts but a very short time. It is like bottled daylight. The rest are parasites. It is true that most of us must be content to be parasites, but it is a poor thing after all. What a long interval separates the inquiring mind from the sponge. America is said to be practically barren of original thought. Americans confess it. The older countries continually refer to it. We have a fatal passion for the ready-made.

SPRINGVILLE HELD A CHURCH SOCIAL

The church social held at Springville last evening, on Presbyterian Church grounds, was very largely attended, and was a complete success in every way. The grounds were prettily decorated with streamers and lanterns, and the tables with masses of flowers. An exceptionally good supper, with a quantity of good things, was served. An enjoyable musical programme was given by Mrs. Clara Hughes, Miss Marion Clarke, Miss McGill and little Kenneth McCannon of Peterboro, accompanied by Mrs. W. A. Greenslade and Mr. O. Walden, and Miss Daisy Murray of Springville. Rev. Geo. L. Craw, pastor of Springville church, acted as chairman. Greetings were extended by Rev. Mr. Lee of Fraseryville, and excellent addresses were given by Messrs. G. N. Gordon, M. P., G. A. Gillespie, and Mr. S. Staples, M. P. for Durham.

UNSHED TEARS

It is a mighty easy thing and a comfortable thing to be able to sit down and weep off one's worries. But to face the world and the trying ordeals of life with the make-up on the face, with laughter in the eyes, with smiles of sunshine so bright that there is no possible detection of ever having been checkered by many a woe, and fill the hearts about you with gayety until they shout for joy and scream with laughter, and all the while feel the eyes burning because of unshed tears and the heart throbbing with woe—don't you suppose this is real sorrow. Pick up your life just where it has been, to take up the work and never flinch no matter what may come, doesn't this call for greater courage than to sit in a darkened room and have many to console with you? I tell you when women are credited with the bravery which they have, be sure that to their credit will stand prominently, the unshed tears. For women are brave. Is it they, who, when some great trouble comes really support the men. Is it they who face a scandal, who face the bringing out of a family skeleton, and when strong men flinch and grow nervous they are brave and say what shall be done. Yes, I think they are braver than men. The animal instinct that calls for fighting the battle may not be theirs, but a better kind of courage belongs to them. It is womanly courage, and it is what you want to have, what everyone wants to have.

If you would increase your happiness and prolong your life, forget your neighbor's faults. Forget the slander you have heard. Forget the temptations. Forget the fault-finding and give a little thought to the cause that provoked it. Forget the peculiarities of your friends and only remember the good points that make you fond of them. Forget all personal quarrels or histories that you may have heard by accident, and which if repeated would seem a thousand times worse than they are. Blot out as far as possible the disagreeable things of life—they will come; but they will only grow larger when you remember them, and the constant thought of the acts of meanness, worse still, malice, will only tend to make you more familiar with them. Obliterate everything bad from yesterday, start out with a clean sheet for today, and write upon it for sweet memory's sake only those things that are lovely and loveable.

Girls are troubled so. About their clothes, we mean. It is really a pity. Did you ever notice the fact that whenever girls get anything really nice, then some other girl is sure to get something just like it. It is really remarkable. We have studied the problem and can find no solution. Every girl is mad about it. None of them can get anything without someone else getting something like it. You never saw a girl who was not afflicted in the same way. And since all are aggrieved, it has always bothered us to know who were the aggressors. But it must be so, for all the ladies make the same complaint. There should be a law prohibiting anyone of the female doctrine to wear anything like anybody else does. That is what is needed to stop hard feelings. Let every girl of them get up something original and let us have peace.

Is not the happiest man or woman the most successful in the highest sense of word? Given the comforts of life, is anything more desirable than the sunshine of a happy home, where a loving wife and merry, happy children abide, and where friends congregate for cheerful, inspiring association? Industry and temperance and courage will bring to any man the comforts of life. Add to this a kind heart and a generous, tactful consideration toward all men and life is complete.

A mother's duty is never better done than when she instills into the lives of her boys and girls the higher courage of honorable living, principles of truth, nobility and purity that they may go out into the world of social and political life, free from the narrow self interest, dishonesty and petty scheming which ever threaten to undermine our country's life and the liberty dear to every true heart.

Heaven's best gift is a hopeful heart, which rises superior to every adverse element and stems every opposing tide. One such spirit in a family is a blessing beyond estimate and if a whole family would give out all the sunshine it could generate by continually striving to outshine every other member there would be few cloudy days in the year.

If children heard only pleasant tones, commendable words, true harmony, in their early childhood, they would acquire habits, not only of speech, but of feeling and conduct that would be prophesies of right action in maturity.

One hand open in charity is often worth a hundred folded in prayer. People should pray by their actions as well as by their words.

FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HEREDITARY DISEASES

Now, what do we mean by heredity? Heirship, that is inheritance of something from somebody who has preceded us and very frequently from one whom we call a blood relation, particularly a father or a mother. We have seen that our mother's blood is mingled with ours, we have reason to believe that from the original paternal germ we have derived something from our father; that is inheritance, heredity. Nobody doubts that there may be facial resemblances to father or mother or a mysterious blend of both. We may have our father's talent for business or for acquiring knowledge; our mother's virtue or piety or truthfulness and if we believe in the germ theory of disease, and that germs exist in the blood as is unquestionably demonstrable, we must also believe at least in the possibility of the transmission of such germs. It is besides, always to be considered, even in so helpless a being as an unborn foetus, how much resistance there may be in a given case to germ influence. Those who for any reason whatsoever have good resisting power may be born without any manifestation of the disease of which they may possess more or fewer germs and these germs may develop that disease at a later period of life or they may die out altogether. On the other hand the given disease may be transmitted to the foetus, may develop during foetal life and may be practically over at birth or may be in full swing at that time. Thus we know children are born bearing the evidence of scarlet fever, small pox, tuberculosis, syphilis and other diseases. Sometimes they are born dead, very often they succumb soon after birth. When a disease is not directly inherited there may be instead a strong tendency or predisposition to it. If several members of a family have a certain disease and some of their children and grandchildren have the same disease it is fair to say the disease was either inherited or that there was a strong tendency to it which had not been overcome. Tuberculosis is one of the most common of such diseases and its virulence and frequency are to be overcome it will be through stringent precautions, early and late, on the part of those who are susceptible to it. Other diseases in which the influence of heredity is often well-marked are cancer, gout, leprosy, goitre, rheumatism, epilepsy, asthma, eczema and other skin diseases, hysteria and various diseases, diabetes, color blindness and many others. Often a strong tendency to a certain disease may be headed off or mitigated by a suitable marriage, that is a marriage to one who does not have the same tendency, the disappearance of the particular disease in the next generation being thus forestalled. We still have much to learn in the matter of preventing transmissible disease and when the problems are settled the succeeding generations will reap the benefit. This subject may well engage the attention of those who are instructors of youth.

MALES OUTNUMBER FEMALES 104 TO 100

Only in New York and Six Other States of the Union are the Females in the Majority

WASHINGTON, June 29. — There were 2,090,132 more males than females in the United States in 1920, making the ration 104 to 100, as compared with 106 to every 100 females in the period of 1900-10, the Census Board has announced.

A preponderence of males has been shown in every census, due primarily, the announcement said to the considerable number of foreign-born residents, among whom the males greatly outnumber the fe- country's total population in 1920 were foreign born.

Every state except Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama had an excess of males over females. These seven States had ratios ranging from 96.3 to 100 for Massachusetts, to 99.9 for North Carolina.

COBOURG AND HILLCRESTS BOTH BEATEN BY PETES ON HOLIDAY

SOLOMON CREW RETURN TO FORM AND WIN BOTH DOMINION DAY FIXTURES HANDILY— M'ELROY AND KIRN TURN IN FINE PERFORMANCE.

By beating Cobourg 5 to 1 in a Central League game yesterday morning and trimming Hillcrests of Toronto 9 to 2 in the after dinner exhibition fixture, the Petes shook off the jinx that has been hovering over them, and showed healthy signs of returning to form, especially with the willow, for they clouted out twelve hits in each engagement.

The Petes' victory over Cobourg in the Central Ontario League fixture was largely due to effective pitching by Lefty McElroy, who held the Cobourg team to three scattered singles and whiffed twelve of the Lakeshore invaders. McElroy had a world of stuff on the ball, and although he was somewhat wild, hitting three men and walking four, the visitors were helpless when hits would have meant runs, only one fly going to the outfield.

Schafer was on the rubber for the visitors and the Petes nicked him for twelve hits, although he held them to two runs until the seventh innings, when they pushed another over and made the issue safe by getting a pair in the eighth. Both teams turned in some nice fielding, the work of Skitch at second for the visitors being a feature, while Manager Tyson, who does the backstopping for the gang from President Kimmel's town, distinguished himself by his perfect throwing to second..

First Innings.

Cobourg — Skitch grounded to Murray. Jacobs and Higginbottom fanned.

Peterborough — Cherrett walked and died stealing, Tyson to Skitch. Murray struck out. Ray Rose beat out a hit to short. Ross singled to right, sending Rose to third. Ross stole second. Lowe rolled to Higginbottom. Two hits.

Second Innings.

Coburg—Tyson was hit. Dick Turpin rolled to McElroy, and everybody was safe when Ray Rose dropped the throw to second. A wild pitch moved them up a base. Markey fanned. G. Turpin scatched a hit on a roller in front of the plate, Tyson scoring. Irwin hit to McElroy, who nailed Dick Turpin at the plate. Schafer walked, filling the bases. Skitch struck out. One run, one hit, one error.

Peterborough — Pinnette flied to Skitch. Jackson singled to short, Turpin making a great stop. L. Rose bunted safely. McElroy's neat sacrifice advanced the base runners and Cherrett scored the pair with a double to left. Murray fanned. Two runs, three hits.

Third Innings.

Cobourg—Jacobs fanned. Higginbottom flied to Pinnette. Ray Rose threw out Tyson.

Peterborough—Ray Rose walked, but was out stealing, Tyson to G. Turpin. Ross died. Skitch to D. Turpin, Schafer deflecting the ball to the second baseman. Lowe flied to Markey.

Fourth Innings.

Cobourg — D. Turpin rolled to Murray. Cherrett threw out Markey. G. Turpin hit to McElroy and got a life when Jackson dropped the pitcher's throw. Irwin fanned. One error.

Peterborough—Pinnette grounded to short. Jackson was safe on Irwin's fumble and wild throw. L. Rose sacrificed. McElroy grounded to Skitch. One error.

Fifth Innings.

Cobourg—Schafer and Skitch fanned. Jacobs was hit. Higginbottom singled over second. Tyson forced Jacobs on a fast one to Murray. One hit.

Peterborough—Irwin threw Cherrett out. Murray rolled to short. Ray Rose singled to second, the ball bounding over Skitch's head. Ross hoisted to G. Turpin. One hit.

Sixth Innings.

Cobourg — D. Turpin rolled to Murray. Markey fanned. McElroy tossed out G. Turpin.

Peterborough—Lowe walked. Pinnette flied to centre. Jackson singled through short. L. Rose fanned. McElroy grounded to Dick Turpin. One hit.

Seventh Innings.

Cobourg —Irwin fouled to Murray. Schafer walked, but was forced at second on Skitch's tap to McElroy. Jacobs missed three.

Peterborough— Cherrett lined to Higginbottom. Murray singled past first and when Schafer threw to first to get him off the bag, Murray went to second. R. Rose fanned. Ross singled to right, scoring Murray, but was out at second trying to stretch his hit into a double. One run, two hits.

Eighth Innings.

Cobourg — Higginbottom fanned. Tyson hoisted to R. Rose. Dick Turpin walked but his substitute runner died stealing, Ross to R. Rose.

Peterborough — Lowe singled through short. Pinnette doubled to left centre, scoring Lowe and taking third on the throw to the plate. Jackson flied to Jacobs. L. Rose bunted safely, scoring Pinnette. McElroy lined to Jacobs and the right fielder dropped the ball. He threw it to Skitch, whose throw to G. Turpin was in time to force Rose, but the shortstop muffed. Cherrett forced McElroy, Skitch to G. Turpin. Rose was caught at the plate, Tyson to Skitch to Tyson in an attempted double steal. Two runs, three hits, one error.

Ninth Innings.

Cobourg—Markey singled to right, but was forced at second, McElroy to Cherrett, on G. Turpin's tap. Irwin was hit and Schafer walked, filling the bases. Skitch struck out. Campbell batted for Jacobs and hit safely past the box, but G. Turpin failed to touch the home plate and was called out, winding up the game. One hit.

DEMPSEY AND MANAGER.

THIS WAS REVENGE.

In the opening game of the season the Hillcrests of the Western City League walloped the Petes by 17 to 2, and then and there the Solomon crew determined to bring the Queen City outfit back later on in the season and get revenge. They had that satisfaction yesterday afternoon, beating Nip Dwan's outfit by 9 runs to 2 and outfielding and outhitting the visitors. Howard Kirn was selected to do the artillery work for the Central Ontario Leaguers and he made an excellent job of it, holding the hard-hitting Hillcrests to five hits. The Toronto gang could not fathom his hook and all but Hennessey, Batstone and Murphy went hitless. Outside of the fifth innings, when the visitors bunched three of their five safeties for a pair of counters, Kirn was never in trouble.

Cannonball Scott started for the visitors and retired after the third with the score 2 to 0 against him. Murphy finished the game and the Petes got to him for nine hits and seven runs in the five innings he worked. The Petes' fielding was more accurate than the defence work of the Hillcrest gang, who were guilty of six costly misplays.

"Hap" Harrison was back in the game for the Solomon crew and performed in his usual stellar fashion around the initial hassock, while he greeted Scott in the first inniugs with a long triple that scored two runs. Murray was out of the game in the afternoon, and Walter Jackson looked after the difficult corner in fine style, while Pinnette repeated his great fielding of the Belleville game, snaring six drives in centre field.

A feature of the visitors' play was the fielding of Artie Lancaster at second. He covered all kinds of ground and handled nine chances faultlessly. The Hillcrests had all their regulars in line with the exception of Connacher.

First Innings.

Hillcrests — Jackson threw out Lancaster. Hennessey singled to centre. Irwin hit to Cherrett, who tagged Hennessey on the line. Waldron rolled to Cherrett. One hit.

Peterborough—Cherrett rolled to Lancaster. Jackson popped to the same player. R. Rose walked. Ross singled to centre. Harrison tripled to deep left, scoring Rose and Ross. Lowe fanned. Two runs, two hits.

Second Innings.

Hillcrests— Samuels was thrown out by Cherrett. Garnett was hit. Batstone flied to Pinnette. Garnett stole second. Allward fanned.

Peterborough—L. Rose singled to right. Pinnette fanned. Kirn flied to left. Rose stole second. Cherrett walked. Jackson fouled to Samuels. One hit.

Third Innings.

Hillcrests—Scott was safe when Ray Rose dropped his fly. Lancaster flied to L. Rose. Hennessey forced Scott at second, Ray Rose to Cherrett. Hennessey stole second. Irwin struck out. One error.

Peterborough — Lancaster threw out Rose. Ross hoisted to Waldron. Harrison missed three.

Fourth Innings.

Hillcrests—Waldron flied to Lowe. Samuels struck out. Garnett drove a long one to Pinnette.

Peterborough — With Murphy pitching for Hillcrests, Lowe singled to right. L. Rose bunted for a sacrifice and was safe when Samuels dropped the throw. Pinnette popped to Waldron. Kirn hit into a fast double play, Waldron to Lancaster to Samuels. Ont hit, one error.

Fifth Innings.

Hillcrests—Batstone singled over second. Allward sacrificed, Jackson to Harrison. Murphy singled over Cherrett's head. Lancaster rolled to Kirn, Batstone being held at third. Hennessey doubled over first into the right field crowd, Batstone and Murphy scoring. Irwin rolled to Ray Rose. Two runs, three hits.

Peterborough—Cherrett singled on a bad hop to Lancaster, but died stealing. Hennessey to Lancaster. Jackson was safe on Samuel's miss of Waldron's throw. R. Rose hoisted to Batstone. Ross got a life on Waldron's wide throw. Lancaster made a nice catch of Harrison's fly to short left. One hit, two errors.

Sixth Innings.

Hillcrests—Waldron lined to Pinnette. Samuels also gave the centre filder a put out. Jackson tossed out Garnett.

Peterborough—Lowe was hit. L. Rose sacrificed, Samuels to Lancaster. Pinnette doubled over third, scoring Lowe. Kirn flied to Lancaster. Cherrett singled to short. Pinnette tried to score on the play but was cornered up. In the chase Samuels dropped the ball and Pinnette registered. Jackson raised one to Hennessey. Two runs, two hits, one error.

Seventh Innings.

Hillcrests—Batstone fanned. Allward and Murphy were thrown out by Jackson.

Peterborough—R. Rose singled to right. Ross bunted for a sacrifice and was safe when Scott, who had replaced Murphy at first, threw low to first. Harrison hit to Waldron, who threw low to the plate, Rose scoring. Ross was caught off third, Hennessey to Batstone. Lowe singled through short, scoring Harrison. L. Rose bunted safely. Pinnette popped to Batstone. Kirn singled to right, filling the bases. Cherrett tripled to right centre, scoring Lowe, Rose and Kirn. Jackson flied to Scott. Five runs, five hits, two errors.

Eighth Innings.

Hillcrests — Cherrett threw out Lancaster. Hennessey flied to Pinnette. Ray Rose nailed Irwin on a fast one.

Peterborough — R. Rose flied to Garnett. Ross rolled to Batstone. Harrison struck out.

Ninth Innings.

Hillcrests—Waldron reached second on Kirn's low throw to first. Pinnette made a fine catch of Scott's fly to deep centre, Waldron being held at second. Garnett fouled to Jackson. Batstone singled to right and Lowe's perfect peg to Ross nailed Waldron at the plate. One hit, one error.

BASEBALL COMMENT

The pitching the Petes had yesterday from McElroy and Kirn gives plenty of ground for confidence in regard to the remaining Central Ontario League fixtures. McElroy fanned twelve men in the morning game, allowing Cobourg only three hits, while Kirn held the Hillcrests, known as the hardest-hitting amateur ball club in Ontario to five blows in the afternoon. Give the veteran right hander a hot day and his curve breaking right and he'll not ask odds of any of them.

Lornie Rose blossomed into an outfielder yesterday and went so well that he looks like being a regular out there when he is not on the rubber. He had two hits and a sacrifice in the morning game and two more safeties and two sacrifices in the afternoon. Incidentally some of the grand stand managers who start to howl "hit it out" every time a player is asked to bunt had better look over Rose's record yesterday and see what his bunting did in the two games.

There are a lot of birds with better lungs than judgment, who go over to ball games at Riverside Park and try to manage the team from the grand stand. Yesterday morning they "crabbed" every time a sacrifice was attempted, in spite of the fact that Tyson had thrown out Cherrett and Ray Rose in attempted thefts and it was apparent that the Petes could not expect to steal second.

Cherrett, Pinnette and Harrison were the extra base hitters for the Petes yesterday and their long distance swats helped a lot. Cherrett drove in two runs with a double in the morning game and tripled with the bases full in the afternoon, while Pinnette had a double in each engagement that sent a run across. Harrison's triple in the first innings of the afternoon game chased a pair of counters home and gave the Petes a running start against the Hillcrests.

BANKERS BEAT GENERALS IN JUVENILE BALL SERIES

In the second game of the City Juvenile League series at the Riverside Park on Thursday night, the Bankers beat Generals 6 to 5 in a six innings battle. The game was called on account of darkness with the Generals at bat in the second half of the seventh. The Bankers had scored eight runs in their half, but when the game was called the score of course reverted back to the sixth and the run-getting carnival of the Yeotes gang was wiped off the slate.

Turner held the losers to four hits, while the winners of the first section accumulated ten off Batten.

The Bankers opened the game with a run in the first with two out. D. Johnston was hit, stole second and carried the run over on Wilgar's single to centre.

Generals evened up in their half also with two out. Chartren singled to centre, stole second and registered when Starr's roller got away from D. Johnston.

The Yeotes crew went out in front in the third. Turner singled to start with but was forced at second on McLean's drive to Batten. Chartren threw high to first in tying to complete the double, and McLean went to second. Hensley's sacifice placed him on third, and he scored when Starr droped Wilson's throw on D. Johnston's grass cutter.

The Bankers made it three to one in the fourth. With two out, Sturgeon was hit and Turner drew a pass. Wilson's fumble on McLean's tap to short filled the bases and Sturgeon counted when Hensley hit to short, and Wilson's throw to second was too late to force McLean. Johnston fanned for the third out.

In their half the Generals tied it up. With one down Davis was walked. Edgar fanned, but the third was a passed ball and the batter reached first. Allen singled to centre scoring Davis, and when E. Johnston threw over Wilgar's head Edgar also came home, and the batter reached third. Batten hit to McLean, whose throw to the plate nailed Allen and when Batten tried to go to second on the play he was doubled up on Wilgar's peg to D. Johnston.

The Bankers went ahead again in the fifth. Wilgar singled to centre and E. Johnston followed with a single to right, Wilgar going to third. Hall dropped a single over Batten's head and Wilgar scored. Hardill singled to left, scoring Johnston. The next three went out in order.

In the sixth the winners annexed another. Hensley was safe on Doughty's error. D. Johnston hit to Chartren who tried to tag Hensley, and then threw to first too late to get the batter. Wilgar's single to right filled the bases and Batten was derricked in favor of Starr. E. Johnston hit to Chartren and Hensley scored as the batter was being thrown out. Hall bunted to Starr, and was out at first and D. Johnston was doubled at the plate, Batten to Davis.

In their half the Generals put two runs over. McLean's fumble gave Doughty a life and after Davis had popped to D. Johnston and Edgar had fanned, Allen doubled to centre, scoring Doughty. Two wild pitches sent Allen in and Batten ended the innings by fanning.

Wells who started at short stop for the Generals, was badly spiked when D. Johnston slid into second in the first innings, and had to leave the game.

JUNIOR LACROSSE TEAM DEFEATED IN HASTINGS 17-1

SHOWED REVERSAL OF FORM FROM LOCAL GAME—HASTINGS JUNIORS FAST.

Peterboro's Junior lacrosse team tasted their first defeat in a league game in Hastings on the holiday, when Tim Coughlin's lads turned them back by the score of 17 goals to 1. It was a real disappointment to the local boys, but not a discouragement. In fact they came home with the determination to profit by the experience they gained, and it is experience they need most.

Like all small towns that make no pretense of taking up baseball, Hastings regards its lacrosse team seriously. They have visions of walking off with this district, and another round or two, perhaps further, and to give their team every possible advantage they have engaged "Dot" Phelan of Cornwall as coach at a nice salary, so it is reported. Mr. Phelan, who has been in the big show on the Pacific Coast, and is also said to have played Lalonde and Co., in the east, took hold of the team this week, and has not had a chance to show his wares, but if the team continues an improvement on Mr. Coughlin's coaching, in proportion to the professional's salary, they may indeed go far. At any rate, Peterboro lacrosse teams in both the junior and intermediate series of the O.L.A. are stacked against formidable opposition. This perhaps smacks of an alibi, but on yesterday's play, Hastings deserved to win. However Mr. Coughlin himself declared that the score was not a true index of the play, and there is a little balm in that opinion.

Peterboro scored the first goal in about three minutes, and after that they had an afternoon of trouble in the sweltering heat. The Trent team showed plainly the benefits of good coaching. They kept away from their checks when they should, they were all neat, clean stick-handlers, and they had a running combination that was decidedly effective. Under close checking they would not have got away so often, but that was one of the lesson's Johnnie Sutherland's team took to heart. The Hastings' youngsters are apparently provided with lacrosse sticks before they get spoons. They grow up with the game, just as the city boys emerge from the street corner rank of baseball into the school league, and on up the ladder until they reach the Central Ontario status, and then wonder whether perchance a big league scout may be looking them over from the crowded stands. And Hastings takes lacrosse so seriously they import a professional to teach their youngsters inside stuff. Peterboro's juniors in the meantime are struggling along almost neglected except for a faithful few followers, and their own determination to stick with the game and learn it. And they are learning fast, in spite of yesterday's score.

The teams were as follows:

Hasings.		Petreboro.
C. Whitred	goal	L. Lebar
C. Scriver	point	J. Ward
W. Whitred	c. point	E. Foley
W. Tate.	1st def.	L. O'Connell
H. Rogers	2nd def.	H. Johnston
B. Clapper	centre	L. Brown
F. Scriver	2nd home	J. Lawson
R. Richardson	1st home	S. Rosenfield
S. Stevenson	outside	W. Ranger
J. Gould	inside	J. Killoran
T. Walsh	spares	K. Mein
K. Kennedy		A. Miller
O. Cruikshanks		C. Doughty

Referee, Dr. Herb Allen of Warkworth.

Hastings scored four goals in the first period, three in the second, six in the third and four in the final. Their best men were Rogers, Clapper and Stevenson. These three in centre field were on the move all afternoon. They carried the ball like veterans and flashed a pretty combination. It was noticeable that they usually managed to get inside their checks when Hastings had the ball, and with quick passing they advanced in spite of the Peterboro defence. Fred Scriver was one of the best men on the field but he has a weakness for grandstand stuff that in the long run doesn't count for much.

Scriver tried to rush through the Peterboro defense in the beginning of the game. He got through a couple of times for goals, and then Eddie Foley met him with a stiff clean body check. Foley was given an undeserved penalty on this play which put Scriver out of the game until half time. The Peterboro defence has been taught to use their bodies in checking, and this penalty had them guessing after that. Dr. Allen's work was otherwise entirely satisfactory. Both teams played clean lacrosse and judging by the penalties Hastings had the better record. Lebar stopped a lot of hard shots. Only one easy one beat him—a bounder from well outside. All the others were shot from the tail ends of combinations, except one that was passed out in front by Jimmy Lawson, intercepted by Stevenson, who flipped it into the Peterboro net.

Whitred played well in Hastings goal, but he had a light session compared with Lebar's performance.

CARPENTIER AND MANAGER DESCHAMPS.

BELLEVILLE APPRECIATE THEIR TREATMENT HERE

Belleville, 30th June, 1921.

Editor of The Examiner.

We wish to express our appreciation as an Association of the sportsmanlike manner in which the baseball game on 25th June—G. T. R. vs. Peterbororugh—in Peterborough was conducted. Notwithstanding the closeness of the game and the excitement of the finish, the very best feeling was shown by players and spectators alike towards our team and its supporters.

As an Association, we appreciate very highly that good sportsmanship, and take this means of expressing our appreciation to the Peterborough team and management.

Douglas C. Ramsay, President.
J. O. Herity, Secretary.

MADAME CARPENTIER, UNABLE TO STAND STRAIN, GOES TO COUNTRY FOR DAY

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

PARIS, July 2.—"I can't stand this any longer." With this cry of anguish, Mme. Georges Carpentier left her apartment in Paris early to-day and went to the home of her parents in the country. She told her maid that the strain of remaining in Paris alone all during the day of her husband's fight with Jack Dempsey would be too much for her. She plans to return to-night and, in company with a few intimate friends and relatives, spend the evening in her apartments waiting for the cablegram that will tell what happened in the ring at Jersey City. The strain of the last few hours broke through Mme. Carpentier's brave and smiling front with which she has been meeting all visitors. She became increasingly nervous and yesterday was so upset she couldn't endure the ordeal of meeting any except a few of her oldest friends. She told them she was trying to be brave and worthy of her fighting husband.

300 WAIT ALL NIGHT FOR SEATS; WILD SCRAMBLE ACROSS THE RIVER; ENTIRE NEW YORK AREA SEETHING

NEW YORK, July 2. Canadian Press. New York and the entire Metropolitan area, which reaches out and embraces the now famous Boyle's 30 acres in Jersey City, seethed to-day with a frenzy of excitement wholly unprecedented in the fields of sport as the hours rolled slowly on for the fistic clash for the world's heavyweight championship between Jack Dempsey, the United States title holder, and Georges Carpentier, the idol and champion of Europe.

New York's mansions and her gorgeous hotel early began disgorging brilliant parties of men and women, intent on threading in ample time the cluttered automobile highways that lead to Tex Rickard's mammoth arena in Jersey City.

Less opulent fans had begun the scramble toward Jersey City, by ferry, by flivver and train, but even the earliest arrivals this morning found themselves outgeneraled by an advance guard of about three hundred men and boys who spent the night in line waiting for the first crack at the $5.50 unreserved seats.

The day opened with a brief flash of sunshine but by nine o'clock the sky was overcast with a threat of rain in the air.

Champion Dempsey, primed and eager, awaited the hour to defend his title in Jersey City, to which he had been spirited from his training camp at Atlantic City yesterday.

Carpentier left his quarters at Manhassett by automobile shortly after breakfast for Port Washington where a yacht waited to bear him to Jersey City.

JERSEY CITY, July 2.— (Canadian Press.)— Leaden skies greeted the vanguard of the vast crowds pouring into this city from all directions to witness the Dempsey-Carpentier bout. Several hundred men and boys who had remained outside the arena all night, lit bonfires and went through impromptu calisthenics to seek warmth against the cool breezes that swept over the Jersey meadows. Just before the gates were opened several hundred ushers and police made a thorough search of the arean to clear out all squatters. Scores of boys who selected vantage points during the night in an effort to witness the fight without expense, were pulled out of all hiding places and sent scampering through the gate.

Carpentier and Dempsey are both confident that they will win. Odds favoring Dempsey had shortened markedly during the last hours of betting, but Dempsey still ruled a 2 1-2 favorite.

JOE BANNON, TIME-KEEPER.

BASEBALL

The Petes are well off for utility men. Walter Jackson played a creditable game at first base in the morning, took Murray's place at third in the afternoon and turned in a great performance. Bob Ross, who has been playing first base in the absence of Harrison, caught both games in great style.

AIR RAID SIRENS OF PARIS, SILENT SINCE THE WAR, WILL SHRIEK RESULT OF FIGHT TO 3,000,000 PARISIANS

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

PARIS, July 2.—The air raid sirens of Paris, silent since the last time Boche aviators bombed the city, will shriek the news of Carpentier's or Dempsey's victory to-night, three siren blasts—Dempsey wins, twelve siren blasts—Carpentier wins.

Three million in Paris, gathered in restaurants, theatres, clubs, sidewalk cafes and in thousands of homes will be listening for the blasts at 8 p.m. (3 p.m. Jersey City time.) When the whistling begins, if it stops at three blasts, the heart of Paris will drop to the depths of despair, but if the tooting goes on, announcing a Carpentier victory, the lid will fly high. In addition to the sirens, plans have been made to announce the result by firing aerial bombs three for Dempsey and twelve for Carpentier.

There will be scores of illuminating bulletin boards, before which the people will assemble. Round by round descriptions of the fight will be put before the corwd in twenty theatres. Of thirty newspapers, only one doubts that Carpentier will win. The press generally concurs in the opinion that the battle is a contest between silence and brutality. The public is reading and talking nothing but fight.

GEORGES CARPENTIER IN "THE WONDER MAN" SHOWS ABILITY IN THE MOVIES.

Georges Carpentier in "The Wonder Man" at the Capitol proves himself to be a much better 'movie' actor than Dempsey. As Henri d'Alour, a French Secret Service agent who disposes very neatly of the plans of a couple of clever international croks, he does some very nice acting. The picture contains a real live exciting fistic encounter in the ring, in which Carpentier comes off the winner also, and there is a very pretty little romance with Faire Binney in the title role.

The Mack Sennett comedy, "Great Scott!" is very funny, and this week's instalment of the serial more thrilling than ever. The vaudeville act is composed of a bright offering by Taler and Mack, of singing, dancing and talking. Their line of pokes is new and entertaining and they kept the audience laughing from beginning to end of their talking number. They have several gay songs, with same spectacular dancing from the lady, and the gentleman gives a few Irish and Scotch imitations that are really good.

NORWOOD WINS IN LAKEFIELD

GAVE "DOC" GREEN FINE SUPPORT, WHILE DAVE WHITE'S TEAM FAILED HIM.

Norwood opened the second half of the East Peterborough League schedule in Lakefield yesterday morning, and defeated the homesters by the score of 10 to 1.

Dave White and "Doc" Green were in good form, and early in the game the prospects were bright for a close score. In the third, however, Lakefield infielders began to wobble. Wild throws and boots entered the contest, Norwood scoring three runs. That lost the game for Lakefield, as Norwood supported Green's good pitching, and finished strong at the bat. By innings:

Norwood	0030106—10
Lakefield	0001000— 1

Batteries—Green and Andrews; White and Simpson.

LEG BROKEN IN FOOTBALL MATCH

JOSEPH JOHNSTON, OF WARSAW TEAM IS ACCIDENTALLY KICKED BY OPPOSING PLAYER.

Joseph Johnston, a member of the Warsaw football team, had two bones of his right leg fractured, when he was accidentally kicked by an opponent during the football match at the Exhibition Grounds in Lakefield on the holiday morning. Dr. J. C. Smith was on the grounds at the time of the accident, and the injured player received prompt attention. The game was called off.

BELLEVILLE ARE HEADING LEAGUE

BEAT OSHAWA 3 TO 2 IN HARD BATTLE YESTERDAY.

BELLEVILLE, July 1.—Oshawa was defeated here in a Central Ontario League fixture this afternoon by Grand Trunk by 3 to 2. Weir, of Belleville, made a home run to left field in the fourth. Several times Dainty, of Oshawa, pulled his team out of dangerous situations. This is Grand Trunk's sixth consecutive win, and to-day's defeat of Oshawa puts Belleville at the top of the League.

Oshawa — Gifford, ss; Fair, 3b; Jacobs, 1b; Dainty, p; Rowden, 2b; Dobson, lf; Legge, rf; Petrie, cf; Belling, c; Hall, spare.

Belleville — Weir, ss; Casey, rf; Ross, cf; Mills, c; Goyer, 3b; Mills, 1b; Williams, 2b; Symons, lf; F. Goyer, p.

	R.	H.	E.
Belleville	000100200—3	6	3
Oshawa	000100100—2	4	3

Umpire — Kay. Peterborough (plate). Ramsay, Belleville (bases).

BASEBALL.

Hap Harrison's triple yesterday travelled all the way out to Louis Yeotes' sign in left field. There is a standing offer of $5.00 worth of cigars for hitting this sign, so "Hap" looks like having a lot of smokes. Louie had better hoist his advertisement up on the red barn when Harrison is hitting or lay in a new stock of cigars.

The Central League standing as a result of yesterday's games is as follows:

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Belleville	6	2	.750
Lindsay	5	2	.714
Oshawa	4	2	.667
Peterborough	4	3	.571
Cobourg	1	6	.143
Port Hope	0	6	.000

A tight and interesting game of ball was played Thursday evening, when the Fields Rats defeated the Tigers 6-1. The game was played very good and the Rats did some good work. They have won 13 straight game now without a defeat.

Batteries Tigers, Charlibous, Connors, Moore; Field Rats: — Shaughnessy, Clarke, Miller.

They play the Tigers again on Wednesday night at King Edward Park.

Semi-ready

We will Tailor to your measure in any style you select, these

Semi-ready $30 Suitings

with four-day delivery

This is real cloth and better workmanship than the average Bespoke Tailoring.

This is a 1914 quality for six guineas—the price which the same suit is sold for by the best London Tailors.

1914—Thousands of men bought and liked the Semi ready Suits at $30 and $35.

1915—Storage of wool by War Boards started the prices of clothing soaring.

1917—Manufacturers received a date of their orders from the weavers, at any high price the mills had the greed to ask.

1919—Prices reached their highest peak and men paid double pre-war prices for suits of like quality.

1920—Sensational offers abounded for so-called cheap suits—and cheap and cheats they were in everything.

1921—Semi-ready Tailored Suits that were $45 and $50 came down to $30.

Suits that were $20 and $23 before the war are now $30.

Men who know realize that labor costs are still high, and that these lower prices are only made possible by the closest scrutiny of cost and a limitation to very small profits.

In fact there has been a loss of from $3 to $5 on every Semi-ready Suit sold this year in Canada.

Bespoke Suits to Custom Measure

To any man whom we cannot fit exactly we offer the service of our Special Order Tailoring Department, where he can order any $30 Suit to be made from any one of the 22 cloth patterns, and pay the same price as for the ready-to-try on suits.

Patterns, self-measurement forms and illustrations of these suits are so plain that we can make for any man between Halifax and Victoria—guaranteed perfect fit.

Summer Complaint

There is that which, for want of a better term, we may call Summer Complaint.

It is a disease of the lazy mind and of the indolent muscle.

It is making a virtue of procrastination.

It is the "excuse" of the incompetent employee and the "reason" of the lackadaisical employer.

Yet the employee expects to draw his pay just the same, and the lackadaisical employer expects to get business.

ANNUAL PICNIC OF KNOX CHURCH S. S.

The annual picnic of Knox Church Sunday School was held on Wednesday last. The Stoney Lake was well filled with children and grown-ups for its trip to Gore's Landing, where the party landed for dinner, after which the boat proceeded to Hiawatha, where races and games were held.

The batting averages in the baseball games were high, in spite of the excellent pitching. H. J. McCannan finished the game on the mount for the losers.

On the way home, the boys and girls entered heartily into singing of the songs and hymns that passed the time away, to finish up an enjoyable excursion.

THIN, WATERY BLOOD MEANS ILL HEALTH

RICH, RED BLOOD BRINGS BRIGHT EYES AND ROSY CHEEKS.

The girl who returns home from school or from work thoroughly tired out will be fortunate if she escapes a physical breakdown, because this geeting tired so easily is probably the first warning symptom of a thinning blood that must not be disregarded if her health is to be preserved.

When the blood becomes thin and impure the patient becomes pale. She not only tires out easily, but often suffers from headaches, palpitation of the heart, dizzy spells and a loss of appetite.

In this condition Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found to have a beneficial action on the blood. Miss Delima Lafreniere, St. Ambrose, Man., has proved this in her own case, and advises others to use these pills. She says: "Before I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I felt like a complete wreck of my former self. My blood was poor and thin. I suffered from faint and dizzy spells, and had backaches and headaches almost every day, I decided to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and by the time I had used three boxes I felt much better and I continued taking the pills until I felt as well as I ever did. For what they did in my case I cannot recommend these pills too highly."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A RECITAL

A very enjoyable little recital was given by the piano pupils o Miss Mary Lonergan, A.T.C.M., at the Greene Music Store on Thursday evening last. Despite the intense heat, the little lads and lasses acquitted themselves very well—in a manner creditable to the excellent training of their teacher. Both juniors and seniors took part in this recital, and showed marked attention to the technique of the piano, with fine, smooth tone and good time standards. Miss Ernestine McManus, who assisted, accompanied by Miss Florence Giroux, gave a very pretty vocal solo in her sweet soprano, for which she was enthusiastically encored. At the conclusion of the programme, Miss Lonergan was presented with a large bouquet.

Those taking part were: Ruth Murray, Margaret Simpson, Alma Goselin, Mildred Raper, Anastasia Fitzgerald, Irene Hourigan, Agnes Sweeney, Margaret Deforge, Mary Hayes, Lucy Fisher, Dorothy Clarke, Marion Timm Muriel Goselin, Greta Welbourne, Mary Timm, Jean Ingram, Elsie Bennett, Victoria Goodson, Ablinda White, Rosalie Jay, Mildred Greene, Martha Baumer, Frank Carroll, and David Hubbs.

RESOLUTIONS

You may be one of the individuals who resolve time after time to stop neglecting their Health.

We make these resolutions so firmly every now and then that it finally becomes a habit—but we continue to neglect our Health.

Now, is there any other thing that you would like to have more than Health—the knd that fills you with the zest for living and accomplishing? What would you do with all the wealth of the ages, whether that wealth is in the form of wisdom, culture, fame, or power, or whether it is of glittering gold, if you had not the Health to enioy it?

When you give it just a moment's consideration you realise that Health is the one thing above all earthly things that is worth sacrificing most to have. When you are sick and compelled to meditate upon the value of Health, this fact is doubly appreciated. Health is the basis of all happiness. The exhliaration that surges through your body, giving you a keen appreciation of all the blessings of life, affords more unalloyed joy than any other human experience.

The thrill and gladness that comes with Health is but a part of the real Happiness of Health. The abounding energy which intrigues you on to greater tasks and greater accomplishments—that makes your job your best friend, returns the satisfaction and contentment that comes with rendering good service. And with it all come the rewards of good service. With energy and strength every fibre of your beng will impel you on to these greater tasks and greater accomplishments. If you have Health, guard it zealously. If you do not have all of the Health and Strength you should have, don't make another resolution—just call your Chiropractor on the telephone, and arrange an appointment for to-day or this week.

Your Chiropractor will go into your case thoroughly, give you a complete explanation of the science of Chiropractic, and, if you desire, an examination and a spinal analysis. You can decide for yourself whether or not you believe that Chiropractic will be effective in your case. Millions of people have done this very thing and are now Healthy and Happy because of their foresight.

PLOT UPRISING AGAINST GOV'T OF ANTI-REDS

DISCOVERY OF A CONSPIRACY AMONG SEMENOFF'S FORCES REPORTED—RED ENVOY EXPRESSES FRIENDSHIP TOWARD TURKS.

DENIES ANY PLAN TO TAKE CONSTANTINOPLE

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 4. Canadian Press. — Soviet Russia has no desire to occupy Constantinople but desires to have peaceful relations with Turkey, and with all nations, declared M. Nathan Arow, the new Russian Bolshevik ambassador to Turkey, in presenting his credentials to Mustapha Kemal, the head of the Turkish Nationlist Government.

TOKIO, July 4. Cnadian Press. — The discovery of a conspiracy among the followers of General Semenoff, anti-Bolsheviki leader in Siberia, to overthrow the Merkuloff government in Vladivostock, is reported in the newspaper despatches from that city. Twenty three persons including three officers, have been arrested in connection with the lot.

TRAIL RANGERS' CAMP AT SANDY POINT

31 BOYS FROM GEORGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH.

Withall the reports of retrenchment in different lines of business, it is encouraging to report a new era in boys' work in Peterborough. On Saturday afternoon, the first Trail Rangers' Camp to go out from Peterboorugh erected their tents at Sandy Point, Clear Lake. The camp is made up entirely of boys from the George street Methodist church. Three clubs constitute it, the Wild Cats, the Victors and the Alerts. Leadership is no problem for the camp, and when the leaders met to discuss plans of organization, besides the 3 tent leaders, Earl Barrie, Trevor Miller and Charlie Elliott, there were also present Wm. Hamilton, Jim Spencer, Howard Copp and Harold Copp.

Considerable credit is due Charlie Elliott, in the way of splendid organization and management. The programme arranged by Earl Barrie and Trevor Miller is being efficiently carried out. The physical activities, under the direction of Harold Copp, who is home on his vacation from Association College, Chicago, keep the boys interested.

The camp is well supplied with boats and other equipment that will help the fellows make the most of their vacation.

Saturday night the Rangers had a splendid game of ball with the cottagers, followed by a camp fire on the beach. Sunday afternoon, every member attended service at the new church, conducted by Mr. Edmundson, secretary of the Home Mission Board of the Presbyterian church. Sunday night some of the fathers of the boys from the city were welcomed. They pronounced the camp a real live place.

DEMPSEY WATCHES SELF IN ACTION

JERSEY CITY, July 4. Canadian Press. — Jack Dempsey still heavyweight champion of the world, celebrated the fourth of July to-day in addition to celebrating his victory over Georges Carpentier.

Dempsey plans to remain in this vicinity for several days, when he will go to Salt Lake City, his home, for a vacation and rest from his long training grind.

The champion yesterday saw himself in action. He motored to a motion picture theatre that was showing pictures of the great encounter. Huddled in a back seat, alongside of Jack Kearns, his manager, and Mike Trant, a Chicago detective sergeant, who has been his body guard he watched the punch that enabled him to retain the championship.

BEACHES CROWDED DRESSING ROOMS REMAINED LOCKED

Hunrreds of citizens availed themselves yesterday of the Sunday street cars and thronged the bathing places at Inverlea Park, Lake street and below the Locks. The crowd at Inverlea was estimated at three hundred. Disregarding the locked and barred dressing quarters they managed to unburden themselves of their heavy clothes, seeking the sometimes doubtful screen of trees and boat houses to disrobe and pull their bathing suits over them. Others motored to the park all ready for the welcome plunge, and throughout the day the little dressing house frowned with its locks upon the crowd in the pleasure of their relief from the heat.

In the evening the crowds that sought the vagrant breezes on the river at the foot of Lock street, lingered until nine and ten o'clock. Al fresco suppers were numerous along the banks. Some of the canoes and skiffs went as far as Robinson's island and quite a number of launches chugged all the way to Rice Lake, Landing and other favorite spots for Landing and other favorite sots for supper.

BAND CONCERT AT SACRED HEART SOCIAL.

The social to be held on the grounds of the Sacred Heart Church to-morrow evening should be well patronised. A real banquet is promised for the supper table. There will be lottery booths, with auction sale of fancy and useful articles, booths for all sorts of light refreshments, a fish pond, and the band of the Peterborough Rangers, who will give the following programme of music (by permission of Lieut.-Col. Clegg and officers):

March .... "Vanished Army"
Overture from .... "Martha"
"Bells of St. Malo" ....
Waltzes .... "Love and Kisses"
Reminiscences of Scotland ....
Nautical Selection ....
.... "Life on the Ocean"
Fox-Trot .... "Oh"
Selection .... Irish Airs
March .... "Royal Salute"
"God Save the King."

THE WEATHER

The hot weather still continues and apparently becoming worse. On Friday we had it 90 degrees in the shade, on Saturday 91 degrees, on Sunday 91 degrees, and to-day (Monday) at noon it stood at 92 degrees. These readings, remember, are at the cool, breezy, sylvan retreat of the local observer, near the summit on the Smithtown hill, where, if any breeze at all is blowing this section is sure to get the benefit. On the business streets down town it can easily be three or four degrees higher. Last night was particularly warm. The lowest the thermometer got last night was 70 degrees. It was the warmest night for several years, and has only been exceeded twice in about 25 years. A little cooler weather with thunderstorms is generally prevalent to the westward, but is moving this way but slowly. —W. P.

PROBE OF LEMIEUX CHARGES STARTS IN AUGUST.

OTTAWA, July 4. — (Canadian Press.)—It is expected that Judge Panneton, appointed by the government to investigate the charges made by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux in the House of Commons in connection with the proposed payent of $60,000 to the Park St. Charles Land Company, will open his enquiry on August 15th. Judge Panneton is at present on a vacation. The inquiry will probably be held at Quebec.

TOBACCO GIVEN CONVICTS; BAN FOR 24 YEARS

PORTSMOUTH PENITENTIARY RULE BARRING USE OF TOBACCO BY INMATES LIFTED AFTER 24 YEARS.

SEVERE PUNISHMENTS HAD BEEN PROVIDED

(Special Despatch to the Examiner.)

KINGSTON, July 4. — Tobacco is to be given the convicts at the Portsmouth penitentiary after being banned for twenty-four years.

During that period tobacco was officially declared contraband, and any prisoner found in possession of it, or of cigar stubs, matches or a pipe, was severely punished, and, in addition it is estimated that fully 75 per cent. of the prison offences and punishments prisoners were subjected to were due directly or indirectly to tobacco.

Many of the guards have been dismissed for giving or permitting a prisoner to have tobacco.

Warden Ponsford addressed the convicts on Sunday, stating that no more punishment would be inflicted upon them for having tobacco, but on the contrary tobacco would be given to all who were users of it before coming to the prison. A small quantity will be issued each week, but prisoners who misbehaved will be deprived of tobacco as a punishment.

A stock of tobaeco has been ordered and it is expected that within the next two weeks the regulation will go into effect. The announcement made by the Warden was received by cheers from the convicts.

PERMANENT FIREMEN GRATEFUL TO T. TOOMS

Mr. T. Tooms, M.P.P., has received the following appreciation from the Provincial Federation of Ontario Fire Fighters:

Dear Sir,

On behalf of the Ontario Permanent Firemen, I wish to convey to you, sir, our sincere thanks and deep appreciation for the solid support and consideration that you have given to the Two-Platoon Act, and also in defeating the amendment to the Fire Departments' Hours of Labour Act.

We have much to thank you for in the past two sessions of the Ontario Legislative Assembly, and shall not forget the staunch friend that we have in yourself.

Thanking you again for the support that you have given the firemen in the past, and hoping that we shall continue to merit this support in the future,—I am,

Yours very truly,
D. H. Lamb,
General Secretary-Treasurer.

WOMAN AGED 74 LOST IN THE BUSH

GOODERHAM, July 4. — Mrs. Mark Cully, aged 74 years, has been missing since June 18, when she started out to pick wild berries in bush near here. She was last seen at 5:30 in the afternoon and on failing to return home at night, a search party constituted of from 40 to 75 men combed the bush for miles, but to no avail. No trace of the lost woman has since been discovered.

GOV'T ENGINEER VISITS SCENE OF AUTO SMASH

BUT DEPUTY MINISTER OF HIGHWAYS LAYS BLAME TO THE BRAKES AND SAYS ROAD NOT AT FAULT.

TWO KILLED AND FIVE HURT IN THE ACCIDENT

(Special Despatch to the Examiner).

TORONTO, July 4.—D. M. Hogarth, Chief Engineer of the Highways Department, has gone to Winona to investigate conditions on the Hill "50" detour, where two people were killed and five injured in an accident which occurred yesterday afternoon.

W. A. McClean, Deputy Minister of Highways, when seen by the Examiner to-day, expressed profound regret over the accident which had occurred, but pointed out that it was the fault of defective brakes rather than of an excessive danger of the road. He added that the Department had maintained traffic over the main Provincial road from Hamilton to Queenston, via Grimsby, while it was under construction up till about a week or ten days ago, when this became impossible since the asphalt surfacing was being applied on the stretch between Grimsby and Winona. The detour then became necessary. There was no possible one south of the Provincial highway, he said, since since there was not merely no road there but not even any road allowance. A detour here would have meant driving a trail through orchards which would have proved very costly. Accordingly, the Mountain Road and the "50" Road had been selected as the only practical detour.

Mr. McClean stated that this detour had been in use for about ten days or a fortnight, and that it was expected that the main Provincial road would be open for traffic once again in another week. A. N. Fellows, the resident engineer, had reported that as soon as the detour was opened the necessary sign boards and lanterns had been put in position. In referring to the hill itself, Mr. Fellows had stated that it was a tough and heavy grade, but that the only persons to whom it was giving any trouble were those drivers of motor trucks who tried to negotiate with 35 or 50 per cent. overload.

TREE VANDALS IN OTONABEE

Peterborough, 2nd July, 1921.
Editor of The Examiner,

Sir,—In driving over the country roads of Ontario from Toronto eastward, the drive from Peterborough to Keene always appealed to me. The road for the whole distance of some twelve miles is exceptionally good, the farms are far above the average in Eastern Ontario, they are well farmed, and there is a thrift and neatness about the homes and buildings that any person must notice. It is a twelve-mile stretch, which is a credit to the owners thereon, and also to the County of Peterborough. The owners have gone to a great amount of pains in trimming shade trees and planting them, but now a gang of linemen are busy trimming trees so as not to interfere with the wires. The work is very badly done —in fact, it looks like the work of vandals. One beautiful row of locusts at Zion Corners has been almost completely demolished, and that man's farm has suffered to the extent of at least $500.00 by so doing. I wish to draw the atention of the U.F.O. Clubs to this work, and try and impress on them the effect of it. Surely this trimming should be done under some official supervision, so that the owners shall not suffer as this man.

Hoping, Mr. Editor, you will insert this and use your influence in preserving the beauty of your country roads around Peterborough.—Yours, etc., A. E. Elliott.

BAR LIQUOR FROM MILITARY CAMPS

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

OTTAWA, July 4.— "So far as the Militia Department is concerned," said General Sir Eugene Fiset, Deputy Minister of Militia, this morning, "the orders are strictly to the effect that no intoxicating liquors shall be served at any militia camp.

With regard to the particular case in which wine addressed to the officers' mess of the Niagara camp has been seized by the Ontario Temperance Act authorities, and in connection with which Col. F. F. Clarke is alleged to have said that the camp is "the wettest he has seen in 27 years," General Fisset calls attention to the fact that all information is in the possession of General Victor Williams, officer commanding the Kingston division.

NOTHING IN CRIMINAL CODE TO PREVENT SHOWING DEMPSEY-CARPENTIER FILMS, SAYS RANEY.

OWNERS WILL FIGHT IF CENSORS OBJECT

TORONTO, July 4.—(Canadian Press).—It is expected that strenuous opposition will be put up by the owners of the motion picture rights of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight for permission to show them in Ontario.

They argue that they are not fight pictures but only show a boxing exhibition held legally under the laws of New Jersey. They claim that similar boxing exhibitions have been allowed in Ontario under the supervision of the Boxing Commission.

Attorney-General Raney stated that there was nothing in the criminal code to prevent the pictures being shown and that it was a matter for the censor to deal with. He did not state his own position on the matter.

SIMS IN FAVOR OF CRITICISM

SAYS IT MAKES FOR EFFICIENCY IN ARMY AND NAVY AND CONTRASTS ATTITUDE OF U. S. WITH EUROPE.

NEWPORT, R.I., July 4.—(Canadian Press.)— The attitude of the United States, which he said not only had always neglected to provide for public criticism of officers of armed forces, but has actually forbidden it, was contrasted with that of some European powers by Rear Admiral William S. Sims, in an address to-day here, in which he urged public discussion as a safeguard to public interests.

In home continental interess, he declared, criticism was recognized as so vital to efficiency that it was rewarded when it proved beneficial.

The people of the United States, Admiral Sims says, know less about the elements of warfare and less about the actual condition of their military forces than the people of any other great power.

U.S. TEUTON PEACE SIGNED

PRESIDENT HARDING AFFIXES SIGNATURE TO THE PORTER JOINT CONGRESSIONAL RESOLUTION ENDING WAR.

TWO YEARS SINCE VERSAILLES PACT

RARITAN, N.J., July 4. — War with Germany ended as it began: by Congressional declaration and Executive signature on American soil.

At 4.10 p.m., local daylight-saving time, in the living room of "The Hill," Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen's home here yesterday, President Harding placed his signature to the Porter joint Congressional resolution declaring peace with Germany and Austria, just two years and four days after the ill-fated Treaty of Versailles was signed.

"That's all," said President Harding as he held his pen above his signature on a broad vellum typewritten page. The ink dripped from the pen and made a blot the size of a five-cent piece on the page, almost effacing the "g" of the President's signature.

More ceremony has been connected with making an entry in the family Bible or a debutante's memory book than that accompanying the signature that ended a war that called to the colors 4,800,000 young Americans. And yet the very formality of the occasion heightened its impressiveness. Except for the four camera men —there were no movies—not one of the witnesses spoke or moved while the President signed the peace resolution. The 30 Government officials and their wives, Secret Service men, county officers, reporters, butlers, maids, chauffeurs and gardeners that were in Senator Frelinghuysen's living room were busy with their own thoughts, and the modest Frelinghuysen ancestral home will have a place in history long after an international heavyweight championship is forgotten.

CHINA MAKES PEACE, TOO.

PARIS, July 4. — (Canadian Press.)— A Pekin despatch states that ratification of the Treaty between China and Germany, restoring a state of peace, were exchanged July 1.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

(All financial and produce markets in the United States are closed to-day, this being Independence Day, a national holiday).

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, July 4 (Canadian Press).—The local stock exchange was very quiet at its opening this morning after the long holiday. Dominion Steel was stronger by 5-8 of a point at 23 5-8. Laurentide was also strong, registering a gain of 3 1-2 points to 73 1-2. Spanish River remained unchanged at 48.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

TORONTO, July 4 (Canadian Press).—Cattle receipts 1,237; was draggy. Quotations:

Heavy beef steers, $7.50 to $8; butcher steers, choice, $7.00 to $7.50; butcher cows, medium, $3.00 to $5.00; calves, $7.0 to $8.50; lambs, $12.00 to $13.50; hogs, selects, fed and watered, $11.50.

TORONTO

TORONTO, July 4.—(Canadian Press). — The local stock market was extremely quiet this morning. While trading was well spread over the list, there was very little activity in any one issue. The general tone was strong, with Abitibi and Spanish River gaining 3-4 and 1-4 point respectively. Steamship Preferred and Steel were steady, while Toronto Railway and Canadian Pacific both sold off, the former losing 3-4 at 71 1-4 and the latter 3-4 at 134.

There was no afternoon session.

BY THE WAY

A bunch of bananas as hung in the store is hung just the opposite from the way it grows. Bananas grow with their lower ends pointing upward. The herb on which the fruit grows has an underground stem which sends up suckers or sprouts that attain their full growth in a year and a half or two years. Its "trunk" is not really a trunk at all, but a false stalk formed by the curled bases of the leaves, which wrap themselves about the flower stem. This stalk, almost a foot in diameter at the bottom, rises to a height of from 10 to 40 feet, its great leaves, a foot or two in width, and from 6 to 10 feet in length, drooping outward.

When the plant has reached its full growth there appears a huge flower bud, which opens and shows a little bunch of flowers, each of which makes way for a tiny banana. The great flower cluster hangs toward the earth, but as the separate fruits begin to grow they turn upward. From 50 to 150 bananas, weighing from 40 to 100 pounds, may grow in a bunch.

Nest and Eggs of Canadian Jay Found.

The only nest and eggs of the Canadian jay, better known as the "camp robber," which ever has been collected, so far as is known, has been received at Seattle from Lynden, Wash. The collection was found by Maynard Stout on his father's homestead.

The Canadian jay is a very common and often troublesome bird, deriving his other name from a habit of hanging about camps and lodges for the purpose of purloining provisions. Its nest, eggs, and young are always cunningly hidden, and until the discovery by Stout this phase of the bird's life had remained a mystery.

The nest, carefully built of grass, sticks and moss, was found about six feet above the ground in a jack pine tree. It was cleverly concealed by a camouflage of twigs woven by the parent birds. The eggs, four in number, the size of those of robins, are sharply pointed at one end and tinted with light blue, speckled by light brown freckles.

The Smithsonian Institution and the Museum of the Washington State University have endeavored to obtain specimens of the best and study the habits of the jay, but were unable to locate its home.

Bank Pays One Acorn a Year On Property.

The transfer of title to the bank property at 22 and 24 South Third street, Philadelphia, from the Citizens' Bank to the State Bank of Philadelphia, brought to light the fact that ownership of this property if rorever subject to the payment of one acorn per annum to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The acorn clause was embodied in the earliest deeds to the northern portion, known as 22 South Third street, and was cited in the deed dated April 1, 1836, whereby title passed from Clause Amable Braziler to the Mechanics' Bank of Philadelphia. The full clause is: "Subject to a certain irredeemable rent of one acorn per annum forever, payable on demand to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania."

Cloud Mask Envelops Venus Year In, Year Out.

What makes the planet Venus so silver-bright? Many a one has put this question to himself these spring evenings, and must have been unable to find a satisfactory answer, London Answers states. But the answer is that we see the silver lining to the cloud-mask which covers the features of Venus, for, as dazzling as this planet appears to us, it is enveloped in sombre clouds that never seem to break and afford us a glimpse of what is below. At least there is no real proof that the markings which have been seen are on the planet's actual surface at all. Slow-moving cloud masses would be liable to be very deceptive and might well be mistaken for something more solid.

The persistency of Venus' last cloud envelope is remarkable; it is present year in and year out, reflecting the sunlight with mirror-like brilliancy.

How Venus would appear without it is hard to say, as we have no knowledge whatever of the real composition of her globe.

All that can be said with any certainty is that she would lose a large share of her radiant beauty if this light-reflecting shell of clouds were removed.

She might look like Mars or like Mercury, and would certainly fail to bewitch mankind as she does now.

The true secret of her peerless beauty, therefore, is her veil of clouds.

The old-fashioned man who used to retire with a few hundred dollars now has a son who spends a few hundred dollars each day before he retires.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

"Blood Money" Was Once Paid For Bloodshed.

"Blood money" was the name applied in the Middle Ages and well into the more modern period to the money paid for bloodshed. It might be either the compensation paid by a manslayer to the nearest relatives of the victim, to secure himself and his kin from vengeance, or the money paid as a reward for bringing about the death of another, directly or through evidence.

It was once common among the Scandinavian and Teutonic peoples, who called this money payment wergild. The price varied with the nature of the crime and the rank of the victim. Certain crimes, such as the slaying of a sleeping person, could not be compensated by a money payment; such criminals were declared outlaws and could be slain with impunity.

Wooer of Princess Roasted To Death.

An interesting archæological discovery recently was made in Delhi. While demolishing a mound on the police parade ground the workmen discovered beneath it a well-built tomb. Little doubt remains that the marble slab marks the last resting place of the Emperor Aurangzeb's learned and highly accomplished daughter, the Princess Zeb-ul-Nisa.

This Princess, whose name translated means "The Ornament of Womanhood," was the favorite daughter of the Emperor Aurangzeb, who reigned at Delhi from 1658 to 1707, in whose reign the Mogul dynasty reached the zenith of its power. The Emperor made her his counselor on many affairs of state, and she possessed to a remarkable degree the confidence of her royal father who trusted very few people. For a time she was the keeper of the royal seal.

It was probably due to her father's wishes that she never married. It is said, however, that she was dearly loved by a young nobleman of great learning, and a poet. She reciprocated his affections, and their secret became known to the Emperor. One day while the young Emperor probably being informed of his presence, came to her apartments in the courtyard. There stood on an oven a huge cauldron such as is used for boiling water. The young man hid himself inside it. The Emperor asked the Princess what the cauldron contained. She answered that it contained bath water. He suspected the real contents, and ordered that a fire be lighted to boil the water. The young man allowed himself to be roasted to death rather than bring disgrace on the Princess, and it is said that he did not as much as utter a sigh.

The Princess died in 1695 in the thirty-seventh year of her father's reign. She was one of the most interesting and charming personalities of Mogul times. Besides attaining to great proficiency in the Persian and Arabic languages, she was a poetess and an author of considerable merit. A commentary on the Koran written by her and called Zeb-ul-Tafsir is still extant. The government of India is now taking steps to preserve and beautify her tomb, so unexpectedly brought to light.

How Weather Effects Opening of Cocoons.

M. A. Pictet Swiss scientist, has made an extended series of experiments showing the effect of the weather upon the opening of the cocoons of moths and butterflies.

It was found that in most varieties of insects the emergence of the pupa from the cocoon coincides with the fall of the barometer, and that a relative increase of the internal pressure within the cocoon is a necessary factor in the escape of the insect from its prison. When there is an increase of the atmospheric pressure during the entire time of this dormant stage of the pupa, or even during the latter half of this period alone, the duration of the dormant stage may be extended from 10 to 20 per cent. Furthermore, when the emergence of the insect is too long retarded, the pupa perishes in the cocoon.

A fall of a single millimeter of the mercury in the barometer tube was found to be enough to cause the opening of the efficiently mature cocoons, while, on the other hand, an increase in the atmospheric pressure postponed the coming forth of such insects for as much as two, three or even four days until the barometer fell once more.

First Great American Phychiatrist

Dr. Benjamin Rush (1745-1813), says a leading Boston alienist in a note prepared for the Boston Transcript, may very certainly be called "the first great American psychiatrist." The fact is the more worthy of fresh public notice because, for the most part, the significance of Dr. Rush's work as a special student of mental disease has escaped the attention of authors of books of reference which deal with his life.

The encyclopedaeists freely describe this early American scientist's fame as a practitioner and teacher of medicine. They laud him as a signer of the Declaration of Independence, an active associate of Benjamin Franklin in the Philosophical Society, and as a publicist of wide distinction in many fields. But they say very little of his voluminous work, "Medical Inquiries and Observations Into Diseases of the Mind." This extensive textbook, which passed through five editions (the last being published in 1835), was, however, the sole and principal authority on the subject current in the United States during many years

How Name Maverick Became Known.

Sam Maverick migrated from Massachusetts to Texas in the early days of the great West and entered upon the business of raising cattle. He purchased several herds and put them out to roam the range. Whether from ignorance or from implicit faith in the honesty of his neighbors, it never occurred to Mr. Maverick that it might be wise to put his brand upon his stock.

At round-up time, whenever a cowboy found an unbranded animal, he would cry:

"There's a Maverick."

And, generally being of the unregenerate type, he would use his own brand on his find. The name Maverick soon began to be generally applied and to acquire a distinct metaphorical meaning; and when men had opinions which were vague and undecided, they were declared by westerners of the old days to hold "Maverick views."

12 PER CENT RAILWAY WAGE CUT HAS BEEN ACCEPTED

SEVEN KILLED, SEVEN HURT IN AUTO CRASHES

TWO CARS STRUCK BY TRAINS AND ONE OVERTURNED IN DITCH WHEN BRAKES FAILED ON STEEP GRADE.

HAMILTON, July 4.—(Canadian Press).—Auto brakes that failed on a steep grade resulted in two persons being killed and five others, all of Toronto, being injured near Winona yesterday afternoon, about 2.30 o'clock, when the car in which they were riding swerved off the road on Hill 50 and overturned in a ditch. The dead are Mrs. Thomas Gamble, 60 years of age, 230 Brock Avenue, Toronto, and Alfred Pardoe, 55 years of age, 149 Lisgar Street, Toronto.

The injured: Fred. Hardiman, Sidney Gallagher, Thomas Gamble, Mrs. Alfred Pardoe and Mrs. Charles Baker, all of Toronto.

TWO KILLED; ONE HURT.

DUNNVILLE, July 4.—(Canadian Press).—Two persons were killed and a third seriously injured yesterday afternoon when a party of six in an automobile were struck by a Grand Trunk train at Inman Road crossing, about 4 miles east of Dunnville. Mrs. George Frederick Smith and Daniel Deamude, of Moulton Township, died a few minutes after the accident through injuries received, and Fred. Brunt, about nine years of age, sustained a fractured skull and other serious injuries. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brunt and Mr. Smith received injuries but not seriously.

THREE KILLED NEAR MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, July 4.—(Canadian Press).—Two young women and one man were killed and one man was injured last night when an automobile was struck by the Canadian Pacific Boston train on a crossing near Delson Junction. The train must have been in full sight of the occupants of the car, for it is stated that the crossing is an open one, there being no curve and nothing to hide it. The train completely demolished the automobile.

The victims are Florence Poissant, aged 18, and Ruth Poissant, aged 17, and Herve Letourneau, aged 20, all of Ste. Doule. Gaston De Some was flung out on the track in a stunned condition, and would have been run over by the Halifax train following if it had not been flagged to stop just in time. His injuries are not serious.

SERIOUS DROUGHT IN OLD COUNTRY

SCORCHING WEATHER HAS PREVAILED FOR SIX WEEKS.

LONDON, July 4. — Canadian Press. — Great Britain is suffering from a serious drought, scorching weather having prevailed for nearly six weeks.

During June less than ¼ of an inch of rain fell ,the month being the driest for more than a century.

The supply of water is causing much anxiety while the crops are poor and pasture is burnt up.

THE MISERY OF BACKACHE

Removed by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Meaford, Ont.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for backache, and I also had a female weakness. I felt dizzy and nervous, and was without energy. I had to force myself to do my work, and was always tired. Saw a Pinkham advertisement which induced me to take the Vegetable Compound, and my back gradually stopped aching and I felt lighter in spirits. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound with pleasure to all I meet who complain as I did."—MILDRED BROCK, Meaford, Ont.

Woman's Precious Gift

The one which she should most zealously guard is her health, but she often neglects to do so in season until some ailment peculiar to her sex has fastened itself upon her. When so afflicted women may rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a remedy that has been wonderfully successful in restoring health to suffering women.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

MIND MAY PROLONG THE SPAN OF LIFE

NEW YORK, July 4.—(Canadian Press). —"Your mind may prolong your years; psychology and not medicine is the secret of longevity." This statement was made yesterday by Dr. Arthur Gates, head of the psychology department of the Teachers' College here. Dr. Gates explained:

"Given proper conditions such as lack of predisposition to organic weakness and susceptibility to disease germs, the mental processes may prolong life greatly beyond the average span. I believe we might become a nation of centenarians without difficulty."

EXPORT TRADE WITH BRITAIN IS INCREASED

MAY EXPORTS EXCEEDED THOSE OF YEAR AGO BY $3,000,000 IN SPITE OF TRADE DEPRESSION.

OTTAWA July 4. — Canadian exports to the United Kingdom for the month of May last exceeded by $3,000,000 those for May of 1920.

The current weekly bulletin of the Department of Trade and Commerce points out that while Canada is experiencing with other countries, excessive reaction in business, still her export trade has not diminished in nearly the same proportion as her imports.

Furthermore in considering declines from 1920 figures ,the bulletin states that it is necessary to remember that the value of the dollar is considerably higher in purchasing power to-day than this time last year, so that the slump is not so ominous as it appears at first sight.

The returns of the United Kingdom and the United States tell the same story—a period of reaction after extravagant buying in the months succeeding the war.

THIEVES ACTIVE IN CAMPBELLFORD

ENTERED G.T.R. STATION AND TRENT VALLEY CREAMERY—HAUL WAS LIGHT.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 4. — Harold Ellis, whose home is north of Havelock, will come before Magistrate Payne this Monday morning charged with stealing a Ford car from Wm. Aikens on Saturday night. As the car was badly damaged the charge is a serious one.

Broke into Station.

Some unknown person or persons forced an entrance to the G. T. R. station on Thursday night and stole a sum of money and a .45 Colt revolver the property of Major Bygott. Another attempt was made about 10 p.m., Saturday night, but was unsuccessful.

Entered Creamery, Too.

The Trent Valley Creamery was broken into three consecutive times during last week. The first time a sum of money was taken as the office safe had been accidentally left open. The second time nothing was stolen but a valve was opened, and about $10 worth of cream was wasted. The third time nothing was taken or damaged.

Personal.

Messrs. Cohen, Friedman and Burnett of Toronto, with their wives, spent a few days of last week fishing along the Trent.

Mr. Robert Bullen spent a few days in Peterboro last week.

Miss McCannon of Peterboro, is visiting Miss Dorothy Bullen.

Mr. A. Pirie purchased a Ford car from D. W. Douglas last week.

Mr. Insley is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Gordon.

Mr. W. B. Horkins of Toronto, spent the holiday with his parents at home.

Miss Nellie Davidson accompanied by her friend, Miss Govenlock, of Toronto, are camping at Trent River.

Miss Helen Wood and Miss Evelyn Irwin left on Saturday morning for Calgary, Alta., where they will visit Miss Wood's sister, Mrs. Sparling. They will travel via the C.P.R. lake service from Port McNicol to Port William ,and thence on by train. Mrs. F. W. Wood accompanied them as far as Peterboro.

Mr. P. McNamara of Galt, is visiting in town.

Mr. P. J. Shannon, was home over the holiday.

Cheese Board.

At the auction of Campbellford cheese board 605 white and 94 colored cheese were sold at 18 3-8 and 18 1-4c respectively. The factories boarded as follows:

White: Brae 45; Beaver 40; Empire 70; Forest 40; Ideal 45; IXL 40; Kimberley 30; Prince of Wales 45; Rylstone 75; Stanwood 50; Trent Bridge 45; Trent Valley 35; West Seymour 40; Woodlands 70; Buyers, Kerr, Ibey and Thompson.

And colored: Meyersburg 46; New Model 48. This was Beaver factory's first sale.

U.S. RAILWAY WORKERS WILL ACCEPT SLASH

TWO MILLIONS WILL STAY ON JOBS AND BOW TO EDICT OF THE RAILWAY LABOR BOARD, IT IS LEARNED THIS MORNING.

(Special Despatch to the Examiner).

CHICAGO, July 4.—Two million railroad workers will bow to the edict of the United States Railroad Labor Board and accept a twelve per cent. wage cut, it was revealed to the United Press to-day.

Union representatives who have been meeting the President for several days to accept or reject the $400,000,000 annual wage slash, will issue a statement to-day, agreeing that the membership of their organizations will work for less money.

According to reliable information, the acceptance of the reduction will be made under protest, however. The powerful rail unions are expected to tell the public that the cost of living has not decreased to such an extent to justify a twelve per cent. slash. In the same statement, which is now being prepared, the unions will demand that the working agreements between workers and railroad managements be kept intact. The Railroad Board ordered these agreements, which provide for working conditions, overtime pay and other regulations, be abrogated and ordered a new set drawn up July 1. The inability of the workers and the railways to get together caused the Board to extend time of formulating new agreements. The statement to be issued to-day will demand that most of the old regulations be re-enacted. The one thousand union representatives here worked all day Sunday and were prepared to work most of to-day.

I KNOW WHAT I'M TALKING ABOUT

HUNNEYSETT SAYS HE'S TRIED IT AND KNOWS WHAT IT WILL DO —TROUBLES OVERCOME.

'Nobody can tell me anything about Tanlac, I've tried it myself and know, for I gained twenty-three pounds in weight on four bottles," said Samuel Runneysett, of 206 Hunter street, west, Hamilton, Ontario.

"I had indigestion so bad I dreaded to see meal-time come and for breakfast I couldn't eat a thing. I fell off twenty-five pounds in weight and didn't know, where it was all going to end. My stomach just stayed sour and upset all the time, and I had pains that were about all I could stand. I had a stubborn case of constipation and every few days had a terrific headache. My sleep was all broken up and I felt weak and no-account all through the day.

"This was over a year ago, but Tanlac fixed me up in fine shape and did the work so well I have been feeling fine ever since. My appetite came back in full force and I regained my lost weight and to this good day have been in the best of health. I know what I'm talking about when I recommend Tanlac, and I'm not afraid the fellow who takes my advice will ever regret it"

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

INTERNATIONAL LIMITED KILLS FARMER AT CROSSING

BROCKVILLE, June 30.—(Canadian Press.)—Louis Laflamme, a farmer residing near Coteau Junction, was instantly killed yesterday when struck by the Grand Trunk 'International Limited' at a grade crossing. Laflamme's horses ran away, and he was trying to head them off when he was struck by the train.

FIGHT NEARLY WON IN SECOND BY CARPENTIER

OVEREAGERNESS WHEN HE HAD DRIVEN DEMPSEY, GROGGY, TO THE ROPES COST HIM BATTLE IN SECOND ROUND.

(Special Despatch to the Examiner).

TORONTO, July 4.—W. A. Hewitt, in a despatch to the Star from Jersey City, says: "The champion was wide open but supremely confident at this stage (second round), and he walked right into a blow that came close to changing the location of the championship. He was reaching with short arm blows for Carpentier's body when the Frenchman shot in a light left to the face that made Dempsey halt in his tracks. Quick as a flash Carpentier shot across the right with the leaping motion, which might be likened to the golfer's "follow through," and caught Dempsey flush on the jaw and sent him reeling back to the ropes. Dempsey was badly shaken up. He looked groggy and dizzy, and his arms hung at his sides as if all power and strength had suddenly deserted him.

The arena was in an uproar. It looked as if the impossible and the unexpected was about to happen.The crowd were on their feet and yelling frantically. Deschamps, in the Frenchman's corner, was like a man gone suddenly mad. He yelled some frenzied instructions, but Carpentier, unheeding, had sensed the situation, and was in at his opponent in a wild frenzied manner. He threw caution and judgment to the winds in a wild attempt to again land the murderous right on Dempsey's jaw. He was over anxious, and he missed an easy chance to get the blow home by over reaching the mark. He fell in a clinch, which was the salvation of Dempsey.

The champion first hugged him, and then bearing down his weight on his opponent's light frame, instinctively pounded him in the body. Carpentier pulled away out of the clinch and repeatedly tried to land solidly with the "leaping right," but his over anxiety caused him to miss the vital spot and he tired so much under his own attack that when Dempsey gradually recovered from his dazed condition and clinched just before the bell, he apepared to weigh down the Frenchman and seemed much the stronger, though there was no question that it was Carpentier's round.

STRONG DESIRE IN IRELAND TO OBTAIN TRUCE

LONDON TIMES LEARNS THAT INFLUENCE OF CHURCH IS BEING EXERTED FOR SUCCESS OF TO-DAY'S CONFERENCE.

LONDON, July 4. — (Canadian Press).—The London Times learns from its Dublin correspondent that there is an intense desire throughout the country for the success of Monday's conference between representatives of Northern and Southern Ireland. The influence of all churches, he says, is being strongly exerted toward the cause of peace, and prayers for the success of the conference were offered Sunday in churches of various denominations.

MOOSE PLAYER, HIT BY SCOTT, MAY NOT LIVE

PHYSICIAN UNABLE TO SAY WHETHER MARQUIS WILL RECOVER—ACCIDENTALLY HIT WITH BALL BY "CANNONBALL" SCOTT.

TORONTO, July 4. — Canadian Press. — Edward Marquis, a member of the Moose baseball team of the Western City League, while he was playing in a game in Willowdale Park on Saturday afternoon, was accidentally hit on the head by a pitched ball thrown by Cannonball Scott, pitcher of the Hillcrest team, and now lies unconscious in the Western Hospital.

The accident to Marquis occurred while he was at bat in the second innings, but he stayed in the game until it was finished.

Immediately afterwards, however, he was taken sick, and was rushed to the hospital where he lapsed into unconsciousness. Although four doctors worked on him all day Sunday he had not reganined consciousness up to a late hour last night and was bleeding internally.

Marquis' condition is critical, and Dr. Sproule, the attending physician, was unable to say last night whether the young man would recover.

(Special Despatch to the Examiner).

TORONTO, July 4. — Edward Marquis, a member of the Moose baseball team, of the Western City League, who on Saturday afternoon was hit on the head by a pitched ball thrown by Ed. "Cannon Ball" Scott, pitcher on the Hillcrest team, this morning died in the Western Hospital.

Children Think It's Fun

And so do grown folks who know the difference between electric ironing and the drudgery of using ordinary irons.

Ordinary irons make sad ironing days. Probably that's why they are called sad irons.

It is cheering to know, however, that, in thousands of homes throughout the country, ironing day is no longer a trouble day.

"Sovereign" Electric Flatirons

have driven the old fashioned sad irons to the obscurity of some out-of-the-way shelf, thus abolishing their attendant train of well known worries and unknown losses and expenses.

A "Sovereign" Iron consumes only a few cents worth of electricity in doing the week's ironing of the average size family.

Come in and iron with the most popular iron on the market.

HELP MAKE BLIND WOMEN HAPPY.

They were blind.

Blind—every single one of them. A big, cheery roomful of girls and women seated before sewing machines, working busily away turning out aprons, kimonas and mats. It seemed incredible that these busy women were sightless.

And yet just a few years ago these women and girls were sitting idle with their unhappy thoughts, shut off from the world by a wall of deepest darkness.

To-day, through the efforts of the Canadian National Institute, these girls and women earn their own living in the Industrial Department for women at 64 Baldwin street, Toronto. They are happy, even in their darkness, for they have found a new usefulness, thanks to the opening of this Industrial Department a little over two years ago.

But, of course, funds to help run this valuable branch, along with the many other phases of the work of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind are needed.

THE UNRETURNING BRAVE.

Many people noted with pleasure in connection with the Decoration Day ceremony of the Great War Veterans' Association yesterday, that before proceeding to Little Lake cemetery, where flowers were laid upon the graves of the departed comrades who are buried there, the veterans paid a visit to Central Park and placed a floral tribute upon the monument of Capt. Brown, killed in the Northwest Rebellion. It is rather a sad commentary upon the short-sighted nature of public gratitude that for years this monument has been neglected, save when some alderman, whose sense of the fitness of things, was overwhelmed by a keen appreciation of economy as a civic virtue, succeeded in persuading his colleagues to have the public's tribute to the memory of a man who gave up his life for his country, converted into a drinking fountain. The veterans of the Great War have, unintentionally perhaps, but nevertheless pointedly, reminded the community of its failure to remember the man who did not come back from the Northwest Rebellion. The incident should strengthen the resolve that the hundreds of Peterborough soldiers who lie below the wooden croses overseas, shall not be forgotten by the city which sent them forth.

OVER AT LAST.

The Hydro Radial inquiry, which has been dragging on since last autumn, seen scores of witnesses examined, and altogether run through 112 sessions, has at last come to an end, the long drawn-out probe terminating on Saturday after the various counsel had summed up the evidence as they saw it. The verdict of the commission will be awaited with much interest for an adverse decision means the abandonment of Hydro radials so far as the present Government is concerned. There is no doubt that a large and influential section of the United Farmers is opposed to the whole scheme. Those who follow unquestioningly the advice of Secretary J. J. Morrison and accept the doctrine laid down by the Farmers' Sun, are strongly antagonistic towards Hydro radials, and it is significant Mr. I. F. Hellmuth, the counsel appointed by the Government to look after the interests of the Province during the investigation, and see that all the facts were brought out, should have devoted most of his address to an attack upon the scheme. There was no signs of neutrality in his attitude, so marked being his opposition to Hydro radials that one of the Commissioners expressed his surprise at the stand taken by Mr. Hellmuth. The Commission have a mass of evidence to wade through, and it is expected that it will be some time before their report will be ready for submitting to the Government.

TWO BIG PROBLEMS.

The newly formed Tenants' and and Property Owners' Association has two problems to solve before it can hope to accomplish much in Peterborough along the lines of better and more efficient municipal government. First it must get the mass of the people so interested in civic affairs that they will turn out and vote on election day, and secondly it must endeavour to induce the strongest possible candidates to offer themselves for the various municipal offices. Unless these two very necessary things are done it will be idle to expect that the Association can go far along the road it has mapped out for itself. It is easy enough to get people to protest when their pockets are affected, as in the case of the increased water rates, but to keep them interested in the matter of civic government and ready to do their part to bring about better conditions is quite a different affair. In this respect Peterborough is probably no better or no worse than other Canadian communities. Apathy and indifference towards the nomination and election of aldermen and other officials, and towards various other issues which are brought before them by means of by-laws, seem to be characteristic of most of our cities and towns. Important by-laws are often passed or rejected by the votes of only a small proportion of those on the lists; often the Mayor and Council are chosen in an election where less than half the total vote is polled. The duty of nominating candidates is left to a handful of citizens; usually about the same coterie is seen on nomination day each year. And with a field to select from placed in the running by a couple of dozen ratepayers, and with half of the voters remaining away from the polls, is there any reason to wonder that we do not get the best results from our governing bodies.

It is to be hoped that the Association that has just sprung into existence will be able to bring about a new condition of affairs; to arouse a fresh and more lively interest in municipal government and to arouse the citizenship of Peterborough to a realization of the fact that, as citizens, they are shareholders in a big concern that needs the assistance and the co-operation of all of them if the best results are to be obtained. Merely passing resolutions condemning this official or that and criticizing one civic body or another will accomplish nothing; we have too many of such organizations now.

SWEET PEAS.

"Here are sweet peas on tiptoe for a flight,
With wings of gentle flush or delicate white,
And taper fingers catching at all things,
To bind them all about with tiny wings."

"One thing that proves the high evolution of flowers in the spiritual world, as well as in the physical, if, indeed, proof were needed, is their gaiety," writes Agnes Edwards. "For gaiety," she adds, "it seems to me, is one of the very last qualities to crown a creation. Only with refinement of feeling may one acquire the light touch. Flowers are nearly always gay; even the heavy-footed hollyhocks and the thick-stemmed petunias and the clumsy-stepping sunflower join the floral dance and take their part in colour and motion all their brief, bright lives."

To sweet peas, of all summer flowers, belongs this "fleeting joyousness," this captivating flutter of silken petals caught in the colourful maze of wind frolics and demure hesitations of summer stillnesses. Like gorgeous tiny butterflies of frailest wings, the sweet peas swing on their trembling vines in all the characteristic beauty of happy flower life.

To capture this riot of colours in the early morning, when drewdrops lurk in little petal nooks, is to come into intimacy with the brilliant flames of sunset and the delicacy of dawn tints over a drowsy sky. Three, four, and five flowers, in varying heights, on slender, furry stems, plead for human notice by their ready and lavish replacement of blooms for every ower removed from their vines.

To study the amazing variety of soft shadings, the exquisite delicacy of difference between one degree of colouring and another, the blending of many-coloured blooms en masse is strangely harmonious and beautiful. Deep night purple flowers touch wondering petals to others of faint mauve; soft amber wings point tenderly to those of shell-pink, which in turn enhance the pure gradations to deep dose. From flowers of haunting flame evolve richest petalings of deeper self tones and warm crimsons and pervading every silken curled petal is the slow, inexhaustible sweetness of fragrance which is the mysterious language of colour, the "whispers of flowers in the dark to tell us where they are."

Nothing of the plebeian marks the loveliness of sweet peas though so profuse in bloom in hedge and garden One remembers choice old gardens here and there and everywhere, where one has been at liberty to ramble, and always there have been hedges of sweet peas, not only as foils for paler blossoms, but for the utter joy of the soft dancing bits of colour and the sweet breath of them. This Francis Baker declares is "far sweeter in the air (where it comes and goes like the warbling of music) than in the hand." The sight and perfume of flowers in any setting brings associations, and with the butterfly touch of sweet peas comes the memory of a lovely garden in fascinating shadows of late afternoon, where roses dreamed in June very close to a hedge of budded sweet peas, and near which a little path enticed through cool shade to a grape vine trellis where later hundreds more blossoms 'on tiptoe for a flight" would "catch with taper fingers" the curled tendrils of 'the vine" to "bind them all about with tiny wings" of galaxy of bloom.

Sweet peas seem to love the touch of each other, and yield to the folding of soft wings together in the curious confinement of clusters arranged by human hands. Even then there is a suppressed gaiety in the very quietness of their pure curves, as if laughter lurked in their hearts that found interest and happiness in every circumstance of their brilliant brief blooming. Enough of dewdrops that loved to hide and elude the sun, enough of warm winds that taught the meaning of petal-wings, enough of raindrops with silver music in their hold, enough of sunshine that vivified their manifold colourings, enough of bird-flights that enticed in whirr of free wings, enough of moonsheen that showed how other flowers sleep, enough of leaf-song to have caught the happiness of summer trees and the rhythmic play of little shadows, enough of all the summer world to leave untouched their ecstatic gaiety in the silence and strangeness of human companionship in cool, dim rooms. —London Advertiser.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

There is one thing about Saturday's fight anyway. It was not like the war Dempsey wasn't in, for everybody will know who won it.

The water in the city mains will soon be as hot as some of the ratepayers are over the increase in rates.

These last two weeks would have been a great opportunity for Kipling to write a new version of "Our Lady of the Snows."

Dempsey received an ovation after his victory on Saturday. As usual everybody deserted the loser.

Carpentier fought much longer at greater risk, and with a whole lot less pay a few years ago than he did at Jersey City.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Dempsey carried the fight closer to Carpentier on Saturday than he did to the Germans three years ago.

Admiral Sims admitted that he "spilled the beans" in his recent speech in London. We are still waiting to hear Boston protest such extravagance.

ARE STILL LOOKING FOR A CANDIDATE

A new name is being mentioned for U. F. O. and the Conservative candidate in the pending Federal election in Durham County in the interest of farmers and the Conservative Party. The first mentioned was Mr. A. W. Reid of Newtonville as U. F. O. representative; later a movement among Conservatives brought forth the name of Mr. C. Jonas Thornton, the former Conservative member. Now the name of Mr. Thomas W. Underwood, who has long desired to represent his native county in the House of Commons, is being freely circulated in Clarke Township as a man worthy to represent this old banner county and who combines the U. F. O. and the simon pure Conservative qualities, too.—Bowmanville Statesman.

SOUTH CHINESE TROOPS RE-TAKE WU-CHOW.

CANTON, China, June 30 (Canadian Press). — The troops of the South China Republic have retaken the city of Wu-Chow, about one hundred miles west of this city, which was occupied by the forces of Kwang-si Province.

When hostilities began between Kwang-si and Kwang-tung recently, the loss of this city by the Kwang-si troops cut them off from the sea.

THE DANCE.

Chapter I.

With a flashy crescendo of deafening jazz the orchestra stopped playing. The dance had ended. I felt Tom Barney's arm linger for a moment around my waist. The other couples were slowly leaving the ballroom floor. Tom leaned down and caught me gently by the arm.

"Come out of it, Barbara. Just when I think I've finally succeeded in thrilling you with a ripping good fox-trot, I find you day-dreaming and beastly distant at the end of it."

"I was looking for Kent," I answered laughingly, and with crimson cheek at having been discovered.

"You are too blame devoted to Kent Armour," he returned in an acrid tone. I saw a faint, curling sneer lift the edge of his thin upper lip. Something about it frightened me. "It's not sporty for married people to be so damnably in love with each other as you and Kent are," he added, the sneer fading into an unpleasant sort of smile.

"You know I hate you when you act like this, Tom," I retorted, jerking my arm free from his grasp. We walked toward the reception room in silence. I scanned the faces for a glimpse of Kent. My feelings must have been plainly mirrored in the expression of my countenance.

"Barbara, you'll forgive me?" Tom was all pleading now. The sneering look had gone entirely from his face, and he gazed at me apologetically with large, agate blue eyes. 'You can't blame me for caring—no one would—not even Kent. I'm always thinking of you, always. I don't mean to say things like that. They just pop out, somehow."

I was angry with Tom, of course—and yet there was that insidious little devil of woman's vanity which is always making excuses and paving the way for a man's admiration. Could a woman be very angry with any man for caring for her?

"But I don't like it, Tom, you know it!" I answered, trying to keep my voice steady. "You know how I love Kent, and there is Lillian. It isn't fair to her."

"Lillian doesn't love anyone but herself, and the mut, Toto. You know how it is at home for me," he said bitterly.

"At least for my sake, please!" I said softly, and touched his arm lightly with my finger tips.

The violins started scraping and tuning up for the next dance. Soon five or six couples were on the floor. Kent passed us talking attentively to a chunky little blonde of indefinite age. He slipped his arm about her, and they swung out on to the dance floor together. I remembered Kent telling me once that it always made him foolishly jealous to see me dancing with another man. I could understand now what he felt. I completely forgot Tom. My thoughts and eyes followed Kent's dear, strong arm as it skilfully guided his partner in and out among the dancers.

I suddenly realised that someone was standing in front of me reminding me that the next dance was his. Tom turned and left me to my new partner.

During the dance we passed very close to Kent and the chunky little blonde, but he seemed enthralled, and my gaze failed to catch an answering response. A large, brilliant diamond brooch glittered at the throat of his companion. It seemed too large, and out of place on her small, fat, little person.

As Kent and I danced the last dance together, the picture of that flabby throat and the glittering brooch rose up in my memory.

"Who was the little woman with the gorgeous diamonds you were dancing with, dear" I asked, tempted by curiosity.

"A Mrs. Leon Walker," he told me simply, and we danced on in silence. I watched Kent's face, and it seemed deep in thought.

After the dance as I slipped my arm through my husband's, and he guided me across the ballroom floor, he said suddenly, and as though half musingly to himself:

"You noticed her diamonds? They are beauties — clear and pure as white water."

On the way home in the taxi, Kent pulled me gently toward him and pressed his lips against mine.

'Promise me you'll always, always love me, won't you, Babs, dear?" he pleaded.

THE HYDRO-ELECTRIC PROBLEM IN HALIFAX

INTRODUCTION OF GOVERNMENT POWER VEXED QUESTION.

HALIFAX, N.S. July 4.— (By Canadian Press)'.—Civic Circles in Halifax are much exercised at the present time over the question of the introduction into the city by the Nova Scotia Power Commission of hydro-electric power recently developed at the new Government—owned plant at St. Margaret's Bay, Halifax County, to the extent of some twenty-two million kilowatt hours. In conformance with the policy of the Provincial Government the power has been offered to Halifax at cost—that is capital and operating costs on a thirty-year basis. The questions that puzzle the minds of the City Fathers, the press and the private citizens are — should the city accept the offer of the Power Commission undertaking the distribution of the power for domestic and industrial purposes; or should the City take the power and reserving enough for purposes of street lighting and other public utilities only, sell the rest to Nova Scotia Tramways and Power Company which at present supplies the power needs of Halifax; or should the city take the power and sell the whole thing to the Tramways Company; or should the City have nothing whatever to do with the proposition?

Late into many nights the members of the City Council have sat in solemn conclave debating the advisability of the various schemes proposed. The matter is not one to be lightly disposed of inasmuch as the introduction of the power on whatever basis is expected to reduce the price of the kilowatt hour in Halifax from ten and seven cents to something over one cent. As one member of the Council phrased it: 'There looks to be a barrel of money on the thing." The great difficulty which faces the Council, however, is that although the power sould be available at the gates of the City inside two months, apparently none of the parties to any of the proposed arrangements are able to give absolutely comprehensive and definite data as to costs.

Some days ago in a state "bordering on despondency" the City Fathers turned the matter over on a conference consisting of members of the Provincial Government, several members of the City Council and representatives of the Tramways Company, whose poles the City will use if it decides to distribute its own power. The conference sat for a couple of days and said they could not reach any decision which left matters exactly where they have been for some weeks.

Recently private interests pooled some funds and sent for J. J. Jeffrey Assistant Consulting Engineer of the Hydro electric Power Commission of Ontario. Mr. Jeffrey has arrived in the City and had a conference with Mayor J. S. Parker. His investigations have not yet been concluded, however, and meantime the hydro-electric question is a boon to the press and city clubs.

BIGGEST AIRSHIP TO GO TO UNITED STATES

BRITISH-BUILT R-38 LARGEST RIGID AIR CRAFT YET.

LONDON, July 4. — (Associated Press.)—Uncle Sam will soon become the possessor of the British-built R-38, the largest rigid airship yet constructed in any country and a craft that represents the very "last word" in "aerial dreadnought" designing.

Trim and smart as the quarter-deck of an admiral's flagship, the R-38, soon to be designated officially by her new American name, ZR-2, is claimed to be the most formidable craft ever to "take the air."

She is expected to be capable of 5,000 miles' flight at full speed—70 miles per hour—or 6,500 miles at a "cruising speed" of 60 miles per hour.

Her specifications call for an armament of 14 Lewis guns, a one-pound automatic gun, four bombs of 250 pounds and eight bombs of 230 pounds. The machine guns are distributed at vantage points so that any form of attack from land, sea or air, might effectually be combatted.

The ship's heavy armament serves an an index to her character. She is designed to serve, if occasion arises, as the general headquarters of a whole battle fleet, eyes, ears and, in emergency, an auxiliary "business end." From the compact, convenient "skipper's" cabin close up under her nose to the neat little machine-gunner's "nest" at the very tip of her stern, ZR-2's arrangement and construction spells efficiency and "strictly business."

Without extensive alterations, ZR-2 could not accommodate comfortably a party of 65 persons as did the Italian-built, semi-rigid airship Roma after being taken over by the American government recently. But if a submarine were sighted, ZR-2 could manoeuvre into position, then the mere pressing of a button in the captain's control cabin would release a bomb, or a dozen bombs, if required, to "do in" the enemy undersea boat.

If enemy airplanes became bothersome during this procedure, they would not find, as was the case with the German Zeppelins, that there was an unprotected spot under the ZR-2's lower part aft where they could hover and pump machine-gun bullets into her gasoline tanks. To meet just such a contingency there is the stern machine-gun nest, one situated some 50 yards ahead on the underpart of the ship, and one in each of the four of the ship's engine cars, which are suspended at her sides.

Should the attack come from above, a gunner, protected from the fury of high altitude winds in a cockpit at the top of the ship, would probably be able to do anything necessary with his one-pound automatic piece.

These represent some of the many improvements, indicated by examination of wrecked Zeppelins and other experience, which have been incorporated in the ZR-8.

Seen in flight, the ZR-2 will be much like her sister ship R-34, of trans-Atlantic fame. But her shimmering sides and clean appearance conceal a confusion of "interior workings" that, to one unaccustomed to suh a craft, is most bewildering.

As one proceeds along the narrow "man-high" corridor which extends the entire length of the ship, he sees a complication of criss-crossed aluminum girders, rows of gasoline nad water tanks, what seems to be, and actually are, acres of fabric gas bags, and a miscellany of guy wires, control valves, pipes, swivels, hinges and gew-gaws that defy understanding. But after a guide who knows every inch of the gigantic hulk has made explanations, the handling of the ship is seen to be simplicity itself.

Thus, the "skippet," standing at the wheel in his cabin, just as a sea captain on the bridge, has within reach a miscellany of buttons, switches and levers, electrically controlled, with which he can release ballast water, deflate one or more gas-bags, empty his gasoline tanks, start a bomb towards an objective and, of course, steer the ship upward, downward, to right or left.

He can send orders through a telephone system which connects up the whole ship for the starting or stopping of one or all of the ship's six propelling engines, advise his machine-gunners of the approach of an enemy or, through the operator at his back, send observations by wireless to a flagship or land base.

Comfortable bunks are provided for the off-shift of the crews—in all, 30 officers and men. During prolonged flight warm meals are made possible by a system of cooking from engine exhaust heat. Electric lights are provided whetever required. The ship can "tie up" to a mooring mast, replenisht her gas, oil, water and fuel containers through "feed" pipes terminating at her bow and resume her journey with the loss of but a few hours' sailing time.

300,000 Canadian Motorists Can Benefit

By Goodyear's 2 New Anti-Skid 30 x 3½ Tires.

In Canada alone 300,000 Motorists use 30 x 3½ tires, and a great number of them are farmers. Their ideals of tire qualities vary. Road conditions and weather conditions vary. But every one of them wants long mileage. So every Goodyear Tire is built for full mileage.

For years the road-grip and mileage of the Goodyear All-Weather Tread 30 x 3½ Tire have made it the most widely used tire in Canada—and in the world. It has appealed particularly to the man who must drive on country roads.

But Goodyear learned how to make it better. And in the Goodyear institution every known betterment must be used. So the Goodyear All-Weather Tread Clincher (30 x 3½ and 31 x 4) is now made rougher and tougher, bigger and handsomer. It is a new tire in Canada, with new economy qualities—tested and proved on thousands of cars in other countries.

But many motorists do not require the extraordinary gripping power of the All-Weather Tread. They prefer a saving in cost. For them, over 4,000 Goodyear dealers will recommend the new "Goodyear Non-Skid" 30 x 3½. A tire of full Goodyear quality for mileage, with a tough, rough tread of parallel bars. Several hundred thousand new cars the world over have introduced motorists to this new tire of heaping value.

Will Next Week's Ironing be Done Electrically?

HEATING old-fashioned sad-irons, over a hot stove, is not an ideal occupation at the best of times. But, when the soft, gentle breezes beckon one out-of-doors, and housework seems tedious, our grandmother's way of ironing is one of the worst types of drudgery the modern housewife has to contend with. Your electrical dealer has a

THE TRIP ON THE "EMPRESS" DOMINION DAY

A COOL EXCURSION ON A FINE STEAMER AWAY FROM THE CITY HEAT.

The birthday of the Dominion, July 1st, 1921, attracted large numbers of visitors to Stoney Lake. Several holiday excursions were arranged by the Stoney Lake Navigation Co., each of which drew large crowds out of the city.

The trip from Peterborough via G.T.R. to Lakefield was one of the most enjoyable. The steamer "Empress" was awaiting the excursionists at the Government Wharf, looking "trim and trusty," with Captain Robinson in charge, as usual, and Mr. Holland as purser. The steamer left the wharf shortly after the passengers boarded, and proceeded on her journey — the cool lake breezes fanning the crowd of hot humanity that had come up from the city, away from the sizzling weather. The sail proved very refreshing, as well as interesting, all the way through the lakes. Many had their families on board, and enjoyed an exhiliarating outing during the day, arriving home at a convenient time before the supper hour.

The "Empress" crew were attentive and obliging, and looked after the comforts of the excursionists in a praiseworthy manner. Several improvements were noticed on the "Empress." A fresh coat of paint had given a clean and refreshing appearance to the woodwork; new rope and other accessories were in evidence; and two new toilet rooms were installed on the upper deck. The "Empress" is a speedy, as well as a popular steamer. Meals are provided on board, and liberal seating capacity contributes to the comfort of passengers.

REGENT CLOSED FOR MONTH OR LONGER

The management of the Regent Theatre has decided to close this popular movie house during the hot weather. Commencing to-day, the Regent will be dark, and remain so for four weeks, possibly longer, during which time interior improvements and thorough re-decorating will be effected.

BAPTIST SUMMER SERVICES

Murray Street and Park street Congregation to Decide

A meeting of the membership of Murray Street Baptist church is called by the deacons for Wednesday evening at eight oclock for the purpose of considering the advisability of uniting with Park street Church for the eight summer Sundays. If the churches should decide so to co-operate the morning service for the next four Sundays would be held in Murray street with Rev. J. R. Webb, preaching, and in Park street in the evening under the same direction. In the month of August this would be reversed, Rev. W. E. Morrow would preach at Park street in the morning and at Murray street in the evening.

The decisian will be in the hands of the congregations for which purpose the Wednesday evening meeting is being held.

GANG OF MOONSHINERS HAS BEEN BROKEN UP

Orillia Packet: The breaking up, for the time at least, of the Sebright or Uphill gang of moonshiners and bootleggers is said to have brought a general feeling of relief in Mara, Rama and the neighboring townships in the County of Victoria. These men have been flagrant offenders. Driven by prosecution, fine and imprisonment out of their Saturday night market in Orillia and Lindsay, they began attending, and sending out others to attend dances, auctions and public gatherings of all kinds, and pushing the sale of their vile brew, largely among growing boys and young men. The influence of this villainous traffic has been very demoralizing, and many who do not usually concern themselves about temperance reform have been as anxious as any to see it broken up.

Ice Alone Will Not Preserve Food

It Takes a Refrigerator

And a Good One, to Do That

The Barnet Is the Best

It is best because of its eleven-wall construction. It is best because of its ventilation and circulation systems.

People who own Barnets say they paid for one long before they purchased. What they mean is, that the amount of food thrown into the garbage can equal, and more than equal, the price of a Barnet. PAID FOR ONE BUT DID NOT OWN IT.

Wherever installed, The Barnet puts a definite stop to the shameful waste caused through ineffective refrigerators and "ice chests." If you do not possess a Barnet, you pay for it in food wasted.

The eleven walls of insulation of the Barnet insure lowest possible temperature. Barnet temperature ranges from 36 to 39 degrees, PERFECT FOR REFRIGERATION. Its ventilation and circulation systems mean perfect preservation of foods for long periods—no odors—no taints—no contamination.

Made in golden ash, natural birch and white enamel finishes; sizes to suit every home.

Vacationists

Usually Require Travelling Goods

—and the storekeeper who sells merchandise of this sort should keep a good assortment at this time of the year. WE HAVE A GOOD ASSORTMENT. They are the finest goods from the finest factories in Canada.

There are Club Bags, Suit Cases and Trunks. All sorts and sizes, great and small, and there are all prices, too. A real good looking Bag can be had in fawn or black and sells at $33.00.

Quite a respectable appearing Suit Case can be had for $12.00. Trunks, from the small steamer kind to spacious ones in standard shapes, are priced from $15.00 to $26.75.

Wardrobe Trunks are marked from $35.00 to $55.00.

It Is Unusual to Get Something for Nothing, But There Is Nothing Unusual About It in the "July Free Service Sale"

This is the fourth year it has been carrying on, giving Free Services, without charge, to all those who purchase any curtainings, draperies, window shades or floor coverings during the month of July.

It has proven its worth to hundreds of persons in Peterborough. This year it is even a greater Sale than before, for all our Floor Coverings are reduced—Rugs, Carpets, Linoleums, Oilcloths, etc.—and we do not charge a cent extra for measuring or laying them.

Besides, there are many special prices on Curtainings and Draperies. We will measure, make and hang them free.

There's No Denying That In This Sale You Get Something for Nothing

KEROSENE, AN ASSET.

"I never realized that kerosene was an aid to housework until after we had installed electricity for lighting, and gas for cooking. Suddenly I discovered I was buying more cleansing powders, soap and scouring materials than I ever had, and my hands were rough and chapped," said a mothers' club member recently in a talk before the domestic science department. "Now," she continued, "I keep a small can of it on hand constantly." Here is the list of uses she suggested, and no doubt all of us can add more to it.

Kerosene evaporates, leaving no odor or trace of grease; it has a great affinity for dirt and cuts into grease and grime, soot and dust, more quickly than soap. For washing woodwork, make a suds, as usual, and add one tablespoon of the coal oil to a pail of water.

You may ask, "Why not use the naptha soap?" It is excellent, but more expensive than other soaps, and now we are especially asked to save soap on account of the need abroad for fats, potash, and other things soap contains.

Tin, granite, iron, in fact all kitchen utensils should be washed thoroughly and then be rubbed with a heavy cloth dipped in kerosene and scalded with boiling water containing washing soda; after this, they may be polished in half the time and, if scalded as they should always be, there will be no trace of the cleansing agent.

Marble washbasins, porcelain tubs, bowls and enameled woodwork can all be kept free from spots and immaculate, if gone over with a clean cloth dipped in kerosene. It is most helpful for cleaning around door-knobs and for wiping the spots from baseboard and the bottom edges of doors.

On sweeping days you will find a tablespoon of coal-oil in a pail of warm water an aid to cleanliness. Dip the broom in this, and shake it well, so it no longer drips. Sweep lightly in one direction and there will be no dust raised; the carpet will look brighter and be cleaner than usual.

With a pail of fresh hot water and another tablespoon of kerosene, you are ready to wipe the base of heavy furniture that cannot be moved, and to reach under such pieces, and around them, with a wet cloth. You will be surprised to see how the cloth takes up the dust and how often it will be rinsed and fresh water brought.

Kerosene also benefits the carpet sweeper. Clean the brush whenever you empty the sweeper, and then rub it with kerosene. Keep it out of doors and you will find that rugs and carpets look much better for being cleaned with a sweeper treated in this fashion.

A brush dipped into kerosene or a cloth wet with it and wound on a stick, will clean spiral bed springs and other springs quickly and well.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If your Back hurts or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water — you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

TRENT RIVER HAPPENINGS

TRENT RIVER, July 4. — The weather still continues hot, and it seems almost impossible to escape the oppressive heat, no matter what one does. In spite of a few local showers, there has been little change in the temperature.

Water lilies are an abundant crop this season, and are very beautiful.

Mrs. Garbut and Miss Morrie, of Peterborough, are guests with Mrs. John Smith, at Mrs. George Dickson's cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wilson and daughter, Roxenia, of Campbellford, are spending this week at "Bonnie Banks."

Mrs. John Christie and children, of Toronto, are at their cottage.

Raspberries are ripening fast and will be ready next week. There promises to be an abundant crop.

Miss Ruth Diamond, of Campbellford, is a guest at "Sunnyside."

A still greater crowd gathered at White Hall Gardens on Friday night. The temperature was exceedingly high, but this did not interfere with the dancing, as the floor was crowded all the time. Mr. Charlie Davidson introduced his new electric lighting, the big dynamo being brought out from Campbellford on a big motor 'bus. The lights were strung the full length of the hall, also extended out to the main walk. This was the biggest night ever seen at Trent River.

Mr. W. Horkins, of Toronto, spent over the holiday with his mother at their cottage.

Two big picnics came from Campbellford on Friday and enjoyed themselves at Mr. C. Davidson's cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Plumer, of Campbellford, were at their cottage yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and family, of Toronto, are occupying the Faulkner cottage.

Mrs. Rupert and son, of Cordova, are visiting her sister, Mrs. E. Wilkinson.

Mrs. Hendren, of Norwood, visited her daughter, Mrs. T. J. Brown, recently.

The Methodist Sunday School are arranging for their annual picnic, but up to date have not decided where it will be held.

Numerous private pleasure launches passed through here yesterday en route to the Falls.

TRENT RIVER HAPPENINGS

TRENT RIVER, July 4. — Guests are arriving by eah train from many places to spend the week end with friends.

Another shower passed over here yesterday causing the atmosphere to be cooler, although the rain has not penetrated through the earth enough to be of much benefit.

Messrs. J. and N. Garneau, also W. Wright, made a trip to the huckleberry plains on Monday and returned the following day. They report the crop to be a failure as the bushes have been killed by the frost.

Mrs. Jack Christie and children of Toronto, are at their cottage.

The Messrs. Cuthbertson of Toronto, spent the holiday at "Sans Souci."

Mr. and Mrs. W. Wright and family of Toronto, spent the holiday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wright, at their summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunnel and son, Kenneth of Toronto, spent Dominion Day here with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Will J. Wright and children of Farnham, Que., are the guests of Mr and Mrs. Will Rose, at Bellview.

Mr. and Mrs. George Chiles attended the marriage of Miss Mary Crowe to Mr. Garnet Barlow at Knox Presbyterian church, Havelock. Mrs. Chiles rendered a suitable solo, "Until," during the signing of the register.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradford of Toronto, were at "Rockwyn" over the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hutchinson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davidson motored to Picton for over Sunday.

The raspberries promise to be plentiful as the bushes are loaded with fruit, and with sufficient rain there should be a bumper crop.

Mr. Frank Linton of Peterboro, holidayed at the Linton cottage.

A number of lacrosse enthusiasts took in the big game to-day between Peterboro and Campbellford at the latter place.

Mr. Reece of Toronto is a guest at Cedar Isle over the holiday.

Two Sunday school picnics from Norwood were here for Dominion Day.

VETERANS DECORATED GRAVES OF 35 COMRADES AT LITTLE LAKE CEMETERY ON SUNDAY

G.W.V.A. BAND MADE FIRST APPEARANCE IN NEW UNIFORMS —ADDRESSES BY G. N. GORDON, M.P., AND T. TOOMS, M. P.P.

Several hundred Great War Veterans paid tribute to the memory of their comrades-in-arms who gave their lives in defence of righteousness and the Empire and who to the number of 35, are buried in the Little Lake Cemetery, and, following impressive addresses, laid flowers on the graves.

Addresses were given by Ald. G. N. Gordon, M. P., and T. Tooms, M. L. A., and hymns were sung by the assembled Veterans, and the large number of people who attended the decoration.

"This day is sacred to the memory of those defenders of this nation whose bodies rest beside the flowing waters of the River Otonabee. We are filled with admiration for the patriotic and heroic achievements of our citizen soldiers and by their enduring efforts they have earned our undying gratitude," said Ald. Gordon.

"Not many months ago, they were among us in the full bloom of glowing life. To-day they rest beneath these green carpeted mounds. Prompted by patriotism, they answered the call to duty and that call was in fact, a summons to meet death; but it was in a noble cause for a great purpose, and the sacrifice they made was made that others might live, though they, the defenders of this land, should die.

We would be doing injustice to them and their memory if we failed to make this day sacred to the memory of the devoted crusaders who lived and died for others. And it was a crusade composed of the flower of British chivalry against the legions of darkness. It was a holy war, and the mission of our departed ones has made better and purer the civilization of the world, but the ranks were thinned both by disease and wounds. Those wounds were the proud badges of noble deeds, and every seared mark of a battle wound upon the body of our Canadian soldiers, is a sign by which we know those to whom we owe a debt whcih we can

"Those who sleep beneath our feet to-day fulfilled the highest duty mankind owes this world. They died for their country. Those whose graves we decorated to-day suffered more than many. Besides the honorable wounds of war, they wasted away in sickness. They were crushed by the blows of an unseen enemy with whom they could not grapple. They knew death was approaching slowly but surely. They knew they could not die on the field of battle, but with suffering and pain they must await the last call, and like soldiers uncomplaining and courageous, they bravely met the highest test of a soldiers devotion.

"Immortal honour is due to them who fell before the shafts of disease. In this battle they waged under uneven odds against the overpowering tyrant, Death. Let this day each year be one of solemn thought. Let it be a duty when with grateful hearts and bared heads, we bow before the graves of noble patriots who loved their country more than their own lives. Let it be always a day of sad remembrance, so that we may never forget the memory of those whose sacrifices have not been in vain.

"In some small way to show our affectionate regard to the memory of those upon whose graves we place the wreaths of laurel, let us neter into a covenant among ourselves. Let us covenant each with the other that the soldiers widow will never suffer in penury. Let us covenant each with the other that the fatherless children will have an equal opportunity, ave, a greater opportunity, in life, than other children. Let us covenant each with the other that the returned soldier will receive the best and most generous consideration this country can give him; and that he will never feel that we, in the slightest degree fail in the gratitude we owe him. If we do not unto these, as our duty calls us to do, we deserve to be known as a mean, ungrateful country, unappreciative of the crimson battle fields won by a noble and a patriotic band of Canadian youth.

"But I do not know from the faces I see before me that you do appreciate the splendid services the khaki clad Canadians gave this Dominion, and I do know you will never fail to do your part for the returned soldier or his family, to the best of your bailty and your strength.

Let us never forget but always keep in our memory "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

"Let us not forget why they are there, or the sake of the cause and of their sacrifice let us keep their memory sacred," Mr. T. Tooms marked. "A fitting way to do this is to make Christ a living example of the principles for which they fought and died. We may rest assured such supreme self-abnegation and sacrifice has and will receive its due and full reward in that great beyond.

"It is with gratitude we acknowledge the devotion and valour of those who gave their lives in the service of their country and humanity.

"We offer our heartfelt sympathy to their relatives and friends in the sorrows they have sustained. We should, indeed, look upon it as a pleasure to serve those who have suffered.

"Did a preacher ever preach a greater or grander thing than the great lesson that our heroes whose memory to-day we commenorate have taught us by their great example of supreme sacrifice in order that we may live.

"May God protect the fallen, the weak, the sorrowing that have been created by the great catastrophe which we hope will eventually bring about the regeneration of the souls of men The graves decorated were those of Robert Mahood, Merton Adams, J. Blake, John Lightfoot, Walter H. Irwin, Lieut. H. Boyd, R. P. Cook, Sidney Martin, Gilbert Martin Preston Grange, John McLeod, Sidney McIntyre, William D. Metheral, H. S. Childs, Leut. A. PROBE ALLEGED C.E.F. FRAUDS

CASHING OF RETURNED MEN'S STERLING CHEQUES INVESTIGATED.

OTTAWA, July 4. — (Canadian Press.)—An official enquiry into the charges of fraud in connection with the cashing at par of returned soldiers' sterling cheques, opened this morning. G. T. Clarkson, of Toronto, who was appointed by order-in-council to investigate the charges, resided.

E. A. Robinson, the first witness called, stated that he had served overseas for nearly four years, two of which had been spent in France, where he was wounded. When asked regarding his work in connection with the redeeming of sterling cheques at par, Robinson said, before answering, that he had been advised by his counsel to ask protection for himself under the Canadian Evidence Act.

Sound is said to move at the rate of thirteen miles a minute, and, compared to light, it is slower than a snail. If we should hear a clap of thunder half a minute after the flash of lightning, we could calculate that the discharge of electricity was about six and a half miles away.

From Cave Man to Super Man —Period, 1000 Years B.C.

The substitution of iron for bronze began about 1000 B.C., south-eastern Europe again furnishing the earliest evidence. The need for weapons and vessels for hunting and cooking food again, as in past ages, furnishes the urge for this wonderful stride forward.

From the crude hammerheads of the Neanderthal men to the bronze and iron men of this later day was a gigantic stride forward. A tremendous development seems to have taken place in these 50,000 years. Real progress was likely not made until men began to exchange ideas. The Paleolithic cave man had a keen sense of form, as shown in his drawings on stones and bones, and his first efforts at language were no doubt largely of the deaf and dumb type. In due course a few spoken words replaced these gestures. These first words were probably imitations of natural sounds, such as the barking of a wolf and the growl of a lion, etc., and the first speech was a mixture of a few of these words with much gesture to indicate the size and shape of the animal or other object.

A crude form of agriculture seems to have been started about 17,000 years before Christ in Egypt and Mesopotamia. The first lake dwellings were found in Western Europe about 8000 B.C., with their pottery, etc. The first writing scratched upon clay slabs, etc., is discovered in the Sumerian civilisation, about 5000 B.C., in Mesopotamia, which later became the Babylonian Empire. About 4000 to 2000 B.C., we find the spread in South-eastern Europe of the Aryan system of languages which was the parent of the present English, German, Spanish, Italian, Greek, French, Russian, and Persian tongues. (Read Sir Arthur Evans' Anthropology and Classics.)

Though painful and tedious, the progress was in these vanished times as shown by tomb paintings and carving on stones, without this crude groundwork, what followed would have been impossible, including the white and pure "WELLWORTH" Aluminum Kitchen Equipments of the present day.

The eighth number of this interesting and educational series on the evolution of Cooking Utensils by the Wentworth Manufacturing Co., will appear on this page on 13th July. The above is a cut of an old Iron Vessel taken from the original in the Royal Ontario Museum, Toronto. When buying Wellworth Better Quality Aluminum, you are Guaranteed against thin spots, because it is not spun, but stamped, in large two-ton presses.

Attractive Floats.

On Friday at the Regatta two very prettily decorated boats attracted a good deal of notice. One was Mr. C. S. Tanner's, which was most ingeniously contrived with two canoes lashed together and floored over and decorated with flags and bunting. The other was Mr. James Hendren's skiff, which was covered with a roof and decorated with greens and with flowers.

Lakefield Takes to Oil.

The first attempt to oil the village streets has been made, and Queen Street is shining and black for the space of about a mile. Whether this is satisfactory or not remains to be proved, but the experiment has been made, and will be given a fair trial.

Gardens Good.

The heat and dry weather are holding the gardens back. Prospects are good for vegetables if there is rain soon. Potatoes are especially flourishing, but the potato bugs are on the spot, and the gardeners find it hot sport killing them.

Union Services.

The Presbyterians and Methodists begin their union services on Sunday next with Rev. P. L. Jull in charge for the month of July. The morning service will be held in the Methodist Church and the evening service in the Presbyterian Church.

Scouts in Uniform.

St. John's Scouts have received their uniforms and flag, and are a smart-looking troop. They had their first church parade in uniform on Sunday morning. They did good service on Dominion Day in a good many places, and many flattering remarks were made on their fit appearance.

Tested Fire Brigade.

The visit of the Inspector of Fire Brigades took place on Wednesday last. The fire alarm called out the Brigade, and a large number of badly scared citizens thought, there was a big fire.

The Inspector found the Fire Department equipment, apart from the engine, to be inadequate, and recommended several improvements.

GOOD SHOOTING BY LAKEFIELD RIFLEMEN

IN THIRD MATCH OF CANADIAN LEAGUE COMPETITION.

LAKEFIELD, July 2.—The best shooting to date was done in this match, Frank E. Pearson making ten consecuitve bull-eyes— five straight on his finish in the 200 yd. range, and five on his start in the 500 yd, when he fell away to a magpie and an inner.

The following is the score, possible 105 points. The heat was oppressive, being over 90 deg. in the shade.

GENTLEMEN, ATTENTION!

A BIT OF NEWS THAT SHOULD GRIP YOU—NO MORE WAR CONDITIONS.

It's no good crying over spilled milk. High class, tailor-made suits must go down in price. I am prepared to sacrifice my fine assortment of genuine gentlemen's made clothes to meet the situation squarely. Beginning on Friday of this week I will offer you choice of any of my fine assortment of new patterns of worsteds, serges, tweeds, etc., made to your individual measure, at old-time prices.

For example you may have highest grade tailored suits for $45, $37.50, $30 and $25 instead of $65, $60, $50 and $40. The suits of the character we will sell at these prices are bound to be popular with men and young men—fabric, fit, style and service in eevry case guaranteed. Each garment cut and tailored separately, individually, to the measure and taste of the man who orders them.

Watch for further news regarding this re-adjustment of gentleman's high class tailored colthes.

Frank Hourigan, Tartan Tailor Shop, Hunter Street.

FASHIONS IN BRIEF.

Bright-colored Oriental sashes are worn with dark street dresses.

Long, tight sleeves of heavy beaded net are seen in evening dresses.

The new sport pump is of gray or beige buckskin with Cuban heel and buckled straps.

The woman who is handy with a needle can make of black taffeta and white organdie neckwear that the very smartest of women are wearing.

Tub silk makes an ideal frock for wear at home during the summer months. It is soft, does not wrinkle at all and will stand a good deal of washing without retubbing.

In ginghams there is a strong leaning to dark shades. Bright red and white checked gingham, brown and white, a navy and white and even black and white are combinations much approved.

EXPLOSION KILLED MAN FROM OTONABEE

JOHN O. O'BRIEN WAS VETERAN OF THE [illegible]—BODY WILL REACH HOME ON TUESDAY FROM DULUTH.

A brief telegram from Duluth on Saturday advised John O. O'Brien, Otonabee, that his son William, 28 years old, had been killed in an exposion at Duluth, and to-day word was received that the body will arrive on the noon C.P.R. train to-morrow.

The deceased had been in Duluth only a few months. He spent the winter visiting his family and friends, returning to Duluth in the spring. Mr. O'Brien served with the American army for two years in France and was decorated. He was born at Indian River and is well known in Otonabee. Three brothers survive, Fred and Samuel of Otonabee, and Frank, living at home.

The funeral is expected to take place on Wednesday morning from the family home, Otonabee, to St. Joseph's church and cemetery, Douro.

FIRST OUTING OF THE ROTARY CLUB

WILL BE HELD TO Y.M.C.A. CAMP, RICE LAKE, HEXT THURSDAY.

The weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club brought out a very good attendance.

Among the business presented were arrangements for the first annual jaunt, under the auspices of the club. This will take the shape of an auto run to the Boys' Y. M. C. A. Camp, on the shore of Rice Lake, about four miles east of Keene.

Members of the club and friends will leave the Empress Hotel on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and should in an hour be on the grounds. Ladies participating will bring baskets, which will be absorbed in the general lunch at end of the afternoon. Bring something for the boys, in addition to what will be generally used.

There will be a programme of sports and music, as well, and it is expected that several unique stunts will be put on for the diversion of the company. Twelve boys have been put up at the camp under the auspices of the club. Reports brought back on Friday last showed that all hands at the Camp were having the very best of a time.

Members of the club not at today's luncheon will receive invitation, no doubt, but may decide to come along and bring members of families with them. If any have not convenient transportation at hand, please communicate with Fred. Roy or with Chris. Graham, and the matter will be arranged.

The Club noted the absence of several memebrs, including that of Edgar Worth, who left for across the Atlantic this morning.

TWO GAMES IN THE MERCANTILE

CRESSMAN'S AND LOCK WORKS PLAY AT RIVERSIDE ON TUESDAY EVENING.

Two games in the Mercantile League will be staked at Riverside Park this week, and both contests will have an important bearing on the championship of the second half.

On Tuesday evening Cressman's meet Lock Works. It is the last scheduled game for Cressman's who, after winning the first half, met their first defeat at the hands of Westclox.

On Thursday evening Lock Works and Barrie's play a postponed game.

TORONTO SCOTTISH WON ONTARIO CUP

TORONTO, July 4.—By defeating the Independent Labor party team of Hamilton at Broadview Field on Saturday by a score of 4 to 1, the Toronto Scottish won the Ontario Cup and the right to represent the O.F.A. in the Connaught Cup competition against the Fort William Club, champions of the Northern Ontario Association. Saturday's game was witnessed by a large crowd, the gate amounting to practically $2,000, and was a regular cup-tie struggle in which the local team showed an all-round superiority over their opponents. The score at half-time was 3 to nil.

PETERBOROUGH OIL AND GAS SYNDICATE

Do Peterboro citizens realize that a successful exploration and development on the oil region in its proximity would be one of the greatest advertisements Peterboro and all towns adjacent would ever have?

As soon as one well of good flow is discovered there will be a scramble for leases. Naturally there will be leases taken up in every direction and dry areas will be tried out and then it will be easy to get people to take a chance. Listen! You will take more risk then than now for as the Ontario Central Oil Company, only leases property that moves the oil indicates in Mr. Cowalns' hands, the risk of oil is removed and quantity only, is our risk. The average business man takes more risks than that in calculating his chances of success A farmer takes his chances on weather conditions, on market conditions, on losses, in stock, lightning or fire or cyclone. A manufacturer has conditions of demand and supply of labor conditions, strikes, etc. but the city will help a manufacturer frequently to help populate and increase business.

Enterprising citizens will often help financially to build up a business with the hope of prospering, yet here is something, promises a far greater return with less risk. Both gas and oil will be a boom to the city. We are complimented by one of the most experienced oil men on our proposition and the way we are doing it and as we are giving those who help us now a great advantage over late investors we would advise acting early to get in on the first lot we are selling. There is a great advantage; let us explain.

We appreciate those already with us and believe they are due for a big surprise. The further we go the more convinced we are of this, that we are going to discover oil in large quantities. For further particulars see the secretary, pro tem. W. R. Cowain, at 188 1-2 Charlotte street

INTERMEDIATES QUIT.

Mr. James Skinner, manager of the intermediate lacrosse team, stated to-day that the game with Havelock, scheduled for Wednesday, will likely be defaulted by Peterborough. It was later reported that an effort might be made to have it played later, but the outlook for the intermediates, unpromising from the opening of the season, is hopeless now. The team and the management would play out the schedule if there was any kind of local support, but the few members of the executive are confronted with big enough deficit right now without piling it up. The players will regret the inability to play Havelock. They are a good team and good sportsmen. It had been suggested that the rest of Peterborough's games might be played in Norwood or Hastings, but the lacrosse club has no intention of thrusting itself upon either of these neighbours without invitation.

LAKEVIEWS DOUBLE SCORE IN JUNIOR LEAGUE GAME

BEAT ST. PETER'S 6 TO 3 ON SATURDAY AFTER A PITCHING DUEL BETWEEN SHAUGHNESSY AND SHEEHY—GOOD MATERIAL FOR FUTURE CENTRAL LEAGUERS.

Lakeviews won their second victory in the second half of the City Juvenile League series at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon, beating St. Peter's 6 to 3, after an interesting pitching duel between Shaughnessy and Sheehy, two promising young twirlers. Each whiffed nine batters, and while the official score shows seven hits off Sheehy, as compared with three against Shaughnessy, three of the safeties in the Lakeview hit column were gifts, two of them coming on misjudged flies. Both youngsters delivered a fine brand of pitching, and the aim of the enthusiasts who organized the Juvenile League, that is, to develop players for Peterborough's Central League team, is already beginning to be realized, for there is splendid pitching material in the two young twirlers who opposed each other Saturday.

St. Peter's started the scoring in the second. R. Clancy singled to short, but was forced at second, Lebarr to move on Killoran's roller to first. Killoran stole second, went to third on Rutherford's infield out, and counted on Fitzgerald's error on Holland's grounder.

Lakeviews got three easy ones in the first half of the third. After Moore had fanned, Rogers doubled to left, Wolfe misjudging the drive. Whitlow whipped Fitzgerald's easy fly to centre, went for a double when M. Clancy misjudged, Rogers scoring. A wild pitch put Fitzgerald on third, and he scored when Rutherford fumbled Ward's tap. Shaughnessy flied to left and was safe when Killoran muffed an easy fly. Sharp's roller to Rutherford was fumbled, and Ward counted. Lebarr fanned for the third out.

St. Peter's got one back in their half. With one down, Sheehy singled to right and went to second on a balk. L. Collins hit to Shaughnessy who threw to third, too late to get Sheehy. M. Clancy's sacrifice fly to right sent Sheehy in. R. Clancy fanned.

Lakeviews were blanked in their half of the third, and St. Peter's tied it up in the first of the fourth. Killoran singled past third, and McPherson was sent to first for interference. Holland fanned, and N. Collins rolled to Moore. Sharp dropped Wolfe's fly to right. Killoran scoring. Sheehy grounded to Moore.

The Lakeviews won out in their half of the fourth. Fitzgerald started the trouble by singling to third and going to second on N. Collins' high throw. Ward singled through short. Shaughnessy fanned. Sharp rolled to McPherson, who threw to third too late to get Ward, and Fitzgerald scored. Lebarr's fly back of second dropped between R. Clancy and M. Clancy for a single, Ward registering. Rody grounded to Holland, Sharp scoring. Moore's tap to Sheehy wound up the innings. There was no further scoring.

BLOWS BACK OF NECK DID TRICK

THIS ALONG WITH THE RABBIT PUNCHES WAS MY DOWNFALL, SAYS CARPENTIER.

MANHASSET, L. I., July 4.—"Rabbit punches, short blows on the back of my neck and behind the ear dazed and weakened me. It was not the blows to the stomach or heart, though they were terrible, that put me in condition to be knocked out. The pounding at the base of the brain did it."

Thus Georges Carpentier gave for the first time in detail his version of Saturday's battle. He was cheerful, clear-eyed, the marks on his face which streamed blood yesterday are now clearing. They will have disappeared in a week.

"Dempsey was too heavy and strong for me. He is a great fighter. More powerful than any I have ever encountered before. I think he is the greatest heavyweight in the world.

"His blows were so forceful that even when I blocked them and they hit only on my arms, I was hurt and gradually weakened. Yes, even the ones that I blocked hurt.

"I did my utmost. I landed my best punch, the long arm right drive to the jaw. It did not avail. I think there is not a man in the world who could hurt this Dempsey.

"When I was finally knocked out, I did not lose consciousness, not for an instant. I heard the entire count of ten. I tried to begin rising. I made an act of will, but the numbed muscles could not respond.

"The newspapers and the people of America have been very kind to me. It is nice of them to appreciate that I did my best. A few writers had thought that I might run away, keeping out of range as long as possible, prolonging the fight. No, I never for an instant thought of such a plan. I attacked first. I continued to attack whenever I could. I did all that I could, to my uttermost."

The Manhasset training camp of the defeated French champion was one of the hottest places on the map yesterday afternoon. But it is not sad. One might almost be justified in saying that it is more cheerful than ever before. The worst has happened—and it is over. The idol came through with honor and without a too terrible mauling.

Descamps, on the front lawn, in a striped black and white silk shirt, minus collar, vivacious, good-natured—all his pre-battle Svengali noses gone—points out in voluble French that Carpentier is still the "champion light-heavyweight."

Yes, they are going to stay in America for a while.

May Meet Tom Gibbons.

"This week we rest. Next week we seek business. What is Georges going to do? What would you have him do? Is he not a boxer? He will fight any man of approximately his weight, in whom the public would be interested. The logical first, Tom Gibbons, perhaps. Is he not your best?"

Gone, along with Descamps' hypnotic eye is the other former comic opera stage settings of the training. Gone the barriers. Gone the armed sentinels. They could not keep our defeat, and there is nothing more to hide. Georges is the "champion light-heavyweight."

But it would not have added to the interest of the great fight if this secret had leaked out before the struggle. The barriers served their purpose.

Now Descamps, ably translated by Captain Pierre Mallet, talked freely. Pretty girls, sport writers, university professors, the beauty and chivalry and yokelry of Long Island—none is denied the hospitable shade of the erstwhile sacred lawn.

Descamps declares that neither man was weighed at the arena, and that the announced weights were wrong. Dempsey, he says, weighed 194 instead of 188, and Carpentier 171 instead of 172.

But Descamps is not discounting Dempsey. He thinks no man living can defeat him. Some one suggested less Willard. Descamps said:

"Pouf! I tell you what is this Willard. For speed and swiftness a great calf; also a grandfather."

But from neither Carpentier nor Descamps has been heard a single word of criticism or dispraise of Dempsey. They are game losers.

Last night Georges cabled his wife:

"Have no fear. I am all right. I did my best."

JACK AND GEORGES ARE TO MEET AGAIN DURING THIS WEEK

NEW YORK, July 4. — Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier are scheduled for another test of skill, speed and strength, a clash which is expected to occur within the current week. No, they are not going to don the gloves again. This time they are going to compete as rival swimmers.

Tex Rickard declared to-day he has about created enough rivalry between conqueror and conquered to produce a thrilling water duel. The pair have agreed, Rickard said, to visit the Madison Square Garden pool some night this week and swim it out. Rickard believes the race will be more even than the battle, for both are said to be expert swimmers.

A CITY LEAGUE FIXTURE WINDS UP IN A FIASCO

The City League game between the C.G.E. and Y.M.C.A. teams at Riverside Park on Saturday ended in a fiasco at the beginning of the sixth innings, when Base Umpire E. Lebarr chased First Baseman McWilliams of the Y crew out of the game for crabbing at a decision, and the contest had to be awarded to the C.G.E. crew by the usual score of 9 to 0, as the Red Triangle had no one in uniform to take the place of the ejected player.

The Canadian General team were leading 6 to 0 as it was, so that there was, no doubt as to the final result, but the incident did not make much of a hit with the few wilted spectators who had remained in spite of the heat and the listless performance of the teams.

Foley was on the rubber for the C.G.E., and did not allow a hit in the five innings, while the Electricians had collected eight safeties off Dickson, Helson getting two doubles and a single.

The teams lined up as follows:

C.G.E.—McCarney, 3b; Barrie, 2b; Corrin, 1b; Frost, ss; Helson, c; Dingan m; Primeau rf; Franks, lf; Vincent lf; Foley, p.

Y.M.C.A. — Hopkins, ss; A. Butcher, 2b; Tudhope, 3b; Huff, c; Fitzgerald, lf; McWilliams, 1b; Pogue, m; Dickson, p; G. Butcher, rf.

Umpires—A. Kay at the plate; E. Lebarr on the bases.

WOOLENS LOST TO DE LAVAL BY 3-2

AND VETERANS WIN THE LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP AS A RESULT.

Under a broiling sun the Canadian Woollens were nosed out of the City League by the De Laval by 3 goals to 2 on Saturday, and unless the Woollens win the protest they were threatening to-day, the G.W.V.A. are champions of the City League. Had the Woollens won from De Laval, they and the War Veterans would both have 15 points, and there would be a sensational play-off.

The De Laval's win, however, eliminated the Woollens, but this morning The Examiner was informed by the Woollens that Harry Curtis, playing for De Laval, would be protested, as he is not a registered player. If this protest is entered to-day, it will be considered at the executive meeting to-night, and if the Woollens are successful, a play-off with the Vets will end a neck-and-neck race for the city soccer championship.

Neither team could muster a full team on Saturday's field. The De Laval had ten men and the Woollens nine. Several of the regulars from both line-ups were missing, and the loss was felt.

Frank McKinley was referee.

The line-ups were:

Can. Woollens.		De Laval.
Hensley	Goal	Hillman
	Backs
Cridland		Crowe
Chambers
	Half-backs
Monkman		H. Curtis
Frost		Pickles
		Warman
	Forwards
Swan		Thorpe
J. Shaw		Long
T. Jones		Whatley
Roberts		Bell
		Hanson

The game was closely fought. Despite the heat, both teams travelled at good speed. Thorpe secured two counters for the De Laval, both in the first period. Jim Shaw scored for the Woollens, and the score was 2-1 at the end of the first half. In the last 45 minutes Bell scored and Chambers followed up for the Woollens.

There was only a small crowd of fans watching the game. The intense heat kept away many who would otherwise have been on hand to see the fixture which decided the winner of the City League. One or two games which cannot alter the League standing are yet to be played off.

DEMPSEY TRIED HARD TO END THE FIGHT IN FIRST ROUND

NEW YORK, July 4.—"I tried hard to end it in the first round," said Jack Dempsey, after the fight, "but Carpentier's gameness and fine condition saved him. He is a great little fighter. In the second he uncorked a desperate rally, but I think I demonstrated, when he landed squarely on me with his famous right, that I was able to take all he had.

"I wonder where the critics are now who said I hadn't trained and would throw the battle. And how about the twelve rounds I was going to travel for the sake of the pictures.

"My right hand was extra goodto me to-day. I missed several with my left, in the opening of the third. Carpentier missed with a sizzling right uppercut. Then I got him with rights and lefts, but he took them like a man. I began to try for his body to bring his hands down and we mixed furiously at the bell. I think I was going the stronger of the two.

"In the fourth I put over the old 'one, two'— a snappy left and a hammer blow with old 'Iron Mike,' my right hand. I then knocked him flat with a volley, and then the K.O.

"Carpentier was game to the last. I admire him for it and when the fight was over I told him so.

JESS WILLARD IS WILLING TO MEET JACK DEMPSEY

LAWRENCE, Kas., July 4.—Jess Willard, former world's heavyweight champion, to whose crown Jack Dempsey succeeded at Toledo, July 4, 1919, will box Dempsey on Labor Day if arrangements for such a bout are made, Willard said last night.

"I have heard nothing of such a bout since last spring," the former champion said, "when a plan was under way for me to box Dempsey March 17. The completion of plans for the Dempsey-Carpentier bout ended that project and I was promised a bout on Labor Day.

"I'll make no further move until I hear from Tex Rickard, but I'll box Dempsey if the bout is revived."

Willard spent Saturday on his ranch near here directing fifty men in the harvesting of his potato crop. The Jersey City fight went about as he expected it would, he said,

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

An ideal summer program will be offered at the Capitol to-night and patrons are assured big value for the admission charged.

The vaudeville entertainment will be Boutte and Carter, Below the Mason Dixon line. Two exceptionally clever entertainers. The feature will be Bebe Daniels in "Ducks and Drakes' also Buster Keaton in his latest comedy "The Haunted House" Many flattering expressions are heard about the excellence of the cooling system of the Capitol and the public are assured at all times of a temprature at least twenty degrees cooler in the theatre than on the street level.

BLIZZARD A TREAT FOR BEBE DANIELS

Nineteen before she had ever touched snow!

To people in the eastern and middle-western states it would seem incomprehensivble that any one could have lived to the age of nineteen without becoming acquainted with the mantle of whiteness that makes winter a delight to children and often a trial to their elders. But such was really the case with Bebe Daniels.

"You see," explained Miss Daniels one day at the studio, when someone asked her about her first experience with snow, "I was born in Dallas, Texas, and lived most of my life there and in Los Angeles. The only snow I had ever seen was that far away on the mountain tops. Therefore, you can imagine I was very glad when, on the last day of our 'location' trip at Big Bear Valley, 8,000 feet up in the mountains, a real blizzard began. We had gone up there to film certain scenes for 'Ducks and Drakes.'

"When the snow started I thought I'd be real funny' 'she continued ,"And I started to bombard Jack Holt, William Lawrence and the other members of my company with snow balls—but it was a piece of bad judgement on my part, for, alas, I'm as bad as most girls at throwing, while the boys nearly overwhelmed me with snowballs before I could call 'quits!"

Snow it must be admitted, is a thing one would scarcely associate with the dark Andalusian beauty af Bebe Daniels, descendant of a Governor of Columbia and bearing in her veins the blood of Cavaliers of Seville who wooed their dusky sweet hearts under latticed windows.

"Ducks and Drakes", however, is no langorous Spanish love idyll, but a mile- a minute modern farce that gives Miss Daniels splendid opportunity in one of those "good little bad girl' 'roles which is peculiarly suited to her dashing personality.

AT THE ALLEN.

"DINING ROOM KITCHEN AND SINK" HOUSE-FULL OF TROUBLE

'Dining Room, Kitchen and Sink," latest two-reel Christie Comedy at Allen theatre for three days is literally a housefull of trouble. It deals with a stranded burlesque show, a pair of crooks and a rich aunt and uncle all in the same house, and the continued mixups that follow are said to make it one of the funniest farces that the screen has seen.

The picture shows the versatility of the Christie organization in making each of its pictures different and in relying in all of them on a real story interpreted by players carefuly selected for their parts and not on some star which the story is built around.

Fay Tincher and Eddie Barry are both featured in "Dining Room, Kitchen and Sink," while the whole graup of Follies Girls add beauty and action to this fast-moving production. The cast is an unusually large one.

DRESSES COST FORTUNE.

The magnificent wardrobe of pretty Dorothy Phillips cannot fail to excite the wonder and envy of the women who witness Allen Holubar's big First National production, "Man-Woman-Marriage." Miss Phillips is seen in more than a dozen of the latest creations and a large number of costumes of past periods.

The dainty star wears every one of them, from leopard skin to the modern gown. The star's costumes alone are said to have cost a small fortune. Special designers worked for months on the modern portion of the wardrobe, and a number of costumiers spent weeks poring over oul books and manuscripts in order to design gowns true to the period in which they are worn in the story.—At the Allen Theatre to-day, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

BIG CAST FOR "MAN-WOMAN-MARRIAGE."

Dorothy Phillips, exquisite star of Allen Holubar's great First National drama-eternal, now being presented at the Allen Theatre, has the support of a remarkable cast in "Man-Woman-Marriage" — the photoplay sensation of a decade.

In the selection of the magnificent cast the entire motion picture field was combed with the object of affording this picture the best talent of the screen. Without regard to expense Allen Holubar secured the services of the men and women best fitted to portray the lesson this film cannot fail to teach.

Among the great array of histrionic artists supporting Miss Phillips are: James Kirkwood, Ralph Lewis, J. Barney Sherry, Robert Cain, Margaret Mann, Shannon Day, Emily Chichester, Frances Parks and "Peaches" Jackson. To these must be added Marion Morgan and her famous dancers.

The salary of this great cast, alone, would equal the total expense of the production of an average screen drama. "Man-Woman-Marriage," eight months in the making, cost to produce, $400,000, an average of $4,000 per foot. This makes it the most expensive picture ever filmed.

Marion Morgan, creator and director of the celebrated Morgan dancers, became so enamored with Hollywood during her recent four weeks' stay at the Hollywood Studio, where she directed the special dance features for Allen Holubar's big cinema drama, "Man-Woman-Marriage," released by the Associated First National Pictures, Inc., that she has decided to make California her permanent home. In beautiful Beverly Hills she will build her home in classic Greek architecture.

DUELLING REVIVED ON A LARGE SCALE IN HUNGARY.

BUDAPEST, July 4 (Associated Press).—The passion for duelling, which slumbered in Hungary during the war, is breaking out with increased vehemence, aicording to a report of the Ministry of Home Affairs, just made public. About 6,000 challenges to fight were recorded during the last six months, and in 350 cases the combat was fought without a serious result. There were three killings.

Trifling incidents have been the cause of some encounters. Treading on a man's foot in an overcrowded street car or calling a person a fool, might impel two solemn-looking gentlemen in full dress and top hat to call on you on behalf of the offended person requesting you to name your seconds.

As a rule, the conference leads to explanations, apologies, and a protocol embodying these important facts to the satisfaction of all parties concerned. But when the insult is considered too gross or the offender too stubborn, the seconds rule that only blood can wash the insult away, and they fix the conditions of next morning's encounter with light or heavy swords, with bandages or without, or with pistols. The combat then takes place in one of the fencing schools, or, when fought with pistols, in some deserted meadow outside the town.

Political antagonists frequently change arguments for weapons, and a heated debate in Parliament is generally followed by a couple of duels. Even ministers have to accept the challenge of an opposition member, and it is still remembered that the late Count Stephen Tisza, when Prime Minister, fought nine duels with his political opponents.

Under the penal code of Hungary, an armed combat is a punishable misdemeanour. Sometimes when combatants are tried and sentenced to a few months' imprisonment, they serve it in a special establishment of detention, an operette-prison, where they may provide themselves with outside food, drink, and clothing, take outdoor exercise, and receive any number of visitors.

When hot water bags leak cover the hole with adhesive plaster and use them filled with hot salt or hot sand. They will retain the heat better than water.

PLOT UPRISING AGAINST GOV'T OF ANTI-REDS

DISCOVERY OF A CONSPIRACY AMONG SEMENOFF'S FORCES REPORTED—RED ENVOY EXPRESSES FRIENDSHIP TOWARD TURKS.

DENIES ANY PLAN TO TAKE CONSTANTINOPLE

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 4. Canadian Press. — Soviet Russia has no desire to occupy Constantinople but desires to have peaceful relations with Turkey, and with all nations, declared M. Nathan Arow, the new Russian Bolshevik ambassador to Turkey, in presenting his credentials to Mustapha Kemal, the head of the Turkish Nationlist Government.

TOKIO, July 4. Cnadian Press. — The discovery of a conspiracy among the followers of General Semenoff, anti-Bolsheviki leader in Siberia, to overthrow the Merkuloff government in Vladivostock, is reported in the newspaper despatches from that city. Twenty three persons including three officers, have been arrested in connection with the lot.

TRAIL RANGERS' CAMP AT SANDY POINT

31 BOYS FROM GEORGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH.

Withall the reports of retrenchment in different lines of business, it is encouraging to report a new era in boys' work in Peterborough. On Saturday afternoon, the first Trail Rangers' Camp to go out from Peterboorugh erected their tents at Sandy Point, Clear Lake. The camp is made up entirely of boys from the George street Methodist church. Three clubs constitute it, the Wild Cats, the Victors and the Alerts. Leadership is no problem for the camp, and when the leaders met to discuss plans of organization, besides the 3 tent leaders, Earl Barrie, Trevor Miller and Charlie Elliott, there were also present Wm. Hamilton, Jim Spencer, Howard Copp and Harold Copp.

Considerable credit is due Charlie Elliott, in the way of splendid organization and management. The programme arranged by Earl Barrie and Trevor Miller is being efficiently carried out. The physical activities, under the direction of Harold Copp, who is home on his vacation from Association College, Chicago, keep the boys interested.

The camp is well supplied with boats and other equipment that will help the fellows make the most of their vacation.

Saturday night the Rangers had a splendid game of ball with the cottagers, followed by a camp fire on the beach. Sunday afternoon, every member attended service at the new church, conducted by Mr. Edmundson, secretary of the Home Mission Board of the Presbyterian church. Sunday night some of the fathers of the boys from the city were welcomed. They pronounced the camp a real live place.

DEMPSEY WATCHES SELF IN ACTION

JERSEY CITY, July 4. Canadian Press. — Jack Dempsey still heavyweight champion of the world, celebrated the fourth of July to-day in addition to celebrating his victory over Georges Carpentier.

Dempsey plans to remain in this vicinity for several days, when he will go to Salt Lake City, his home, for a vacation and rest from his long training grind.

The champion yesterday saw himself in action. He motored to a motion picture theatre that was showing pictures of the great encounter. Huddled in a back seat, alongside of Jack Kearns, his manager, and Mike Trant ,a Chicago detective sergeant, who has been his body guard he watched the punch that enabled him to retain the championship.

BEACHES CROWDED DRESSING ROOMS REMAINED LOCKED

Hundreds of citizens availed themselves yesterday of the Sunday street cars and thronged the bathing places at Inverlea Park, Lake street and below the Locks. The crowd at Inverlea was estimated at three hundred. Disregarding the locked and barred dressing quarters they managed to unburden themselves of their heavy clothes, seeking the sometimes doubtful screen of trees and boat houses to disrobe and pull their bathing suits over them. Others motored to the park all ready for the welcome plunge, and throughout the day the little dressing house frowned with its locks upon the crowd in the pleasure of their relief from the heat.

In the evening the crowds that sought the vagrant breezes on the river at the foot of Lock street, lingered until nine and ten o'clock. Al fresco suppers were numerous along the banks. Some of the canoes and skiffs went as far as Robinson's island and quite a number of launches chugged all the way to Rice Lake, Landing and other favorite spots for Landing and other favorite sots for supper.

BAND CONCERT AT SACRED HEART SOCIAL.

The social to be held on the grounds of the Sacred Heart Church to-morrow evening should be well patronised. A real banquet is promised for the supper table. There will be lottery booths, with auction sale of fancy and useful articles, booths for all sorts of light refreshments, a fish pond, and the band of the Peterborough Rangers, who will give the following programme of music (by permission of Lieut.-Col. Clegg and officers):

March .... "Vanished Army"
Overture from .... "Martha"
"Bells of St. Malo" ....
Waltzes .... "Love and Kisses"
Reminiscences of Scotland ....
Nautical Selection ....
.... "Life on the Ocean"
Fox-Trot .... "Oh"
Selection .... Irish Airs
March .... 'Royal Salute"
"God Save the King."

THE WEATHER

The hot weather still continues and apparently becoming worse. On Friday we had it 90 degrees in the shade, on Saturday 91 degrees, on Sunday 91 degrees, and to-day (Monday) at noon it stood at 92 degrees. These readings, remember, are at the cool, breezy, sylvan retreat of the local observer, near the summit on the Smithtown hill, where, if any breeze at all is blowing this section is sure to get the benefit. On the business streets down town it can easily be three or four degrees higher. Last night was particularly warm. The lowest the thermometer got last night was 70 degrees. It was the warmest night for several years, and has only been exceeded twice in about 25 years. A little cooler weather with thunderstorms is generally prevalent to the westward, but is moving this way but slowly. —W. P.

PROBE OF LEMIEUX CHARGES STARTS IN AUGUST.

OTTAWA, July 4. — (Canadian Press.)—It is expected that Judge Panneton, appointed by the government to investigate the charges made by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux in the House of Commons in connection with the proposed payent of $60,000 to the Park St. Charles Land Company, will open his enquiry on August 15th. Judge Panneton is at present on a vacation. The inquiry will probably be held at Quebec.

TOBACCO GIVEN CONVICTS; BAN FOR 24 YEARS

PORTSMOUTH PENITENTIARY RULE BARRING USE OF TOBACCO BY INMATES LIFTED AFTER 24 YEARS.

SEVERE PUNISHMENTS HAD BEEN PROVIDED

(Special Despatch to the Examiner.)

KINGSTON, July 4. — Tobacco is to be given the convicts at the Portsmouth penitentiary after being banned for twenty-four years.

During that period tobacco was officially declared contraband, and any prisoner found in possession of it, or of cigar stubs, matches or a pipe, was severely punished, and, in addition it is estimated that fully 75 per cent. of the prison offences and punishments prisoners were subjected to were due directly or indirectly to tobacco.

Many of the guards have been dismissed for giving or permitting a prisoner to have tobacco.

Warden Ponsford addressed the convicts on Sunday, stating that no more punishment would be inflicted upon them for having tobacco, but on the contrary tobacco would be given to all who were users of it before coming to the prison. A small quantity will be issued each week, but prisoners who misbehaved will be deprived of tobacco as a punishment.

A stock of tobacco has been ordered and it is expected that within the next two weeks the regulation will go into effect. The announcement made by the Warden was received by cheers from the convicts.

PERMANENT FIREMEN GRATEFUL TO T. TOOMS

Mr. T. Tooms, M.P.P., has received the following appreciation from the Provincial Federation of Ontario Fire Fighters:

Dear Sir,

On behalf of the Ontario Permanent Firemen, I wish to convey to you, sir, our sincere thanks and deep appreciation for the solid support and consideration that you have given to the Two-Platoon Act, and also in defeating the amendment to the Fire Departments' Hours of Labour Act.

We have much to thank you for in the past two sessions of the Ontario Legislative Assembly, and shall not forget the staunch friend that we have in yourself.

Thanking you again for the support that you have given the firemen in the past, and hoping that we shall continue to merit this support in the future,—I am,

Yours very truly,
D. H. Lamb.
General Secretary-Treasurer.

WOMAN AGED 74 LOST IN THE BUSH

GOODERHAM, July 4. — Mrs. Mark Cully, aged 74 years, has been missing since June 18, when she started out to pick wild berries in bush near here. She was last seen at 5:30 in the afternoon and on failing to return home at night, a search party constituted of from 40 to 75 men combed the bush for miles, but to no avail. No trace of the lost woman has since been discovfiered.

GOV'T ENGINEER VISITS SCENE OF AUTO SMASH

BUT DEPUTY MINISTER OF HIGHWAYS LAYS BLAME TO THE BRAKES AND SAYS ROAD NOT AT FAULT.

TWO KILLED AND FIVE HURT IN THE ACCIDENT

(Special Despatch to the Examiner).

TORONTO, July 4.—D. M. Hogarth, Chief Engineer of the Highways Department, has gone to Winona to investigate conditions on the Hill "50" detour, where two people were killed and five injured in an accident which occurred yesterday afternoon.

W. A. McClean, Deputy Minister of Highways, when seen by the Examiner to-day, expressed profound regret over the accident which had occurred, but pointed out that it was the fault of defective brakes rather than of an excessive danger of the road. He added that the Department had maintained traffic over the main Provincial road from Hamilton to Queenston, via Grimsby, while it was under construction up till about a week or ten days ago, when this became impossible since the asphalt surfacing was being applied on the stretch between Grimsby and Winona. The detour then became necessary. There was no possible one south of the Provincial highway, he said, since since there was not merely no road there but not even any road allowance. A detour here would have meant driving a trail through orchards which would have proved very costly. Accordingly, the Mountain Road and the "50" Road had been selected as the only practical detour.

Mr. McClean stated that this detour had been in use for about ten days or a fortnight, and that it was expected that the main Provincial road would be open for traffic once again in another week. A. N. Fellows, the resident engineer, had reported that as soon as the detour was opened the necessary sign boards and lanterns had been put in position. In referring to the hill itself, Mr. Fellows had stated that it was a tough and heavy grade, but that the only persons to whom it was giving any trouble were those drivers of motor trucks who tried to negotiate with 35 or 50 per cent. overload.

TREE VANDALS IN OTONABEE

Peterborough, 2nd July, 1921.
Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—In driving over the country roads of Ontario from Toronto eastward, the drive from Peterborough to Keene always appealed to me. The road for the whole distance of some twelve miles is exceptionally good, the farms are far above the average in Eastern Ontario, they are well farmed, and there is a thrift and neatness about the homes and buildings that any person must notice. It is a twelve-mile stretch, which is a credit to the owners thereon, and also to the County of Peterborough. The owners have gone to a great amout of pains in trimming shade trees and planting them, but now a gang of linemen are busy trimming trees so as not to interfere with the wires. The work is very badly done —in fact, it looks like the work of vandals. One beautiful row of locusts at Zion Corners has been almost completely demolished,—and that man's farm has suffered to the extent of at least $500.00 by so doing. I wish to draw the atention of the U.F.O. Clubs to this work, and try and impress on them the effect of it. Surely this trimming should be done under some official supervision, so that the owners shall not suffer as this man.

Hoping, Mr. Editor, you will insert this and use your influence in preserving the beauty of your country roads around Peterborough.—Yours, etc., A. E. Elliott.

BAR LIQUOR FROM MILITARY CAMPS

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

OTTAWA, July 4.— "So far as the Militia Department is concerned," said General Sir Eugene Fiset, Deputy Minister of Militia, this morning, "the orders are strictly to the effect that no intoxicating liquors shall be served at any militia camp.

With regard to the particular case in which wine addressed to the officers' mess of the Niagara camp has been seized by the Ontario Temperance Act authorities, and in connection with which Col. F. F. Clarke is alleged to have said that the camp is "the wettest he has seen in 27 years," General Fisset calls attention to the fact that all information is in the possession of General Victor Williams, officer commanding the Kingston division.

NOTHING IN CRIMINAL CODE TO PREVENT SHOWING DEMPSEY-CARPENTIER FILMS, SAYS RANEY.

OWNERS WILL FIGHT IF CENSORS OBJECT

TORONTO, July 4.—(Canadian Press).—It is expected that strenuous opposition will be put up by the owners of the motion picture rights of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight for permission to show them in Ontario.

They argue that they are not fight pictures but only show a boxing exhibition held legally under the laws of New Jersey. They claim that similar boxing exhibitions have been allowed in Ontario under the supervision of the Boxing Commission.

Attorney-General Raney stated that there was nothing in the criminal code to prevent the pictures being shown and that it was a matter for the censor to deal with. He did not state his own position on the matter.

SIMS IN FAVOR OF CRITICISM

SAYS IT MAKES FOR EFFICIENCY IN ARMY AND NAVY AND CONTRASTS ATTITUDE OF U. S. WITH EUROPE.

NEWPORT, R.I., July 4.—(Canadian Press.)— The attitude of the United States, which he said not only had always neglected to provide for public criticism of officers of armed forces, but has actually forbidden it, was contrasted with that of some European powers by Rear Admiral William S. Sims, in an address to-day here, in which he urged public discussion as a safeguard to public interests.

In home continental interess, he declared, criticism was recognized as so vital to efficiency that it was rewarded when it proved beneficial.

The people of the United States, Admiral Sims says, know less about the elements of warfare and less about the actual condition of their military forces than the people of any other great power.

U.S. TEUTON PEACE SIGNED

PRESIDENT HARDING AFFIXES SIGNATURE TO THE PORTER JOINT CONGRESSIONAL RESOLUTION ENDING WAR.

TWO YEARS SINCE VERSAILLES PACT

RARITAN, N.J., July 4. — War with Germany ended as it began: by Congressional declaration and Executive signature on American soil.

At 4.10 p.m., local daylight-saving time, in the living room of "The Hill," Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen's home here yesterday, President Harding placed his signature to the Porter joint Congressional resolution declaring peace with Germany and Austria, just two years and four days after the ill-fated Treaty of Versailles was signed.

"That's all," said President Harding as he held his pen above his signature on a broad vellum typewritten page. The ink dripped from the pen and made a blot the size of a five-cent piece on the page, almost effacing the "g" of the President's signature.

More ceremony has been connected with making an entry in the family Bible or a debuntante's memory book than that accompanying the signature that ended a war that called to the colors 4,800,000 young Americans. And yet the very formality of the occasion heightened its impressiveness. Except for the four camera men —there were no movies—not one of the witnesses spoke or moved while the President signed the peace resolution. The 30 Government officials and their wives, Secret Service men, county officers, reporters, butlers, maids, chauffeurs and gardeners that were in Senator Frelinghuysen's living room were busy with their own thoughts, and the modest Frelinghuysen ancestral home will have a place in history long after an international heavyweight championship is forgotten.

CHINA MAKES PEACE, TOO.

PARIS, July 4. — (Canadian Press.)— A Pekin despatch states that ratification of the Treaty between China and Germany, restoring a state of peace, were exchanged July 1.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

(All financial and produce markets in the United States are closed to-day, this being Independence Day, a national holiday).

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, July 4 (Canadian Press).—The local stock exchange was very quiet at its opening this morning after the long holiday. Dominion Steel was stronger by 5-8 of a point at 23 5-8. Laurentide was also strong, registering a gain of 3 1-2 points to 73 1-2. Spanish River remained unchanged at 48.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

TORONTO, July 4 (Canadian Press).—Cattle receipts 1,237; trade was draggy. Quotations:

Heavy beef steers, $7.50 to $7.75; butcher steers, choice, $7.00 to $7.50; butcher cows, medium, $3.00 to $5.00; calves, $7.0 to $8.50; lambs, $12.00 to $13.50; hogs, selects, fed and watered, $11.50.

TORONTO

TORONTO, July 4.—(Canadian Press). — The local stock market was extremely quiet this morning. While trading was well spread over the list, there was very little activity in any one issue. The general tone was strong, with Abitibi and Spanish River gaining 3-4 and 1-4 point respectively. Steamship Preferred and Steel were steady, while Toronto Railway and Canadian Pacific both sold off, the former losing 3-4 at 71 1-4 and the latter 3-4 at 124.

There was no afternoon session.

Sailor hats, particularly those banded with white and faced with it, are very fashionable.

BY THE WAY

A bunch of bananas as hung in the store is hung just the opposite from the way it grows. Bananas grow with their lower ends pointing upward. The herb on which the fruit grows has an underground stem which sends up suckers or sprouts that attain their full growth in a year and a half or two years. Its "trunk" is not really a trunk at all, but a false stalk formed by the curled bases of the leaves, which wrap themselves about the flower stem. This stalk, almost a foot in diameter at the bottom, rises to a height of from 10 to 40 feet, its great leaves, a foot or two in width, and from 6 to 10 feet in length, drooping outward.

When the plant has reached its full growth there appears a huge flower bud, which opens and shows a little bunch of flowers, each of which makes way for a tiny banana. The great flower cluster hangs toward the earth, but as the separate fruits begin to grow they turn upward. From 50 to 150 bananas, weighing from 40 to 100 pounds, may grow in a bunch.

The worst form of tax we have to meet is the tax on our patience.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Nest and Eggs of Canadian Jay Found.

The only nest and eggs of the Canadian jay, better known as the "camp robber," which ever has been collected, so far as is known, has been received at Seattle from Lynden, Wash. The collection was found by Maynard Stout on his father's homestead.

The Canadian jay is a very common and often troublesome bird, deriving his other name from a habit of hanging about camps and lodges for the purpose of purloining provisions. Its nest, eggs, and young are always cunningly hidden, and until the discovery by Stout this phase of the bird's life had remained a mystery.

The nest, carefully built of grass, sticks and moss, was found about six feet above the ground in a jack pine tree. It was cleverly concealed by a camouflage of twigs woven by the parent birds. The eggs, four in number, the size of those of robins, are sharply pointed at one end and tinted with light blue, speckled by light brown freckles.

The Smithsonian Institution and the Museum of the Washington State University have endeavored to obtain specimens of the best and study the habits of the jay, but were unable to locate its home.

Bank Pays One Acorn a Year On Property.

The transfer of title to the bank property at 22 and 24 South Third street, Philadelphia, from the Citizens' Bank to the State Bank of Philadelphia, brought to light the fact that ownership of this property if forever subject to the payment of one acorn per annum to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The acorn clause was embodied in the earliest deeds to the northern portion, known as 22 South Third street, and was cited in the deed dated April 1, 1835, whereby title passed from Clause Amable Brazier to the Mechanics' Bank of Philadelphia. The full clause is: "Subject to a certain irredeemable rent of one acorn per annum forever, payable on demand to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania."

Cloud Mask Envelops Venus Year In, Year Out.

What makes the planet Venus so silver-bright? Many a one has put this question to himself these spring evenings, and must have been unable to find a satisfactory answer, London Answers states. But the answer is that we see the silver lining to the cloud-mask which covers the features of Venus, for, as dazzling as this planet appears to us, it is enveloped in sombre clouds that never seem to break and afford us a glimpse of what is below. At least there is no real proof that the markings which have been seen are on the planet's actual surface at all. Slow-moving cloud masses would be liable to be very deceptive and might well be mistaken for something more solid.

The persistency of Venus' last cloud envelope is remarkable; it is present year in and year out, reflecting the sunlight with mirror-like brilliancy.

How Venus would appear without it is hard to say, as we have no knowledge whatever of the real composition of her globe.

All that can be said with any certainty is that she would lose a large share of her radiant beauty if this light-reflecting shell of clouds were removed.

She might look like Mars or like Mercury, and would certainly fail to bewitch mankind as she does now.

The true secret of her peerless beauty, therefore, is her veil of clouds.

"Blood Money" Was Once Paid For Bloodshed.

"Blood money" was the name applied in the Middle Ages and well into the more modern period to the money paid for bloodshed. It might be either the compensation paid by a manslayer to the nearest relatives of the victim, to secure himself and his kin from vengeance, or the money paid as a reward for bringing about the death of another, directly or through evidence.

It was once common among the Scandinavian and Teutonic peoples, who called this money payment wergild. The price varied with the nature of the crime and the rank of the victim. Certain crimes, such as the slaying of a sleeping person, could not be compensated by a money payment; such criminals were declared outlaws and could be slain with impunity.

An interesting archæological discovery recently was made in Delhi. While demolishing a mound on the police parade ground the workmen discovered beneath it a well-built tomb. Little doubt remains that the marble slab marks the last resting place of the Emperor Aurangzeb's learned and highly accomplished daughter, the Princess Zeb-ul-Nisa.

Wooer of Princess Roasted To Death.

This Princess, whose name translated means "The Ornament of Womanhood," was the favorite daughter of the Emperor Aurangzeb, who reigned at Delhi from 1658 to 1707, in whose reign the Mogul dynasty reached the zenith of its power. The Emperor made her his counselor on many affairs of state, and she possessed to a remarkable degree the confidence of her royal father who trusted very few people. For a time she was the keeper of the royal seal.

It was probably due to her father's wishes that she never married. It is said, however, that she was dearly loved by a young nobleman of great learning, and a poet. She reciprocated his affections, and their secret became known to the Emperor. One day while the young Emperor probably being informed of his presence, came to her apartments in the courtyard. There stood on an oven a huge cauldron such as is used for boiling water. The young man hid himself inside it. The Emperor asked the Princess what the cauldron contained. She answered that it contained bath water. He suspected the real contents, and ordered that a fire be lighted to boil the water. The young man allowed himself to be roasted to death rather than bring disgrace on the Princess, and it is said that he did not as much as utter a sigh.

The Princess died in 1695 in the thirty-seventh year of her father's reign. She was one of the most interesting and charming personalities of Mogul times. Besides attaining to great proficiency in the Persian and Arabic languages, she was a poetess and an author of considerable merit. A commentary on the Koran written by her and called Zeb-ul-Tafsir is still extant. The government of India is now taking steps to preserve and beautify her tomb, so unexpectedly brought to light.

How Weather Effects Opening of Cocoons.

M. A. Pictet Swiss scientist, has made an extended series of experiments showing the effect of the weather upon the opening of the cocoons of moths and butterflies.

It was found that in most varieties of insects the emergence of the pupa from the cocoon coincides with the fall of the barometer, and that a relative increase of the internal pressure within the cocoon is a necessary factor in the escape of the insect from its prison. When there is an increase of the atmospheric pressure during the entire time of this dormant stage of the pupa, or even during the latter half of this period alone, the duration of the dormant stage may be extended from 10 to 20 per cent. Furthermore, when the emergence of the insect is too long retarded, the pupa perishes in the cocoon.

A fall of a single millimeter of the mercury in the barometer tube was found to be enough to cause the opening of the efficiently mature cocoons, while, on the other hand, an increase in the atmospheric pressure postponed the coming forth of such insects for as much as two, three or even four days until the barometer fell once more.

First Great American Phychiatrist

Dr. Benjamin Rush (1745-1813), says a leading Boston alienist in a note prepared for the Boston Transcript, may very certainly be called "the first great American psychiatrist." The fact is the more worthy of fresh public notice because, for the most part, the significance of Dr. Rush's work as a special student of mental disease has escaped the attention of authors of books of reference which deal with his life.

The encyclopedaeists freely describe this early American scientist's fame as a practitioner and teacher of medicine. They laud him as a signer of the Declaration of Independence, an active associate of Benjamin Franklin in the Philosophical Society, and as a publicist of wide distinction in many fields. But they say very little of his voluminous work, "Medical Inquiries and Observations Into Diseases of the Mind." This extensive textbook, which passed through five editions (the last being published in 1835), was, however, the sole and principal authority on the subject current in the United States during many years

How Name Maverick Became Known.

Sam Maverick migrated from Massachusetts to Texas in the early days of the great West and entered upon the business of raising cattle. He purchased several herds and put them out to roam the range. Whether from ignorance or from implicit faith in the honesty of his neighbors, it never occurred to Mr. Maverick that it might be wise to put his brand upon his stock.

At round-up time, whenever a cowboy found an unbranded animal, he would cry:

"There's a Maverick."

And, generally being of the unregenerate type, he would use his own brand on his find. The name Maverick soon began to be generally applied and to acquire a distinct metaphorical meaning; and when men had opinions which were vague and undecided, they were declared by westerners of the old days to hold "Maverick views."

12 PER CENT RAILWAY WAGE CUT HAS BEEN ACCEPTED

SEVEN KILLED, SEVEN HURT IN AUTO CRASHES

TWO CARS STRUCK BY TRAINS AND ONE OVERTURNED IN DITCH WHEN BRAKES FAILED ON STEEP GRADE.

HAMILTON, July 4.—(Canadian Press).—Auto brakes that failed on a steep grade resulted in two persons being killed and five others, all of Toronto, being injured near Winona yesterday afternoon, about 2.30 o'clock, when the car in which they were riding swerved off the road on Hill 50 and overturned in a ditch. The dead are Mrs. Thomas Gamble, 60 years of age, 230 Brock Avenue, Toronto, and Alfred Pardoe, 55 years of age, 149 Lisgar Street, Toronto.

The injured: Fred. Hardiman, Sidney Gallagher, Thomas Gamble, Mrs. Alfred Pardoe and Mrs. Charles Baker, all of Toronto.

TWO KILLED; ONE HURT.

DUNNVILLE, July 4.—(Canadian Press).—Two persons were killed and a third seriously injured yesterday afternoon when a party of six in an automobile were struck by a Grand Trunk train at Inman Road crossing, about 4 miles east of Dunnville. Mrs. George Frederick Smith and Daniel Deamude, of Moulton Township, died a few minutes after the accident through injuries received, and Fred. Brunt, about nine years of age, sustained a fractured skull and other serious injuries. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brunt and Mr. Smith received injuries but not seriously.

THREE KILLED NEAR MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, July 4.—(Canadian Press).—Two young women and one man were killed and one man was injured last night when an automobile was struck by the Canadian Pacific Boston train on a crossing near Oelson Junction. The train must have been in full sight of the occupants of the car, for it is stated that the crossing is an open one, there being no curve and nothing to hide it. The train completely demolished the automobile.

The victims are Florence Poissant, aged 18, and Ruth Poissant, aged 17, and Herve Letourneau, aged 20, all of Ste. Doule. Gaston De Some was flung out on the track in a stunned condition, and would have been run over by the Halifax train following if it had not been flagged to stop just in time. His injuries are not serious.

MIND MAY PROLONG THE SPAN OF LIFE

NEW YORK, July 4.—(Canadian Press). — "Your mind may prolong your years; psychology and not medicine is the secret of longevity." This statement was made yesterday by Dr. Arthur Gates, head of the psychology department of the Teachers' College here. Dr. Gates explained:

"Given proper conditions such as lack of predisposition to organic weakness and susceptibility to disease germs, the mental processes may prolong life greatly beyond the average span. I believe we might become a nation of centenarians without difficulty."

EXPORT TRADE WITH BRITAIN IS INCREASED

MAY EXPORTS EXCEEDED THOSE OF YEAR AGO BY $3,000,000 IN SPITE OF TRADE DEPRESSION.

OTTAWA July 4. — Canadian exports to the United Kingdom for the month of May last exceeded by $3,000,000 those for May of 1920.

The current weekly bulletin of the Department of Trade and Commerce points out that while Canada is experiencing with other countries, excessive reaction in business, still her export trade has not diminished in nearly the same proportion as her imports.

Furthermore in considering declines from 1920 figures ,the bulletin states that it is necessary to remember that the value of the dollar is considerably higher in purchasing power to-day than this time last year, so that the slump is not so ominous as it appears at first sight.

The returns of the United Kingdom and the United States tell the same story—a period of reaction after extravagant buying in the months succeeding the war.

THIEVES ACTIVE IN CAMPBELLFORD

ENTERED G.T.R. STATION AND TRENT VALLEY CREAMERY—HAUL WAS LIGHT.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 4. — Harold Ellis, whose home is north of Havelock, will come before Magistrate Payne this Monday morning charged with stealing a Ford car from Wm. Aikens on Saturday night. As the car was badly damaged the charge is a serious one.

Broke into Station.

Some unknown person or persons forced an entrance to the G. T. R. station on Thursday night and stole a sum of money and a .45 Colt revolver the property of Major Bygott. Another attempt was made about 10 p.m., Saturday night, but was unsuccessful.

Entered Creamery, Too.

The Trent Valley Creamery was broken into three consecutive times during last week. The first time a sum of money was taken as the office safe had been accidentally left open. The second time nothing was stolen but a valve was opened, and about $10 worth of cream was wasted. The third time nothing was taken or damaged.

Personal.

Messrs. Cohen, Friedman and Burnett of Toronto, with their wives, spent a few days of last week fishing along the Trent.

Mr. Robert Bullen spent a few days in Peterboro last week.

Miss McCannon of Peterboro, is visiting Miss Dorothy Bullen.

Mr. A. Pirie purchased a Ford car from D. W. Douglas last week.

Mr. Insley is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Gordon.

Mr. W. B. Horkins of Toronto, spent the holiday with his parents at home.

Miss Nellie Davidson accompanied by her friend, Miss Govenlock, of Toronto, are camping at Trent River.

Miss Helen Wood and Miss Evelyn Irwin left on Saturday morning for Calgary, Alta., where they will visit Miss Wood's sister, Mrs. Sparling. They will travel via the C.P.R. lake service from Port McNicol to Fort William ,and thence on by train. Mrs. F. W. Wood accompanied them as far as Peterboro.

Mr. P. McNamara of Galt, is visiting in town.

Mr. P. J. Shannon, was home over the holiday.

Cheese Board.

At the auction of Campbellford cheese board 605 white and 94 colored cheese were sold at 18 5-8 and 18 1-4c respectively. The factories boarded as follows:

White: Brae 45; Beaver 40; Empire 70; Forest 40; Ideal 45; IXL 40; Kimberley 30; Prince of Wales 45; Rylstone 75; Stanwood 50; Trent Bridge 45; Trent Valley 35; West Seymour 40; Woodlands 70; Buyers, Kerr, Ibey and Thompson.

And colored: Meyersburg 46; New Model 48. This was Beaver factory's first sale.

U.S. RAILWAY WORKERS WILL ACCEPT SLASH

TWO MILLIONS WILL STAY ON JOBS AND BOW TO EDICT OF THE RAILWAY LABOR BOARD, IT IS LEARNED THIS MORNING.

(Special Despatch to the Examiner).

CHICAGO, July 4.—Two million railroad workers will bow to the edict of the United States Railroad Labor Board and accept a twelve per cent. wage cut, it was revealed to the United Press to-day.

Union representatives who have been meeting the President for several days to accept or reject the $400,000,000 annual wage slash, will issue a statement to-day, agreeing that the membership of their organizations will work for less money.

According to reliable information, the acceptance of the reduction will be made under protest, however. The powerful rail unions are expected to tell the public that the cost of living has not decreased to such an extent to justify a twelve per cent. slash. In the same statement, which is now being prepared, the unions will demand that the working agreements between workers and railroad managements be kept intact. The Railroad Board ordered these agreements, which provide for working conditions, overtime pay and other regulations, be abrogated and ordered a new set drawn up July 1. The inability of the workers and the railways to get together caused the Board to extend time of formulating new agreements. The statement to be issued to-day will demand that most of the old regulations be re-enacted. The one thousand union representatives here worked all day Sunday and were prepared to work most of to-day.

I KNOW WHAT I'M TALKING ABOUT

HUNNEYSETT SAYS HE'S TRIED IT AND KNOWS WHAT IT WILL DO —TROUBLES OVERCOME.

'Nobody can tell me anything about Tanlac, I've tried it myself and know, for I gained twenty-three pounds in weight on four bottles," said Samuel Runneysett, of 206 Hunter street, west, Hamilton, Ontario.

"I had indigestion so bad I dreaded to see meal-time come and for breakfast I couldn't eat a thing. I fell off twenty-five pounds in weight and didn't know, where it was all going to end. My stomach just stayed sour and upset all the time, and I had pains that were about all I could stand I had a stubborn case of constipation and every few days had a terrific headache. My sleep was all broken up and I felt weak and no-account all through the day.

"This was over a year ago, but Tanlac fixed me up in fine shape and did the work so well I have been feeling fine ever since. My appetite came back in full force and I regained my lost weight and to this good day have been in the best of health. I know what I'm talking about when I recommend Tanlac, and I'm not afraid the fellow who takes my advice will ever regret it"

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

FIGHT NEARLY WON IN SECOND BY CARPENTIER

OVEREAGERNESS WHEN HE HAD DRIVEN DEMPSEY, GROGGY, TO THE ROPES COST HIM BATTLE IN SECOND ROUND.

(Special Despatch to the Examiner).

TORONTO, July 4.—W. A. Hewitt, in a despatch to the Star from Jersey City, says: The champion was wide open but supremely confident at this stage (second round), and he walked right into a blow that came close to changing the location of the championship. He was reaching with short arm blows for Carpentier's body when the Frenchman shot in a light left to the face that made Dempsey halt in his tracks. Quick as a flash Carpentier shot across the right with the leaping motion, which might be likened to the golfer's "follow through," and caught Dempsey flush on the jaw and sent him reeling back to the ropes. Dempsey was badly shaken up. He looked groggy and dizzy, and his arms hung at his sides as if all power and strength had suddenly deserted him.

The arena was in an uproar. It looked as if the impossible and the unexpected was about to happen.The crowd were on their feet and yelling frantically. Deschamps, in the Frenchman's corner, was like a man gone suddenly mad. He yelled some frenzied instructions, but Carpentier, unheeding, had sensed the situation, and was in at his opponent in a wild frenzied manner. He threw caution and judgment to the winds in a wild attempt to again land the murderous right on Dempsey's jaw. He was over anxious, and he missed an easy chance to get the blow home by over reaching the mark. He fell in a clinch, which was the salvation of Dempsey.

The champion first hugged him, and then bearing down his weight on his opponent's light frame, instinctively pounded him in the body. Carpentier pulled away out of the clinch and repeatedly tried to land solidly with the "leaping right," but his over anxiety caused him to miss the vital spot and he tired so much under his own attack that when Dempsey gradually recovered from his dazed condition and clinched just before the bell, he apepared to weigh down the Frenchman and seemed much the stronger, though there was no question that it was Carpentier's round.

STRONG DESIRE IN IRELAND TO OBTAIN TRUCE

LONDON TIMES LEARNS THAT INFLUENCE OF CHURCH IS BEING EXERTED FOR SUCCESS OF TO-DAY'S CONFERENCE.

LONDON, July 4. — (Canadian Press).—The London Times learns from its Dublin correspondent that there is an intense desire throughout the country for the success of Monday's conference between representatives of Northern and Southern Ireland. The influence of all churches, he says, is being strongly exerted toward the cause of peace, and prayers for the success of the conference were offered Sunday in churches of various denominations.

MOOSE PLAYER, HIT BY SCOTT, MAY NOT LIVE

PHYSICIAN UNABLE TO SAY WHETHER MARQUIS WILL RECOVER—ACCIDENTALLY HIT WITH BALL BY "CANNONBALL" SCOTT.

TORONTO, July 4. — Canadian Press. — Edward Marquis, a member of the Moose baseball team of the Western City League, while he was playing in a game in Willowdale Park on Saturday afternoon, was accidentally hit on the head by a pitched ball thrown by Cannonball Scott, pitcher of the Hillcrest team, and now lies unconscious in the Western Hospital.

The accident to Marquis occurred while he was at bat in the second innings, but he stayed in the game until it was finished.

Immediately afterwards, however, he was taken sick, and was rushed to the hospital where he lapsed into unconsciousness. Although four doctors worked on him all day Sunday he had not reganined consciousness up to a late hour last night and was bleeding internally.

Marquis' condition is critical, and Dr. Sproule, the attending physician, was unable to say last night whether the young man would recover.

(Special Despatch to the Examiner).

TORONTO, July 4. — Edward Marquis, a member of the Moose baseball team, of the Western City League, who on Saturday afternoon was hit on the head by a pitched ball thrown by Ed. "Cannon Ball" Scott, pitcher on the Hillcrest team, this morning died in the Western Hospital.

Children Think It's Fun

And so do grown folks who know the difference between electric ironing and the drudgery of using ordinary irons.

Ordinary irons make sad ironing days. Probably that's why they are called sad irons.

It is cheering to know, however, that, in thousands of homes throughout the country, ironing day is no longer a trouble day.

"Sovereign" Electric Flatirons

have driven the old fashioned sad irons to the obscurity of some out-of-the-way shelf, thus abolishing their attendant train of well known worries and unknown losses and expenses.

A "Sovereign" Iron consumes only a few cents worth of electricity in doing the week's ironing of the average size family.

Come in and iron with the most popular iron on the market.

HELP MAKE BLIND WOMEN HAPPY.

They were blind.

Blind—every single one of them. A big, cheery roomful of girls and women seated before sewing machines, working busily away turning out aprons, kimonas and mats. It seemed incredible that these busy women were sightless.

And yet just a few years ago these women and girls were sitting idle with their unhappy thoughts, shut off from the world by a wall of deepest darkness.

To-day, through the efforts of the Canadian National Institute, these girls and women earn their own living in the Industrial Department for women at 64 Baldwin street, Toronto. They are happy, even in their darkness, for they have found a new usefulness, thanks to the opening of this Industrial Department a little over two years ago.

But, of course, funds to help run this valuable branch, along with the many other phases of the work of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind are needed.

THE UNRETURNING BRAVE.

Many people noted with pleasure in connection with the Decoration Day ceremony of the Great War Veterans' Association yesterday, that before proceeding to Little Lake cemetery, where flowers were laid upon the graves of the departed comrades who are buried there, the veterans paid a visit to Central Park and placed a floral tribute upon the monument of Capt. Brown, killed in the Northwest Rebellion. It is rather a sad commentary upon the short-sighted nature of public gratitude that for years this monument has been neglected, save when some alderman, whose sense of the fitness of things, was overwhelmed by a keen appreciation of economy as a civic virtue, succeeded in persuading his colleagues to have the public's tribute to the memory of a man who gave up his life for his country, converted into a drinking fountain. The veterans of the Great War have, unintentionally perhaps, but nevertheless pointedly, reminded the community of its failure to remember the man who did not come back from the Northwest Rebellion. The incident should strengthen the resolve that the hundreds of Peterborough soldiers who lie below the wooden crosses overseas, shall not be forgotten by the city which sent them forth.

OVER AT LAST.

The Hydro Radial inquiry, which has been dragging on since last autumn, seen scores of witnesses examined, and altogether run through 112 sessions, has at last come to an end, the long drawn-out probe terminating on Saturday after the various counsel had summed up the evidence as they saw it. The verdict of the commission will be awaited with much interest for an adverse decision means the abandonment of Hydro radials so far as the present Government is concerned. There is no doubt that a large and influential section of the United Farmers is opposed to the whole scheme. Those who follow unquestioningly the advice of Secretary J. J. Morrison and accept the doctrine laid down by the Farmers' Sun, are strongly antagonistic towards Hydro radials ,and it is significant Mr. I. F. Hellmuth, the counsel appointed by the Government to look after the interests of the Province during the investigation, and see that all the facts were brought out, should have devoted most of his address to an attack upon the scheme. There was no signs of neutrality in his attitude, so marked being his opposition to Hydro radials that one of the Commissioners expressed his surprise at the stand taken by Mr. Hellmuth. The Commission have a mass of evidence to wade through, and it is expected that it will be some time before their report will be ready for submitting to the Government.

TWO BIG PROBLEMS.

The newly formed Tenants' and and Property Owners' Association has two problems to solve before it can hope to accomplish much in Peterborough along the lines of better and more efficient municipal government. First it must get the mass of the people so interested in civic affairs that they will turn out and vote on election day, and secondly it must endeavour to induce the strongest possible candidates to offer themselves for the various municipal offices. Unless these two very necessary things are done it will be idle to expect that the Association can go far along the road it has mapped out for itself. It is easy enough to get people to protest when their pockets are affected, as in the case of the increased water rates, but to keep them interested in the matter of civic government and ready to do their part to bring about better conditions is quite a different affair. In this respect Peterborough is probably no better or no worse than other Canadian communities. Apathy and indifference towards the nomination and election of aldermen and other officials, and towards various other issues which are brought before them by means of by-laws, seem to be characteristic of most of our cities and towns. Important by-laws are often passed or rejected by the votes of only a small proportion of those on the lists; often the Mayor and Council are chosen in an election where less than half the total vote is polled. The duty of nominating candidates is left to a handful of citizens; usually about the same coterie is seen on nomination day each year. And with a field to select from placed in the running by a couple of dozen ratepayers, and with half of the voters remaining away from the polls, is there any reason to wonder that we do not get the best results from our governing bodies.

It is to be hoped that the Association that has just sprung into existence will be able to bring about a new condition of affairs; to arouse a fresh and more lively interest in municipal government and to arouse the citizenship of Peterborough to a realization of the fact that, as citizens, they are shareholders in a big concern that needs the assistance and the co-operation of all of them if the best results are to be obtained. Merely passing resolutions condemning this official or that and criticizing one civic body or another will accomplish nothing; we have too many of such organizations now.

SWEET PEAS.

"Here are sweet peas on tiptoe for a flight,
With wings of gentle flush or delicate white,
And taper fingers catching at all things,
To bind them all about with tiny wings."

"One thing that proves the high evolution of flowers in the spiritual world, as well as in the physical, if, indeed, proof were needed, is their gaiety," writes Agnes Edwards. "For gaiety," she adds, "it seems to me, is one of the very last qualities to crown a creation. Only with refinement of feeling may one acquire the light touch. Flowers are nearly always gay; even the heavy-footed hollyhocks and the thick-stemmed petunias and the clumsy-stepping sunflower join the floral dance and take their part in colour and motion all their brief, bright lives."

To sweet peas, of all summer flowers, belongs this "fleeting joyousness," this captivating flutter of silken petals caught in the colourful maze of wind frolics and demure hesitations of summer stillnesses. Like gorgeous tiny butterflies of frailest wings, the sweet peas swing on their trembling vines in all the characteristic beauty of happy flower life.

To capture this riot of colours in the early morning, when drewdrops lurk in little petal nooks, is to come into intimacy with the brilliant flames of sunset and the delicacy of dawn tints over a drowsy sky. Three, four, and five flowers, in varying heights, on slender, furry stems, plead for human notice by their ready and lavish replacement of blooms for every ower removed from their vines.

To study the amazing variety of soft shadings, the exquisite delicacy of difference between one degree of colouring and another, the blending of many-coloured blooms en masse is strangely harmonious and beautiful. Deep night purple flowers touch wondering petals to others of faint mauve; soft amber wings point tenderly to those of shell-pink, which in turn enhance the pure gradations to deep dose. From flowers of haunting flame evolve richest petalings of deeper self tones and warm crimsons and pervading every silken curled petal is the slow, inexhaustible sweetness of fragrance which is the mysterious language of colour, the "whispers of flowers in the dark to tell us where they are."

Nothing of the plebeian marks the loveliness of sweet peas though so profuse in bloom in hedge and garden One remembers choice old gardens here and there and everywhere, where one has been at liberty to ramble, and always there have been hedges of sweet peas, not only as foils for paler blossoms, but for the utter joy of the soft dancing bits of colour and the sweet breath of them. This Francis Baker declares is "far sweeter in the air (where it comes and goes like the warbling of music) than in the hand." The sight and perfume of flowers in any setting brings associations, and with the butterfly touch of sweet peas comes the memory of a lovely garden in fascinating shadows of late afternoon, where roses dreamed in June very close to a hedge of budded sweet peas, and near which a little path enticed through cool shade to a grape vine trellis where later hundreds more blossoms 'on tiptoe for a flight" would "catch with taper fingers" the curled tendrils of the vine" to "bind them all about with tiny wings" of galaxy of bloom.

Sweet peas seem to love the touch of each other, and yield to the folding of soft wings together in the curious confinement of clusters arranged by human hands. Even then there is a suppressed gaiety in the very quietness of their pure curves, as if laughter lurked in their hearts that found interest and happiness in every circumstance of their brilliant brief blooming. Enough of dewdrops that loved to hide and elude the sun, enough of warm winds that taught the meaning of petal-wings, enough of raindrops with silver music in their hold, enough of sunshine that vivified their manifold colourings, enough of bird-flights that enticed in whirr of free wings, enough of moonsheen that showed how other flowers sleep, enough of leaf-song to have caught the happiness of summer trees and the rhythmic play of little shadows, enough of all the summer world to leave untouched their ecstatic gaiety in the silence and strangeness of human companionship in cool, dim rooms. —London Advertiser.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

There is one thing about Saturday's fight anyway. It was not like the war Dempsey wasn't in, for everybody will know who won it.

THE DANCE.

Chapter I.

With a flashy crescendo of deafening jazz the orchestra stopped playing. The dance had ended. I felt Tom Barney's arm linger for a moment around my waist. The other couples were slowly leaving the ballroom floor. Tom leaned down and caught me gently by the arm.

"Come out of it, Barbara. Just when I think I've finally succeeded in thrilling you with a ripping good fox-trot, I find you day-dreaming and beastly distant at the end of it."

"I was looking for Kent," I answered laughingly, and with crimson cheek at having been discovered.

"You are too blame devoted to Kent Armour," he returned in an acrid tone. I saw a faint, curling sneer lift the edge of his thin upper lip. Something about it frightened me. "It's not sporty for married people to be so damnably in love with each other as you and Kent are," he added, the sneer fading into an unpleasant sort of smile.

"You know I hate you when you act like this, Tom,' 'I retorted, jerking my arm free from his grasp. We walked toward the reception room in silence. I scanned the faces for a glimpse of Kent. My feelings must have been plainly mirrored in the expression of my countenance.

"Barbara, you'll forgive me?" Tom was all pleading now. The sneering look had gone entirely from his face, and he gazed at me apologetically with large, agate blue eyes. "You can't blame me for caring—no one would—not even Kent. I'm always thinking of you, always. I don't mean to say things like that. They just pop out, somehow."

I was angry with Tom, of course—and yet there was that insidious little devil of woman's vanity which is always making excuses and paving the way for a man's admiration. Could a woman be very angry with any man for caring for her?

"But I don't like it, Tom, you know it!" I answered, trying to keep my voice steady. "You know how I love Kent, and there is Lillian. It isn't fair to her."

"Lillian doesn't love anyone but herself, and the mut, Toto. You know how it is at home for me," he said bitterly.

"At least for my sake, please!" I said softly, and touched his arm lightly with my finger tips.

The violins started scraping and tuning up for the next dance. Soon five or six couples were on the floor. Kent passed us talking attentively to a chunky little blonde of indefinite age. He slipped his arm about her, and they swung out on to the dance floor together. I remembered Kent telling me once that it always made him foolishly jealous to see me dancing with another man. I could understand now what he felt. I completely forgot Tom. My thoughts and eyes followed Kent's dear, strong arm as it skilfully guided his partner in and out among the dancers.

I suddenly realised that someone was standing in front of me reminding me that the next dance was his. Tom turned and left me to my new partner.

During the dance we passed very close to Kent and the chunky little blonde, but he seemed enthralled, and my gaze failed to catch an answering response. A large, brilliant diamond brooch glittered at the throat of his companion. It seemed too large, and out of place on her small, fat, little person.

As Kent and I danced the last dance together, the picture of that flabby throat and the glittering brooch rose up in my memory.

"Who was the little woman with the, gorgeous diamonds you were dancing with, dear," I asked, tempted by curiosity.

"A Mrs. Leon Walker," he told me simply, and we danced on in silence. I watched Kent's face, and it seemed deep in thought.

After the dance as I slipped my arm through my husband's, and he guided me across the ballroom floor, he said suddenly, and as though half musingly to himself:

"You noticed her diamonds? They are beauties — clear and pure as white water."

On the way home in the taxi, Kent pulled me gently toward him and pressed his lips against mine.

"Promise me you'll always, always love me, won't you, Babs, dear?" he pleaded.

To-morrow — An Unexpected Invitation.

THE HYDRO-ELECTRIC PROBLEM IN HALIFAX

INTRODUCTION OF GOVERNMENT POWER VEXED QUESTION.

HALIFAX, N.S. July 4.— (By Canadian Press)'.—Civic Circles in Halifax are much exercised at the present time over the question of the introduction into the city by the Nova Scotia Power Commission of hydro-electric power recently developed at the new Government—owned plant at St. Margaret's Bay, Halifax County, to the extent of some twenty-two million kilowatt hours. In conformance with the policy of the Provincial Government the power has been offered to Halifax at cost—that is capital and operating costs on a thirty-year basis. The questions that puzzle the minds of the City Fathers, the press and the private citizens are — should the city accept the offer of the Power Commission undertaking the distribution of the power for domestic and industrial purposes; or should the City take the power and reserving enough for purposes of street lighting and other public utilities only, sell the rest to Nova Scotia Tramways and Power Company which at present supplies the power needs of Halifax; or should the city take the power and sell the whole thing to the Tramways Company; or should the City have nothing whatever to do with the proposition?

Late into many nights the members of the City Council have sat in solemn conclave debating the advisability of the various schemes proposed. The matter is not one to be lightly disposed of, inasmuch as the introduction of the power on whatever basis is expected to reduce the price of the kilowatt hour in Halifax from ten and seven cents to something over one cent. As one member of the Council phrased it: 'There looks to be a barrel of money on the thing." The great difficulty which faces the Council, however, is that although the power sould be available at the gates of the City inside two months, apparently none of the parties to any of the proposed arrangements are able to give absolutely comprehensive and definite data as to costs.

Some days ago in a state "bordering on despondency" the City Fathers turned the matter over on a conference consisting of members of the Provincial Government, several members of the City Council and representatives of the Tramways Company, whose poles the City will use if it decides to distribute its own power. The conference sat for a couple of days and said they could not reach any decision which left matters exactly where they have been for some weeks.

Recently private interests pooled some funds and sent for J. J. Jeffrey Assistant Consulting Engineer of the Hydro electric Power Commission of Ontario. Mr. Jeffrey has arrived in the City and had a conference with Mayor J. S. Parker. His investigations have not yet been concluded, however, and meantime the hydro-electric question is a boon to the press and city clubs.

BIGGEST AIRSHIP TO GO TO UNITED STATES

BRITISH-BUILT R-38 LARGEST RIGID AIR CRAFT YET.

LONDON, July 4. — (Associated Press.)—Uncle Sam will soon become the possessor of the British-built R-38, the largest rigid airship yet constructed in any country and a craft that represents the very "last word" in "aerial dreadnought" designing.

Trim and smart as the quarter-deck of an admiral's flagship, the R-38, soon to be designated officially by her new American name, ZR-2, is claimed to be the most formidable craft ever to "take the air."

She is expected to be capable of 5,000 miles' flight at full speed—70 miles per hour—or 6,500 miles at a "cruising speed" of 60 miles per hour.

Her specifications call for an armament of 14 Lewis guns, a one-pound automatic gun, four bombs of 250 pounds and eight bombs of 230 pounds. The machine guns are distributed at vantage points so that any form of attack from land, sea or air, might effectually be combatted.

The ship's heavy armament serves an an index to her character. She is designed to serve, if occasion arises, as the general headquarters of a whole battle fleet, eyes, ears and, in emergency, an auxiliary "business end." From the compact, convenient "skipper's" cabin close up under her nose to the neat little machine-gunner's "nest" at the very tip of her stern, ZR-2's arrangement and construction spells efficiency and "strictly business."

Without extensive alterations, ZR-2 could not accommodate comfortably a party of 65 persons as did the Italian-built, semi-rigid airship Roma after being taken over by the American government recently. But if a submarine were sighted, ZR-2 could manoeuvre into position, then the mere pressing of a button in the captain's control cabin would release a bomb, or a dozen bombs, if required, to "do in" the enemy undersea boat.

If enemy airplanes became bothersome during this procedure, they would not find, as was the case with the German Zeppelins, that there was an unprotected spot under the ZR-2's lower part aft where they could hover and pump machine-gun bullets into her gasoline tanks. To meet just such a contingency there is the stern machine-gun nest, one situated some 50 yards ahead on the underpart of the ship, and one in each of the four of the ship's engine cars, which are suspended at her sides.

Should the attack come from above, a gunner, protected from the fury of high altitude winds in a cockpit at the top of the ship, would probably be able to do anything necessary with his one-pound automatic piece.

These represent some of the many improvements, indicated by examination of wrecked Zeppelins and other experience, which have been incorporated in the ZR-8.

Seen in flight, the ZR-2 will be much like her sister ship R-34, of trans-Atlantic fame. But her shimmering sides and clean appearance conceal a confusion of "interior workings" that, to one unaccustomed to suh a craft, is most bewildering.

As one proceeds along the narrow "man-high" corridor which extends the entire length of the ship, he sees a complication of criss-crossed aluminum girders, rows of gasoline nad water tanks, what seems to be, and actually are, acres of fabric gas bags, and a miscellany of guy wires, control valves, pipes, swivels, hinges and gew-gaws that defy understanding. But after a guide who knows every inch of the gigantic bulk has made explanations, the handling of the ship is seen to be simplicity itself.

Thus, the "skipper," standing at the wheel in his cabin, just as a sea captain on the bridge, has within reach a miscellany of buttons, switches and levers, electrically controlled, with which he can release ballast water, deflate one or more gas-bags, empty his gasoline tanks, start a bomb towards an objective and, of course, steer the ship upward, downward, to right or left.

He can send orders through a telephone system which connects up the whole ship for the starting or stopping of one or all of the ship's six propelling engines, advise his machine-gunners of the approach of an enemy or, through the operator at his back, send observations by wireless to a flagship or land base.

Comfortable bunks are provided for the off-shift of the crews—in all, 30 officers and men. During prolonged flight warm meals are made possible by a system of cooking from engine exhaust heat. Electric lights are provided wherever required. The ship can "tie up" to a mooring mast, replenisht her gas, oil, water and fuel containers through "feed" pipes terminating at her bow and resume her journey with the loss of but a few hours' sailing time.

300,000 Canadian Motorists Can Benefit

By Goodyear's 2 New Anti-Skid 30 x 3½ Tires.

In Canada alone 300,000 Motorists use 30 x 3½ tires, and a great number of them are farmers. Their ideals of tire qualities vary. Road conditions and weather conditions vary. But every one of them wants long mileage. So every Goodyear Tire is built for full mileage.

For years the road-grip and mileage of the Goodyear All-Weather Tread 30 x 3½ Tire have made it the most widely used tire in Canada—and in the world. It has appealed particularly to the man who must drive on country roads.

But Goodyear learned how to make it better. And in the Goodyear institution every known betterment must be used. So the Goodyear All-Weather Tread Clincher (30 x 3½ and 31 x 4) is now made rougher and tougher, bigger and handsomer. It is a new tire in Canada, with new economy qualities—tested and proved on thousands of cars in other countries.

But many motorists do not require the extraordinary gripping power of the All-Weather Tread. They prefer a saving in cost. For them, over 4,000 Goodyear dealers will recommend the new "Goodyear Non-Skid" 30 x 3½. A tire of full Goodyear quality for mileage, with a tough, rough tread of parallel bars. Several hundred thousand new cars the world over have introduced motorists to this new tire of heaping value.

THE TRIP ON THE "EMPRESS" DOMINION DAY

A COOL EXCURSION ON A FINE STEAMER AWAY FROM THE CITY HEAT.

The birthday of the Dominion, July 1st, 1921, attracted large numbers of visitors to Stoney Lake. Several holiday excursions were arranged by the Stoney Lake Navigation Co., each of which drew large crowds out of the city.

The trip from Peterborough via G.T.R. to Lakefield was one of the most enjoyable. The steamer "Empress" was awaiting the excursionists at the Government Wharf, looking "trim and trusty," with Captain Robinson in charge, as usual, and Mr. Holland as purser. The steamer left the wharf shortly after the passengers boarded, and proceeded on her journey — the cool lake breezes fanning the crowd of hot humanity that had come up from the city, away from the sizzling weather. The sail proved very refreshing, as well as interesting, all the way through the lakes. Many had their families on board, and enjoyed an exhiliarating outing during the day, arriving home at a convenient time before the supper hour.

The "Empress" crew were attentive and obliging, and looked after the comforts of the excursionists in a praiseworthy manner. Several improvements were noticed on the "Empress." A fresh coat of paint had given a clean and refreshing appearance to the woodwork; new rope and other accessories were in evidence; and two new toilet rooms were installed on the upper deck. The "Empress" is a speedy, as well as a popular steamer. Meals are provided on board, and liberal seating capacity contributes to the comfort of passengers.

Fordson Tractor SERVICE

Dry, Hot Weather is the time to Kill the Quickgrass, and put the Summer Fallow in good shape for the Fall Crop. The FORDSON does the work.

The danger of working Horses in Hot Weather is well known—frequently dropping dead in the field.

The Fordson Tractor

replaces Horses. It does the work of Eight Horses, costs a lot less to operate, and is Cheaper than the Price of Hay and Oats. Less to look after—no Expense in Winter.

Can you wish for any better investment? With the FORDSON TRACTOR you are assured of Service, with the Least Possible Delay, and at a Minimum Expense.

Why hesitate? Don't hang back.

REGENT CLOSED FOR MONTH OR LONGER

The management of the Regent Theatre has decided to close this popular movie house during the hot weather. Commencing to-day, the Regent will be dark, and remain so for four weeks, possibly longer, during which time interior improvements and thorough re-decorating will be effected.

BAPTIST SUMMER SERVICES

Murray Street and Park street Congregation to Decide

A meeting of the membership of Murray Street Baptist church is called by the deacons for Wednesday evening at eight oclock for the purpose of considering the advisability of uniting with Park street Church for the eight summer Sundays. If the churches should decide so to co-operate the morning service for the next four Sundays would be held in Murray street with Rev. J. R. Webb, preaching, and in Park street in the evening under the same direction. In the month of August this would be reversed, Rev. W. E. Morrow would preach at Park street in the morning and at Murray street in the evening.

The decisian will be in the hands of the congregations for which purpose the Wednesday evening meeting is being held.

GANG OF MOONSHINERS HAS BEEN BROKEN UP

Orillia Packet: The breaking up, for the time at least, of the Sebright or Uphill gang of moonshiners and bootleggers is said to have brought a general feeling of relief in Mara, Rama and the neighboring townships in the County of Victoria. These men have been flagrant offenders. Driven by prosecution, fine and imprisonment out of their Saturday night market in Orillia and Lindsay, they began attending, and sending out others to attend dances, auctions and public gatherings of all kinds, and pushing the sale of their vile brew, largely among growing boys and young men. The influence of this villainous traffic has been very demoralizing, and many who do not usually concern themselves about temperance reform have been as anxious as any to see it broken up.

Ice Alone Will Not Preserve Food

It Takes a Refrigerator

And a Good One, to Do That

The Barnet Is the Best

It is best because of its eleven-wall construction. It is best because of its ventilation and circulation systems.

People who own Barnets say they paid for one long before they purchased. What they mean is, that the amount of food thrown into the garbage can equal, and more than equal, the price of a Barnet. PAID FOR ONE BUT DID NOT OWN IT.

Wherever installed, The Barnet puts a definite stop to the shameful waste caused through ineffective refrigerators and "ice chests." If you do not possess a Barnet, you pay for it in food wasted.

The eleven walls of insulation of the Barnet insure lowest possible temperature. Barnet temperature ranges from 36 to 39 degrees, PERFECT FOR REFRIGERATION. Its ventilation and circulation systems mean perfect preservation of foods for long periods—no odors—no taints—no contamination.

Made in golden ash, natural birch and white enamel finishes; sizes to suit every home.

Vacationists

Usually Require Travelling Goods

—and the storekeeper who sells merchandise of this sort should keep a good assortment at this time of the year. WE HAVE A GOOD ASSORTMENT. They are the finest goods from the finest factories in Canada.

There are Club Bags, Suit Cases and Trunks. All sorts and sizes, great and small, and there are all prices, too. A real good looking Bag can be had in fawn or black and sells at $33.00.

Quite a respectable appearing Suit Case can be had for $12.00. Trunks, from the small steamer kind to spacious ones in standard shapes, are priced from $15.00 to $26.75.

Wardrobe Trunks are marked from $35.00 to $55.00.

It Is Unusual to Get Something for Nothing, But There Is Nothing Unusual About It in the "July Free Service Sale"

This is the fourth year it has been carrying on, giving Free Services, without charge, to all those who purchase any curtainings, draperies, window shades or floor coverings during the month of July.

It has proven its worth to hundreds of persons in Peterborough. This year it is even a greater Sale than before, for all our Floor Coverings are reduced—Rugs, Carpets, Linoleums, Oilcloths, etc.—and we do not charge a cent extra for measuring or laying them.

Besides, there are many special prices on Curtainings and Draperies. We will measure, make and hang them free.

There's No Denying That In This Sale You Get Something for Nothing

KEROSENE, AN ASSET.

"I never realized that kerosene was an aid to housework until after we had installed electricity for lighting, and gas for cooking. Suddenly I discovered I was buying more cleansing powders, soap and scouring materials than I ever had, and my hands were rough and chapped," said a mothers' club member recently in a talk before the domestic science department. "Now," she continued, "I keep a small can of it on hand constantly." Here is the list of uses she suggested, and no doubt all of us can add more to it.

Kerosene evaporates, leaving no odor or trace of grease; it has a great affinity for dirt and cuts into grease and grime, soot and dust, more quickly than soap. For washing woodwork, make a suds, as usual, and add one tablespoon of the coal oil to a pail of water.

You may ask, "Why not use the naptha soap?" It is excellent, but more expensive than other soaps, and now we are especially asked to save soap on account of the need abroad for fats, potash, and other things soap contains.

Tin, granite, iron, in fact all kitchen utensils should be washed thoroughly and then be rubbed with a heavy cloth dipped in kerosene and scalded with boiling water containing washing soda; after this, they may be polished in half the time and, if scalded as they should always be, there will be no trace of the cleansing agent.

Marble washbasins, porcelain tubs, bowls and enameled woodwork can all be kept free from spots and immaculate, if gone over with a clean cloth dipped in kerosene. It is most helpful for cleaning around door-knobs and for wiping the spots from baseboard and the bottom edges of doors.

On sweeping days you will find a tablespoon of coal-oil in a pail of warm water an aid to cleanliness. Dip the broom in this, and shake it well, so it no longer drips. Sweep lightly in one direction and there will be no dust raised; the carpet will look brighter and be cleaner than usual.

With a pail of fresh hot water and another tablespoon of kerosene, you are ready to wipe the base of heavy furniture that cannot be moved, and to reach under such pieces, and around them, with a wet cloth. You will be surprised to see how the cloth takes up the dust and how often it will be rinsed and fresh water brought.

Kerosene also benefits the carpet sweeper. Clean the brush whenever you empty the sweeper, and then rub it with kerosene. Keep it out of doors and you will find that rugs and carpets look much better for being cleaned with a sweeper treated in this fashion.

A brush dipped into kerosene or a cloth wet with it and wound on a stick, will clean spiral bed springs and other springs quickly and well.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If your Back hurts or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water — you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

TRENT RIVER HAPPENINGS

TRENT RIVER, July 4. — The weather still continues hot, and it seems almost impossible to escape the oppressive heat, no matter what one does. In spite of a few local showers, there has been little change in the temperature.

Water lilies are an abundant crop this season, and are very beautiful.

Mrs. Garbut and Miss Morrie, of Peterborough, are guests with Mrs. John Smith at Mrs. George Dickson's cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wilson and daughter, Roxenia, of Campbellford, are spending this week at "Bonnie Banks."

Mrs. John Christie and children, of Toronto, are at their cottage.

Raspberries are ripening fast and will be ready next week. There promises to be an abundant crop.

Miss Ruth Diamond, of Campbellford, is a guest at "Sunnyside."

A still greater crowd gathered at White Hall Gardens on Friday night. The temperature was exceedingly high, but this did not interfere with the dancing, as the floor was crowded all the time. Mr. Charlie Davidson introduced his new electric lighting, the big dynamo being brought out from Campbellford on a big motor 'bus. The lights were strung the full length of the hall, also extended out to the main walk. This was the biggest night ever seen at Trent River.

Mr. W. Horkins, of Toronto, spent over the holiday with his mother at their cottage.

Two big picnics came from Campbellford on Friday and enjoyed themselves at Mr. C. Davidson's cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Plumer, of Campbellford, were at their cottage yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and family, of Toronto, are occupying the Faulkner cottage.

Mrs. Rupert and son, of Cordova, are visiting her sister, Mrs. E. Wilkinson.

VETERANS DECORATED GRAVES OF 35 COMRADES AT LITTLE LAKE CEMETERY ON SUNDAY

G.W.V.A. BAND MADE FIRST APPEARANCE IN NEW UNIFORMS —ADDRESSES BY G. N. GORDON, M.P., AND T. TOOMS, M. P.P.

Several hundred Great War Veterans paid tribute to the memory of their comrades-in-arms who gave their lives in defence of righteousness and the Empire and who to the number of 35, are buried in the Little Lake Cemetery, and, following impressive addresses, laid flowers on the graves.

Addresses were given by Ald. G. N. Gordon, M. P., and T. Tooms, M. L. A., and hymns were sung by the assembled Veterans, and the large number of people who attended the decoration.

"This day is sacred to the memory of those defenders of this nation whose bodies rest beside the flowing waters of the River Otonabee. We are filled with admiration for the patriotic and heroic achievements of our citizen soldiers and by their enduring efforts they have earned our undying gratitude," said Ald. Gordon.

"Not many months ago, they were among us in the full bloom of glowing life. To-day they rest beneath these green carpeted mounds. Prompted by patriotism, they answered the call to duty and that call was, in fact, a summons to meet death; but it was in a noble cause for a great purpose, and the sacrifice they made was made that others might live, though they, the defenders of this land, should die.

We would be doing injustice to them and their memory if we failed to make this day sacred to the memory of the devoted crusaders who lived and died for others. And it was a crusade composed of the flower of British chivalry against the legions of darkness. It was a holy war, and the mission of our departed ones has made better and purer the civilization of the world, but the ranks were thinned both by disease and wounds. Those wounds were the proud badges of noble deeds, and every seared mark of a battle wound upon the body of our Canadian soldiers, is a sign by which we know those to whom we owe a debt which we can

"Those who sleep beneath our feet to-day fulfilled the highest duty mankind owes this world. They died for their country. Those whose graves we decorated to-day suffered more than many. Besides the honorable wounds of war, they wasted away in sickness. They were crushed by the blows of an unseen enemy with whom they could not grapple. They knew death was approaching slowly but surely. They knew they could not die on the field of battle, but with suffering and pain they must await the last call, and like soldiers uncomplaining and courageous, they bravely met the highest test of a soldiers devotion.

"Immortal honour is due to them who fell before the shafts of disease. In this battle they waged under uneven odds against the overpowering tyrant, Death. Let this day each year be one of solemn thought. Let it be a duty when with grateful hearts and bared heads, we bow before the graves of noble patriots who loved their country more than their own lives. Let it be always a day of sad remembrance, so that we may never forget the memory of those whose sacrifices have not been in vain.

"In some small way to show our affectionate regard to the memory of those upon whose graves we place the wreaths of laurel, let us neter into a covenant among ourselves. Let us covenant each with the other that the soldiers widow will never suffer in penury. Let us covenant each with the other that the fatherless children will have an equal opportunity, ave, a greater opportunity, in life, than other children. Let us covenant each with the other that the returned soldier will receive the best and most generous consideration this country can give him; and that he will never feel that we, in the slightest degree fail in the gratitude we owe him. If we do not unto these, as our duty calls us to do, we deserve to be known as a mean, ungrateful country, unappreciative of the crimson battle fields won by a noble and a patriotic band of Canadian youth.

"But I do not know from the faces I see before me that you do appreciate the splendid services the khaki clad Canadians gave this Dominion, and I do know you will never fail to do your part for the returned soldier or his family, to the best of your bability and your strength.

Let us never forget but always keep in our memory "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

"Let us not forget why they are there, or the sake of the cause and of their sacrifice let us keep their memory sacred," Mr. T. Tooms marked. "A fitting way to do this is to make Christ a living example of the principles for which they fought and died. We may rest assured such supreme self-abnegation and sacrifice has and will receive its due and full reward in that great beyond.

"It is with gratitude we acknowledge the devotion and valour of those who gave their lives in the service of their country and humanity.

"We offer our heartfelt sympathy to their relatives and friends in the sorrows they have sustained. We should, indeed, look upon it as a pleasure to serve those who have suffered.

"Did a preacher ever preach a greater or grander thing than the great lesson that our heroes whose memory to-day we commenorate have taught us by their great example of supreme sacrifice in order that we may live.

"May God protect the fallen, the weak, the sorrowing that have been created by the great catastrophe which we hope will eventually bring about the regeneration of the souls of men The graves decorated were those of Robert Mahood, Merton Adams, J. Blake, John Lightfoot, Walter H. Irwin, Lieut. H. Boyd, R. P. Cook, Sidney Martin, Gilbert Martin Preston Grange, John McLeod, Sidney McIntyre, William D. Metheral, H. S. Childs, Leut. A. PROBE ALLEGED C.E.F. FRAUDS

CASHING OF RETURNED MEN'S STERLING CHEQUES INVESTIGATED.

OTTAWA, July 4. — (Canadian Press.)—An official enquiry into the charges of fraud in connection with the cashing at par of returned soldiers' sterling cheques, opened this morning. G. T. Clarkson, of Toronto, who was appointed by order-in-council to investigate the charges, resided.

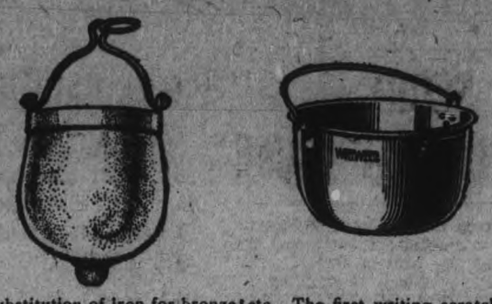
E. A. Robinson, the first witness called, stated that he had served overseas for nearly four years, two of which had been spent in France, where he was wounded. When asked regarding his work in connection with the redeeming of sterling cheques at par, Robinson said, before answering, that he had been advised by his counsel to ask protection for himself under the Canadian Evidence Act.

Sound is said to move at the rate of thirteen miles a minute, and, compared to light, it is slower than a snail. If we should hear a clap of thunder half a minute after the flash of lightning, we could calculate that the discharge of electricity was about six and a half miles away.

Scene from the Amazonian battle in "Man - Woman - Marriage"

At the Allen commencing To-day, Tuesday and Wednesday.

From Cave Man to Super Man —Period, 1000 Years B.C.



The substitution of iron for bronze began about 1000 B.C., south-eastern Europe again furnishing the earliest evidence. The need for weapons and vessels for hunting and cooking food again, as in past ages, furnishes the urge for this wonderful stride forward.

From the crude hammerheads of the Neanderthal men to the bronze and iron men of this later day was a gigantic stride forward. A tremendous development seems to have taken place in these 50,000 years. Real progress was likely not made until men began to exchange ideas. The Paleolithic cave man had a keen sense of form, as shown in his drawings on stones and bones, and his first efforts at language were no doubt largely of the deaf and dumb type. In due course a few spoken words replaced these gestures. These first words were probably imitations of natural sounds, such as the barking of a wolf and the growl of a lion, etc., and the first speech was a mixture of a few of these words with much gesture to indicate the size and shape of the animal or other object.

A crude form of agriculture seems to have been started about 17,000 years before Christ in Egypt and Mesopotamia. The first lake dwellings were found in Western Europe about 8000 B.C., with their pottery, etc. The first writing scratched upon clay slabs, etc., is discovered in the Sumerian civilisation, about 5000 B.C., in Mesopotamia, which later became the Babylonian Empire. About 4000 to 2000 B.C., we find the spread in South-eastern Europe of the Aryan system of languages which was the parent of the present English, German, Spanish, Italian, Greek, French, Russian, and Persian tongues. (Read Sir Arthur Evans' Anthropology and Classics.)

Though painful and tedious, the progress was in these vanished times as shown by tomb paintings and carving on stones, without this crude groundwork, what followed would have been impossible, including the white and pure "WELLWORTH" Aluminum Kitchen Equipments of the present day.

The eighth number of this interesting and educational series on the evolution of Cooking Utensils by the Wentworth Manufacturing Co., will appear on this page on 13th July. The above is a cut of an old Iron Vessel taken from the original in the Royal Ontario Museum, Toronto. When buying Wellworth Better Quality Aluminum, you are Guaranteed against thin spots, because it is not spun, but stamped, in large two-ton presses.

Attractive Floats.

On Friday at the Regatta two very prettily decorated boats attracted a good deal of notice. One was Mr. C. S. Tanner's, which was most ingeniously contrived with two canoes lashed together and floored over and decorated with flags and bunting. The other was Mr. James Hendren's skiff, which was covered with a roof and decorated with greens and with flowers.

Lakefield Takes to Oil.

The first attempt to oil the village streets has been made, and Queen Street is shining and black for the space of about a mile. Whether this is satisfactcry or not remains to be proved, but the experiment has been made, and will be given a fair trial.

Gardens Good.

The heat and dry weather are holding the gardens back. Prospects are good for vegetables if there is rain soon. Potatoes are especially flourishing, but the potato bugs are on the spot, and the gardeners find it hot sport killing them.

Union Services.

The Presbyterians and Methodists begin their union services on Sunday next with Rev. P. L. Jull in charge for the month of July. The morning service will be held in the Methodist Church and the evening service in the Presbyterian Church.

Scouts in Uniform.

St. John's Scouts have received their uniforms and flag, and are a smart-looking troop. They had their first church parade in uniform on Sunday morning. They did good service on Dominion Day in a good many places, and many flattering remarks were made on their fit appearance.

Tested Fire Brigade.

The visit of the Inspector of Fire Brigades took place on Wednesday last. The fire alarm called out the Brigade, and a large number of badly scared citizens thought, there was a big fire.

The Inspector found the Fire Department equipment, apart from the engine, to be inadequate, and recommended several improvements.

GOOD SHOOTING BY LAKEFIELD RIFLEMEN

IN THIRD MATCH OF CANADIAN LEAGUE COMPETITION.

LAKEFIELD, July 2.—The best shooting to date was done in this match, Frank E. Pearson making ten consecuitve bull-eyes— five straight on his finish in the 200 yd. range, and five on his start in the 500 yd, when he fell away to a magpie and an inner.

The following is the score, possible 105 points. The heat was oppressive, being over 90 deg. in the shade.

GENTLEMEN, ATTENTION!

A BIT OF NEWS THAT SHOULD GRIP YOU—NO MORE WAR CONDITIONS.

It's no good crying over spilled milk. High class, tailor-made suits must go down in price. I am prepared to sacrifice my fine assortment of genuine gentlemen's made clothes to meet the situation squarely. Beginning on Friday of this week I will offer you choice of any of my fine assortment of new patterns of worsteds, serges, tweeds, etc., made to your individual measure, at old-time prices.

For example you may have highest grade tailored suits for $45, $37.50, $30 and $25 instead of $65, $60, $50 and $40. The suits of the character we will sell at these prices are bound to be popular with men and young men—fabric, fit, style and service in eevry case guaranteed. Each garment cut and tailored separately, individually, to the measure and taste of the man who orders them.

Watch for further news regarding this re-adjustment of gentleman's high class tailored clothes.

FASHIONS IN BRIEF.

Bright-colored Oriental sashes are worn with dark street dresses.

Long, tight sleeves of heavy beaded net are seen in evening dresses.

The new sport pump is of gray or beige buckskin with Cuban heel and buckled straps.

The woman who is handy with a needle can make of black taffeta and white organdie neckwear that the very smartest of women are wearing.

Tub silk makes an ideal frock for wear at home during the summer months. It is soft, does not wrinkle at all and will stand a good deal of wear without retubbing.

In ginghams there is a strong leaning to dark shades. Bright red and white checked gingham, brown and white, a navy and white and even black and white are combinations much approved.

EXPLOSION KILLED MAN FROM OTONABEE

JOHN O. O'BRIEN WAS VETERAN OF THE WAR—BODY WILL REACH HOME ON TUESDAY FROM DULUTH.

A brief telegram from Duluth on Saturday advised John O. O'Brien, Otonabee, that his son William, 28 years old, had been killed in an exposion at Duluth, and to-day word was received that the body will arrive on the noon C.P.R. train to-morrow.

The deceased had been in Duluth only a few months. He spent the winter visiting his family and friends, returning to Duluth in the spring. Mr. O'Brien served with the American army for two years in France and was decorated. He was born at Indian River and is well known in Otonabee. Three brothers survive, Fred and Samuel of Otonabee, and Frank, living at home.

The funeral is expected to take place on Wednesday morning from the family home, Otonabee, to St. Joseph's church and cemetery, Douro.

FIRST OUTING OF THE ROTARY CLUB

WILL BE HELD TO Y.M.C.A. CAMP, RICE LAKE, HEXT THURSDAY.

The weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club brought out a very good attendance.

Among the business presented were arrangements for the first annual jaunt, under the auspices of the club. This will take the shape of an auto run to the Boys' Y. M. C. A. Camp, on the shore of Rice Lake, about four miles east of Keene.

Members of the club and friends will leave the Empress Hotel on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and should in an hour be on the grounds. Ladies participating will bring baskets, which will be absorbed in the general lunch at end of the afternoon. Bring something for the boys, in addition to what will be generally used.

There will be a programme of sports and music, as well, and it is expected that several unique stunts will be put on for the diversion of the company. Twelve boys have been put up at the camp under the auspices of the club. Reports brought back on Friday last showed that all hands at the Camp were having the very best of a time.

Members of the club not at today's luncheon will receive invitation, no doubt, but may decide to come along and bring members of families with them. If any have not convenient transportation at hand, please communicate with Fred. Roy or with Chris. Graham, and the matter will be arranged.

The Club noted the absence of several memebrs, including that of Edgar Worth, who left for across the Atlantic this morning.

TWO GAMES IN THE MERCANTILE

CRESSMAN'S AND LOCK WORKS PLAY AT RIVERSIDE ON TUESDAY EVENING.

Two games in the Mercantile League will be staked at Riverside Park this week, and both contests will have an important bearing on the championship of the second half.

On Tuesday evening Cressman's meet Lock Works. It is the last scheduled game for Cressman's who, after winning the first half, met their first defeat at the hands of Westclox.

On Thursday evening Lock Works and Barrie's play a postponed game.

TORONTO SCOTTISH WON ONTARIO CUP

TORONTO, July 4.—By defeating the Independent Labor party team of Hamilton at Broadview Field on Saturday by a score of 4 to 1, the Toronto Scottish won the Ontario Cup and the right to represent the O.F.A. in the Connaught Cup competition against the Fort William Club, champions of the Northern Ontario Association. Saturday's game was witnessed by a large crowd, the gate amounting to practically $2,000, and was a regular cup-tie struggle in which the local team showed an all-round superiority over their opponents. The score at half-time was 3 to nil.

PETERBOROUGH OIL AND GAS SYNDICATE

Do Peterboro citizens realize that a successful exploration and development on the oil region in its proximity would be one of the greatest advertisements Peterboro and all towns adjacent would ever have?

As soon as one well of good flow is discovered there will be a scramble for leases. Naturally there will be leases taken up in every direction and dry areas will be tried out and then it will be easy to get people to take a chance. Listen! You will take more risk then than now for as the Ontario Central Oil Company, only leases property that moves the oil indicates in Mr. Cowains' hands, the risk of oil is removed and quantity only, is our risk. The average business man takes more risks than that in calculating his chances of success A farmer takes his chances on weather conditions, on market conditions, on losses, in stock, lightning or fire or cyclone. A manufacturer has conditions of demand and supply of labor conditions, strikes, etc. but the city will help a manufacturer frequently to help populate and increase business.

Enterprising citizens will often help financially to build up a business with the hope of prospering, yet here is something, promises a far greater return with less risk. Both gas and oil will be a boom to the city. We are complimented by one of the most experienced oil men on our proposition and the way we are doing it and as we are giving those who help us now a great advantage over late investors we would advise acting early to get in on the first lot we are selling. There is a great advantage; let us explain.

We appreciate those already with us and believe they are due for a big surprise. The further we go the more convinced we are of this, that we are going to discover oil in large quantities. For further particulars see the secretary, pro tem, W. R. Cowain, at 188 1-2 Charlotte street

INTERMEDIATES QUIT.

Mr. James Skinner, manager of the intermediate lacrosse team, stated to-day that the game with Havelock, scheduled for Wednesday, will likely be defaulted by Peterborough. It was later reported that an effort might be made to have it played later, but the outlook for the intermediates, unpromising from the opening of the season, is hopeless now. The team and the management would play out the schedule if there was any kind of local support, but the few members of the executive are confronted with big enough deficit right now without piling it up. The players will regret the inability to play Havelock. They are a good team and good sportsmen. It had been suggested that the rest of Peterborough's games might be played in Norwood or Hastings, but the lacrosse club has no intention of thrusting itself upon either of these neighbours without invitation.

LAKEVIEWS DOUBLE SCORE IN JUNIOR LEAGUE GAME

BEAT ST. PETER'S 6 TO 3 ON SATURDAY AFTER A PITCHING DUEL BETWEEN SHAUGHNESSY AND SHEEHY—GOOD MATERIAL FOR FUTURE CENTRAL LEAGUERS.

Lakeviews won their second victory in the second half of the City Juvenile League series at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon, beating St. Peter's 6 to 3, after an interesting pitching duel between Shaughnessy and Sheehy, two promising young twirlers. Each whiffed nine batters, and while the official score shows seven hits off Sheehy, as compared with three against Shaughnessy, three of the safeties in the Lakeview hit column were gifts, two of them coming on misjudged flies. Both youngsters delivered a fine brand of pitching, and the aim of the enthusiasts who organized the Juvenile League, that is, to develop players for Peterborough's Central League team, is already beginning to be realized, for there is splendid pitching material in the two young twirlers who opposed each other Saturday.

St. Peter's started the scoring in the second. R. Clancy singled to short, but was forced at second, Lebarr to move on Killoran's roller to first. Killoran stole second, went to third on Rutherford's infield out, and counted on Fitzgerald's error on Holland's grounder.

Lakeviews got three easy ones in the first half of the third. After Moore had fanned, Rogers doubled to left, Wolfe misjudging the drive. Whitlow whipped Fitzgerald's easy fly to centre, went for a double when M. Clancy misjudged, Rogers scoring. A wild pitch put Fitzgerald on third, and he scored when Rutherford fumbled Ward's tap. Shaughnessy flied to left and was safe when Killoran muffed an easy fly. Sharp's roller to Rutherford was fumbled, and Ward counted. Lebarr fanned for the third out.

St. Peter's got one back in their half. With one down, Sheehy singled to right and went to second on a balk. L. Collins hit to Shaughnessy who threw to third, too late to get Sheehy. M. Clancy's sacrifice fly to right sent Sheehy in. R. Clancy fanned.

Lakeviews were blanked in their half of the third, and St. Peter's tied it up in the first of the fourth. Killoran singled past third, and McPherson was sent to first for interference. Holland fanned, and N. Collins rolled to Moore. Sharp dropped Wolfe's fly to right. Killoran scoring. Sheehy grounded to Moore.

The Lakeviews won out in their half of the fourth. Fitzgerald started the trouble by singling to third and going to second on N. Collins' high throw. Ward singled through short. Shaughnessy fanned. Sharp rolled to McPherson, who threw to third too late to get Ward, and Fitzgerald scored. Lebarr's fly back of second dropped between R. Clancy and M. Clancy for a single, Ward registering. Rody grounded to Holland. Sharp scoring. Moore's tap to Sheehy wound up the innings. There was no further scoring.

BLOWS BACK OF NECK DID TRICK

THIS ALONG WITH THE RABBIT PUNCHES WAS MY DOWNFALL, SAYS CARPENTIER.

MANHASSET, L. I., July 4. — "Rabbit punches, short blows on the back of my neck and behind the ear dazed and weakened me. It was not the blows to the stomach or heart, though they were terrible, that put me in condition to be knocked out. The pounding at the base of the brain did it."

Thus Georges Carpentier gave for the first time in detail his version of Saturday's battle. He was cheerful, clear-eyed, the marks on his face which streamed blood yesterday are now clearing. They will have disappeared in a week.

"Dempsey was too heavy and strong for me. He is a great fighter. More powerful than any I have ever encountered before. I think he is the greatest heavyweight in the world.

"His blows were so forceful that even when I blocked them and they hit only on my arms, I was hurt and gradually weakened. Yes, even the ones that I blocked hurt.

"I did my utmost. I landed my best punch, the long arm right drive to the jaw. It did not avail. I think there is not a man in the world who could hurt this Demnsey.

"When I was finally knocked out, I did not lose consciousness, not for an instant. I heard the entire count of ten. I tried to begin rising. I made an act of will, but the numbed muscles could not respond.

"The newspapers and the people of America have been very kind to me. It is nice of them to appreciate that I did my best. A few writers had thought that I might run away, keeping out of range as long as possible, prolonging the fight. No, I never for an instant thought of such a plan. I attacked first. I continued to attack whenever I could. I did all that I could, to my uttermost.

The Manhasset training camp of the defeated French champion was one of the hottest places on the map yesterday afternoon. But it is not sad. One might almost be justified in saying that it is more cheerful than ever before. The worst has happened—and it is over. The idol came through with honor and without a too terrible mauling.

Descamps, on the front lawn, in a striped black and white silk shirt, minus collar, vivacious, good-natured—all his pre-battle Svengali poses gone—points out in voluble French that Carpentier is still the "champion light-heavyweight."

Yes, they are going to stay in America for a while.

May Meet Tom Gibbons.

"This week we rest. Next week we seek business. What is Georges going to do? What would you have him do? Is he not a boxer? He will fight any man of approximately his weight, in whom the public would be interested. The logical first, Tom Gibbons, perhaps. Is he not your best?"

Gone, along with Descamps' hypnotic eye is the other former comic opera stage settings of the training. Gone the barriers. Gone the armed sentinels. They could not keep our defeat, and there is nothing more to hide. Georges is the "champion light-heavyweight."

But it would not have added to the interest of the great fight if this secret had leaked out before the struggle. The barriers served their purpose.

Now Descamps, ably translated by Captain Pierre Mallet, talked freely. Pretty girls, sport writers, university professors, the beauty and chivalry and yokelry of Long Island—none is denied the hospitable shade of the erstwhile sacred lawn.

Descamps declares that neither man was weighed at the arena, and that the announced weights were wrong. Dempsey, he says, weighed 194 instead of 188, and Carpentier 171 instead of 172.

But Descamps is not discounting Dempsey. He thinks no man living can defeat him. Some one suggested Jess Willard. Descamps said:

"Pouf! I tell you what is this Willard. For speed and swiftness a great calf; also a grandfather."

But from neither Carpentier nor Descamps has been heard a single word of criticism or dispraise of Dempsey. They are game losers.

Last night Georges cabled his wife:

"Have no fear. I am all right. I did my best."

A CITY LEAGUE FIXTURE WINDS UP IN A FIASCO

The City League game between the C.G.E. and Y.M.C.A. teams at Riverside Park on Saturday ended in a fiasco at the beginning of the sixth innings, when Base Umpire E. Lebarr chased First Baseman McWilliams of the Y crew out of the game for crabbing at a decision, and the contest had to be awarded to the C.G.E. crew by the usual score of 9 to 0, as the Red Triangle had no one in uniform to take the place of the ejected player.

The Canadian General team were leading 6 to 0 as it was, so that there was no doubt as to the final result, but the incident did not make much of a hit with the few wilted spectators who had remained in spite of the heat and the listless performance of the teams.

Foley was on the rubber for the C.G.E., and did not allow a hit in the five innings, while the Electricians had collected eight safeties off Dickson, Helson getting two doubles and a single.

The teams lined up as follows:

C.G.E.—McCarney, 3b; Barrie, 2b; Corrin, 1b; Frost, ss; Helson, c; Dingan m; Primeau rf; Franks, lf; Vincent lf; Foley, p.

Y.M.C.A. — Hopkins, ss; A. Butcher, 2b; Tudhope, 3b; Huff, c; Fitzgerald, lf; McWilliams, 1b; Pogue, m; Dickson, p; G. Butcher, rf.

Umpires—A. Kay at the plate; E. Lebarr on the bases.

JESS WILLARD IS WILLING TO MEET JACK DEMPSEY

LAWRENCE, Kas., July 4.—Jess Willard, former world's heavyweight champion, to whose crown Jack Dempsey succeeded at Toledo, July 4, 1919, will box Dempsey on Labor Day if arrangements for such a bout are made, Willard said last night.

"I have heard nothing of such a bout since last spring," the former champion said, "when a plan was under way for me to box Dempsey March 17. The completion of plans for the Dempsey-Carpentier bout ended that project and I was promised a bout on Labor Day.

"I'll make no further move until I hear from Tex Rickard, but I'll box Dempsey if the bout is revived."

Willard spent Saturday on his ranch near here directing fifty men in the harvesting of his potato crop. The Jersey City fight went about as he expected it would, he said.

WOOLENS LOST TO DE LAVAL BY 3-2

AND VETERANS WIN THE LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP AS A RESULT.

Under a broiling sun the Canadian Woollens were nosed out of the City League by the De Laval by 3 goals to 2 on Saturday, and unless the Woollens win the protest they were threatening to-day, the G.W.V.A. are champions of the City League. Had the Woollens won from De Laval, they and the War Veterans would both have 15 points, and there would be a sensational play-off.

The De Laval's win, however, eliminated the Woollens, but this morning The Examiner was informed by the Woollens that Harry Curtis, playing for De Laval, would be protested, as he is not a registered player. If this protest is entered to-day, it will be considered at the executive meeting to-night, and if the Woollens are successful, a play-off with the Vets will end a neck-and-neck race for the city soccer championship.

Neither team could muster a full team on Saturday's field. The De Laval had ten men and the Woollens nine. Several of the regulars from both line-ups were missing, and the loss was felt.

Frank McKinley was referee.

The line-ups were:

Can. Woollens.		De Laval.
Hensley	Goal	Hillman
	Backs
Cridland		Crowe
Chambers
	Half-backs
Monkman		H. Curtis
Frost		Pickles
		Warman
	Forwards
Swan		Thorpe
I. Shaw		Long
T. Jones		Whatley
Roberts		Bell
		Hanson

The game was closely fought. Despite the heat, both teams travelled at good speed. Thorpe secured two counters for the De Laval, both in the first period. Jim Shaw scored for the Woollens, and the score was 2-1 at the end of the first half. In the last 45 minutes Bell scored and Chambers followed up for the Woollens.

There was only a small crowd of fans watching the game. The intense heat kept away many who would otherwise have been on hand to see the feature which decided the winner of the City League. One or two games which cannot alter the League standing are yet to be played off.

TO PLAY AT KEENE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

NORWOOD AND KEENE IN SECOND GAME FOR FIRST HALF HONORS.

Keene and Norwood have arranged to play the second game of their play-off for first half honors of the East Peterborough League, at League, on Wednesday evening at six o'clock. It will be a big night in Keene.

In the first game at Norwood, Keene put over a seventh innings rally and won the contest by a score of 7 to 4.

Kevin Murray and Edgar LeBar will umpire the game.

Seconl Half Games.

The games in the second half have been scheduled as follows:

Thursday, July 7 — Lakefield at Douro.
Wednesday, July 13 — Keene at Norwood.
Thursday, July 14—Zion at Lakefield.
Wednesday, July 20 — Douro at Norwood.
Thursday, July 21—Zion at Douro.
Wednesday, July 27—Lakefield at Keene.
Thursday, July 28— Norwood at Zion.
Monday, August 1 — Douro at Keene.
Thursday, August 4 — Keene at Zion.

DEMPSEY TRIED HARD TO END THE FIGHT IN FIRST ROUND

NEW YORK, July 4.—"I tried hard to end it in the first round," said Jack Dempsey, after the fight, "but Carpentier's gameness and fine condition saved him. He is a great little fighter. In the second he uncorked a desperate rally, but I think I demonstrated, when he landed squarely on me with his famous right, that I was able to take all he had.

"I wonder where the critics are now who said I hadn't trained and would throw the battle. And how about the twelve rounds I was going to travel for the sake of the pictures.

"My right hand was extra goodto me to-day. I missed several with my left, in the opening of the third. Carpentier missed with a sizzling right uppercut. Then I got him with rights and lefts, but he took them like a man. I began to try for his body to bring his hands down and we mixed furiously at the bell. I think I was going the stronger of the two.

"In the fourth I put over the old 'one, two'— a snappy left and a hammer blow with old 'Iron Mike,' my right hand. I then knocked him flat with a volley, and then the K.O.

"Carpentier was game to the last. I admire him for it, and when the fight was over I told him so.

JACK AND GEORGES ARE TO MEET AGAIN DURING THIS WEEK

NEW YORK, July 4. — Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier are scheduled for another test of skill, speed and strength, a clash which is expected to occur within the current week. No, they are not going to don the gloves again. This time they are going to compete as rival swimmers.

Tex Rickard declared to-day he has about created enough rivalry between conqueror and conquered to produce a thrilling water duel. The pair have agreed, Rickard said, to visit the Madison Square Garden pool some night this week and swim it out. Rickard believes the race will be more even than the battle, for both are said to be expert swimmers.

An ideal summer program will be offered at the Capitol to-night and patrons are assured big value for the admission charged.

The vaudeville entertainment will be Boutte and Carter, Below the Mason Dixon line. Two exceptionally clever entertainers. The feature will be Bebe Daniels in "Ducks and Drakes' also Buster Keaton in his latest comedy "The Haunted House" Many flattering expressions are heard about the excellence of the cooling system of the Capitol and the public are assured at all times of a temprature at least twenty degrees cooler in the theatre than on the street level.

BLIZZARD A TREAT FOR BEBE DANIELS

Nineteen before she had ever touched snow!

To people in the eastern and middle-western states it would seem incomprehensivble that any one could have lived to the age of nineteen without becoming acquainted with the mantle of whiteness that makes winter a delight to children and often a trial to their elders. But such was really the case with Bebe Daniels.

"You see," explained Miss Daniels one day at the studio, when someone asked her about her first experience with snow, "I was born in Dallas, Texas, and lived most of my life there and in Los Angeles. The only snow I had ever seen was that far away on the mountain tops. Therefore, you can imagine I was very glad when, on the last day of our 'location' trip at Big Bear Valley, 8,000 feet up in the mountains, a real blizzard began. We had gone up there to film certain scenes for 'Ducks and Drakes.'

"When the snow started I thought I'd be real funny' she continued. 'And I started to bombard Jack Holt, William Lawrence and the other members of my company with snow balls—but it was a piece of bad judgement on my part, for, alas, I'm as bad as most girls at throwing, while the boys nearly overwhelmed me with snowballs before I could call 'quits!'

Snow it must be admitted, is a thing one would scarcely associate with the dark Andalusian beauty of Bebe Daniels, descendant of a Governor of Columbia and bearing in her veins the blood of Cavaliers of Seville who wooed their dusky sweet hearts under latticed windows.

"Ducks and Drakes", however, is no langorous Spanish love idyll, but a mile- a minute modern farce that gives Miss Daniels splendid opportunity in one of those "good little bad girl' 'roles which is peculiarly suited to her dashing personality.

AT THE ALLEN.

"DINING ROOM KITCHEN AND SINK" HOUSE-FULL OF TROUBLE

'Dining Room, Kitchen and Sink," latest two-reel Christie Comedy at Allen theatre for three days is literally a housefull of trouble. It deals with a stranded burlesque show, a pair of crooks and a rich aunt and uncle all in the same house, and the continued mixups that follow are said to make it one of the funniest farces that the screen has seen.

The picture shows the versatility of the Christie organization in making each of its pictures different and in relying in all of them on a real story interpreted by players carefully selected for their parts and not on some star which the story is built around.

Fay Tincher and Eddie Barry are both featured in "Dining Room, Kitchen and Sink," while the whole graup of Follies Girls add beauty and action to this fast-moving production. The cast is an unusually large one.

DRESSES COST FORTUNE.

The magnificent wardrobe of pretty Dorothy Phillips cannot fail to excite the wonder and envy of the women who witness Allen Holubar's big First National production, "Man-Woman-Marriage." Miss Phillips is seen in more than a dozen of the latest creations and a large number of costumes of past periods.

The dainty star wears every one of them, from leopard skin to the modern gown. The star's costumes alone are said to have cost a small fortune. Special designers worked for months on the modern portion of the wardrobe, and a number of costumiers spent weeks poring over oul books and manuscripts in order to design gowns true to the period in which they are worn in the story.—At the Allen Theatre to-day, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

BIG CAST FOR "MAN-WOMAN-MARRIAGE."

Dorothy Phillips, exquisite star of Allen Holubar's great First National drama-eternal, now being presented at the Allen Theatre, has the support of a remarkable cast in "Man-Woman-Marriage" — the photoplay sensation of a decade.

In the selection of the magnificent cast the entire motion picture field was combed with the object of affording this picture the best talent of the screen. Without regard to expense Allen Holubar secured the services of the men and women best fitted to portray the lesson this film cannot fail to teach.

Among the great array of histrionic artists supporting Miss Phillips are: James Kirkwood, Ralph Lewis, J. Barney Sherry, Robert Cain, Margaret Mann, Shannon Day, Emily Chichester, Frances Parks and "Peaches" Jackson. To these must be added Marion Morgan and her famous dancers.

The salary of this great cast, alone, would equal the total expense of the production of an average screen drama. "Man-Woman-Marriage," eight months in the making, cost to produce, $400,000, an average of $4,000 per foot. This makes it the most expensive picture ever filmed.

Marion Morgan, creator and director of the celebrated Morgan dancers, became so enamored with Hollywood during her recent four weeks' stay at the Hollywood Studio, where she directed the special dance features for Allen Holubar's big cinema drama, "Man-Woman-Marriage," released by the Associated First National Pictures, Inc., that she has decided to make California her permanent home. In beautiful Beverly Hills she will build her home in classic Greek architecture.

DUELLING REVIVED ON A LARGE SCALE IN HUNGARY.

BUDAPEST, July 4 (Associated Press).—The passion for duelling, which slumbered in Hungary during the war, is breaking out with increased vehemence, aicording to a report of the Ministry of Home Affairs, just made public. About 6,000 challenges to fight were recorded during the last six months, and in 350 cases the combat was fought without a serious result. There were three killings.

Trifling incidents have been the cause of some encounters. Treading on a man's foot in an overcrowded street car or calling a person a fool, might impel two solemn-looking gentlemen in full dress and top hat to call on you on behalf of the offended person requesting you to name your seconds.

As a rule, the conference leads to explanations, apologies, and a protocol embodying these important facts to the satisfaction of all parties concerned. But when the insult is considered too gross or the offender too stubborn, the seconds rule that only blood can wash the insult away, and they fix the conditions of next morning's encounter with light or heavy swords, with bandages or without, or with pistols. The combat then takes place in one of the fencing schools, or, when fought with pistols, in some deserted meadow outside the town.

Political antagonists frequently change arguments for weapons, and a heated debate in Parliament is generally followed by a couple of duels. Even ministers have to accept the challenge of an opposition member, and it is still remembered that the late Count Stephen Tisza, when Prime Minister, fought nine duels with his political opponents.

Under the penal code of Hungary, an armed combat is a punishable misdemeanour. Sometimes when combatants are tried and sentenced to a few months' imprisonment, they serve it in a special establishment of detention, an operette-prison, where they may provide themselves with outside food, drink, and clothing, take outdoor exercise, and receive any number of visitors.

When hot water bags leak cover the hole with adhesive plaster and use them filled with hot salt or hot sand. They will retain the heat better than water.

OPPOSE HIGHER MILK STANDARD IN THIS CITY

DEALERS ASK BOARD OF HEALTH TO KEEP STANDARD AT THREE PER CENT. AS IT NOW STANDS.

LEFT TO CITY M.O.H. FOR INVESTIGATION

Asking that the milk standard be left at three per cent. butter fat and be not raised to 3.25 as the Board of Health have recommended to the Council, E. Butler and J. W. Right addressed the Council for the milk vendors last night. Mayor McIntyre and his counsellors were given some sidelights on milk and testing by the two dealers who seemed prepared to discuss the matter ad nauseum. Mr. Butler said that at present many dealers find it hard to come up to standard and if it is raised there will be many fail to produce standard milk.

"I understand most of the milkmen are quite ready to raise the standard", said Mr. Gordon.

"Most of them are opposed to it", declared the two vendors in unison.

Ald. Gordon asked how much milk was selling at and was informed it was just about 11 cents a quart The two dealers replied in the negative when he asked them if they did not think they could afford to give high test milk with feed cheaper.

Mr. Butler — "You can't control the butter fat by feeding."

Mr. Right—"You can feed to increase the flow but not the quality.' We feel this way about it. We are giving it just the way the cows give it to us. We feel it would be a hardship if we were disqualified for falling below the average for a month or so! said Mr. Butler.

The whole milk test is not reliable according to Mr. Right two bottles of identically the same milk will show different tests he said.

Mr. Butler maintained that their was no collusion amongst the dealers with regard to prices but there was a strong opposition to raising the standard. Peterboro's milk average was pretty good campared with other centres he believed.

"We don't want to waste any more time on this. It's a hot evening We can leave it to the Medical Health Officer and discuss it after." said the Mayor and nothing further was done last night about the proposed raising one quarter of one per cent.

BADLY MANGLED ON RAILROAD TRACKS

BODY OF MAN FOUND IN TORONTO THIS MORNING.

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

TORONTO, July 5.—A man who is believed to be Samuel Oddie, 1050 Dovercourt Road, was found badly mangled on the C.P.R. tracks between Geary Street and Dovercourt Road at five o'clock this morning.

He was picked up by a train crew which was following another train west along the tracks, and it is assumed he was run over while walking to work at West Toronto.

The only identification is through papers in his pocket, including a ticket to the Old Country.

At The Theatres

DOWN-TOWN THERMOMETERS AT 96; LITTLE CHANGE SAYS WEATHERMAN

Peterborough sweltered to-day with downtown thermometers registering 96 degrees at 1 o'clock and still climbing.

"Light winds and slightly lower temperature," is the best that the weatherman can predict for to-day and Wednesday.

Rains continue in the west but show no sign of moving eastward.

Ottawa was the hottest city in the east yesterday with the mercury here showing 98 degrees.

TORONTO EXPECTS A RECORD

(Special Despatch to the Examiner.)

TORONTO, July 5. — Not much change in temperature, is the prediction of Old Probs., and to show the sincerity of his intentions in the matter he started the day off with an official temperature at 8 o'clock of 80 degrees, the same point from which the mercury registered yesterday morning on the climb which by three o'clock in the afternoon had reached 97 degrees and accordingly made yesterday the hottest day of the present year.

The Weatherman is ready to admit that to-day may turn out even warmer than that, although the emperature will have to go over ten degrees to beat the maximum record record set on July 3, 1911.

ALL CONVICTS TO GET TOBACCO NOW

OTTAWA, July 5.—(Canadian Press). — Prisoners in Portsmouth Penitentiary at Kingston are not the only ones to be allowed the use of tobacco this year. When the estimates of the Department of Justice were put through the House last session, provision was made in them for money for the purchase of tobacco for convicts in all Canadian penitentiaries who had been in the habit of using the weed previous to their incarceration.

The use of tobacco in penitentiaries was cut off at the time of Sir Oliver Mowat, 24 years ago, and from that time until very recently none of the convicts have been allowed the solace of a puff at a pipe or cigarette.

KINGSTON ORCHESTRA ROBBED AT MIDNIGHT

KINGSTON, July 5.— A sensational holdup was staged about midnight, near the village of Westbrook, when seven Kingston men, members of a local orchestra, who had been playing at a dance at Westbrook, were held up by three masked men, each armed with a rifle and revolver who compelled the members of the orchestra to hold up their hands, while they relieved them of seventy dollars.

Irregular outlines and circular skirts are characteristic of the mode.

Local Event to Rival Big Fight

EXHIBITION BOARD OF DIRECTORS AND CITY COUNCIL MEET ON CIVIC HOLIDAY.

A sporting event which will not cost as much to see and promises to create as much native interest as the bout at Boyle's Acres, New Jersey, last Saturday afternoon, is scheduled for Peterboro on Civic Holiday. To be brief if the plans of the Peterboro Industrial Exhibition Board are carried out the directors living in the city and the City Council will meet the rural directors in a tug-of-war combat at the demonstration which is being held at the fairgrounds in the afternoon. The glove has been thrown down but it was not stated if the agrarians would accept the challenge. Webber Turner in a letter to the council last night advised them of the part they would have to play. He expressed the hope that a captain would be chosen immediately and the team go into training.

When the clerk read the communication there was a flash of fire in not a few eyes about the desks and the Council from the way several members involuntarily braced themselves in their desks as if already in the struggle, are evidently not averse to participating in a grimy combat on a rope's end with the farmer directors of the Fair Board. The invitation to man the rope was referred to Ald. Crowe's Legal and Reception Committee to deal with.

FUND FOR BLIND

The complete list of subscriptions to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind from the people of Peterborough up to Monday evening was still only a small fraction of the sum which this public institution deserves from this district. The Institute for the Blind is a Canadian enterprise of beneficence which should appeal to the patriotic and charitable sentiments of the people. All over Canada its graduates are working at trades they learned in the Institute, are contented in their industry, instead of being in despair and a burden upon their friends and the community. For the extension of the Institute and its activities, this appeal is made to the generosity of the public, and Peterborough's response is set out in the following list:

RAPID PROGRESS ON NEW CATTLE BUILDING

The new cattle building which will form a new unit in the Peterborough Exhibition plant is well on the way to completion. It is situated on the extreme east side of the Park with one wall flush on Lock street. Today the roof was nearly finished and the workmen, under Mr. James Finnie, will soon begin the interior touches.

MOVING SLOWLY AS TO BACKUS' APPLICATION

REQUEST FOR EXTENSION OF POWER PLANT ON LAKE OF THE WOODS CONSIDERED CAUTIOUSLY AT OTTAWA.

MAY AWAIT RETURN OF PREMIER MEIGHEN

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

OTTAWA, July 5.—"Due consideration" is being given by the government here to the new application of the Backus interests for an extension of the power plant recently purchased by them from the corporation of Kenora and upon which Mr. Backus proposes to erect a pulp mill.

Inasmuch as the plant is upon navigable waters the application is in the hands of the Department of Public Works which administers the Navigable Waters Protection Act. Nevertheless the Water Powers Branch of the Department of the Interior and the Control Board of the Lake of the Woods are also interested and the Department of Public Works is being pressed to have incorporated in any order-in-Council which may be passed granting the application provisions embodying on the part of the applicant Backus, recognition of Federal regulations under the Lake of the Woods Act passed last session and consideration for commitments which may be made by joint acceptance of the report of the International Joint Commission.

While it is admitted here that the application in question does not very seriously affect one way or another the general scheme of things on the Lake of the Woods and waters running thereto or therefrom, the Department is inclined to move slowly in its consideration of the proposal, and it is possible that it will be postponed until the Premier's return.

In the present condition of the pulp market it is not felt that Mr. Backus will be in any great hurry to erect his proposed plant and a little delay in the matter under all circumstances is believed to be justified.

In the meantime it is anticipated that an application will also be received from Mr. Backus for approval under the Navigable Waters Protection Act of the Norman dam, which was erected prior to the amendment of the Act in 1918 and which therefore has not yet been "legalized." Whatever controversy there may be regarding the possession by Mr. Backus of this important "key point" it is not believed here that there is any particular technical difficulty in the way of granting such an application, though it is possible that the Control Board may also insist on safeguarding clauses.

The whole question of navigation protection is becoming so important in that country that it is possible that the government may be compelled some day to build a canal and lock between the Lake of the Woods level and the Winnipeg river.

THE WEATHER

Yesterday's highest point was 93 degrees. To-day (Tuesday) at noon the official figures were 95 degrees, and still rising. This is higher than for several years, but does not constitute a record. Last night's lowest was again 70 degrees—the same as the preceding night. For several days extremely hot weather has been passing over the northern part of Ontario. Cochrane yesterday had a temperature of 96 degrees. White River (the record cold spot of the western hemisphere) perspired in 95 degrees, and other northern towns in New Ontario gave high figures. The light winds that have prevailed have been from the northwest and north, and have carried southward some of the tropical heat experienced in the far north together with the smoke of forest fires. This accounts for the hazy sky and the blood red colour of the sun at sunrise and sun set. There does not appear to be any immediate prospect of much cooler, although a thunderstorm may bring some amelioration.—W. P.

AGITATING FOR REVOLUTION IN UNITED STATES

"BIG BILL" HAYWOOD, I.W.W. LEADER, SAYS CAMPAIGN BEING CARRIED ON BY I.W.W. IN LIMITED WAY.

HE WILL RETURN SOON TO SERVE HIS SENTENCE

(Special Despatch to the Examiner)

LONDON, July 5.—Propaganda and agitation among the rank and file of the craft unions of the United States for an industrial revolution, is urged by "Big Bill' Haywood, I.W.W. leader.

"This work is being carried on, in a limited way, by the Industrial Workers of the World," he declares in an article in The Moscow, a new Bolshevist organ. Haywood, who forfeited his bail bond by going to Moscow while awaiting the results of his appeal from a twenty year sentence for violation of the Espionage Act, has announced he will soon return to serve his sentence.

HEAT DIDN'T WILT PLAYGROUNDS FUN

CHILDREN GAVE EAGER RECEPTION AT YESTERDAY'S OPENING.

The Peterborough Playgrounds opened yesterday, with a large number of enthusiastic children present. All day long, Mrs. W. R. Morris and Mrs. A. Stevenson drove around, delivering the light equipment which is kept in storage season after season.

At the Queen Alexandra School, their car was surrounded by the eager crowd which awaited their arrival, and a baseball, an extremely popular object, was carried off for immediate use.

That the thermometer was 94 in the shade yesterday did not interfere in the least with the boys' enjoyment of this article of play, and they had game after game in the blazing sun.

Seven supervisors are on duty at the different schools, one at the Queen Alexandra, the smallest grounds, and two at each of the others.

Rev. A. G. Doner has been called to see his mother, who, while visiting friends in Oakland, Cal., was taken serously ill. Rev. James Cuthbertson, a missionary in Japan, home on furlough, will take charge of the Interdenominational Bible Study Class this (Tuesday) evening in the basement of the Public Library. Mr. Doner has been exceptionally fortunate in securing for next Sunday's services the help of Rev. A. W. Roffe of Toronto, especially so as the members of the Orange Order in Peterborough are to be in Bethany Tabernacle next Sunday evening. Mr. Roffe is a man of rare gifts as a preacher, of sound doctrine, and is always enjoyed by all who hear him.

SMUTS GOES TO IRISH MEETING WITH PROPOSAL

ARRIVED IN DUBLIN THIS MORNING CARRYING, IT IS UNDERSTOOD, LLOYD GEORGE'S PROPOSALS.

MET BY SINN FEIN AND LEADERS OF UNIONISTS

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

LONDON, July 5.—Settlement of the centuries old Irish question appeared definitely in the making today.

Sentiment was in favor of quick, definite solution was growing among the three groups constituting the triangle, the Sinn Feiners, the Ulsterites and the British government.

Jan Smutz, Premier of South Africa, regarded as one of the strongest figures in the Empire, arrived in Dublin to-day. While Smutz does not officially represent the British Government, his representations will have almost unlimited weight, not only with the government, but with the Council of Dominion Premiers.

Smuts' mission is understood to have been undertaken upon the invitation of the Sinn Fein, presumably to advise the Irish officials on the formula of settlement terms, and to continue in an advisory capacity during the progress of negotiations.

British officialdom is particularly optimistic of success. Government reins are held at a minimum. The agitation for declaring general political amnesty for all Irish prisoners and fugitives is growing hourly.

The highest hope is held for the conference of Eamon De Valera with representatives of the Unionists, which will be resumed Lriday, which it is confidently determined this morning, will lead to a general conference in London involving the north and south of Ireland, the British Government and possibly the Dominion Premiers.

DUBLIN, July 5. — (Canadian Press). — General Jan Christian Smuts, South African Premier, arrived in Dublin this morning, and is the guest of the Lord Mayor here. The welcoming delegation, including the Lord Mayor, Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein, and R. C. Barton, Sinn Fein member of Parliament for Wicklow, awaited General Smuts at Kingstown, expecting to meet him there and escort him to Dublin. Through some slip, however, they missed the General, and he motored to Dublin unnoticed.

LONDON, July 5. — (Canadian Press). — General Jan Smuts, Premier of the Union of South Africa, left for Ireland last night and was expected to arrive in Dublin early today. It was understood here this morning that the purpose of his visit to Ireland was to confer with the Sinn Fein and Unionist leaders of South Ireland, preliminary to the resumption of their conference next Friday.

The Unionists and Sinn Feiners held a brief meeting in Dublin yesterday, and reports received here indicated that they had reached an understanding as to matters to be discussed at future conferences.

It was understood in London last night that General Smuts would present Lloyd George's proposals for an Irish settlement to the conference of Sinn Fein and Unionist leaders.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, July 5.—(Canadian Press).—Resumption of trading on the Stock Exchange to-day was attended by fresh weakness in Mexican oils. Mexican Petroleum opened at a loss of 1 point but witnin the first few minutes heavy selling forced the price down 5 5-8 to 93 3-4, a low record. Pan-American Petroleum lost 2 1-4 points and General Asphalt and U. S. Rubber also were heavy. On the other hand European Oils, were strong, Royal Dutch rising 2 1-4 points. Rails, Tobaccos and textiles also strengthened but steels and equipments were dull without material changes.

Mexican Petroleum extended its loss to 7 points before making a recovery, but others of that group reflected support, Royal Dutch adding an additional point to its early advance. Steels and Equipments, with Crucible, U. S. Steel, Baldwin and Harvester as the features, fell 1 to 2½ points. Studebaker, American Sugar, Atlantic Gulf and Sears Roebuck forfeited 1 to 3 points. Movements among the Rails were confined to investment shares. Reading lost 1 5-8, and Canadian Pacific, Great Northern and Atlantic Coast Line declined 1.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, July 5. — (Canadian Press).—Wayagamack, an unlisted stock, furnished the bulk of trading on the local Stock Exchange this afternoon, over 400 shares of this stock changing hands. Opening at 37, it made a recovery of two points to 39, but later sold off again, closing at 37½. Cement, after holding steady at 49, sold off a point to 48 on one sale of 100 shares. Mackay was active and in some demand at 71, but Paper stocks were altogether neglected, the sale of one share of Spanish River Preferred representing the total transactions in this group in the listed section throughout the morning. C.P.R. closed steady at 124, while Brazilian was off 3-4 at 26 3-4.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, June 5.—(Canadian Press).—Sterling exchange heavy; demand 3.72 3-8; cables 3.73 1-8; Canadian dollars 11 11-16 discount.

CHICAGO, July 5. — (Canadian Press).—Lower temperatures in the North-West, together with rains in various sections, had a bearish effect on the wheat market to-day. Declined were checked, however, by assertions from a leading crop expert that as a result of the hot wave, the forthcoming Government crop report would show a reduction of 25 million bushels in the estimated yield as compared with the last report. Opening quotations, which ranged from 1 3-4 to 3 3-4 cents lower, with September 118½ to 120, and December 120, were followed by a moderate further set-back and then something of a rally.

Corn descended with wheat. After opening 5-8 cents to 1 3-4 cents lower, including September at 60 3-4 to 61 1-2, the market eased off a little before beginning to re-act.

Oats were easier in response to the weakness of other cereals, starting 1-8, ½ to 1 3-8 lower, September 38 to 38 1-8 cents, and showing but little power to recover.

Provisions lacked support and had a downward slant, notwithstanding higher quotations on hogs.

LIVESTOCK MARKET

TORONTO, July 5.—(Canadian Press)—Cattle Market receipts 406 trade slow. Quotations heavy, beef steers $7 to $7.75; Butchers steers choice $7 to $7.50; Butcher cows medium $3 to $5; calves $7 to $8; Lambs $11.50 to $12.75; hogs, selects $11.50.

MONTREAL

MONTREAL July 5.—(Canadian Press).—Wayagamask was again the feature of the local Stock Exchange during the early trading this morning. This issue established a new low by touching 36. It rallied after, however, to 38. Its closing quotation last night was 40. Abitibi remained unchanged at 24. Dominion steel strengthened three quarters of a point to 25. Laurentide was down a half point at 73.

Bungalow, new, 6 rooms, cellar cement $2500
White Brick, 2½ story, 7 rooms, 4 bedrooms; bay window; hardwood floors, large lot $2500

MUST PREPARE FOR WAGE CUTS, SAYS MINISTER OF LABOR

HON. GIDEON D. ROBERTSON DENOUNCES "DON'T WANT TO WORK" MEN OF THESE DAYS—PROSPECTS IN CANADA ENCOURAGING

OTTAWA, July 5.—"Now, it is necessary to reduce the cost of production, and the workers, however reluctantly, accepting a reduction in wages, must face the situation."

Such was the contention of Hon. Gideon D. Robertson, Minister of Labor, when addressing the congregation of Knox church on "The Growth and Destiny of Canada."

The speaker added that "during the years 1918, 1919 and 1920 the Golden Rule, 'Do unto others as you would that they should do unto you,' was the aim and object of employers of labor, and of their workers, to an extent that has never before been witnessed." "In fact," he said, "the improvements in the industrial and social life of the country was such as the Fathers of Confederation would not have believed possible."

"Side by side with the knowledge of our material progress was the question: Are we making advance in our standard of civilization and citizenship? In the opinion of Mr. Robertson, the answer was "yes." In no other country in the world was there to-day the same opportunity to earn a living, so few rich and so few poor, of the same opportunity to enjoy the fruits of industry.

"The standard of citizenship had, indeed, been well maintained and the spirit of those ancestors from the British Isles and France had been emulated in Canada's response in the great war, when after 100 years of peace and 50 years of unexampled prosperity the sons of this country had rushed forward in response to the call of honor, justice and empire. The age of chivalry was not dead, while such things could happen, and Canada woud in future, as in the past, be ever ready to respond to the same call."

He was optimistic of the workers facing the situation squarely and accepting those wage cuts rendered necessary by changing conditions. "But," Mr. Robertson went on to say, "in all times there had been the "don't want to work" men, and in war time and since the war there had been those whose sole ambition was to disrupt and destroy the works of a generation. The preachers of this doctrine would never make progress in Canada for the all-sufficient reason that they wished not only to destroy the works of mankind, but to deny the works of God and to revile the ministers of the Christian religion.

The Canadianizing of our immigrants was a matter of the greatest importance to this end and it was worthy of note that the Bible was now being printed and distributed in no fewer than twenty languages."

MEDICAL MEN MEET TO-MORROW, HALIFAX

MORE THAN 400 EXPECTED TO ATTEND CONVENTION

HALIFAX, July 4.—(By Canadian Press).—More than four hundred of the leading exponents of the medical profession in Canada together with distinguished representatives from the United States and Scotland will gather in Halifax July 5, 6, 7, and 8 for the fifty second annual convention of the Canadian Medical Association. All except two special sessions of the convention will be held in the new Dalhousie University Buildings on Studley Campus, which were not in existence when Halifax was last honored by a visit from the Canadian Medical men in 1905. Last year the convention was held on the other side of the continent in Vancouver.

The attention of the delegates will be chiefy occupied with papers on various branches of medicine and surgery. Of special interest will be the Presidential address by Dr. Murdoch Chisholm of Halifax; an address on medicine by Dr. D. L. Richardson, Rhode Island Hospital Providence R.I.; an address on surgery by Dr. Hugh Cabot, Michigan University, Ann Arbor; and an address by Dr. W. S. Syme. Western Infirmary, Glasgow, Scotland, on "Malignant Diseases of the Throat and some Points in Diagnoses and Treatment." Other addresses will be delivered by some fifty-five eminent physicians resident in Canada and the United States.

The delegates will be welcomed to the Province and City at a public meeting in the Hall of the School For the Blind on the opening evening of the convention when they will be addressed by His Honor Lieutenant Governor Grant of Nova Scotia, Mayor John S. Parker of Halifax, Mayor W. W. Vidito of Dartmouth, and Dr. H. K. MacDonald, President of the Halifax and Nova Scotia Medical Associations. Dr. R. E. McKecknie of Vancouver, the outgoing President of the Domipion Asociation will be among the speakers on this occasion.

Elaborate preparations have been made for the social entertainment of the medical men and their wives, while they are in Halifax. The programme includes a garden party at Government House, band concerts and special moonlight excursions on the North West Arm and Harbor. The ladies will, it is understood be guests at innumerable bridge parties dances and motor drives. Dr. S. L. Walker is chairman of the Halifax Committee which has arrangements for the Convention in hand and Dr. W. L. Muir is secretary.

Among other Halifax officers who will take a prominent part in the convention will be Drs. K. A. MacKenzie and H. G. Grant who have charge of the medical section, E. V. Hogan and P. Wetherbee, who have charge of the surgical section, and W. H. Hattie and A. C. Jost who are making arrangements for the public health programme.

The convention's leading lights will be President Dr. Thomas Roddick of Montreal, Hon President Murdoch Chisholm of Halifax, Secretary T. C. Routley of Toronto.

MOVING PICTURE PROJECTORS OPERATORS TAKE WAGE CUT

TORONTO, July 5. Canadian Press. — The moving picture operators here have voluntarily consented to a wage reduction to apply to the months of July and August only.

The reduction is to be 15 per cent on all wages under $25 a week and 20 per cent. on all over $25 a week.

The action was taken to assist the theatres over the summer, union officials state.

GOES FIVE MONTHS ALMOST FOODLESS

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., July 5.—A longing for the sea caused John Davidson, a Finnish ex-sailor, to set out on a tramp to the Pacific Coast from Jasper, Alta., equipped only with a sack of salt, a packet of matches, and two one-pound plugs of tobacco. He became lost and wandered around for five months, according to his story to the local police, who picked him up near here recently. He had lost all sense of direction, and was heading back inland at the time.

Davidson's story smacks of the miraculous. He says he never begged a meal nor slept under cover since leaving Jasper in midwinter. For the last eleven days of his journey he subsisted on twigs, unripe berries and grass. His precious tobacco having given out long before, he used Skeena River moss.

Once, near an old construction camp, he found some tinned milk of the vintage of 1912. When he came into the mountains he became exhausted and faint from hunger. With a heavy pocket knife — his only weapon—he killed a porcupine, eating the flesh raw, he said. Later he was able to vary his menu when he came on a frog pond.

JAPAN FAVORS DISARMAMENT

OZAKIM SAYS U.S. CONFERENCE ON DISARMAMENT WOULD MEET WITH EAGER RESPONSE IN HIS COUNTRY.

TOKIO, July 5. — (Canadian Press.)—Yukio Ozakim, former Japanese Miniser of Justice, whose achievements have made him foremost Japanese Liberal on the conclusion of the ten thousand mile campaign of the Empire in behalf of the limitation of armaments, a campaign unparalleled in Japanese political history, declared his conviction yesterday that if the U. S. government proposed a conference on the limitation of armaments it would meet with an eager response throughout the length and breadth of Japan.

FEET AMPUTATED BY A MOWING MACHINE

LONDON, Ont., July 5.—(Canadian Press.)—Helen Robertson, the eleven year old daughter of Robert Robertson, a farmer of Dorchester, had half of her left foot and the toes of her right foot amputated yesterday when she was run over by a mower in a hay field on her father's farm.

The little girl and her brother John were using a team of horses attached to the mower. The boy was on the seat, when the team disturbed a hornet's nest in a corner of the field. The hornets attacked the animals and the latter began plunging violently, the lad losing his balance on the mower seat. She then rushed to his assistance, and in the mix-up she was terribly mangled about the feet. Dr. Banghart, who is attending her, looks for her recovery.

FIRES MENACE NORTH ONTARIO

NUMBER OF SMALL FIRES GIVE OFF VOLUME OF SMOKE MAKING IT DIFFICULT TO ESTIMATE THEIR SIZE.

SWELTERING WEATHER

ENGLEHART, July 5. Canadian Press. Northern Ontario is sweltering under one of the severest heat waves ever recorded and in various parts of the country a temperature of well over 100 degrees in the shade is bein gregistered.

The weather has been exceptionally dry during recent weeks and the timber country is being menaced at a number of points by small fires which are increasing in number as well as in size.

It is noted at ponits where these fires are small that scores of them fall within the range of the eye, while at other ponits they appear ot have merged into larger fires from which a volume of smoke lies like storm clouds, shutting out vision, and making it difficult to estimate their size.

CROP OUTLOOK GOOD IN WEST

BUMPER CROP OF 300,000,000 BUSHELS LOOKED FOR.

(Special Despatch to the Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., July 5. — The crop prospects in Manitoba and Saskatchewan could not be better. The wheat and oats are coming along fast and cutting will start in three weeks.

To-day the Canadian Pacific Railway started preparations to move this bumper crop.

The great shops at Weston will now operate five days a week, from Monday to Friday, beginning this week, the officials announced. The shops have been closed since June 24. Prior to that date they were running four days a week. About 1400 men are affected. Thsi order will go throuhgout the west.

The prospects are for a three hundred million bushel crop, equal to 1915.

Southern Alberta ,the only dry spot last week, is now deluged with rain.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 4.—Miss Mary Watson left this morning for Toronto, where she will take a summer course in household science.

Miss Eva Tucker, of Toronto, is visiting Miss Marion Burleigh and other friends in town.

Mr. Thomas Chaplin is in Toronto, taking a summer course in physical culture.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Fisher and Miss Johnston, of Belleville, motored to town and spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McCook, Grand Road.

Dr. Joseph Irwin, of Toronto, is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Irwin.

Miss Maggie Jordan, who has been teaching near Cordova, is home for the vacation.

Miss Annie Smith, of Toronto, is visiting her mother, Mrs. J. M. Smith, and sister, Miss Mabel.

Mr. Chas. Payne, of Belleville, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Payne.

Dr. Wood and Mrs. Wood, of Syracuse, are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Atkinson.

Mr. and Mrs. James White, of Stratford, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mason and other friends in town.

Mr. Martinson, of Port Colborne, arrived on Saturday to join Mrs. Martinson, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sloggett.

On Tuesday St. Andrew's Sunday School will run their annual excursion by steamer "Geneva" to Glen Ross. This being the first of the season, no doubt a very large number will avail themselves of a pleasant outing down the Canal.

NEW ITALIAN CABINET IS FORMED BY BONOMI

ROME, July 5. — Canadian Press. —Signor Bonomi, who was entrusted with the task of forming a new Cabinet to succeed that of Signor Giolitti who resigned last week, has constituted a new ministry.

Signor Bonomi will take the Ministry of Foreign Affairs until the Marquis Della Torreta, to whom the portfolio was offered, has accepted or refused the office.

The Cabinet is composed of Centrist elements, Signor Bonomi having excluded both the extreme lefts and Rights and the Nationalists and Socialists .

It's cowardly to hit a man when he is down—but it's usually safer.

SEAL ADOPTS RESCUERS

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C. July 5 —A baby seal, following its rescue from vicious attack by four eagles adopted its rescuers, Captain J. McGregor, V.C., and his three companions. The seal was putting up a plucky but losing fight against its assailants from the sky when the launch party took it aboard.

On the way to Prince Rupert the seal was put overboard, as it was thought that was where it belonged. But the little fellow thought otherwise and folowed the boat right into port. It is now a very indulged pet.

HATFIELD NEAR HIS OBJECTIVE

TWO-THIRDS OF AN INCH OF RAIN THIS MONTH WILL ENABLE HIM TO CARRY AWAY $8,000.

CROP YIELD FAIR

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., July 5.—"Over the top" is the song Hatfield, Medicine Hat's rainmaker, is singing to-day. The week end storms which covered the whole prairies from the Rockies to Winnipeg did not pass him by, though he claims it took a lot of coaxing to get them to come his way. During Saturday night and Sunday, Hatfield got .71 inches of rain, bringing his total officially up to 3.36 inches, so that he has left only .64 inch to go during the remainder of Jul yto get the four inches his $8,000 contract calls for.

Hatfield thought on Saturday morning that he was a gone goose. They had rain all roud, but it had not rained a drop on him. Lethbridge, Calgary, Regina and Winnipeg all reported heavy rains Friday night, but Jupiter Pluvius was still holding off. Saturday evening, however, the rain fell. Hatfield had promised an inchof rain last week. At Medicine Hat he did not quite live up to his predictions, but at Gros Ventre, 20 miles north-east the skies opened and over two inches of rain fell in a torrential downpour. The farmers are not so sure that Hatfield brought the rain, seeing that it rained everywhere else before it rained in Medicine Hat they have a sneaking feeling that it might have rained even though Mr. Hatfield had taken a holiday. However, they do say he is a pretty fair prognosticator when he promised them a week ago Saturday, they would have an inch of rain a week and thence the last day of grace for produce.

The crops in the Medicine district as a result of the storm will produce a fair yield. It will be better than a year ago, but a long way from a bumper. In fact, it will hardly be a fair average, but it will be better than nothing at all, and Mr. Hatfield is likely to walk on July 31st with $8,000 in his pocket. The dry spell has been broken and the job of producing two-thirds of an inch of precipitation this month will be easy. Hatfield's over-the-top if Jupiter Pluvius wil now only help him reach his objective.

CALLS IN GENIE TO MOVE HOUSE

PARRSBORO, N. S., July 5.—(Canadian Press.)— When J. Goldstein, of Advocate, decided to move himself and all his worldly possessions to Joggins Mines—a distance of some seventy miles— he took a leaf out of the Arabian Night's and called in the genie in the person of John Canning of Port Greville. The genie assisted by a number of Nova Scotians, boosted J. Goldstein and his three storey house of no small dimensions on to a lumber scow and, towed by Captain G. Mills in the Parrsboro tug "Almanac," away they all sailed for Joggins Mines with the gramophone playing "Rule Britania" and the Goldstein hens promenading up and down the deck. People on passing vessels rubbed their eyes and stared to see the prodigious house-boat, while their nostrils dilated, filled with the savory odor of a real country dinner cooking in the sea-going kitchen. Debarkation took place without mishap and the genie firmly established the house at Joggins Mines where J. Goldstein and some, if not all of the hens, are living yet.

RHODES IS TO QUIT POLITICS

SPEAKER WILL RETIRE AT END OF PRESENT PARLIAMENT TO BECOME MANAGER OF NICKEL CORPORATION.

HALIFAX, July 5. — (Canadian Press.)—Although he will continue to discharge his duties as Speaker of the House of Commons during the life of the present Parliament, Hon. E. N. Rhodes, M.P. for Cumberland, N.S., is retiring from political life to become general manager of the British American Nickel Corporation with headquarters at Ottawa, according to an Amherst despatch to the Halifax Morning Chroncile last night.

Mr. Rhodes will leave Amherst for Ottawa within a few days, the despatch added. "No one, apart from those directly concerned knows the demands that are made on a man in the service of the public. I will be delighted to have the mantle of office fall to another," said Mr. Rhodes, announcing his retirement.

FARMERS WRITE AUTOBIOGRAPHY

DRURY, MORRISON, SMITH AND FOUR OTHERS COLLABORATE ON HISTORICAL AND PROPHETIC U.F.O. BOOK.

TORONTO, July 5.— (Canadian Press.)—One of the Chrstmas books this year will be an autobiography of the United Farmers of Ontario.

Premier Drury is writing of the movement as a whole. J. J. Morrison has been assigned to write the political aspect. W. L. Smith will outline the early agrarian movement. Col. J. Z. Fraser will tell of the farmers' experience in running a newspaper. B. C. Goodwill reveals the economic reasons for the U.F.O., and Mrs. George Brodie will write of what the United Farm Women of Ontario have accomplished and hope to do yet. M. H. Staples, U. F. O. Director of Education, will edit a volume and prophesy what will happen to the movement in the future.

An Aid to Wearing This Season's Fashions

(Helps to Beauty.)

Here is a simple, unfailing way to rid the skin of objectionable hairs: With some powdered delatone and water make enough paste to cover the hair surface, apply and in about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every trace of hair has vanished. This is quite harmless, but to avoid disappointment be sure to get the delatone in an original package.

WHERE THE BLIND EXCEL.

He was stone blind! The sight of his eyes was taken on the muddy fields of France, and he was left helpless and alone in his profound darkness.

He was brought back to Canada—his pre-war occupation as electrical engineer of no earthly use to him. He chose to study massage at Pearson Hall, the Blind Soldiers' residence in Toronto. In eleven months he was writing his University examinations along with thirty others, all of whom had perfect vision. He came out on top—over all the sighted people who wrote on that difficult examination. To-day he is looked upon as one of the finest masseurs in Canada.

Many others have graduated with spectacular results from the massage classes, conducted by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. They hold their positions on the sheer merit of their work.

These successes can be duplicated by those capable blind civilians who would otherwise have to follow mediocre occupations.

Help to extend this work by contributing liberally to the Fund being raised by The Examiner.

WHY NOT SUNDAY?

There does not seem any valid reason why, in weather like the present, the civic bathing houses should not be opened for the benefit of the public on Sunday. Those who are fortunate enough to own cottages at Stoney Lake or Chemong Park, or who have cars in which to visit these watering places on Sunday, refresh themselves with a plunge into the cooling waters without any objection from anyone. Why then should the people who are forced to remain at home be deprived of the same privilege or compelled, as many of them were last Sunday, to disrobe behind bushes or boat houses, while the dressing rooms erected for the accommodation of the public, remained tightly locked all day? It is evident that many people are determined to bathe on Sunday in spite of the handicap, so that the authorities might permit the bathing houses to be opened and make conditions more pleasant for the bathers and for the hundreds of other citizens who visit the beaches.

PRIZE FIGHTING.

New York pastors in their sermons last Sunday denounced the Dempsey-Carpentier fight as a brutal, degrading spectacle, and predicted that prize fighting would soon be abolished in the United States. With the latter prediction there seems some reason to agree, not because prize fighting is brutal, but because sooner or later the people of the United States must realise the folly of paying two men a half-million dollars or more to belabour themselves for a few minutes.

There is little or no sport in such a contest, for two fast lightweights in a friendly bout would show more speed, science, and cleverness, while a clash between two big hod-carriers would provide a better fight.

Surely never again will people be beguiled to come from all parts of the continent to see a few minutes' fighting, for which they are asked to pay ridiculous prices, and as a reward for which there are offered fabulous sums. The ministers need not worry. Barnum's remark about not being able to fool all the people all the time still holds good, and it will not be necessary to abolish prize fighting. Contests like Saturday's will die a natural death when the insanity of such proceedings is finally realised.

A BUYERS' STRIKE?

For the past five or six months business experts have referred to the existence of what, for want of a more appropriate name, they termed a buyers' strike, meaning by that expression that many people were confining their purchases to the things that they could not possibly dispense with. Other students of the situation repudiated that theory, declaring that the manufacturers, middlemen and retailers were themselves responsible for the stagnation in trade because of their reluctance to lower prices and accept lower prices. There is undoubtedly in many cases some justification for the latter theory, but nevertheless the fact remains that the majority of the people are not buying, some of course because the bread winner of the family is out of work or employed only on part tme, and many others because they decline to make purchases at the present time. The second class is consequently steadily increasing the numbers of the first, for their refusal to buy means a lessened demand for goods of all kinds, and as the orders from retailers to middlemen and manufacturers fall, the wheels of industry slacken and more and more men are driven out of steady employment.

The De Laval Company is a local illustration of this point. The farmers of Canada, on whom the burden of low selling prices has fallen, it is admitted, to a very great extent, but most of whom are financially able to purchase cream separators and other labour saving devices, are, for the most part, refusing to do so. Orders for these articles have fallen off to such an extent that over one hundred workmen find themselves out of employment in the local plant. The result is that everybody from whom these men and their families usually make purchases will feel the effect of their being laid off, the farmers themselves not escaping the consequences of their own action. An investigation of the De Laval prices fails to furnish a sound reason why there should be any general refusal to purchase their separators. It is a fact that the De Laval scale has only advanced on an average 27 1-2 per cent. over 1914 prices, while during the same period the prices of other farm requirements and other commodities were increased from 70 to 200 per cent. In fact the local company would have been justified in advancing their prices much higher than they did during the war years, and the demand for separators was so great that their total production could have been sold at far greater prices than they received. The saving for the farmers of Canada as a result of the firm's refusal to take advantage of the situation must have run into millions of dollars, for other manufacturers of the same product had, willingly or otherwise, to follow their example.

The pre-war scale of De Laval prices was accepted as reasonable and fair by the farming community. Surely then a price only 27 1-2 per cent. higher now cannot be regarded asanything but justifiable. Yet the demand has fallen almost completely away and the farmers, merchants, workmen and the firm itself are all feeling the effects. It is a situation that is difficult to understand.

COUNTING CANADIANS.

Numbering the people is a custom that age has not withered nor custom staled. In this country it is too solemn a ceremony to be cheapened by frequency, so we observe it only once in ten years. We may inaugurate two or there Governors-General in a decade; we may change the complextion of the Federal Government several times; every Provincial Government may have blossomed, had its day and ceased to be; we must wrestle with our income tax returns no fewer than ten times. But once, only, in a decade do we face the solemnity of the Census.

Its purpose, as set down in the first paragraph of the official blue-tinted brochure entitled, "Instructions to Commissioners and Enumerators, Approved by Order-in-Council, February 23, 1921," is "to ascertain with the utmost possible accuracy for the various territorial divisions of the country their population and the classing or grouping of it as regards sex, social conditions, religion, education, race, occupation and otherwise, and whatever other matters are specified in the forms and instructions to be issued and used as the Act provides."

The working out of this idea is worthy of the best brains that this young and vigorous country affords. Of course it is not the first time we have had a census; we have been visited with it regularly for several decades. So that there was some machinery available— not "second-hand," but "used"—a little rusty perhaps, but some of it quite good. This machinery checked up, renewed, added to and well-oiled, gave us the Census of 1921.

But here and there it slipped a cog. A chain is as strong as its weakest link, and there were some mighty weak links in this census chain. The Star has described many of these in its news columns. Readers in the cities and in the country have told just how the census-taking worked out in their own particular cases. Incompetency, carelessness, ignorance as well as pig-headed obstinancy have been charged against those supposed to be responsible for the collection of "accurate" information.

Ten years have elapsed since the previous enumeration. The first year or two of the intervening decade was naturally taken up with the analysis and classification of the mass of figures returned in 1911. The rest of the time should have been spent in getting ready for 1921, in devising plans to avoid the mistakes of other years and in developing the system so that new social conditions, especially in the cities, might be met. Doubtless much of this was done, but how much was left undone Canada's experience during the past three weeks has shown to alamentable extent.

A glaring instance of official stupidity is the way in which the big cities weer handled. Common sense would have suggested that in Montreal, for instance, the work should have been done under a central authority. As a matter of fact, there has been no such system. Each politcal constituency, rural or urban, has had its Commissioner and one part of the city has had no sort of relation to any other part. The boundaries of political constituencies do not always synchronize with civic boundaries, so that there is confusion there.

One thing that should never again be tolerated is the huge "blotter" carried by the enumerator on which the householder, as he gave out the facts of his own case could plainly see set forth all personal details of the neighborhood, such as his neighbor's total income for the year, and the age of his neighbor's wife, his sisters, and his cousins and his aunts! Such publicity is little short of indecent. In Montreal there have been cases of failure to record properly the race, language and religion of citizens and these things are inexcusable. The worst has been that there is no redress. Commissioners given details of gross neglect have expressed themselves as being helpless. There should never be another census without there being, in the big cities, at least, a "trouble department" with sufficient intelligence to investigate all reasonable complaints and sufficient authority to see that mistakes, whether inadverent or wilful, are corrected.—Montreal Star.

PRESENTED TEACHER WITH MARBLE CLOCK

At the close of school on Wednesday, June 29th, the pupils of S. S. No. 13, Douro, presented their teacher, Miss Frances Fitzgerald, with a handsome marble clock.

The following address was read by Miss Margaret Leahy, while Miss Olive Kidd presented the gift:

Dear Teacher,—We, the pupils of this school, on this, the eve of your departure from our midst, feel that we cannot let you go without showing you that we appreciate your efforts in our behalf. You have been a faithful and painstaking teacher, impartial to all, and in return we would ask you to accept this slight remembrance as a token of our love and esteem for you.

Wishing you success and prosperity in whatever you undertake, we remain,

Your Loving Pupils.
Signed on behalf of the School,

A Laxative The Old Can Rely On

Let them take Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin for Constipation. Mild and gentle. Never loses its good effect.

ELDERLY people know how much more difficult it is each year as they get older to avoid the ill effects of chronic constipation. The stomach and bowel muscles relax as age advances, and as you are naturally less active, in time they work only by stimulation. You try dieting and exercise, and then take medicine.

All medicines, however, are not suited to elderly people any more than to children, so you will be glad to know of a particular medicine that acts as near to Nature as has yet been found. It is a prescription written thirty odd years ago by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, who is himself now in the 82nd year of his age and still active in his profession. It is known in the trade as Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, and you can buy it under that name at any drug store. A sixty-cent bottle will last an average family many months, and all can use it.

Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. It acts mildly, gently and without griping. It so trains the stomach and bowel muscles that in time medicine of all kinds can be dispensed with. When people learn of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin and see how wonderfully it acts they realize how unnecessary it is to use drastic salt waters, pills and powders, for these do but temporary good and are weakening to most constitutions. Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, on the contrary, is so natural and safe, (it contains no narcotic or strong drugs), that two generations of mothers have given it to their babies.

Take a teaspoonful the next time you feel any distress of the stomach, liver or bowels, if you are constipated, have a headache, cold or fever, if you are bilious, dyspeptic, tired. If Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin should ever fail to do as claimed you can have your money refunded. More people use it than any other laxative in the world.

There are heads of families who will want to prove to their own satisfaction that my Laxative Syrup Pepsin is as effective in constipation, as mild and gentle in action, as pleasant-tasting and safe, as I claim. Let such write me for a free sample. It will be sent postpaid. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 19 Front Street, Bridgeburg, Ont.

POLITICAL PICNICS.

There are a number of political picnics of various kinds scheduled for Ontario this summer, and it would be just as well for their promoters to take a lesson from several which have been held already, and which have not proved any howling success. People don't want to be bothered in the hot weather with heavy mental pap that is apt to sour the stomach, and they want more than mincemeat with their sandwiches. Long-winded orators are all right in their place, but that place isn't at a summer picnic where people want vaudeville more than mental stimulation.—Guelph Herald.

An Unexpected Invitation

CHAPTER II

The week following the holiday dance at the Biltmore I received an invitation to a dinner party, for myself and husband from Mrs. Leon Walker.

"Mrs. Leon Walker—Mrs. Leon Walker?" I repeated over and over to myself, while I scanned the address and contents of the pale pink note paper.

Then suddenly my memory grasped the picture of Kent's little, fat blonde friend of the flashy diamond brooch. But I had not met her! My brows puckered a minute in a doubtful frown. Why should she invite Kent and me to dinner?

Then as quickly the questioning frown disappeared, and my love for Kent brought a smile of understanding to my lips. It was just Kent's fascinating ways. They enthralled everyone. When people met Kent they invariably maneuvered until they found a way of seeing him again.

As I was placing the invitation back in the envelope I heard Kent's key in the front door. He came into the living room and stood near me where I sat at the desk.

"Any mail far me, Babs?" he asked, drawing off his light chamois gloves and pressing his cool hands against my cheeks.

"Kent, your hands are like ice!" I exclaimed, placing my warm fingers over his cold ones and drawing them lovingly across my lips so I could press a kiss upon them. He aughed a big, wonderful laugh and held my face up for a real kiss.

"There's an invitation for both of us, Kent," I told him, turning toward the desk again and handing the pink note out to him. "It's from your fat little friend of the diamond brooch," I teased.

Kent's face blanched a little, just the trace of a sudden whiteness spreading across his forehead and cheeks. He opened the note and read it, holding it with long, steady fingers.

I had noticed that Kent never blushed. I had marveled at his self-control, and envied it, though a few times before I had seen this strange paleness steal across his features. Had I been one of the kind to analyze and reason about such things, I would have know that, though a blush might come from embarrassment, one usually turns pale from fright or dread. But then I could not conceive of Kent Armour being afraid of anything. I did not know then that a man can be afraid of himself—afraid of strange, overpowering forces within his own soul.

I had been married two years to Kent Armour. Our "love nest" was an attractive five-room apartment on the outskirts of Greenwich Village. It was there that Kent had brought me as his bride.

The early years of my life had been sheltered, and I had known few men. Business reverses, and finally the death of my father, found mother and me strugging to make both ends meet and at the same time keep up a brave semblance of luxury and social position. That my mother was aiming to get me married, and married well, was all too apparent to me, and equally offensive.

Then I had met Kent Armour. He was handsome, with large brown deep-set eyes and slightly curling thick black hair brushed straight back from a white forehead, and he had the physique of an Adonis. One felt that he must have a touch of the Latin in his warm blood.

My mother did not care for Kent, and I felt it was because he was not as rich as she might have wished him to be. Yet I loved him from the first. Everyone loved Kent. He was one of the favorites of our little social set, liked by both the men and women. There was something fascinating, daring, romantic about him, and the fact that no one knew very much about him only added to his inherent charm. Everyone took Kent Armour at his face value and asked for nothing more.

Our two years of married life had been two wonderful dream years. Kent loved me very dearly. Sometimes I was almost afraid he loved me too much, put me up on too high a pedestal. I only hoped I would always be able to remain in that cherished place where he had placed me in his wonderful love.

As to my own knowledge of Kent's early life, I knew nothing. I only knew that he loved me, and that I loved him. In fact, I never questioned or thought very much about those years of the past, either his or mine. I was too happy. And Kent never offered to tell me.

To-morrow —Barbara is Undecided.

DAWES' TUNE FOR KREISLER

General is Revealed as Composer of Melody the Artist Plays.

CHICAGO, July 4.—Charles G. Dawes, chairman of the Board of Central Trust Company, Brigadier General in the A. E. F. and now in Washington organizing the Government's budget system, appeared in a new role to-day—that of a musical composer.

General Dawes, it was announced is the author of a violin composition "Melody in A Maior", which is being played by Fritz Kreisler, who it was said, selected it without knowing the identity of the composer.

General Dawes plays a violin and is known to have written several compositions, but this was the first to be published.

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

If Mixed With Sulphur it Darkens so Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural colour and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural colour and looks glossy, soft and beautful.

FASCISTI TAKE REVENGE

Say They Killed 15 Communists and Injured Many Others.

ROME, July 4 (Havas).—One member of the Fascisti, or extreme Nationalist Party was killed in Gros seto, capital af the Maremme region, during the course of a riot, says the Tempo to-day. Hearing of the fatality, thousands of Fascisti journeyed from Rome, Siena and Trieste to Grosseto and ransacked the Labor Exchange, a communist news paper office and several communist homes the newspaper adds.

A statement issued by the Fascisti says that fifteen communists were killed and many injured in the raid.

REFUGES OF REVOLT RETURN TO PETROGRAD

RIGA, July 5.—(Canadian Press.)—The Bolshevik paper Novy Put says that during the past few days about 1,500 refugees who took part in the Kronstadt revolt, have returned from Finland to Petrograd. Some weeks ago Bolshevik airplanes flew over the refugee camps near Terioki and they dropped leaflets promising amnesty to all Kronstadt citizens who wished to return home except the ring leaders of the revolt.

The Finnish government protested against this breach of "air neutrality" by the Soviet, but about one-third of the refugees have petitioned to be allowed to return.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 6th, 1921

Announcing Our 14th Annual Employees' Holiday Annex

The Prices Are Half and Less Than a Year Ago

STORE CLOSED ALL DAY THURSDAY, JULY 7th

IT has been the custom of this Store for the last thirteen years to make the first Thursday in July an "Employees' Holiday." On this date the store is closed for the entire day. To enable us to do two days business in one it has also been the custom to fill the Bargain Annex with attractive Summer merchandise at prices that are even lower than the usual greatly reduced Annex quotations. To-morrow's list is no exception to the rule—in fact it establishes a record for "Employees' Holiday" Annex Values.

A GREAT VALUE.

Cressman's "Ideal" Ball Floss, 2 for 25c

It was too much to hope for, a little while ago, that Knitting Floss of this grade would be so low. But it is a reality, for the price in the Annex on Wednesday will be 2 for 25c. Suitable for any kind of Knitting, and obtainable in Twenty of the season's most popular shades, including Black and White.

New Shipment of Women's Summer Undervests, 33c—3 for 95c

You will like the cut of them and the way they are knit. Trimmed with Lace, and you have choice of short sleeves or sleeveless styles. "Harvey" and "Shaw" brands. Formerly they were 50c, 65c, and 75c values.

Women's 75c, Black, Brown and White Lisle Hose, 49c Pair, 2 Pairs 95c

Excellent quality Mercerized Lisle Stockings that are fashioned to form without seams. First buyers will find every size, from 8½ to 10, in Black and White, and sizes 8½ to 9½ in Brown. At this price they are worth buying in Half-dozen lots.

The Annex Is The Place To Buy "Fleet-Foot" Rubber Sole Sport Shoes.

We guarantee that every pair is first quality. Annex quantity buying and quantity selling brings the Prices down. The colours are Black and Brown.

Children's Sizes, 4 to 10—$1.24 pair.

Girls' Sizes, 11 to 2—$1.43 pair.

Boys' Sizes, 1 to 5—$1.79 pair.

Women's Summer-Knit Combinations, 45c

This price is just Half. There are medium and large sizes, and the Drawers have double knees and Crochet Lace Edging, and the Vests are sleeveless "Opera Style" with wash ribbon bands.

Boys' and Girls' Fine Ribbed Black Cotton Hose, 2 Pairs for 45c

Fifty Dozen of this new Annex line. They are suitable for Boys' and Girls' wear. They are seamless, and are guaranteed to be absolutely fast in colour. Every size from 6 to 9½.

Children's White Cotton Drawers, 37c

A new shipment of Girls' Drawers, made of a splendid quality White Cotton. They are Embroidery trimmed, and come in a good range of sizes. Regular 50c and 65c values.

WOMEN'S ENGLISH MOREEN UNDERSKIRTS, 87c —

Each time these Underskirts are on Sale we sell a lot of them. The Moreen is a good, substantial quality, and they come in pretty colours — Rose, Purple, Myrtle Green, Grey, Copenhagen, Brown, Prunella, Paddy Green, Navy and Black.

WOMEN'S FINE NAINSOOK NIGHT GOWNS, 89c — Two dainty styles in "Mother Hubbard" Slip-over Gowns. One has a neat, plain, hemstitched yoke and the other is trimmed with fine Lace. Both lines are a maker's clearaway lot. To-morrow's price is very low.

This season's garments of White Middy Cloth, with Rose, Blue, or Green trimmed collars. The Girls' sizes are 8 to 14, Misses' from 16 to 20, and Women's from 34 to 42.

Women's Overall Aprons, 55c

Made Bungalow style, of light and medium coloured Prints. They have strap belts, useful pockets, and White pipings at neck. The best Aprons to be had at anywhere near this price.

Women's White Underskirts, 79c

This is a manufacturer's clearaway lot. They are surprisingly good, both in the quality of the Cotton and the Embroidery work that makes a deep flounce at the bottom. The seams and edges are all well finished. Sizes 34 and 36.

45c "Everett" Shirtings, 24c Yard

These Shirtings are old acquaintances to Annex buyers. They have a splendid reputation for long wear, and are fully guaranteed to wash perfectly. You will have an assortment of patterns in Blues and Blue Greys to select from. The width is 32 inches. Besides being used for Shirtings, they are popular for Women's and Girls' Wash Dresses.

Yard-Wide Cambric Shirtings, 33c Yard

We have had great success with these Shirtings, but we take no credit for their achievements. It's their own good qualities that are responsible for their popularity. Thirty-six inches wide; light and medium colours.

"Hazel" and "Roberdel" Ginghams, 19c Yard

These Ginghams have made quite a reputation for themselves this season, because of their good quality and low price. There is a good assortment of colourings and patterns—mostly attractive Plaids and neat Checks.

A Rush Clearaway Sale

500 Yards of Yard-Wide Dress Voiles 29c Yard

This price is away less than half the regular value. They are all bright, new goods that have been in stock for less than a month. A most attractive selection of patterns, in colourings of Black, Navy, Fawn, Blue, Mauve, and Rose. They are 36 inches wide.

35c Extra Heavy, 40-Inch Factory Cotton, 19c Yard

We consider this our best Factory Cotton value of the season. As we said before, and it is worth repeating again, "it is an extra heavy weight." You will find it is firm and clean, and measures the full 40 inches. It is 19c a yard only, because we have an overstock of it.

Largest Size 12-4 Flannelette Blankets, $2.49 Pair

Besides being the largest size, they are also the best quality. You can have White or Light Grey, with Pink or Blue borders. We guarantee that every pair is absolutely perfect.

Huckaback Bedroom Towels, 25c Pair

A shipment of Twenty Dozen has just reached us. We find they are real splendid value, for the quality is good, the ends are hemmed, and the size is 25 x 15 inches. If you buy them in Six or Twelve Pair lots, you will be doing something economical.

Standard Quality Awning Ducks, 45c Yard

Obtainable only in Blue and White Stripe pattern. But as it is a pretty combination and a good shade of Blue, most anyone would be satisfied with it, and would not wish any other colour anyway. The quality is standard, even though the price is away below the usual.

Heavy Quality, 8/4 Width, Bleached Sheeting, 47c Yard

Only a few months ago 75c was our lowest possible price for this splendid quality Sheeting. It is woven with a round thread, is a heavy quality and fully bleached. Made in Canada.

White Saxony Flannelette, 17c Yard

Saxony Flannelette differs from other kinds. It has a soft, nappy surface that is desirable for any purpose. The width is 35 inches. The Price is typical of the Annex—very low.

Sash and Hair Bow Ribbons, 23c Yd.

This is a new lot of plain colour Taffetas. The width is 5¼ inches and the colour range comprises Pink, Pale Blue, Copenhagen, Red, Navy Blue, White, and Black. Come and see the quality and note the width, and you will realize their exceptional value.

Time-Limit Sales Are Big Features of To-morrow's Selling

500 Yards (Mill Ends) White Wash Goods, 15c Yard

This is our second Sale of these Ends. We purchased them direct from the Mill at a very low price. You will find Gabardines, Middy Twills, Beach Cloths, White Dimities, Crepes, and Vestings. The lengths are from ½ to 10 yards, and the regular prices were from 30c to 45c yard.

11.30 a.m. to 1.30 p.m.

"Special" Toilet Paper," 10 Rolls for 39c

Just think. This price is less than 4c a Roll. It is "Special" brand, a good quality Crepe Paper. At this price there is a positive limit of 10 Rolls to one buyer.

4.30 p.m. to 5.30 p.m.

50c Circular Pillow Cotton, 35c Yard

A heavy quality Circular Pillow Cotton that is Made in Canada. The widths are 40 and 42 inches, and our everyday selling price is 50c a yard. Come sharp at 4.30 p.m. There is bound to be brisk selling.

A. A. FOWLER ATTENDED NEW YORK CONVENTION

A. A. Fowler has just returned from an important convention of the American Optical Association, which was held in New York. It was the largest gathering of Optometrists ever got together in the world. Representatives were present from all parts of Canada and the United States and England. Every manufacturer of optical goods was there with an exhibit, and the week was most profitably spent by all the members.

Mr. Fowler saw the shell rims, now so popular for eye glasses, manufactured from start to finish, and he states that a large factory makes nothing else but this one line of goods.

One incident out of the convention line was a visit to a big league ball game, where Babe Ruth, the batting marvel, was seen in action.

CANADA'S OUTLOOK IS BRIGHTENING

DECLARES HEAD OF DOMINION CANNERS TO ROTARY CLUB.

ST. CATHARINES, July 5.—At the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club in Welland, Mr. Drynan, of Hamilton, active head of the Dominion Canners Limited, when speaking optimistically of Canada's future, referred to the fact that Canada is rich in natural resources, that capital was becoming easier and that there was more money in the banks than ever before, the savings bank accounts having doubled since 1914. Labor cost is coming down slowly, he said, but labor is becoming more efficient. These facts, combined with the crops of to-day, Mr. Drynan thought should cause Canadians to feel most optimistic of the future.

Rotarian John Charles of Niagara Falls expressed the opinion that long before the snow flies the situation in Canada will have become normal and that the country will be on its way to a thoroughly reconstructed sane method of legislation. He spoke of the need of reaching a common meeting ground between capital and labor and felt that this was being done to-day, that the differences were being settled by man to man conferences. In conclusion he advocated the preaching of complete tolerance between man and business, a league of common understanding.

ALDERMEN ANXIOUS TO WIND UP HUNTER STREET BRIDGE

ATTEMPT IN COUNCIL TO TRANSFER THE REMAINING WORK TO THE CITY'S DEPARTMENTS WAS DEFEATED LAST NIGHT—COUNCIL DECIDED TO CONFER WITH CONTRACTORS AS THE BEGINNING OF THE END.

Aldermen Gordon, Crowe, Hay and Morrison were prepared last night to take the completion of the Hunter street bridge out of the contractors' hands cut the staff down to a minimum and wind the whole thing up as expeditiously and economically as possible. These four aldermen wanted to conclude all discussions last night with action. The five others, Aldermen Hamilton Whitehouse, Turner Gainey and Phelan wanted to have a confab with the contractors before taking any steps.

Inspector Fred Christie reported that the chipping was progressing well. Fifteen guns were on the job he said.

Ald. Gordon, Ald. Crowe and Mayor McIntyre considered that chipping other than the hand rail was unnecessary and Ald. Gordon declared the city should take over the whole bridge now and the city engineer's department could see it finished and the treasurer's department could look after the clerical work. There was a whole gang of men working there that could be dispensed with, he thought and a saving effected. He moved, seconded by Ald. Crowe that the Ashburnham bridge be completed and the salvage disposed of, by the engineer's department and that the clerical work be done and payments made by the City Treasurer on the certificate of the City Engineer and that all help except the mechanics and labourers be dispensed with to date from July 11, next.

"We can take it out of Mr. Townshend's hands and finish it. Everythings been done wrong that could be —that's my opinion", said Ald. Gordon. He doubted whether there was enough money to finish the bridge with land damages arbitration etc., eating a big hole in the money. Ald. Gordon figured $22,000, land damages. Mayor McIntyre thought $10,000 nearer the mark.

"There's going to be something doing when this Council goes to the vote. You don't meet a man on the street but asks why that bunch is staying on here. I tell you the people are sick and tired of this." This was Ald. Gordon's gloomy statement to the Council. Mr Christie said there we re 24 men or the bridge now. They had beer needed right along he said.

Proposes Conference

A conference with the contractor before taking over the work was advised by Ald. Turner. Ald. Phelan and Ald. Gainey spoke in favor of a meeting and the Mayor suggested Wednesday night. In the ayes and nays Ald. Gordon lost his motion. Ald. Turner's motion was that a letter be written the Russell-Townshend Co., and they be informed that the Council is desirous of taking over the work of finishing the construction of the Ashburnham Bridge and ask them to meet a Committee of the Whole Council as soon as possible, preferably this week and that they be instructed to bring information as to the tools and implenmens belonging to the city and such other information as will be required by the City for the completion of the work.—Carried.

BED BUG POISON

There are dozens of preparations recommended to destroy bed bugs. But the preparation that gives the will soon wipe out the pest. It is composed of Corrosive Sublimate, methyl-hydrate, and carbolic acid, and as it is very poisonous it should be kept out of the reach of children.

Post's Bed Bug Poison is sold at Lynch's Drug Store, 168 Hunter St.

OTTAWA MAN ESCAPES FROM AUBURN PRISON.

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

SYRACUSE, N.Y., July 5.—Frank Gagne, sentenced from Buffalo to serve four years for grand larceny last March, escaped from Auburn Prison some time yesterday. He was not missed until the roll call was taken at 8 p.m. Gagne was 19 years old. His home is in Ottawa.

EXCHANGE FRAUDS PROBE CONTINUES

TESTIMONY OF YESTERDAY'S WITNESSES DENIED TO-DAY.

OTTAWA, July 5. — (Canadian Press.)—Denials of the evidence of yesterday's witnesses featured the hearing this morning before Commissioner G. T. Clarkson of evidence in the investigation into the alleged frauds in connection with the cashing of returned soldiers' sterling cheques at par.

M. Hubbell, who was on the stand this morning, and P. V. Lowe, an employee of the Exchange branch. Both denied statements attributed to them by previous witnesses. Hubbell declared that in making certain payments which were under review he had acted on instructions from Lowe. The later in turn denied that he had given instructions regarding the payment of the amount to A. E. Hill, ex-constable. With regard to holding of English currency at the Exchange branch, in some cases for weeks, J. M. Godfrey, counsel for the government, said that the suggestion was that this money had been handed out to people to again exchange it at par. Lowe replied that he did not see how this would work as accounts would not balance. Lowe said that he had required applicants to make a sworn declaration that the money they sought to exchange was from pay and allowance. The investigation is continuing this afternoon.

COUNCIL ACCEPTS OFFER OF $6,250 FOR THE RAPID TOOL CO. PROPERTY

THIS LOT IS INCLUDED IN PROPOSED RIVERSIDE PARK PURCHASE—I.O.F. ASK FOR GRANT TO ENTERTAIN CONVENTION.

Representing the Independent Order of Foresters, Mr. Andy Webb asked the Council last night for assistance in the entertainment of the 250 delegates who will attend the High Court meeting here, the third week in August. The meeting will be held in the G.W.V.A. Hall, he said, and would last four days.

"I think we better leave that to the Legal and Reception Committee," said Ald. Gordon.

"That's for the Finance. They're the ones with all the money," declared Chairman Ald. Crowe.

To what extent and in what manner the city should entertain the visiting Foresters was left to Ald. Crowe's committee.

Ask For Transportation.

As a result of a motion passed in Council last night, the City Clerk will write the Hydro-Electric Commission and ask for free transportation for the Sanitary Inspector, City Relief Officer, Plumbing Inspector, and Assistant City Engineer. Ald. Phelan brought up the matter, and moved that the Council allow $5 a month to the Sanitary Inspector for car fare. Ald. Gainey said this would be $60 a year, and they might get free transportation if they asked the Hydro.

Ald. Turner opposed asking for "passes." "Why shouldn't we pay," he said. "You can't run anything on passes."

Ald. Gainey said there was no harm in trying.

Ald. Phelan said he and Ald. Gordon were going to ask Sir Adam Beck about it when in Toronto, but after being let down from paving, hesitated to ask further favors.

Ald. Gainey moved, seconded by Ald. Crowe, the amendment to Ald. Phelan's motion, asking for free transportation for several city officials.

The amendment carried.

Accept Property Price.

After the purchase had been discussed pro and con previously, a resolution accepting the offer of D. G. Lundy and W. G. Ferguson to sell their property adjoining the bridge for $6,250, moved by Ald. Gainey and seconded by Ald. Morrison, was adopted.

The motion was:

"That the offer of D. G. Lundy, Esq., and W. G. Ferguson, offering to sell their property to the Corporation of the City of Peterborough for the sum of $6,250 be accepted, said property lying east of the River Otonabee, and south of Hunter Street, and being composed of all of Lot 21 and parts of Lots 18 and 19, according to Plan Number 1A and part of Block F on said plan described in Registered Instrument Number 15,224, and all rights-of-way and casements in connection therewith."

"That the said sale be completed as soon as the city is in a position to carry out their part of the contract."

Report on Lights.

Ald. Morrison, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, asked the Council last night to place lights at the corner of Smith and Bethune, London and Park, at Kendry's Crossing, on Perry between Aylmer and Olive Avenue, and one on Maud Street. He said the lights had been removed and were badly needed. Ald. Gordon wanted the City Engineer to report on the need for these lights. Ald. Whitehouse objected to throwing any more work on Mr. Parson's shoulders. Ald. Gordon's motion that the City Engineer report on them was lost, and an amendment by Ald. Hamilton that the Fire, Water and Light Committee make a report on them, and also investigate the entire street lighting system carried.

Suggestion to Fire Chief.

Ald. Gordon noticed there was no monthly report from the Fire Chief last night, and he objected to it not being in. He was informed by the City Clerk it might be in some mail for the Mayor which he had not opened.

Ald. Gordon said the report should go to the City Clerk, and moved that the Chief send his reports to the Clerk, not the Mayor. Carried.

Tenders to Clerk.

Ald. Hamilton, just before the Council adjourned, gave to the keeping of the City Clerk all tenders he had received. He moved that all tenders called for any work be addressed to the City Clerk instead of the chairmen of the various committees, and they be plainly marked on the outside what they are for.

City Engineer Parsons reported last night that the cost of a sidewalk on Monaghan Road, from Sherbrooke Street to a point 462 feet southerly, would be $858, and one on Bethune Street, from Antrim to a point 34 feet north, $163.50.

A GREAT GOOD CAN COME FROM YOUR SUBSCRIPTION TO THE FUND FOR THE BLIND—READ THE OBJECTS.

The efforts of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind in the direction of the prevention of blindness and conservation of eyesight are, for the present, divisible into six main lines, as set forth below. This work is in the immediate charge of Nurse G. E. Ewing, a graduate of the Montreal General Hospital, who has had special training in this particular line of work under some of the best organized agencies for the prevention of blindness on this continent.

It will be noticed that the Institute is not undertaking treatment or care of the eye, in the sense of maintaining a hosptial, clinic or dispensary, or a staff of visiting nurses. We will gladly do all in our opwer to serve the needs of individual cases, but we are not equipped to take charge (so to speak) of individual case treatment.

Dr. J. M. MacCallum and Mr. J. C. Williams, both of Toronto, are respectively our Honorary Oculist and Honoray Optician. Dr. MacCallum, will, upon recommendation of the Institute, give personal examination and advice, gratuitously, to any case of eye disablement, and if he prescribes glasses, Mr. Williams will, on recommendation of the Institute, fill the prescription gratuitously. Other than as above the Institute has as yet made no provision for official or for gratuitous eye service.

Our Department for the Prevention of Blindness is, as yet, very young, having only been inaugurated Feb. 1st, 1919.

The Six Main Lines.

(a) A campaign against preventable eye diseases, in particular Ophthalmia Neonatorum — the commonest cause of infantile blindness, in support of which governmental action has already been taken. The loss of sight from this cause is preventable in almost one hundred per cent .of cases, it the right treatment is applied at the right time, but if neglected for but a few hours, partial of total blindness is likely to result.

(b) A campaign against preventable eye accident and eye strain, particularly among adults engaged in industrial and commercila pursuits. Just a little safeguard against flying bits of material, intense heat or light, or sudden flashes, working in poor light, at fine processes, etc., often means the saving of deteriorationi f not the loss of sight. The matter of proper lighting also applies to the school children who may thereby, as well as by the intelligent use of adjustable desks, beprevented from reaching the stage where they need to be cared for under the next caption.

(c) The inauguration of so-called "sight-saving classes" in the public schools, at least in our larger cities, many children not blind enough to be sent to schools for the blind struggle through public schools under a great handicap and a great strain, because of the failure, on the part of those in charge, to recognize serious eye defect, or to make special provision for dealing with it. The result is too often still lower vision, because of the undue strain upon the eyes, nervous and physical debility as a secondary result of the strain), poor scholastic standing (too often set down unjustly to dullness) because the things which all normal children see normally are seen dimly, with difficulty, or not at all, by those with seriously defective sight. Such simple methods as the use of the regular school books published in "mammoth type," the use of dissected (picture-puzzle) maps adjustable desks, etc., are sometimes all that is needed to improve schalastic standing and general condition, to say nothing of conserving, if not improving, the vision.

(d) Advice and follow-up work, when treatment, operation, special glasses, etc., can be of benefit in saving or improving vision. It is surprising how many persons suffering from operable catracts, or who need special glasses which can only be procured upon prescription from an expert oculist handicap their efforts and endanger their future condition, by neglecting—often through lack of knowledge—the things which are to hand.

(e)A campaign for publicity on this whole question which shall arouse the public to the need of this work, the danger of neglecting it, and the means of acomplishing the desired results.

(f) The preparation of such data for sugestions in future legislation as shall tend towards the elimination of the largest possible amount of blindness, or eye disability, which can by any means, be averted.

Millions of People Are Suffering

Indigestion, Headaches, Constipation, Sallow Complexions, Kidney Pains, Rheumatism are all caused from a poisoned system. due to the Liver. Doctors recommend that you take one Tanated Calomel tablet before each meal, or two at bedtime, and in a few days your pains will disappears, your complexion will become clear and you will feel keen, bright, vigorous and life once more will be worth living. The wonderful success of this new drug (Tanated Calomel) is due to the fact that it is the only drug known that acts upon the Liver. No Salts or Seidlitz are necessary to remove it from the system, as it is self-illiminating. You, no doubt, have taken all sorts of medicine for your particular ailment, but you never get permanent relief, because the medicines you have been taking do not act upon the Liver. Doctors now say that 90 per cent. of all ailments are due to the inactivity of the Liver. A poisoned system soon decays, and that is why I would recommend that you go to F. C. Webber's, Charlotte street, and get a box.

PARTING TOKENS TO REV. M. W. LEIGH

goodly number of the members, of the Bensfort Sunday School, met at the Parsonage, Fraserville, on Saturday evening last, and gave expression to their appreciation of the efforts of Rev. M. W. Leigh, B.A., in the organization of the senool and the teaching of the Bible Class. The address was accompanied by a presentation of a leather club bag, and appropriate reply was made. On Monday evening the members of the Sunday School class at Fraserville presented Dorothy Leigh with an address and birthday ring. On the same evening the members of the W.M.S. of Bailieboro, with their husbands and friends, expressed to Mrs. Leigh their appreciation of her work, and presented a sum of money with best wishes for blessings upon the work on the new field. Rev. M. W. Leigh, B.A., and family leave Fraserville on Wednesday for their new field at Enterprise, Ont.

Ald. Gainey asked what the account Instruments, Ltd., was for, and was informed that it was in connection with the Engineers' Department.

Ald. Gordon asked what the account of $25.00 from G. W. Hatton was.

The City Clerk said it was fees paid for prosecution of O. T. A. cases.

Ald. Gordon said the City Solicitor should get the fees. These fees, if the prosecution was successful, were paid by accused, but if the case was lost the city paid the prosecutor's fees, Ald. Gordon said. According to a resolution once passed, Mr. Widdifield was to prosecute for the city in all cases under the O. T. A., and Ald. Gordon maintained he should get all that was coming to him.

The City Solicitor stated that there had been a resolution passed that he was to prosecute for the city. If he won he received fees, if he lost he would receive no fees, he said, unless Council desired to reimburse him.

"I'd take that out of the police estimates next year," said Ald. Gordon.

Ald. Turner and other members felt that the resolution as on the books should be adhered to, and Ald. Turner, moved, seconded by Ald. Hay, that the attention of the Chief Constable be called to a resolution of the Council requesting that the City Solicitor be called in by him upon prosecutions of informations laid by the police under the O. T. A., and that he be informed that the Council will not pay other counsel for such prosecutions.

This resolution was adopted, and Ald. Gordon followed it up by moving that the City Solicitor be paid a fee of $5.00 by the city in each case in which he appears at the request of the police in O. T. A. cases in which he is not paid by accused.

Ald. Turner objected to the city paying a fee if he lost. He understood it was part of his duties.

Ald. Gordon said it was not part of his duties, and when he was City Solicitor he refused to do it.

Ald. Turner then wanted to throw the prosecutions open to all the lawyers.

Other members remonstrated that the City Solicitor devoted himself entirely to prosecutions, and should be paid as well as anyone else. The resolution should be observed, and in their opinion he had every right to fees.

Ald. Gordon pointed out that defences were profitable, but prosecutions profitless, and if the prosecutor fought his case well and worked all day, he had every right to be paid, although he lost, and the city should pay him.

From this viewpoint Ald. Turner supported the resolution, and it was adopted.

SOCCER SESSION RECEIVED REPORT FROM PRESIDENT

Another late and busy session of the Peterboro Football Association Executive was experienced last night. President Cook had a lengthy report from the O.F.A. Council meeting at Toronto on July 1. He gave the important information that Peterboro is drawn against Brantford in the Plenty Cup Competition and the game will be played in Brantford on or before July 30. Two members were appointed to select two teams from which the eleven for the Plenty Cup game will be chosen.

Rev. C. J. Phelan who leaves shortly for Campbellford, attended the meeting and spoke warmly of his association with the footballers and the executive of the P. and D. F. A. He expressed regret at his inabiity in the future to maintain interest he desired to give to the association but he said he would still be identified with it and do all in his power to promote football. Members of the executive expressed their appreciation of Rev. Phelan's work and regretted his departure to a new field of service.

It is expected that Rev. Phelan will be able to urge Campbellford Warkworth and surrounding towns to enter the Peterboro City and District Football Association and thus become affiliated with the O. F. A.

Woollens Protest.

The protest of the Canadian Woollens team of Saturday's game with the De Laval on the grounds that Curtis who played for the De Laval was unregistered was discussed at the meeting but left in abeyance for fuller information. A definite decision will be reached at the meeting next Monday nigh.

Civic Holiday Game

The executive accepted the invitation of the Exhibition Board to put on a football match at the Exhibition Grounds on Civic Holiday and it was decided to stage an International Game-England vs. Scotland-the old favorite. This game should be a fine drawing card.

Alec. McKinley was appointed to take charge of the Charity Cup game betwen the G.W.V.A. and the Caledonians at the Oval to-night. The Executive arranged that the two remaining City League fixtures be played as follows:

Saturday, July 9.—C.G.E. vs. Comrades, J. L. Howarth, referee.

Thursday, July 14—Caledonions vs. C. G. E.

FOOTBALL NOTES

McDONALD SELECTED FOR ALL ONTARIO TEAM

The local secretary of the P.F.A. received a telegram this morning from R. B. Muir, secretary of the O. F. A. asking for J. McDonald of the C. G. E. team to report in Toronto on Thursday to be in readiness to play against the Scottish Pros. at the Island Stadium. His display at Galt on July 1 won him this distinct recognition.

WOOLLENS NOTICE

A general meeting of the Canadian Woollens Athletic Association will be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 7.30 p.m. to-morrow All the members are requested to attend. Business of importance is scheduled. All players are reminded to turn in their uniforms.

MINIMUM PUBLICITY FOR THE EXECUTION

RANEY OPPOSES LARGE NEWS PAPER REPRESENTATION AT HOTRUM-M'FADDEN HANGING.

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

TORONTO, July 5.—The execution of Roy Hotrum and W. M. McLadden, who have been condemned to be hanged on August 3, for the murder of Leonard Cecil Sabine, will be carried out with a minimum of publicity, provided no reprieves or commutations of sentence are passed in the meantime.

Attorney General Raney this morning stated that as yet he had given no consideration to the question of how many newspaper representatives should be allowed to view the proceedings. He was inclined to believe, however, that the arrangements would be the same as at the hanging of Norman Garfield in Woodstock, when only one reporter was allowed to cover the execution.

"I cannot see," said Mr. Raney, "how any good comes from giving a lot of publicity to the details of these affairs. I believe it should be reduced to a minimum, but I have not yet given any definite consideration to the matter."

INSTALATION OF I.O.O.F. OFFICERS

"MAN, WOMAN, MARRIAGE" AT ALLEN

A Story of the Ages, With Dorothy Philips and James Kirkwood as Chief Players.

Costly, gorgeous and brilliant, "Man, Woman, Marriage," the drama eternal, depicts woman throughout the ages. In scope of achievement and richness of presentation it sets high standards. In theme of universal appeal it reveals the changing spheres she has occupied since the dawn of history. Its magnificent sweep crystalizes the story of woman from the cave period to to-day.

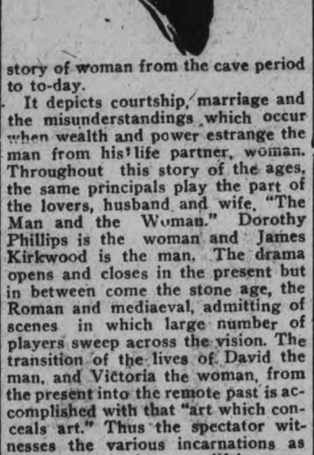
It depicts courtship, marriage and the misunderstandings which occur when wealth and power estrange the man from his life partner, woman. Throughout this story of the ages, the same principals play the part of the lovers, husband and wife, "The Man and the Woman." Dorothy Phillips is the woman and James Kirkwood is the man. The drama opens and closes in the present but in between come the stone age, the Roman and mediaeval, admitting of scenes in which large number of players sweep across the vision. The transition of the lives of David the man, and Victoria the woman, from the present into the remote past is accomplished with that "art which conceals art." Thus the spectator witnesses the various incarnations as if he were turning over life's pages. A thousand colorful incidents dovetail into this mosaic of the screen, "Man, Woman, Marriage."

ADDS ANOTHER TO HIS CHARACTER TRIUMPHS

Eddie Barry adds another to his long list of character triumphs in "Dining Room, Kitchen and Sink" at the Allen Theatre to-day. In this picture he has the role of a crook who undertakes to rob the home of a rich couple who are away and who finds a burlesque troupe and the rich uncle and aunt of the star there, too. It is promised as one of the fastest farces the screen has seen. Barry's work is said to surpass that as the henpecked professor in "Out for the Night" and as the dodering father in "Shuffle the Queens."



AT THE CAPITOL TO-NIGHT & TO-MORROW

COMEDY FEATURES CAPITOL PROGRAM

BLACK-FACE COMEDIANS SUPPLY VAUDEVILLE PART OF BILL.

The vaudeville entertainment at the Capitol Theatre for the first three days of this week is supplied by two clever black-face comedians, Boutte and Carter, Below the Mason Dixon line. Their performance last evening brought down the house. Their darky songs, clogs and a number of good jokes were well received, and the musical dancing, in which the dancer imitates with some clever foot-work the instruments of a band, was exceptionally good. The imitation of a train with fog whistles and rumbling bells, was also carried out splendidly by these clever steppers.

The comedy is a funny rendition of a ghost-ridden dream, in which the star performer makes a swift descent from celestial regions, and Bebe Daniels, in "Ducks and Drakes" has some fine opportunities for portraying her especial talents in a "good little, bad little" girl role.

This comedy drama deals with the adventures of a flirtatious young lady, whose recklessness causes all the comedy situations of the play. Her pet obsession is calling strange young men on the telephone, and her fiance concocts a plot with the aid of some friends to cure her of this reprehensive habit. Her reformation is finally completed, after a series of laugh-provoking dilemmas.

BASEBALL NOTES

A good tight game of ball was played last night between the Field Rats and the Bleachers in the King Edward Park.

The Bleachers held the Field Rats down to 0 at the end of the 7th innings while they scored 6 runs in the first and second innings.

The Rats came up to bat in the eighth innings and wallopped Bun Frost for 8 runs, giving the Rats 2 runs to the good.

The Bleachers up to bat again but could not hit "Shag's" hard ball. The Rats took the bat again and scored one more run. The Bleachers downhearted could not connect with the ball.

The batteries: Bleachers: Frost and Rogers. Filde Rats; Shaughnessy and Miler.

A change has been made in the arrangements for the use of Riverside Park on Thursday evening. A City League game between Hamilton's and the Y.M.C.A. will be played, and the Mercantile League contest between Lock Works and Barrie's will be moved forward to next Tuesday evening.

This evening the Lock Works will endeavour to put over a win in their game with Cressman's. Both teams will have strong line ups and the fans should see an interesting game.

CARPENTIER WILL SAIL ON JULY 21

QUEBEC, July 5. — (Canadian Press).—Georges Carpentier, defeated claimant to the heavyweight championship of the world, has passage on the Empress of Scotland, sailing from Quebec for Liverpool on July 21.

GENTLEMEN, ATTENTION!

A BIT OF NEWS THAT SHOULD GRIP YOU—NO MORE WAR CONDITIONS.

It's no good crying over spilled milk. High class, tailor-made suits must go down in price. I am prepared to sacrifice my fine assortment of genuine gentlemen's made clothes to meet the situation squarely. Beginning on Friday of this week I will offer you choice of any of my fine assortment of new patterns of worsteds, serges, tweeds, etc., made to your individual measure, at old-time prices.

For example you may have highest grade tailored suits for $45, $37.50, $30 and $25 instead of $65, $60, $50 and $40. The suits of the character we will sell at these prices are bound to be ponular with men and young men—fabric, fit, style and service in every case guaranted. Each garment cut and tailored separately, individually, to the measure and taste of the man who orders them.

Watch for further news regarding this re-adjustment of gentleman's high-class tailored clothes.

THE STORY OF THE FIGHT IN PICTURES.—1. Carpentier attacking and about to deliver the near-knockout blow with his right in the second round. The blow staggered Dempsey, but the Frenchman lost his advantage by excitedly leading into a clinch. 2. The first knockdown in the fourth round. Carpentier on his hands and knees and striving to rise. He finally got to his feet on the count of eight, but was very weak and unable to defend himself. 3. The knockout in the fourth round. Dempsey crossed both hands to the jaw and Carpentier fell on his back and though he made convulsive efforts to rise was unable to do so. He was counted out by Referee Ertle, but ten seconds later was standing on his feet in his corner apparently as well as ever.

SEMI-FINAL DEBATE AT OMEMEE FOR F. G. SANDY PRIZE

DRIFT OF POPULATION TO TOWNS AND CITIES NOT DETRIMENTAL SO FAR TO AGRICULTURE—SOCIAL AND PERSONAL NEWS.

OMEMEE, July 5. — The semi-final debate between Verulam and Emily for the prize awarded by Mr. F. G. Sandy, M.P.P., took place in Coronation Hall, Omemee, on Wednesday evening. The subject for the debate was: "Resolved, That the drift of population from the country to the towns and cities has not as yet been a detriment to agriculture."

Mr. T. Martin and Mr. W. Taylor, of Verulam, for the affirmative, and Mr. W. Howden and Mr. J. Jackson of Emily for the negative.

The able manner in which these young men handled the subject made it very difficult for the judges to arrive at a decision, which, however, was in favour of the affirmative.

Short addresses were given by Mr. Sandy, M.P.P., Mr. Mark, director of the debate for Mariposa, Mr. Callaghan, director of debates for Ops, Rev. Mr. Scott, Rev. Mr. Stillman, and Mr. A. A. Knight, of Lindsay.

The Pigeon River Minstrels quartette rendered two selections, which were very much enjoyed. Mr. D. Weir acted as chairman. At the close of the entertainment, the ladies of the U.F.W.O. of Omemee served a dainty lunch in the club room to the debaters and thier friends, also those assisting in the programme.

Harris—James.

The Anglican Church, Omemee, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday afternoon, 29th June, when Gwendolyn, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. James, rector of the church, was united in marriage to Mr. Herbert Harris, of Alliston, Ont. The charming young bride, beautifully gowned in white satin, trimmed with embroidered chiffon, and carrying a huge bouquet of white roses, entered the church on the arm of her brother Louis.

The bridesmaids were Miss M. Lamkin, dressed in mauve silk, and carrying mauve sweet peas, and Miss Helen James, in a pink gown, with hat to match, carrying pink sweet peas. Misses Aggie Clement and Mary James made two very pretty little flower girls, beautifully dressed in white voile, with leghorn hats, and carrying roses.

Mr. Harris, brother of the groom, was best man.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. James, father of the bride, after which a buffet lunch was served in the Rectory to about forty guests. The happy couple left amid showers of rice and confetti for a motor trip to London and points West before going to their home in Alliston.

The bride's travelling dress was of dark brown tricolette, with hat to match.

The ushers were Richard and Charlie James, brothers of the bride.

COUNCIL DISCUSS STREET PROBLEMS

CURBS, GRADING, DRAINAGE AND OILING BEFORE CITY FATHERS.

Residents of Elias avenue wrote the Council in regard to the city finishing the curb on the street started they alleged and left off when the war started. The tone of the letter was critical. City Engineer Parsons said that Elias avenue had received the same treatment as other streets On other streets the residents had constructed the curbs and if the work was done he said it would have to be a local improvement paid partly by the residents.

Ald. Crowe spoke in support of the petition of the residents for a curb and while at first he was going to move that the work be done as a local improvement when he became fully aware that the people would have to pay considerable of the cost which they object to, the motion was changed, regardless of protests of Ald. Whitehouse, that the Board of Works had no money, so the city would do all the curbing and fill in the sides. Ald. Gordon was the seconder. The motion went unsupported, the feeling being that if the city did this work they were establishing a dangerous precedent.

M. H. Quinlan asked the Council as he with others did in petition if the city could not grade Albertus avenue and the west ends of Gilmour and Wellar streets and Homewood and Walkerfield avenues. The Council was not sympathetic to an expenditure for grading there till some signs of building were evident Mr. Quinlan felt that grading would encourage building. Council looked at it from a safe viewpoint. They wanted to see the building first.

Mr. Abbott complained on behalf of the west end residents on Patterson street that the roadway was in a very bad condition and the drainage was unsatisfactory. Mr. Parsons stated that this was due to the smallness of the drain on Park street and there was no money in the appropriations for extensive work there. Ald. Whitehouse could not resist pointing out that the storm drain bylaw which would have allowed for a complete and efficient drainage of this part of the city was rejected by the ratepayers and the drainage could not now be improved. Ald. Morrison said that the roadway was in bad condition and Ald. Whitehouse promised to effect repairs to it so the matter was referred to his committee.

That Reid street north of McDonnel street be oiled was the fervent appeal T. Stenson one of the residents on the street to the Council last night. The dust was creating an abominable nuisance he declared and despite the fact it was a main road not a drop of oil had touched its surface this year.

Ald. Crowe interpected that the important roads should be done first but Ald. Whitehouse reminded him and Mr. Stenson that they could not do all the roads at once. Reid street must be repaired he said and after Park street is finished work on it will be proceeded with. Mr. Stenson said the explanation was satisfactory and the weary-eyed householders along the much-travelled street will shorty see the steam roller, the oil cart and other appurtanences of the engineer's department arriving to set things right.

MARRIED THROUGH HOSPITAL WINDOW

BRIDE ISOLATED WITH SCARLET FEVER BUT CEREMONY PERFORMED.

(Special Despatch to the Examiner.)

MOOSE JAW, Sask., July 5. — Cupjid won another notable victory yesterday over scarlet fever at the local isolation hospital, when Miss O'Brien of Philadelphia, was united in marriage with Charles Barker, of Vancouver, by Rev. Father Egan, of Boston.

Scarlet fever, while defeated in the contest with his winged adversary, was not routed, for the ceremony was performed through a window of the hospital.

Safe behind a germ proof sheet of glass, the groom and Father Egan, took their stand in the hospital grounds, while Miss O'Brien made her responses from the interior of the building.

Following the ceremony the bride returned to her ward to await the expiration of her six weeks exile, while the groom left Moose Jaw for his home in Vancouver.

Miss O'Brien was stricken with scarlet fever while travelling to Vancouver with Father Egan, where she was to have been married.

She was taken from the train here and removed to the Isolation hospital at once. The hospital authorities declare that the bride is not seriously ill.

Want to Feel Just Right?

Take an NR Tonight

JUST TRY IT AND SEE how much better you feel in the morning. That "logy," headachy, tired, don't-do-your-what's-the-matter feeling will be gone—you'll feel fine.

TROUBLE IS, your system is clogged with a lot of impurities that your over-worked digestive and eliminative organs can't get rid of. Pills, oil, salts, calomel and ordinary laxatives, cathartics and purges only force the bowels and prod the liver.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and even kidneys, not forcing, but toning and strengthening these organs. The result is prompt relief and real, lasting benefit. Make the test. Nature's Remedy will act promptly, thoroughly, yet so mildly, so gently, that you will think nature herself has come to the rescue and is doing the work.

And oh, what a relief! You'll be surprised to find how much better you feel—brighter, better every way. If habitually or stubbornly constipated, take one NR Tablet each night for a week. Then you'll not have to take medicine every day. Just an occasional NR tablet after that will be sufficient to keep your system in good condition—keep you looking your best.

APPEALS TO FAIR PLAY OF THE MEN ON SCHOOL BOARD

To the Editor, Examiner:

Dear Sir,—By the removal of Mr. G. O. Cameron, a vacancy will be created on the Board of Education, which is filled by the members of the Board themselves until the annual election, which takes place in January.

Mr. Cameron has served on the Board of Education for several years, and during that time has given faithful and acceptable service, and his departure from the city is a matter of regret to many. But the question is, "Who will be appointed in his place? Will the Board of Education do the only logical thing and appoint Mrs. Arthur Stevenson? Mrs. Stevenson has the confidence of the citizens to her credit to the number of 870 votes, the largest number of votes polled by the unsuccessful candidates in January.

When Mr. Gordon resigned the Board invited Mr. Vincent Eastwood to the vacant place, although Mrs. W. R. Morris was in exactly the same position of Mrs. Stevenson today.

Surely this will not be repeated. Women everywhere are proving themselves useful members of Boards of Education, and no one can deny that Mrs. Morris has proved herself worthy of the confidence of those who voted for her nearly two years ago. Now the fact that Mrs. Arthur Stevenson has to her credit the largest vote polled by the unsuccessful candidates of last January would seem to give her the first claim to the position now vacant. The action of the Board will be awaited with a good deal of interest by a large number of citizens.

BARRIE'S EXCURSION WELL PATRONIZED

The annual excursion of Barrie's Welfare Club took the form last evening of a moonlight, which was very well patronized, over 200 people taking advantage of the warm weather to sail down the river. The boat left the wharf at 8:15, returning at 10.30. Music for dancing was supplied by Messrs. Follis, Drysdale and Crowe. The proceeds from these annual affairs go towards the Welfare Club, which is of direct benefit to the employees of Barrie's, Ltd.

BAPTISTS CENTRALISE.

ST. JOHN, N.B., July 5.—Finding a Provincial Association somewhat unwieldy for the administration of local church affairs, the New Brunswick Baptist Association has been divided into three sections—the Eastern, Western, and Southern.

It is felt that this arrangement will bring the annual association meetings closer to the people of the church will enable the associations to meet in smaller communities instead of only the larger centres and will ensure a more representative gathering and a more minute consideration of local affairs at each.

All three associations held their first meetings under the new arrangement last week, and the denominational officials have been well satisfied with the results of the change.

SACRED HEART SOCIAL.

Don't forget the social at the Sacred Heart Grounds this evening. There will be a fine supper served at six o'clock, the band of the Peterborough Rangers will give a splendid programme. There is to be a sale of useful and fancy articles, a fish pond will amuse the kiddies, and soft drinks, ice-cream, and light refreshments are ready in abundance.

FOOT MASSAGE WITH CREAM

Many folks regard a chiropodist as a luxury, instead of a sad necessity. Women who think nothing of spending half a dollar to a dollar every week to have their hands manicured, will balk at spending the same sum to have their feet treated. That is, until their feet begin to cry out at neglect!

Now, a chiropodist should be unnecessary, but so long as women will crowd their feet into spindle-heeled, pointed toe shoes and will neglect to care for the feet properly, chiropodists will be indispensable. Indeed, unless you know how to care for your own feet, you should visit one regularly every week or so. Otherwise you will have a multitude of corns, bunions and painful callouses.

I shan't sidetrack myself on the subject of proper footgear today, but shall describe, instead, a good twice-a-week treatment for feet.

While in the bath, scrub the feet well with hot water, soap and a flesh brush. Let them soak in clear, hot water while you rub down with a towel and slip into your bathrobe. Then wipe the feet with a fresh, dry, rough Turkish towel till they are fairly glowing. Go over the toes, carefully scraping away calloused skin with a corn file cutting the nails, cleaning away loose bits of skin. Then take a generous amount of cold cream and rub it over the feet. Massage up and down over the instep, round the heel, under the foot, over and between the toes and up the ankle. Rub thoroughly, getting the cream into the skin—by the way this is wonderful for feet that have a stale odor, in spite of frequent washing. Then wipe off the surplus cream with a cloth wrung from hot water—this removes all traces of greasiness. Dry the feet, and dust with talcum or powdered orris.

And when they are tired from long standing or fatiguing work, this treatment is wonderful.

It's surprising how soon people begin to practice economy after they go broke.

G. W. V. A. NOW IN FINAL FOR CHARITY CUP

Defeat Caleys at Oval Last Night

Two goals to one the G.W.V.A. won from the Caledonians at the Oval last night and are now entered in the final for Phelan Charity Cup the winners of which will be decided to-morrow night when they play the Comrades. Despite the intense heat the game was one of the fastest footbalers have ever set in Peterboro and the crowd who defied the sun soaked grounds witnessed a fine soccer game. J. Clark was referee. The teams lined up as follows:—

G. W. V. A.

Goal Jones; Full backs Peel and Perry; Half Backs, Burrows, Haycock and Hurle; Forward, Monks, Gamble, Dwyer, Edwards, Sherman.

Caledonians.

Goal, Wright; Full backs McMillan, and Ralston; Half Backs, Terrace Hoggarth and Brown; Forward Burgess, Anderson, Dingwall, Rorison and Hannah.

THE WEATHER

The official thermometers at Peterboro yesterday reached 97 degrees in the shade in the afternoon. Toronto's highest was 98, Ottawa, 92, Parry Sound, 98, Cochrane 94; White River, 96, and Kingston 86. Last night's lowest was 72—the warmest this season. To-day is identically the same as yesterday, although it seems a little cooler, but perhaps we are becoming seasoned to the heat. A little research to-day reveals July 5, 1911, as the record hot day here. We had it 100 degrees on that day. July 3rd of that year gave us 97 degrees, while Toronto had it 103 the same day. The night of July 3rd, 1911, was the hottest night we have ever had. The lowest on that occasion was 77 degrees. Whatever may be the cause of the heated spell, it is hardly likely to be due to the earth passing throuhg the tail of the comet, as several parties have innocently surmised was the cause.—W. P.

WEEK-END RAIN HAS SENT STOCK OF RAINMAKER HATFIELD TO PAR

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., July 6.—The week end rain has sent the rainmaker's stock up to par again and the immediate effect of the precipitation is seen in the visit of two men from Rockford and two from Strathmore (two Alberta districts that have been very dry this year) to Chappice Lake to make preliminary arrangements with Rainmaker Hatfield to have him operate in thier part of the country next year.

Many farmers of this district are loth to lose the precipitation expert and a meeting of the United Agricultural Association will be held here on Friday next to consider engaging him for the 1922 season. It is probable that Hatfield will have two towers in operation next year, one near Strathmore and one about 60 to 70 miles north-west of Medicine Hat. The latter site, it is believed, will be a better situation for the rainmaking operations in this district than the present one, Chappice Lake, about 16 miles north-east of this city.

TERRIFIC HEAT IS INCREASING; YESTERDAY HOTTEST SINCE 1911 AND TO-DAY MAY BE EVEN WORSE

YESTERDAY'S OFFICIAL TEMPERATURE HERE WAS 97 AND LOWEST LAST NIGHT 72—MERCURY SOARING RAPIDLY TO-DAY.

"VERY WARM" IS ALL OLD PROBS WILL SAY

Evidently not satisfied with touching 97 degrees yesterday, the highest temperature recorded here since the 100 degrees on July 5, 1911, the mercury to-day soared rapidly again, reaching 95 at 1 o'clock downtown and climbing rapidly enough to justify the predictions of some that the maximum temperature to-day would exceed that of yesterday. With the exception of the 100 degrees ten years ago, yesterday was the hottest day ever recorded in this city.

Downtown thermometers yesterday touched slightly over 98 at their highest and at 8.30 last evening still stood at 90 degrees. The lowest during the night was 72, according to the official thermometer.

The continued heat has been a heavy drain upon the soft drink and ice cream dealers and some brands of soft drinks are almost off the market. A common occurrence recently has been the exhaustion of the supplies of ice cream.

Fields surrounding the city are scorched and the ground baked, and farmers predict that unless rain comes immediately the crops will be exceptionally light. Small fruits and hay have suffered most.

The banks of the river at the south of the city were lined last night with those who found sleeping indoors impossible, and in the afternoon and evening thousands took to the open. A procession of automobiles followed all roads leading from the city, the river was dotted with boats and hundreds thronged the bathing beaches.

"Light winds, fair and very warm to-day and on Thursday," is the cheerful prediction from the Meterecological Bureau.

(See general weather story on page 3.)

WILL PRAY FOR RAIN.

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

TORONTO, July 6.—Prayers for rain and cooler weather will be made to God by the Anglican clergy if there is no breaking of the heat wave before Sunday. Right Rev. Bishop Sweeney, speaking to The Examiner to-day, said that he usually sent out requests on Fridays to the clergy of the diocese so far as special prayers were concerned, "and if the heat wave does not subside, I shall certainly ask the clergy on Friday to offer special prayers for rain and cooler weather," he said.

OBITUARY

JANE MUTCH.

The death occurred at the General Hospital, Toronto, this morning, in her 52nd year, of Jane Mutch, sister of Mrs. J. Y. Buyers, 478 Albert street. The deceased had been connected with the T. Eaton Co., Ltd., of Toronto, for nearly twenty years. She was born in Aberdeenshire Scotland, but had resided in Canada for many years. She was a faithful member of Cooke's Presbyterian Church in Toronto, and also belonged to the Society of the Daughters of Scotland. She is survived by Mrs. J. W. Buyers of this city, and a sister and two brothers in Scotland. The funeral will be held on Thursday, July 7th, on the arrival of the 11:58 C. P. R. train from Toronto, to the Little Lake Cemetery, Rev. J. A. Mackenzie officiating.

FOOD, CLOTHES AND COOLNESS

AVOID MEATS, SOFT DRINKS, AND FRUIT JUICES, WEAR LIGHT CLOTHING AND BATHE FREQUENTLY,

With the temperature hovering near a hundred and few signs of a lapse from the intense heat, with thousands of people with but one idea in their mind—how to keep cool (this is not a clothing ad.) Dr. T. W. H. Young, M.O.H., has given to The Examiner some seasonable advice that should be valued by every citizen.

Careful eating and drinking and suitable clothing, he said, form a combination that will go far towards keeping cool in this torrid weather.

In regard to eating, Dr. Young advised avoiding meat and replacing it with green vegetables and fruit.

However, in the case of children, parents should not give the kiddies to much fruit as biliousness and stomach disorders are almost sure to follow.

Bread and milk was in his opinion a fine food for youngsters in this hot weather. Mothers should be quite sure, he cautioned, that the milk is sweet. He said it would be best if the mother would taste all the milk the children get for in the intense heat milk sours unbelievably quick.

Avoidance of soft drinks and supposed "coolers" of all kinds, was urged by the M. O. H. These drinks including lemonade and orangeade, only tend to nauseate and upset the internal organs, he said. Fruit juices of all kinds, he frowned upon, and iced water as well as stimulants were not to be commended.

The wearing of the lightest clothing, plenty of baths, no stimulants, and drinking water not too cold, were advised by Dr. Young.

Cautioning against cold baths Dr. Young said that the water should be just slightly cool. Too coldwater only served to close up the pores, while tepid water was uncomfortable. A hapy medium should be reached.

Meat was deprecated as an article of diet, but the doctor said it was important that empty stomachs should not prevail and allowed to add to the dangers and discomforts of the season.

As a warm weather diet Dr. Young commended milk and milk products. Bread and milk or biscuits and milk were excellent substitutes for meat, and heavier foodstuffs, he said.

Dr. Young had nothing kind to say of mothers who draged their babies about from place to place in the hot weather.

Luging kiddies down town, taking them to picnics, shopping with babies was imbecilic. Plety of sponge baths was Dr. Young's antidote to keep the children cool. The perspiration is acid he said, and causes a nasty rash on children unless sponge baths are often administered. A great deal of sleep is needed for babies and for larger children, too. If they are made as comfortable as can be, nuder the circumstances they will be enabled to get this important sleep, was the M. O. H.'s dictum about the little folks. Not only should children get plenty of sleep but grown ups should endeavour to do the same.

COBB'S THRUST AT JACK DEMPSEY'S WEAK SPOT

Irvin S. Cobb, in the New York Times, deals the champion heavyweight the following terse left-handed compliment: "As for Dempsey, unless this country should go to war again, it seems probable that he will continue to be our leading fighter for quite some time to come."

FARMER SWEEP IS PREDICTED IN ELECTIONS

PRESIDENT WOOD EXPECTS U. F. A. TO BE CARRIED TO VICTORY IN ALBERTA WEEK FROM MONDAY.

PURELY AN ECONOMIC CLASS GROUP, HE SAYS

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., July 6. — The prediction that the United Farmers of Alberta will be sweeping to power on an irresistible wave was made this afternoon by President H. W. Wood, of the Provincial oragnisation, in addressing the United Farmers' convention at Macleod immediately after the nomination of William H. Shields, to contest the election on 18th July against George H. Skelding, Government.

"I have not been very anxious to have the responsibility of Government fall upon the U. F. A. at this time," declared Mr. Wood, "but there is a tide that is irresistible, and that I think is going to sweep the U. F. A. into that position in the next few days. I am glad you have selected a good, common, reliable man, because we're going to need that kind of man if we have to assure that burden of Government after Monday week."

President Wood declared that the U. F. A. was not a political party, but an economic class group, and that this must not be lost sight of in political action. If the economic basis of the organisation is forgotten in the political movement, he warned the Farmers that their organisation would be wrecked just as surely as the Non-Partisan League wrecked the Farmers' organisation in North Dakota.

FARMERS WANT RAIN WITHIN 48 HOURS

SMALL FRUITS DAMAGED ALREADY BEYOND HELP.

Unless rain comes within 48 hours inestimable damage will be done to the grain, vegeable and fruit crops, The Examiner was informed from authoritative sources last night.

The ground is bone-dry from the unusual heat, and if Old Sol does not "lay off" for a few days all hopes of of even a fair harvest will be annihilated, farmers say.

Some of the vegetable growers near the river wheer the ground is more moist, have not suffered to the extent that others far away from any source of moisture have, but even along the banks of the river the vegetables and fruits would only stand a day or two more without rain, the growers said.

The first few sizzling days following the rain last week made the crows grow fine but when the ground began to lose its moisture, the effect could be seen in growth. The extreme hot spell has either forced the ripening or caused decomposition in the case of the fruits.

The grains have been hurried along although they are, excepting the fall wheat, very short in the straw. Wheat is almost ready to cut.

Raspberries, currants, gooseberries and huckleberries have ripened up fast—too fast in many cases, and have spoiled in tons on the trees, and the cherry crop therefore is not expected to be large.

What the farmers and growers need is abundant rains. If the clouds would only open up good crops are practically assured.

With Jupiter Pluvius acting so sullenly the farm wells are drying up, the Examier has been informed and the farmers in different sections of the county are drawing their water, for their own use at least from a more fortunate neighbours, or from the river or lake.

Farmers told the Examiner that they are now in the sweltering hayfields. It is has been so hot that they have not had time to revel in the odor of new mown hay and none of the hads are lingering in the fields any longer than necessary. The hay is very short ,they say. The hot weather has made the corn grow fast but rain is needed now to save it.

RAILWAY LABOR SITUATION NOW NEAR A CLIMAX

ACTION OF U.S. RAILWORKERS IN GIVING ACCEPTANCE OR REFUSAL OF WAGE CUT A HOIST RESPONSIBLE.

RAILWAY EXECUTIVES WILL MEET TO-MORROW

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

MONTREAL, July 6.—The railway labour situation will reach a climax in Canada this week. The refusal of the general chairman of the United States' railway unions to accept responsibility for the acceptance or rejection of the twelve per cent. wage cut effective last Friday, has thrown the Canadian situation into the air.

Canadian rail workers planned to state their attitude as soon as the United States' Brotherhoods gave a decision. The United States' workers have given the proposition a two months' hoist in order to obtain a vote of the men themselves, and if Canadain unions followed the same course the Canadian wage cut would not become effective until September 1st at the earliest provided. The conciliatory basis of adjustment was continued in operation by Canadian lines.

The position between the United States and Canadian situations is not analogous. South of the border, the United States Railway Labor Board is in effect a board of arbitration. It has ruled in favor of the reduction, and that reduction is now in force. The men's delay simply is a delay in the acceptance of the reduction by the workers or in the form of protest which they will offer against it. The United States Railway Labor Board has no status in Canada except that established by precedent. The prececent has been that Canadian railways accept the Board's rulings and granted the same increases of wages to their employees as were awarded in the United States. Canadian roads are now insisting that the same precedent be followed when the revision is downwards.

Up to the day when the action of the United States union leaders became known, it was hoped that Canadian railway employees and the companies would be able to reach a common agreement upon introduction of the reduction here, effective July 1. The delay of workers on Canadian roads to reply finally to the tentative agreements providing for the cut which was presented by the companies almost three weeks ago has made further action necessary, it is stated. To decide what action must be taken, Canadian railway executives will meet in Montreal to-morrow to discuss the whole situation. While any forecast of what will transpire at the meeting is in the nature of a guess, it appears probable that the necessity of making a definite announcement regarding application of the wage cut will be among the major considerations.

The companies have already protected themselves to some extent by giving notice that any employees leaving their work this month will be paid according to the reduced scales. No formal replies regarding the tentative agreement submitted by the companies on June 17th have been received, it was stated to-day. The men have stated they do not favor the reduction proposed, but beyond that the situation has not progressed.

DEMPSEY MAKES FOR HOME WHEN REFORMERS THREATEN TO BRING ASSAULT AND BATTERY CHARGE

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

NEW YORK, July 6. — Jack Dempsey, champion of the world, is on the "Twentieth Century Limited" speeding toward the west. The conqueror of Georges Carpentier, presumably, is on his way to Salt Lake City to visit his mother and family.

He left suddenly last night when the International Reform Bureau threatened to bring him into court to-day to face charges of assault and battery on the Frenchman. Jack Kearns, his manager, did not accompany him, but he could not be located here to-day.

Although Tex Rickard, promoter of the world's championship fight, last Saturday suggested that Dempsey could present a self defence plea inasmuch as the Frenchman hit him first in the contest, the champion will not return until the agitation of the reformers has blown over.

RAYS OF SUN SET HAYSTACK ON FIRE

(Special Despatch to The Examiner.)

ST. CATHARINES, July 6.—A haystack containing forty acres of new hay was burned last night. It is believed the terrific sun rays yesterday started the fire. The city firemen tried to save it but were helpless.

Rain has got to come soon if the Niagara fruit crop is to be saved, leading growers say. The drought here has been of long duration now and everything is suffering. The raspberry, currants and other bush crops are likely to be almost a total loss if the heat and dryness continues. The drought is practicularly bad for tomatoes and potatoes, which are burning up.

SLIGHT EXPLOSION PRECEDED OUTBREAK

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

GUELPH, July 6.—A fierce fire, which was discovered in a pile of lumber at the Robert Stewart Company, Upper Wyndham street, at four o'clock this morning, did damage which is roughly estimated at $500,000 before the fire was under control at seven o'clock.

The Robert Stewart Lumber Company, one of the pioneer Guelph industries, established in 1850, lost their entire Wyndham street plant, and their loss is estomated at $200,000. Besides the Stewart factory, every building on the west side of Wyndham street from 114 to 148, is completely destroyed. These include Candyland, the Olympic bowling alley, Smith's furniture store, the Western millinery store, Geb Ginyer's electrical business, W. C. Gaetz's shoe store and the Wyndham Inn.

The blaze is believed to have been caused by combustion, as a slight explosion was heard just prior to the outbreak.

SMUTS RETURNS TO LONDON TO PRESENT VIEWPOINT OF SINN FEIN---DOMINION HOME RULE FOR IRELAND SAID TO BE ASSURED.

LLOYD GEORGE MEETS WITH BOTH FACTIONS

(By ED. L. KEEN, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, July 6.—The British Government was reported today to have been asked to declare a truce in Ireland, preliminary to completion of Dominion Home Rule negotiations.

Jan Smuts, Premier of South Africa, returned from Dublin and immediately went into conference with Premier Lloyd George, Sir James Craig, Premier of Ulster, and Lord Middleton, one of the Unionist representatives in Monday's meeting with Eamonn de Valera. Smuts was understood to have presented the viewpoint of the Sinn Fein regarding the proposed truce.

Dominion Home Rule for Ireland is expected to be the outgrowth of the present negotiations, involving Unionists and Sinn Feiners and the British Government, it was learned authoritively here today.

This degree of autonomy has never before been conceded by Great Britain.

BELFAST, July 6.—(Canadian Press).—Five men were taken from their homes in the district of Newry, 44 miles south of this city, this morning and were shot. Their bodies were left in a heap by the roadside by the men who had put them to death. A school teacher, Miss McAnuff, was shot and killed yesterday at Newry while attempting to shield her brother from attack.

Two of the dead men were brothers and were sons of a former Sergeant of Police Reilly. This was the most serious incident that occurred in the Newry district since disorders have begun in Ireland. Two men snatched revolvers from the holsters of two constables on a street here this morning and shot the officers, who were severely wounded. The men who made the attack escaped.

GASOLINE CATCHES FIRE; WOMAN DIES

CLEANING CLOTHES WITH FLUID WHEN IT IGNITED.

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

THORNHILL, Ont., July 6.—The death occurred at four o'clock this morning of Miss Emily Boyle, who was burned last evening when gasoline she was working with caught fire and set her clothing in flames. Neighbors rushed to her assistance, but before the blaze was extinguished Miss Boyle was badly burned about the head, hands and feet.

She was working on the verandah cleaning some clothes with gasoline. A lantern hanging close by set the gasoline on fire. A sheet of flame shot up that was seen all over the village and in a moment Miss Boyle's clothes and the pillars on the porch were ablaze.

Miss Boyle was accountant in the Standard Bank at Richmond Hill.

KOREANS JOIN SOVIET.

SEOUL, Korea, July 6.—(Canadian Press).—Reports have reached the Japanese Military Headquarters here that a battle has occurred on Siberian border between Japanese and Koreant, in which 500 Koreans were killed or wounded. Several thousand Malcontent Koreans are alleged to have joined Siberian Bolsheviki.

Wedding of Ontario Prime Miniser's Sister at Barrie.—The picture shows the principals at the wedding of Miss Irene E. Drury, sister of the prime minister of Ontario, and daughter of the late Hon. Charles and Mrs. Drury. Left to right in the front row are the best man, Mr. Bertram Cottrel; second, Mr. Vallentyne Cottrel (the groom), of Port Elgin; third, the bride;; fourth, Miss Margaret Pelton, of Toronto, and fifth, Miss Bertha Bryson, of Pittsburg, who graduated from the Toronto General Hospital with Miss Drury. In the back row, left to right, are Mrs. Charles Drury, Mrs. E. C. Drury, and the prime minister.

THE ROOM'S FACE

Once a little girl told me she watched in her mirror to see her countenance growing. Her mother had told her that we made our countenances by thinking good or evil thoughts. It is just so with rooms. They are empty, four-cornered things, to begin with, and we make them interesting or the opposite.

Money has nothing to do with the inviting aspect of your home's interior. For we all have seen bad-looking rooms that have cost a great deal. The thing that makes a room attractive, is the element of charm. A great lady once declared that if the corners of her drawing room were made bright and gay, the rest of the room would take care of itself. This is not always the case. One must put some of one's own personality into it.

"Glorify the room," cried Sidney Smith, each morning, when he threw open his shutters. But Mark Twain did better: at "Stormfields" his windows were placed to give enchanting views at all seasons, and were left uncurtained.

Who would not live happily in a flood of sunlight? Without it, money, labor, taste, are all thrown away. Flowers cannot grow in the dark, nor can we; it is as unwholesome as it is gloomy. How many stay-at-homes, we wonder, have been killed by curtains—for instance, those heavy, thick hangings, too costly to treat to a bath of soap and water, too fine to hang out in the wind. Brush them aside to peer out, and a shower of dust assails you. Better have a shilling chintz that can be washed and ironed quickly, than the most gorgeous tapestry ever woven, if it cannot be cleansed.

Solomon's throne would not have shone to advantage in the average home, but it would be almost as appropriate as some of the furniture you see that has nothing in comfort nor association to recommend it, and so cannot add beauty to the room's expression.

The walls, the floor covering, tables, and chairs, all speak to one, the instant one crosses the threshold. They tell one if it is a snug and cosy place; or they betray their owner's secrets shamefully. You know if she is neat, or what the Scotch call "nasty nice," or overparticular. If she is untidy, dull and heavy, how loudly do their voices speak! A room acts not only upon the visitor but upon the family. We may not know it, perhaps, but what raises or lowers our "feelings," is the reaction of our surroundings.

So, you see, women must care enough to take pains with their homes and not be content when rooms are austere, "sinfully clean" and hard to live in. The Spirit of the Family Life is a very real thing, as delicate as an anemone. Love and beauty nourish it, not gold. We have seen it glowing in a humble settler's cottage more often than in mansions. The man who can say truthfully, "I have the best wife in the world," usually has a good-looking home full of cheer and happiness.

The cost of making a Bank of England five-pound note is one halfpenny.

U.S. PEACE RESOLUTION WILL BE OPPOSED IN LEGAL BATTLE IN SUPREME COURT BY GERMANS

IN ORDER TO RETAIN PROPERTY SEIZED BY THE GOVERNMENT, GERMANS WILL TEST VALIDITY OF CONGRESS ACT.

GREAT LEGAL ARRAY TO HELP FIGHT CASE

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

WASHINGTON, July 5. — The validity of the peace resolution will be challenged in legal battles which will be probably carried to the United States Supreme Court, Representative Flood, Virginia, ranking Democrat on the House Foreign Affairs committee, predicted to-day. He declared that it will never be determined definitely whether Congress can declare peace with Germany and Austria-Hungary until the High Court passed on the question.

The suits to test the resolution probably will be brought by Germans whose property was seized by the alien property custodian during the war, or may arise through other suits which would hinge on the date of official peace, Flood said. The Germans, it is known, are planning a big legal drive against the Federal government to regain their property. The peace resolution recently signed by the President confirms all the seizures, penalties and fines affecting these interests.

Hundreds of lawyers in New York have been retained by the Germans to fight for the property, and the first suits probably will be to set aside the sale, to American citizens which were made by the Alien Property Custodian under authority of an Act of Congress. These sales involved many of the invaluable dye patents which are now in the hands of Americans.

According to constitutional lawyers in Congress, the Supreme Court never has passed directly on whether peace can be effected by Congressional declaration. Some indirect references are being referred to as evidencing a belief of the court that Congress has no such power.

"I believe the peace declaration is plainly unconstitutional and will be held so by the courts," said Flood. "The constitution clearly gives Congress only the power to decide war, and it will be difficult to read into the document that inference that congress can declare peace."

Rep. Garrett of Texas, has submitted to the House extracts from the report of the constitutional convention which show that a movement to give congress the right to declare "war and peace" was defeated by the adoption of an amendment eliminating the words "and peace."

It is admitted that the resolution is made more vulnerable to legal attacks by the changes made by the House.

Senator Knox proposed to repeal the declaration of war, but the resolution now merely declares peace.

CANADIAN GROWERS EXHIBIT IN LONDON

TORONTO, July 6. —(Canadian Press.)—Hon. Manning Doherty, Provincial Minister of Agriculture, has cabled the London office of the Ontario Government to reserve a space for an Ontario exhibit at the Imperial fruit exhibition which takes place at London in November next. In addition the Ontario Goernment will ask that a space be reserved for the Growers and Growers' Association of the province in competitive displays.

The classes open to overseas apple growers are for Wealthy, Snow, McIntosh, Golden Russet, King, Spy, Blenheim, Orange, Jonathan, Cox's Orange, Pippin, Spitsonberg, Greening, Newton Pippin, Slark.

The Minister hopes that a large number of Canadian growers will take advantage of the opportunity to bring their roducts before the British public.

Quit Corns any time you will

You may end corn troubles any time you will. Millions of people have done it.

Blue-jay is at your drug store in liquid and plaster form.

A touch applies it. The corn pain stops instantly. In a little while the whole corn loosens and comes out.

At least 20 million corns a year are ended in this simple, easy way.

The way is gentle, scientific, sure. It makes harsh methods unnecessary. It makes paring corns a folly.

This laboratory of world-wide fame created it and makes it.

Try Blue-jay tonight. Watch its action on one corn. Then you will never again let a corn ache, never let it linger.

SAVE TWO FROM BEING CARRIED OVER NIAGARA

OVERCOME WITH HEAT, WOMAN FALLS INTO RIVER, AND COMPANION, FAINTING, FOLLOWS HER.

UNKNOWN MAN WADES OUT AND SAVES ONE

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., July 6. —Canadian Press.—One woman was overcome by the heat yesterday and tumbled into the Nigara River, a short distance above the American Falls, and another fainting from excitement, followed her. Both were rescued.

The first woman, Mrs. Joseph Raines of this city, was seated in the State Reservation, on a ledge near the water's edge with a woman companion.

Persons resting near the Goat Island bridge, saw Mrs. Raines and then the other woman slip into the river, and sounded the alarm. Several men responded and fished her companion out of the water before going after Mrs. Raines.

Meanwhile Mrs. Raines had been carried 15 feet from the shore, and was being borne along towards the falls, when a man, who later refused to give his name, seized a rope and waded out after her. Edward Hager of Wrightsville, N. J., had obtained a rope from his automobile. The unidentified hero, taking one end, ran along the shore, passing the woman as she was being carried down the stream. Then he moved out directly from the shore, with the other end of the rope held by George Healey of this city. Seizing the woman when she reached him, he towed her to the shore.

Dr. Fred Blanker, of Columbus, O., standing with other sightseers, gave first aid treatment to the two women.

RISTERS TO BE ENGLISH SOLICITORS

REGINA, Sask., July 5.—Arrangements have been concluded with the British government for the admission of Saskatchewan barristers to the standing of solicitors in England on complying with the same requirements as exist in Saskatchewan, according to an announcement made by the Benchers' Association In consequence the rules of the New Society of Saskatchewan have been amended to correspond with the order-in-council which it is expected will be put through in the near future.

CAMPBELLFORD COUNCIL DECLINED TO VOTE SCHOOL BOARD $16,000

WILL SUBMIT BY-LAW TO PEOPLE FOR AUTHORITY TO ISSUE $20,000 DEBENTURES FOR SIDEWALK EXTENSIONS—"ROAD HOG" CAUSES SERIOUS INJURY TO YOUNG LADY.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 6.—The council met on Monday evening for their regular meeting. The regular busines was dealt with and the School Board addressed the council asking for $16,000 to add to the $75,000 already voted to enable them to build the new school. The matter was thoroughly discussed from all sides and it was decided not to vote any more money to the schools at present.

The question of a protecting tax upon liveries and persons doing livery business was discussed and the decison arrived at was to leave things as they now are.

It was decided to prepare a by-law which would be presented to the people to issue time debentures for $20,000 to continue the construction of sidewalks which are urgently needed in many parts of the town.

FORCED OFF ROAD

A deplorable accident occurred on the gravel road between Hastings and Warkworth on Sunday evening when Miss A. Baker lost her left eye.

Miss Baker, who is a sister of Mr. T. Baker of town, was one of a party out driving with Mr. J. Macdonald of Warkworth. They were traversing a narrow stretch of road when they met another car which forced them into the ditch. As the evening was very warm, the windshield was open and when the car went into the ditch it gave a jolt which threw Miss Baker forward against the wind-shield. She was wearing glasse and the left lens was broken, cutting the left eye seriously.

A specialist was called from Belleville, who extracted the pieces of glass and who found it necessary to use about 10 stitches to close the wound. The sight will be permanently lost.

Miss Baker was the only one injured. The passing car never stopped.

Theatre Taken Over.

The Princess Theatre which has been under the very able management of Mr. L. Philips, has been taken over by Mr. S. Hubbel. Mr. Hubbel intends to re-open on Friday evening with a first-class programme.

The first moonlight of the season was held on Monday evening under the auspices of the C. S. E. T. Class of Christ Church. The excursion was on the steamer "Geneva" and went as far as Healey Falls. There was a large number present and all enjoyed a good time. Special music was furnished for dancing. The same steamer was chartered for Tuesday when the Presbyterian Sunday School went on a picnic down the river. It will aso be used again on Wednesday evening for an excursion under the ausfpices of the local company of the 40th regiment.

Repairs at Healey's

The repairs to the plant at Healey's Falls, are progressing rapidly Two generators are now running and a number of experts are working at the third which will soon be running also.

Mr. D. Plumpton of Codrington purchased a Ford touring car from D. W. Douglas on Monday.

Mrs. (Dr.) J. Robins and daughter Neva, of Omaha, Neb., are visiting Mrs. Robins' mother, Mrs. J. Burke Booth street.

GROUP INSURANCE IN MANITOBA CIVIL SERVICE

WINNIPEG, Man., July 5. — Group insurance, one of the concessions asked by the Manitoba Civil Service Federation as the result of their receiving no bonuses during the war, will likely become effective during July when it is expected $1,800,000 will be issued to the 1,200 civil servants who have been in the employ of the government for a period of six months or more. The cost to the government will be slightly over $30,000 annually Those benefitted by the insurance wil be given the right to continue their insurance in force should they leave the government employ. It is planned. The insurance premiums would then be paid by themselves at the age they had attained when leaving the service.

The scale runs from $500 for those in the service for a period of six months to one year with a maximum of $3,000 for employees with ten years' service.

FEAR WIND TO FAN FIRES IN NORTH ONTARIO

IF SO, MANY TOWNS WOULD BE SERIOUSLY MENACED, INCLUDING TIMMINS AND IROQUOIS FALLS.

TWO MEN SMOTHER TRYING TO ESCAPE

COBALT, July 6. Canadian Press. —News of the first casualties from the bush fires which are raging in the northern timber forests reached here yesterday through trainmen coming from Porquois Junction.

At Holland, a station a few miles north of there, two young men, whose names have not yet been learned, were smothered by the smoke while attempting to escape the flames, having sought refuge in a dug out. These two fatalities are the first to occur as a result of bush fires since 1916.

At Lower Abitibi yesterday forest fires attacking piles of cordwood are reported to have destroyed over 50,000 cords.

The fear is growing that a wind will spring up before the rain arrives and, if so, rapidly approaching fires will create a serious menace to northern towns of considerable size, including Timmins and Iroquois Falls.

JAMAICA TO ATTRACT SHIPS FROM PANAMA CANAL

KINGSTON Jamaica, July 6.—(By Canadian Press)—The Jamaic an government plans the improvement of Kingston Harbor at a cost of $5,000,000 and hopes to attract the ships passing through the Panama canal. Vessels from New Zealand, Australia, Tasmania and the Canadian Government is mercantile ships coming to Jamaica have been exempted from tonnage and lighthouse dues from 1921 to 1923, inclusive.

TERRIFIC HEAT INJURES CROPS, FORCES CLOSING OF FACTORIES AND IS THE CAUSE OF 2 DYING

EVEN DISTRIBUTION FOR WINE AND MILK IS DOCTOR'S PLEA

Special Despatch to Examiner.

HALIFAX, July 6. — Dr. Murdoch Chisholm, of Halifax, the 1921 President of the Canadian Medical Association, in his Presidential Address at the annual meeting of the association here last night made a plea for "the God-given right of even distribution of wine and milk."

God in his economy, as revealed in the Bible, said Dr. Chisholm, had joined together two nourishing drinks for the use of men, one from the vegetable kingdom, wine, and the other from the animal kingdom, milk. What God had put together, let no man put asunder, he said.

A large proportion of the human race used wine to-day, and always had used it, he declared, without detriment to either health or morals, on the one hand, and with "divinely beneficent results on the other." He was not pleading, he explained, for the return of the barrooms, but for the "God-given right of even distribution of wine and milk."

This portion of Dr. Chisholm's address has already created some stir, and the indications are that much will be heard about it later.

$7,250,000 FOR CHINESE RELIEF

NEW YORK, July 6.—Thomas W. Lamont, chairman of the American Committee for China Famine Fund has announced that a total of $7,250,000 was contributed during the campaign which ended June 9. The cost of raising the amount was estimated at about three per cent. Relief organizations in China, Mr. Lamont said, raised $6,000,000 gold exclusive of the government loan.

HAY CROP 50 PER CENT. FAILURE NEAR BROCKVILLE AND FRUITS COOKING ON TREES AND VINES—CHATHAM HOTTEST IN PROVINCE AT 101.

FORECAST FOR TO-DAY IS AGAIN "VERY WARM"

TORONTO, July 6.—Most of Ontario and Eastern Canada again sweltered under terrific heat yesterday. Official temperatures from 95 to over the hundred mark were common. Chatham led with 101 in the shade, St. Thomas reported an even 100, and Brantford recorded an unofficial 101.

Farmers in the Brockville area report the hay crop as a fifty per cent. failure due to heat and drought. Copious rains are needed, it is feared, to save all crops except corn. In the Niagara Peninsula fruit crops are suffering from lack of rain, raspberries are cooking on the vines and tomatoes and potatoes sadly need moisture. There is still no forecast of when the much needed rains will fall. In the Lower Lakes and Georgian Bay region the forecast for today is again "very warm.' The heat is seriously crippling the activities of many communities. Farmers are resting by day and working by night to save themselves and their horses. In Toronto yesterday a number of horses collapsed on the streets and several died.

At St. Catharines with a temperature of 99, business was at a standstill and many factories had to be closed. Several persons were prostrated by heat throughout the province, one woman dying at Hamilton and a North Bay baby also being a heat victim. Although multitudes spent the day in and on the water, there was a noticeable lack of drowning accidents.

The Livelihood of Thousands Depends on Ontario's Forests

THIS is the first of a series of advertising articles to appear weekly in this paper. These advertisements are unusual in that they will deal with the business of every citizen of Ontario. They are intended to enlist your co-operation in a province-wide campaign to prevent forest fires and to put money in your own pocket.

FORESTS of Ontario are the basis for a very large part of the prosperity of Ontario's people.

The lumber industry of Ontario in camps and mills alone gives employment to 17,000 men with a payroll of $12,000,000 and an invested capital of $45,000,000. Ontario employs one-third of Canada's lumbermen and produces one-quarter of Canada's total annual cut.

The sash and door and planing mills of Ontario, which depend on the 800 lumber mills and the log-making industry for their raw materials, employ 4,000 persons with a total wage roll of $3,000,000 per year.

Pulp and paper mills employ 8,000 persons, and pay $7,000,000 in wages with over $90,000,000 invested.

In addition, there is the railway tie industry, wood distillation industry, cooperage industry and many others. These are the foundation industries for all that immense number of other industries which use their products, so that if you trace it down, directly or indirectly, every citizen of Ontario is affected.

Save Ontario's Forests

They're Yours

ALL these men, all these payrolls, all these industries, depend for their very existence upon the trees standing in Ontario to-day. Tracts of timber, mature and ready to cut, mean immediate payrolls for the logmakers, the river drivers, the saw mill men and the pulp mill employees, for the tie makers and other wood workers, and men of other industries using wood workers' products.

Along with stands of mature timber are tracts of trees which will be big enough to cut into saw logs or pulp wood five years from now; others in ten years; still others in fifteen years, and so on down to the very youngest trees. That is to say, all our forests, all our trees, little and big, represent wealth. They mean money right now or money next year or the year after or in the future. They mean pay rolls and employment. They mean men's livelihood. The preservation and the welfare of Ontario's forests affect every man, women and child in the province.

Every stick of timber, little or big, wasted and burned by forest fire, that greatest of all menaces to the forest and wood-working industries, is a direct loss to YOU.

Your co-operation as a citizen is needed to prevent fire and save Ontario's forests.

SAVE CHILDREN FROM BLINDNESS.

Fifty per cent. of all blindness—that most dreadful of all afflictions—is preventable!

A nation-wide organization formed from the Canadian National Institute for the Blind is now operating in Canada in a worthy endeavor to eliminate all preventable blindness. They are laying particular stress on the need for proper care and attention of the eyes of infants at birth. Help to make those who are responsible see the great need for better care.

In Toronto, for instance, a special class has been formed of children with poor vision and defective eyesight. These little people use specially printed books. Their class room is arranged to give their eyes complete rest. Their sight is being conserved; they will retain vision throughout life.

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind provides glasses and treatment for those low-sighted men, women and children who are unable to pay. The expenses in this branch of the work are heavy, and we turn to you for assistance.

Send a cheque in to-day to The Examiner Fund for Blind Canadians.

OPENING THE BRIDGE.

In planning a programme for the official opening of the Hunter street bridge the City Council would be well advised to have the ceremonies as brief and simple as possible. The speeches should be cut to the bone, for too much has already been said about the bridge, and no amount of flowery eloquence could make the citizens forget the mistakes that have been made and the ghastly bill of costs that has been piled up. Hon. Dr. Reid may want to say something, and seeing that the Government is interested in the bridge to the extent of $50,000, the Minister cannot very well be headed off. But other speakers should be restrained. Nothing that they could say would make the burden any lighter upon the citizens. In fact it is just a question whether the people at large favour an official opening or any appearance of celebration in connection with the bridge. There will be reminders enough in the annual tax bills without a fanfare of oratory.

SUNDAY BATHING.

As was expected, the Examiner's suggestion that the civic bathing houses should be opened on Sunday has met with a good deal of approval and also with a certain amount of criticism. Some citizens who have never been heard to complain of those who summer at the lakes indulging in a Sunday plunge, or of people who own bath rooms availing themselves of the chance for a cold tub, seem to regard a dip in the Otonabee on Sunday as quite a different matter. In Toronto the good the city's bathing places are not closed on Sundays, in fact the attendance on that day is usually the largest of the week and so far as one can judge from the newspapers, nobody has entered a protest against the practice. Throwing open the dressing rooms at Inverlea Park and Little Lake would be a convenience to hundreds of citizens each Sunday, and the Examiner believes that the majority of the people are heartily in favour of the suggestion. The attention of the City Council is directed to the matter in the hope that action will follow.

THE PLAYGROUNDS.

The opening of the supervised playgrounds means a lot to the youngsters of the city and nearly as much to thir parents, for they know that thier children are being well looked after and safe from the dangers of playing on the streets, where they undoubtedly would be found were it not for the playgrounds. Fortunately, the little folks are not affected by the heat to such a great extent as their elders, or the wisdom of throwing the playgrounds open during the present hot spell might be questioned. Apparently, however, the children are determined not to allow a trifle like 95 degrees in the shade to interfere with their enjoyment, and the opening was a big success in spite of the weather. The playgrounds should have a most flourishing season, with an attendance record bigger than ever and with a corresponding increase in community service. Supervised playgrounds are an indication of progress, and the city that is noted for its solicitude towards recreation and amusement features for its citizens has usually no need to seek out new industries, for manufacturing concerns generally select such centres when choosing a location. Peterborough has made considerable advance in that direction during the past few years, but much more remains to be done before we can afford to rest on our oars.

THE FIGHT.

It was perhaps a good thing for what we may call the cultural conscience of this much-glorified democracy in whose defence against brute force so many Britons, Frenchmen, Italians, Canadians and Americans recently died, that Dempsey won.

If skill had won, if brains had won, if patriotism had won, the brutalizing "sport" of prize-fighting would have captured a spurious cloak of apparent dexterity and even sham chivalry which would have raised it higher in the esteem of our self-confessedly cultured community. But skill, brains and patrioitsm lost. Brut force won. Whatever may have been the interest of any man in the event prior to its completion, that interest slumped swiftly into disgust when it was known that the "plug-ugly" carried off what we find it impossible to call "the honors."

This marks the difference between boxing—which is a fine old English sport of the manly sort—and prize fighting. A man may train himself to the quickness of eye and hand, the panther-like play of the body, all the wonderful alertness and precision of the skilled boxer. But this will not avail him against the mere animal endurance and muscular power of a born "pug" like Dempsey.

And that places the prize-fight, The jungles of India and the forests of Africa are full of animals who could so badly beat Dempsey at his own game that they would not know there had been a fight till they began to enjoy the "prize" they had won in the only fashion their brute natures would appreciate, viz., by eating the victim of the "knock-out." The human animal deliberately drops from his shoulders forty centuries of civilization when he enters the ring to fight with his bare fists. His intelligence has armed him with a hundred weapons from the barbarian's spear to the automatic revolver with which a dwarf could kill a Dempsey without being himself scratched. But he forgets all this, reverses evolution and re-enters the cave of his pre-historic ancestor. It is as if a bird walked a race with a reptile.

But is there no place for physical endurance, courage, the fighting spirit?

Most assuredly. In the very columns which record the result of the great battle at Jersey City is an account of the unveiling by Mr. Meighen of the Cross of Sacrifice over our Canadian dead on the immortal ridge of Vimy. Those men had physical endurance, else they could never have lasted through the long and gruelling months of campaigning which prepared the way for this splendid victory. They had courage of the highest order, else they had faltered at the supreme moment when matched against lurking death ready to leap from entrenchments that German genius deemed impregnable. Then had the fighting spirit in its highest and most noble develment; for, after all, it is only by fighting more effecitvely than all the forcesof Wrong that the forces of Right can establish their sway.

Criticism of the prize-ring is as far as possible from a plea for "pacifism," for an anaemic idealism which imagines that wars are won with rose-water, for a disregard of the physical, the vigorous and the manly. It is only a criticism of the obsolete, the outworn and the long since discarded. In efficiency, prize-fighting takes its place far behind archery. It is a pretty thing to watch the flight of an arrow, but a corps of archers would be a poor defence against a machine-gun crew.

Of course, the real winner of the fight was the commercial gentleman who managed it. They estimate that his share will be better than half-a-million dollars. The whole "show" cost more than a million-and-a-half. In these times when millions of people lack food, when the babies of a half-continent are only kept alive by charity, when hundreds of thousands of men are out of work, when life has become a tragedy for countless homes which are too proud to complain, $1,600,000 seems a lot of money to pay for ten minutes of intense excitement furnished by two men in a roped enclosure, out of which they would have plunged, panic-stricken, for safety if one lean but hungry lion had leaped into it.—Montreal Daily Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It should be made an indictable offence to ask, "Is this hot enough for you?"

One of life's little comedies is furnished by the fat man with the wilted collar who wipes the perspiration from his brow with one hand, while with the other he taps out on his typewriter a timely little article upon "How to keep cool in hot weather."

Somehow it is difficult these days to focus one's mind upon the question of next winter's fuel supply.

These are days of terror in New Ontario. The menace of forest fires hang over the people as the hot wave turns the bush into a tinder dry condition.

BOSTON, July 6.—His music so soothes Oscar J. Kelley of South Boston, that he preferred it to ether while hospital surgeons were probing for a bullet in his thigh. URBAN CONGRESSMEN OPPOSED TO TARIFF

WASHINGTON, July 6.—(By Canadian Press).—Because the effect of the recent emergency tariff law in some respects has been to increase the cost of living in the great cities and centers of population strong opposition is developing among eastern members of Congress to the agricultural duties provided for in the new bill for the permanent revision of the tariff. The proposed wheat duty of 25 cents, intended chiefly to shut out Canadian wheat, will encounter strong opposition. While this is lower than the present emergency rate, it is criticized by members from the cities as too high and sure to mean enhanced prices for wheat flour and bread. House and Senate democrats in the forthcoming tariff debate are preparing to demand the utmost practicable freedom of trade between Canada and the United States. In fact the subject of the commercial relations with Canada will be one of the chief themes of the entire tariff debate in both houses.

Finely Built to the Least Detail

There is so much enthusiastic comment on the fine Chalmers motor, that other excellent Chalmers features seem to be taken for granted.

But they are worthy the careful consideration of all motor car buyers. For here is a car that is finely built to the least detail. Engineering and car building experience have applied themselves in masterly fashion.

Design and Finish Beautiful

Every element of beauty and style is incorporated in the Chalmers.

The wonderful motor is satin-smooth in its pickup, starts easily, and warms up at once. The car rides with remarkable ease and comfort.

Thus the Chalmers has earned a name enviable among really fine cars.

The Fuel is Pre-Heated

The Chalmers motor has played its important part in winning this reputation. Fuel is pre-heated by the hot-spot. This means greater mileage on gasoline; and very much better motor performance for longer periods without overhauling.

We invite you to investigate the Chalmers and permit us to demonstrate superiority.

Chapter 3

Kent finished reading Mrs. Leon Walker's dinner invitation and slipped it back into the envelope.

'Would you like to go dear?" I asked, as I took the pink note from him and pushed it into one of the upper pigeon holes of the desk. "What do you know about her, Kent?" I added, turning and watching his face.

All traces of uneasiness had entirely left Kent's features. He drew a chair up near me and sank back easily against the cushions.

"She's all right, jolly sort, has lots of money and loves to spend it on her friends. The Rices introduced me to her the other night, and we had a couple of dances. Hugh Rice tells me her husband is a diamond broker, and she has heaps of money and keeps his business prosperous by buying up diamonds." Kent laughed heartily, and I loved his firm white teeth. "You can be sure it'll be worth going to," he added enthusiastically.

And being a woman and curious I decided that I wanted to go.

"Why Babs—you were not thinking of being jealous, were you?" Kent inquired, half teasing and half serious, while he caught me by the wrist and pulled me over on the arm of his chair. "It's that red hair of yours, dearest," he admonished, running his long fingers through my hair and mussing it up dreadfully.

"It's not red, please," I pleaded, trying to hide my face against his shoulder.

Kent folded me completely in his arms and pressed his lips to my ear

"Your hair is like the crowning gold of a glorious sunset, dearie," he whispered.

"But Kent," I said, sitting up suddenly "what do you think I'd better wear at the dinner party?"

'Gosh, that's like a woman," he pouted. "Fishing for compliments and getting cross if you don't give it, and then when you do hand out a swell one she doesn't listen to you."

"Do you think my black velvet will do? Listen, Kent," I demanded, shaking him a little by the shoulder —"wait, I'll get it" I added.

I came back ad stood in front of Kent with the black velvet dress held up against me for inspection. But Kent's face was suddenly drawn and tired looking.

"I'd like to get a new dress for you Babs. You ought to have one he said slowly.

"Why, this is all right, dear," I answered. I'm not asking for a new one."

"That's the trouble—you'd never ask! But I'd give a lot to be able to get it for you, get you everything, everything money could buy," he ejaculated fiercely.

I hated to have Kent feel like that. I took the dress back in my room and hung it up in the closet.

I knew the real estate business was a precarious sort of thing, and I often marveled that Kent was able to do so well. He was such a rash spender, and would suddenly buy something far in excess of what

I felt he ought to do It was natural for him to live in these states of ups and downs; one minute spending wildly and the next hard pushed and dispirited. But I loved him for his rashness. It was all part of his wonderful charm.

I did not mention the dress again The next day I went up town and purchased adorable new green bead dangles for the ends of the girdle. Then I planned how I could wear the emerald pendant that Kent had given me on my last birthday. I felt confident he would be pleased with the result. After all, what did the average man know about a few yards of velvet held up in front of him, limp and soulless. Kent had never shown much imagination in regard to a woman's clothes.

PRICES FALL BUT CROP CONDITIONS ARE GOOD SO FAR

WHEAT ACREAGE ABOVE LAST YEAR SLIGHTLY, SAYS ROYAL BANK REVIEW.

In its monthly review of business conditions, the Royal Bank finds that prices of farm produce have fallen considerably, but finds that particulaiy in wheat, acreage under cultivation is higher. The report continues:

Our reports from the provinces on business conditions lay special emphasis this month on the declining prices of farm products. Dairy products are strongly affected. Cheese is now selling on the Ontario boards at from 13½ to 14c a pound as against 28c at this time last year. These prices are down to the 1913 level. Whole milk is being bought by the condensaries and powdered milk factories at $1.10 to $1.25 a hundred pounds. In April $2 a hundred was paid, and a year ago from $2.35 to $2.50 a hundred.

Prices for beef cattle have fallen sharpl yin May. By the end of that month the quotation on the Toronto market was $9 a hundred, as against $10.50 a hundred three weeks previously and $16.75 last year. Prices for hogs declined during May to $8 or $9 a hundred. These prices are practically the same as those ruling in 1911; in fact twenty years ago, hogs reached $8 a hundred, which was the highest price on record up to that time.

The Maritime Provinces advise that farm products are in poor demand. Potatoes which were carried over the winter in large quantities, are now selling in the neighborhood of 15 to 25c per bushel.

It is evident that a section of our population has lost a large part of its purchasing power, and is not in a position to buy the products of other industries at anything approaching the prices of a year ago. Retail dealers selling to farming communities had until recently a fair volume of business, but are now reporting a falling off in sales. The prices in different sections of industry have fallen unevenly. Until a realignment takes place, business cannot move in a normal wap.

Wheat Average Higher.

Acreage sown to wheat this year is estimated as very slightly in advance of that of last year. The relation of the present year's figures to those of previous years is given below:

Year	Bush.	Acres.
1921	(about)	18,250,000
1920	263,189,400	18,232,374
1919	193,206,400	19,125,968
1918	189,075,350	17,353,902
1917	233,742,850	14,755,850
1916	262,781,000	15,370,000
1915	393,542,600	15,110,000

It will be noted from these figures how little the yield corresponds from year to year to the acreage under cultivation. Thus in 1915 the yield from 15,110,000 acres was more than twice that of 1919 from 19,125,968 acres. Favorable acreage and not a vast acreage is the first essential of a large crop yield.

Spring Satisfactory.

So far the country has been granted the boon of good weather, and the spring months, always critical ones, have passed in a manner most satisfactory. Winter weather left the farm land, particularly in the West, in fine condition, with abundant moisture. Cool spring weather retarded seeding and germination to some extent, but permanent damage of any kind has been negligible so that, given a reasonable degree of warmth, the extent of the growth will soon be normal for the time of year.

Grasshoppers made a late appearance ,but it is anticipated that vigilant and thorough precautions will ensure a campaign against the pest which will be more effective even than last year's.

As is natural in a time of greatly decreased manufacturing production, a more plentiful supply of farm labour is everywhere available. The situation in this regard is the easiest for some years, and if the railways furnish the usual transportation facilities during the harvest season it is unlikely that there will be the grave labour shortage at any point.

The United States has shared these favorable conditions though apparently to a somewhat less degree. The past month has lowered the estimates of their winter wheat crop to 578,000,000 bushels, which is a trifle less than the crop of last year. Their spring wheat prospects are more encouraging with an estimated yield increase over last year's of 42,000,000 bushels.

It must of course be borne in mind that the events between now and harvest time may alter matters very decidedly. Bad weather of one kind or another, occurring during this period may reduce the anticipated yield by millions of bushels. Predictions at this time are, therefore, reliable only when they claim that the favorable start so far experienced improved crop prospects very greatly.

Markets in Unhealthy Condition.

The marketing conditions for Canadian wheat this year will be unusual. The United States, market is effectively closed to Canada by the new Emergency Tariff which imposes a duty of 35c a bushel—at present prices about 18 per cent. ad valorem—on imports of Canadian wheat. The effect however will not be as harmful to Canada as may at first appear. With the exception of last year (when owing to unusual conditions, we exported to the United States some 40,000,000 bushels) Canada's wheat exports to the United States have averaged only about 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 bushels yearly—about 2 per cent. of our average crop. The wheat market is world wide and owing to the great mobility of wheat if a surplus free for export cannot go to our country, it will be diverted to [illegible]

THE TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM

Happily Stopped When He Began To Take "Fruit-a-tives"

3 Ottawa St., Hull, P. Q.

"For a year, I suffered with Rheumatism, being forced to stay in bed for five months. I tried all kinds of medicine without relief and thought I would never be able to walk again.

One day while lying in bed, I read about "Fruit-a-tives" the great fruit medicine; and it seemed just what I needed, so I decided to try it.

The first box helped me, and I took the tablets regularly until every trace of the Rheumatism left me."

LORENZO LEDUC.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

The market this autumn from all indications, will not be weakened by a large carry over from the crop year 1920-21. Stocks in Canada are by no means large and if the present moderate export business continues the carry over should be a minimum.

YOUNG GIRL FINDS RELIEF

Wants to Tell Other Girls All About It

Evansville, Ind.—"I am eighteen years old and have been bothered for several months with irregular periods. Every month my back would ache and I always had a cold and felt drowsy and sleepy. I work in a millinery shop and I went to work everyday, but felt stupid and would have such cramps. I had seen Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and had heard several women talk of it, so mother got me some. This Vegetable Compound is wonderful and it helped me very much, so that during my periods I am not now sick or drowsy. I have told many girls about it and would be glad to help anyone who is troubled with similar ailments." — Stella Linkwiler, 6 Second St., Evansville, Ind.

Some girls lead lives of luxury, while others toil for their livelihood, but all are subject to the same physical laws and suffer in proportion to their violation. When such symptoms develop as irregularities, headaches, backaches, bearing-down sensations and "the blues," girls should profit by Miss Linxwiler's experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

SOVIET TRADE INVASION BIG

$90,000,000 WORTH OF GOODS PURCHASED IN EUROPE AND $10,000,000 IN THE UNITED STATES.

By Lloyd Allen, United Press Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, July 6. — The Soviet Russia business invasion of Europe has started with a boom, according to the Russian trade delegation here to-day.

So far, $90,000,000 worth of goods have been purchased in Europe and $10,000,000 worth from the United States.

Fifteen mixed cargoes of merchandize were shipped to Petrograd from England last month.

The Bolshevist purchases are made through Argos the all-Russia cooperative society. European salesmen in the midst of a depression are said to be welcoming this ready market and to be besieging the Arcos offices, despite the fact that the doorplates are decorated with the battle flags of the Soviet legions.

America is represented by floods of samples with quotations of everything from sewing machines to pipes.

Leonid Crassin, Soviet emissary to London, gives the following figures of Bolshevist purchases in Western Europe and America: Germany, $60,000,000; England, $20,000,000; Sweden $10,000; United States $10,000,000. Total $100,000,000.

"How is Soviet Russia going to pay for these goods?" the Arcos headquarters was asked. "We have set aside a definite sum of the Russian gold reserve for foreign purchases. The accusation that this reserve is exhausted is absurd," was the reply.

"The Russian mines are going to furnish new gold right along," an official declared. "We have also platinum. This gold and platinum will not be attached nor seized for a British court has decided that it is beyond their jurisdiction to inquire how the Moscow Government came into possession of this wealth."

WARSAW NEWS HAPPFNINGS

WARSAW, July 6.—A meeting of the Trustees of Warsaw and Fourth Line Schools was held in Warsaw School House on Saturday night. There is to be another meeting on Wednesday, July 20th at 8 p.m. in Warsaw School, to which the trustees and committees (if any) of Warsaw, 3rd line, 4th line, Cotessloe Dover No5 and No. 12 Union are to be invited to consider the matter of consolidated schools, or at least some means of providing 5th class work for children, who are ready for it. Notices will be sent to the secretaries of each school section and it is earnestly hoped that every trustee, and member of committee will hold that evening for the school meeting, and be present on time.

Ladies Aid Meet

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Thos. H. Crowe. Usual work was done. A letter was read from Miss Dickson and it was decided to ask Miss Dickson to come in the early autumn and set her own date.

In the Churches

There was no service in the Anglican church Sunday.

There was no service in the Baptist church on Sunday. Rev. Rich of Norwood, preached anniversary sermons at Indian River, morning and evening, Rev. Vose occupied the Baptist pulpit in Norwood.

There was a union service in the Warsaw Methodist Church Sunday evening. The occasion was Rev. J. Knox's farewell to Warsaw circuit, where he has spent the last two years. Rev. Knox preached on "Have ye Kept the faith?" Rev. G. Graham assisted at the service. The choir was assisted by members of other choirs and sang two selections Mr. Henry Batten of Bethel sang "God will take care of you."

Union Picnic

The Indian River and Baptists held their annual union picnic in Mr. Tedford's grove. An exceptionally pleasant afternoon was spent.

Bugs a Pest.

The rain last Wednesday gave things a little drink, but more rain is very badly needed.

Potato bugs seem a greater pest than usual.

IT PAID ME WELL, SAYS MRS. VALIN

TORONTO WOMAN GAINS 12 POUNDS AND IS RESTORED TO PERFECT HEALTH TAKING TANLAC.

"It has certainly paid me well to try Tanlac, for four bottles of the medicine have set me right, and feeling better than I did before I ever got sick," said Mrs. John Valin, of 188 Bain Avenue, Toronto.

"I was in good health up until about a year ago, but then I began to lose weight and fell off from one hundred and twenty-five to one hundred and fourteen pounds. My appetite was very poor and I had awful attacks of biliousness. My head would ache until it felt like it would split open, and I was so dizzy that at times I could hardly keep from falling. I was in a terribly nervous state, too, and it was just all I could do to get any good sleep at night. I had awful weak spells and would have to stay in bed for a day or two at a time, and although I was continually taking different medicines, I could find nothing to help me.

"I read so much about Tanlac I decided to give it a trial, and after the very first bottle I had a splendid appetite and could eat just anything I wanted without a particle of trouble. I kept taking the medicine until it built me up twelve pounds in weight and put me in as good health as I ever enjoyed in my life. I sleep like a child every night, and feel just fine all the time. I think Tanlac is the grandest medicine in the world, and am more than glad to recommend it to everybody."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd.; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert by A. J. Scott; in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

The telephone was a toy in 1876; the typewriter a crude arrangement in 1878; the electric industry a baby in 1879, when Edison invented the incandescent light; the phonograph was a curiosity in 1890; and moving-pictures a flickering experiment in 1896.

PROPOSE TO SELL NIAGARA POWER ACROSS BORDER

SIR ADAM BECK WOULD "TRADE WITH YANKEES" NOW—PROJECTS EXCESS COST.

The Chief of the Hydro invited 300 members of the Toronto Board of Trade to visit the new power canal. The occasion was taken advantage of by Sir Adam to get off one of his usual self-laudatory and self-glorification speeches. It was done in his best style, and duly reported at length in the Toronto press. Several exceedingly interesting statements were elucidated. The original estimates for the power canal were $10,000,000. The actual cost will be about $60,000,000. The canal would have furnished cheap electricity at $10,000,000. It will still furnish cheap electric energy at $60,000,000. At least so says the gallant electric knight. The Canadian companies which the Hydro has acquired at the expense of the Province are under contract to furnish 100,000 H.P. to United States industries. New York, Sir Adam intimates, wants to purchase 200,000 H.P. from the Hydro on the completion of the Chippewa Canal. Sir Adam says that reciprocal trade of this character is a good thing for both countries, it tightens the bonds of goodwill between Uncle Sam and Jack Canuck. Not many years ago plain citizen Adam Beck joined in the slogan, "No truck or trade with the Yankees." The truck and trade that was then in contemplation did not call for the expenditure of a single cent of public money to bring about this reciprocal bond of fellowship, which had it been brought about would have prevented the present restrictive barriers across the line to Canadian products. What a wonderfully wise man Sir Adam has grown into, or what a remarkable easily gulled people the Ontario electorate must be. An Indian fakir couldn't do the trick better. Wind is water, or black is white, just as Sir Adam chooses to say. And we are to believe although our sense and reason say otherwise. We were told that the Hydro power extension was necessary in order to give US cheap light, energy and power, with this power in full blast it would be the means of inducing American manufacturers, employing tens of thousand of hands, to cross the line, adding to our wealth and population. We have brought out power companies at a cost of $30,000,000, the majority of which electric energy is under contract to be delivered to the United States at a less figure per H.P. than the Hydro charges Ontario customers. And we are proposing to sell the United States hundreds of thousands of electrical H.P. from the Chippewa Canal which is costing $60,000,000. What should we call ourselves? With what degree of pride should we regard Sir Adam? The electric heat which was promised should take the place of coal is not going to be available. If we have more energy than our manufacturers require, it is going across the line to serve as an anchor to keep these factories at home, instead of inducing them to come over here. Reciprocity, Sir Adam says, should be encouraged. Truly Sir Adam is a wonder. His ways are past finding out. He has put it over us magnificently. As a goat we have no equal anywhere.—Port Hope Guide.

WILL YOU HELP? IT IS WORTHY

A SUBSCRIPTION TO THE CANADIAN NATIONAL INSTITUTE FOR THE BLIND WILL BE DEEPLY APPRECIATED—LEAVE IT AT YOUR BANK.

The noble aim of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind is to ameliorate in every possible way the unhappy condition of the blind in Canada, and although only established during the summer of 1918 it has already accomplished some marvelous work. Forming at that date, with Toronto headquarters, it has since then spread from coast to coast, and is now divided into the following four divisions:

The Maritime Division—including the Maritime Provinces.

The Central Division —Ontario.

The Central Western Division—Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

The Western Division —Alberta and British Columbia.

The service which the institute is conducting may be grouped under the following headings:—

Field Work and Registration—To obtain for the institute the necessary information regarding blind friends and to give them similar infirmation concerning the institute and the possibilities of service avaliable thereunder.

Home Teaching —For those who cannot or do not care to leave their homes to take up more serious lines of work such as are available in the shops, instruction in reading and writing Braille, and in light handicrafts, such as sewing, knitting, basket making, chair caning etc., is given by the home teacher.

Vocational Instruction—This is given in the industrial departments for those who are admitted according to regular procedure.

Library and Publishing Department—Circulates embossed books in Braile New York Point, and Moon type; also embossed music. This service is with out charge either for the use of the books or for gratuitously furnished by the Dominion Government on free postage.

Prevention of Blindness—by a campaign against preventable eye disease, campaign against preventable eye accidents and eye strain, and by inaugurating "sight saving classes" in public schools, at least in our large cities.

You can help in this very laudable work by subscribing to the fund for the Blind which is open at all the Banks in the City and County.

CARPENTIER IS A GOOD LOSER

DRINKS TOAST TO DEMPSEY AND CALLS HIM "GREATEST BOXER IN THE WORLD."

NEW YORK, July 6.—(Canadian Press.) — Georges Carpentier and Deschamps, his manager, were guests last night at a dinner given to visiting French and British sport writers by The Editor and Publisher. Tribute was paid to the sportsmanship of the United States' press and public by Ben Bennison, of the London Daily Telegraph, speaking for British writers, and Victor Breyer, boxing critic of Echo De Sports.

Carpentier, responding to a toast in his honor tendered one to Jack Dempsey, his conqueror.

"For the past ten years it has been my ambition to box for the world's championship," he said. "But on Saturday I met a man whom I think the greatest boxer in the world. I do not wish to deny that I was under great emotion when I entered the ring as I saw about me great multitudes of people, and when I heard their ovation I thought they were all French. I wish to extend all my thanks to the people of the United States, and especially to the Press for the manner in which I hae been treated, and I now drink a toast to the health of Jack Dempsey."

Before entering the ring Saturday Carpentier told his manager that if he could not win he desired to go down with colors flying. "We talked it over and Carpentier said there should be no sponge," said Deschamps.

An Unusual

Sale of Towels

Commences on Friday

And Ends Wednesday, July 13th

Nature's greatest gift to man is water.

And Kentucky folks maintain that its one use is to provide drink for Towels.

How the skin does love a Towel of just the right texture. Here are the sorts that are so gratifying to the face.

Nearly all are from the Mills of the Old Bleach Co., of Randalstown, Ireland. They are Fresh and New and well worth their original prices. GREAT VALUE AT THE SALE FIGURES.

Guest Towels at 63c Each or $1.25 Pair

Regular 75c Value.

They are "Old Bleach"—so their quality must be good. The size is the standard 14 x 22 inches. Some are hemstitched and others are scalloped. Those that are scalloped are plain Huck, and the hemstitched ones can be had in a variety of all-over patterns. You can choose between plain hemstitched ends or hemstitched ends with borders of Clover Leaf or Wreath design. The latter has a place whereon an initial can be worked.

Pure Linen Medium Size Towels, 77c Each, or $1.50 Pair
Regular 90c Value.

They are hemstitched and are "Old Bleach." The exact size is 18 x 30 inches. The quality is good and the border is a Key pattern.

Medium Size Huck Towels, 90c Each, or $1.75 Pair
Regular $1.15 Value.

They are pure Linen, are "Old Bleach," and are figured with all-over patterns, such as Rose, Wreath, Clover Leaf, and Fleur de Lis. The size is 18 x 30 inches.

Plain Huckaback Towels, 90c Each, or $1.75 Pair

They are entirely plain, except for the hemstitched ends. They are weighty and pure Linen. Measure 18 x 30 inches. "Old Bleach."

Pure Linen Hucks, $1.15 Each, or $2.25 Pair
Regular $1.40 Each.

Like all the others, they are "Old Bleach." The all-over patterns can be had in either Diamond or Rose designs. Size 20 x 36 inches.

Large Size Huck Towels, $1.15 Each, or $2.25 Pair
Regular $1.50 Each.

Pure Linen, "Old Bleach," and their size is 22 x 38 inches. The centres are plain and the ends are patterned with Floral Bow Knot borders.

Fine Quality Huck Towels, $1.65 Each, or $3.25 Pair
Regular $1.90 Value.

They are pure Linen of a fine grade. The centres are plain and the ends and sides are patterned with either Scroll, Water Lily, or Maple Leaf designs. The ends are hemstitched.

Four Extraordinarily Fine Grades of Huck Towels

The Towels in this group of Four are the finest grades of Linen Huckaback Towels we have ever stocked:

1.—Hemstitched ends and plain centres, but the pattern goes all-around. It is a Shadowed Lattice design. The size is 22 x 38 inches. Regular $2.75, for $2.25 each.

2.—Hemstitched ends and a Shadowed Stripe border. The size is 22 x 38 inches. Regular $2.75. Sale Price $2.25 each.

3.—The pattern of this one is very exclusive, and is used only by the "Old Bleach Company." The ends are hemstitched, and form an oval centre. The plain centre is bordered by a Swansea or Rose pattern. The size is 22 x 38 inches. Regular $3.25 each, for $2.50 each.

4.—Here is another beautiful Towel. The size is a little larger —24 x 42 inches. It is hemstitched with a scroll border, and is arranged so that there is a space at either end for initials to be worked. There is also a Stripe pattern above the hemstitching. Regular $3.50 value—for $2.95 each—"Old Bleach."

Cotton Huckaback Towels, 39c Pair

They are a good quality and closely woven. The ends are hemmed. Size 35 x 18 inches.

White Bath Towels, 79c Pair

These Towels have a good nappy surface that is bound to make them absorbent. Their exact size is 20 x 40 inches.

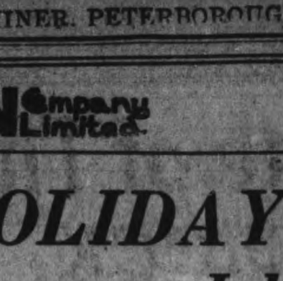
A Notable

Sale of Handkerchiefs

Commences on Friday

And Ends July 13th

It makes us feel good to be able to sell these nice qualities again for so little money. The good old-fashioned kinds are here at good old-fashioned prices. Also, the dainty sorts with a little Lace or fine Embroidery workings. Besides these, there are FINE AND STURDY KINDS FOR MEN.



FOR WOMEN

Fine Cambric Handkerchiefs, 3 for 27c

Finished with a neat ⅛ inch hem. We sell them regularly at 15c each.

Pure Irish Linen Handkerchiefs, 2 for 35c

This price is just Half, for they are regular 35c value, and are good buying at that. The hemstitched hem is ⅛ of an inch wide.

45c Pure Linen Hemstitched Handkerchiefs, 2 for 45c

The Linen in these is very fine, and the hemstitched hem is ⅛ of an inch. The Sale Price is just Half.

35c Pure Linen Mourning Handkerchiefs, 2 for 35c

These, too, are pure Irish Linen. You will find this stamped on every dozen. The Black hemstitched hem is ⅛ of an inch wide.

45c Pure Linen Mourning Handkerchiefs, 2 for 45c

This line is a very fine grade, and the hem is ⅛ of an inch.

Good Weight Cambric Handkerchiefs, 3 for 25c, 90c Dozen

We purchased 400 Dozen of this line. That is how much we think of them. They are of a little heavier material than the fine Lawns and Linens; have ¼ inch hems, and are regulation size.

Fancy White Handkerchiefs, 3 for 30c

These are made of a very fine Lawn, with a White cross-bar border made of fine cords. The edge is hemstitched. They have the appearance of much more expensive Handkerchiefs.

20c Lace-edged Handkerchiefs, 2 for 25c

Made of a fine Lawn, and edged with a fine Lace that can be had in a variety of patterns.

25c Embroidered Black-edged Handkerchiefs, 2 for 27c

These have narrow Black edges, and have Embroidery in the corners. Most of them are embroidered by hand.

35c Embroidered Black-edged Handkerchiefs, 2 for 39c

The material is a very fine Cambric, and the corners are worked with Black coloured hand embroidery.

65c and 75c Coloured Linen Handkerchiefs, 49c

Coloured Linen Handkerchiefs are a distinct departure from the usual. They are most effective with Sport Costumes. The designs are Spot and Block effects. The colours are Cadet Blue, Rose, Tan; and Tan and Purple.

75c Hand Embroidered Handkerchiefs, 57c

These are very fine and beautifully embroidered with various colours and patterns.

65c Embroidered Handkerchiefs, 43c

The material is a real fine quality of Irish Linen, and the corners and edges are embroidered.

FOR MEN

Men's Irish Cambric Hemstitched Handkerchiefs, 2 for 29c

They are 18 inches square, and have a ¼ inch hem. The Cambric is fine and will give good service.

1,200 AEROPLANES FLY 3,250,000 MILES.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The Manufacturers' Aircraft Association, on completing an aviation survey of the United States, announced to-day that in the last six months, the 1,200 commercial planes in operation in this country had flown approximately 3,250,000 miles.

"The record," says the survey, "shows that civilian flying, although embarrassed by the lack of an American air policy, has established itself as a remarkably safe and dependable means of transportation. In three and a quarter million miles of travel by air, only 15 persons were killed and 43 injured in a total of 27 serious accidents. Most of these accidents occurred among that class of civilian aviators known as 'gypsy' flyers.

"Of the 1,200 commercial aircraft, probably one thousand are under the indirect supervision of responsible plane manufacturers or transportation companies—and this is absolutely the only regulation over flying, as local ordinances or state laws can not be enforced. Lacking a federal organisation controlling civilian aviation, these 200 or more gipsy flyers have been permitted to fly at will, and many have met disaster.

"Eight of the fatalities and 32 of the injuries in the last six months have been traced to the lack of terminals, routes, and storm warnings, or to reckless stunting—errors which would have been corrected or prevented had there been a national air policy. In all the United States there are only 214 adequate municipal or civilian air ports, yet terminals are as necessary to aerial transport as they are to shipping or the railways. Deducting these preventable casualties, it is found that there was only one death for each 464,285 miles flown, and only one injury for each 295,454 miles flown."

NOVEL ACCOUNT OF MIC MACS.

HALIFAX, N. S. July 5 —An account of the early Mic Mac Indians recently written for the "Rainbow Club" of the Halifax Herald by Miss Mary Toney, a modern representative of the tribe is exactly as follows:

Indian children some three hundred years ago, those that were same age, were same size, and they looked all alike, they were very young when they learned to walk and talk and Healthy there was nothing to keep otherwise like whooping caugh chicken pox measles. they wore best of fur like black fox, silver gray wich is very expences to-day. they were fed with the very best of food like plenty of meat and wild potatoes salmon and fish of all kinds was free to Indians they preserved their fish and meat by smoking and their berries by drying them their bread was nuts they drank wild erb for tea and it was sweetened with wild sugar its no wonder they were wild but this is not so today them days the Rainbow told them something about the weather but I am a Rainbow and I am trying to tell the rest of the Rainbows something about the Indians.

MARY E. I. TONEY.

Mary, an exceedingly youthful and precocious Rainbow, adds a not to be excused from writing to the Club frequently because she is troubled with the annual "eczaminations."

PUSSYFOOT IN DENMARK.

DOG DAYS STUFF

The thermometer at Trebilcock's store gave out at noon yesterday that the temperature was 96 deg. of heat in the shade. Likely registered a degree or two later in the afternoon.

The heated people are disputing as to hot days. On Aug. 13th, of 1918 it rose to 92 deg. On the 20th and 21st it went one or two better, being 99 deg.

In July 1911, on the 5th, we had a decent broiling heat of 100 deg. in the shade. In Aug. of 1900 we had spells of 94 and 97 deg. but not sustained.

Aug. 21, 1916. Climbed to 99 in the shade. Churches deserted. On the 22nd still 99 deg.

Side by side with all this fervency please consider that on May 4th, 1907 snow fell to the depth of 7 inches. And on May 12th we had ice over half an inch thick. And a real heavy snow fall on night of May 27th. Can you beat it?

Despite all our public utilities, the town pump still functions. Last night streams of people came to the pump at George street church and drew off its waters and dipped their bills in the creek. Cans, jugs, pails and jars all in evidence. People walking by and seeing a full can asked to partake. Sundry private wells were well patronized. But George street church pump and well has a merit and distinction all its own. A public benefactor.

These hot nightes are the test for the dwellers in the apartments, right under the roof. Sizzles. The parks were thronged until eleven o'clock. The railing of the Hunter street bridge was a roosting place for many. If it's cool there now, what will it be in the middle of January next?

A party of walkers, determined to get to some elevated spot, journey to the top of Armour's Hill. Found a breeze there that was allaying. Try it to-night.

These bathing beaches, so called, ain't a patch on the old flumes that on a day lined the raceway along the canal at the many mills between Hunter street and London street. All one had to do was to walk over and pull out a plug. Shower-bath? Yes. A two-inch stream if one liked. Modern improvements have their lackings. To sit with one's feet in the tail race and a half-inch stream down the back reduced the bodily temperature in a twikling. Let's all go.

A while ago we had community dances on Simcoe street. Why not go one step further and have public irrigation. All hands come in light clothing, any old duds, and get the fire bridgade to open a hydrant and sluice down the crowd. If done courteously and with reasonable diffidence the thing should be a success. Besides if the fireman was too boisterous he would be whaled.

Now the Neill building has facilities. A standpipe runs high up to the flat roof. Suppose the manager invites a crowdand all hands in brief attire stand around on the warm room and get syringed. Good idea. No cleaning up afterwards. We have wonderful resources if we would only make use of them.

As suggested in the Examiner, the no-coat movement is bearing fruit. Twenty-seven men, by actual count, on the street yesterday without coats. Nine had coats on the arm, which is a sort of half-way house. Get into the game. It's only a notion that makes us wear coats on a hot day. The painter man and the plumber, and both can well afford to buy clothing, go without coats to and from work. Why not the lawyer and the optician? Heat knows no social lines.

Hot and all as it was on Charlotte street at "high noon" to-day, a well-known citizen was returning to work smacking his lips to catch a last lingering taste. "I had a beautiful glass of Frontenac beer for dinner," he said. "But the case is already half gone" he lamented.

Unusually warm water in the Kawartha Lakes is said to be killing many of the fish, dead bodies of which, floating about, provide an easy meal for the cranes. This disability of the fish may account for some of the large "catches" that have been reported in town of late.

SACRED HEART CHURCH SOCIAL DREW CROWDS

A large crowd assembled at the social held in the Sacred Heart grounds last evening. The supper tables were filled again and again, until as late at 8.30, by hungry wayfarers. The grounds were illuminated by long strings of electric lights, and decorated with streamers and Japanese lanterns. The booths for the sale of ice-cream, fruit, and soft drinks did a rushing business, the little horses raced on their circular track, regardless of the heat, and children swarmed around the ever-popular fish pond. The band of the Peterborough Rangers, under the leadership of Bandmaster Gliddon, rendered a programme of fine music all evening, and Mr. George Lynch, at the auction booth, collected a big crowd. Here everything was spun on the wheel of fortune, articles both useful and fancy circulating amongst the crowd in great profusion, the indefatigable auctioneer bestowing camisoles on blushing young men, and knitted mittens on sticky children with strict impartiality. Aprons, laundry bags, table scarfs, handkerchiefs, children's dresses, and fat cushions all took their turn. The 14-pound fruit cake, also raffled on the wheel, fell to the lot of Miss Margaret Butler.

CHEESE UP SIX CENTS

SOLD AT 21 1-16 CENTS ON LOCAL BOARD THIS MORNING—EXPORT DEMAND STRONGER.

soared skyward on the local cheese board to-day and the salesmen were happy. Last sale, two weeks ago, cheese sold at 15 13-16c. To-day it went 21 1-16c—over a five cent rise. The market has picked up the buyers say and cheese seems to be in good demand. An improvement in the English and Overseas market is partly responsible for the jump they say. Two weeks ago 1130 boxes were boarded. There were 103 boxes boarded to-day as follows:

Warminster	80
Selwyn	90
Villiers	200
Warsaw	175
Westwood	75
Ormonde	180
Young's Point	110
Lang	48
North Dummer	60
Kilarney	75

T. J. Thompson of Madoc, buying for the A. A. Ayres Co., Montreal, got 430 boxes; J. A. Kerr, of Montreal buyer for Alexander of Montreal, secured the balance at the same price, 21 1-16c.

There were three other buyers, J. Cook, of W. S. Cook and Son, Belleville; G. A. Gillespie, Peterboro, and George Ivey of Campbelford, buying for Olive and Doran, Montreal.

Bidding opened at 19c. The way it went was:

Gillespie 19c; Kerr 19c for the board; Gillespie 19 1-8c; Kerr 1-8c for the board; Gillespie 9 3-16c for the board; Thmopson, 19 1-4c for selections: Gillespie 19 5-16c; Thompson, 19 7-8c; Gillespie 19 7-16; Thompson 19 1-2c for selections; Gillespie 19 9-16c; Thompson 19 5-8; Gillespie 19 5-8 for the board; Thompson 19 11-16c; Gillespie, 19 3-4c; Thompson 19 13-16; Gillespie 19 7-8; Thompson 20c; Gilespie, 20c for the board; Thompson 20 1-16c; Gilespie, 20 1-16c for the board; Thompson 20 1-8c; Gillespie 20 1-8c for the board; Thompson, 20 1-4 for the board; Gillespie, 20 5-16c for the board; Thompson, 20 3-8 for selections; Gillespie, 20 3-8 for the board; Thompson 20 7-16c; Gillespie, 20 7-16c for the board; Thompson 20 1-2c for selections; Gillespie, 20 9-16c; Kerr, 20 5-8c for selections; Thompson 20 11-16c for selections; Kerr 20 3-4c; Thompson, 20 13-16; Kerr, 20 7-8c for selections; Thompson, 20 16-16; Kerr, 21 for selections, Thompson, 21 1-16c for selections.

Mr. Thompson took 430 boxes—Killarney, Ormonde nad Warsaw. Mr. Kerr took the balance at the same figure.

The Board will meet again in two weeks.

Voice of the People

To the Editor of the Examiner,

Dear Sir,—In last night's paper I was able to see. It did not take Ald. Gordon long to discover the Fire Department's Report was missing. There could have been no petty offences committed or it would have been there all right. A bit more time at the Fire Hall and less at his Chicken House might bring next month's report on time.

Ex-Fireman Thomas.

Peggy, my dear,
Imagine what I found when I got home! Doug had used up every dish in the place — had even started on the hand-painted china and cut-glass — and had them all piled neatly and in order on the kitchen table!! But bless his old heart, he was a dear to let me go for so long anyway!
Housework didn't take long to make a mess of my hands again though, Peggy. Even after all your thoughtful care. However, I rubbed some Campana's Italian Balm on last night, and I see a marvellous improvement already — 'S'fact, really!! It certainly is a "balm" for housework-worn hands.
Good-bye, Toney,
As ever,
Marie

TORONTO BREAD IS SIX CENTS CHEAPER THAN PETERBORO'S

GEORGE LAWRENCE COMPANY HAD CUT PRICE OF THREE POUND LOAF TO EIGHTEEN CENTS.

Owing to difficulties in production, the supply of Port Hope bread which W. J. Byers and several other grocers imported for their customers, has been cut off. This bread was laid down in Peterborough at 17 cents a large loaf and was retailed at 20 cents

Mr. Byers said to-day that he would rther give local bakers the preference, but it was a question of buying for the best advantage of his customers. While Peterborough's prices remained higher than that of imported bread he would buy out of town, and in fact was now looking for a new connection.

Peterborough consumers will be interested in the announcement published in the Toronto Telegram on Monday night by George Lawrence's Bread Limited, to the effect that this company would deliver three pound loaves at 20 cents. This advertisement says: "Why do we lower the price? Not because the cost of production is any less but because we want to add our little mite to the great cause of reducing prices, lowering the cost of living, and helping the big job of getting the world back to normal.' Nine cents a small loaf of one pound and a half. Such is the Toronto price as quoted by George Lawrence. On the basis of the three pound loaf this is just six cents less than the Toronto prices.

G. O. CAMERON WILL REMAIN WITH BOARD OF EDUCATION THIS YEAR

RESIGNATION WAS NOT ACCEPTED AND HE AGREED TO COME FROM MONTREAL TO ATTEND THE MEETINGS.

APPOINTMENTS MADE

The Board of Education held their usual monthly meeting last evening, With Dr. Neal in the chair. Those present were:—Mrs. W. R. Morris Messrs. C. H. Thompson, G. O. Cameron, E. G. Patterson, J. M. Greene J. W. Worth J. A. McKone J. J. Duffus, A. A. Fowler R. Denne and Mr. A. Mowat. In accordance with the effort being made by the Council of the Home and School Associations in the City to increase public interest in educational matters, there were also present three ladies, Mesdames Crowe, Laing and Conley.

Reports of the different committees were heard, as follows:

Report of Supervision Committee.

As authorized, your Committee advertised for tender for Text-books and Supplies and Collegiate Institute Supplies for the ensuing year, and have awarded the contract to Messrs. Trebilcock Bros.

Respectfully submitted.

A. A. FOWLER.

Report of Committee on Appointments.

Your Committee on appointments beg to report and recommend as follows:—

That Dr. A. W. McPherson be reappointed to the position of Medical Inspector in the Public Schools for the year, September 1921 to June 30th, 1922 at a salary of $1500.00.

That Miss E. A. Murphy and Miss E. Josephine Redmond be appointed to the Collegiate Institute Staff, duties to commence in September, next, and that on account of their previous experience their initial salary be $2000.00 with increase according to schedule.

That, owing to illness, Miss Esma Thomlinson, be granted leave of absence without salary, until January next.

That Miss Hazel J. G. Moffat, Household Science Instructor, be appointed to the Collegiate Institute Staff, duties to commence in September next, salary to be according to schedule for assistance not in charge of a Department, with initial salary of $1900.00, and that she continue as supervisor of sewing in the Public Schools.

That Mr. Albert Hope of Lakefield be appointed to the Public School staff as Manual Training Instructor, duties to commence in September next, and salary to be the same as male Vice-Principals (Holders of Second Class Certificates).

That Miss Alice E. Riley of Bethany be appointed on the Public School staff as Household Science Instructor,duties to commence in September next, initial salary to be $1100.00 with increase according to schedule.

That the following applicants to the Public School staff, at the initial salary opposite their respective names, and duties to commence in September next.

Miss Mabel Gardiner, $900.00; Miss Gladys Coulter, $950.00; Miss Ethel R. Rowe, $900.00; Miss Carrie Cruickshanks $900.00; Miss Jean H. Anderson $900.00; Miss Agnes Stout $900.00; Miss Beulah Chapman $900.00.

Respectfully submitted,

G. O. CAMERON.

Mr. Cameron Remains.

Mr. G. A. Cameron announced his removal from Peterboro, by reason of being transferred to the Head Office of the Bell Telephone Co., in Montreal ,and tendered his resignation as member of the Board of Education. Mr. E. G. Patterson, seconded by Mr. J. W. Worth, moved that this resignation be not accepted and that Mr. Cameron be asked to continue on the Board for the balance of the year, making a trip from Montreal for each meeting. Mr. Cameron agreed to do this, remarking on the pleasure it would afford him to remain with the Board for the concluding meetings of the year, and saying that the Bell Telephone Co., would doubtless be pleased to have him help out in this way also.

Progress on School.

Mr. E. G. Patterson reported progress at the new Prince of Wales School as rapidly nearing completion, and asked that arrangements for the opening be decided upon. Dr. Neal was of the opinion that the opening should be very informal, carried out as quietly as possible, but Mrs. Morris, Messrs. Cameron, Greene and Worth were of the contrary opinion remarking that as there had been a good deal of adverse public criticism on the carrying out of the plans for the edifice, something should be done to invest the opening with as much formality and dignity as is possible. It was therefore decided that the Building Committee should co-operate with the Home and School Association of the South Central School in completing a programme for the occasion.

Ask for Playgrounds.

Mrs. H. A, Yenney and Mrs. Jos. Wearing, representing the Queen Alexandra Home and School Association, waited on the Board with a request that something be done towards providing adequate playgrounds for the children of this school. The trustee of the Grace Church Sunday Scool, whose property adjoins that of the Queen Alexandra School, had refused to allow the children to play on their property, but had agreed to sell some of the land to the Board of Education, if that body wished to buy. Mr. Patterson asserted that the Board of Education had no power to buy property without a vote from the ratepayers of the city. On motion of Mr. Cameron, the question was referred to the Property Committee for consideration.

Council's Suggestion

A letter from the City Council was read to the effect that: Owing to legal difficulties in the way of the Board of Education confirming their full grant of $1500. to the Playgrounds, the City Council suggested the reduction of the amount of $1500 in the budgetof the Board of Education to $750, which might be spent for equipment, turning the remaining $750 over to the Playgrounds Association.

Mrs. Morris enquired whether it would be necessary to give notice of motion in order to consider Dr. Miller's report in September, and asked for the minutes to be read with regard to this matter. She was informed that this matter had been left entirely in the hands of the advisory Industrial Committee, who had been considering the matter from copies of the report of Dr. Miller, also that the Board had no authority to request this Committee to come to some conclusion regarding the matter, so that nothing had been done.

A motion was carried to adjourn the meeting until the first Tuesday in September.

Monies Received.

Fees, Text-books and supplies, $768.65; Fees, Departmental Exams $282.00; City Treasurer, Municipal Grant, $16,000.00. Total $17,050.65.

HEAT A BOON AND BANE TO FRUIT MEN

BOOSTS BUSINESS TO HIGH LEVEL. BRING PROFITS WITH THE CREST OF HUMIDITY WAVE AND WIPES OUT MUCH OF THE GAINS WHEN STOCK GOES ABD

The heat wave has sent the fruit business "sky high," and local fruit stores and wholesale men have in their rush of business hardly had time to notice the heat themselves. The public has since last week been clamouring for fruit of all descriptions. Lemons have been attacked more avidly than any other article, with the result that the basis of lemonade promises to be at a premium unless the weather man desists from his African effects.

Lemons are daily becomng more difficult to obtain, the wnolesale men say, and the price as rebounding. Most of those coming into Peterborough are from Sicily, for according to W. J. Oke, the Messina article is superior to the California lemons.

If the heat wave continues, lemonade will soon be as prized as beverages frowned upon by tne Dominion Alliance.

The Berry Crop.

Old Sol is spoiling everything. If the torrid weather does not abate, the raspberry crop will be a failure. berries will dry up on the bushes, growers state. A fruit man said today he was buying all his fruit in Toronto, where they were cheaper than the native stuff here. Berries were selling at 22 and 23 cents yesterday.

Black currants were in the stores at 35 cents a quart. They are hard to obtain, one dealer said.

Red currants are selling at 30 cents a box.

Gooseberries are not plentiful, and are bringing 20 to 25 cents a quart.

Huckleberries Plentiful.

Overnight the huckleberry crop has poured on to the market. At the lakes and down East in the huckleberry belt the berries have ripened very quickly, and doubtless tons of the fine fruit are going to waste for lack of picking. In the shops they were selling at 35 cents a quart and $2.72 an 11-quart basket. Fruit men report very steady sales.

The Cherries.

Cherries do not look like a big crop, and the wholesalers advise householders from a purely well-wishing standpoint to buy cherries this week when they are at their best for canning. Cherries are about the same price as last year. Montmorency cherries are going at 1.35 morency cherries are going at $1.35 a 6-quart basket, or an 11-quart basket $1.75 to $1.85.

Black Sweets are selling at $2.20 up an 11-quart basket.

Dealers are complaining of losing much through decomposition. Tomatoes especially, they say, will not keep this hot weather, and there is not one shop but has felt a loss. If business in fruit is good, they are losing what they are making through decomposition, they say. In other words, the weather man puts money in their pocket, then takes it out.

An Antidote For The Heat

"Sure enough, it's warm!—sizzling hot!"

But it's July weather, and Canadians realize that it is nothing new to have extremely hot weather in July.

The BEST way to keep braced up and in condition during the heated term is to

OWN A Ford

Then you can hike away past the green fields to the cool lake and river nooks, or some breezy woodland spot, getting back home again in your FORD at leisure.

In the evening, after the work of the day is over, wouldn't that be an antidote for the Heat?

Buy a FORD, and put the balance in the Bank. Then, "with a song in your heart you can greet the day, and the tasks that the day may bring."

To those desiring a Closed Car, the FORD Sedan and Couplet are especially attractive and economical, compared with other Closed Cars.

The FORD costs merely the price of a good team of Horses, with the strength and power of Twenty Horses. The FORD costs less per mile to run. It requires but few repairs. It is always ready to go. At your Service—

RIVER WATER TEPID FROM CONTINUED HEAT

HAS SHOWN TEMPERATURE OF 84 DEGREES.

The water in the intake at the Waterworks pump-house this morning tested 83 degrees, and the water in the taps was about 73. These are the peaks for the year, and already been recorded. The river water has gone as high at 84. The pumpage last night was the highest of the year. About seven o'clock, when the lawns were being watered, both to save the grass and cool the atmosphere to some extent, the pumps were sending 7,500,000 gallons an hour into the mains. To-day the pumpage was running about 5,000,000 gallons per hour.

Dr. Young, M.O.H., advises boilmost the highest that have ever ing the water more urgently than ever. No improvement in the water is noticeable, if anything, it is much worse for the bacteria colon multiply at an enormous rate in the warm water, and the superintendent of the Waterworks is considering raising the chlorine dosage from 12 to 13 or 14 pounds per million gallons, although somewhat dubious of the resultant effects on the water.

SOMETHING TO THINK OVER.

Kiel Canal is 61 miles long.

DRESS TO LOOK THINNER.

The other night I went to a reception at a woman's club, and while the speakers had charge of the early part of the evening's program, I had a perfectly lovely chance to sit back and observe my fellow club members. That's one of my favorite occupations, anyway, sitting on the side lines and watching other people; perhaps it tends to make one hypercritical, but it does develop one's powers of observation. She had conservatively, a 58-inch bust measure. And did the lady dress so as to hide this fact? She did not. She wore a dress of black grosgrain silk which came up as far as the largest part of the bust, then became white lace over white silk and thus went up to her several chins. The sharp black-and-white line around the bust brought out all its awkward bulk as nothing else could.

Then there was a representative of that class which runs to pendants and tassels and flying ends and stray bits of lace and jet tacked on here and there. This lady could have stood fifty pounds less and been much improved but a dress of simple lines would have become her even more. She wore rose color, and this and the criss-cross lines and all the ornaments and things, made her look monstrous. Near her sat a woman who likely weighed as much, but in a severely simple black velveteen semi-fitted, and with a long sweep of line and a suggestion of train in one long hanging panel—she looked nearly perfect in shape.

Another woman with a matronly figure, wore a dress with a short tunic. This woman should have worn a slim skirt with a long tunic well down to her ankles if she wished to look more slender.

Black is not always a good choice for a stout woman, for it silhouettes the figure. Dark colors, however, are always best. If black is chosen, it should be some soft material: and if it is to be an evening gown, Chantilly lace, jet bandings and tulle are very good as a combination. Contrary to popular belief, the stout woman should have her clothes rather loose. Tight dresses accentuate every spot where there is too much flesh. Corsets should be worn loose in the waist and tight over the hips; they shouold be low enough to let the bust drop, and a brassiere should always be worn (to eliminate that ugly mark where the flesh hangs over the top of the corset). This puts the fat woman in a harness, but then, that's the penalty of eating too much and exercising too little. If she will reduce, she will be able to go without any corsets at all.

Also, the fat woman should avoid fancy shoes as she would the plague.

BEERBOHM FLED TO HIS ITALIAN VILLA

LONDON, July 6.—After hanging on the walls of the Leicester Galleries—one of the smallest in London—a collection of 80 or more cartoons jibing at English society, Max Beerbohm fled to his Italian villa.

Probably it is well he did, for all the victims of his humor proceeded to visit the galleries and to view their caricatures and to comment thereon. He sent invitations to all before he left, and the week saw everybody present who is worth while in the public eye—everybody from Lytton Strachey to Lord Hugh Cecil, and from Sidney Webb to Joseph Conrad.

The cartoons have the quality of a French revue; yet they are not French. They have a daring of many of the drawings in "Jugend," the German comic weekly; but they are not German. They are wholly Maxian; there is only one Max.

Mrs. Asquith First.

The first important celebrity to arrive on the day of the private view was Mrs. Asquith. Her clothes are always the subject of discussion—her daring, her wit, her domineering personality, and her famous Memoirs. There is Mrs. Asquith's book held up to ridicule; a rather sad Mr. Asquith is sitting in his library, the tired old man described as "A Belated Reader of Mrs. Asquith's Memoirs," saying, "H'm! Appears to have a very facile pen." Mrs. Asquith studied this picture for some minutes, smiling.

Not far away she saw one of the greatest tragedies of the world illustrated—the decline and fall of Woodrow Wilson that great master-mind who crossed over here yearning to settle the peace of the world forever, only to find that European statesmanship was a much more difficult thing than he thought.

He is sitting in an arm-chair, just like Mr. Asquith, in a dressing-gown, the picture of woe; behind him Mr. Lloyd George is saying to M. Clemenceau, "Thought he was going to get the better of you and me." This picture has a quality not usual in Max's work. There is a sincerity in that drooping figure—a strange contrast to his usual cynicism.

Prices Not Extravagant.

We all remember Winston Churchill's annoyance when H. G. Wells explained Bolshevism. "You were only 14 days in Russia," writes Max under his drawing of the two protagonists, dressed as school boys. "Your mother's an American," replies Wells.

Max is extravagant only in his humor; his prices are most modest. For 30 guineas, at the most, you can buy any of these cartoons; and surely some of the victims would give at least 100 guineas to hang Max's satires of themselves in some dark room with the door safely locked. It is worth the money to hide some of the pictures away; on the other hand, many people would give much more money than that if Max would draw them.

The telephone was a toy in 1876; the typewriter a crude arrangement in 1878; the electric industry a baby in 1879, when Edison invented the incandescent light; the phonograph was a curiosity in 1890; and the moving picture a flickering experiment in 1896.

PITCHER EDDIE SCOTT WILL LIKELY QUIT BASEBALL GAME

Athol Gow in the Toronto Star, says:—Ed. Scott, Hillcrest's speed ball pitching ace will not pitch another ball this year—and probably he will never be seen in action again.

The unfortunate accident terminating in the tragic death of Edward Marquis, of the Moose Ball Club, has broken Scott. To-day the big fellow is weighed down with the death of Marquis, and it has affected him so that he is going to take a rest, and it is stated he will give up pitching and quit baseball.

If Scott retires Hillcrest's chances of winning the Western City flag and the city title are blasted unless Manager John Dwan digs up another chap to take Scott's place. Bill Murphy can hardly carry the club through.

Feel for Scott.

The sympathy of the baseball fans of Toronto and throughout the country and Toronto's army of amateur ball players goes out to Mrs. Marquis in her sorrow and also to Ed. Scott, the unfortunate pitcher. Marquis was a fine lad, though not as well-known as Scott. No player has brought more credit to the game than Ed. Scott. His fine sportsmanship on the field and his gentlemanly actions off the field have made him popular wherever he roamed. No player has done more to bring amateur ball to the height it is to-day than Ed. Scott. Since he broke into senior ball in 1917 his pitching has been the sensation of the amateurs. He was looked upon as one of the greatest heavers in the game, and he has been a big asset in putting the game on a solid foundation and carrying it to the pinnacle where it rests to-day. The fans feel for Scott in his unfortunate predicament, and it is safe to say that the thousands of fans and his fellow ball players, who have followed him through his five years of pitching, are behind him to-day.

"It was an accident and nothing else" Mrs. Marquis told me when visited last night. "No blame can be attached to anyone."

If Scott gives up pitching the game will lose one of its greatest pitchers. For five years he has been the mainstay of Hillcrests' pitching department, and he has been the backbone of the club. He capped his great career last fall when he vanquished the St. Mary's Colts—the greatest team of hitters he ever faced.

CRESSMAN'S DEFEAT LOCK WORKS, GETTING FIVE RUNS IN THE FOURTH

WRONG PLAY ON FIELDER'S CHOICE ALLOWED STORE NINE TO TIE THE SCORE AND MOVE AHEAD.

Lock Works couldn't stand prosperity in their game with Cressman's last evening, for after getting a lead by playing snappy ball, the lockmakers proceeded to hand the game to the store nine, in the fourth, when Cressman's scored five runs.

It was 2 to 1 for Lock Works at the third, and the "faithful few" were looking forward to a tight game. So far it had been fast.

Leading off for Cressman's, Hunter hit the first pitched ball to Conners, who threw the runner out. Wade popped out to Liddell on the first pitched ball. Bergoine gave Conners a battle and fanned.

Liddell struck out, Jobbit went out, Hunter to Cobb, and Westbrooke fanned.

In the second Hill shot a single over short and stole second. Conners hit a long foul and then fanned. Thorndyke doubled to left, Long losing the ball after getting the range. Hill scored. Guerin was passed, and Thorndyke made third, scoring on a wild pitch. Burke lined out to Cobb, Black was passed, and Liddell ended it when he grounded to Hunter, the latter getting the runner at first on a close decision.

Cressman's got one back in their half. Head, who was passed, stole second and third, while Bartley and Long were being whiffed. Cobb singled between first and second, scoring the run. Jobbitt took a foul fly from Sage.

Lock Works went out in a row in the third, and Cressman's failed to score, Wade getting the only hit, a single into centre. The lock-makers were fielding sharply behind Conners.

Cressman's Got Five.

Head started the fourth with a hit into left, making second when Burke let the ball go through. Bartley singled through third, advancing Head. Long fouled out to Jobbitt. Cobb hit to Hill, and when Head tore for home, Hill threw to the plate, missing the runner. The run tied the score. It was a case of the wrong play at a critical stage. Lock Works went to pieces for the remainder of the innings. Hill erred on Sage's grounder, allowing another run. Cobb went home on a balk. Graham hit into centre, found the middle fielder up close to second base, and it went for a double, and scored a fourth run. Hunter flew out to Hill. Wade and Bergoine beat out hits, and when Black unloosened a wild throw Graham scored. Head stopped the rally by sending a fly to Guerin.

Conners singled into left and took an extra base on the fielder's fumble. Thorndyke's grounder went through Hunter, scoring Conners. Guerin flied to Sage. Burke fanned and Black popped to Hunter.

The fifth was uneventful. Long was called out for interference with a fielder on a batted ball. Fast work by Lock Works held Cressman's back in the sixth and the store nine turned Lock Works back with some neat work, Bergoine getting in a perfect peg to throw out Thorndyke at second.

In the seventh with one gone, Bartley and Long singled between first and second. Cobb's infield out advanced them and both scored when Conners threw high to Black following Sage's grounder. Graham went out at first.

Whaley, getting his first chance at the plate, drew a walk. He was forced at second by Black. The runner stole second, went to third on Liddell's single and went home on a passed ball. Hunter made a pretty catch on Jobbitt's fly. Westbrook was walked and Hill fanned.

PLOWITE TWIRLER HAS SIGNED WITH THE BUFFALO BALL CLUB

HAMILTON, July 6.—Ivan Miller, recognized as the best amateur pitcher in the city and one of the best in the country, has deserted the amateur ranks. Miller has been in Buffalo since Sunday, where he has been working out with the International league team of that city, and so impressed was Manager George Wiltse with his work that he decided to sign him up. The Bisons have more pitchers than they can use at the present time, which means that even Joe Reddy cannot get his regular turn in the box, but Wiltse wants Miller, and has decided to farm him out to the Portsmouth team in the Virginia league, and at the close of the season in the south he will bring him back to Buffalo to finish out the season there. He will take the Hamilton boy south on the training trip next spring.

"The boy appears to have the goods," said Wiltse to the writer at Buffalo last night, "and I think that with a little seasoning in professional company he will make a great pitcher. He has the size, and, although I saw him work but little, I realized that he had plenty of speed, good control and a nice mixture of curves. Do not be surprised if he catches a place on our regular pitching staff before another season ends."

Miller will likely report to Portsmouth this week. The club wired Wiltse a few days since asking him to send along a pitcher, and he has recommended Miller. The latter returned home this morning, but will go to Buffalo again to-morrow, where he will sign his contract and then proceed on south. Two Buffalo catchers tried him out and both reported very favourably to their manager, who also saw the big fellow put 'em over.

Miller has had a good record as an amateur and did not desert his team, the Plowites, until he was practically sure that the City league championship was won. The victory last Saturday assured the Plowites of the championship, and it is likely that they will use Histed for the balance of the season. Histed has not been in uniform during the last few games, Miller being capable of doing the mound duty without any aid. Miller met with but one defeat all last season, and that was in the Ontario championship game with Peterborough. The game went eleven innings and was lost as a result of errors, the Petes getting but three hits in the prolonged session. No person knows better than Ivan that he has considerable to learn about heaving, but he feels he has had all the experience he can get in the amateur ranks, and that is the reason for his jumping to the pro ranks.

LACROSSE NOTES

A meeting of the Lacrosse Club Executive and all the players who can attend is calledl for this evening in the Y.M.C.A. at 7 o'clock. The game with Havelock has not been defaulted but postponed, and the club is anxious to arrange for it if possible, in justice to season ticket holders.

JACK JOHNSON BACK IN RING

WILL MEET WILLS FOR NEGRO CHAMPIONSHIP IN AUGUST

LEAVENWORTH, Kansas, July 6.—(Canadian Press).—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion, will meet Harry Wills for the negro championship at Jersey City on August 22, it was learned today.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE ALLEN.

JAZZ LURES "NATIVES" FROM FAVORITE GAME

Mason N. Litson, Goldwyn director, has made a discovery which should be of inestimable value to all motion picture directors in handling negro mob scenes. The colored men are usually so interested in their "African golf" (sometimes known as crap shooting) that it is difficult to get them on the scene at the proper time.

During the filming of "Edgar the Explorer," the latest of the Booth Tarkington Edgar Comedies, which will be shown at the Allen Theatre for three days, commencing to-morrow. Mr. Liston hit upon the bright idea of taking a jazz zband along with him to amuse the hundred negroes used in the picture. It worked fine. Not a pair of "bones" was rolled during the week in which the company was on location. The negroes were so absorbed in the music that the director frequently had to ask them to get off the scene.

AT THE CAPITOL.

BARNUM WAS NO FOOL WHEN HE SAID: "THERE'S A FOOL BORN EVERY MINUTE."

Famous Showman's Epigram the Theme of Douglas MacLean's Delightful New Comedy, "One a Minute."

When P. T. Barnum made the statement, "There's a fool born every minute," he uttered one of the quaintest epigrams of all time. The famous showman, whose success was due to his uncanny understanding of the human psychology, spoke what is as true to-day as it was when he ruled the circus world.

In his latest Paramount starring vehicle, "One a Minute," which will be presented at the Capitol Theatre beginning to-morrow night, Douglas MacLean has utilised public gullibility as the theme for one of the most delightful and sparkling comedies of his entire career.

Jimmy Knight, the star role assumed by MacLean, returns to his home town to run an old-fashioned drug store bequeathed to him by his father. Knowing nothing of the drug business, and threatened with extinction by more up-to-date rivals, Jimmy manufactures a panacea for all ills, supposedly discovered by Jimmy's fater. The drug contained four common drugs and a mysterious fifth ingredient which Jimmy claims is the secret to the cure's potency.

The rival drug concern has the drug analysed and discovers but four ingredients. The fifth, and most important one, they are unable to determine. Jimy is arrested for violation of the pure food and drug act. Then follows incident after incident filled with quaint comedy.

An excellent company appears in support of the star, including Marian DeBeck, Victor Potel, Frances Raymond, and Graham Pettie.

Besides this splendid feature, a well-balanced programme and an excellent double vaudeville act will complete a big week-end bill. The air is always cool at the Capitol, the ventilating system being perfect.

SPORT COMMENT

Following a lot of hard work, in which officers and players tried to be optimistic, the Peterborough Intermediate Lacrosse Club is on the point of giving up the battle. Lack of attendance at the opening game here hurt more than the officers of the club were willing to admit. On top of that came two defeats. In the two games played, difficulty was experienced in getting all the players into uniforms. That was due to the players not wishing to leave their work. The officers of the club and Manager James Skinner have done their part well, and if the team must disband, it is no fault of their's. And nobody can blame the players.

The Juniors offer a ray of hope for lacrosse. The players are young and enthusiastic, and the majority of them can afford to leave their work. But here also it must be admitted that the local attendance is discouraging. When the youngsters defeated Campbellford at Riverside Park, the paid attendance was 43, and a number of those who paid the admission fee were officers of the club, and others who had made donations of money to help the team make a start.

It is doubtful if Peterborough is interested in whether lacrosse comes back or whether the game slumbers in the graveyard for athletics that are not wanted. But a fairer test would seem to be to get a team in the championship running, and then pass final judgment. The fans like a winner, and those who are trying to bring lacrosse back must not forget that in the old days when lacrosse was king, the team that won over Peterborough's representatives had to beat one of the best teams in the Midland district.

The baseball leagues are making a big effort to encourage and develop baseball players, but only a few fans appear to be interested. If the City League had to depend upon the gate receipts, the Juvenile series would not survive long. The programme this season has been to encourage the younger players, but the attendance at the games has been small.

Having this lack of interest in mind, the re-organised Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association cannot be blamed for waiting for a more favourabe opportunity to start something. Members of the executive are in close touch with all the sporting activities, and just as soon as the opportunity presents itself, the Association will be ready to act.

WEDDING BELLS

LAPP—COTTINGHAM
The marriage took place at 1:30 this afternoon at Murray St. Baptist Church, of Ada May (Mamie) only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Cottingham, 430 Donegal street to Charles William Lapp, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Lapp, 516 Bolivar street Rev. J. R. Webb, performing the ceremony.

The bride, prettily attired in white kittens' ear crepe with beaded trimminug, black hat, and carrying Ophelia roses and sweet peas entered the church on the arm of her father, to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Ida Sanderson. During the signing of the register, witnessed by Miss Alma Lapp and Mr. Morgan Cottingham, Miss Hazel Davidson rendered a vocal solo.

After the ceremony, a buffet lunch eon was served at the home of the bride's parents, after which the young couple motored to Stoney Lake to spend their honeymoon, the bride travelling in suit of navy tricotine with grey and blue hat. They will reside in Peterboro.

Many beautiful gifts testified to the popularity of the bride and groom, among them a silver flower basket from the staff of the Royal Bank, a cut-glass water set from the choir of Murray St. Baptist Church, a cut-glass set from the staff of the J. C. Turnbull Company, and a tablecloth with a dozen linen table napkins from the J. C. Turnbull Company.

OBITUARY

MRS. ANTOINE ROUILLE.
The death occurred at St. Joseph's Hospital early this morning of Mrs. Antoine Rouille, one of Peterborough's oldest residents. Born in Quebec seventy-four years ago, she had lived in this city fifty years continuously. Mrs. Rouille was particularly well known in the community of the south ward and was highly esteemed by the large number of friends she had won. For many years she had lived on Lake street, in fact the Rouille home was one of the oldest on that street. Mrs. Rouille is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. A. Atkinson of Peterborough, Mrs. W. Brundrette of Alberta, and three sons, Fred, John and Anthony of Chicago, who arrived home yesterday and were with their mother before she sank into the unconsciousness that preceded her death this morning. The funeral will take place on Friday morning from the family residence, 198 Perry street, to the Church of the Sacred Heart and thence to St. Peter's cemetery.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

NEW YORK, July 6 (Canadian Press).—Stocks were weak at the sluggish opening of to-day's session on further liquidation of foreign soils. Mexican Petroleum made a new low, declining 2 1-2 points to 89. A brief rally to 90 1-2 was followed by a fresh decline to 88 1-2. Royal Dutch—one of yesterday's few firm issues—registered an early loss of 2 points. Baldwin Locomotive, Studebaker, Central Leather, American Sugar, Mercantile Marine Preferred, Sears-Roebuck, Colorado Fuel and Famous Players wee lower by fractions. Nominal gains were made by several unimportant issues.

MONTREAL.
MONTREAL, July 6 (Canadian Press). — Trading was again very dull on the local stock exchange during the first half-hour this morning, and only a few of the leaders put in an appearance. Abitibi was unchanged at 24, as was also Brompton at 21. Laurentide was strong, rising from 72 1-2, its closing level, to 75. Riordon was fractionally stronger at 13. Wayagamack was the only issue to register any weakness, declining half a point to 37.

DEATH.
MUTCH.—This morning, in Toronto General Hospital, Jane Mutch, aged 52 years, sister of Mrs. J. W. Buyers, 479 Albert Street.

Funeral on Thursday, 7th July, on arrival of the C.P.R. 11.53 a.m. train from Toronto, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

Why Suffer Needless Torture?

There is no need for it. In fact, it is almost criminal for you not to try to get rid of it. You say you have tried everything and can find no relief. Then why not try Chiropractic? It would have been better for you if you had tried it FIRST instead of last, but better late than never. If you will be stubborn and will not try this new Science you will have no one to blame but yourself if you continue to be an invalid for the rest of your life. Those who can get well, but won't try to get well, don't deserve to get well.

"THAT SOMETHING"

It is your bounden duty to yourself and family not only to be Healthy, but to KEEP Healthy. Chiropractic will help you for it deals with the CAUSE of Disease, not with the effect. If there is no Cause there can be no effect, and similarly, if the Cause is removed the effect likewise disappears. If you are not Healthy you should by all means try SOMETHING that will help you. What is "THAT SOMETHING?" It is Chiropractic, and until you have given it a fair trial you cannot give up hope. Your Chiropractor will explain the principles of "THAT SOMETHING" to you.

VOL. XLIX., No. 5 — PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, JULY 7, 1921 — PRICE THREE CENTS

PROMINENT MAN OF THIS CITY DIES IN WEST

G. WALTER GREEN, PRESIDENT OF G. WALTER GREEN COMPANY, DIED YESTERDAY IN MONTANA.

WITH WIFE WAS MAKING TRANSCONTINENTAL TOUR

G. Walter Green, president of the G. Walter Green Company Limited, died at Park Hotel, Livingston. The telegram that conveyed the sad The telegrom that conveyed the sad news to the members of his family and shocked his business associates and many friends in Peterboro gave no details of the cause of his death. Mr. George Green, his son, left on the afternoon C. P. R. train to join his mother, who had made a transcontinental tour with her husband through Canada to the Pacific coast. On the western trip Mr. Green had visited his brother near Souris in Manitoba and continuing through Banff to the coast visit ed Seattle and was homeward bound by way of Denver and Chicago, when he was taken ill. Mr. Green had not been in normal health for a year or more necessitating his withdrawal from many of the activities in which he was interested and to which he had unstintedly given himself.

G. Walter Green was born at Drayton, Wellington County, Ontario in April 1866. Leaving his father's home he went to Millbrook in 1887 and began the manufacture of pumps which he carried on successfully until 1896 when he moved to Peterboro, where he had bought the business of George McWilliams His factory was destroyed by fire on October 25 in the same year. Mr. Green then acquired the use of the building which had been occupied by the Lindsay-Seldon Company, manufacturers of furniture, and which was situated on the old raceway across the river from the Quaker Oats Company's mills. Fire destroyed these premises compelling Mr. Greene to sek new quarters in 1898. He bought the Whyte foundry on McDonnel street west, and entered upon the manufacture of of sawmill machinery, castings, and iron tools, making a specialty of shingle cutting machines. In 1909, he organized the G. Walter Green Company, Limited,

G. Walter Green was a self-made man whose success had developed with the growth of Petrboro in which he finally became a prominent manufacturer. Giving close personal attention to his business he nevertheless found time for the expression of his interest in community and public affairs. He was a member of the City Council from 1913 to 1915 to which he applied the same diligence and carefulness that characterized the management of his own business. He distinguished himself as chairman of the Board of Works in which he established a precedent of visiting his department at the City Hall daily. It was generally admitted that Aderman Green was the most attentive, faithful and energetic of the chairmen of the Works Department.

He was a member of the City Trust Commission at the time of his death.

G. Walter Green was prominent in Masonic affairs in Peterboro. He was a member of Peterboro Lodge, Corinthian chapter and Moore Preceptory. He was also a Shriner and a member of Rameses Temple, Toronto.

In religion and politics he was equally conspicuous as in all the affairs that claimed his attention. St. Andrews' Presbyterian church knew him as a faithful and generous worker, supporting all the activities of the church, of which he was particularly identified as a member of the Board of Managers. He had been a Liberal in politics and was on severl occasions seriously mentioned as a candidate of the West Peterboro Liberal Party.

Mr. Green is survived by his wife three sons George of Peterboro, John, a recent graduate of the Dentil College, who is now practicing in Norwood and Fred, a student at the Collegiate Institute also by two daughters, Lily and Gladys at home and by three brothers, William and E. Guy Green of Manitoba and Robert of Cayuga, and also by two sisters, Mrs. Harry Bray of Emily township and Mrs. Fred Stoll of Stratford.

LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE WILL NOT OBJECT TO SUNDAY BATHING AS LONG AS PROPRIETIES OBSERVED

(Special Despatch to the Examiner.)

TORONTO, July 7. — The Lord's Day Alliance through its General Secretary, Rev. W.M. Rochester has at last broken silence as a result of the press criticisms hurled at the alleged intention to put into operation the law forbidding Sunday bathing in public places.

Rev. Mr. Rochester in a letter indicating the policy of the alliance alleges that the alliance does not object to "Sunday public bathing in hot weather with the observance of the proprieties but does object to public bathing under private money-making auspices being open on the Sabbath with refreshment privileges on the side."

Rev. Dr. Rochester states the critisc of the alliance should distinguish between Sunday public bathing in hot weather with the observance of "the proprieties that surely must be forever associated with the Christian Sabbath on the one hand, and on the other the riot of amusement which in some places has become a sore offense to Sabbath loving people and an intolerable nuisance in some communities."

DIES OF BURNS; HAD LIVED HERE

MRS. IDA PORTER BURNED WITH BLAZING COAL OIL—HUSBAND IN SERIOUS CONDITION IN TORONTO HOSPITAL.

POLICE INVESTIGATE AND CLOSE UP HOUSE

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

TORONTO, July 7. — Mrs. Ida Porter, 26 Wolsley street, died in the Western Hospital at eight o'clock this morning as a result of burns received in her home at 2.20 this morning. Her husband, Isaac Porter, was also burned and is now in the Western Hospital.

According to a neighbor Mrs. Porter appeared at the front door. She was then covered with coal oil.

Later Porter ran into the street with his shirt afire. After throwing the garment off he rushed back into the house. Mrs. Porter's clothing was blazing, but the flames were put out and she was rushed to the hospital.

Detectives Ward and Strosmin investigated the affair and had the house locked up.

Mrs. Porter is 35 years of age and comes from Peterborough. Porter is a shipbuilder by trade.

COMMUNICATION BAD IN EMPIRE

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE APPOINTS COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE SUBJECT OF IMPROVEMENT.

U.S. DISTRIBUTION OF NEWS ATTACKED

LONDON, July 7. — (Canadian Press.)—Sharp criticism of the paucity and slowness of communication by steamship, airplane, telegraph and wireless between Great Britain and the Dominions was voiced at Tuesday's session of the Imperial conference, at which a decision was reached to appoint a committee to consider the development of communications throughout the Empire. The official text of the speeches delivered at the meeting was issued today and in it were expressions of disapproval of the world distribution of news through the United States.

SMALL HOPE IN CIVIL SERVICE

WEEDING OUT FOLLOWING GRIFFENHAGEN REPORT CONTINUES AND MAY REACH 500 POSTAL EMPLOYEES.

CUSTOMS NEXT AND OTHERS TO FOLLOW

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

OTTAWA, July 7.—Little hope of reprieve for the prescribed victims of the Griffenhagen Civil Service organization scheme is held out here. Already 61 members of the inside staff of the Post Office Department have received final notice that after July 15 their services shall be no longer required. No definite announcement as to the exact number to be decapiated in the outside service at various points can be secured, but the aggregate in the whole post office service will approximate 500. In addition to the irritation created by the heat wave has been added the dread uncertainty which surrounds the fate of those to whom notice of dismissal has not yet been issued. As a consequence the service is in a temporarily demoralized condition.

It has been held that the ruthless work of "weeding" has been done with the co-operation of the deputies and heads of branches. This is only partly true. Confidential cards were sent to them which they were required to fill in as stipulated. These cards related to efficiency, etc., but the deputies of branches were not in a position to give information regarding special considerations connected with particular individuals. To a sub-committee, under Sir George Foster, the task of reviewing the lists of the proscribed was thereafter submitted. From what can be gathered, however, the review will result in few changes.

A temporary reprieve from July 1 to July 15 was granted. This raised the hope in many minds that the whole scheme might undergo reconsideration. Such hopes are not well founded. According to Sir George Foster the work of reconstruction will be proceeded with. It is a decidedly unpleasant task, but is held to be necessary, not only in the interests of economy but also efficiency.

Concurrently with the weeding out of the Post Office Department, similar weeding out is proceeding in connection with the Customs Department.

Among the recommendations of the experts was, it is said, the elimination of the Postal Note Branch. The abolition of postal notes, however, would involve the granting of money orders in small post offices where the government holds no security. This recommendation, therefore, will not be adopted.

Re organization of the other departments of the government both in the inside and outside, will go forward as soon as the present work is completed.

POLICE OF THREE CITIES HUNT FOR GEM THIEF GANG

ACCUSED OF STEALING $175,000 WORTH OF JEWELS ON TRAIN.

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

NEW YORK, July 7.—A gang of jewel thieves who specialize in robbing travellers on trains, was being hunted by the police of New York, Philadelphia and Trenton, N.J., today.

This gang is held responsible for the theft of $175,000 worth of diamonds from Joseph Haskell, New York gem merchant, while he was on a train between this city and Philadelphia.

It is also blamed for robbing a Philadelphia woman of gems.

FORGER SENTENCED.

OSHAWA, July 7.—Six months in the Ontario Reformatory was the sentence imposed by Magistrate Hill on Hector Stevenson, a married man, who pleaded guilty to two charges of forgery on the Bank of Montreal. The accused had made restitution.

FIND PRICE OF BREAD HERE IS ABOVE OTHERS

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE OF COUNCIL, HOWEVER, FAILS TO DETERMINE WHETHER PRICES ARE JUSTIFIED.

FEW CITIES WITH AN EQUAL PRICE LEVEL

That bread prices in this city are higher than in some other cities and towns, is the interesting information contained in the report brought in by the Special Committee appointed by the Council to investigate bread prices.

So far as determining whether prices were justified or not the committee failed, but the report which follows, is interesting reading:

Met Master Bakers.

"Your Committee appointed to get information as to cost of bread have met the master bakers of the city individually and obtained their side of the question.

"They are practically unaninmous that present price of bread is justified here as they produce good bread, equal to any place. They do not wish to lower wages as such as are paid now are not too much, considering the cost of living. They think the hours might be increased somewhat owing to the introduction of machinery which eliminates the very heavy and laborious work of former days and nights. They are hoping to make Peterboro a bread-manufacturing centre for this district, and some have made extensive alterations which will enable them to make bread equal in quality and price to any place.

Say Imported Bread Inferior.

"Bread which is being sold cheaper from outside places is made under different conditions, and is of inferior quality. In Belleville bread was made and sold for 9c a pound and a half loaf, but this was due to rivalry among the bakers, and would not continue long.

"One large manufacturer here states that the price of bread might be reduced even at a sacrifice to them for all should take a part in assisting to get to a normal basis.

Housewives Competitors.

"It was pointed out to us that every housewife could very easily be a competitor, she having all the equipment and only required to purchase a bag of flour and they could bake their own at cost. One large manufacturer stated that he would be pleased to sell out to the city and establish a municipal bakery, with success assured. Where a system of distribution could be put into effect that would do away with the costly over-lapping as it exists to-day; also by centralizing the heavy overcharges would be lessened, which looks feasible and practical and might be worth considering.

Defends Prices.

"This is a statement from the secretary of the Bread Manufacturing Association of Canada:

"'The natural price of bread today at a $10.50 price per bbl. of flower is 13c for one pound and a half loaf to give the manufacturer of bread the oportunity to pay his workmen, to carry his overhead and to make such improvements as are necessary in the baking industry.'

"'If the municipal authorities would demand the best possible loaf that could be made for the public, it would be more within their province than to demand the cheapest possible article of food of such importance as bread.'

"'Bread is man's best food. He will work harder and go farther on bread than he will on meat. Yet the Dominion of Canada have appointed Committees to fore the bakers to sell at a lower price than he would get out of is product'

"'I will give you absolute figures on a pound of bread:

"'Beginning with flour, 4c per lb. Other ingredients, ¼c per lb; manufacturers' expenses, ¼c per lb; delivery, including wages, upkeep of wagons and feplacement of horses, 1½c per lb; management, etc., ½c per lb. Total, 7½c per lb.'

"'The legal loaf in the province of Ontario is one and a half pounds. Therefore a pound and a half loaf costs 11¼c. Average this up at 60 per cent. wholesale from which a grocer must get a profit, and forty per cent. retail., an average receipt of 11.4c for a pound and a half loaf, so that the bakers selling at 12c a loaf gets 2c as his profit.'

Gives Service to Public.

"Who gives the service the baker gives. Whether it rains or shines, snows or hails, bread is at your door every working day of the year.'

"'With estimable respect, yours,

"'H. E. Trent,

"'Secretary of the Bread and Cake Manufacturers' Association of Canada.''

"This is practically the manufacturers' side of the question. As for the public side, the powers of this committee are much limited, and it is only our duty to submit data and information gathered from

HOT ATTACK ON STATES TARIFF BY DEMOCRATS

"CONSPIRACY TO BENEFIT FEW FAVORITES AT EXPENSE OF ALL HUMANITY," SAYS MINORITY REPORT.

PROTECTION RAPPED IN SCATHING TERMS

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(Canadian Press.)—Democratic members of the Ways and Means committee in a minority report filed to-day in the House of Representatives, denounce the administration tariff bill as a "conspiracy to benefit a few favorites at the expense of all humanity."

"Like every conspiracy it has been hatched in secret," the report says, adding: "We record our solemn judgment that this is a plan to plunder the people of our own country and to oppress the people of every other country for the benefit of a few men who have succeeded in usurping for all purposes the taxing power of this government using it primarily to enrich themselves and secondarily to finance a political party that tolerates, encourages and facilitates the usurpation."

ENTHUSIASM OF YOUNG FARMERS SURMOUNTS HEAT

HELD MEETING TUESDAY EVENING WITH REGULAR PROGRAMME.

In spite of the depressing heat, Peterborough branch of the United Farm Young People held an interesting meeting in the U.F.O. rooms on Tuesday evening, July 5th, with a fair attendance.

The meeting opened with the singing of "O, Canada." The members responded to the roll call with current events dealing with county and Provincial roads, the People's Progressive Party, etc.

Mr. Fraser, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, then addressed the Young People on "Banking Business." He outlined the history of the banking business in Canada and then dealt with the newer features of bank advertising. Besides telling many interesting stories of his experience, he pointed out the desire of the banks to safeguard the borrower who wants to invest in doubtful get-rich-quick schemes. His interesting address well merited the hearty vote of thanks and applause it received.

These meetings are held regularly on the first Tuesday of each month. All young people actually engaged in farming are welcome and should watch in The Examiner for the announcement of the date of meeting and come prepared to take part in the discussions.

The following programme was arranged for the next meeting, to be held on August 2nd, at 8.15 p.m., in the U.F.O. rooms:

1.—Response to the roll call with current events. Each member is urged to bring a clipping from a paper or to come prepared to discuss and tell of some current event of importance.

2.—Reading of the Y.P.O. Club paper by Mr. Stanley Cann, editor and censor. Each club member is asked to send in contributions of current happenings, opinions on public questions, original anecdotes or poems, stories of farm experiences, jokes, etc. These contributions, written on small sheets of pad paper, are to be handed to Mr. Cann before the opening of their next meeting. This is expected to be a most popular feature of the next programme.

3—Debate by Mr. Vivian Milburn and Miss Alberta Fowler, taking the negative and Mr. Stanley Grant and Mr. Patrick Lynch the affirmative.

4—Paper by Mr. Harry McKee.

5—Solo by Miss B. Milburn.

6—Paper by Miss Jean Milburn.

7—Relay game.

8—"God Save the King."

THE WEATHER

The excessive heat remains unabated. For seven consecutive days the thermometer has been over 90 degrees and to-day gives promise of overtopping the highest mark previously reached during the present heated spell. At noon the official instruments marked 97½ degrees and we may safely add one degree and probably two degrees to these figures for later in afternoon. Last night's lowest was 70 degrees again. A slowly falling barometer, and some scattered clouds (which have not previously been seen for a week) presage a slight change approaching, though the Probs. from Toronto at noon to-day hold out little encouargement.—W. MERCURY REACHES 100 DEGREES; RAIN IN NORTH DAMPENS FIRES; SLIGHT OPTIMISM AS TO CROPS

SHORTER THE SKIRT THE NEARER TO HELL

(Special Despatch to The Examiner.)

HARTFORD, Conn., July 7.—"The shorter the hair and the shorter the skirt the nearer to hell," according to Rev. D. J. Jaxsemer, of Hartford.

"The levity of American women regarding dress and appearances astonishes me," he said.

"It is evidence of the moral laxity of the present age. Bare legs and blondes should be eliminated."

DOG DAYS STUFF

The thermometer skeetered up ten degrees in two hours this morning. At 8.30 it was just whistling for the right-of-way at 85, and at 10.30 it passed flag-station 95.

This morning a near-sighted individual was trying to follow the ascent of the mercury outside Jim Lynch's store with his eyes. In an effort to keep up with it he got his nose against the tube. Attending physicians decline to state whether or not the burns will prove serious.

Many a man who wanted to be an iceman when he was knee deep to a grasshopper has had a recurrence of his boyhood ambition.

A group of brow-moppers took as a casus belli at noon the assertion of an exuberant cottager that the thermometer at his summer domicile by the lake registered 83 yesterday afternoon.

Observations made on a downtown street corner convince one that the women have taken the light clothing advice in Doc. Young's official communique of yesterday to heart.

But, boys, oh boys, we certainly envy them.

The mercury outside Trebilcock's store was shunted to a siding at 97 at 11.30, but the delay was only temporary.

If this weather keeps up there'll be a long waiting list for Government jobs.

The weatherman is considering hiring a shorthand expert to keep track of the mercury's flight.

Some of our active citizens are bemoaning the fact that the hot weather makes their thinking processes sluggish, but the number of complaints on this score is naturally small.

A lot of people are sticking to their jobs in spite of the heat, and a lot more are sticking to everything.

Unless the weatherman can give us some relief soon somebody may take steps to relieve him.

The dark column in Trebilcock's thermometer crossed the hundred degree line at noon and rested on the 101 mark. It's a long way from 30 below to 101 above.

Some wise householders turned out the family wash at midnight last night. At several homes wire extensions were run from the kitchen and the women folk were hanging clothes on their usual lines between 12 o'clock and 1 a.m. It was an unusual sight and never failed to fetch up curious passersby.

A solitary Chinaman spent the night in Victoria Park. He arranged a couple of benches to his satisfaction on the band stand, said goodnight to the squirrels and apparently slept.

CANNOT TRANSPORT LIQUOR ACROSS U.S.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(Canadian Press.) — Despite diplomatic protest, Attorney-General Daugherty has upheld the ruling of his predecessor that alcolohilc liquors cannot be transported across the territory of the United States in transit from one foreign country to another. The opinion was sent to the customs division of the treasury yesterday and a conference of customs officials was held to determine the methods of enforcing it.

UNOFFICIAL TEMPERATURE AT NOON WAS ONE DEGREE BELOW HIGHEST EVER RECORDED HERE.

ALL EAST SWELTERS; NO RELIEF IN SIGHT

At noon to-day downtown thermometers (unofficial) were within one degree of equalling Peterboro's record of 101 degrees, established on July 5, 1911, and the mercury was still mounting. Old Sol started work early this morning and at 8:30 had boosted the mercury to 85.

No hope of immediate relief is held out. "Little change in temperature," is the prediction of the Meteorological Bureau.

Some slight optimism with regard to the crop outlook was encountered by the Examiner to-day, in conversation with a North Monaghan farmer.

On low lands the heat had hurried along the crops at an amazing growth and where the land was well moistened the crops looked good. Only on high land, he believed had any serious damage been done, but he said that if rain did not come before next week the effect would be disastrous. If rain arrived to-day or to-morrow everything would be serene, in this farmer's opinion.

If other crops were feeling the parch corn was not, he said and it could fairly be seen growing, struggling upward towards the sun it loves so well.

The heat in the country has brought forth innumerable varieties of bugs and worms, and the potato bugs are thriving, reports say. So far, however, the potatoes have done nicely ,and new potatoes are being used in all parts of the country, and they were on sale in the stores today at 70c and 80c a peck.

Timothy hay is being cut. An accurate survey of crop is difficult. Some farmers have good crops and others poor. Till this dry spell the hay has grown well but the spring frosts did some damage. Some wheat has been cut near Nassau and there are many fields ready to cut in all parts of the country. The fall wheat is at least a week earlier than usual.

DANGER IN FOREST FIRES

(Special Despatch to the Examiner)

COBALT, July 7. — Rain in a few scattered districts yesterday evening brought relief to the heat situation throughout the greater part of Northern Ontario, and helped to dampen the ardor of the forest fires which are burning in many districts.

This morning the temperature is down to about 80 degrees and official reports of the fires in the worst districts indicate that they have been partially although only temporarily halted.

According to Ernest G. Poole, the chief fire inspector for the Cochrane district, who was interviewed this morning, only a twenty four hour downpour at present would be sufficient to allay the ferocity of the flames in some sections.

The rain yesterday evening, reported to have fallen about Moosefield on the Transcontinental, Timmins and Porquish Junction. There was a heavy rain at Englehart for two hours or more, and at Liskeard a ball game had to be postponed.

According to Mr. Poole some of the reports of the fires in the north have been exaggerated, owing to the long distances and the tendeny of news to grow in transit on railway trains.

Under his jurisdiction is a force of 340 men, including some volunteers, who are attempting to cover a distance of between 8,000 and 10,000 square miles. The chief methods employed b ythe rangers are playing water on the flames, trenching and backfiring, wherever possible.

TORONTO IS WORSE.

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

TORONTO, July 7.—Ever upward goes the mercury in the thermometers. At 9 a.m. to-day the official reading at the Observatory Bureau was 83, one degree warmer than at the same hour Wednesday.

The night was stifling. The worst night of the 1911 hot wave did not have a ghost of a show with last night. At 8 p.m., said the weatherman, the mercury stood at 84 deg., and 75 was the lowest it reached for a little while.

58 CHILDREN ARE BEING CARED FOR AT CAMP IN JACKSON PARK

EFFORTS OF HEALTH ASSOCIATION TIMELY AND COMPLETF—WEAK CHILDREN GET SPECIAL ATTENTION IN COOL GROVE.

The summer camp for ailing children of the city opened on Tuesday with a full contingent on hand. Thirty-eight children were present, to which twenty were added next morning, making a total on hand on Wednesday of fifty-eight. Children waited on nearly every street corner on Tuesday morning for the motor 'bus which conveys them to the Park. Fifteen quarts of milk were disposed of with little trouble during the day, and even then, the children said they were "hungry."

Through the kindness of Mr. W. R. Breyfogle, a permanent kitchen has been installed at the camp, which is a great convenience for the cooking of meals. The dining-room has also been extended this year, so that two large tables may have lots of room to serve the little charges of the camp.

Mrs. Jas. Kendry has supervision of the camp for the first week, and Miss Marion Harvey is assisting the nurse, Miss Boyd.

ROAD ENGINEER GIVES ADVICE

"When to drag, how to drag and the best method to use when dragging an earth road are questions which nearly every road maintainer, farmer and interested individual finds necessary to ask at some time during the heavy traffic seasons of the year," writes X. A. Kramer, state highway engineer of Mississippi, in the current issue of the Highway magazine.

The following rules laid down by Mr. Kramer, if followed conscientiously, should solve any problem of road dragging likely to arise.

Use a light drag, hauled at an angle to the road, so that a small amount of earth may be hauled to the centre of the road.

Drive the team at a walk and watch the condition of the road ahead of the drag, so that you may correct the faults.

Always ride the drag. Do not walk

Begin on the outside and return on the opposite side, unless the road is peaked and needs flattening.

Don't sleep on the drag. The result will prove your worth.

Fill all perceptible ruts before they are deepened.

Cut the humps to a level section.

If the drag cuts too deep, shorten the hitch.

The amount of earth carried along by the drag and nicety in cutting and filling are controlled by the driver.

To make a drag cut deeper the driver should throw his weight upon the foot near the cutting or forward corner of the drag.

The drag will cut less deeply as the driver's weight is shifted toward the rear and opposite corner of the drag.

If the front rail becomes clogged with weeds or if it is desired to deposit the load in a hole, the driver should quickly shift his weight to the farther corner of the drag.

The earth dug up by the forward cutting corner of the drag should be gradually worked toward the centre of the road and shifted under the forward rail.

The rear rail should be set slightly leaning, so as to trowel the surface smoothly.

The angle of the drag with the road and the length of the hitch are dependent upon local conditions and materials, but are quickly noticed by an intelligent driver.

Do not leave ridges in the centre of the road—flatten it out with the drag set straight across the road.

Loose waste material may occasionally be deposited a few feet either side of the centre to induce the main traffic to travel the centre of the hig way.

Always drag a little earth toward the centre and keep the grade to standard cross-section.

Drag full width between the shoulders, thus keeping down weeds and clearing low culverts and avoiding the gutters so commonly seen upon shoulders of poorly dragged roads.

Unless the road is in the right condition the work of dragging will be wasted or probably real damage done.

Drag the road immediately after a rain unless the mud is in such condition that i will stick in the drag.

The right time to drag is when the road is wet.

Do not drag a dry road.

When the surface crumbles under the drag, the road is too dry to drag. The dust thus formed may blow away, robbing the road of its cementing material.

If the surface crumbles under the drag the material will soon become dust and easily converted to mud after rain.

Drag when the mud can be spread as a mortar, forming a sealing coat

Drag the road late in the season in order that it may freeze with smooth-mortared surface.

Drag whenever possible at all seasons of the year.

A stitch in time saves nine. Drag after every rain.

Don't be discouraged when traffic seems to ruin what you wish to accomplish by dragging—each succeeding rain will penetrate less deeply until you are master.

Immediately after the first heavy rain upon a newly completed road the dragger should thoroughly drag the entire surface of the road including the back slopes of both ditches.

Constant attention is necessary to attain the best success.

The ideal may never be attained but it can be closely approached by the careful and intelligent driver.

NOW-A-DAYS, WITH SO MUCH DATA AT HAND PROVING EVILS

Of the Drink Habit, Only the Morally Undeveloped Regard That Subject With Leniency.—Says Fern Howard.

A man may waste away from hard work, or deteriorate from worry or disease. But for a human being to waste away from the ravages of drink, is truly pathetic.

A few years ago I lived directly across the street from a young man whose appearance would have seemed to indicate that he was meant to live and be of use in the world for a century at least. He was strong, energetic, with a sunny disposition, and met life with a smile. It was amazing to me to see how much work he could accomplish in a day without being conscious of a sense of fatigue. I used to admire his free, easy stride as he left his home in the morning to go to his office.

But when, after a few years absence I returned to the neitghborhood, I could not believe my eves. He was pale and walked with the feeble stride of an old man. Not being able to account for the change in his appearance, I expressed my amazement to a mutual friend. "Good gracious! Don't you know?" she exclaimed.

"Surely you must have heard that he has fallen a victim to drink?" she continued. "It's a tragic case. He was the idol of his Mother. He was well educated, refined, with infinite possibilities for winning success in the world. But he met a crowd of fashionable fellows who could offer him more excitement than his own family could supply. The poor boy was not able to resist the temptation to lead a gay life. And this is the result. He has a diseased body, a muddled brain, and a pair of now heartbroken parents. He has wasted his life. And if he doesn't mind his pace, he will die before he is thirty."

If parents would only teach their children the destructive influence of drink before it is too late!

In speaking of the power of whisky to shorten human life, a great nerve specialist has said; "Drink has caused the premature death of more men than all the world's wars. You have only to visit a Sanitarium in order to be convinced of the truth of this statement. They are filled with inebriates and men who take a drop too much. A man who is addicted to drink, is making rapid strides toward the other world. It would be of no use for a water drinker to attempt to keep pace with him. For he would outstrip him on the journey. They talk about 'galloping consumption.' But one attack of delirium tremens will bring the drinking man to the door of Heaven before the consumptive has fairly started on his way."

In the last analysis, a lenient attitude toward the drink habit, displays moral delinquency.

GEN. SMUTS SAYS THE IRISH PROBLEM IS SOLUBLE

SANDY BILL TO STOP HOLES IN BONE DRY LAW

BY ORDER-IN-COUNCIL PASSED YESTERDAY IT IS EFFECTIVE CONCURRENTLY WITH DOMINION DRY LEGISLATION.

"SHORT CIRCUITING" WILL BE IMPOSSIBLE

TORONTO, July 7.— (Canadian Press.)—By order-in-council passed yesterday the Sandy Bill will come into effect on the morning of July 19, concurrently with the Dominion legislation which prohibits the importation of liquor into the province of Ontario.

Through the bill, "short circuiting" becomes impossible at the same time as non-importation becomes effective. The bill was introduced to prevent orders being placed outside the province and filled by breweries within the provincial borders. In this way moving of beer or liquor into Ontario is made impossible, other than that intended for government dispensaries or people entitled to handle a supply. The passing of the order-in-council means that Ontario is now in a position to go legally "dry" on July 19.

HAPPENINGS IN KEENE

KEENE, July 7.—A party of Junior Y.M.C.A. boys of Peterborough are camped at Elmhirst's Point on Rice Lake.

IRISH QUESTION AND APPARENT POSSIBILITY OF PEACE IS NOW SUPERSEDING IMPERIAL MEET

SKEPTICS NOW HOPEFUL OF SUCCESS OF NEGOTIATIONS FOR PEACE—MEIGHEN, AT FIRST ALOOF BECAUSE OF ORANGEMEN, MAY BE DRAWN INTO CONSIDERATION OF QUESTION.

(By John A. Stevenson.)
(Copyright.)

(Special Despatch to the Examiner.)

LONDON, July 7.—Interest in the Irish question has completely superceded Imperial conference matters and the intensity of the interest reflects the general anxiety for peace.

People who a few days ago were completely skeptical about the success of negotiations, are now decidedly hopeful.

The belief prevails that the Government at last realizes how serious an international problem it is, and really means business.

Prospects for the holding of a larger conference on the situation are good.

Sinn Feiners however will not accept Lloyd George as chairman of such a gathering, and would like General Smuts.

Premier Meighen bearing in mind political difficulties with Canadian Orangemen, has hitherto endeavored to keep aloof from the Irish embroglio but it is doubtful if this attitude can be maintained in the face of the gravity of the conference.

Eamonn De Valera is said to be anxious for all the Dominion premiers to participate in a conference, and many moderate Irishmen, especially Dominion Home Rulers, favor this. Ulstermen know that Premier Massey is their strong partisan and would like him at the conference to balance General Smuts. It is highly probable that if a wider conference is arranged the Dominion Premiers will be invited to attend and in view of the tremendous importance of a settlement it would be difficult for them to refuse. If they did refuse they would be accused of failing to lift a hand to promote an Irish peace.

If the Premiers are nominated to attend an Irish conference it is likely to be a prolonged affair and the business of the Imperial conference would come to a standstill. Premier Meighen's plans for a return to Canada by the end of July, would necessarily be changed.

CHILD IN MORE DANGER THAN A BEING OVER 90

SO DR. TURK, OF NEW YORK, TELLS CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION IN SPEAKING ON INFANT MORTALITY.

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

HALIFAX, N.S., July 7. — That the average human being of less than one year of age has less chance to live another year than one who has been on earth for four-score years, and that the baby under one year has less chance for another week than a man of 90, was the startling statement made by Dr. Fenton B. Turk, of New York, at the public meeting of the Canadian Medical Association.

Dr. Turk was one of the speakers following a paper prepared by Dr. H. W. Hill, of London, Ont., read in his absence by Dr. A. Craig, Red Cross Commissioner for Nova Scotia.

Dr. Hill, in his paper, said that from observations and studies of vital statistics in London, about two-thirds of the infant mortality cases occurring before the child reached the age of five years were due to natal or pre-natal causes. Of these, only ten per cent. took place after one year of age. The causes were mostly due to hereditary disease and nutrition, either over or under—mostly the latter.

Attention, he said, should be directed to the physical condition of the parents. The child should feed on human milk and be kept away from the danger of infectious diseases. The old tradition that infectious diseases were not particularly harmful to the young was all wrong, the paper said, as contact with infectious diseases caused the bulk of deaths between the ages of one and seven years.

STARVING, RESORT TO CANNIBALISM

MOUNTED POLICE INVESTIGATING CASE OF CARIBOU INDIANS.

FORT McMURRAY, Alta., July 7.—(Canadian Press.) — A terrible tale of sarving Indians of the Caribou tribe has just reached the headquarters of the Mounted Police at Fort Smith. Human bones were brought in as evidence of cases of cannibalism.

The Mounted Police have left to investigate. A few years ago caribou were so plentiful that Indians ate only the tongues, which are held as a delicacy, slaughtering the animals in thousands. The prohpecy was then made that in that district caribou would disappear and this has happened, hence the starvation.

HAPPENINGS IN NORWOOD

NORWOOD, July 7. — Mrs. Humphries and her children are guests of her sister, Mrs. Fred Kempt. Mr. Humphries has sold his property in Toronto, and has left for Kentucky, where he has a good position. Mrs. Humphries intends following him in the near future.

NEW U.S. TARIFF IS BEFORE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, July 7. Canadian Press. The administration's tariff bill was laid formally before the House of representatives yesterday and the way cleared for its consideration beginning to-day.

Accompanying it were two reports by Republicans, one in praise and the other in denunciation.

Chairman Fordney of the Ways and Means Committee in a report which he said he undersood all republicans of the committee, except representative Frear of Wisconsin, would sign, described as a "Magna Charta for the population of the United States' standards of living."

Presentation.

On Monday evening, July the 4th, the Epworth League of Bethel church, East Emily, motored to the parsonage in Omemee and spent a very pleasant evening with the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Harrington and Miss Lucille before their departure from this circuit. The people gathered on Mr. Parson's lawn. Mr. Moses Ruth acted as chairman and asked Mr. and Mrs. Harrington and Lucille to come to the platform, for which the verandah was used for the purpose. When they came to the platform, Mr. Harry Jackson, president of the league, stepped forward and read the address, while Mrs. Lockhart Wright presented Mr. and Mrs. Harrington and Lucille with a purse of money. Mr. Harrington replied to the people in a very nice way for their great kindness to them, and then the people sang, "Blest be the tie that binds." After the singing the young people enjoyed themselves very much playing games on the lawn. They then went into the parsonage and had refreshments and spent a very delightful evening. They all went home very much pleased, despite the warm evening.

CRAZED BY HEAT, DOG BITES NOSE

TWO-YEAR-OLD GIRL NEAR LIND. SAY LOSES NOSE COMPLETELY.

LINDSAY, July 7. — (Canadian Press.)—Crazed by the heat, a dog yesterday snapped the nose off the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Casey of Scotch Line. The little tot was toddling across the lawn when the animal flew at her and putting its feet on her shoulders bit through the tender flesh of her iose, leaving it hanging by a slender thread of skin. Dr. Sutton of Peterborough, dressed the wound temporarily and rushed the little girl to the hospital. The dog was killed and its head sent to Toronto for examination.

SMUTS SEES HOPE IN IRELAND; SAYS IRISH PROBLEM SOLUBLE

CARPENTIER WOULD HAVE WON CONTEST WITH LIGHT GLOVES

NEW YORK, July 7. Canadian Press. Before leaving to-day on the Adriatic, Eugene Corri, the British referee, voiced the opinoin that Carpentier would have knocked out Dempsey if the boxers had used four oz. instead of eight ounce gloves.

"It was a wondernful bout," said Corri. "It was perfectly refereed. Carpentier would have won if it was another man than Dempsey. The Frenchman is still one of the world's greatest ring generals. He knows all anyone will ever know about boxing."

SPEAKING TO SOUTH AFRICAN COLONY, DECLARES HE HAS NOT LOST HOPE OF U.S. CO-OPERATION.

LONDON, July 7. — (Canadian Press.)—Gen. Jan Christian Smuts, Premier of the Union of South Africa, who has just returned from a visit to Ireland, publicly expressed his opinion last night that the Irish problem is a soluble problem.

This statement was greeted with loud applause by the distinguished company which attended the dinner given in honor of Gen. Smuts by the South African colony in London.

Gen. Smuts opened his speech by declaring that he had not abandoned the hope of the United States.

"She is a coy maiden and must not be wooed too warmly," he said. "I want to see the United States pull with us in this great service that to-day is being rendered by the British Empire almost alone."

Then alluding humorously to his visit to Ireland he declared he declared he found a people divided into two classes, those in jail and those on the run. He added that he had been among those on the run, seeking to escape reporters and camera men.

TRENT RIVER HAPPENINGS

TRENT RIVER, July 5. — Miss Govenlock of Seaforth, is visiting her friend, Miss Nellie Davidson, at "Sunnyside."

Two large ventilators are being built to be placed on the roof of "White Hall Gardens" and will make a much needed improvement this hot weather.

Mr. Miller and family of London, arrive this week to spend the summer at "Ralden."

Mrs. McNichol, Sr., of Toronto, is a guest at the "Cook" cottage.

Mr. Spence of Toronto, is also a guest at the Cook cottage.

Dr. and Mrs. Murtz, of Toronto, motored home Sunday after spending the past week at the Cook cottage.

Yesterday was the hottest on record, the tempe rature rising over the 100 mark all day.

Rain is needed badly, as the pasture land is scorched brown with the heat.

The "Geneva" passed through here yesterday en route to Campbellford, where it takes an excursion from Presbyterian Sunday school to Glen Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. Gill and son Linton, of Kingston, are occupying their summer home.

Mrs. Roe is visiting her daughter, Mrs. John Garneau.

O.B.A. TROPHY IS THE ASSOCIATION'S STILL

NIAGARA-ON-TH-LAKE, July 7.—(Canadian Press.)—The O. B. A. trophy remains the property of the Association. Though Walter Pickards, Canada rink, won it yesterday afternoon in a furious game in the finals with Frank Goforth's second Canada rink, the Canada Club must win it again in order to make the cup permanently theirs.

The final game which started at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, was one of the finest exhibitions ever witnessed here. Every man on the two rinks was on edge and as the battle wore on to a close the score was a see-saw. Goforth, by getting a four in the sixth end looked as if his rink were going to run away from their club mates, but the Pickards took the next three ends with one each time, almost tying the score. Then the Goforth aggregation got two and it looked bad again for Pickards.

PROBABILITIES.

An Antidote For The Heat

"Sure enough, it's warm!—sizzling hot!"

But it's July weather, and Canadians realize that it is nothing new to have extremely hot weather in July.

The BEST way to keep braced up and in condition during the heated term is to

OWN A Ford

Then you can hike away past the green fields to the cool lake and river nooks, or some breezy woodland spot, getting back home again in your FORD at leisure.

In the evening, after the work of the day is over, wouldn't that be an antidote for the Heat?

Buy a FORD, and put the balance in the Bank. Then, "with a song in your heart you can greet the day, and the tasks that the day may bring."

To those desiring a Closed Car, the FORD Sedan and Couplet are especially attractive and economical, compared with other Closed Cars.

The FORD costs merely the price of a good team of Horses, with the strength and power of Twenty Horses. The FORD costs less per mile to run. It requires but few repairs. It is always ready to go. At your Service—

BLIND TEACH BLIND.

Blind Canadian men and women, old and young, in all parts of Canada, are today carrying their pathetic affliction with far greater ease—even with happiness—thanks to the heroic efforts of the Home Teaching Branch of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

These home teachers, themselves blind or partially blind, call regularly on those blind, who through sickness, infirmity or domestic reasons, cannot leave their homes. With infinite patience and care they instruct their blind pupils how to read and write the special embossed print for the blind. They teach them how to carry on various forms of light handicraft.

Thus the dull, dark hours of these people are transformed into hours of happiness. Their idle hands are turned to useful effort.

It is not sufficient to say: "Let them be occupied." We must assist them to that end. It is your opportunity. Funds are required, and we turn to you for your generous support.

MR. CAMERON'S DECISION.

Mr. G. O. Cameron's decision at the request of the other members to continue his connection with the Board of Education until the end of the year, although he is being moved to Montreal, will be pleasing to the majority of the citizens who have always appreciated the value of Mr. Cameron's services and at the same time will relieve the members of the board of the responsibility of selecting a successor to complete the term. Mr. Cameron has been an energetic, zealous member of the Board of Education, throwing himself heartily into educational matters as, indeed, he has into every enterprise with which he has allowed his name to become connected, and his wise counsel and his enthusiasm have been valuable assets in the deliberations of the board. It is pleasing, therefore, to learn that Mr. Cameron has agreed to come up from Montreal for the remaining meetings of the year and thus his services are to be available until the next election. He can ill be spared from the public service for he is liberally endowed with what we slangily term "pep," and there can't be too much of that quality in the men who transact the city's affairs.

BATHING ACCOMMODATION.

The value of the city's bathing beaches during a heat wave like the present torrid spell cannot be over estimated. The accommodation at Inverlea Park and at the foot of Lake street has been completely swamped, and it has been demonstrated during the past few days that the dressing-rooms are wretchedly inadequate when the peak load is put upon them. Swimming has grown steadily in popularity in Peterborough during recent years, the Y.W.C.A. tank being responsible for the turning out of large numbers of women swimmers, and the time has come for the Council to recognize that their full responsibility has not been discharged by the two small bathing houses that are now available. The erection of two or three large dressing-rooms with locker accommodation and individual compartments for those who would appreciate that privilege, as well as a general dressing-room for the little folks, is an enterprise upon which the city might confidently embark next year. The revenue from the lockers and individual dressing-rooms would not only pay the interest on the money invested, but should also go a long way towards meeting the salaries of the caretakers. The present accommodation does not begin to meet the demands made upon it, and the Council would be well advised to consider a more ambitious programme for next season.

PROTECT OUR FORESTS.

In an effort to arouse the people of Ontario to a realization of the enormous damage that is caused each year by forest fires the Ontario Forestry Branch is publishing a series of advertisements, the first of which appeared in The Examiner last evening. The warning is particularly timely in view of the fact that bush fires are already raging in the north, and the woods are so dry from the long drawn-out dry spell that no section of wooded country is safe from the fire menace. The people of Peterborough who are able to get away on a camping or fishing trip are advised to study these advertisements and realize their responsibility as citizens of the Province. A lighted match thrown carelessly away in the woods, a burning cigarette stub or cigar end might speedily cause a conflagration that would wipe out thousands of acres of valuable timber and threaten the safety of scores of people. Campers and sportsmen should be on their guard against carelessness in that respect, while an even more prolific source of danger is the camp fires. Don't build a big fire; a small one is much easier to cook on and to watch. And above all things, never leave camp until you have satisfied yourself that every last spark of your fire has been extinguished. More than one terrible forest conflagration has been caused by a camp fire left burning by careless people, who thought only of their own comfort and convenience and were criminally neglectful of their responsibility towards others.

GOOD SAMARITANS.

How many good Samaritans are there in Peterborough? Weather like the present gives a chance to find out the answer, for the terrific heat is sapping the vitality of many citizens who, by reason of age or illness, are ill-prepared to meet the strain of the abnormal conditions, and who are confined to their oven-like homes, suffering torment from the effects of the hot wave. To such people an hour's ride in a motor car in the evening away from the city's streets and with the reviving breeze that the motion of the car imparts would be a life-saver, an escape from intolerable conditions, perhaps the means of averting complete prostration. Mr. Car Owner, think it over. Is there in your own neighborhood or among your circle of friends some one who is suffering from the heat wave whom you could help? Last night there were many cars running around with two or three people in them; the vacant seats might have been used to advantage for the benefit of some of those who are most directly hit by the high temperature and the humidity. The Golden Rule should not be forgotten in times like these.

SUNDAY BATHING.

The Lord's Day Alliance is an institution which has been and is a great power for good in the community. No thoughtful citizen would desire to see the Sabbath turned into a day of general business and secular recreation, and the effort of this society to preserve the day for rest and quiet introspection is one to be commended, on physical as well as moral grounds. But the movement can be carried to such lengths as to become a tyranny instead of a blessing, and if there is any truth in current rumors to the effect that the alliance is contemplating the enforcement of laws forbidding public bathing on Sunday, the limit has been reached. In these hot days it would be an outrage if citizens should be debarred from indulging in this healthful and harmless form of outdoor recreation, at the dictates of a section of the community who happen themselves to disapprove of the practice. Those having conscientious scruples on the matter are at liberty to abstain; an equal liberty should be granted all such as choose to spend a portion of their one day of leisure in enjoyment of the out-of-doors.

"The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath." It is interdictions of this kind which bring about a popular reaction, very injurious to the cause of religion. If the object is to induce people to attend church, that object is likely to be defeated. Provided the bathing is kept within the bounds of proper decency, there is nothing in it which is inconsistent with religious profession and practice. To forbid it would be a serious tactical mistake, and would arouse a storm of resentment against the misguided reformers. It surely cannot be that the officials of the Lord's Day Alliance are so blind to their own best interests, as well as the interests of the general public, as to proceed to such drastic courses.—Hamilton Spectator.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

"Billie Burke Dresses One-Fourth Off," reads a timely "ad." In Peterborough they seem to be wearing them at least one-half off.

This weather may not be breaking any records, but then we don't want to break any if it has to be hotter than this.

Speaker Rhodes will have the consolation of knowing that he'll have lots of company when he quits politics.

The ice-man looms up as the biggest figure before the public just now. But the coal-man is not despondent. He knows his turn is coming.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

The mercury should remember, observes the Toronto Globe, that pride goeth before a fall.

A Chicago detective had his pocket picked in Kenosha, Wisconsin. When a sleuth is trailing a pickpocket, it might be expected.

Hubby: Wasn't that girl lovely?

Wifey: You make me tired. Every time you see a prety girl, you forget that you are married.

Hubby: On the contrary. Nothing brings the fact home with so much force.

Does anybody remember exactly how deep the snow was on 7th February, and any details of the mercury's downward slant?

Many people will say, 'Fan me with a brick," mean it literally this weather.

She: Of course, you threw rice at Jack's wedding.

He: No, I felt more like throwing a few grains of commonsense.

She: I see, but you couldn't spare them.

Salesman: Another advantage of this machine, madam, is that it's foolproof.

Sweet Thing (placidly): No doubt, to the ordinary kind. But you don't know my husband.

Have you got your coal in yet?

A PREVENTIVE MEASURE.

The Factory Manager—Can I establish a zone of silence around my factory?

The Health Officer—That's an unusual request. Any one sick there?

The Factory Manager—Not yet, but I soon will be. My workmen are mistaking every passing automobile horn for the quitting whistle.

SKELTONS DUTY FREE; POKER CHIPS TAX CUT.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(By Canadian Press).—The Canadian who has a skelton in his closet and wishes to export it will not be prevented from doing so by the new U.S. tariff bill.

Paragraph 1651 of the New U. S. tariff measure places skeletons in the free list. In putting skeletons on the free list the ways and means committee had in mind also other anatomical specimens. Turning from the grave to the gay, it is discovered that the tariff on poker chips has been reduced 10 per cent.

GETTING READY.
CHAPTER 4.

The day came for Mrs. Leon Walker's dinner party. Kent came home at 5 o'clock and went right to his room to dress.

"Barbara," I heard him call impatiently, "I haven't a single, clean, dress shirt—nice fix 'Im in!"

Kent seemed to love these social functions and yet I had so often noticed how they unnerved and irritated him. I slipped into my kimono and hurried down the hall to his room. I was positive I had put two dress shirts in the upper drawer of his chiffonier when the laundry had come home on Thursday.

When I opened the door I had to hide a smile. There stood Kent with his black hair up on end like an Italian violinist's and the contents of three of the chiffonier drawers mixed up and pulled over as though a cyclone had hit them. He turned toward me with desperation written on his features.

"I can't go—don't you see I can't?" he cried, dropping his arms limply at his sides in hopeless resignation.

"In the upper part—here!" I exclaimed, pulling the drawer out and almost fearful they might not be there after all.

"Oh, there!" he returned, a little chagrined. "I never keep them up there—they don't fit in as well, dear." He stood running his long fingers back and forth through his black hair.

He looked tired and pale, but I refrained from asking questions.

"Shall I put the studs in for you, Kent?" I suggested, hoping to save his nerves a little.

"Will you? That's a dear girl." he responded eagerly. "I'll bustle in and get my bath." He handed me three small pearl studs and gave my hand a little squeeze as he dropped them into it.

At 6 o'clock Kent knocked at my door and came in, handsome and adorable in his evening clothes. I had just finished clasping the emerald pendant around my neck as he came towards me.

"Barbara, you're wonderful!" he exclaimed, feasting his eyes and turning me around slowly for inspection. "That gown is not the uninteresting black thing you showed me the other day?" he asked full of interest.

"You approve then Kent?" I responded, holding my lips up for a kiss. "There, now your sleeve is covered with powder," I laughed gayly as he released me from his arms and brushed the tell-tale whiteness off carefully.

But Kent's enthusiasm waned and on the way uptown in the taxi he was glum and taciturn. I had learned not to bother him when he lapsed into one of these moods. I had noticed almost always how this strange glumness came on him just before we went to some social affair. Then as quickly as we reached our destination he would become gay and keenly alive again, talking easily and cleverly to everyone.

I had thought before about this unnaturalness in Kent, and had tried to dismiss it without much concern though it seemed false to his real nature. I tried to reason with myself that a little element of subtleness was necessary to make one's love and interest more binding and fascinating. I realized the allurement a woman finds in the unexplored depths of a man's nature. These things only meant new interests to me, new regions to be learned of and elements to be discovered and solved.

I felt sure of my husband's love. In our two years of married life I had never had reason to doubt for one minute that Kent's love was mine, and mine alone. And you can believe that I had not slumped in the inherent vigilance of my heart, as any married woman will know who has guarded zealously those first happy years of her love.

To-morrow—The Dinner Party.

EVAPORATED
MILK
Perfectly pure—always rich and creamy. It is the real all purpose milk
With the cream left in.

There is an old story of a very holy bishop who compiled a book of rules for those under his jurisdiction and took it to an old lay brother who had little learning, but much sanctity, and asked his opinion regarding the work. The good man held the book in his hand for a moment and then remarked: "Bishop, it's too heavy." The bishop, thinking the matter over, came to the conclusion that fewer rules observed would be better than a great many, a goodly number of which would be sure to be forgotten. This little story has no moral; it is merely to amuse our modern legislators in their idle hours if they happen to have any."—The Victorian.

How You Can Remove Every Trace of Hair

(Toilet Talks).

A stiff paste made with some powdered delatone and water and spread on a hairy surface about 2 minutes will, when removed, take every trace of hair with it. The skin should then be washed to free it from the remaining delatone. No harm can result from this treatment, but be sure it is delatone you get; and you will not be disappointed. Mix fresh as wanted.

The Lift Lock Draws Birds

The Peterborough Lift Lock may be a source of pride to the inhabitants of the city and surrounding districts and something that forms a subject for prideful conversation when we are away from our own home town, it may be the bourne of excursionists and convention visitors and all the rest of it, but the fact remains that its enormous cement archways and pillars are only a resting-place for the sparrow that hopped and twittered so gaily the other day when the steamer went over the locks. The little bird sat and preened its feathers in the sun, watched with tiny bright eyes the tide of rising water and flew away in a brisk little hurry when the whistle broke into a raucous blast. And, farther on, an enormous spider spun a glistening web in a stoney corner, so high that even the wind could hardly carry it away. And no one disturbs the spider or the sparrow. They may make as free with our million-dollar edifices, and freer, than those who pay for them. So "why should the spirit of mortal be proud?"

Nicky is a black and white cat with clear green eyes. He doesn't like strangers very well, but loves to be petted and to be given little bits of cheese to eat. He went away from home two or three days ago, but came back yesterday and was welcomed with much petting and large saucers of milk, and no enquiries whatever as to his reasons for absenting himself from home. No one looking at Nicky would think he belonged to the ferocious bird-eating family, but one of his brothers caused a great commotion the other day. A tiny birdling was essaying a few first steps on the lawn, under the anxious watching eye of its immediate family and some visiting relatives. And the cat caught it and stripped all the feathers off, leaving it lifeless, a tiny ball of fluffy helplessness, on the lawn. All the birds in the neighborhood united with sharp beaks and loud cries to drive away the marauder, to no avail.

The large white hen who dwells on Hunter street was beguiled some time ago, under the mistaken impression that they were eggs of her own species, into hatching out a fine little family of sprightly ducklings. All went well, although the lady must have had a few natural doubts as to their length of bill and peculiar squatty stride, until the little things espied the watering-trough. Against the frenzied reiterated warnings of their deluded foster parent, they persisted in getting in, and the poor thing could do nothing but utter loud protests and look to see them sink to a watery grave, as a punishment for their misguided impulses. But another disillusionment awaited her. Soon they refused to answer to her nasal calls, her language became unintelligible to them, and they developed a queer open-mouthed dialect of their own. This particular biddy now looks with suspicion on all eggs offered for her inspection.

Mrs. Frederick In Old Country

Mrs. E. V. Frederick, President of the local branch of the G.W.V.A., who is spending a holiday with her parents in England, writing from London on June 22nd, says the weather was so cold there at that time that thin dresses could not be worn with comfort. The week previous had been very warm. The passage over was disagreeable, owing to fog and engine trouble and the intense cold.

Strawberries are very plentiful in England, and cheap, selling at eightpence per pound, other things being expensive, but "not desperately so."

Mrs. Frederick received an invitation to the reception to be given by the High Commissioner of Canada, Sir George Perley, and Lady Perley at the Ritz Hotel in Piccadilly to celebrate Dominion Day, and intended going to Henley on the second of July. She was busy on the day on which she wrote, June 22nd, in tagging with roses for "Alexandra Day."

Practical Hints

Raspberry Pudding.

Place in a mixing bowl one cup of flour, two tablespoons of shortening, pinch of salt, two teaspoons of baking powder, one-half cup of sugar, one egg, two-thirds cup of milk, one cup of raspberries. Beat to mix and then pour into well-greased and floured mold. Boil for three-quarters of an hour and then serve with thin custard for hard sauce.

No-Egg Rice Fudding.

Heat one quart of milk in double boiler and add three tablespoons rice; steam until soft; add one-half cup sugar, one teaspoon of vanilla, pinch salt; bake until brown, stirring often at first; it is delicious.

Strawberry Cream.

Two cupfuls of strawberries, two cupfuls of sugar, two cupfuls of water, two lemons, one tablespoonful of gelatine.

Soften the gelatine in a little cold water, then dissolve in one cupful of hot water. Add the mashed berries, sugar and finally the juice of the lemons and place on ice to set.

Strawberry Sherbet.

One quart of strawberries, one egg white, two cupfuls of water, one cupful of sugar.

Boil the sugar and water together for five minutes. Mash the berries and add to the syrup, then set aside to cool. Pour into a freezer and when partly frozen add the stiffly beaten white of egg.

Oranged Strawberries.

One quart berries, one-half cup powdered sugar, two oranges.

Wash and hull berries. Put a layer of berries in a deep dish. Sprinkle with sugar, add another layer of berries and sugar and continue until all is used. Pour over the juice of the oranges. Let stand on ice from one to two hours.

Baked Custard.

To make this use two cups of milk, two eggs, one-quarter teaspoon salt, quarter of a cup of sugar and a little nutmeg. Bake until thick.

WHEN IT IS HOT.

Consider Mr. Shadrach
Of fiery furnace fame;
He didn't bleat about the heat
Or fuss about the flame.
He didn't stew and worry
And get his nerves in kinks,
Nor fill his skin with limes and gin
And other "cooling drinks."

Consider Mr. Mesbach
Who felt the furnace, too;
He let it sizz, nor queried:
"Is it hot enough for you?"
He didn't mop his forehead
And hunt a shady spot,
Nor did he say, "Gee! What a day!
Believe me, it's some hot!"

Consider, too, Abednego
Who shared his comrade's plight;
He didn't shake his coat and make Himself a holy sight.
He didn't wear suspenders
Without a coat and vest,
Nor did he scowl and snort and howl
And make himself a pest.

Consider, friends, this trio
How little fuss they made;
They didn't curse when it was worse
Than ninety in the shade.
They moved about serenely
Within the furnace bright
And soon forgot that it was hot,
With "no relief in sight."

A Seamless Oven

SEVENTY years' experience in stove and range building infallibly guided McClary's to correct principles in constructing their Electric Range oven.

Heat for the oven of a coal or wood range is generated in the fire pot and conducted to the oven.

Heat for the oven of a gas range is generated from an open, oxygen-consuming flame.

Heat for an electric range oven is generated from an element inside the oven.

That means you can economize in electric current, can turn it down to "low" or "medium" and still maintain the temperature of the oven, as the heat is held in the oven until the door is opened.

McClary's Electric Range

Heated air exerts pressure. This air pressure will force vapors and odors through any kind of joint or seam, and lodge them in the insulating packing between the outer and inner walls of the oven.

So McClary's make the inside of their Electric ovens in one piece, without a joint or seam. No vapor can be forced into the lining, and no heat is lost.

McClary's Electric Range,—the range of reliability and durability.

Women's Page

BY JEANNETTE

This Department will be presented twice a week for the benefit of those interested in this phase of local activity. It will be conducted by Miss Kathleen McCarthy. Articles of a social or general nature are always welcome, providing they are brief. Address all communications, such as personals and other social items, to the Society Editor of the Examiner, or telephone 1,400.

Thinks Line Should be Drawn In Exercising the Franchise

"Inquirer" wrote to the Women's Page some time ago, asking opinions as to whether women who have the right to vote and claim to be able to do all that men can do, should expect to be treated as they used to be before they could look after themselves. The following letter has ben received on the subject. Other opinions would be welcomed.

"Madam; Seeing your request in regard to letter sent in by 'Inquirer' I thought I would express my opinion on the matter.

"I believe that women have a right to exercise the franchise for the general welfare of the country municipality, or city in which they reside. A woman, as well as a man, should have a voice in the making of the laws of the lands, but here she should draw the line. She should not overstep her privilege.

"She should not go around soliciting votes etc., or, in other words, electioneering. This I think, is deviating from her proper sphere. The "rough" work should be left for the men to perform. All she has to do and she will not be detracting anything from her womanly qualities in doing so, is simply to cast her vote according to the dictates of her conscience. If she does this, she will have nothing to reproach her. Leave the rest for the men to handle.

Because women are to-day filling positions formerly held by men, is no sensible reason for saying that they should not expect to be treated the same by men as they were previous to this. Men are bound by all the laws of chivalry to be the woman's protector. She is the weaker, he is the stronger, hence the obvious conclusion. Because a woman to-day votes, clerks in a bank or occupies other positions does not take from the woman her womanliness, it is the manner in which she fulfills her duties in her new sphere that does.

"I think as we go among our business women of to-day, the numbers are very few who belong to this category. She performs her work in an efficient and businesslike way, it is true, but this is no reflection.

Y.W.C.A. Camp Likely to Prove Very Successful This Season

Thursday, July 7th.
Y.W.C.A. Camp,
Burleigh Falls.

Dear Girls,—

Camp is all ready for you, or, at least, it will be by the time you get here. Such sweeping and dusting and scouring and scrubbing! And the pantry is just stocked full of good things. Now, can you really stay away?

Everything looks just as nice as ever up here. Tonight the lake is so calm you can see the trees and the clouds in it. The chipmunks frolic around and the bull-frogs sing at night, and the mosquitos? Yes, they are still with us, but so is "Skeeter Skoot," and, anyway, what do we care for a few small mosquitos?

The huckleberries are ripe already—plentiful they certainly are, but somebody told us today that they won't last long, so if you want any huckleberry pie "come early and avoid the rush."

There's just one more thing I want to tell you and I know you'll be relieved to hear it. The gramophone is fixed and we have some new records! How's that for a piece of good news?

Tomorrow noon will see the first of this year's campers arrive, and there will be some more in the afternoon and a few on Monday. When are you coming?

Yours for a great camp.

THE ADVANCE GUARD.

P. S.—Maybe there will be another letter from the camp next week.

FATTENED FOR MARKET.

Among the Moors, girls are fattened for the marriage market much as the poultry farmer treats his live stock. The staple food for the women is bread, and it is chiefly with this that they are fattened. Long-shaped pellets of it are constantly forced down their throats for a period of about three weeks before their marriage.

Art of Living

An article on "The Art of Living" gives a little matrimonial fable:

"A woman worked diligently to provide for her husband's comfort, keeping her home in perfect order and cooking the best of food. But she always neglected to put salt on the food and would not allow any to be brought into the hous. When her husband remonstrated with her for this lack she took on an injured air and asked him if he did not appreciate all she did to make the home attractive. He said he did, and yet he must have salt on his food. She argued that it was salted, or that it didn't need salt, or that he had a foolish notion in his head. Sometimes she would almost convince him that he was in the wrong and he would eat the saltless food and beg her forgiveness. Then he would feel again the need of salt, but she was obdurate. Finally, he shut off from her everything that he could and begged her to listen to his plea for salt. She said he was cruel and that he was making her life wretched. But he knew in his heart that he was kind, but that he must have salt at all costs. Finally, he brought so much pressure to bear that she gave in and provided the salt, and they were happy ever afterward. Then he discovered that he had prolonged the trouble by having tried to compel her instead of having tried to melt her heart by more kindness. And in looking back at his victory, he saw that the turning-point was when he resolved to win instead of coerce."

MILK IS A LONG-LIFE GIVING FLUID PROVIDED BY NATURE

STIMULATES BOTH BRAIN AND BODY AND RESTORES EXHAUSTED ENERGY THESE HOT DAYS --STORY OF THE CHAMPION BUTTER PRODUCING CANADIAN COW.

Thes days of sweltering heat, with the mercury dancing merrily between 96 and 100 degrees in the shade, many a one's thoughts longingly turn to the refreshing delights of breeze-swept, deep blue and sparkling lake or river waters, backed, perhaps, by majestic fir-clad hills, breathing out their fragrance and inviting the city baked wanderer to loll and sleep and dream in their cool shadows to the soothing lullaby of feathered songsters. Or, like the writer, one may indulge in sweet reminiscences of boyhood days, when, barefooted he meandered, joyously whistling through lush meadows to sweet pastures, and drove his uncle's mild-eyed, gentle coo-bossies home to milk. And, then, his reward, later found in the bewitching hour of early morn or growing shadows of evening, when finding his way into the cool and darkened dairy, he revelled in cold, cream-ladened milk, by the dipper full, if you please, and for the taking.

"Bella Pontiac", World's Champion Butter Cow.

Fit for the Gods.

And so, this brings us to the subject in hand—milk, especially palatable and refreshing this hot weather; milk, of which there is a plenty, both food and drink for parched and famished mortals—a beverage fit for the gods, indeed. 'Tis a pity that, generally speaking, we do not appreciate milk at its true value. Too few of us are like a man I met several summers ago, whom I ran across more than once when he entered a grocery store—big and strong, jolly and good-natured, despite the oppressive heat—and ordering a quart bottle of milk, and glass, he drank it with a relish quite contagious. In conversation, this healthy specimen of masculinity, disclosed the fact of his being a traveller for a brewery; "but," he exclaimed with a laugh, "milk! Gad, there's nothing like milk if you want to keep in good health; and as for me, I almost live on it."

A Chief Diet.

And why not make of milk a chief diet, when in this white mixture, so comparatively cheap, are concealed some of the secrets of long-life material made from inert matter; when one quart of milk a day is the surest safeguard against malnourishment, and when health and normal development are assured to those who consume it. This is no dream, for scientists who know are publishing broadcast the revelation that one quart of pure milk is equal in energy-producing food value to 1 lb. of beef-steak, 2 2-3 lbs. chicken, ¾ lb. ham, 2½ lbs. codfish, 8 eggs, 1 1-3 lbs. beans, 3 lbs. peas, 7¾ lbs. tomatoes. And, in addition, milk contains a vital food substance absolutely necessary to the growth of the child and the health of the adult, this substance being found in no other foods but milk and its produts, eggs and certain leaves. No wonder that rural people who, as the saying goes, make a good meal of milk, grow husky and strong; and no wonder that laborers in European dairying countries wax energetic and thrive on a main diet of bread and cheese—bread, the staff of life, and cheese, a milk product—when in milk is contained all the nutriment of such more solid foods as specified above.

The Champion Cow.

It might not be out of place here to give some attention to the givers of the milk in question—those quiet domesticated bovines, who are producers of wealth to their owners if properly appreciated and handled right. A dairy farm, run on strictly business principles, can be made to show substantial profits. But the herd of cows has to be built up on the best dairy lines and regularly tested that the poor producers may be eliminated. There should be no haphazzard principle in the dairy farmer's retention of his herd, otherwise, like many today, he will gather that dairy farming does not pay. In this connection the reader's attention is invited to the accompanying illustration of "Bella Pontiac," a pure-bred Holstein cow, and the new champion butter cow of the world. For six years this honor had rested with Duchess Skylark Ormsby, the great cow owned by John B. Irwin of Minnesota, with her wonderful production of 1,506.36 lbs. of butter in one year. The new title-holder is an obscure Canadian cow, owned by a practically unknown breeder, Mr. T. A. Barron of Brantford, Ontario. The new high mark is 1,573 lbs. of butter from 27,017 lbs. of milk. And connected with this new record is a real, human-interest story.

Mr. Barron, who is still a young man in his twenties, started farming a few years ago without farming experience and with limited financial resources. It was hard uphill work at frst. He had only common grade cattle. The local banker had a lot of faith in the gritty young man, however, and one day called him into his office and informed him that if he would buy a few head of pure-bred cattle the bank would back him. He took the plunge and among his purchases was Bella Pontiac, for which he paid only $175. She freshened as a four-year-old and finished that year under Government inspected test with 20,120 lbs. of milk and 1,018 lbs. of butter. After being dry only a short time, she freshened again and started on her big year's work.

Bella was housed in an ordinary farm barn and milked four times a day by the young farmer, whose finances did not permit of neglect of field work to give superlative attentions to his cow. It was a farmer's test under farm conditions all the way through. Her production varied from 104.24 lbs. fat in July, her first month, to 124.3 lbs. in November, her best month, and in the following March she produced 121.83 lbs. fat. The last of the silage had then been fed and, in spite of an increased allowance of roots, the fat dropped to 84.38 lbs. and 73.51 lbs. in April and May.

Bella Pontiac has nothing sensational in her breeding, but it is good producing stuff all the way through. Her sire, Pauline Pet's Pontiac, is a brother of Calamity Snow Pontiac, 28,442 lbs. milk and 1,240 lbs. butter in a year, the third highest butter record in Canada. Maternally, Bella claims as grand sire one of the great transmitting sires of the breed, Brookbank Butter Baron, with 38 tested daughters, one of them a former Canadian champion and the first 33-lb. cow in Canada. The absence of the ultra-fashionable from the new champion's breeding may well serve as a stimulus to other ambitious breeders who have well-bred cattle, but nothing superlative.

In the meantime, Mr. Barron has been successful in making a few good records with other members of his small herd. He has made some good sales. He is not so hard pressed as he was when his banker advised him to get good stock or quit. He is in a position to choose between selling Bella and her two daughters, or of keeping all three and developing a great herd on this foundation. He has not yet had time to decide. He is too busy receiving congratulations from both sides of the international boundary.

Wonderful Animal.

Now Bella Pontiac is a wonderful animal, but were dairy farmers around Peterborough to patiently test their cows they might find among them another Bella Pontiac in production. Owners of cows should aim at getting together the best possible herd and indulge in real dairying, which implies building up by testing and breeding from the best. Parts of Peterborough County are well watered and peculiarly adaptable for dairy farming, an industry which should be fostered, as the demand for milk and its products is a growing one.

A Great Discovery.

On the other hand, as one great scientist has declared "The keeping of dairy animals is the greatest single discovery in the history of human progress." If that is true, then the products of dairy animals should find a more extended use in civilized homes. No one will question the statement that the keeping of dairy animals is the greatest single industry of America's great northwest. Because this is true, we have another argument in favor of more butter, more cheese, more ice cream, more milk in old Ontario.

U.S. STEEL PRICES ARE SLASHED AGAIN

SECOND CUT SINCE APRIL 12 TO COMPETITORS' LEVEL.

NEW YORK, July 7.—(Canadian Press.) —The United States' Steel Corporation yesterday announced another cut, the second since April 12, in selling prices for finished products to corespond with existing prices of competitors. The new schedule reduces bars from $2.19 to $1.90, structural shapes from $2.20 to $2 and tinplate from $5.25 to $5.75. Pipe and possibly some other products will be reduced relatively.

GERMAN MAJOR GIVEN 2 YEARS

MAJOR CRUSIUS FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER—GENERAL STENGER ACQUITTED.

LEIPSIC, July 7. — (Canadian Press.)—Lieut.-General Karl Stenger, charged by the French government with having ordered troops under his command to take no prisoners and kill wounded men during the fighting of August 1914, was acquitted yesterday by the German Supreme court here engaged in the trial of cases against alleged war criminals.

Major Bruno Crusius, tried on a similar charge, was given a sentence of two years in prison and forbidden to wear the German uniform.

General Stenger was commander of the 53rd German infantry brigade and Major Crusius held a command under him. Major Crusius asserted at the trial the order had been given by General Stenger that no prisoners should be taken and that wounded men should be killed. General Stenger in his testimony flatly denied these accusations.

The verdict rendered in the case of Major Crusius was one of manslaughter.

ALEX. KAY A FALSE WEATHER PROPHET

PREDICTED A COOL SUMMER LIKE LAST YEAR'S, AND LOOK AT IT.

As an arbitrator of the swarded diamond Alex. Kay is a local Silk O'Loughlin but as weather prophet he is in a class with Dan Whetung. Dan makes a specialty of winters, and while there is no record of the record of the correctness of his predictions the opinion prevails that Dan was in the .000 class. Away back in May before the sun got nicely warmed up Mr. Kay ventured the assurance, privately and confidentially of course, that this summer was going to be cool and comfortable, and generally a poor season for B.V.D.'s. It was a rash prognostication, for the Weather Man has utterly confounded him, and there is nothing but distress and perspiration with the buttermilk factories unable to cope with the demand, and the soda fountains flowing in constant streams. Hopes for a summer of moderate, considerable heat, inspired by Mr. Kay's divination have been long since sizzled to a crisp and washed out with grape juice. Now, Walter Peters works on another system. He plays safe. Never does the official weather man for Peterboro attempt to read the signs and portents. He tells you about it afterward, and most people doubt the exactness and veracity of his official thermometer. When it is 100 degrees on the back balcony Mr. Peters informs the public through his communique signed W. P. that it was 97 or thereabouts, suggesting that the family mercury column, doubtful though its pedigree may be is faulty. In winter when the sensory system estimates the north wind's cold at 30 degrees, and obscure thermometers tend to bear out that feeling, along comes the W.P. note with the official count of only 26 below zero.

However, with all due and deserved respects to Mr. Kay as an interpreter of the Spalding legislation, it is to be hoped that never again will he essay the role of weathr prophet at least not for summer. It is different in winter when a bonspiel is approaching. All Mr. Kay need do for such occasions as that, is to keep a line on Dan Whetung's prediction and simply reverse it.

CROFTER'S SON A GREAT LANDLORD.

Buys Two Thousand Acres of Fertile Land in Native Scotland.

EDINBURGH (By Mail).—An area of about 2,000 acres of what is probably the most fertile part of the famous Strathmore valley in Forfarshire has been sold by the Earl of Strathmore, to Mr. James Duncan, of Kinnettles and Coupar Grange. The purchase price is said to be £100,000.

Ten farms are included in the deal, together with a large part of the village of Douglaston.

Mr. Duncan has had a remarkable career. He was the son of a crofter, and after attending the village school at Douglaston started work as a bank clerk. Then he joined the service of Messrs. Steel Bros., East India merchants, went abroad, and secured rapid promotion, and is now managing director of the firm.

WON'T PAY MANORIAL DUES.

3,000 Spanish Farmers Demand a Law For Their Abolition.

VIGO, Spain, July 6.— Agitation among the Galicians against the payment of manorial dues for the occupation of agricultural lands is becoming more acute. Virtually every tenant farmer has refused to pay, and numbers of them have been brought before the courts.

Some lords of the manor fear to take action against their refractory tenants, as they believe such steps would cause violence. Some 3,000 agriculturists, in the course of a meeting last night, adopted resolutions demanding that the Government introduce immediately a law for the redemption of the manorial encumbrances.

"IT'S NOT THE WATER WE PAY FOR, BUT SERVICE," SAYS F. H. DOBBIN

HE ALSO REMINDS THE NOW COMPLAINING PUBLIC OF THE DISCOUNTS THEY WERE ALLOWED FOR MANY YEARS—YOU HAVE TO BUY SOCIAL SERVICE JUST AS YOU HAVE TO PAY FOR OTHER THINGS.

Editor of The Examiner.

I am writing this, Mr. Editor, because I want people to read it. It will not be dignified nor full of figures, nor couched in nice rounded periods, or extracts from eminent authorities, but will hold, I hope, some horse sense. And even if it is a trifle long, I have written many things which sundry people have told me were not nearly long enough. Which is very much better than being told to wait a minute while some one brings the hook.

We have on hand just now a sort of Utilities Commission versus The Public altercation over the water rates proposed to be imposed at once. And in the general discussion, most of it forcible and a part of it vitrolic, there is one thing that has not had any attention, and that is the social service, the community service side of the whole thing. This, I think, deserves a hearing, and possibly you may agree when we get through.

Now social service does not netessarily mean something connected with religion, nor is it anything to eat, but in one of its most practical ways means what our municipal authorities and activities do for us. We have to buy this service same as we buy the necessaries of life, and we are entitled to ask how much of it are we getting, what it is worth to us and what we shall pay for it. Not just as individuals, but as a municipal group.

Our taxes as we pay them mean that the social service divided up among us costs that much as represented by the bill. Whether all that is done for us is worth what we are assessed is an entirely different matter. Who can tell? Of course, in the aggregate there are many who help pay for social service who do not directly derive benefit in dollars and cents. The man who is taxed to support the schools, for instance, may no have children to be taught, but he pays to the end of the general good and good of the future citizen.

Have Had Low Rate.

Side by side with this matter of service I believe you will agree that while we all very often want things and don't get them the things that we feel the want of the most are those which we have had and are afterwards deprived of. And just now what provokes this now over the water service charges is that we have had for years about the lowest rate in Canada and are now about to lose it. Isn't that the whole bone of contention? Sure thing.

True, our water supply system has always had one advantage over many other places. It comes about as near to the figment of a man trying to lift himself by his boot straps as anything can be, for we make the water which fills the pipes do its own filling. It's not the water we pay for, but the service. You can have the water, all you need, by fetching it in a pail. Now, what kind of service has your Water Commission and afterwards Utilities Commission provided? Let me use this illustration:

A man wishes to start a grocery at the corner of Burnham street. A wholesale firm, wishing to break into the trade of that part of the city, agrees to supply a stock of goods and wait four months for its money. The man has nothing and so goes in debt for the stock. Hopes by end of four months to have sold the goods and paid for the stock. That, in the Northwest, is termed a shoe-string deal. And its just the way that the late James Stevenson started in business in Peterborough.

To get acquainted and to draw custom the grocer gives a discount of 25 per cent. from standard prices off all purchases. Where would he be at the end of four months? How long survive? He would make an impression.

Original Indebtedness.

Such is exactly the situation your Water Commission was in when it took over the system from the old company in 1902. The day it came into possession (for it hadn't a blamed cent) it went into debt for $237,000.00, quite a respectable sum, and one that at the time almost oppressed the people, but not with nearly the same deep, poignant oppression that was felt when they voted on that last by-law to finish the Hunter street bridge. The commission proposed for the benefit of the town the real thing in community service, to run the works, pay all working charges, pay interest on the debentures and wipe out the debentures when due by the accumulated sinking funds. It has kept all engagements.

And then on the top of cheerfully going into debt and having faith in the future, the commission went the old company one or two better. The old discount of 10 per cent. was retained. In 1903 it made the discount 20 per cent. Followed it up in 1904 with 25 per cent., and clapped the climax in 1907 by making the discount from billed rates thirty-three and one-third per cent. Immediately men of the town pulled down their vests and spoke to Lindsay and Port Hope, and even to Belleville, about the evident advantages of municipal operation and public ownership and greatest good to the greatest number and that sort of thing. Using water was just like finding money. And kept up the discount through all the war years, as well.

Discounts Were Generous.

Have you any appreciation of what that discount really means? Not the slightest, we'll bet. Never gave it a thought? For eighteen years water has been abnormally cheap. About one-third of the billed price remained in the householder's pocket. That is social and community service of the very finest kind, for it treated everybody alike that used water.

Just carry these figures under your hat and give them a few minutes reflection. The total discounts, in the eighteen years, amounts to $246,805.94. Enough to have retired the debentures alone. Pretty nearly enough to have built the filtration plant. If the commission had made the rates net, and it wouldn't have been a burden, there would have been at hand large funds to have assisted in meeting expenditures on capital account incurred since the works came into city control. For building and replacement and machine costs were much less before the war period.

To get a comparative view of the now increased cost of the service, which may not prevail for a long period, let us consider a few comparisons. One man, kicking about the increase to him, was told that it only represented the cost of a couple of boxes of cigars, of which he consumed many. Another was rather mollified when he found that his additional bill only represented the cost of fifteen gallons of gasoline, that he would have paid for most cheerfully to use his car. To most householders the added charge only represents about half of the cost of a membership in the Chamber of Commerce. None of these expenses are very onerous. And when gasoline went from 10 cents a gallon to 42 cents, no indignation meeting was held to impress the Imperial Oil Co. with its very reprehensible conduct. Everybody said, what's the use?

Now keep this in mind. Many never stop to consider. The water service is paid for, not by the city as a whole, but by the people who use the water, for domestic and other useful purposes. The water used in the functions of the fire service is paid for in general by the city, for the fire service is at the call of anywheres. If a street is sprinkled, then the abutting property pays for that convenience, and the man on the unsprinkled street does not. He takes anybody's dust, and expresses his convictions. So those that enjoy pay.

Building Up Plant.

If the Commission had gone along, using the little pump house and the two pumping engines and refusing to lay additional mains, dear knows how cheap the water would have been. But people, once it was seen that water service was not a terrible thing hollered for attention. And in process of time, in lapse of years, a new dam was built, new pump house erected, new engines installed (three of them), miles of new mains laid, the larger part of which expense was rightly charged to capital account, and only the interest and sinking fund to the water users. And out of the rates in the ground in the shape sums set aside are there, or loaned out, to meet the liabilities as they become due. In addition, the Commission, instead of making any further reductions by way of discounts, buried a very considerable part of the rate sin the ground in the shape of additional mains, to meet the insistent call for service. Social Water Service, if you like.

The Water Commission was considerate of the fire service, and reduced the hydrants charge from $35.00 each to $27.00. This was a good thing for the insurance companies, for it gave larger area of protection and lessened ultimate aggregate losses and the rates of insurance were maintained.

To assist in the extension of the water service, the Commission was anything but exacting. When prospective users petitioned for services, they were directed to see that the aggregate returns from the use of the water services should foot up to 10 per cent. of the cost of installation of mains, etc. And to help out the new users, the Council took an additional hydrant, or hydrants, at $27.00 per year. Hydrants have to be used in the vicinity of where they are located, for fifty more hydrants in centre city will not add one iota to protection in East City. Now the Commission knows that $27.00, or even $35.00, was too little for the fire service. Toronto pays $82.00 for each hydrant per year.

On the whole, it may be admitted that the Commission has given good service. No censure is ventured as to the service, but only, now, to its prospective cost. Will the enhanced clarity of the water, its safeness, potability, be worth the candle? If not, then the Provincial Board of Health, the local Board, the Medical Officer of Health, are the ones to rip up the back. For four years they have been insisting. If the alarm as voiced by these men has been fictitious, then we should find out. But the safety of the health of the city is not to be trifled with.

Respectfully,

F. H. Dobbin.

NEW YORK, July 6.—(By Canadian Press). — A programme of "Biff, Bing, Bang", the musical revue which the Dumbells Canadian soldier-entertainers are presenting at the Ambassador theatre was auctioned off at a recent performance for the benefit of the British Great War Veterans of America. Miss May T. Moulton of 4 East 51st street, won the programme bidding $100.

RURAL CANADA GROWS RICHER

EXPERIMENTS IN GRAINS AND FIELD CROPS ARE EFFECTIVE

Experimental and research work, promoted by and under the guidance of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, has made great strides in Canada during recent years. It is estimated, for instance, that the discovery of Marquis wheat by the Cereal Division of the Experimental Farms Branch has enriched the wheat growers of the three Prairie Provinces by $20,000,000 annually, and that the introduction of Preston, Stanley, and Huron wheats into the other provinces has brought about a gain of at least half a million dollars yearly. But wheat is not the only grain that has profited immensely through the work carried on at the Experimental Farms.

By the introduction of Daubeney, Victory, and in particular Banner oats, a gain has been made of over $9,000,000 annually, while other new grains, such as barley, flax, and peas, have proved responsible for an increase in calue of $3,000,000 annually. All of these must and will develop in still greater profit to the country. Experiments in plant breeding work with garden and field crops have led to the discovery of many new varieties such as the Melba apple, Early Malcolm corn, Alacrity tomato, etc.

Hardy varieties of tree fruits have been proved of good growth in the Prairie Provinces, while some valuable discoveries have been made in forage crops, notably a perennial red clover. Immensely valuable research work has been done by the Division of Chemistry, and by the Division of Botany, and by the Health of Animals, the Entomological and Seed Branches.

Canada has been shown to be the healthiest of all countries in live stock, a fact which must be attributed in large measure to the excellent system of supervision and control adopted and followed by the Health of Animals Branch. By its precautionary measures and other activities it is conservatively calculated the Division of Botany has saved the country $32,000,000 annually, largely by its crusade against smut and its control of late blight and rot of potatoes and other diseases to which plant life is subject.

Research work in its laboratories by the Seed Branch has resulted in approximately 100,000 tons of screenings being made of maxmum value to the live stock feeder, and this is but one of the profitable results that have been achieved.

Turning to the Entomological Branch, when it is stated that to field crops alone a justifiable estimate is that the depredations of insects cause a loss each year of $125,000,000, some idea of the colossal work involved can be formed. In field husbandry, by the greater use of crop rotations and the ascertaining of the most profitable rotations for each district, it is estimated that Ontario is benefited annually to the extent of $32,000,000, while by summer fallowing, a system urgently encouraged by the Experimental Farms Branch, the Prairie Provinces are thought to gain $90,000,000 annually. These few facts will illustrate the advance that is being made in the development of Canadian agriculture.

THIS WILL BENEFIT PETERBORO WOMEN

Stomach trouble in women is often due to retained waste matter. This poisons the stomach for months causing gas on the somach and sour stomach. The old, poisonous accumulation should be cleaned out with simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka. Acting on BOTH upper and lower bowel, Adler-i-ka removes matter you never thought was in your system. EXCELLENT for gas on the stomach and chronic constipation. Guards against appendicitis. FARM CONDITIONS

Following is a summary of reports made by Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

Heavy showers during the week did much good to field crops, although the intense heat during the same period also left its effects. Essex says that some sections of that county had their first good rain in five weeks.

The fall wheat harvest is on. Some fields have been cut in Essex. The heads were filled with plump grain, but the straw is rather short. Kent also reports cutting, and speaks of ing will be general in a few days. Oxing will be general in a few days. xford is complaining of rust in the fall wheat.

Spring grains are filling well, but there is a comparative short length of straw, generally speaking.

Hay cutting is well on. In most instances the yield per acre is only a little better than half a crop. More millet and buckwheat are being sown on account of the shortage in hay.

Pastures were revived somewhat week, but not sufficiently to carry ovweek, but not sufficieitly to carry over either beef or dairy cattle satisfactorily.

Sweet clover fields have been supplying fair pasture during the drouth, but some of the crop cut for hay is regarded as belng cut too late for best quality. A good deal of sweet clover will go into the slio. A few farmers are saving some fields for seed.

Corn has been bounding along in growth with the heavy showers and prevailing warm weather, which has been ideal for the plant.

Potatoes and roots are also doing well where properly attended to.

Fruit prospetcs are favorable. The "June drop" was rather heavy, but there is still a fair yield of apples and other tree fruits left. While strawberries proved disappointing after their wonderful promise when in blosom, raspberries are likely to do relatively better. Essex reports this fruit as a fair crop, selling at $8 a crate. Middlesex says that Marlboros have been on the market for a week.

The prolonged heat since about the middle of June, even with occasional rain falls, has been trying to pastures and there has been a noticeable falling off in the milk flow. Some farmers, good dairymen, are becoming discouraged with the dwindling milk values. Lennox and Addington reports that a leading dairy company is paying $1.30 a cwt. for 3.3 per cent milk, while a local creamery is giving 27c. a lb. for butter fat.

The Peterborough representative says: "One man has advised me that he made more money in selling ream in two months last year than he will probably make in the season this year."

Wellington says that owing to the low prices of cream, a number of farmers are letting their calves suck.

Oxford says: "Mr. W. W. Fraser, the Live Stock Commissioner from Manitoba, was very much impressed with the great abundance of feed in Oxford County this season. He attributed the excellent condition of the cattle to this fact, and stated that he had nowhere in the past month seen better farming conditions than in Oxford."

Hogs are holding to their recent increase in value, prices ranging from $10 to $12.50 a cwt. The Simcoe representative says of the swine and general live stock— situation: "There seems to be quite a considerable shortage of hogs throughout the country owing to the fact that many farmers did not arrange to keep very many over the summer, and now that the price has gone up, they are wishing they had more. Many farmers have very largely disposed of their sheep and others are contemplating getting rid of every one. The rest of the live stock is practically normal in numbers."

Leeds says that local buyers have recently paid as high as from $200 to $250 for any kind of fairly good draft horse.

Middlesex reports that forty men from overseas were placed with farmers during the week.

RICE LAKE FISH TAKE TO CELLAR TO ESCAPE HEAT

ARE LISTLESS, WITHOUT APPETITE AND SHOW NO INTEREST IN BAIT.

GORE'S LANDING, July 6. — The broiling weather which has heated the waters of the lake to lukewarmness has been bad for fishing. Lunge and bass have poor appetites these days, and for the most part lie deep down. Visitors have not of late had the sport they anticipated, but a cool spell will once more make the finny denizens voracious. Fish seem to be pretty plentiful in Rice Lake, whose weed beds have long been famous for the monster maskellonge and big green bass which frequent them. The gamest of fish, the black bass, is also in evidence. The pickerel, unknown in Rice Lake until it was introduced by the Government a few years back, is as yet a not infrequent catch, though most of them seem to be small.

Dynamiting Game Fish.

Local men declare that considerable damage is done to the maskellonge spawn by the Government's lowering of the lake at thee Trent Canal to accommodate some neighboring farmers in the springtime. Unfortunately too, netting and fishing out of season and even dynamiting was practised this spring and early summer by unscrupulous people living along the shores of Rice Lake. Long before the legal date maskellonge and bass were being taken from the lake and carted off to neighboring towns for sale. It is, of course, illegal to sell game fish like lunge or bass at any time. This sort of vandalism has been going on at many another Ontario lake, which settlers are fast denuding of its fish.

Hard Task For Wardens.

One of the economies of the Ontario Government has been to cut down the number of game wardens in the province from about 133 to 40. It is true that the 40 are competent men, and better paid than formerly, but the task of efficiently patrolling the woods and waters of Ontario is beyond the capacity of so small a force.

The fish and game of this province not only afford sport to a large number of residents, but attract thousands of American tourists annually. The average American fisherman does not take a heavy toll of the fish, for he can't very well take them home. But the prospect of fishing makes Ontario's lakes and streams particularly attractive to residents of the crowded States, who come back year after year to enjoy the sport, have a holiday and incidentally to leave in the aggregate a very large sum of money in Canada.

Mr. Herbert Osborn Tells How Cuticura Healed His Wife

"My wife began to be troubled with itching and burning of the palms of her hands and the soles of her feet. Later the skin cracked and became inflamed, making walking or even standing very painful and preventing sleep at night. Later it became necessary to bandage both hands and feet.

"She was treated but obtained no relief. She saw an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. She bought more and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment she was healed." (Signed) Herbert Osborn, 135 Sherbrooke Ave., Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 2, 1919.

RUSSELL CONSTRUCTION COMPANY CONTRACT FOR ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL

ESTIMATED TOTAL COST IS $160,000, BUT RUSSELL COMPANY'S SHARE IS $142,263—NEW ADDITION WILL BE THOROUGHLY MODERN.

Tenders for the erection of the new addition to St. Joseph's Hospital were opened last Friday. The contract has been awarded to the Russell Construction Company, Limited, of Toronto, who were the lowest tenderers for the entire contract, the amount of their tender being $142,263. Excavations have already been completed and certain work, such as the marble and tile finishing of the floors, operating theatres, etc., will be done by individual contractors, which will bring the entire cost of the building, without including the furnishings, up to about $160,000. The contract was signed yesterday and it is expected that work will commence this week.

The specifications provide for a building which will be the last word in hospital construction. Some idea of the completeness of the equipment may be gained from the fact that there will be more than six miles of electric wire installed for heating, lighting and alarm purposes.

REPORT MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says we must keep feet dry; avoid exposure and eat less meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

GERMANS SEIZE TRADE IN BRAZIL AND IMITATE ADVERTISED LINES

YOUNG TEUTONS IN INFANTRY UNIFORMS ARE SEEN IN SAO PAULO—"MADE IN GERMANY" SLOGAN IS REVIVED.

SA PAULO, Brazil, July 7.—The effortof the German to stage a post-war commercial comeback is probably more apparent in this city than in any other in Brazil.

As the leading centre of the commerce of a fast-growing Republic, Sao Paulo evidently has been picked by the Teuton commercial missionaries as the starting point of their 'seize-Brazilian-business' campaign, and eivdence of a certain success are apparent.

Shop windows are filled with German-made goods, including many articles which are flagrant imitations of widely-known specialties. For instance, one smart shop here to-day is displaying a window filled with vacuum bottles. Each bottle bears—in large letters— the name of a highly advertised company which makes the same line of goods. In small letters underneath, however, is the telltale mark "Made in Germany."

A salesman for a big manufacturing company tells a story that gives a typical insight into German method. This man sells heavy machinery. This man sells heavy machinery and makes a special of machines for railway repair shops. Recently he called upon an important division shop here in an effort to sell a certain machine. To his surprise the foreman exhibited a set of new machines, bearing the name of his own company. But the mark was there— "Made in Germany."

"The only way I can explain it," says the American, "is that the German copied the design before the war and had it ready for the market as soon as his ships were able to sail the seas again."

Cutlery, plumbing materials, electrical fixtures and a score of other articles tell the same tale. They like American made goods until one hunts for the mark— which is always there—"Made in Germany."

And Sao Paulo has a rather large and very active German population, too. Immigrants have come in since the war and they are liked, because they work and attend pretty much to thier own affairs.

A group of husky young Teutons, cow-hide boots, infantry, trousers, with shovels on their shoulders instead of rifles. How they got out of Germany with the uniforms is a question they can best answer.

The German is proceeding quietly but surely in nearly every Brazilian market. The merchant, if he feels called upon to make an explanation, shrugs his shoulders and says: "It's good merchandize and his prices are cheaper than those of the Americans or the British."

BED BUG POISON

There are dozens of preparations recommended to destroy bed-bugs. But the preparation that gives the will soon wipe out the pest. It is composed of Corrosive Sublimate, methyl-hydrate, and carbolic acid, and as it is very poisonous it should be kept out of the reach of children.

TWENTY ARE HELD FOR MOONSHINING

OFFICERS SEEK 150 OTHERS ON SIMILAR CHARGES.

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

SANDY HOOK, N.Y., July 7.—Cramped up in the tiny county jail here, twenty unlucky mountaineers to-day awaited trial on charges of moonshining, a pursuit they had followed unmolested for thirty years.

Sheriff J. N. Green and deputies were prowling nearby hill sides seeking an additional 150 alleged bootleggers who were released on bond.

The men in jail were disheveled to-day. They said they had been so crowded sleep was impossible. The heat of the night added to their discomfort.

CANADIAN PICTURES SENT TO SOUTH AFRICA

CAPETOWN, July 7.—(By Canadian Press)—A report of the moving picture industry of South Africa which has just been issued shows that Canada sent films to the value of only $1,275 to this Dominion during the year 1920. U. S. films provided most of the programmes for South African movie fans. Of total imports of 3,490,874 feet of film, 2,490,467 come from the United States. The value from U. S. films was $255,480. Films valued at $68,645 were received from the Old Country.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, July 7.—(Canadian Press.)—Stocks forfeited part of yesterday's substantial gains in the early stages of to-day's trading. Profit taking was observed in most of the speculative favorites, notably the Foreign Oils. Mexican Petroleum soon declined 2 points and Pan-American Petroleum 1 point. Irregular recessions were made by American Sugar, Atlantic Gulf, Studebaker, Baldwin, Bethlehem, Crucible and U. S. Steels retained much of their firmness, but gains were confined to inactive specialties. These included Chicago Pnuematic Tool, Remington Typewriter, Wilson Company and California Packing.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, July 7.—(Canadian Press.)—Trading on the local Stock Exchange during the first half hour this morning was uninteresting. Abitibi rose a point over night to 25. Brazilian weakened a quarter to 27 1-4, while Brompton strengthened an eighth to 22. Laurentide remained unchanged at 75. National Breweries rose three quarters to 53. Other leaders were quiet.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

TORONTO, July 7.— (Canadian Press.)—Receitps 45, trade slow. Quotations: Heavy beef steers, $7 to $7.50; butcher steers, choice, $7 to $7.50; butcher cows, medium, $3 to $4.50; calves, $7 to $8;; lambs, $10 to $11 hogs, selects, $11.50.

TAKE INITIATIVE IN DEVELOPING RED TRADE

HAMBURG, July 7.—It is the purpose of the German shipping, Industrial and banking interest here to take the initiative in carrying on business in Russia. An important step in this direction has been taken already by the organization of the German-Russian Transport Company, in which the Soviet Government officially holds one-half interest, and which will exercise general supervision of all rail and water traffic between German ports and Russian destinations.

HEALTH CAMP ONLY FOR CHILDREN WHO ARE UNDER NORMAL

LACK OF FUNDS PREVENTS HEALTH ASSOCIATION FROM ACCEPTING ALL.

In view of the large number of children presenting themselves The Peterborough Health Association desires to make the following announcement regarding the Summer Camp at Jackson's Park:—

1. The Camp is strictly reserved for those children under 12 years of age, who are physically below normal and have no other means of securing a play in the country.

2. In future, children must be vouched for, either in person or by letter, from a doctor or other responsible citizen.

3. The time limit of 3 weeks for each child will be adhered to this year.

We trust that parents and friends will assist in this matter. Nothing would please us more than to accept every child who comes but lack of equipment and funds compels us, for this year at least, to limit the camp to the most worthy cases.

G. STEWART CAMERON,
Secretary Peterborough Health Association.

RESCUED AT CHEMONG; SINKING THIRD TIME

MRS. HAROLD SANDERSON AND PARTY WERE SWIMMING IN THE DARK—NARROW ESCAPE.

A drowning fatality nearly occurred at Chemong Park on Tuesday night. Mrs. Harold Sanderson, of Smith, was in swimming with a party who braved the dark on the beach about 10 p.m. Mrs. Sanderson struck out from the others and swam beyond her depth. Exhausted she found she could not touch bottom and went down. Roland Ferguson, of Concession street, city, who was one of the party, saw Mrs. Sanderson sink and, diving, saved her before she went under for the third time. After sfeveral minutes Mrs. Sanderson was resuscitated, but the swimming party was ended rather unpleasantly. It was believed that Mrs. Sanderson possibly went down in a hole and the treacherousness of one or two places along the shore was emphasized to the cottagers who witnesseed the close approach to a drowning.

WHY IS THE CENTRAL ONTARIO-OIL COMPANY A GOOD INVESTMENT?

Because oil is the thing most sought after to keep the wheels of industry moving.

Proof that oil and gas are there is had from many sources and it is indisputable.

The geological formation indicates oil in good quantity ,acording to the British Transvaal Oil Company, and Mr. E. J. Cowain, M.E., and other authorities.

Gas and oil are found in wells, in pools, etc.

On top of all this, and what is very substantial proof, is that the system used in finding water for wells which is common knowledge, actually works here, and by that system we feel just as positive we have the oil lake outlined as we would be in locating the water for a well, and as the system has been tried out successfully in other fields, don't you think this is the best chance you ever had to get big returns on your investment?

Aplications may be had from Mr. W. R. Cowain, 188 1-2 Charlotte St

ST. LUKE'S SUNDAY SCHOOL HELD EXCURSION.

Large Crowd Defied Heat Wave.

A large crowd defied the intense heat yesterday to attend St. Luke's Sunday School picnic to South Beach on the steamer Stoney Lake. On the sail up the canal and river, stray breezes undreamed of in the sweltering city were discovered, and every one, from the kiddies in the junior classes to the members of the Bible Class, had a good time.

Sports were held at South Beach. A pleasing feature of the day was the presentation by the School to each teacher and official of a fine box of chocolates.

PARACHUTIST DROPS FROM SKY INTO SURPRISED HANGAR

BEDFORD, England, July 7.—A night watchman at the royal airship hangar at Cardington, near here, got the surprise of his life when he saw a parachute dropping from the sky early in the morning a few days ago.

"Can I get a bed here?" asked a calm voice.

The parachutist was Air Commodore E. N. Maitland, on his way home to Howden air station from Epsom aboard the dirigible R-33, which had acted as official traffic controller and wireless station at the Derby races.

Commodore Maitland explained that he had suddenly remembered that he had to attend an important meeting at the Cardington station in the early morning. "The only way to get there in time was to jump right off," he said.

MEAT PRICES AT JOPLING'S

JOPLING'S resent the insinuation that they, with the rest of the butchers of Peterborough, are charging too much for meat.

We believe that the best in the land is none too good for the people of Peterborough.

And the people themselves evidently believe that, also, for they invariably demand hind-quarter cuts, which necessarily makes those cuts dearer; but there are excellent cuts of meat in the fore-quarter, which can be purchased for less than the whole carcass costs. We do not purpose to sacrifice quality for price, but we will sell on Saturday, July 9th, at both Stores—

SERMONS IN FIGHTS

M. Carpentier's brief but spirited engagement with Jack Dempsey evokes incandescent words from certain sociological clergymen of what may be called, without offense, the film school. One of these eminent schoolmen finds "the disgraceful prize fight"—which wasn't a prize-fight—"a collective sin," shared by the great crowd of spectators and the wicked millions that read about it with eager interest. One wonders if this critic ever saw a football or even a lively basketball game, much sterner, ruder and more dangerous diversions or collective sins than the contest on Boyle's Thirty Acres.

Another impassioned foe of boxing matches is painted by his thought that "on this Sunday millions of Americans will make almost their exclusive Sunday reading the account of the glorification of Dempsey as a prime American, as an ideal product of our civilization." It is cruel to restrict a romanticist to mere trivial fact, but nobody has glorified Dempsey as a prime American, or an ideal product of our civilization. He has more strength, weight and science than his opponent. That's all. He is not too deeply loved by his countrymen. He happens to be the head man in his class of his profession at present. Ideal products of civilization, prime Americanism, had as much to do with the fight as they would have to do with an international competition of players of "stick-knife" or horseshoe-pitching, recreations untainted with individual or collective sin.

"How many Abraham Lincolns * * * will this kind of reading "make?" asks our distressed moralist. Well, even reading some sermons mayn't make Abraham Lincolns, but our moralist seems to have forgotten that young man Abe was a mighty man of his fists and a powerful wrestler. Physical superiority was valuable and often necessary in the rough pioneer settlements he grew up in. Our moralist should read Abe's winning of the championship over Jack Armstrong of the Clary's Grove Boys in New Salem.—New York Times.

JACK JOHNSON WANTS MATCH WITH JACK DEMPSEY.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 7.—A group of Los Angeles business men have wired Jack Kearns asking whether he would consider an offer to have Jack Dempsey meet Jack Johnson on Labour Day, with the understadning that 50 per cent. of the net receipts be divided among the fighters, and the other 50 per cent. to go to the War Veterans.

A guarantee arranged for Dempsey was stipulated in the sum of $200,000.

REJOICE AND BE GLAD

Rejoice and be glad, in youth's morn, fresh and fair,
While skies are undimmed by a shadow of care,
Every prospect enchanting, your pathway bestrewn
With gay flowers, and sorrow and sadness unknown.

Rejoice and be glad, when serene on your way
Still shines the sun's radiant, meridian ray,
While course's life's vital tide, warm in your veins,
And Hope sings in your heart, her sweet siren strains.

Rejoice and be glad, when in soft, saffron glow,
To his goal in the west the bright day star sinks low,
Comes release from dull toil and turmoil, at day's close,
Nightfall, to the weary, brings welcome repose.

Rejoice and be glad, though earth's pleasures decay,
And blue smiling skies become o'ercast and grey,
On your unsheltered head breaks adversity's gale,
Your cherished hopes perish, and trusted friends fail.

Rejoice and be glad, what if wild and severe
The tempest may rage, yet yield not to weak fear;
Misfortune's chill frost winds can bring naught of loss
(While refining the gold) but the valueless dross.

Rejoice and be glad know the pangs you endure
In mercy are sent you, human frailties to cure,
By suffering's keen chisel, the soul, priceless gem,
Is polished till meet for Christ's bright diadem.

Rejoice and be glad, aye, be dauntless of heart,
Though joys phantom-like, one by one should depart,
Oh, doubt not, and fear not, whatever befall,
Look aloft, to the Friend, who will guide you through all.

Rejoice and be glad, that your Guide was aware
Of the serpent that lurked in that green meadow fair,
Through which you were fain in your blindness to tread,
And your steps by a rougher, yet safer path, led.

Rejoice and be glad though the Father all-wise,
In mercy some coveted bauble denies,
Which had proved your undoing, and rich blessings you list,
Oh, Him, for the ills, by His providence missed.

(Mrs.) A. F. Calder.

EXCESS OF MALES OVER FEMALES DOWN.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—There are 2,090,132 more males than females in the United States, according to census figures for 1920. The ratio is 104 to 100, as compared with 108 to every 100 females in the period of 1900-1910, the Census Bureau announcement shows.

CONVICTS BUILDING ROADS.

OSSINING, N.Y., July 7.—Three hundred convicts from prisons throughout the State have been divided into "honor gangs" and put to road building. Some of these men are employed as far as 150 miles away from their home institutions.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF FIRST HALF IN "U.F.O." CIRCUIT IS WON BY KEENE

BATTING RALLY AND NORWOOD ERRORS GAVE KEENE SEVEN RUNS IN FOURTH.

First half honours in the East Peterborough Baseball League were won by Keene at home last evening, when Norwood was defeated by the score of 13 to 7. It was the second game of the play off, Keene having won in Norwood by a 7 to 4 score.

The visitors gave the homesters a great battle for three innings and took a three run lead in the fourth. In their half Keene hit hard and the Norwood defence petered out. When it was over Keene had scored seven runs. Darkness stopped the game in the first of the sixth.

Score by innings—
Norwood ... ...10330—7
Keene ... ...12172—13

Local League Games.

City League Teams will provide the entertainment at Riverside Park this evening, when Hamilton's and Y.M.C.A. will pastime.

On Friday evening, St. Peter's and Generals meet in the Juvenile series and on Saturday afternoon the Bakers and the Lakveiws will meet in the two o'clock game. Hamilton's and C.G.E. are billed to play at 3.30.

There promises to be a lot of excitement in the Bankers-Lakeviews game. The Lakeviews are setting the pace in the second half and the Bankers have orders to go out and stop them.

"U.F.O." League Popular.

City leagues can go away back in the shade when it comes to talking attendance records with the East Peterboro League. When Keene and Norwood met last night the gate receipts were over $70.

The teams in the local leagues are strong for getting runners at the plate. No matter what the score, or the number of outs fielders simply can't get the range on first base. In 99 cases out of 100 the play to the plate is lost and the team in the field "goes up in the air."

Keene helped Norwood to score, when in the excitement of the game last evening, and with a runner at third, Hawkins, the Keene backstop, moved up in front of the batter to get a pitched ball. The Umps ordered the runner at third to go home, and the batter to take first base.

A "U.F.O." player introduced a funny one in a reent game. He was at first when the batter singled over second. The ball was returned badly. The runner to second touched the bag, and then, losing all sense of direction, made for the home plate, via the pitcher's box.

TIGHT RACE FOR WRIGHT TROPHY

GREAT INTEREST IN E.P.B.L. AND TEAMS ARE DEVELOPING FAST.

Eddie Wright picked a live one when he selected the East Peterborough Baseball League as the organization that was worthy of encouragement and support. His donation of a silver trophy for annual competition, with permanent possession of the silverware to the club winning the championship three times in a row, has added new interest to the League, which is now in its second year.

Four of the five clubs, Keene, Norwood, Zion and Lakefield, are developing fast. Difficulty in getting players has been a big handicap to the Douro Club.

This season saw an entry from Zion. This club entered the League fully equipped with players, uniforms and an assortment of gloves and bats that cost a lot of money. The 12th Line team finished the first half with two wins and two losses, and it will be no surprise if they go through the second half without a loss.

The League is affiliated with the O.B.A.A., and the winner will be seen in action here when the Ontario championship games are arranged.

CARPENTIER MAY MEET GIBBONS?

RICKARD EXPECTS VISIT FROM DESCAMPS TO-DAY.

NEW YORK, July 7.—(Canadian Press.)—Hopes of getting Georges Carpentier's signature to-day to the articles of agreement for a bout with Tom Gibbons on Columbus Day, October 12 were expressed by Tex Rickard, who said that he expected a visit from Descamps, the French boxer's maanger during the afternoon.

OSHAWA AND BELLEVILLE WON

Belleville and Oshawa were the winners in the Central Ontario League series yesterday the former winning their seventh straight victory by beating the Ontarios in Port Hope 9 to 2, with Goyer opposing Deer on the rubber, while Oshawa just managed to nose Cobourg out in the game at Oshawa, winning by 8 to 7, the deciding tally being put over in the ninth innings.

Percy Ecobichon, the Peterborough boy who is on the pitching staff of the Cobourg outfit, pitched the first five innings for the Lakeshore crew, and did not allow Oshawa a run, while his team mates niched Dainty for five and drove the famous southpaw out of the box. Then Cobourg took Ecobichon out and sent Campbell in and the motor car gang proceeded to win the game off the substitute, Jacobi starting the fireworks with a homer, with two on.

Patton finished the game for Oshawa after Dainty was knocked out, and did not allow Cobourg a hit.

Alex. Kay, of Peterborough, was umpire-in-chief.

FINAL FOR CHARITY CUP TO-NIGHT.

Big Crowd of Fans Expected.

The final game for the Phelan Charity Cup will be played at the Nicholls Oval at 6 p.m. to-day. The G.W.V.A. play the Comrades, and the game promises to be fast from start to finish.

A large crowd of fans should be on hand to support the teams. Even if the weather is hot, a large crowd would encourage both teams in their effort to give good football.

FROGS STOP WATER SUPPLY.

YOUNGSTOWN, Pa., July 7.—This city's water supply was cut off for several hours during an invasion by an enormous army of frogs. They clogged the filters and mains and were extracted with difficulty.

Residents enjoyed frogs legs for supper.

ARMOR SOLD FOR $95,000.

NEW YORK, July 7.—A famous suit of gold-decorated armor made in the last quarter of the sixteenth century, has been sold in London to a New York firm for 25,000 pounds, or about $95,000 at the present rate of exchange. The announcement of the purchased declared this amount was the highest price ever paid for a suit of armor at a public sale. It was made for Henry Herbert, second Earl of Pembroke.

CAR LIGHTING TROUBLES THEIR CAUSES AND CURES

Do not mistake simply a burned-out lamp filament for trouble in the system. Too often the driver will examine the bulb that does not light, and, failing to notice the broken filament, will cause himself a great deal of trouble tracing the connections throughout the system, when in reality there is nothing but the lamp itself to blame. If you cannot see plainly whether the darn bulb is broken or not, try a good one, and if that, too, fails to light, it is time to delve deeper into the wiring intricacies.

One of the first points to look is at the light switch to see if there are any defective connections there. Then examine the wires going out of the socket, for this is a very common point of open circuiting. Shaking of the wire due to continuous road work will often work the wire end loose from the binding screw, which is a none too permanent connection, anyway, due to space limitations.

Open circuits usually come from broken wires or from loose or disconnected terminal wires at one or more of the electrical units of the system. In most connectors the wires are soldered when the system is fitted, and if one of these becomes dislodged owing to the solder having become crystalized or jarred loose, the wire does not take long to work its way entirely free from the terminals. Often it is hard to find such defects unless the terminals are each carefully examined with this thought in mind. There are many instances where a connection looks to be all right, but which in realty is no connection at all when investigated closely. Sometimes when the connector is all right the fault lies in the binding post nut having worked loose or fallen off with the result that the terminal can move around on the post, causing a very poor contact, if any.

So far we have devoted our attention entirely to those troubles that come to the lighting system when the engine is running. Having touched upon practically every possibility that could cause this condition, we can now turn to the things that might prevent the lights from behaving properly when the engine is not running.

The first thing to expect when they go out or get dim under these conditions is that the battery has become discharged through some cause or causes. Besides short circuits, batteries can become discharged in a number of other ways, the most common of which are the result of overloading the starting or the lighting system, the electrolyte being too low in the cells, or the battery being loose in its container so that it can move around and become damaged.

Current Leaks.

Another source of annovance is battery discharge due to lighting or starting overloads. Naturally if there is a leakage of current due to a short circuit somewhere the generator and the entire system are called upon to furnish more energy than would be required normally, and this overloading results in battery drainage.

A good way to tell if there is current leakage is to note the position of indicator hand of the ammeter when the engine is not operating and no lights are on. The hand should point to zero, since no current is being demanded nor any being put into the batterv. Unless the instrument is out of calibration, if the hand indicates that current is being used then it is time to look up leakage points. To make sure if the ammeter is correctly calibrated disconnect one of the battery terminals and see if the hand then swings to zero; if it does there is leakage. But if it remains one side or the other of the zero mark the trouble is in its calibration, and it is well to remember how much it is off, for future reference, in reading the instrument.

One thing that often makes for battery discharge is the utilization of lamp bulbs that are not of the size or kind required, this being due either to carelessness or ignorance. It is a mistake to put in lamps of higher candle power than the system is supposed to use. Ordinarily the headlights are 16 candle power the sides or dimmer lights four candle power, the tail lights two candle power and the same for the dash light bulb.

These will draw a maximum load of about eight ampres, and as larger lights draw a proportionately greater amount, they make an overload on the system to the detriment of the battery. Many bulbs are on the market, usually offered at prices below the standard figure for the bulbs of various sizes, and these are advised against, as they draw a high amperage and their light is inferior because of poor filaments, etc.

You can readily see that unless the generator is set or designed to produce a current in excess of that demanded by the lights, it is a bad thing to connect in other sources of current consumption such as auxiliary lights, trouble lamps, cigar lighters, horns, etc., without first making sure that the system can handle them by communication with the manufacturer of the lighting and starting system ora service station that know its business. You cannot draw more current than the generator can produce replace without sooner or later giving the battery the worst of it.

Conserve the Current.

Battery exhaustion quickly results from overuse of the starting motor; cranking the engine for long periods when it refuses to start. When it will not take to its own operation after a reasonable number of revolutions by the starting motion, it is very fololish to continue to drain the battery when it is evident that sometying is the matter to prevent the engine from starting. It is just like continually turning the starting shaft by hand when you know that there is some defect to prevent firing.

Conserve the current as much as possible by judicious use of the lights. When driving it is unnedcessary to have both the head lamps and side lamps on. If in the country only the headlights are needed and the side lights should be off. If on city streets, the dim or side light should be used, as they consume only about half the current required by the head lights. You often encounter a car standing at the curb for a long period with the headlights on, when all that are necessary are the auxiliary front lights.

GOOD NATURE.

Good-nature is one of the principal products of sunshine, and when well rooted never fails to produce a bumper crop. When a person has become thoroughly saturated with kiln-dried good-nature he is welcome at any social circle, especially around the family hearth at a time when the baby is cutting several shrill-voiced teeth and the apple pie has been thoughtlessly cremated in the oven.

Some people are born good-natured and others acquire it by dint of hard work. It is better to be born with a sunny disposition and a perpetual 6 by 4 smile than it is to inherit four farms and go through life looking like a human toothache. On the other hand, many a person has started out in childhood without any visible signs of good-nature and after being hit below the belt by adversity has become as mellow as a clingstone peach at the bottom of the basket.

One fine thing about good-nature is that it is as contagious as the red measles, but doesn't have to be quarantined. The minute a cheery, sparkling eyed woman breaks into a gloomy gathering of the Ladies' Aid Society and begins to get rid of an accumulation of enthusiasm, energy and courage, she will infect the rest of the members to such an extent that it will be decided to repaper the parsonage without a dissenting vote. No noble project, like buying a couple of non-skid casings for the pastor or removing the hitching posts from Main Street, was ever accomplished by workers suffering from an internal grouch.

Good-nature, when once durably located in the system, is not affected by sorrow, ill health or misfortune. Some of the best-natured people in the world are those who have no reason to be. The crippled child is the sweetest flower of the flock. The old gentlelady, bound to a bed of pain, makes beautiful the ministry of suffering by her patience and unselfishness. When troubles come thickest, gentleness of spirit glooms at its best.

We could all cultivate a little more good-nature without starting any divorce suits.

Postmaster of Three Hundred Years Ago.

A postmaster of 300 years ago was a very different person to what he is today. The postmaster today has to do almost entirely with letters and parcels and, in England, of course, with telegrams, too. But 300 years ago he had to do almost entirely with horses. William Brewster, the leader of the Mayflower Pilgrims' was for many years postmaster at Scrooby, a little village in England on the great north road, halfway between London and Berwick.

William Brewster, however, did not live in a little house in the village street, using the front room as a postoffice, as do many village postmasters today. He lived in a grand old house called Scrooby Manor and his duty was to supply horses to all travelers who desired to hire them, for in those days, of course, all traveling was not done on foot was done on horseback. He was appointed by the government, and he had what 300 years ago was a very handsomely salary namely, 2s a day, besides what travelers used to pay him if they stayed for a night or so at Scrooby Manor on their journey. It was in the great hall at Scrooby Manor that the Pilgrims used to meet before they left England for Holland, whence, some 10 years or so later, they sailed for America.

ACT FOR THE SCREEN AFTER SCHOOL HOURS

All the boys and girls who take part in Booth Tarkington's Edgar Comedies have started back to school. This doesn't mean, however, that the production of the pictures will cease, for their school is right on the grounds of the Goldwyn studios. Miss Sally M. Spencer, a regular member of the Los Angeles public school teaching staff, has been designated to instruct the youngsters.

The California law requires that they must spend four hours a day in school. "Edgar, the Explorer," the latest of the Tarkington series in which these young actors appear, will be seen at the Allen Theatre for three days, beginning today.

LIONS AND OTHER WILD ANIMALS SMASH $10,000.00 PHOTOGRAPHIC EQUIPMENT DURING FILMING OF "THE SON OF TARZAN" JUNGLE SERIAL.

Photographic equipment valued at $10,000.00 was completely destroyed or rendered useless during the filming of the jungle scenes in "The Son of Tarzan" animal serial, which comes to the Allen Theatre. Three cameras made doubly valuable by under-production, were so badly damaged by animals that they were not in condition for use until repaired. Four sets of almost priceless lenses were smashed and many tripods were broken by the lions, tigers, leopards, and other jungle animals in their mad chases about the huge steel arena in which the settings requiring the use of animals were built.

AT THE CAPITOL.

A SPLENDID PICTURE AND VAUDEVILLE PROGRAM TONIGHT

The program for tonight and the balance of this week at the Capitol promises much in the way of entertainment. Besides the big and splendid picture program offered an excellent double vaudeville act has been secured—Davis and Wilkinson, lady and gentleman, entertainers of the refined class, remarkable Swiss yodlers, singers, etc. This act will please any audience. The feature picture presents the popular young star, Douglas MacLean, in a very funny 5-act comedy-drama, entitled, "One a Minute," and it's a captivating story:

Jimmy Knight, a young lawyer without a practice, inherits a drug store from his father. When he returns to Centreville to take over his property, he finds the store greatly run down. He loves, Miriam, the beautiful daughter of Silas P. Rogers, his business rival who heads a syndicate which threatens to put Jummy out of business by opening a fine store opposite.

Jimmy is about to sell when he recalls Miriam's statement to him that she liked only such men as overcame obstacles. He refuses to sell, and on reading P. T. Barnum's famous saying, "There's a fool born every minute," he decides to put out a patent medicine and advertise it extensively. Thus "Knight's 99" reaches the market and causes a tremendous sensation when sveral miraculous cures are accomplished.

The syndicate causes Jimmy's arrest for violating the pure food and drug act, and at the trial, Jimmy is his own counsel. The judge is taken suddenly ill and Jimmy gives him a dose or two of "Knight's 99" with the result that the judge is cured and Jimmy acquitted. The syndicate thereupon begs Jimmy to reveal the fifth ingredient of his decoction, the four others being known to them, and he complies. The citizens of the town, convinced of his greatness as a townsman, elect him mayor and Miriam becomes his bride.

ROBBED CHILD'S BANK.

OSHAWA, July 7.—In the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Ashby, Monday forenoon, some mean thief effected an entrance to their home and robbed a child's bank of the few coins the little one has been saving. Nothing else is missing. Mr. Ashby is farm overseer at Rockwood Hospital.

EARL OF BRANDON STILL MISSING
BELFAST, July 7. — (Canadian Press.—Although numbers of police and military are still scouring the country in search of the Earl of Brandon who was kidnapped at Bantry, County Cork, on June 21,: when his residence, Castle Barnard, was burned down, no trace has been found of him. It is believed that this place of detention is changed daily and the theory is that he is being held as a hostage for the safety of condemned Republicans.

SAYS SUNDAY BATHING WELL WITHIN THE LAW

City Solicitor Expresses Opinion—Old Appellate Case Warrants Sunday Golf.

TORONTO, June 6. — Sunday bathing cannot be stopped under the existing laws, according to William Johnson, city solicitor.

Not only is there no city by-law covering the matter but no municipality has power even to attempt to stop it. Nor has a magistrate or any judge. The Lord's Day Act does not aim at Sunday bathing in any of its sections—does not aim at the bathers, though the act does make it an offence for a bath-house keeper to rent bathing suits or dressing stations, or do anything in the nature of a business occupation. The Lord's Day Act in this connection states simply that no person shall follow his or her ordinary calling on Sunday.

"I don't think there is any man in Canada who can prevent you or me from going down to the lake for a dip," said another legal authority. "Taking a refresher like that could never be said to be one's ordinary calling, could it?"

There is a section in the act which prevents the playing of any noisy games on Sunday. About 25 years ago an attempt was made under this section to stop the playing of golf on Sundays.

Sir Allen Aylesworth carried the case of the golfers to the appeal court and won out. That is why golf is now played on Sundays without interference. Sir Allen argued that gold did not come within word in the act. He argued that it was quite possible to play a game of golf and never utter a word—if one were a fair player. The court concurred.

Baseball, soccer and rugby, on the other hand have never been able to get away from the "noise" section in the act.

Any attempt to stop Sunday bathing would have to be made by the federal parliament since the criminal law is involved, the city solicitor states. "The city council couldn't make it an offence to bathe on Sunday if it wanted to."

TEN PER CENT. CUT IN GAS FOR KINGSTON.

KINGSTON, July 7.—The Utilities Commission here are seriously considering a reduction of ten per cent. in their charges for gas. Manager Falger reported that gas was now being made at $1.78 per thousand, which included depreciation. Commissioner McFarlane's motion that the price be reduced ten per cent. from $2 to $1.80 per thousand will be given the fulest consideration Chairman Elliott stated that gas oil costing the last four years an average of 21 cents can now be purchased for 10 1-2 cents. He can get a year's supply of gas oil at a maximum price of 9 1-4 cents.

EMPRESS O FBRITAIN MAKES NEW RECORD

MONTREAL, July 7.—On what may be her last run of the season via the Cape Race route to Quebec the Empress of Britain on her inward run created a new record for the trip, calling at Rimouski with the mails, just 6 days and 1 hour out from Liverpool. The Empress of Britain had held previous records, but this one is a record for the ship and the route. The fastest run from Liverpool to Quebec was made last year by the Empress of France via the Belle Isle strait.

HEAT PROSTRATION NOT INTOXICATION

WAS PLEA IN POLICE COURT OF TWO VISITORS—FINED $10 AND $9.10 COSTS.

Renovations to Magistrate Dumble's court-room necessitated court being held in the Council Chamber this morning, and here two fines were extracted and a remand given. Two visitors, one from London, and one from Tweed, took some red-eye last night in an endeavor to keep cool. They also sought the roadway on Simcoe Street to have plenty of atmosphere. Unfortunately, the police car hove in sight, narrowly missed the two, slowed up and took them in tow. It was the heat made them seem intoxicated, their counsel pleaded. Whether it was intoxication or prostration, they were each fined $10 and $9.10 costs.

Charles Jones was remanded for a week on a charge of vagrancy.

NEW IRISH VICEROY WON'T LIVE IN CASTLE.

DUBLIN, July 7.—Lord Fitzalan, the new Irish Viceroy, will not take up his residence in the state apartments of Dublin Castle. Normally the Castle, besides being the seat of Government in Ireland, is the official residence of the Lord Lieutenant, and the Viceregal Lodge is merely a sort of rural rest house.

The Viceregal Lodge is at present being redecorated and furnished for the reception of the new Viceroy. He will have no other residence unless, as Lord Dudley did, he rents one for himself somewhere in the provinces.

After the first year of the war Dublin Castle was turned into a military hospital. The state rooms became dormitories and operation theatres. The hospital is now gone.

But the official residence has been absorbed by the growing necessities of Irish government. The place now swarms with clerks, far exceeding in number any formerly employed in Irish administration. They have been recruited not from the ordinary Irish civil service but for the most part from across the Irish Sea.

All the most important officials live in the Castle. It is not safe for many of them to live in it since men employed there have been shot dead in the streets. There is, therefore, no room for the Lord Lieutenant.

It is understood that he intends to entertain much more freely than Lord French, but he will do so at the Viceregal Lodge. There will be garden parties and musical parties instead of the old-time formal functions for which the Castle was famous.

2 ARE DROWNED IN CREEK NEAR SCOTT'S MILLS

GORDON ROSEBOROUGH AND ROGER TRENNUM, OF SMITH, BOTH SUPPORTING WIDOWED MOTHERS, THE VICTIMS.

WERE ALONE AT TIME AND DETAILS UNKNOWN

Gordon Roseborough, 25 years of age, and Roger Trennum, aged 20 years, two of the best known and most popular young farmers in the Township of Smith, met death by drowning in a deep pool on the Mississague Creek, at Scott's Mills, near Buckhorn, on Wednesday. The circumstances surrounding the double fatality can only be surmised, for there were no eye-witnesses of the tragedy.

The two young men left in Roseborough's car on Wednesday morning for Buckhorn to pick huckleberries, taking their lunch with them, and intending to return in the evening. When they did not come home, Roseborough's younger brother Stanley went to look for them, eventually finding the car near the Missisagua River, with the boys' lunch untouched, while at the edge of a pool at the bottom of a log chute were their clothes. That a double drowning had taken place was only too evident, and a search of the creek resulted in the finding of the two bodies early yesterday afternoon.

The pool, although quite deep, was not wide, and it is assumed that one of the unfortunate bathers got into difficulties from cramps or some other mishap, and that the other, going to the rescue, was dragged down to death. The complete story of the tragedy in the lovely creek in the bush will of course never be known.

A particularly distressing feature of the double fatality is that both boys were the sons of widows, and both were managing the farms for their mothers. Gordon Roseborough was the son of Mrs. William Roseborough, one younger brother Stanley also surviving; while Roger Trennum was the only son of his mother, his father having died suddenly at the Lakefield Fair several years ago. They resided on the 7th Line of Smith, about two miles from Lakefield, and were well-known and liked in that village and the surrounding countryside, their tragic death throwing a gloom over the entire community.

The funeral will take place on Sunday at 2 p.m. to the Lakefield Cemetery.

FRANCE RECALLS MISSION AS A PROTEST AGAINST HYPOCRISY OF TRIALS OF HUN WAR CRIMINALS

(Special Despatch to the Examiner.)

PARIS, July 8. — The government has ordered the recall of the French legal mission at Leipzig as a protest against the hypocrisy of the German trials of war criminals in that city, it was announced to-day.

This followed the acquittal of General Stenger, accused of ordering war prisoners executed.

It was added that France would refuse to recognize any more of the trials, which are regarded as farcial.

PETERBORO HOTTEST IN ONTARIO YESTERDAY AT 100, BUT MERCURY IS DOWN TO 89 DEGREES TO-DAY

WEATHERMAN HOLDS OUT HOPE OF TEMPORARY RELIEF BY THUNDERSTORMS BUT PREDICTS CONTINUED HEAT.

SOME RAIN FELL IN DISTRICT YESTERDAY

After having the unique, but hardly enjoyable, distinction yesterday of being the hottest point in Ontario, Peterborough revelled to-day in comparative coolness, with downtown thermometers registering 89 this afternoon. Yesterday's maximum in the centre of the city was 100 at noon, and the record of 101 degrees established during the heat wave of July, 1911, might have been broken but for the threat of a thunder storm yesterday afternoon, when the mercury descended to 96.

Throughout the duration of the heat wave Peterborough has been remarkably lucky in having no heat prostrations. Toronto had five prostrations yesterday and two more were reported from the provincial metropolis to-day.

The official forecast sent out at noon holds out the promise of temporary relief by thunder storms, but predicts continued heat. According to an old Indian prophet in St. Thomas, versed in the lore of his people, the province can expect no relief until July 19, when the moon reaches the full. July 19 is a significant date, for it is then that Ontario is slated to go "bone dry" and rival the Sahara.

Stricken by Heat.

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

TORONTO, July 8.—While feeding chickens in his ward at 6.35 this morning, Thomas Radford, who resided at 42 Alice street, was overcome and died almost instantly. When the dotor arrived the man was dead. His death is believed to be due to the heat. He leaves a wife and three children and was fifty years of age.

While driving Gen. Meighen, Montreal, along Bloor street yesterday, William Williard, of 9 Spencer avenue, a taxi driver in the employ of MacBride's garage, was overcome and lost control of his car. The machine ran into a service gas pump and was slightly damaged. Neither General Meighen or the driver were injured.

Mr. Williard recovered from the attack shortly afterwards and is back at work to-day.

Western New York Suffers.

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

BUFFALO, July 8. — Crops in Westren New York are suffering severely during the dry, hot spell, and unless they have considerable rain soon the harvests will be far below noraml, according to reports here to-day.

The yield of wheat, potatoes and other crops depends upon the weather in the next few days. Hay and oats will be short no matter what the conditions are from now, and other grains are ripening prematurely because of hot weather, R. F. Frick, manager of the Erie County Farm Bureau said to-day.

The berry crop fell short of the expectations of the growers and the season for raspebrries will end this week. Growers report difficulty in keeping pickers in the fields owing to the intense heat.

DRIVE LAST NAIL IN O.B.U. COFFIN

TWO PROMINENT ORGANIZERS APPLY FOR EMPLOYMENT.

(Special Despatch to the Examiner)

WINNIPEG, Man., July 8. — About the final nail has been driven in the coffin of the final resting-place of the One Big Union.

Its two most prominent organisers, R. B. Russell and R. J. Johns, have decided to seek regular employment, and have requested positions as machinists with the railway shops here.

HOT WEATHER RUMOR COMES OUT OF WEST

(Special Despatch to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, July 8. — A hot weather rumor emanating from Winnipeg is to the effect that Hon. Robert Rogers, formerly Minister of Public Works in the Borden Government, will succeed Sir James Aikins as Lieut.-Governor of Manitoba. The term of the present Governor expires next fall, and it is not believed that he will desire an extension.

RAIN FALLS IN LOWER ONTARIO

STARTED BOTH HERE AND IN TORONTO SHORTLY AFTER TWO O'CLOCK, CURBING THE HEAT.

Rain began here shortly after two o'clock this afternoon, and cooled the atmosphere considerably. Light winds preceded it, but the storm did not bear the earmarks of being a lengthy one.

TORONTO, July 8. Canadian Press. Rain fell here shortly after 2 o'clock, having the effect of temporarily curbing the heat wave. Before the rain fell a miniature hurricane was in evidence and signs and awnings were threatened with destruction.

The heat wave still continues and no immediate sign of relief is in sight. Although thunderstorms are forecasted by the weatherman for some districts he fails however to specify how, when or where the heavens will let loose the flood gates and only a few specially favored districts will be favored.

At nine o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 83 degrees, a single point higher than the same time yesterday. The highest temperature yesterday was 97. The humidity this morning holds at 78, and is unchanged from yesterday.

The official forecast from the observatory reads: "Moderate southerly to westerly winds; thunderstorms in many places, but mostly fair."

FUND FOR BLIND

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Kidd sent in a cheque yesterday for the blind. The list is gradually stretching out, but the response has been regrettably slow.

REV. C. J. PHELAN.

His resignation as president of the Children's Aid Society, as a result of his departure for Campbellford in a few days, was accepted by the Executive Board on Thursday. He was presented with a handsomely bound address at a luncheon given by the Board in his honour. Rev. Mr. Malott was elected president for the rest of the year.

SOUTH AFRICAN GOV'T COST 1-5 OF DOMINION'S

PENSIONS, WAR DEBT AND RAILWAYS RELIEVE DISPARITY SOMEWHAT BUT SISTER DOMINION MORE ECONOMICAL.

TO MEET HER DEFICIT BY INCREASED SAVING

WASHINGTON, July 8.—(Canadian Press).—It requires about five times as much money each year to administer the Dominion of Canada as is needed to manage the Union of South Africa, according to statistics of the South African budget for 1921-22 contained in a return recently made by the United States Consul at Capetown to his Government here. The total estimated expenditure of the South African Union for the current fiscal year is 29,543,829 pounds, or $125,561,273.25, placing the pound sterling at $4.25 Canadian money. Estimated public expenditure for Canada for the year 1921-22 is $652,237,212.90.

According to the same authority, the South African Government is having considerable difficulty balancing its accounts. During the fiscal year ending March 31, 1921, there was a deficit of 250,000 pounds, while for the current year the estimated revenue is 6,700,000 pounds less than the estimated expenditure. This deficit is to be met with economies in various Governmental departments to the extent of 4,057,000 pounds, while new taxation is expected to yield 2,425,000 pounds, leaving a deficit of 224,000 pounds.

Comparison between various South African budget items and corresponding items in the Canadian budget are interesting. In practically every case the Canadian expenditure is higher. Even the Governor-General in the Dominion costs more than the Governor-General of South Africa. The locum tenens at the Government House, Ottawa, represents an expenditure of $148,891.66 annually, including salaries and expenses. In the South African budget the sum of $11,376.75 covers the viceregal cost. In this instance, as in other items, the pound is placed at $4.25 Canadian.

The South African Senate is set down in the estimates as costing $121,490.50. The Upper House in Canada charges the people for its valued legislative efforts $142,590. The House of Assembly at Capetown is set down in the budget as costing $391,603.50. The House of Commons of Canada, according to the estimates tabled during the past session of Parliament, costs $564,777.

When it comes to such features of the budget as interest on public debt and pensions, the disparity between Canadian and South African expenditures becomes more apparent. Due to her heavier war burdens, Canada pays more in interest on her public debt alone than South Africa spends in her entire budget. Against South Africa's interest payment of $32,651,985 on public debt, the Dominion expends under this heading $142,281,057.51. In pensions Canada expends annually $37,070,485.57, against South Africa's $6,829,750.

Another fact that makes Canadian expenditure loom large beside that of South Africa is the Government railway policy of the Dominion. South Africa does not as yet manage its railways. Canada this year will spend more on its railways and canals than South Africa will have to spend on its entire administration. The estimate for 1921-22 at Ottawa places income expenditure on railways and canals at $168,069,790.72 and capital expenditure at $30,477,750, a total of $198,487,540.72.

Police activities in South Africa make up a heavy item in the annual expenditures. It costs nearly four times as much to police the Union as it costs to maintain the Federal police system in Canada. The figures are: South Africa $12,300,435, Canada $3,527,570.75.

Despite the large native population in South Africa, native affairs in the Union are administered at a lower cost than Indian affairs in Canada. Where South Africa expends $1,848,257 yearly on the aborigines, the Dominion this year set aside $2,750,639 to look after its Indian wards.

Public works is an infinitely larger spending department in Canada than in South Africa. While the Union this year will spend $8,101,432.50 on public works, the Dominion for the same purpose will spend $11,115,283,42 out of the income account and $29,041,365.48 on capital account, a total of $40,156,648.90.

Militia and Defence in Canada is twice as heavy in expenditure as in South Africa. In the Dominion this year the Department of Militia and Defence calls for an expenditure of $11,890,000, while in South Africa the sum of $5,695,208.25 has been appropriated for the purpose.

In order to cope with its deficit the Union of South Africa imposed new taxation this year, the new taxes coming into effect June 1. Postage was increased to 2d per ounce for letters within South Africa, with newspapers in bulk placed at ½d for 4 ounces. Increases were made in stamp duties, duties on bioscope films, spirits and beer Customs and Excise, tobacco excise, income and companies' taxes. Duties on wheat and flour were also re-imposed.

BRITAIN SAID TO HAVE ASKED U.S., JAPAN AND CHINA TO BE PARTIES TO EASTERN MEETING

LONDON, July 8. Canadian Press. —Great Britain, it was stated here to-day, in a quarter usually possessed of reliable information, is believed to have made overtures to the United States, Japan and China on the possibility of a conference to discuss the whole eastern question.

If this is correct, it is pointed out, it might explain what Mr. Lloyd George meant yesterday when he stated in the House of Commons he was awaiting replies from the United States and China before making a statement to the House regarding the Anglo-Japanese treaty.

POLICE PURSUE BANDIT'S BOAT ON LAKE ERIE

FOLLOWING ROBBERY OF ASHTABULA BANK HEAVILY ARMED TUGS PUT OUT AFTER BANDIT CRAFT.

BATTLE IS EXPECTED WHEN THUGS SIGHTED

(Special Despatch to The Examiner.)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 8.—A battle on the lake between six bandits who escaped in a stolen motor yacht after robbing the Marine National Bank of Ashtabula Harbor of between $6,000 and $7,000, was expected today if any of the pursuing boats should right the bandit craft. The pursuit is being made in tugs, equipped with machine guns and heavily manned by police.

The bandits put out from Ashtabula Harbor late yesterday amid a rain of revolver bullets, after holding up the bank and driving to the lake shore in a stolen motor.

In the running fight betreen citizens and the fleeing bandits two persons were slightly wounded by revolver bullets.

TO HELP YOU TO KEEP COOL

Many other seasonable goods at prices surprisingly low.

PICNIC AT GORE'S.

St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid Society held an excursion yesterday to Gore's Landing. About 70 of the members attended, and spent an enjoyable afternoon and evening. The "Stoney Lake" took the ladies to Gore's Landing, where a picnic tea was served, and the return journey was made in the evening. Music and a booth for the sale of ice cream and soft drinks were provided on board.

MASSEY-HARRIS CO. GETS PAYMENT FROM GERMANS FOR DEBTS

(Special Despatch to the Examiner.)

TORONTO, July 8. — Canadian Press. — With an order on the Canadian Treasury for a sum in excess of a million, representing German indebtedness to the Massey-Harris Company, General Manager Thomas Bradshaw formerly Toronto's Municipal Finance Commissioner, is on his way home.

The Massey-Harris Company had acounts against the Germans when the war came. To these claims the order upon the treasury relates.

Recently Mr. Bradshaw accompanied an officer of the Canadian Government to Berlin regarding the German funds held by the Ottawa authorities.

Thus the Massey-Harris Company is the first big Canadian Concern to adjust its commercial situation with the Germans. Bankers are particularly interested.

NO SICKNESS AT SHELTER

TWENTY CHILDREN CARED FOR DURING JUNE—GIFTS APPRECIATED.

Gifts of $15, a football, four swings and a sand box from the Peter Robinson Chapter of the I. O. D. E. to the Childrens' Shelter, were acknowleded by the Children's Aid Society at their meeting on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Powell's report for June included the following: Five applications for children, three complaints, two investigations, four places visited, Norwood, Fraserville, Ida and Warsaw, mileage 350, police court attendance three times, wards placed out four wards visited 14.

The matron's statement showed that there were 20 children in the Shelter during June, three were received during the month, and six sent out. There was no sickness at the Shelter.

THE WEATHER

It is considerably cooler to-day, and it looks as if the hot wave was near its finish. The thermometer this forenoon got up to 89 degrees, but has since fallen three or four degrees, and at noon was at 86. The highest point reached yesterday was 98 degrees. This was the highest of the present warm weather. Rain fell heavily last evening at Indian River, and at Keene there was rain and hail.

Several parties have simulated great indignation and others have apparently been genuinely indignant that the official figures of the present heated spell have not come up to their supposed ideas of what these figures should be. Several have innocently attempted to bribe me to add a couple more, and make it an even hundred in the shade. The figures, however, that have recently, in fact for many years, appeared over these initials, are not guesswork, but are absolutely correct under the given conditions. All standard weather bureau thermometers are placed in positions as nearly as possible alike. They are in wooden lattice work boxes painted white, facing north, away from surrounding buildings, and where all breezes may reach them. The instruments themselves are certified as being correct by the authorities at Greenwich Observatory, England, and cost the Government about $10 each in one hundred lots. There is no question of their accuracy. I have three of them, and when they all read the same, as they always do, there is small chance of any mistake.—W. P.

MIDDLETON UNDERSTOOD TO HAVE CARRIED INTIMATION TO DUBLIN CONFERENCE TO-DAY THAT SETTLEMENT MUST BE IN HARMONY WITH IRISH ACT.

FEAR VALERA TO HOLD OUT FOR A REPUBLIC

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

LONDON, July 8.—King George appears to have suddenly assumed the role of principal mediator in the present Irish negotiations.

The King received Sir James Craig, Premier of the Ulster Parliament, at Buckingham Palace to-day.

Following by only a day his conference with Jan Smuts, Premier of South Africa and intermediary in the negotiations, King George's action was regarded as deeply significant.

Unconfirmed reports were immediately circulated that Eamonn De Valera, President of the "Irish Republic," would be the next important figure to be invited to Buckingham Palace.

The King, it was pointed out, really took the first step toward bringing about the present negotiations when, in opening the Ulster Parliament recently, he pleaded for peace in Ireland, urging the people of the island to "forgive and forget."

It is known that King George has been constantly informed of the progress of the negotiations, and following yesterday's conference with Smuts, it was announced that the proposed London conference in which De Valera and Unionist representatives will meet Premier Lloyd George, would be held at Buckingham Palace.

Dublin Conference Re-opens.

LONDON, July 8.— (Canadian Press.)—Representatives of the Sinn Fein and Unionists of South Ireland met at Dublin to-day to continue the conversation which, it was hoped, would develop some basis for peace negotiations which would end the era of bloodshed that has prevailed in Ireland for some months. Everybody interested in settlement of the Irish situation was anxiously watching for news from Dublin, but English political writers in this morning's newspapers seemed to believe the prospect of an agreement should be regarded more with hope than faith.

In many quarters, indeed, the situation was viewed as giving little occasion for optimism. This view was based largely on the belief that Eamonn De Valera, leader of the Sinn Fein, adhered unalterably to his demand for the establishment of an Irish Republic, and that the British Government as well as Ulster, took its stand upon the Irish Act, recently passed by the British Parliament. It was stated that Earl Midellton, South Irish Unionist leader, who was in London to confer with Prime Minister Lloyd George and others, who had returned to Dublin last night, had taken with him an intimation that a settlement must be in harmony with the Irish Act in accordance with which the Belfast Parliament was created.

OBVIOUS ERROR IN REPORT ON BREAD

OMITTED DECIMAL POINT BEFORE FIGURE 2 MEANS MUCH IN BREAD PROFITS.

A typographical error in the report of the Special Committee appointed by the Council to consider the price of bread, published in last night's issue, gave the bakers a larger profit than was intended. As published the report read "the bakers selling at 12 cents a loaf, gets 2 cents profit." It should have read "the bakers selling at 12 cents a loaf gets .2 (or two-tenths) cents as his profit." How the mistake would occur is quite obvious.

MEXICAN TROOPS SENT TO TAMPICO

FOR ANNOUNCED PURPOSE OF PROTECTING FOREIGN AND NATIONAL INTERESTS.

MEXICO CITY, July 8 (Canadian Press).—Additional Federal troops have been despatched to the region of Tampico by the Mexican Government for the announced purpose of "giving guarantees to Nationals and fereigners."

This action was taken although the forces regularly maintained around Tampico, where there is a serious situation arising because of unemployment, are deemed sufficient to deal with any emergency, said a statement issued last night by F. Torrebanca, private secretary to President Obregon.

ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH HELD GARDEN PARTY

LARGE ATTENDANCE LAST NIGHT —ENJOYABLE PROGRAMME A FEATURE.

A very pleasant garden party was held on the grounds of St. George's church last evening. Although the temperature was very warm and the sky seemed to threaten rain, there was quite a large attendance. The arrangement of booths, lights, etc., was carried out by Mr. J. D. Manley, assisted by Messrs. R. Kitchen and B. Moore. The booths and fishpond were in charge of the Ladies' Guild. Mr. Pratt rendered most efficient service in the arrangement of the musical programme, to which he contributed two well-received vocal solos. Mrs. Kidney's and Mrs. Doig's songs were much appreciated also and Mr. McKinley, having donned the kilts, gave some of Mr. Lauder's popular numbers in a very effective manner. Mr. Tooms, of Ottawa, a one-time member of St. George's, sang, and Miss Greta Brownlee acted as accompanist. The proceeds amounted to $58. The Ladies' Guild and church officers are very grateful to those who assisted in any way.

JACKSON PARK CAMP FOR SICK CHILDREN

HEALTH ASSOCIATION CANNOT ACCEPT OTHERS.

If their finances permitted, the Peterborough Health Association would be glad to throw open their camp for children at Jackson Park to all those who wished to take advantage of it, but the officers of the Association wish to remind the public that this camp is only for sick or ailing children who need special care and attention, especially during the heat of midsummer. Dr. G. Stewart Cameron, secretary of the Association, informed The Examiner that there seemed to be a misunderstanding about the purposes of this camp. Applications were received from parents whose children are in good health and can therefore attend the playgrounds. The Jackson Park camp is for children who are not strong or not in good health, and who need the special advantages afforded at the Park.

Children are accepted for three weeks at a time in order that the facilities of the camp may be furnished to as many of these children as can be accommodated. In this connection it may be pointed out that the Jackson Park camp could not be carried on were it not for the financial assistance of public-spirited citizens who are interested in child welfare, and from the Motor Show. The grant of $1,000 from the Council is required for the work of the Association's nurse and for supplies of milk and eggs for mothers who need nourishment.

CATTLE MARKET IN ONTARIO IS BEING SOUGHT

REPRESENTATIVES OF DOMINION GOVERNMENT TRYING TO FIND MARKET FOR WESTERN STOCK IN MIDDLESEX.

LONDON, Ont., July 8.—(Canadian Press).—With a view to ascertaining if there is a market in this district for western cattle, F. W. Stock and C. F. McKenzie, of the Live Stock Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, are making a survey of Middlesex County.

Western ranchers are said to have a serious problem on their hands to get rid of the young cattle they have raised owing to the operations of the Fordney Bill, which is barring live stock out of the United States. Mr. Stock states that the removal of the British embargo on Canadian cattle would greatly help the Western cattlemen.

FRENCH ARE FIGHTING BOLSHEVIK PROPAGANDA

PARIS, July 7. — The French government has taken the offensive against Bolshevist propaganda in educational institutions. Leon Bear, minister of Public Instruction, has issued a circular in which college professors and public school teachers are warned against the promulgation of extremist ideas in their work.

"Republican France," he says "cannot look with indifference upon a propaganda that recommends violence and the suppression of universal suffrage with the consequent annihilation of national representation and liberty."

It has been noticeable since the extremist agitation became active throughout France that the Communist forces were recruited principally among youths and young men from 15 to 25 years of age. Some have inferred from this fact that boys did not come out of the public school or college with healthy ideas of government.

Some of the most violent extremist agitators have been public school teachers.

GRIM JEST AT EXPENSE OF JAPANESE STATESMEN

TOKYO. — Viscount Mayeda and Viscount Aoki, both very prominent members of the House of Peers, were considerably surprised, as were their friends, when they received elaborate mourning cards announcing their death. The cards were got up in the usual formal style employon such occasions, chief mourners among them Premier Hara, were named, and everything was in regular shape except for the fact that the persons whose deaths were announced were entirely ignorant of their decease.

The authorities in Japan no not take jokes of this kind, however, and after a searching investigation it was found that the perpetrators of the hoax we remembers of a political organization of young men. The wish was father to the thought. Several of them have been arrested and the prosecution will proceed with all the gravity in the world.

The islands of Asia cover one-sixth of her territory.

TREAT SUNBURN WITH SUNLIGHT PROCESS

NE WYORK, July 8.—(Canadian Press.) — On the theory that like cures like, physicians at Broad Street Hospital, treating more serious cases of week-end sunburn, are securing excellent results through the use of equivalent sunlight. According to Superintendent Dr. Jab Savage, the properties of sunlight turned by science from injury to therapy and reproduced in the rays of the Alpin lamp which throws off ultra-violet rays that destroy bacteria and heal injured tissue. The patients at the hospital are given a brief exposure to this lamp, being blindfolded in the cases of burns in the face. The procedure is based on a new conception of burns which regards them as infected wounds caused by heat. Burns of all kinds are said to be yielding to sunlight treatment.

G.T.R. STOCK IS WORTHLESS

SO GOVERNMENT COUNSEL TELLS ARBITRATION BOARD—SYSTEM DUE FOR LIQUIDATION IN TIME, HE SAYS.

MONTREAL, July 8.—(Canadian Press).—The common stock of the Grand Trunk Railway is not worth a dollar, declared W. N. Tilley, K.C., counsel for the Government, as he closed his argument before the Board of Arbitration sitting here to inquire into the value of the common and preferred stock of the system prior to its acquisition by the Dominion Government.

The Grand Trunk Pacific occupied the greater part of his discussion, and he claimed that, apart from the growing deficits of its subsidiaries, the Grand Trunk itself in time would go into liquidation. It is expected the hearings will be concluded today when the Grand Trunk counsel will present final arguments in rebuttal.

FOREST FIRES NOT SERIOUS

SO REPORTS TO PROVINCIAL DIRECTOR OF FORESTRY SAY —ONLY DANGER IS FROM POSSIBLE WIND.

TORONTO, July 8.— (Canadian Press.)—E. J. Zavitz, Director of Forestry, received word yesterday afternoon from the departmental agent at Cocrane that the forest fires in the district were not serious unless strong winds came.

According to the report the fires are burning mainly slash and fallen timber left after previous fires. They are chiefly ground fires. The north country towns are mainly well protected by wide cleared belts. A fair rain fall would eliminate all danger. About 6,000 or 7,000 cords of cut pulp wood have been reported burned, most of which is insured.

PROBABILITIES.

Partly fair with thunder storms in many places; still decidedly warm.

HATFIELD HAS WEEK MORE TO SHOW RESULTS

NEXT FRIDAY WHEN THE EMPLOYING FARMERS GET TOGETHER THIS WEEK'S RAINFALL WILL MEAN A LOT.

TWO OTHER DISTRICTS ARE FLIRTING WITH HIM

(Special Despatch to the Examiner.)

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., July 8. — Rainmaker Hatfield hasn't rained this week in Southern Alberta, but his demonstration of real raining ability given last week end, has resulted in a demand for his services from other districts which have been having drought troubles this season. The farmers of Rockyford and Strathmere have been flirting with him during the last few days in an effort to sign him up for next season.

However the rainmaker has let it be known that the Medicine Hat farmer have the first call on him for the 1922 season and at a meeting of the Medicine Hat United Agricultural Society to be held on Friday, July 15th, they will decide whether they want to retain his services for next year.

Just what their decision will be depends on what Mr. Hatfield does in the meantime. There was quite a reviving of crops after the last big rain, and another good rain during the next few days would result in a fair crop in many districts where Hatfield's name was not mentioned above a whisper ten days ago. The indications are good that rain will come.

The Ontario heat wave seems to be travelling west bringing with it some of the humidity that is driving the people there to sleep out doors; and humidity in this country is a sure sign of rain.

In Medicine Hat to-day the mercury is standing around the 90 mark. If Hatfield can get a cool wave to hit that, rain is certain. It is likely that Hatfield will remain in the Medicine Hat district until the farmers pay.

Next year he will move the location of his towers to Tide Lake, some 60 miles northwest of the Hat. He claims that Chappice Lake is not a good location with the prevailing winds from the southwest. He says that the effect of his gasses on the clouds is lost for the immediate district in which he is operating, and points to the fact that at Swift Current, in the western part of Saskatchewan, there has not been such a wet year in a long time, with attendant good crops.

It is also possible that Hatfield may have two towers next year one in the Rockyford district and one at Tide Lake to serve the Medicine Hat farmers.

Of course it all depends on whether he can produce another good rain in the next week or so so that the western farmers can get enough out of their crops to pay him for this year's contract. July 15 will tell the tale.

DIVORCE COURTS ARE UNDER HIGH PRESSURE.

LONDON, July 7.—Since Easter the divorce courts have been working at high pressure to clear off an unprecedented accumulation of arrears, which, added to a steady stream of new cases, threatened at one time to overwhelm the physical capacity of the bench.

It needed the assistance of a number of retired judges to make headway against the avalanche of suits, with the result that they have been disposed of at the average rate of two score or more per day.

The Lord Chancellor, Lord Birkenhead, himself lent assistance by acting as an ordinary judge in the courts. Reviewing the positon, he said:

"The war has left a degree of unrest which has spread into almost every sphere of modern life, and the influence of which is likely to be felt for an indefinite period in domestic relationships.

"Nineteen out of twenty of the cases in arrears," Lord Birkenhead added, "had their causes in the war or consequences of the war. The date when he joined the army was the early chronological landmark of petitioner after petitioner, from which dated the familiar and melancholy story of weakness on the part of the wife."

It is Lord Birkenhead's opinion that matrimonial suits may not return at least for a generation, to the pre-war level.

The anomaly of the present situation has revived controversies on the inadequacies of English divorce laws.

Mrs. Seaton-Tiedeman, secretary of the Divorce Law Reform Union, estimates that the number of wrecked marriages in the United Kingdom is higher in proportion to the population than in the United States.

ALBERTA SEES FARMERS FIGHT LIBERAL PARTY

U.F.A. KNOW ALLEGIANCE TO NO POLITICAL PARTY AND OPPOSE STEWART GOVERNMENT.

ELECTION IS PURELY LIBERAL-FARMER TILT

(Special Despatch to The Examiner)

LETHBRIDGE, July 7.—When Robert Gardiner, farmer, defeated Nelson Spencer, government candidate, by 9,747 majority, with one poll to hear from in Medicine Hat, there was a lot of rejoicing among the Liberals.

There isn't so much to-day. The Alberta Provincial elections are just ten days off and the same forces that defeated Premier Meighen's candidate in Medicine Hat, are lined up almost solidly against the Stewart Liberal government in this province. The farmers know no party in this fight except that labelled "Farmer," and the Liberals are just beginning to find out what they are up against.

Out of the twelve seats surrounding and including Lethbridge, the Farmers have candidates in the field in eleven of them. These twelve seats in the last House returned seven Liberals, three Conservatives and two non-Partisan Leaguers. This time there is only one Conservative running in the twelve seats and that is in the city of Lethbridge, where General Stewart will run.

DRURY TO START ON NORTHERN TOUR

TORONTO, July 8. Canadian Press. — Premier Drury leaves on his trip north and west on Saturday from Crown Hill. The Premier's private car will await at Allandale to take the government party to Fort William, and where the Premier is to speak on July 11th. On July 13th, the Premier goes to Kenora, where he will look over the pulp situation, and also the water power matters under dispute. He visits Nipigon on July 14th, and will inspect the fisheries on the lake. On July 15th the Premier is due at Kapuskasing, where he will see the pulp development plans, and on July 16th he goes to New Liskeard where he is also billed to speak.

TRENT RIVER HAPPENINGS

TRENT RIVER, July 8.—The orchestra at "White Hall Gardens" was augmented last night by a saxophone, making the music all that could be wished for. A three-piece orchestra will also play to-night (Friday.) The directors are expecting a return visit in the near future of Mr. Oleto Nicholas Cast, Italian boy violinist.

Mr. Addison Dickson of Campbellford, is holidaying at his cottage.

Guests at "Cedar Ise" recently were: Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Pacey of St. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Barnett, Mr. Logan, Mrs. Scott and Master Frank, Mrs. John Vernon, Messrs. Wm. Jackson, Dawson, Kenneth Ingsley, K. Yaskimura, Bailey, Pritchard, R. H. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Harrmine and daughters Issa and Katherine, Mr. and Mrs. Murray all of Toronto.

The "Rainbow" passed through yesterday with an excursion en route to Healey Falls.

The "Geneva" took an excursion up to Bobcaygeon, from the Tabernacle church, Seymour, yesterday.

IRISH PROBLEM NEAR SOLUTION; OBSTACLES YET

REAL OBSTACLES TO PEACE WILL BE ENCOUNTERED AT THE CONFERENCE TABLE, IT IS BELIEVED.

INFLUENCE OF SMUTS TO BE BIG FACTOR

LONDON, July 8. — (Canadian Press.)— The Congress of Empire Prime Ministers is, for the time being, eclipsed by the peace negotiations being conducted with the Sinn Fein leaders. Premier Jan Smuts, of South Africa, has thrown the full weight of his great eloquence and his prestige on the side of an honorable settlement. The British press of all shades of politices are standing behind him and this, aided by the favorable atmosphere created by the presence of Dominion Prime Ministers in London, has unqestionably brought the Irish problem nearer to a solution than has been the case in the last quarter of a century.

It would be idle and wrong to pretend, however, that vast difficulties do not still stand in the way of an agreement. So far Premier Smuts has been successful, but those who know what is transpiring behind the scenes realize that the real obstacles will be encountered when the three parties to the dispute, the British government, North Ulster and the Sinn Fein, meet face to face in conference.

THE PREMIER'S RECORD.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Provincial Leader of the Liberal-Conservatives, weakens the effect of his assault upon the Drury Government by the extremes to which he goes in his verbal attack against the present administration. When he declares that "no Prime Minister has so constantly broken his promises to the people" as Premier Drury, Mr. Ferguson's criticism loses a good deal of its punch, for Mr. Drury's promises, in regard to economy in the transaction of public business, have scarcely been tested yet. It is true that he has found out, as has every other man who has been called upon to assume the responsibilities of office, that the workings of a Government look quite different from the inside and that reductions in expenditure, while quite feasible from the outsider's viewpoint, are sometimes difficult to bring about without starving the public services. But admitting this, Mr. Ferguson's tirade of broken promises seems overdrawn and unfair.

THE SANDY BILL.

Although the Sandy Bill has frequently been explained in the newspapers, many people do not seem to understand this measure, which was passed at the first session of the present Legislature, and as a result of an order-in-Council passed on Wednesday, comes into effect on July 19th, when the legal importation of liquor into Ontario ceases. The Sandy Bill prevents the operation known as short-circuiting—in other words, it prohibits the delivery of liquor from a brewery or distillery in Ontario to citizens of the Province on the receipt of an order from an agent outside of Ontario. Although it was illegal to order liquor directly from an Ontario manufacturer, there has been nothing to prevent the delivery of such liquor if the order was sent to a selling agency situated outside of the Province. This practice is made legally impossible by the Sandy Bill, which supplements the Federal measure against importation, and is expected to prove a very important factor in bringing Ontario to that bone-dry condition that is the dearest hope of the temperance enthusiast.

MR. G. WALTER GREEN.

Mr. G. Walter Green was the type of citizen that Peterborough or any other centre can ill afford to lose. A firm believer in the city because of confidence based upon his own substantial success, Mr. Green played no small part in the development of Peterborough, not only because of his prosperous career as a manufacturer and employer of labour, but because of his interest in municipal affairs and in public service movements generally. His association with the City Council showed that he possessed an unique conception of his responsibilities as a servant of the people. There was nothing perfunctory about Mr. Green's work as Chairman of the Board of Works. He paid to the city's affairs the same close, zealous attention that he had devoted to the development of his own business. A visit or two a week to the City Hall might do for some chairmen, but not for Mr. Green as head of the Board of Works. He was daily at civic headquarters, consulting with the officials under his jurisdiction, taking up the problems that came up day by day, and constantly seeking to improve the efficiency of his department and to give the ratepayers a full dollar's value for every hundred cents expended. The sympathy of a very large circle of friends will go out to the bereaved family.

THE PRICE OF BREAD.

The Special Committee appointed by the City Council to inquire into the cost of bread in Peterborough has presented its report. Beyond establishing the fact that the price of the staff of life is higher here than in many other places and that the bakers claim to be justified in their charges because they believe their bread is a superior article, the committee do not appear to have made any progress. Their report contains not a grain of comfort, nor a crumb of consolation for the consumer, and the situation is exactly as it was before the committee was appointed. If the public expected any relief from the Council's action they have certainly drawn a blank, while the bakers are welcome to regard the committee's finding as an endorsation of their policy or, otherwise, just as they please. The report is chiefly remarkable for the things which it does not say, and while it is admitted that the committee's powers were limited and that they had no legal right to lay down a policy, yet to the suffering consumer it doubtless appears as if the investigation might have been more exhaustive.

GUARDING THE BLIND FLOCK

One phase of the work of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind that requires extra careful attention is the "After Care" of those Canadian blind men, women, and children enrolled as members of the Institute.

Their trust and confidence in those who are leading them to active days and happiness is appealing in its absoluteness.

They buy from the Institute, at cost, the raw materials from which they make the willow and wicker work, reed work, netting, the rugs, kimonas, aprons, door mats, etc. They ship the finished articles back and the Institute buy it from them, afterwards selling to the public at the same price.

The Institute must show the blind how to do the work properly; see that they are kept busy, give all manner of advice; and make arrangements for any special services.

The blind depend on we sighted folks—absolutely! We must not fail them. To you, therefore, we must turn for generous help in this most noble work.

GERMANY'S FOOLISH HOPES.

The fates that spin the web of mortal history played a merry prank last Saturday when the flourish of a pen in a little town in New Jersey brought to an end the greatest war in history. The stage setting for the Peace of Raritan was as far apart as the poles from the pomp and circumstance of the stately ceremony of Versailles. With the puritan simplicity which the United States regards as the sign manual of democracy, the Hall of Mirrors dissolves into the "front porch," and the solemn statesmen with their uniformed and decorated staffs give place to the children of the country home.

There seems to be considerable haziness about the real meaning of the Peace resolution for which Senators Knox and Porter are sponsors. During debate in Congress, Senator Brandegee expressed the hope that the signing of the resolution meant "the bringing home of the boys" from the Rhine. This is unlikely, but the uncertainty persists. The Peace of Raritan is not concerned with small details.

The situation is admittedly complicated. The United States has made it clear that she does not forego any of the rights which accrue to her not by virtue of the Treaty of Versailles, but by the fact that American influence was exerted at the Paris Conference by virtue of American aid during the Great War. America made this quite clear when she insisted that her voice should be heard in the disposition of the mandates and in the matter of the Yap cable. The broad principles of such a claim are just and well-founded. At a critical period of the struggle the Allies welcomed the entry of the United States into the war with a sincere thankfulness. The throwing of American resources and American men into the scale made the assurance of victory doubly sure.

The United States has not seen fit to ratify the decisions reached at Paris. The causes for her abstention from the Treaty of Versailles are many and complex. That is a matter of domestic concern. The only criticism that could reasonably be levelled at the United States for having preferred the Peace of Raritan to that of Versailles would be if the United States had concluded a peace which was hostile to the interests of the Allies and advantageous to Germany.

Germany would like to make the world believe that this signing of a separate peace is a feather in her cap and a deadly blow struck at the Allied unity which won the war, but in her inmost heart she knows that she is building her hopes on the sand. A section of the American press will continue to play the German game and talk of the signing of the Knox-Porter resolution as a snub to British pretensions, but the wish is father to the thought, and if the sentiments they express are not wilfully false the authors are profoundly ignorant.

The ink is scarcely dry on the paper at Raritan before the German Foreign Minister shows the cloven hoof of his secret hopes in a guarded official statement. Germany has been looking for nearly two years with the eyes of a lynx for a gap in the hedge through which she may escape the penalties that were built up around her at Paris.

Germany is hoping that a separate peace may follow the formal signing of the resolution at Raritan and that such a peace may help her to modify or break the Versailles pact. She is leaning on a broken reed. The United States has not yet forgiven Germany for the crime of the Lusitania and the slaughter of her men on the Argonne. Germany will use every shaft in her quiver to divide the United States from France and Great Britain. In the open she cannot win; in the dark, by the secret methods of poisoned propaganda, she may score a few pin-prick triumphs.

Unceasing vigilance against enemies within and without is the only armour that can save the vitalising force of Anglo-American friendship. —Montreal Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

To the list of undesirable noises must be added the machine-like buzz of the verandah snorer.

For stay-at-homes there is a certain amount of left-handed satisfaction in being able to remark: "They say it's just as hot at Stoney Lake."

It is a queer turn of fate that General Smuts, who only twenty years ago was fighting against Great Britain, should now be endeavouring to bring peace to Ireland.

The weatherman has proved a rather too enthusiastic supporter of The Examiner's no coat campaign.

One thing about a heat wave—people see more of each other than when the weather is normal.

The Lord's Day Alliance is not opposed to Sunday bathing. That makes it unanimous.

The prophecies that Ontario would be bone dry in July are being verified—thanks to the weatherman.

The Mail and Empire devotes half a column to a discussion of the one-piece bathing suit. A lot of space over a very little affair.

BIRD PURSUES AIRPLANE.

LIMA, Peru, July 8.—A condor, a huge bird which inhabits the Andes mountains, pursued an airplane in which Signor Rolandi, an Italian aviator, recently flew from Lima to Cuzco. The Italian made the flight of 700 miles in three hours and forty minutes.

When the aviator reached the ancient capital of the Incas, the big bird was still accompanying the airplane, apparently preparing to attack it.

THE DINNER PARTY.

Chapter 5.

The Leon Walker's lived in an ultra-fashionable apartment house on Riverside Drive. When we finally reached it, Kent helped me out of the taxi, and stopped to pay the driver, while I went ahead of him through the spacious door held open for me by a pompous doorman.

The great leaded glass doors in the entrance hall, with their massive wrought iron trimmings and fixtures, the mosaic marble floors, the luxurious palms and the liveried attendants gave promise of great splendour beyond.

We stepped into an elevator and glided noiselessly to the fifth floor. The door of the Walker's apartment was opened for us by a Japanese servant, who moved silently over the parquet floors and Persian rugs as he directed us down the hall. He stopped and drew aside a heavy mauve curtain, and in soft staccato command told me to "Enter, madam!"

The room was dimly lighted by a lavender boudoir lamp embellished with green and black dragons. It rested on the end of a Circassian walnut dressing table. Thrown across the pale lavender bedspread was a woman's pearl grey evening wrap.

I felt relief at finding I was not the first arrival. Then I realised suddenly that I was not alone in the room. A petite Japanese maid stood staring at me with inquisitive, beady, slanting black eyes. There was something of a hazy indistinctness about the atmosphere and furinshings of the place, and the little Japanese maid seemed a part of it all. She came forward as I slipped my wrap from my shoulders and, placing it deftly across the bed beside the pearl grey one. I felt a trifle selfconscious as I noticed a worn place across the lining at the back, and wished she had not given it such an embarrassing prominence.

I went over to the dressingtable and powdered my nose carefully, fussing a little with my hair, patting it here and there. I was sparring for time, trying to collect and control my nerves before I took the dreaded plunge into Mrs. Leon Walker's presence. I did not know why I should feel unduly perturbed, unless it was because of the overdisplay of Oriental grandeur and wealth. I sensed a false note in all this garish ostentation. I wondered what Mrs. Walker would be like, recalling the glimpse I had had of her at the Biltmore dance with its memory of showy diamonds.

I heard voices out beyond the mauve curtain, and then Kent's jovial laugh. I immediately felt different about going out, about meeting Mrs. Leon Walker—it would be all right with Kent there! His presence filled me with confidence. What a silly I was after all, letting that little chunky blonde disconcert me.

The Walker's reception room was heavy with a mingling of Persian and Japanese effects One perceived the result of a bizarre artisan whose judgment had been overruled by a too lavish purse.

ut the Walkers were quite different. Though possibly they were heavy, in every sense of its meaning, there was nothing subtle or obscure about them. My apprehensions dropped from me immediately. I even found myself liking them. They were delightfully wholesome.

When dinner was announced, Mr. Walker came towards me and offered me his arm.

"I am afraid my wife has captured your husband, Mrs. Armour," he said. "May I have the pleasure of taking you into dinner?"

The party consisted of eight. There were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gray, old friends of both Kent's and mine, and then a Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lachman from South America. Mr. Lachman was a business friend of Mr. Walker's. Mr. Lachman sat at my right and Mr. Walker on the left.

During a lull in the conversation, Mrs. Lachman exclaimed suddenly to Mrs. Walker: "Oh, Flossie, make Victor tell you about the dream of a diamond he bought last summer when we were in Chili and visited one of the diamond mines.

Mrs. Walker's blue eyes flashed with excitement.

"Tell me about it, Victor—let me see it—I'll buy it from you!" she enthused, all in one breath.

I glanced across at Kent. He sat next to Mrs. Walker with Mrs. Gray on the other side. Mrs. Gray was trying to tell him something, but Kent looked annoyed; his brown eyes moved eagerly from one face to the othr, trying to follow the conversation about the diamond. I was interested myself, and turned toward Mr. Lachman to hear what he was saying.

"I have it with me, I think. I'll be glad to show it to you after dinner," he answered.

To-morrow—A Lost Diamond.

DUMBELLS COMPANY TO KEEP TOGETHER

Agree That None Shall Leave For Two Years.

NEW YORK, July 7.—(Canadian Press.)—Members of the "Dumbells" organization of former Canadian soldiers have reached an agreement whereby no member of the cast is to leave the company for the next two years. New York theatrical producers were quick to note the ability displayed by the veterans in their presentation of "Biff, Bing Bang" at the Ambassador theatre and nearly every one of the soldier-actors received an attractive offer to appear on the stage in the United States. To prevent the falling to pieces of the organization the members agreed to remain, although in two instances producers had announced that members of the company would appear in a next season's Brodway production.

As a result of the decision the "Dumbells" will commence their world tour in Boston next fall with all the original members in the cast. They plan to appear in Canada and the U. S. during the winter and later tour the Orient, Australia and Europe.

An indication of the success of the entirely Canadian show in New York, is seen in the proffered engagements. Ross Hamilton has been offered a large salary to appear in vaudeville as a female impersonator. "Red" Nawman [illegible]

Experience Teaches

Twenty-four million dollars was paid to beneficiaries by the life insurance companies in Canada last year, and thirty-one million dollars was paid to living policyholders.

Of the 11,450 policies which became claims:

850 were in force less than a year.
1,050 less than two years.
2,100 between three and five years.
2,450 between five and ten years.
2,800 between ten and twenty years.
2,200 more than twenty years.

—and all of these persons were in good health when they applied for life insurance.

Life is very uncertain, as last year's death claims show, and, on the other hand, insurance money has brought untold benefit to thousands of homes and individuals.

No temporary difficulty should induce you to deprive your dependents of life insurance protection.

TRENT WATERWAY DEVELOPMENT HAS DONE MUCH IN PAST YEAR

ADVERTISING AND PUBLICITY FOR THIS DISTRICT HAVE ELICITED ENQUIRIES FROM PROSPECTIVE TOURISTS FROM PRACTICALLY ALL PARTS OF THE CONTINENT.

In order to give a better conception of the scope of the Trent Waterway Development Association the following verbantim report of the address of the President, G. K. Fraser, in reviewing last years' work is presented:

In submitting the First Annual Report of the Trent Waterway Development Association I feel that, owing to the lengthy programme of subjects before us for our considerati n, I should confine myself to generalities rather than detail in review ing the work already accomplished.

To the uninformed I do not think it amiss to mention the reasons prompting the formation of this Association.

The fact was recognized by a num ber of the municipalities along the Waterway that the Government had already spent some millions of dollars in, constructing a short water route from Georgian Bay to Lake Ontario, and that, owing to various causes, was still incomplete to adapt itself for extensive commercial purposes and that until completion no serious consideration could be given to this phase of its possibilies.

It was further recognized, however, that the Waterway had an earning power besides that through the development of electrical energy, to the extent of its utilization as an ideal cruising ground, and as a water route for local freight traffic.

Therefore, to take advantage of this potentiality, several of the municipalities, through their respective organizations advertised their particular districts accordingly. This was found, however, to be a great burden upon the individual municipalities, and it was realized that to obtain the desired result of economy in expenditures, it was necessary to combine individual effort; and due to the personal energy of your friend the Honorary President. Senator W. H. Bennett, definite action was taken to co-operate in this important work by the formation of the Association in Peterborough on June 15th, 1920, at which the present officers and Board of Directors were elected, from some fourteen municipalities represented.

Advertising

The larger proportion of the activities of the Association during the past year, instituted by the Board of Directors, has been that of advertising the Trent Waterway as a cruising ground, which included full page advertising for three issues in power boating, two issues of Motor Boat, and two issues of Motor Boating.

From this advertising, which was placed during the months of March, April and May almost 200 enquiries have been received from all points throughout the North American continent. The enquiries in each case have shown the interest which is being taken particularly in the United States, in this ideal criusing route, and definite information has been requested from the Association, so as to enable the enquirer to take advantage of travelling by water through Central Ontario.

Publicity

The advertising compaign has been supported very largely by a publicity campaign carried on by the Association through the daily and weekly press.

It has been found that a great number of the various daily papers have been pleased to receive articles on The Trent Waterway as news items, and editorials have been placed free of charge in the Montreal Gazette, Toronto Sunday World, Saturday Night, and in American publications, Motor Boating, The Rudder, Detroit Free Press, and New York Herald and further than this, in which considerable space has been given to the development of the Waterway similar articles have been placed in upwards of 200 daily and weekly publications.

Co-operation has also been given in the publicity on the Waterway by the railway companies, special folders having been issued by the C. P. R., G. T. R., and G. N. R. attracting tourists to this district.

The films secured by the Canadian Exhibition Commissiones, Mr. A. W. Tolmie, have also been utilized to a great extent through motion picture theatres throughout the Dominion and the United States.

Charts.

In almost every case of enquirers wishing to use the waterway this summer, requests have been made for charts. These charts not being obtainable, a request was made from the Association to the Minister of the Department of Railways and Canals, and we are pleased to state that the Department has now on hand charts covering the route from Lake Ontario to a few miles North West of Peterborough.

I would strongly recommend that the Association urge upon the Government completing the charts from this point to Georgian Bay as early as possible.

Construction

We are pleased to note that the Dominion Government passed in the estimates at the last session an expenditure of some $712,000 on improvements and new work on the Waterway. There is no doubt, however, that a further expenditure would have been authorized, had it not been for the general policy of the Government in curtailing expenditures on public work as far as possible.

It will be readily recognized that commensurate results cannot be obtained through any effort of the Association on the expenditures already made on the Waterway until such time as the route is completed through to Georgian Bay. As an illustration, it is impossible for any institution to obtain a maximum result on an investment, without the completion of equipment necessary to obtain the maximum production.

Organizing Progress.

You will no doubt recognize that the Association's activities are limited only to the extent of the interest shown by all municipalities and districts throughout the Waterway, and the co-operation assured by an efficient organization. The report from the Membership Committee will no doubt recommend a solution in the formation of an efficient organization, and I would therefore say nothing further on this subject, except that it should be recognized that to accomolish the greatest results at a minimum expenditure, it should be the object of the Association to have its own headquarters and secretarial staff, which at any time would be at the disposal of its members, and also for those desirous of using the Waterway. This subject is mentioned in passing because I believe that it should be giv en your serious consideration.

General

In closing this brief report, I wish to draw your attention to the indirect results which may be obtained by the efforts of the Association in the general development of the whole of this district.

My meaning can be better illustrated than explained. I would refer you to the results of the tourist traffic as developed in Switzerland and in the State of California, United States. It is quite natural to assume that tourists to this area would particularly note the industrial and commercial advantages to be obtained in this district, and I do not think I will be over optimistic in stating that by bringing the tourists through this area, the whole of the industrial and commercial activities would be increased.

I believe the Association is away to a good start, and it is my sincere hope that we will eave this meeting to-day with the feeling that we are all doing as much as possible to prove to the Dominion Government and people of Canada that we are taking advantage of the opportunity we have in the utilization of this waterway from Georgian Bay to Lake Ontario.

MEAT PRICES AT JOPLING'S

JOPLING'S resent the insinuation that they, with the rest of the butchers of Peterborough, are charging too much for meat.

We believe that the best in the land is none too good for the people of Peterborough.

And the people themselves evidently believe that, also, for they invariably demand hind-quarter cuts, which necessarily makes those cuts dearer; but there are excellent cuts of meat in the fore-quarter, which can be purchased for less than the whole carcass-costs. I SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Paris, Ont.—"For five years I suffered from pains caused by displacement of my organs and in my back. All of this time I was unfit for work and was taking different medicines that I thought were good. I saw the advertisement in the papers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took it faithfully. I am now in perfect health and do all my own work. I recommend it to others, and give you permission to publish this letter in your little books and in the newspapers as a testimonial."—Mrs. D. CASSADY, Box 461, Paris, Ont.

Why women will continue to suffer so long is more than we can understand, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound!

For forty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

This Little Black Book Contains The Best Plan of Insurance For You

THE most sensible way to buy life insurance is to take the Mutual Life Agent into your confidence.

Tell him your circumstances.

Then with the aid of the "Little Black Book," which every Mutual Life Agent carries, he will help you to select the plan of life insurance best suited to your needs.

The young unmarried man who buys insurance as an investment for his savings needs a plan of insurance different from that of the man who takes out insurance to protect his wife and family of young children.

The capitalist with very heavy financial responsibilities requires a plan different from that of the man on straight salary.

The farmer who has his farm bought and paid for requires a policy different from the one carried by a farmer with a mortgage to pay off.

The "Little Black Book" contains Mutual Life plans for everybody. It contains plans of insurance with which you are not familiar—one of these unfamiliar plans might be the very best for you. Consult the Mutual Life Agent.

SIMPLE ADVICE TO MOTHERS FOR THE COMFORT OF BABIES

THE WELL BABIES' CLINIC CAN HELP YOU TO BRING THE LITTLE ONES SAFELY THROUGH THIS WEATHER.

A FEW DONT'S

Hot weather while it is trying to man and beast, seems to be a bad time for the baby. He loses his sleep his little stomach gets out of order, and his delicate little skin breaks out in unsightly blotches and then the mother suffers. Between the heat and the baby's fretfulness, her nights are by no means dreams of bliss.

Receive Advice at Clinic

The Well Babies' Clinic is largely patronized by women who bring their small infants there to discover their ailments, and to receive advice regarding their care, particularly in these trying days. The recommendations for summertime might be summed up as plenty of the coolest possible air plenty of water, and less food. The baby should be in the air as much as possible, but not in the sun, and if the weather is very hot, a baby will be cooler and safer in the house with the shutters closed. A room may be cooled by keeping pieces of ice in it or a tub full of water. Babies are like grown-ups in that they need more water in the warm weather. If well water is unobtainable, boil the tap water and cool it. The baby also should be kept perfectly clean and should frequently have his hands and face sponged. He should have less food than usual, should wear just as little clothing as is absolutely necessary and should keep regular hours in cool quarters. If the upper rooms are too warm at night for comfort, the lower ones shuld be utilized as sleeping chambers, and feather pillows are absolutely taboo.

Many Summer Complaints

The visiting Clinic nurse on her rounds, finds many summer complaints amongst the children; prickly heat vomiting indigestion and diarrhoea, Baking-soda in the bath water is good for the hives while a change of diet which may be determined by a visit to the Clinic for advice, will often remedy the other troubles.

There is also a great deal of whooping-cough prevalent amongst children at this time and too little attention is paid to this. A mother will take her apron and wipe the saliva from the child's lips, thus almost inevitably infecting anyone within the range of that apron for some time to come or children will cough violently and expectorate on grounds or sidewalks where other children may play or sit.

Mistaken Ideas.

Many parents labor under the mistaken notion that ice-cream is invariably beneficial, particularly when a child is sick but over-indulgence in ice-cream is often the cause of digestive and intestinal disorders. In this harmful category is included soft drinks beer and bananas, the money used for these things being expended to much better advantage in ice to cood the boiled water. Moderation in swimming is also recommended morning and evening is the best time for this sport, with not more than twenty minutes immersion in the water at a time.

Infant's Time-Table.

For a small infant the following time-table is recommended in the Canadian Mothers' Book:

6.00 a.m.—Nursing, sleeping.
8.30 a.m. —Bathing and dressing.
9.00 a.m.—Nursing sleeping.
12.00 noon —Nursing, sleeping.
3.00 p.m. —Nursing sleeping.
5.30 p.m. Bathing and dressing.
6.00 p.m. —Nursing, sleeping.
10.00 p.m. —Nursing sleeping.

When the baby is four or five months old the three nursings, at 9 a.m., 12 noon. and 3 p.m may be changed to two nursings at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. For those who have no refrigerator the milk bottle may be put in an earthenware jug, which is placed in a pan of water and put in the cellar but the same useful little book referred to above gives the following plan for a home-made refrigerator. The articles needed are: 1. A large wooden box with a good lid and a smaller wooden box without a lid. 2. A large tin pail. 3. A small tin pail. 4. Three or four bits of old leather and a metal staple. 5. Six newspapers and a square of muslin or cotton. 6 Five cents worth of ice. 7. A quart of milk bottled and sealed. 8. Sawdust.

Then nail the newspapers to the inner side of the lid of the box. Over the newspapers take a muslin or cotton cover. Make hinges and a fastening for the lid of the box from the pieces of leather. The staple will hood down the fastening.

Put about three inches of sawdust in the bottom of the large box. put the smaller box on top of the sawdust and fill the space between the two boxes with sawdust. Put the large pail in the smaller box. Put the small pail inside the large pail. Put the bottle of milk inside the small pail and pack the ice between the two pails. Shut and fasten the lid down tightly.

Use a crock, instead of a pail, if you like. Make a chintz cover for your ice-box so that it makes a comfortable seat.

Empty the pails and scald them out once a day. Put the box, lid open in the sun while you are doing this.

It relieves congestion in busy streets and makes present business possible.

It supplements and extends the freight and passenger service of the railroads.

SASKATCHEWAN VOTES ON WATER DISTRIBUTION.

REGINA, July 7 (Canadian Press)—On 27th July electors of the Province will be given the opportunity of accepting or re-electing the Saskatchewan River Water Scheme, recommended by a Provincial Government Commission, whereby 12,000,000 gallons of water a day may be pumped from the river near Riverhurst.

Construction necessary is estimated to cost $5,700,000, and as the population increases and expansion is required, $7,000,000.

Cost of branch distribution systems is in addition to this, and $1,000,000 should cover all extra 200 miles of such branch pipe lines.

The water will be distributed by pipe lines throughout the Moosejaw-Regina district as far east as Lang and Yellowgrass on the Soo line.

The cost of construction will be met, if present plans are ratified, by the proceeds of debentures secured by the total assessable property in the district. Interest and re-payment of these debentures will be met from the revenue from the sale of water.

Two years' construction work will be necessary before the water can be delivered to the Moosejaw district and three years for Regina.

FOREMAN WALKER OFFERS EVIDENCE

ST. THOMAS RAILROAD MAN SAYS HE KNOWS FROM EXPERIENCE WHAT TANLAC WILL DO.

"I know from experience what Tanlac will do, and that's why I am recommending it," said J. R. Walker, of 21 Miller street, St. Thomas, Ont., section foreman for the Canadian Pacific Railway.

"I almost underwent a complete physical breakdown, and before Tanlac put me on the road to good health I was simply in a terrible condition. I had dreadful rheumatic pains in every joint in my body and would come from work entirely fagged out. My appetite was so poor I just had to force myself to eat the little I did, and of mornings I would feel as bad as when I went to bed. I was in a mighty miserable fix, and hardly knew which way to turn for relief.

"I saw a staement in the local paper about Tanlac that just seemed to hit my case exactly, so I began taking it and it's really wonderful how the medicine has helped me. Although I have only taken two bottles I eat three big meals every day and am no longer bothered with that draggy, worn out feeling and am almost entirely rid of those rheumatic pains in my joints. I'll tell you I think a heap of Tanlac, and am going to take another bottle or two to straighten me out completely."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

OPPORTUNITY
For Display Compositors

Why not consider your present position as a compositor, and your future in this trade?

Have you an opportunity of improving your skill where you are working at present?

Do you get the range of work in high class composition that will eventually get you higher wages?

Is there as good an opportunity for you to progress in your present job, as in the large "Saturday Night" plant, where some of the finest work in Canada is produced?

Would you like to work in a plant where you are given every opportunity of becoming a linotype or a monotype operator?

Would you like to work in a plant where there are opportunities of becoming a stone man, deputy foreman, and other positions that mean advancement?

Are you possibly wasting your opportunity in the narrow limitations and rut of the small office?

SATURDAY NIGHT PRESS is at present running with a staff of over sixty people, and under normal conditions carries a staff of over one hundred employees.

The opportunity of joining this organization is one that may not occur again, and should receive your present consideration.

It is also important to state that Saturday Night is in every sense an open shop.

Your wages are not subject to deductions or contributions to any organization.

SATURDAY NIGHT PRESS is recognized in the printing craft as having one of the finest buildings and the best equipment in Canada.

The positions will in all cases be permanent to competent compositors.

Wages $36.00 per week, 48-hour week. Hours 7.45 to 5.30. Saturday 7.45 to 12 noon. Positions absolutely guaranteed to competent men for at least one year. Insurance and Sick Benefits. Transportation paid. Liberal allowance for transportation of family and furniture in case of married men. All applications confidential. Interviews to talk over the subject personally with you in your own town or in Toronto can be arranged if desired. Apply by wire or mail to

SAGE AND SULPHER DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Colour, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural colour and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, and attractive.

It gives employment to hundreds of thousands healthful recreastion and useful service to millions.

REFUGEES TURN PYJAMAS INTO CLOTHES IN THE NEAR EAST.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 7. — American Red Cross and Asmy pyjamas are being converted into jaunty street clothes here by ingenious Russian refugee soldiers and civilians.

Hugh S. Bird, treasurer of the Red Cross, when here on a visit of inspection to dispose of a large quantity of sopplies laid dp in the warehouses, saw a spick and span, monoiled Russian officer, flourishing a cane and fanning himself with a straw hat, at the local Red Cross offices asking for some mail.

The officer looked so well put up that Mr. Bird stopped feeling sorry for the Russians for a momena, until he took a second look at his clothes. He then saw that the man had taken a suit of pyjamas, sewed some shoulder strap braid on them, strapped his officer's belt about them, and rolled up the bottoms to give a trouser effect. By taking off his hat, shoes, and belt, the man was ready to go to bed.

Mr. Bird thought so well of the ingenuity of the man, who had defeated the hot weather, that he gave orders for several tousand more pyjamas to be distributed so no Russian need wear his heavy, shabby winter clothes.

Look Younger

Care-worn, nerve-exhausted women need Bitro-Phosphate, a pure organic phosphate dispensed by McDermid & Jury that New York and Paris phyiscians prescribe to increase weight and strength and to revive youthful looks and feelings.

Pity the Blind--An Appeal

1. You remember the exhortation :—"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of these--you have done it unto Me."
2. What greater compensation? "Ye have done it unto Me."
3. Be thankful for your sight. In gratitude for this great boon, Help the Blind. Help them with your means.
4. With your help many of them can be taught to work, to earn, and to sustain themselves, instead of becoming a charge upon the community. It's your privilege.
5. Many of them sacrificed their sight courageously fighting the dreadful battles of our country. Surely we can sacrifice a little in return.
6. How? Send in your contribution to your Banker, or leave it at "The Examiner" Office, and receive the—"WELL DONE, GOOD AND FAITHFUL SERVANT."

PLEASANT OUTING FOR ST. JOHN'S SUNDAY SCHOOL

HAPPY DAY SPENT AT WALLACE'S POINT—SUCCESSFUL CONTESTANTS IN SPORTS PROGRAMME.

The Sunday School of St. John's Church enjoyed a very pleasant outing on Saturday, July 2nd, on the occasion of their anpual picnic, which was held at Wallace's Point.

The weather was dry and hot, but everyone on board had a good time.

The steamer Stoney Lake left the Government Wharf at 1.45 p.m. and arrived at its destination at 3.30 p.m.

A lengthy programme of sports occupied the greater part of the time, and all events were keenly contested.

Following is the list of the successful contestants:

Girls' race, under 15 (special)—Jane McDuffey.

Married ladies' race—Mrs. Ecobichon and Mrs. A. Pitchford.

The prizes were presented to the winners by Mrs. Blagrave.

Dr. Blagrave and the Sunday School Superintendent wish to thank all those who helped to make the day so successful.

DRESS, DANCING, MOVIES RAPPED

PRESIDENT OF CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR UNION ASKS OPPOSITION.

NEW YORK, July 7.—An appeal to Christian Endeavorers throughout the world to oppose Sabbath desecration, indecent dress, sensuous and promiscuous dancing and suggestive moving pictures was made by the Rev. Francis E. Clark, president, at the Sixth World's Christian Endeavor Convention here yesterday.

In outlining proposed activities for the coming year, he said: "I should like to see a League of Endeavorers set themselves against indecent dress, sensuous, promiscuous dancing and sensual and suggestive moving pictures, all of which are destroying the modesty and eating out the souls of millions of millions of young people. Let not Christian Endeavor be tainted by practices that lead to conformity with the world, the flesh and the devil.

"The home is also our sphere of action. We are all children or parents or brothers or sisters. We belong to homes. Why should not family Christian Endeavor be a vital part of our programme for the years to come? Many of us may establish or help sustain family prayers, at least breakfast table prayers, even in these busy days.

"The decline of family religion is a terrible menace to the Christianity of the future. The men and women of generations yet unborn will have reason to bless you if you stem the tide of worldliness in the home and establish there an altar to our God.

"We cannot escape our relation to the community and the nation. Christian Endeavor must be patriotic but not partisan. It must take its place against the desecration of the Sabbath and of every high and holy thing. It must stand for temperance and purity.. In other words, it must stand everywhere and always for Christian citizenship."

The speaker suggested as goals for the society for the coming two years four aims. First: A better grading of societies so that wherever possible there will be junior, intermediate and senior societies and alumni councils. Second: Closer and more vital relations with pastor, church and denomination with increased emphasis on attendance on church services; by co-operation in denominational and local church plans and by efforts to obtain recruits for Christian service.

Third: More emphasis upon religion in the home to help make the home an agency of constructive Christian training. Fourth: More emphasis on "personal stewardship" in duties to community and country as well as to God.

Growth of the World's Christian Endeavor Union from one society to more than 100,000 in the past 40 years with a total membership, past and present, of more than 18,000,000 distributed the world over was pointed out by the speaker.

BATHING DISPLACES DANCING AT CHEMONG

PAVILION IS DESERTED BY COTTAGERS AND VISITORS—THE WATER IS MAIN ATTRACTION.

Chemong Park is being more patronized by bathers than dancers this week. The cooling waters have invited crowds from far and near and the common attire at the Park during the week has been bathing suits, plain one-pieced affairs or gaudy contraptions more suitable for display than active service. By actual count last night there were 72 bathers in off Lundy's boat house and dozens more at various places up and down the lake-front.

The weather has been intolerable for dancing and the most enticing music has utterly failed to allure the par-boiled youths and maidens, men and women on the floor. The usual jazz-consuming patron- turned away almost nauseated by the strains of their most favourite fox-trot.

As soon as cooler weather arrives though, the dances will be more popular than ever and with many cottagers now in residence, nothing should mar the success of each and every affair.

During May 3,890 emigrants left Antwerp for America. Among them were 2,372 Poles, 128 Belgians, 493 Russians and 355 Czecho-Slovaks.

PRESS OF RUSSIA NOT UNANIMOUSLY PRO-RED

REVAL, Esthonia, July 8.—Those who have the idea that Bolshevik newspapers printed in Russia say only rosy things about the country could quickly be disillusioned by perusal of the papers themselves. During the past four months, the principal Moscow and Petrograd newspapers have been startling frank about some of the conditions that Communism has produced.

The Moscow Economic Life not long ago wrote the following description of conditions on one of the Communist "model" farms:

"The farm presented a picture of complete desolation. For years there have been no repair. Windows are broken, walls are falling in, and some of the buildings are in ruins. Workers live in terrible, dirty rooms, black from smoke. In one of the rooms there lives a calf, placed there by the foreman despite protests of women tenants.

"There are neither potatoes nor vegetables for the workers. In the summer no one has bothered to store them. People are starving, cattle are starving. In the farm there are 32 persons, of these six are officials."

The old programme of the Bolshevik government called for an increase in the number of these "model' farms. The new programme b which the peasants are given nine years tenure of their land, practically does away with them.

No less frank were more recent admissions in the Moscow newspapers about the economic state of Russia factories, some of which were shown to be producing less than five per cent. of what they produced before the war.

Excavations in Egypt indicate the use of woven floor coverings as early as 3000 B.C.

A Fine Chance to Purchase Voile and Organdie Dresses

We have divided them into two lots, and will go on record as saying that all are this season's models. The voiles come in all-over and bordered patterns and some are trimmed with taffeta or satin. The Organdies are patterned with floral designs. Either material can be had in light or dark colors.

LOT 1—REGULAR $28.75 AND $26.50 FOR $19.50

LOT 2—REGULAR $16.50 TO $19.50 FOR $12.75

Women's $9.50 Gingham Dresses $6.95

Blue, brown and red plaids, trimmed with white repp collars and pearl buttons and finished with a tie girdle of the material. A fine smart looking lot of garments.

Men!
Men's 50c Lisle Socks, 33c Pair, 3 Pairs 95c

The first important thing to be said about them is, "they wear well." The colors are slate, cordovan, navy, white and black. Sizes 10, 10 1-2, and 11. The price is very low, as you can see.

Men's Straw Hats (Sennit Boaters) $2.29

Many men consider that "boaters" are the smartest of all straw hats. We are inclined to agree with them. These are particularly good looking. The black bands are extra deep, being 2 1-4 inches.

Men's Athletic Combinations at $1.69

Good reliable brands, such as "Topkis" and "Forsyth." The materials are fancy Madras and Nainsook. Sizes from 34 to 42.

GREAT CHANGE TO COME IN CHINESE AFFAIRS SHORTLY

LOOK TO GENERAL TSI-LIN TO RESTORE BOY EMPEROR.

PEKING, July 7.—The Chinese newspapers are freely and openly discussing prospects of a far-reaching change in Chinese affairs which they have declared is possible and even probable this summer.

One of the dominant figures about the predicted change is General Tsi lin, military governor of Manchuria, whose influence in the capital is now paramount.

The prevailing belief is that General Chang is favorable to the restoration to the Chinese throne of the boy Emperor who has long been a prisoner in the Forbidden City.

There was widespread expectation that Chang would inaugurate in the spring or early summer a movement to put the boy Emperor back on the throne but it has not thus far materialized.

This in turn has given way to internal dissensions between Chang and other leaders. Cabinet changes have ensued and there has been talk of suppressing the independent movement at Canton.

While the newspapers discuss the whole subject quite freely yet there is nothing authoritative and little opportunity to substantiate the reports so freely circulated.

Many observers attribute these movements and counter-movements to the well-known shortage of funds from which the military leaders in China are suffering. The fact that the government in China hangs to a larger extent than Westerners would suppose upon the attitude of the three military governors of the northern provinces who virtually control everything north of the Yang-tse River. Recently they held a meeting in Tien-tsin and entered upon some kind of an arrangement for the division of authority between them. The Premier and several of the ministers made repeated journeys to Tien-tsin to confer with them and a shake-up in the cabinet was made to suit these military commanders.

The Premier who is opposed to making any further loans has proposed a program of retrenchment which covers disbandonment of troops. The military governors refused to permit their troops to be dismissed and those of the Ministry of War cannot be disbanded without paying up the arrears of pay which the government seems unable to do.

There has been talk of a military movement to oust the President, Hsu Shih-chang, and restore Li Yuan-hung to the Presidency.

The shortage of funds is so great that even the cabinet secretaries have to accept part or their salaries in bonds which they cannot possibly sell. The government's schools are all closed and the Minister of Education and all teachers have resigned because the government cannot pay over a sufficient sum monthly to make sure that salaries and expenses will be met.

OSHAWA CARS STOP RUNNING CHURCH HOURS

OSHAWA, July 8.—Under agreement with the town, the Oshawa Railway Company, while operating their cars on Sunday are obliged to stop during church hours. The agreement is about to be renewed for two years, and in Council meeting Mayor Stacey introduced the proposition that cars be allowed to run continuously on Sundays in the months of June, July, August and September, Council reserving the right to cancel this privilege by giving two weeks' notice. He spoke on behalf of the citizens.

Argument pro and con resulted in the agreement standing as it is, the cars to stop running during the hours of worship on Sundays.

PICTURES AMERICANIZE THE ENGLISH CHILDREN

LONDON, July 7.— (Associated Press.)—English children are rapidly becoming Americanized through seeing nothing but American moving pictures, is the contention of A. G. Granger, manager of an educational picture series who holds that film educatnon ought to be part of every school curriculum.

"Millions of children go to the pictures regularly," he said to an interviewer. "In American films no opportuity is lost to introduce the American flag; American motors are shown and popularized; American ideas in dress, furniture, habits and customs are being continually put before the children, with the result that they know more about Lincoln and the North and South wars than about Oliver Cromwell and Nelson.

"Where did the fashion for bobbed hair come from? From America, and by the film," he added.

All English teachers are now in favour of introducing the film into the schools, Mr. Granger says.

ROSE BUGS KILL CHICKS.

Keep a sharp lookout for rose bugs. Remember that they like grapes almost as well as roses. Remember also that rose bugs are fatal to chickens. Keep the latter yarded while they abound. About the best way to get rid of rose bugs is to shake them into a pail of kerosene. They seem immune to most poisons.

Grasshoppers produce their chirping noise by rubbing their wings together.

DEFIES ALL HONOUR OF PARLIAMENT

SHARP CRITICISM IN PORT HOPE GUIDE OF SPEAKER RHODES' ACTION.

Under the heading, "The Scandal of Speaker Rhodes," The Port Hope Guide of Wednesday says the following:

It is a matter of supreme regret that scarcely a public incident can be referred to now in connection with the honor and dignity of our Parliamentary institutions, or the administration of government in this country, without it being in unfavorable contrast wth the history of British Parliamentary procedure. The present extraordinary position of the Speaker or the House of Commons is a case in point. An official statement is now made that Mr. Rhodes has accepted the Presidency and General Managership of the so-called British-American Nickel Company, one of the most prominent and wealthy financial corporations in the world. It might as well be noted in passing, an American company operating the Sudbury mines, supplied Germany with thousands of tons of the Canadian product, without which Germany could not have continued the war.

Mr. Speaker Rhodes is the "first gentleman" in the Dominion. He is the official representative of the Canadian House of Commons, the official channel of communication between the House of Commons and the Crown. And he is now the lavishly paid official of the wealthy corporation, largely owned in the United States. History furnishes no parallel to this national degradation except when the Stuart Dynasty was subsidized by Louis IV. to prevent the expansion of the British Navy. How long would a President of the French Chamber of Deputies retain office if he became an employee of the Standard Oil Company; or the Speaker of the House of Representatives at Washington if he became President of the Canadian Pacific Railway; or the Speaker of the British House of Commons if he was the salaried officer of any financial corporation, either domestic or foreign? What a howl there would be if Speaker Parliament of the Legislative Assembly was a prospective employee of Sir William Mackenzie, for instance?

The fact of the matter is that the Hon. Speaker Rhodes is defying all the honorable traditions of Parliament, the Speaker's chair, and all the decencies of political life by retaining his seat in the House of Commons, to say nothing whatever about his utter failure to uphold the honor and dignity of Parliament by presuming to occupy the Speaker's chair under such circumstances. It is the most shocking scandal in Parliamentary history. Speaker Rhodes has many excellent characteristics, notwithstanding his admitted intimate association with the worst election fraud that ever took place in Nova Scotia. He has a sense of honor that readily discerns the difference between right and wrong, but he lacks the moral courage to do the right and shun the wrong when political expediency calls for consideration. His withdrawal from the House of Commons would mean the loss of another seat for the Government. But what is that in comparison to the preservation of the honorable traditions of the Speaker's chair, or the protection of the honor and dignity of Parliament? If Speaker Rhodes is determined to force the issue upon Parliament, then it is to be hoped that enough members of the House of Commons will protest by formal resolution against being presided over by the salaried officer of any such financial corporation. Parliament will, no doubt, be able to secure the names of all the stockholders. It will be interesting to learn to whom Speaker Rhodes is responsible. But in any event the House of Commons cannot afford to allow this violent disregard for the traditions of the chair to pass unchallenged. Hon. Mr. Meighen never fails to besmirch the honor and dignity of the House of Commons. He might, at least, leave the Speaker's chair with a shred of respectability.

SOUTH CENTRAL SCHOOL CADETS MEET MONDAY

All Who Purpose Attending Camp Requested to Meet at School.

All cadets who purpose going with the South Central School Cadet Corps to the camp at the Exhibition grounds next week, will pease come to the school on Monday morning about 8.30 to get their suits, hats and belts. From there the boys will walk down to the grounds. Each boy will bring with him toilet articles, such as soap, a towel, tooth brush, hair brush and comb, etc. He will also bring a plate, cup and saucer, knife, fork and spoon. Extra pairs of stockings, a bathing suit and a suit of underclothing are also advisable. Tents, blankets and food are all provided.

RESIGNATION DEMANDED.

The resignation of Major Fraser, from the local company of the Fourth Machine Gun Brigade has been demanded, Major Miller told The Examiner to-day. Pending receipt of the resignation Major Fraser has been relieved of his post and the next senior officer will temporarily succeed him.

GLOWING TRIBUTE TO FATHER PHELAN FROM THE CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY

MEMBERS OF THE EXECUTIVE BOARD EXPRESSED THEIR REGRETS UPON THE SEVERANCE OF HIS CONNECTION WITH THE SOCIETY—PRESENTED WITH AN ILLUMINATED ADDRESS—RESIGNATION ACCEPTED AND REV. F. E. MALOTT ELECTED PRESIDENT FOR REST OF YEAR.

Rev. C. J. Phelan resigned the presidency of the Children's Aid Society at Thursday afternoon's meeting in the Bank of Montreal Chambers, and Rev. F. E. Malott was elected as his successor for the rest of the year. It was the last meeting prior to Father Phelan's departure for Campbellford to assume charge of that parish, to which he was appointed a few weeks ago. In bidding farewell to his associates Rev. Father Phelan made it plain that he would cherish the memory of his connection with the Children's Aid Society, its work, its members and officials.

"The work during my seven years with the society has been most pleasant," he said. "As a humble member I did my best to attend regularly and to co-operate with the executive in every way. I found the best of feeling and harmony permeating the Board. All were enthusiastic in the work they were carrying on. It is a splendid work. There is none greater than that in which we have been engaged as the Children's Aid Society. We don't stop to think of the importance of what we are doing. It is perhaps on an occasion such as this that one becomes reminiscent and looking back there is great satisfaction to know that one has assisted in the care of children who needed our help."

Father Phelan's voice was unsteady with emotion as he thanked the members for the honour they had done him in electing him president of the Society and especially for his re-election for the second term. "You stretched a point when you appointed me for the second term, and when that took place I felt that you were doing a lot," he said. "I shall never forget the good will you have shown me, and the kindly sentiments that have existed around this board. I feel grateful for what you have done beyond my power to express it. I know that the harmony that has marked our work will continue, and I hope that your new President will be more of a live wire than I have been. I wish to add a word about the officials. The agent, Mr. Powell, has been most kind. There has not been one word of fault. I wish to mention our secretary, too, (Mr. John Edgar) and the ladies. They all seemed to be filled with the one desire to work for the children who are wards of the society. In that noble work there is no seeking praise here, but God blesses those who look after His poor. The Children's Aid Society has good officials and sincere members who do their work well."

Resignation Accepted.

After a moment's silence Dr. King, remarking that there was no alternative, moved, seconded by Rev. Mr. Malott, that Father Phelan's resignation be accepted.

Rev. Mr. Malott said that the Board regretted the loss of Father Phelan. The relations with him as President had been very pleasant. The work was indeed one of the greatest importance, and the affairs of the Peterborough society were conducted efficiently and harmoniously in so far as he had observed it, Mr. Malott said.

"We wish Father Phelan the very best that can come to him in his new charge," he added, "and we are confident that he will play his part as a good citizezn."

Rev. Mr. Malott Elected.

Proceeding at once to the next business the executive unanimously elected Rev. Mr. Malott president of the Society to conclude the year. The motion was made by Mrs. Knox and seconded by Dr. King.

In declaring the result Father Phelan wished his successor every success in the position.

In thanking the Board, Mr. Malott said that he had expected that the Vice-President would be appointed to finish the year. "I didn't come this afternoon with any other thought. However, I deeply appreciate the honour you have conferred upon me. I wouldn't think of accepting the position were it not for my deep interest in the work. I have many obligations. I shall enter upon the work in fear and trembling because my predecessor has established a precedent that will be hard to live up to. I have been associated with work of this kind for fourteen years in London, St. Mary's and Orillia before coming to Peterborough. I can say that the Peterborough society is one of the livest and most efficient I have known. I trust that we will have the same harmony there has been. With efficient officers and members I know that the president does not stand alone."

Mr. E. L. Goodwill.

Mr. E. L. Goodwill said he could not let pass the opportunity of expressing his personal regard for Rev. Father Phelan and the interest he had shown in the work of the Society. "We are going to feel your loss in this Society, and the city will miss you as a citizen. However, you are not going very far away. Campbellford is only a suburb of Peterborough in a sense, and we shall look forward to meeting you in the future."

Mr. T. Tooms, M.P.P.

Mr. Tooms said thfat this was the first meeting of the Society that he had attended, but he hoped that it would not be the last. "The Children's Aid Society is doing a great work in training and protecting children who have fallen upon or who have been led into an unfortunate side of life, and who if left alone might become a disgrace to the country. It has been well said that it is easier to save children than to punish criminals."

Mr. Tooms said that the Government had not given sufficient consideration to the social side of life, but the present Government of the province had made a beginning by granting Mothers' pensions and by other legislation. Referring to Father Phelan, Mr. Tooms said he had carried practical Christianity into every side of life. Mr. Tooms concluded by wishing Father Phelan every success, and by expressing the hope that he would continue the work and the example he had given in Peterborough.

Made Honarry President.

The Society paid Father Phelan a final tribute by appointing him Honorary President on Mr. Edgar's motion, seconded by Mrs. Gibbs.

Presented with An Address.

As a recognition of the work of Rev. C. J. Phelan as a member and later President of the Children's Aid Society, members of the Society held a supper in his honour at Hooper's Palm Parlours at 5 p.m. yesterday and presented him with a beautiful leather-bound address. The address, which is handsomely bound in fine grain goatskin, was written by T. Q. Quartermaine. Photographs of Rev. Phelan and of the Chilren's Shelter are contained in this fine example of the lettering and book-binding art.

Mr. J. Edgar, secretary of the Society, read the address which, without being ostentatious, paid tribute to his activities on behalf of the Society in glowing words.

The departing President was visibly touched by the commendations showered upon him. "I can assure you if I was at a loss to express my feelings this afternoon, I am more so now," he said. "I shall certainly treasure this address you have presented to me. As to the sentiments contained therein you have been too generous in your thoughts towards me. I can only say I am glad if someone has been helped by what I have done. If we can do some little good, let us be up and doing it. I am full of gratitude and full of appreciation not at all feeling I am worthy of what you have said. Any little work I may have done along the way of child welfare, certainly that is a satisfaction. If I have done anything in the past I will try to do more in the future."

G. W. Powell, agent of the Children's Aid Society, spoke in appreciation of Rev. Phelan's unfailing interest and faithfulness in his work. In every matter he had been more than sympathetic. No case was too petty for his careful attention and Mr. Powell said "he had been more than generous towards the children." "I have found he has been as interested in one class and creed as another and I am glad you made him an honourary president."

Mr. R. H. Parsons.

Mr. R. H. Parsons said: "I think the Society is suffering a great loss. Not only is the Society suffering a loss, but I think the whole city is suffering a loss. Too few of the citizens interest themselves in public organizations. It is with a sincere regret I see Father Phelan going down to Campbellford. I think Campbellford is a greater gainer and Peterborough is a great loser."

"Peterborough is losing, we are all losing in Father Phelan's leaving," said Mr. G. H. Popham.

It was decided that as many of the members will be absent in August that no meeting will be held in that month, but the accounts will be passed on the certificate of the chairman of the Finance committee, Mr. Parsons.

HOT WATER FOR SICK HEADACHES

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headaches are caused by auto-intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head, producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilid, aspirin or the bromides, which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drank before breakfast, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache, but will cleanse, purify and freshen the alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar.

If you aren't feeeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up in the morning with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness constipation, or sour acid stomach, begin the phosphated hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

MEIGHEN HAS NOT HELPED PACKERS AS FAR AS KNOWN

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE HAS HAD NO INTIMATION.

OTTAWA, July 8. Canadian Press—The Department of Agriculture, it was learned last night, has had no intimation that Hon. Mr. Meighen had assumed in London the case for the packers in the dispute over the price to be paid by the British Ministry for 35,000 boxes of bacon from Canada.

The British Minister of Food had fixed the price of bacon but in view of the falling market had wished the packers to sustain the loss.

Officials of the various Canadian packing companies have been in London for some time fighting the case, which involves some $1,500,000.

SINN FEIN ATTACK POLICE IN STREETS OF BELFAST

BELFAST, July 8. Canadian Press.—Union street and Kent street areas of Belfast were the scene of wild excitement at midnight last night, heavy firing going on for 20 minutes. A constable was mortally wounded and the Sinn Feiners engaged in hostilities are reported to have suffered heavily. Many dead bodies are said by the police to have been carried into the houses nearby.

The trouble started when the police searching parties called at a house in the district. Fire was opened upon the party, and in response to a police hurry call the reinforcements were rushed up.

A battle ensued and the police were fired at from the street corners as well as from the houses which had been picketed to guard against surprises from the Crown forces.

CAN INTERN ANYBODY IN HUNGARY DESIRED

Over 20,000 Now in Internment Camps There.

BUDAPEST, July 8. — The government has lately been attacked by members of the National Assembly because of the fact that 20,000 persons are in internment camps in Hungary.

Internment is a powerful weapon in the hands of the government. Anybody can be interned by a simple decree of a police director or sheriff, without a previous judicial inquiry. There are cases where people have been interned upon anonymous information that they entertained Bolshevik sympathies.

Bishop Giesswein was loudly applauded in the Assembly the other day when he declared that some of the 20,000 persons interned in the camps had been detained two years without having been once examined by a magistrate. He stated that former Communists are not released upon having served their sentences in prison but usually are transferred to one of the internment camps.

It is charged that these camps hold many who merely are disliked by government officials. The camps are isolated from the outside world, the prisoners pass their time in idleness and the deputies were informed are becoming hot-houses for the breeding of Communism.

Members of the Assembly also complain against the censorship and charge that the local newspapers are subject to a minute and ignorant application of the law, resulting in the suppression of news and comment which are unpleasant to the government.

The telegrams of foreign newspaper correspondents are no more exempt from the vexations of censorship than are the local newspapers. Commercial despatches are censored and the censor frequently prevents the delivery of messages using code words.

It is charged in the Assembly that there is still a strong current of semi-official trend against the Jew. The chief of Budapest police recently undertook a revision of the moving picture licenses on the ground that a more just distribution was desired. Licenses were taken from 20 Jews and assigned to new petitioners.

These acts are no longer viewed with indifference but have been rebuked by deputies. Ther are indications that public opinion is veering democratic and liberal principles and that it has become, out of sympathy with the ultra-national and ultra-Christian, war-cries of street-corner politicians.

"The Hungarian nation yearns for the air of liberty," declares Count Apponyi.

HEBREW COLLEGE IS SHORT OF GRADUATES

CINCINNATI O., July 8.—Ohio, rivaling Virginia's claim to fame as "mother of presidents" may add another link to her honors and call her self also, "mother of rabbis."

The Hebrew Union College of Cincinnati, which is the only training school for reform rabbis in this country, had 73 students in 1920-21. Of these, 24 were from Ohio and the other 66 p.c., were divided among 21 states as follows: New York, 13; Pennsylvania, and Illinois 6 each; Maryland 3; District of Columbia, India, Missouri Oregon and Wisconsin 2 each; California, Georgia, Kentucky Louisiana, Michigan Minnesota, Mississippi, New Jersey North Carolina, Oklahoma and Tennessee 1 each.

The students spend nine years at The Hebrew Union College attending high school and university classes. Upon graduation they occupy temple pulpits throughout the country. Only 14 students graduated from the college while more than 50 congregations asked for rabbis.

WANT TRADE OF SOUTH AMERICA

VARIOUS NATIONS ARE KEENLY AFTER IT—BRITAIN, JAPAN AND U.S. IN THE LEAD.

LONDON, July 8. — South America is to-day the brightest jewel in the diadem of trading nations, and one of the keenest struggles in the history of commerce is now in progress for possession of a priceless treasure."

This is the opinion of Sir Kingsley Wood, M. P., parliamentary private secretary of the Minister of Health, and an authority on South American trade and affairs.

"The championship is being played mainly in the Argentine Republic," said Sir Kingsley. "The stakes are 100,000,000 pounds, and for the moment the United States are winning.

"Great Britain it is only fair to say, was once the undisputed champion, nor need she be afraid of the reason why she was thrown off her form. It was the war that turned the Argentine competition upside down. It found us first and America second; it left us second and America first. Not less significant it sent Japan shooting ahead of Germany, France, Italy and Belgium.

The arrival of Japan is a surprising event to many Englishmen. In 1915 she sold to Argentine just over £200000 worth of wares. For the first six months of 1919, that total had leapt up to £3,450,000, and it continues to rise. Chiefly it is a trade in cotton yarn, cotton drill, silk handkerchiefs, glossy silk, calico, socks and an assortment of toys, buttons and lead pencils. Japan, moreover, has opened a bank at Buenos Ayres, while several Japanese merchants are now in business there, and she has a line of steamers sailing regularly to the River Plate. Definitely, in short, Japan has arived among the nations.

"As time goes on the race for first place in the Argentine market will probably be between the United States, Japan and Britain. As for Germany, her future in South America is as yet uncertain. Once upon a time she supplied argentina with more than half of all the jewelry and metalware bought from the rest of the world.

"To-day the agents of German manufacturers are back again offering chemicals and dyes, machinery, and hardware at cut prices. But abnormal competition of that sort admittedly cannot endure and in any case it has not materially affected the main struggle between the United States and Canada.

"Here there is no reason why Great Britain should not take the lead as emphatically as she has done on the golf links. The Argentine people like us and they like our methods. Millions of pounds of British capital have helped to develop their country.

"If the prize were the chief share in a yearly trade of one hundred million pounds, it would be well worth the striving for. It is much more than that. The Argentine is like Australia; she has just begun to grow, and nobody can mark the limits of her future. Could the wealth of half a century hence of that practically virgin land be accurately foretold to-day there are a few among us who have have the imagination to accept a picture of such prosperity. A population rather larger than Belgium's is living in a country bigger than the United Kingdom, Germany, France, Spain, Italy and Japan put together. Its possibilities are well night as vast as the need of the human race for meat and wheat to eat and wool to wear. It is a share in these future possibilities are well nigh as vast present advantage that the nations strive in amicable rivalry.

"There is room for all, but the question is—who will be first?"

"KEEP TO THE RIGHT" IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Nova Scotia Only Remaining Province Having Left Rule.

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 7 (Canadian Press).—At the beginning of 1922, when the law putting into effect throughout the entire Province the change in the rule of the road, British Columbia, in common with all other Provinces in Canada, with the single exception of Nova Scotia, will "keep to the right." No definite date has been set for the change, it being merely stipulated that the new rule become effective soon after the first of January, 1922. The time for making the shift was extended by the Government so that possible consequent street railway traffic confusion would not inconvenience the shoppers during the Christmas holidays.

Ever since British Columbia has been a Province, the English rule of the road of turning to the left has been followed by vehicular traffic. Now, as the result of the measure passed by the legislators a year and a half ago, the rule in force in the other provinces of Canada and in the United States will be adopted.

The change will be welcomed by automobilists, as in travelling into neighbouring Provinces and adjoining states considerable confusion and danger has resulted because of the different laws relating to traffic. The law was brought about here mainly through the efforts of the various automobile clubs which assumed the initiative in the matter.
